MARCC Turnout Strong

The Manchester Area Resource Conservation Coalition (MARCC) recently held its first meeting with an official agenda. Twenty people, primarily from Manchester Village and Township, plus a few from surrounding townships, attended.

The purpose of MARCC has been defined as working to protect the natural resources of the Manchester area. Methods for accomplishing this purpose were discussed.

Manchester Village resident Bill Swaney talked about this research into preservation and clean up of the Raisin River. He suggested that local ordinances are the most effective way to control development along the river banks. Several residents indicated interest in working to protect the river.

Recycling was another subject of strong interest. Sybil Kolon, appointed by the Manchester Chamber of Commerce to head up local recycling efforts, has been largely successful in uniting local governments with citizen volunteer efforts to operate the Walco wastebin site. She updated the group on the agreement between the Manchester Village Council and township trustees to jointly pursue a grant to support recycling programs.

Christi Clark, new resident of Manchester Village and the head of BFI waste services, spoke about the glut of newsprint on the recycling market. She said people could help by removing the shiny ad inserts from newspaper that presently require several costly hours of sorting. The group also discussed the need for recycling plastic.

Recent efforts to save 7 acres of trees in the new mobile home park development were discussed. To date, those efforts have failed, because the Village has no law which protects natural features. Council at present can't force the developers to build trailer sites around the woodlot rather than destroying it. However, MARCC has asked Council members to enact such an ordinance.

The group heard about the so-far successful efforts of Sharon Township residents to keep an asphalt plant from development on a sensitive groundwater recharge area. Sandy Thomson said

Hatch Stamping To Remain In Chelsea

Hatch Stamping Company, Inc. of Chelsea has announced plans to expand their operations and move into the Village's Sibley Road Industrial Park. The new plant will cost $2.5 million and employ 100 persons. Hatch's decision to remain in Chelsea is a welcome change from the firm's previous idea of relocating to Jackson County.

Ron Hatch, president of Hatch Stamping Co. Inc., indicated that the firm will make automobile stampings for car manufacturers in the United States in the new 108,000 square foot manufacturing facility. The company was founded in 1957 and moved to Chelsea in 1983. Annual sales were $12 million last year and are expected to approach $14 million in 1990.

On June 5, 1990, the Chelsea Village Council approved the sale of 10.9 acres of land in the village's industrial park to the Hatch Stamping Company. This acreage will accommodate both the currently planned facility and a future expansion of an additional 110,000 square feet. The sales agreement includes a tax abatement of 50% over 12 years for real property and 50% over seven years for personal property. The sales agreement was recently signed by both parties.

The Washtenaw Development Council began meeting with Hatch last year after being alerted to the firm's potential move to Jackson by the Village of Chelsea's representative to the WDC Board, Mark McKernan. Meetings were conducted with the company, the Village and representatives of the State of Michigan to address the firm's needs, and to provide the assistance required to convince Hatch to remain in Chelsea.

A major reason for Hatch Stamping Company's success is the quality of the firm's products. Hatch currently has five Q-1 ratings from Ford Motor Co. and in 1989 won the prestigious "Best in Class" award, recognizing Hatch for its superior performance within their commodity group. Hatch has also received the "Quality Excellence" award from Chrysler for the last three years.

Commenting on the decision of Hatch Stamping to remain and expand in Chelsea, WDC Executive Director, Gretchen Waters, stated that "the big winners are the current and future employees of Hatch Stamping that will benefit from jobs with a great company in a great community".

Athletic Director Appointed

The Manchester Board of Education recently appointed Randall Van Gasse to the position of Director of Student Services and Athletics. Mr. Van Gasse replaces Lyndon Lewis who accepted the position of middle school principal for the Climax-Scotts Community Schools.

Mr. Van Gasse earned his Bachelor of Arts degree from Kalamazoo College and a Master's degree in Educational Leadership from Eastern Michigan University. For the past 13 years, he has served the Clinton Community Schools as an art and English teacher along with coaching football and baseball. Additional coaching experience includes 7 years at Adrian College as assistant football coach.

Concerned About Your Cable TV Service?

A representative of Clear Cablevision, the company which holds the franchise to provide cable television service in the Village, has agreed, at Council's request, to answer questions at the Regular Meeting on Monday, August 20.

