Students Tie For Optimists Award

Optimist John Savage, Rita, Ryan & Bob Burkhardt

Manchester Optimists awarded the honor of Outstanding Student for the month of June to both Amy Wagner and Ryan Burkhardt.

Amy is the daughter of Karen and Steve Wagner and is a graduating senior. She has been on the honor roll during all four years at MHS, the class president in 9th grade, vice president in 10th grade and secretary in 12th. She was Academic All-Conference this year and was a member of the prom committee in her junior year. Amy's athletic achievements include four years on the volleyball team while cheerleading at the same time. She has been a member of Students Against Drunk Driving since 10th grade. Amy is active in Lifeline at Faith Community Church and is currently leader in the church's children's youth group. She will attend Liberty College in Lynchburg, Virginia this fall and major in nursing.

Ryan is the son of Rita and Bob Burkhardt and is also a graduating senior. He has been on the Honor Roll since his freshman year and became a member of the graduation requirements committee in 10th grade. Ryan has participated in the Drama Club for the last three years and has been a Manchester High School Player since 10th grade. He has played in the Quiz Bowl since his sophomore year and became a member of the Math Academic Games Team last year. He also served on the prom committee in his junior year. Ryan plans to attend the University of Michigan in the College of Engineering.

Congratulations to both Amy and Ryan; keep up the good work at college. Optimist John Savage presented the award to Ryan, and Bob Mottice made the presentation to Amy.

"Thousands of Chickens and Tons of Fun"

This phrase was used in a Detroit Free Press article many years ago and, to me, it sums up very well what has been said many times since about our annual Chicken Broil.

We need to continue to tell the story of this major annual event in Manchester. We will serve between 12,000 and 14,000 chicken dinners to the crowd; 600 men and boys will do the work; a ton of cabbage will be shredded; six tons of charcoal will be fired; entertainment will blast forth from the platform; and the aroma of roasting birds will spread over a major portion of the town depending on which way the wind blows.

We have had weather problems - serious ones over the years. In 1977 rain almost got us and in 1983, the year the Blacksmith Shop was supposed to be dedicated by the Governor, it crippled us badly. Last year we were wiped out with six inches of water in the pits by 9:30 a.m. on the big day.

One of the things which should be emphasized about the Broil is the wonderful effect it has had on this community. It started out as an idea of Luther Klager in 1954 - a service club project. Aid came from our State Agricultural College in East Lansing when Dr. Howard Zindell helped us develop cooking methods and quality control for the chickens. 1,500 people were served that year and all the picnic tables in town were collected to seat them. Then the idea started to take off. More organizations were involved and more and more people became interested. How many of you remember the early publicity system? Volunteers sent out post cards to their friends and relatives - and it worked!

Now we can truly say it is a project of the whole community. Everyone is interested and most are involved in one way or another - horses and wagons, busses, patio and pool parties, word of mouth advertising wherever we go, and the Broil goes on. Probably the finest product of the Broil is what it does for the pride of the Manchester area. What better legacy than this can we pass on to the new generations of Manchester.

Faulhaber Wins Claire Reck Scholarship

The 1990 Claire Reck Memorial Scholarship winner announced at the Sunday, June 3rd Commencement exercise was Jennifer Faulhaber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Faulhaber of Manchester. The Claire Reck Memorial Scholarship is endowed by Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hamilton of Manchester Stamping Corporation in the amount of $2,500.

This is the second year of the award, given in fond memory of Claire Reck. She was the cornerstone of community service here in Manchester. Her life was devoted to helping others and providing support to those in need. It is this highly regarded and demonstrated record of unselfishness and community service that the awarding of this scholarship represents.

Selection for the scholarship was determined by a committee comprised of faculty, administration, Mrs. Sue Hamilton and non-senior students. Applications were reviewed and judged primarily on community service, the range of community service and the length of that service.

Fireworks Display July 3

Once again the Manchester Men's Club is sponsoring a fireworks display at Carr Park on July 3, the night before the Fourth of July.

Everyone is invited to come on out to the park and have a family picnic, listen to the music of Brad Frey's band, "The Loyal Legends" and enjoy an evening of dancing at the pavilion. At dark the fireworks will be shot off, giving you the largest and best display ever in Manchester. We will be shooting off 5"-8" shells, the largest previous to this were 6" shells.

This year the cost will be over $4,000. The way we pay for display is through your support of donations and the beer tent that night. This year we have a Board in First of America and Great Lakes where you can buy a rocket. Everyone and organizations are encouraged to stop into the banks and buy a square. The prices are as follows:

$50	8" shell
$30	6" shell
$20	5" shell
$10	4" shell
$5	3" shell

Keep the fireworks going in Manchester. Give your support.

Jennifer has been a model of excellent character and academic achievement throughout her high school career. Teachers have stated repeatedly that her leadership continuously promotes service to others. She was president of the MHS Student Council and the 1989 Manchester Fair Queen. Over the past several years, Jennifer has committed her summers to helping the sick and injured at St. Joseph's Hospital. She has assisted the elderly with yard work as a member of the National Honor Society, and is active in her church youth group.

Congratulations to Jennifer Faulhaber and special thanks to Manchester Stamping for making this scholarship available.

Hazardous Waste Drop-Off

The Village of Manchester and Washtenaw County are sponsoring a household toxics drop-off on Wednesday, June 27, from 3:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. at the Manchester Public Works yard (enter off Union Street and go to the cement block building). The purpose of this collection is to divert these materials from improper disposal in landfills, storm drains or sanitary sewers.

To participate, individuals need to phone the County Cooperative Extension Service (CES) at 971-0079, Monday through Friday from 11:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. Before calling, determine the type and approximate amount of waste to be dropped off, as this information will be requested by CES.