The meeting begins at 7:00 p.m. and Council is expected to reach the topic of cable television service at about 7:15 p.m.

Subscribers are invited to attend the meeting and to ask questions or make comments about Clear Cablevision's service, rate structure, channel selection and other relevant concerns.

Village Council meetings are held in the first-floor Council Room of the Village Hall, 120 South Clinton Street.

Written questions or comments can be left at the Village Hall or given to the clerk, president or any trustee.

In Our Village

The Manchester Enterprise
September 7, 1899

We have had a series of exceptionally heavy showers this week. Early Sunday morning came the first one, accompanied by much lightning; about noon another came along and about six in the evening a third one, in which the rain came in torrents and the wind blew furiously. Monday the storm clouds again gathered and in the afternoon gave us another deluge, accompanied by severe lightning and much wind. Trees and plants were broken down, fences and small buildings moved, the state telephone line was put out of commission and part of the electric lights were burned out.

Lightning took a peculiar streak at Mrs. Nestell's home early Sunday morning. Eye witnesses say it came down the lightning rod at the corner of the house, shot across the lawn to a large maple tree up which it ran, and coming down dispersed along the ground. The fluid left traces of its visit for there's a little trench between the rod and the tree, the tree was somewhat barked and there's another trench where it escaped along the ground. Enoch Silkworth's folks also had a visit. This time the lightning played hop, skip and jump along the telephone poles and finally made a flying leap for the cornice of his

Darian Davies Attends Interlochen

Darian Davies, a Manchester High School Band member, recently returned from the National Music Camp at Interlochen where he played the French horn in the invitational All-State High School Orchestra.

In addition to the two weeks of concentrated, highly competitive training in music, the campers present concerts and participate in typical camp activities including sports and trips to surrounding attractions.

On July 14, the All-State High School Orchestra presented a concert at Kresge Auditorium, playing Symphony No. 7 in C-Major by Shostakovich. On July 22, the last day of the session, they added Symphonie Fantastique, Op. 14 by Berlioz to the program and played at Corson Auditorium. The concerts were open to the public for a small fee.

The orchestra at Interlochen consisted of 146 musicians. The orchestra conductor invited Darian to join the Michigan Youth Symphony Orchestra which continues throughout the year with practice sessions at the University of Michigan School of Music.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor,
Recently, as a member of the Manchester Area Resource Conservation Coalition (MARCC), I wrote a public letter of support for a crusade to save seven acres of trees. This is a woodlot scheduled for destruction when the new mobile home park is built at the east end of Main Street, off Hibbard Road.

Sadly, this crusade failed. The trees, several of them over fifty years old, now face a very short life expectancy. Our community will soon have in place of a woodlot, a row of several trailers on a bulldozed flat.

MARCC first heard about this situation when Tom Walton, member of the Manchester Village Planning Commission, appealed to Village Council members to save the trees. MARCC members supported that appeal. However, the mobile home park developers will not voluntarily change their site plan unless council allows them more trailer sites. That Council refuses to do, and for good reasons. Therefore, the trees remain condemned.

But it is possible to make this situation the beginning of the story, not the end. MARCC has learned that several communities, particularly in Oakland County, have ordinances which specifically protect the trees, rivers and other wildlife from the onslaught of development. These ordinances generally demand that developers work around the natural features of a piece of property, rather than destroying them.

In the last meeting of council, MARCC members presented excerpts of the woodland/natural features ordinances from West Bloomfield Township and the City of Novi to trustees. We asked that the ordinance committee, headed by Jane Cooper, research these ordinances and quickly enact a similar law on behalf of our natural features.

In the last few weeks, nearly a hundred people (34 from Manchester Township and 61 Village residents) signed a petition asking Council to save the trees in the trailer park. MARCC members submitted this petition to Council as evidence that many people in our community believe we should not sacrifice all our trees to development.

If you believe this kind of ordinance is important to our community, please express that opinion with a quick phone call to one of the Council members: Jane Cooper, Larry Becktel, Mike Gordon, Chris Brooks, Bill Kwolek, Jeff Wallace, or Mayor Mary Kallewaard.