Additional information and cost are on page two.

Brief News Items

The Manchester Enterprise

In our advertising columns this week will be found the financial statements of the people's and the union savings banks of this village. They are both loaded down with money, for which there seems to be little demand.

We may soon expect to see the old house which stands between George J. Haeussler's and W.L. Watkins' residences, on an exchange place, torn down to give way to a new and modern residence for our popular supervisor, Wm. Burtless. The house is one of the landmarks. "We believe it was used by the late John J. Clarkson as a chair shop in the early days and was afterwards converted into a residence and occupied by the late W. B. Stowell and others."

We learn that W. C. Mack, who has done a most successful business in this village the past three years, intends to sell out or close out the stock if possible, as his great department store in Ann Arbor demands his entire attention. Since he opened his store here he has done a good deal to advertise Manchester and to draw trade to the village, and we hope that if he persists in his desire to sell out, he may find another man possessing his hustling qualities to take his place.

The queerest place for a hen to be set, that the Enterprise has ever heard of, was arranged by one of our scheming housewives this spring and was in the croch of a tree on a hillside. When the time arrived for Biddy to come off with her brood the expectant dame went to investigate and report progress. What was her surprise to find only two eggs remaining and nary a chick. On investigation she found that whenever the hen flew off the nest she kicked out an egg and the fruit was scattered down the hill. Disappointed, yet with womanly persistence she put up a board to keep the eggs in the nest and started Biddy on another three weeks test. May success attend her efforts.

If A. F. Freeman carries out his ideas of what constitutes a model hotel, Manchester will have one, in the Freeman house. The improvements heretofore made and mentioned, have placed the home in the front rank of country hotels. The office, bar room, barber shop, wash room, etc., are unexcelled in any town, and are subjects of constant pride by the travelling public. But the last improvements caps the climax and the hotel now has the prettiest dining room to be found outside a large city. Like the rooms before mentioned, it has a new steel ceiling of beautiful pattern, a plate glass mirror 6x8 feet with heavy quarter sawed oak frame, new sideboard, screens, etc. The room has been freshly painted and is indeed a thing of beauty. Messrs. Myers & Heliker strive to entertain their guests in a pleasant and satisfactory manner and Manchester is justly proud of this elegant hotel.

It was expected that the chief of the fire department would bring the engine out for trial Monday night, but he had no one to help him so it was not done. If men expect to escape a poll tax by claiming to belong to the fire department, they better get their hands on the machine at least once a year. Out citizens would like to know if the engine is in good working order, also, how many men are entitled to exemption from poll tax. On Tuesday evening the chief succeeded in getting enough help to drag the apparatus out and it was found to be in working condition, but from the appearance of the outfit as it went down street one would think the department was composed of boys from six to sixteen years of age instead of able-bodied men. Men of the department should answer the call of the chief or step out of the ranks.

Some of our citizens who have gone to the expense of grading and seeding lawn extensions, complain because careless or willful persons walk upon them. Boys who drive cows to and from pasture should be careful not to allow the animals to trample the lawns, as the soil being wet and soft receive injuries hard to repair.

Editor Enterprise-What is the use of continuing the office of poundmaster? The common council voted that cows and horses should not be allowed to run on our streets; if a person would take the time to walk or ride from one end of our beautiful village to the other so as to observe every street, in all probability he or she would note that about one-half of the number of cows and horses are allowed to run or are tied out on our streets. Why this farce, this discrimination? If this is to remain thus why not lawfully allow all the same privileges? I might then like to let my cow or horse pasture on the street some, but as it is they might possibly get in the pound, but my next neighbor, who is willing to take the little chance of impounding, will pasture in front of my home "ad libitum."

New Honor Award

The University of Michigan Alumni Club of Ann Arbor has established a recognition award at Manchester High School. This honor will now become an annual award to a graduating senior student each year at the awards' night ceremony.

Selection for this award is based on the range of participation in athletics, quality of academic and scholastic achievement, and leadership activities throughout high school. The school was presented with an attractive and permanent bronze plaque that will display the award winners' name for each successive year.

The 1990 U of M Alumni Club Award winner was James Hall, son of Mrs. Sheryl Purool of Manchester and Mr. James Hall of Saline. Jamie was the class co-Valedictorian and participated in golf, basketball, and baseball. He received several other awards and scholarships, most notable were recognition as a Detroit Free Press Academic All-State selection and a National Merit Commended Scholar.

Mr. Bill Austin and Mr. Steve Hoffman presented the awards to the school and introduced the 1990 winner. Mr. Ted Tapping of Manchester was instrumental in the establishment of this distinguished award for MHS students.

Roses Win Blue Ribbons

Delores and Russ Wolfe of Manchester were participants last weekend in the Jackson Rose and Garden Society's annual Rose Show and competition held at Westwood Mall.

Roses were judged in all categories including hybrid teas, floribundas, miniatures and old fashioned, and Delores most deservedly captured 3 blue ribbons for her old fashioned Hansa Rugosa (year-1906), an Apothecary Gallica (year-1590), and a Rosa Mundi Gallica (year-1581, Australia).

The rose gardens at the home of Delores and Russ are beautiful. Hybrid teas, such as the popular Peace, the scarlet Queen Elizabeth, and the vibrant pink Mon Cheri dramatically encircle a sundial which accents the colorful display with its subtle verdigris patina. The hybrid teas also include 1958 Iceberg Floribunda, lavender Heirloom and peach Medallion. At the base of the sundial are miniature roses such as Scarlet Imp, Red Flush and Minnie Pearl.

Toward the gazebo, constructed by their son last summer, is the bed of old fashioned roses. These lovely, quaint flowers date back as far as the 1500's and include the ones for which Delores won the blue ribbons, and an 1854 Salet Moss, 1860 Comte de Chambord, and 1880 Mme. Issac Peretire, Australia.

Soon, perhaps by this weekend as Russ predicts, the south fence line will be awash with the blooms of climbing roses. One, called Jacob's Coat, has blossoms in various colors.

The long hours Delores devotes weeding, feeding, and nurturing her flowers is obviously a labor of love and truly results in one of the most beautiful sights in the Manchester area.

KIDS! HELP FEED OUR HUNGRY ELEPHANT

The Manchester Township Library presents BATCHES OF BOOKS, a summer reading program open to children of all ages. In the first week of sign-up, over 30 children registered. All participants get a "peanut" with their name on it to feed to our bulletin board elephant. But he's still hungry! It's not too late to help us out by signing up at the library.

In addition to this club for those of elementary school age, we have a new READ TO ME program for children two years old and older who have not yet learned to read.

A feast of fun is planned for participants throughout the summer. Certificates can be earned for treats of ice cream and other surprises donated by local businesses. We have hand-outs of games and puzzles at the Library. Plus, each book read earns a ticket for our READ-A-LOT-TERY. Winning tickets will be drawn for prizes at our end of summer party. All those who read at least ten books will be invited to this special event. For more information, visit the Library or call 428-8045.

Reminder: We haven't forgotten our adult readers! The final book discussion in the spring series is this Thursday, the 21st, at 7:30 p.m. at the Blacksmith Shop to review EXPENSIVE PEOPLE by Joyce Carol Oates. As always, it is not necessary to read the book to attend.

Senior Citizens News

Did you enjoy Father's Day? Without that breeze blowing, the 90 degrees would have been just a little sticky. Strolling past our house were three young fathers pushing their youngsters in strollers. What a nice thing to do on your day. I asked hubby if he had ever done that with his kids on Father's Day, and he couldn't remember having done so. Good for you, younger dads - kids will remember these small acts of love.

At 8:00 p.m., Manchester Area Senior Citizens Council will present their monthly card party at Freedom Township Hall. These parties are PUBLIC for those of you who have wondered. Come and play euchre with the masters! Pickup by senior bus begins at 6:30; call Erma for your ride to Pleasant Lake.

We are presently putting the bi-monthly Trumpeter to bed. We will notify you when and where you may pick up your issue next week in our article.

Senior aquacise group is currently going to Michigan Center on Wednesdays, leaving Emanuel's parking lot at 10:30 a.m. We go by senior bus when it is available, otherwise we are driving our cars. If you wish to participate, call Howard Parr at 428-9233 to place your name on the current week's list. Yes, we eat. Does a Manchester group ever meet without eating? School's Out - Safety's In

When school lets out for the summer, drivers must be prepared to have children appear at anytime, anywhere. Darting out into the street during a game of chase or wobbling down a hill on a bike, a 50-pound child is no match for a 5,000-pound car.

"Young children are at a distinct disadvantage when walking or bicycle riding" according to Dr. James Wasco, medical director at New Medico Head Injury System. "Their field of vision is only one-third of that of adults, and few can accurately judge speed and distance. They think cars can stop instantly, and they believe if they can see a driver, a driver can see them."

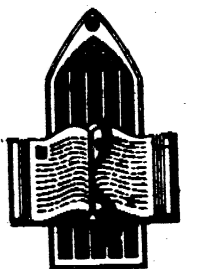

In nearly two-thirds of motor vehicle pediatric head trauma cases, the child is a pedestrian rather than a vehicle occupant.

"Since a child's brain is continually developing," said Dr. Wasco, "anything that disrupts that development process can have serious long-term consequences for that child."

Help avoid accidents this summer by keeping the following safety tips in mind:

- Be aware of pedestrians and bicyclists when driving near playgrounds, residential and school areas, and especially when turning or backing up.
- Be a role model for your children. Go for walks and bike rides together and always stop at the curb or edge of the road. Teach children to listen and look for traffic to the left, to the right and to the left again, then keep looking until they've crossed the street safely.
- Trim clothing with material that reflects light. Reflective tape is inexpensive and available at most hardware stores.
- Buy the right size bike. Children should be able to place the balls of their feet on the handlebars and their hands on the groundbars when sitting on the seat.
- Buy your child a bicycle helmet. An estimated 500-600 children die each year from bicycle accidents, yet only 2-5% wear bicycle helmets.
- "Summer's a great time for children to be outdoors," said Dr. Wasco, "but they need to be aware of potential dangers."

BACK TO BASICS COOKING

From the Armenian shish kabob to the yakitori of Japan, virtually every culture has its favorite version of grilled meat and vegetables on a skewer. What sets these "Hot and Sweet Pepper Beef Kabobs" apart is the spicy basting sauce of bottled Kikkoman Teriyaki Baste & Glaze, onion powder, ginger, chili powder and hot pepper sauce. The teriyaki baste & glaze provides a rich flavor base for the zesty seasonings. And, the sauce gives the meat a deep, rich color, seals in the natural juices and adds a lively "kick" to both the beef and sweet peppers.

|---|--------------------------------------|
| 1 1/2 pounds boneless tender beef, 1 inch thick | 1 teaspoon onion powder |
| 1 large red bell pepper | 1/2 teaspoon ground ginger |
| 1 large green bell pepper | 1/2 teaspoon chili powder |
| 3/4 cup Kikkoman Teriyaki Baste & Glaze | 1/4 to 1/2 teaspoon hot pepper sauce |
| | 8 10-inch metal skewers |

Cut beef into 1-inch cubes and each bell pepper into 16 pieces. Combine teriyaki baste & glaze, onion powder, ginger, chili powder and hot pepper sauce. Remove and pour 1/3 cup baste & glaze mixture over beef and peppers in large bowl; toss to coat. Thread beef and peppers alternately on skewers, leaving space between pieces. Place skewers on grill 5 inches from hot coals. Cook about 4 minutes on each side (for rare), or to desired doneness, brushing occasionally with remaining baste & glaze mixture. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Sweet-Tasting Snacks

Let's face it, one reason it's difficult to stick to diets is because the standard fare can be so BORING! Well, help is on the way. Here are two snacks that will satisfy any weight watcher's craving for "fun food" without compromising calorie intake.