The loss of seven acres of trees is a warning about the future. Please help protect what remains.

Sincerely,
Deb Havens

Senior Citizens News

"Water, water everywhere" this Monday morning, guess it's time for a no-rain dance! Mowing will take a while longer, hasn't everything gotten green again? Now it is time for a chance again and the weathermen predict it will be 90 degrees this weekend (feast or famine, up and down!) Won't those putting greens be nice for our Thursday senior men golfers?

Friday, August 17: Pickup will begin at 6:15 to attend the Saline Senior Citizens Card Party. Call Erma Alber at 428-8707 to ride along.

Saturday, August 18: Seniors will leave the Center at 9:00 a.m. to travel to Ypsilanti for their Heritage Festival. Many, many things to do and see and if you want to go by senior bus, give Erma a ring.

Monday, August 20: Shopping at Arborland is on the schedule. Thought I'd remind you - only 127 days 'til Christmas! Come along all you senior shoppers, it is not too early. Just call Erma first to go.

Thursday, August 23: Senior men will golf. At 8:00 p.m., come join the wizards of cards at Freedom Township Hall for the monthly Senior Citizens-sponsored PUBLIC card party. Senior bus pickup begins at 6:30, call Erma.

Friday, August 24: If they can get up from being out the night before, seniors will go blueberrying by bus. They plan to leave the Center at 8:30 a.m. These are fun excursions—it is not a race to see who can fill their pails the fastest (but I often wonder if I'm not too picky). The bus will fill up, so call Erma to be placed on the list. After all this rain (1.3 inches Sunday and overnight) those little blue things should be in abundance.

house. This it splintered and then tried to bury itself in a 25-gallon crock sitting near. The crock couldn't stand the pressure and when it gave way the funny stuff disappeared.

N. Schmid had an experience last Friday that furnished all the excitement he wanted for a day. He had his old family horse Ned, and a "Tommy Mac" horse hitched before a single buggy, one horse in the shafts and one out, and was on his way to the east part of town to hitch to a wagon. Some friends jollied him about his outfit and he spent about 20 minutes expostulating on the reliable qualities of both steeds and said he had no fear of driving them. Only a few minutes after there was a wild clatter of hoofs down Layher's hill and across the river, and Nate was making the drive of his life, with his son Natie clinging to him. Never since the time of Ben Hur did steeds make a more noble run, and never since that time did driver more skillfully guide his charges. Trees, fences and ditches were passed in safety and the excitement was over when all landed in a flower bed at the Werner home. No damage was done, but Nate's hair was still standing on end at last accounts.

MARCC Turnout Strong

The key to her group's success has been to get informed and make sure local representatives know how residents feel about land use in the community.
The next meeting of MARCC is scheduled for September 11, at 7:30 p.m. in the Blacksmith Shop at 324 East Main Street. The group will discuss progress on these issues and any others of concern. All are welcome.

"Pork Barrel Awards" Announced By O'Connor

Fifty-second District residents who want to know some of the many "pet projects" their tax dollars fund can get a copy of State Representative Margaret O'Connor's 1989-90 "Pork Barrel Awards," the lawmaker has announced.

"Once again, the big spenders in Lansing have earmarked tax dollars to projects, grants and programs the state has no business funding, and I believe people should know about them," said O'Connor, R-Lodi Township. "While some of the projects may be worthwhile, they should not be funded at taxpayer's expense."

Harlan Reunion

August 2-4 was the date of the first George Guy Harlan (1881-1959) family reunion. Gene and Judi (Harlan) Graber of Manchester hosted this event. Fifty-five family members came to Manchester from Florida, Michigan, Hawaii, Ohio, South Carolina and Tennessee. Four generations were present. In spite of more than an inch of rain which fell throughout the day of the 4th, a good time was had by all.

The original George Harlan emigrated from Ireland in 1687 and settled in what is now New Castle, Delaware on land purchased from William Penn. It is estimated that there are more than 25,000 descendants of this original immigrant family living in the United States today.