First, try all natural Knox Baked made with fruit juices — here we show apple and cranberry juice cocktail. These naturally sweet-tasting little squares are perfect for snack attacks. And having a couple before meals can help you keep portions small.

Each of the Blox contain only 5 calories when made with apple juice and 7 calories with cranberry juice cocktail or white grape juice. The secret is in the unflavored gelatin — an ideal ingredient for low calorie diets because it gives body to many recipes that generally rely on fat and sugar for a similar texture.

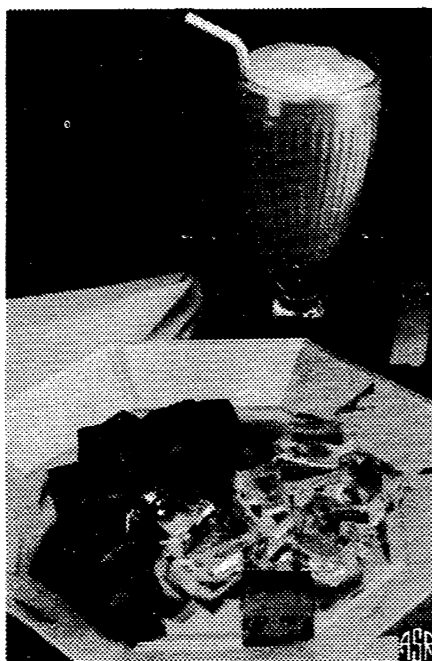

These sweet-tasting treats aren't just for dieters though. They are also a big hit with kids who like the colors and the unique texture of the gelatin. And mothers can feel good about serving Knox® Blox because they're all natural, low in sugar, with no fat.

The frosty chocolate shake is another great low calorie deceiver. Most diet shakes taste thin and watery, not at all satisfying. Adding a small amount of unflavored gelatin to the skim milk mixture produces a thick, rich-tasting shake that has only 75 calories per serving.

Fruit Juice Knox Blox

- 4 cups cold fruit juice
- 4 envelopes Knox Unflavored Gelatine

In medium saucepan, heat 3 cups juice to boiling. Meanwhile, in large bowl, sprinkle unflavored gelatin over remaining 1 cup cold juice; let stand 1 minute. Add hot juice and stir until gelatin is completely dissolved, about 5 minutes. Pour into baking dish and chill until firm, about 3 hours. Cut into 1-inch squares. Makes about 6 dozen blox. Try using assorted cookie cutters to create fun shapes. Kids will enjoy participating in the creations!

Frosty Chocolate Shake

- 1 teaspoon Knox Unflavored Gelatine
- 1/2 cup skim milk
- 2 tablespoons chocolate syrup
- 2 packets aspartame sweetener
- 1/4 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1 cup ice cubes (6 to 8)

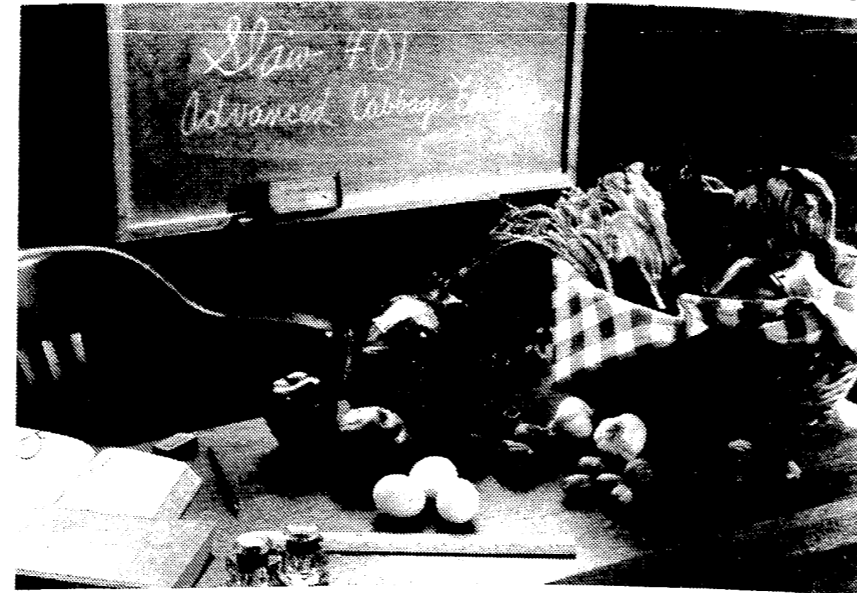

In small saucepan, sprinkle unflavored gelatin over 1/4 cup milk; let stand 1 minute. Stir over low heat until gelatin is completely dissolved, about 5 minutes.

In blender, process remaining 1/4 cup milk, syrup, sweetener and vanilla until blended. While processing, through feed cap, gradually add gelatin mixture and process until blended. Add ice cubes, one at a time; process at high speed until ice is melted. Makes 2 servings. 77 calories per serving.