- $100,000 to catalogue trees in Detroit
- $8,000 for a Hanover man to take time off work to create clay hermaphroditic entities
- $10,000 for a Redford man to take time off work to make a steel sculpture
- $10,000 for a Dearborn man to take time off work to do a landscape painting
- $21 million for Olds Plaza Hotel renovation for Gov. Blanchard's staff
- $25,000 to the State Bottomland Preserves Council to increase awareness of diving opportunities in Michigan
- $11 million to the "Say Yes to Michigan" campaign.

"These are just a fraction of the hundreds of items that have sent the state budget out of control," O'Connor said. "Since Blanchard has been in office, Michigan's budget has increased 58 percent."

"The governor recently vetoed several appropriations in the 1990-91 state budget, saying Michigan cannot afford them and citing hard times ahead. However, he did not veto any of his own costly 'pet projects' or the many others that will have contributed to the hard times we face. The fact is we would not face hard times if we had a lot less 'pork' in the budget."

People interested in receiving a copy of O'Connor's Pork Barrel Awards can call her Lansing office at 517-373-1792 or write her at Room 220 1/2, Capitol, Lansing 48913.

Record Fish

Two state record fish have been confirmed by Department of Natural Resources (DNR) fisheries personnel - a 1-pound pumpkinseed sunfish and a 3-pound 8-ounce gizzard shad - bringing the total number of Michigan record fish caught this year to three.

Donald Walsh of Bellaire hooked his trophy 10-inch pumpkinseed May 22, while baitcasting with a worm on Thayer Lake in Antrim County. He shares the state record title with Troy Hamlin of Jackson who caught his 1-pound pumpkinseed in 1983 from Clark Lake in Jackson County.

Port Huron resident Dennis Kish netted his prize 19 1/2-inch gizzard shad April 14 while baitcasting with a minnow on the St. Clair River in St. Clair County. His catch surpasses the 3-pound, 3/4 ounce gizzard shad record set in 1989 by Kenneth Klinkoski of Portage. The gizzard shad is a freshwater member of the herring family.

Both Walsh and Kish will receive a state record certificate and a Michigan Master Angler patch from the DNR for their catches.

Joining these anglers with state record fish caught in 1990 is Chad Markham of Mt. Clemens with his 43-inch, 7-pound, 7-ounce American eel taken from Lake St. Clair in Macomb County.

To date, 412 qualifying fish entries have been submitted this year to the Master Angler Award program, administered by the DNR's Fisheries Division. The DNR awards anglers a patch for catching fish which meet the program's established minimum weight requirements.

Do you think children should read more and watch TV less? Isn't it cheaper to go to the library than buying every children's book from Mother Goose to Doctor Seuss? Have you choked on the cost of a paperback for your own entertainment lately? The Manchester Township Library is a great resource, but it can't grow and flourish alone and unloved. Schools, churches, just about every community institution depends on groups to help plan and organize events that ultimately benefit all of us.

Our library has similar needs. It needs friends! It needs attention! It needs money! (for all kinds of things, books, space, aides, activities, services to us!) If you would like to be a friend to our library, the organization begins on August 16, 7:00 p.m. at the library. Of course, you don't have a lot of time! Nobody else does either. But if we all do a little, we can get a lot done. Call 428-8586 if you can't attend but would like to help.

Manchester Youth Injured

Michael Johnson, a 15-year old youth of Manchester, received serious injuries Tuesday, August 7, when he set off a small homemade bomb.

Johnson and two companions were at Chi-Broil Park when he lit an air rifle cartridge filled with black powder and wicked with masking tape. Following the explosion, he was air-lifted to the University of Michigan Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Michael's injuries were severe; he lost several fingers and suffered serious injury to his left eye. He remains at U. of M. Hospital.

An investigation by the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department followed the incident. They later discovered two other similar bombs at the home of another youth who was not at the scene of the accident but had constructed the bomb that Johnson exploded.

MHS Student Selected For Exchange Program

Gabriel Weiss, a sophomore at Manchester High School and the son of Gerald and Nancy of Manchester, has been selected to attend high school in Germany next year as a Congress-Bundestag Youth Exchange student.

Conceived seven years ago, the Congress-Bundestag Exchange Program is funded by members of the U.S. Congress and the German Bundestag (parliament) and is designed to strengthen ties between the successor generations of each country. "Spending a year in Germany would not only be educational and elevating, but it would also be very enjoyable for me-meeting new people and learning to deal with new situations are just two of the more attractive incentives," says Weiss. "I am sure that I would be able to reap the benefits of such an experience for the rest of my life."