For more recipes, mail $1.25 plus your name, address and zip code to: Light to Luscious Knox Cookbook-MR, P.O. Box 4142, Syosset, NY 11791. Please allow 4-6 weeks for delivery. Offer expires when supplies are depleted. An offer of Knox Gelatine, Inc., 800 Sylvan Avenue, Englewood Cliffs, NJ 07632. (To avoid delay do not mail to this address.)

Summer Slaws That Score High Marks!

You're sure to score an A+ with dinner guests when you serve either of these two new innovative but simple-to-prepare coleslaws. The peanut and cheese slaw is so hearty it's practically a main dish and features four kinds of cabbage that combine tastefully together. The pineapple slaw can be served as a dessert salad with its tart but creamy flavor.

- | | |
|--|---|
| 1/2 cup EACH of shredded green, red, Chinese and Savoy cabbage | 1 cup skinless Spanish peanuts |
| 1/2 hard-cooked egg, chopped | 1 teaspoon lemon juice |
| 1/4 cup minced onion | 1 generous handful of hot, garlicky buttered croutons (either homemade or heat some packaged croutons in your oven) |
| 1 lb. cheddar cheese, shredded | |
| 1 1/2 cups Marzetti Slaw Dressing | |

Combine the cabbages in a large bowl; add all remaining items except for the croutons. Mix thoroughly. Chill for a minimum of 1/2 hour. Add croutons just before serving. Serves 4-6.

CRUNCHY PINEAPPLE SLAW

- | | |
|--|-----------------------------------|
| 2 cups shredded cabbage | 1/4 cup heavy whipping cream |
| 1/2 cup shredded carrots | 2 teaspoons cider-vinegar |
| 1 8 ounce can juice-pack crushed pineapple, well drained | 1 teaspoon garlic salt |
| 1 cup Marzetti Slaw Dressing | 1/4 cup chopped walnuts or pecans |

Combine the cabbage, carrots and pineapple in a large bowl. In a separate bowl, mix slaw dressing, whipping cream, cider-vinegar and garlic salt. Add to vegetable/fruit mixture; toss to coat. Chill for a minimum of 1/2 hour; sprinkle with nuts just before serving. Serves 4-6.

Barbecue Fever!

By Melba Parker

Barbecuing is hotter than ever. That's the conclusion of a recent study commissioned by the Barbecue Industry Association (BIA), a trade association that promotes the pleasures of barbecuing. And now that warm weather has returned, what better way to enjoy it than with a cookout.

Whether grilling hot dogs or T-bone steaks, Americans love the taste of barbecue. According to the BIA study, nearly 73 percent of all U.S. households own a barbecue grill. And this year Americans are expected to purchase more than 13 million grills and 744,000 tons of charcoal to fuel them.

Those grills will be put to frequent and varied use, depending upon their location. In California, barbecue is light and fresh. Anything from marinated squab grilled over charcoal and vine cuttings served with grilled fruits and vegetables, to tortillas stuffed with barbecued duck, salsa and guacamole qualifies.

The barbecue speciality of the Pacific Northwest is a native Indian tradition — West Coast salmon grilled over alder wood. Grilled fish also is popular with barbecuers from Maine to Massachusetts. Seaweed sometimes is tossed onto the coals to enhance the flavor of some of America's finest seafood — lobster, mackerel and Boston scrod.

Louisiana is famous for its cajun-style barbecue, and in Colorado, a Rocky Mountain barbecue often features a whole spit-roasted baby lamb. To South Carolinians, it's not barbecue without a hickory pit and at least part of a hog, while brisket and sausage are the preferred barbecue fare in both Ohio and Texas.

In many Southeastern states, the secret is in the sauce, whether it's Georgia's vinegar, ketchup and mustard blended sauce; Virginia's thick and sweet sauce made from tomato paste, ketchup, honey, sugar and molasses; or North Carolina's hot, vinegary tomato-based barbecue.

Missouri, on the other hand, has no one speciality. It is the self-proclaimed "barbecue capital of the universe," and prides itself on being the melting pot of regional barbecue styles from all over the country.

Of course, no barbecue is complete without all the fixings. Great accompaniments to summer cookouts include corn-on-the-cob, coleslaw, baked beans, potato salad and tossed salad — all washed down with ice-cold lemonade, soda or beer.

People always will disagree about what makes great barbecue. But there's no arguing that flavor is what makes the barbecue great!

Here are two recipes to try at your next cookout!

Texas-style BBQ Chicken

- 1 teaspoon paprika
- 1 teaspoon chili powder
- 1/2 teaspoon garlic salt
- 1/2 teaspoon ground red pepper
- 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
- 1 3 to 3 1/2 lb. broiler-fryer, cut up
- 1 cup Bull's-Eye Original Barbecue Sauce

Combine seasonings; mix well. Rub seasoning mixture onto both sides of chicken pieces.

Place chicken, skin side down, on greased grill over low coals (coals will be ash gray). Grill, uncovered, 45 minutes or until tender, brushing frequently with barbecue sauce during last 30 minutes and turning occasionally.

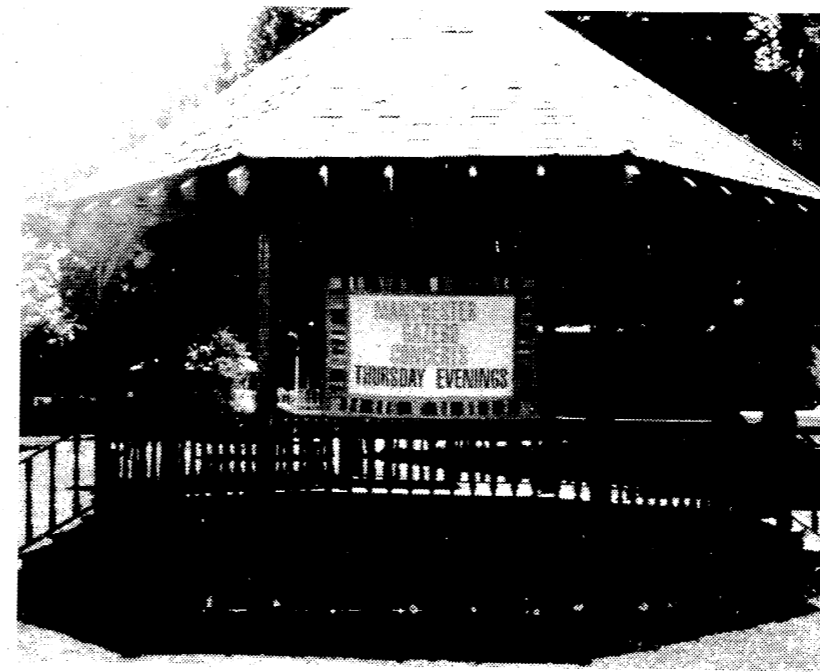

Carolina Pork Chops

- 1 teaspoon dry mustard
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon paprika
- 4 3/4-inch pork chops
- 3/4 cup Bull's-Eye Original Barbecue Sauce
- 1 tablespoon apple-cider vinegar

Combine mustard, sugar and paprika. Rub seasoning mixture onto both sides of chops. Combine barbecue sauce and vinegar; mix well.

Place chops on greased grill over hot coals (coals will be glowing). Grill, uncovered, 8 to 10 minutes on each side or until done, brushing frequently with barbecue sauce mixture. lil

Sweet Sounds of Summer At The Gazebo

Summer is here, and the Gazebo has once again become a humming hub of musical events and community gatherings.

On Thursday, June 28, we'll gather once again for the second in a series of Gazebo Concerts presented by the Manchester Recreation Task Force, with the support of the Michigan and Washtenaw County Council for the Arts. On that evening, Manchester musician David Mosher steps to the Gazebo stage for a rare and welcome opportunity to hear his superb guitar work as a solo artist — just his voice and his soaring guitar. David will lead you through an evening of entrancing songs and enticing guitar work. His finely crafted tunes will melt your heart, and his fleet-fingered guitar playing will melt your tennis shoes!

After David's set, cool your heels with the folk group Maxton Bay — and the sweetest harmonies this side of the Raisin River. Manchester residents Mark and Carol Palms form two-thirds of this trio, and Sheila Warner of Ann Arbor adds her perfect musical complement. These three musicians are masters of mood. They can perform with softspoken understatement, yet can stretch out with hot bluegrass and foot-stomping "cajun swing". Throughout their creative arrangements is the warmest blend of vocal textures. Next Thursday, June 28, take a trip down the Raisin River — to Maxton Bay!

The Manchester Historical Society has organized and will present an event of special interest to Manchester residents on June 21. The combined Manchester and Napoleon Community Bands will perform a variety of popular instrumental brass band pieces, including the Hogan's Heroes March, the Hopeless Polka, Yankee Doodle Dandy, and pieces by John Phillips Sousa. More than just a musical event, this will be a gathering in the spirit of community and camaraderie, recalling a time long ago when musicians came to town perhaps in a horse-drawn wagon, and the town's portable gazebo was literally picked up and carried to the middle of main street for a concert. So, you are invited to join the Manchester Historical Society and the Manchester Community Band for this "picnic in the past."

We owe special thanks to the young troop of Brownies who were perfect hostesses for the Gazebo Concert last Thursday. And, finally, the warmest thanks to Manchester resident Karen Hinkley for her wonderful contribution to the Gazebo and to Manchester — the beautiful Gazebo Concert Quilt. The quilt will hang in the Gazebo this summer, as a reminder and a reflection of the multi-faceted community in which we live — and of how we hang together! See you at the Gazebo this summer!

Dairy Month - Turkey Lovers' Month

June Dairy Month has been around for a good long while, but did you know that June was also "Turkey Lovers' Month"? Turkey is no longer exclusively for Thanksgiving Day menus. It's a year-round with Americans eating twice as much turkey as they did 25 years ago, and in many not-so-traditional forms. Processors have created many new products over the past few years, including turkey salami, turkey bologna and turkey ham. Through genetic research and improved breeding, the birds are more tender and lean than they once were. The latest figures available from the Michigan Department of Agriculture indicate that in 1986, an estimated 2,700,000 Michigan turkeys were marketed. Our commodity specialist, Kevin Kirk, believes that figure has increased at least 10%. For more information on the turkey industry in Michigan, contact Kevin at 517-323-7000, Ext. 2024.

Deer Bill Dear To Farmers

Michigan Farm Bureau is backing a deer license bill, H.B. 5661, that was reported out of the state Senate Natural Resources and Environmental Affairs Committee on May 16. The measure, sponsored by Rep. Jerry Bartnik (D-Temperance), would allow the Natural Resources Commission to issue a second firearm deer license for the taking of either antlered or antlerless deer in areas where the deer herd is a problem.

"Farm Bureau supports this measure because currently a second firearm deer license can only be issued for antlered deer," said Vicki Pontz, legislative counsel for Michigan Farm Bureau. "This measure would allow the Department of Natural Resources to extend that opportunity to antlerless deer as well. This gives the department an additional tool to use in managing the deer herd in Michigan."