The program enables the exchange students, like Weiss, to expand their perspectives and awareness of German and American social, economic and political institutions while extending friendship across international boundaries.

In concert with several other respected exchange organizations, the Experiment in International Living finds the homestays with German families through their overseas office and administers the orientation, counseling, and reorientation aspects of the program. One of the oldest organizations of its kind, the Experiment originated the homestay concept of learning the culture of another country by living as a member of one of its families.

Recognized throughout the world as a leader in cultural exchange, language training, and academic degree programs in international education, the Experiment's goal is the same as it was over 57 years ago: to build international friendships, on a personal level as a foundation for building understanding on a global level.

The number of full one-year Congress Bundestag scholarships allocated to each state is proportionate to state representation in Congress, with at least two students chosen from most states. Since only 300 students from the United States are chosen for this government scholarship, the selection process was quite competitive.

Hong Kong Introduced To Michigan Blueberries

The ABC's of Back-to-School

The lazy days of summer are over and the back-to-school race is here.

Running to school in the morning or from school in the afternoon, children run the risk of injury.

"Head injury is among the most dangerous of injuries, especially for children," according to Dr. James Wasco, medical director for the New Medico Head Injury System. "Any injury to the brain can significantly impair a child's ability to learn, concentrate or remember information and this can have a damaging effect on a child's development."

Before you send your children back to school, outfit them with a few safety reminders.

Walking to School

- Most pedestrian accidents are the fault of the walker, not the driver, according to the National Safety Council, so:
- Be sure to allow enough time for your child to get to school without rushing.
- Plan your child's walking route to minimize the number of street crossings.
- Teach your child always to use sidewalks and to cross at crosswalks. Where there are no sidewalks, have your child walk facing traffic, so the child can see oncoming cars.

Riding the School Bus

- Although school buses are much safer than family cars, statistics indicate that 40 students die and 7,000 are injured each year in school bus accidents. The majority of these accidents occur outside the bus, when students are boarding or exiting.
- Have your child wait for the bus to stop completely, then board carefully, using the handrail.
- Tell your children to take their seat quickly and stay in that seat for the entire ride — never putting head, arms or hands out the window.
- Teach your children to cross at least 10 feet in front of the bus so the driver can see them.

If you need more information about head injury and rehabilitation, call the New Medico Head Injury System at 1-800-CARE TBI, ext. 3070.

"Going to school without parents is a sign of a child's independence," said Dr. Wasco, "but children must learn that practicing safety is a prerequisite for independence."

One of the two largest supermarket chains in Hong Kong has selected 60 stores to participate in a first-time promotion of Michigan blueberries sponsored by the Michigan Department of Agriculture (MDA) Asian Office from July 13 to August 5, 1990.

Fresh air-shipped blueberries will be distributed to the Wellcome Co. Ltd. stores in refrigerated containers where consumers can then sample the product.

"Blueberries are relatively new to Hong Kong consumers," said MDA Director Robert L. Mitchell. "Enabling prospective consumers to sample Michigan's fresh quality blueberries benefits both parties. Hong Kong consumers can test the quality of Michigan blueberries before purchasing the product. When the samplers taste the fruit, I am certain they will be eager to establish a market for Michigan blueberries."

The Michigan Blueberry Growers' Association has supported the promotion by selling the blueberries to the Wellcome chains and providing the stores with posters and pamphlets.

Americans Concerned About Ag Chemicals

A majority of American consumers are concerned, but "reasonable," about the agricultural chemicals farmers use to grow their food, Michigan Farm Bureau President Jack Laurie told a group of reporters this week. Laurie shared the results of a public opinion survey commissioned by the American Farm Bureau Federation on food safety, farmers and modern farming practices. Results of the survey were released today.

"I think for farmers the most reassuring finding from this survey is the indication that the general public is reasonable on food safety issues," Laurie said. "Contrary to the hype generated by some celebrities and self-appointed consumer advocates, the vast majority of Americans support neither the status quo nor the complete elimination of chemical use by farmers."

The survey showed that only one-fifth of U.S. consumers believe that chemicals should be totally eliminated in the growing of crops and raising of livestock; two-thirds believe farmers should further limit the amount of chemicals they use.

"That matches up fairly close with what I perceive as the attitude of farmers about chemical use. Most farmers are trying to cut back on chemicals whenever possible, but they recognize that some chemical usage is necessary in order to continue to produce an abundant, wholesome and reasonably priced food supply," Laurie said.

"I am concerned about a finding in the poll that indicates that 73% of the public believe farmers use more chemicals than are necessary in order to achieve higher profits. It's clear we have a real job ahead of us to educate consumers about the realities of modern farming, namely, that many farmers, rather than increasing chemical use, are instead looking to cut back on the use of expensive chemicals whenever possible."

"The Farm Bureau survey shows another misconception. It indicates that 56% of the public believe that few farmers receive extensive training and education on how to use chemicals. Clearly, most consumers are not aware of the training and certification programs that are conducted by our land grant institutions like Michigan State University, and by the Michigan Department of Agriculture. They are not aware of the strict requirements for getting a professional pesticide applicator's license in this state," he said.

Protecting Michigan's Future Recreation Bond Fund

More than $14 million in grants from the Protecting Michigan's Future Recreation Bond Fund will go to local park and recreation agencies throughout Michigan under legislation approved by Governor James J. Blanchard. The monies will fund some 136 projects planned this year.

The approval of this second round of funding will result in $14.45 million being available to 131 cities, villages, townships, counties and other units of government for development projects.

The bond fund was created in November of 1988, when Michigan voters passed the $800 million Protecting Michigan's Future issue-proposals C and D on the ballot. Of this money, $70 million was allocated for local recreation grants, $22.2 million of which has been appropriated to fund 199 local recreation projects so far. The remainder of the $70 million will be allocated in the near future.

"The Recreation Bond Fund is helping local governments renovate and replace the aging infrastructure of its park and recreation areas," said David Hales, Director of the Department of Natural Resources, "and it's helping build many new and exciting facilities that will provide opportunities to enhance Michigan's quality of life for our residents and visitors."

The projects approved under this round of funding include community centers, ballfields, fishing piers, environmental education facilities, tennis and basketball courts, and renovations to existing park structures. Seventeen projects are located in the Upper Peninsula, 16 in the upper Lower Peninsula and 94 in the southern Lower Peninsula. Six regional parks and 3 former industrial sites throughout the state were also funded.

"Urban parks, especially, are in dire need of rejuvenation and restoration," explained Hales. "I would like to commend the Natural Resources Commission for doing an excellent job of selecting projects that address many of our pressing recreational needs. With the help of community leaders who are committing their time, effort and the required matching funds, we will continue to carry out the goals of the Protecting Michigan's Future Bond campaign."

A list identifying each project and the amount awarded is attached. For more information, contact the DNR Recreation Division, P.O. Box 30028, Lansing 48909; phone 517-373-9128.

Back To School Immunization Clinics

Free back-to-school immunization clinics, sponsored by the Washtenaw County Public Health Division, will be offered to children and adults beginning in August at various places around the county. No appointment is needed, just remember to bring along your child's previous immunization records to the clinic of your choice. Adults, especially those working with children, also need to check their immunizations periodically. Diphtheria-tetanus boosters and TB skin tests are available for adults.

Clinic dates and times are as follows:

Monday, August 20, 1:30-7:30 p.m., Arborland Mall, Washtenaw Ave., Ann Arbor

Tuesday, August 21, 1:30-7:30 p.m., Meijer's Thrifty Acres, Carpenter Rd., Ypsilanti, (near the cafeteria)

Wednesday, August 22, 1:30-4:30 p.m., Department of Social Services, 2350 W. Stadium, Ann Arbor

Wednesday, August 29, 1:30-4:30 p.m. Eastern Subcenter, 555 Towner, Ypsilanti

Wednesday, September 5, 1:30-7:30 p.m. Public Health Division,

Washtenaw County Service Center, 4101 Washtenaw, Ann Arbor (off Hogback)

Although contagious childhood diseases don't occur as often as they once did, they can still happen to children, and sometimes adults, too. So be sure your children are up-to-date with immunizations and help prevent serious diseases from spreading.