Pontz says harvesting more deer could help reduce wildlife crop damage in the state.

NEW BUSINESS MOBILE HOME PARK DISCUSSION

This discussion included a review of the mobile home park rezoning and the preliminary site plan. Walton has always expressed a concern over the removal of the woods located on the property zoned MHP, and asked that the Commission consider trying to work something out with the developer so this wooded parcel could be saved.

After a considerable amount of discussion, Daverman made a motion that the Planning Commission would endorse Walton or Mary Kallewaard to contact the developer to see if he would entertain the possibility of 160 units on 40 acres (Phased: Phase I-116 units and Phase II-44 units, which would not be developed until all 116 units of Phase I are occupied). The developer would be asked to provide a written statement that the woods would be maintained as it currently exists for the purposes of natural features and passive recreation. It is not the intent of the Village to buy this property or trade equal amounts for the developers' purposes. If the developer entertains this proposal the Planning Commission, at that point would call a public hearing for the purpose of addressing this proposal. This motion does not in any way promise any results, but only provides a forum in which this concept can be presented, discussed and voted upon. It was stressed that the purpose of this motion was to try to find a mutually agreeable way in which to save the woods. Palms second the motion. Roll Call Vote: All Ayes.

ADJOURNMENT

Daverman made a motion to adjourn the meeting. Walton seconded the motion. The motion passed on a voice vote. The meeting adjourned at 10:04 p.m.

Summer Makes Its Comeback

It's that time of year again — bare feet on hot cement, children running through sprinklers, picnics and beaches. And it all begins June 21 at 11:33 a.m. EST.

The season, of course, is summer. It begins with the summer solstice, which occurs when the sun is farthest north of the celestial equator.

Along with warmer temperatures comes more daylight hours to enjoy them. Maximum daylight reaches 12 hours and 8 minutes at the Equator and 24 hours at the Arctic Circle.

However, as we in the Northern Hemisphere enjoy the warmth of the sun and the activities that accompany it, those in the Southern Hemisphere are experiencing winter.

So enjoy it while it lasts, because summer — like all good things — comes to an end Sept. 23 at 2:55 a.m. EST. lol

Brownie Troops Celebrate

On Tuesday, June 5, Manchester Brownie Troop #274 celebrated their Court of Awards, Flying-Up and Bridge to Juniors ceremonies.

This past year has been a very busy one for the girls in the troop. Some of the activities the girls participated in were: Cluster-wide clean up for Earth Day; donated clothes for the Hurricane Hugo Clothing Drive; hosted friendship hour at Manchester United Methodist Church; sent Christmas greetings to our service men and women at sea; escorted Santa in the Christmas parade; Christmas caroling around town; helped with pre-setup preparations for Manchester Family Services fall clothing drive.

The girls also completed the requirements for eight of the Brownie try-its which included a trip to the Jackson Space Museum, recycling items for Manchester Day Camp, hosting a very successful "Grandmothers' Tea", learning about careers, manners, caring and sharing; and, the fun you can have with math.

Troop 274 also spent a weekend last May at Camp Linden where the girls completed the necessary requirements for their first junior badge-outdoor fun. Hiking, cooking out, crafts, first aid and safety procedures, and staying up late are a few of the fun things they did to keep busy.

The troop also went for and received Challenge Honor Troop status. Challenge Honor Troop is met by competing twenty requirements, among them additional training for the leaders, community service projects, completing one try-it badge from each of the five Worlds of Girl Scouting, as well as planning their Bridging ceremony.

The troops held a candle ceremony after which they received their "wings" to fly up and their "bridges" patches signifying crossing over to becoming a Junior Girl Scout. This ceremony was completed while their parents looked on.

Thanks to the girls' hard work on the cookie sale, they were able to enjoy the many activities planned throughout the year. Troop 274 is sponsored by Kennedy & Sons Whse.

Dance Scheduled

Members of the Manchester High School Student Advisory Committee announce that they have scheduled a dance for June 23 from 8:30 p.m. to midnight. The dance will feature DJ Doug Delany and admission will be $3. The event is being sponsored by the Manchester Recreation Task Force.

The Student Advisory Committee is a group of concerned students who are volunteering their time and efforts in the community to accomplish projects for all youth in the Manchester area. The dance is their kickoff project. Their next scheduled project is the construction of two sand volleyball courts in a park yet to be determined. They hope to complete the construction of the volleyball courts by mid-July.

The concept of the Student Advisory Committee is students helping themselves to accomplish what they would like to see happen in our community. The projects are chosen by the students and are completed by their initiative and sweat equity. The projects teach them how to set and accomplish goals and how to work with the community and its leaders. Students that are interested in becoming part of the Student Advisory Committee should contact Carl Werner at 428-8829.

Schaffner Commissioned

Jill R. Schaffner recently was commissioned a second lieutenant upon graduation from the U.S. Military Academy, West Point, N.Y., and awarded a bachelor of science degree.

The academy is a four-year educational institution, charged with the task of training young Americans to become professional Army officers.

Schaffner is the daughter of Jon and Ann Schaffner of Manchester. The lieutenant is scheduled to attend training in the Aviation Branch. She is a graduate of Chelsea High School.

TAKE A FEW MINUTES TO GO THROUGH YOUR GARBAGE.

Every week, more than 500,000 trees are used to produce the two-thirds of newspapers that are never recycled.

American consumers and industry throw away enough aluminum to rebuild our entire commercial airfleet every three months.

We throw away enough glass bottles and jars to fill the 1,350-foot twin towers of New York's World Trade Center every two weeks.

We throw away enough iron and steel to continuously supply all the nation's automakers.