If you have any questions about immunizations or scheduled clinics, call the Washtenaw County Public Health Division at 971-3993.

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT SOCIAL SECURITY

Social Security remains one of the most vital, and most misunderstood, government programs available. More than 38 million people - or about one out of every six persons in this country - currently receive Social Security. However, many Americans still believe that Social Security benefits only a select group of retirees. In fact, Social Security provides more than just retirement insurance. The Michigan Association of CPAs recommends that you take the time to learn not only how Social Security works, but also how it can work for you.

Let's start with your paycheck stub. That mysterious FICA deduction represents your contribution to the Social Security system. But don't assume the funds that you contribute today will wait around for you to claim them. Most of this year's revenues will be immediately transformed into payments for today's beneficiaries.

About now, you may be asking, So what do I get for my Social Security tax dollars? With every dollar you earn, you buy into an insurance program designed to protect you and your family from the possible loss of income if you should retire, die or become severely disabled.

However, eligibility for Social Security is neither automatic nor immediate. In order to become fully insured, you have to accumulate calendar quarters, or credits, by working for a certain amount of time at any job covered by Social Security law. Almost every kind of job, as well as self-employment, meets this requirement. You earn one credit for each $520 of earnings you receive during the year, up to a maximum of four credits for $2,080 or more of earnings. This amount increases annually to keep pace with average wages.

Each credit brings you closer to the amount needed in order to qualify for Social Security's comprehensive package of retirement, life and disability benefits. Generally, once you earn 40 work credits, you are fully insured and can count on collecting full retirement benefits at age 65. If you decide to retire early, say at age 62, you will have to accept partially reduced benefits.

On the other hand, for every year that you postpone retirement, you can increase your monthly benefit. For instance, if you reached age 65 between 1982 and 1989 and delayed retirement by just two years, the benefit would have increased by 6 percent. If you turn 65 in 1990 or later, the increased benefit may go as high as 8 percent for each year that you postpone retirement, depending on how long after 1924 you were born.

After retirees, the second largest group of Social Security recipients is the survivors of deceased workers. How do you know if you are qualified for survivors' benefits? The rules are somewhat cumbersome, but clear. To be eligible, you must be a widow or widower who is age 60 or older; age 50 and disabled; or any age and caring for a child who is under 16 or permanently disabled. Even if you are divorced you may still be eligible for survivors' benefits, providing that your marriage to the deceased lasted ten years or longer. The children of a qualified worker who retires, becomes severely disabled or dies may also receive benefits, depending on their age at the time any of these events occurs.

Age is also a factor in determining eligibility for disability benefits. In general, the older you are when the disability occurs, the more work credits you need in order to qualify for Social Security benefits. For example, if you become disabled before age 24, you need at least one-and-a-half years of credit earned within the three years before your disability begins. But if the disability occurs at ages 31 through 43, you need five years of work credit out of 10 years prior to the time you become disabled.

One of the most common misconceptions people have is that the number of work credits they have determines the amount of the monthly Social Security check they receive. In actuality, having enough credits to be insured means only that you are eligible to receive Social Security benefits - it does not affect the numbers written on the check in your mailbox.

The amount of benefits due to you or your family ultimately depends on your average earnings during your working lifetime. In figuring your average earnings, the lowest five years of annual earnings are not counted. Your earnings are also adjusted to reflect changes in wage levels over your lifetime.

To be sure your earnings record is correct, call, visit or write your local Social Security office and ask for Form SSA-7004PC, Request for Statement of Earnings. The form is simple: you fill in your name, address, Social Security number, date of birth, and, if applicable, any other name or number you may have used during your working life.

CPAs recommend that you request a free statement of your earnings record every three years, even if your retirement is a long way off. On occasion, you may discover that some of your earnings have not been credited to you. The possible reasons for such an error are numerous. Perhaps you gave your employer an incorrect Social Security number. Or maybe your employer made a mistake when he reported your income.

If you suspect an error, contact your Social Security office immediately. In most cases, the official time limit for correcting mistakes on your earnings record is approximately three years following the year in which the wages were paid.