The ordinary bag of trash you throw away is slowly becoming a serious problem for everybody.

Not only are we running out of resources to make the products we need, but we're running out of places to put what's left over.

Write the Environmental Defense Fund at: 257 Park Avenue South, New York, NY 10010, for a free brochure that will tell you virtually everything you need to know about recycling.

The few minutes you take to learn how to recycle will spare us all a lot of garbage later.

DIABETES AND THE EYES

Diabetes is a very complex disease. In addition to the elevated blood sugar levels, diabetes can cause many other alterations in our body chemistry. There is also a tendency to accelerated "hardening of the arteries", a process which plugs blood vessels and leads to problems with heart, kidneys, and the eyes.

The occurrence and severity of diabetic eye complications varies greatly from patient to patient. One diabetic may have severe problems after only a few years, while the next may get by for many years without complications. After having diabetes for twenty years, about 75% of patients will have eye problems.

The eye complications are termed "diabetic retinopathy", because the problems occur in the retina, inside the eye. The blockage of small blood vessels in the retina causes hemorrhages and swelling of the retina, which blurs vision. In later stages, massive hemorrhages inside the eye may occur, and the retina can be pulled off by scar tissue, causing a blinding retinal detachment.

Before the introduction of laser therapy, little could be done about diabetic retinopathy. Now, most blindness can be prevented particularly if complications are recognized and treated early. Laser treatments "cauterize" the retina and dry up damaged, leaking blood vessels. Advanced cases may require vitreous or retina surgery. It is very important for all diabetics to have their eyes checked yearly, even if their vision seems normal, to detect diabetic retinopathy before it affects their vision.

Money Management

HOW NEWLYWEDS CAN MINIMIZE MONEY CONFLICTS

When the honeymoon is over, newlyweds often come face to face with financial reality - and some of the most divisive questions in a marriage. Do you need a household budget? Should you merge your individual savings into a joint account? What happens if your spending style differs radically from that of your spouse? To help you steer clear of some of the most common pitfalls in money management, the Michigan Association of CPAs suggests that you and your spouse consider these basic financial tips.

Talk Money

Fights over money often stem from differences in lifestyles, personal goals and even family histories. Someone who spent his childhood watching his parents scramble to pay the monthly rent is bound to react to money differently than someone whose parents were able to afford family excursions to Europe. The road to a financially sound marriage begins when you sit down with your spouse and discuss your feelings about money. What does money mean to each of you? How comfortable are you dealing with money matters? How much money would make you feel financially secure? Don't just talk about how you feel about your finances as they exist today. Talk about your goals.

Try not to judge your spouse's responses. Now is the time to listen and understand. Once you have a grasp of your differences and similarities concerning money issues, you will be far better equipped to deal with the nitty-gritty details of money management.

Agree On Goals

The next step is to write down your goals. Be as specific as possible. For example, if you want to save for a down payment on a house, agree on the amount as well as a time frame. If you cannot settle on a single set of goals, don't force the issue. Instead, list your common goals as well as your individual priorities.

To Merge Or Not To Merge

One of the most common questions newlyweds ask is whether they should merge their assets into a joint bank account. There is no "right" answer. While most couples do choose joint accounts, more and more are opting for separate accounts, with each partner taking responsibility for particular expenses. For example, the husband may pay the mortgage and utility bills while the wife takes care of all household expenses. Others choose to set up one joint account for their mutual living expenses, while keeping two other separate accounts for individual use, such as hobby expenses. However, if you do opt for a joint account, consider setting a limit on how much either one of you can withdraw without first consulting the other spouse.

Who Does The Paperwork?

Once you decide how to set up your accounts, decide who should handle the paperwork involved in managing money. Keep in mind that, for some, the task of balancing a checkbook is as appealing as a trip to a dentist. At the same time, some people actually enjoy reconciling bank statements and credit card bills. The most successful system is one in which spouses share the recordkeeping tasks according to their likes, abilities and schedules. If one of you tends to be less financially responsible, don't automatically assume that he or she should be totally relieved of any responsibility for financial recordkeeping. Rather, try to work out a compromise. Perhaps, he or she could manage the smaller household bills, while the other handles the rent and utility bills.

Create A Budget

After you agree on a way of handling your accounts, it's time to build a budget. List your monthly and yearly expenses, including such fixed costs as rent or mortgage payments, insurance premiums, automobile and educational loans, utility bills and commuter expenses. Don't forget to add in the amount you hope to save each month. You should also include estimates of variable expenses, such as those for entertainment and travel. If both of you love to ski, by all means, budget for a few trips - even if that means trimming your expenses in another area. Remember, if your budget is too rigid, you probably won't stick to it.

Next, calculate your combined income, including any dividends or interest payments that you receive on a regular basis. If you cannot meet all your expenses, including your savings goal, it's time to look at your finances - and budget - more realistically.

Insure Your Future

Anticipating tragedy may be the last thing either of you want to do. Nevertheless, you must take steps to protect your financial future. First, make sure that you have adequate life insurance. Ask yourself how much insurance you need, as well as how much insurance you can afford. While whole life or universal policies enable you to accumulate savings, they cost considerably more than another type of policy - such as term insurance. Second, consider your other insurance needs, such as disability and homeowner's policies. Third, write your wills. By doing so, you can be sure that your assets will be distributed exactly according to your wishes if one or both of you dies.

Review Your Tax Liability

Marriage can have a drastic impact on your tax liability, especially if both spouses work. Don't wait until next April to find out how your marital status will change your 1990 taxes. A CPA can help you take steps now to minimize your tax bill. In addition, he or she will be able to answer any other questions you may have regarding your financial plans.
