Bi-Sap Student Assistance Program

BISAP (Bi-County Student Assistance Program) is an alliance between schools, community-based agencies and the Livingston Washtenaw Substance Abuse Coordinating Agency to assist troubled youth. Manchester Community Schools is one of the districts piloting the program. The Community Resource Center is representing the Manchester community at large.

Similar to programs that have been assisting American business and industry for decades, BISAP provides a model for schools, parents and the community to insure that troubled students are linked with the appropriate licensed service agency in the community.

The in-school component of the Student Assistance Program is coordinated by a core team of teachers, administration and staff in each building within a district. Students can access the program by self-referral. Staff may refer students who violate the schools' disciplinary policy. Referrals may also be initiated by a friend, a family member, teacher or other concerned school personnel.

The schools' core team will meet with the referred student and his/her parents/guardians to make recommendations that will address the student's problem.

Many problems inhibit a student's ability to be at his or her best. Abuse, grief, loss, and personal problems such as depression, alcohol and drug abuse impact school performance. BISAP, a collaborative program between schools and community can be the vehicle to facilitate the development of a student assistance program to assist our troubled youth.

BISAP is possible through a grant provided by the Michigan Office of the Governor in conjunction with the Office of Substance Abuse Services.

Wheels For Life Bike-A-Thon

The annual St. Jude Children's Research Hospital "Wheels for Life" Bike-a-Thon will be held Saturday, October 20, 1990 behind the firehall, 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon. Lunch will be provided for all riders.

After the bike-a-thon, everyone's names will be tossed "into the hat" and drawings will be held for great prizes. Every time 2 laps are completed, your name goes "into the hat". The more you ride, the better your chances of winning one or more prizes. So pick up your sponsor sheets and start collecting sponsors, even if it's just mom and dad or grandma and grandpa, or yourself!

There are lots of prizes to be won. Prizes have been donated by Frank's, Corky D's, Marti's, The Flower Garden, Movieland, Pyramid Office Supply, Krauss Pharmacy, First of America, Kleinschmidt's, Cottage Inn, Trendsetterz, D. B.'s Pizza, ACO Hardware, Subway and Meijer's Thrifty Acres. Sponsor sheets are available at all schools, banks and most local businesses and churches.

Free Rural Mail Delivery

The Manchester Enterprise
October 5, 1899

Here are a few rules established for the free rural mail delivery: The requirements of the department are that the people on the route get boxes which will fully and securely protect the mail, preferably galvanized iron, letter "U.S. mail," and containing the names of parties entitled to receive mail. The boxes must be conveniently located for the carrier, so he can leave and gather mail without alighting from his rig. The route will be governed by the flag system. When a person places mail in the box for collection, a small flag or piece of white cloth must be displayed. When the carrier leaves mail he will either display a flag or call out "mail." The carrier will be permitted to deliver anything not mailable, and the extra revenue derived from package delivery is intended to assist him in making a living. If kept up well, the route will be continued, but if not it is liable to be discontinued at any time.

CRC Open Meeting

Manchester area residents are invited to a special dessert meeting October 17, 7:30 p.m. at the Manchester United Methodist Church. The purpose of the meeting will be an opportunity for the Community Resource Center Board to receive input in future direction of the organization. The special program will feature Dr. Mark Cwiek, vice president of the Chelsea Community Hospital. Dr. Cwiek is a board member of the Chelsea Faith in Action and will share insight in community service during a presentation titled "At Your Service."

The program will also include capsule presentation by participating groups stressing relationship to the Community Resource Center. The program will begin promptly with dessert at 7:30 p.m. and conclude by 9:00 p.m.

The program is a way for the Community Resource Center to say "Thank you" for past support and an opportunity to continue to build community support in the Manchester area.

Fall Bloodmobile

Remember the fall Bloodmobile will be held at the Emanuel United Church of Christ on Monday, October 15 from 1:00 to 7:00 p.m.

Readin' and a-Rockin' This Saturday

Members of the Friends of the Library met with interested middle school students and parents last Saturday to discuss the upcoming "Readin' and a-Rockin'". The day-long festival of reading events designed to showcase the pleasures of reading is scheduled for October 13.

The kids will be at the library from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. in a marathon fund raiser to buy new books written for their age group. However, the library will be open to the public during its regular hours of 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m.

Bicycle Gums

The Manchester Enterprise
October 17, 1885

Another Physical Peculiarity Said to Be Due to the Wheel

Bicycle riding and poor teeth are about the last two subjects one would place together, but that an overfondness for indulgence in exercise upon the wheel is developing a diseased condition of the gums and teeth can be testified to by many unfortunate victims and their dentists.

It is caused by the extra effort necessitated in ascending hills or in running races, and the short, quick breaths of cold air that strike the overheated gums through the open mouth develop a congestion of those parts. The face swells as with an ordinary toothache, pus forms around the teeth and loosens them, and in many cases leads to their extraction later, and the pain is equal to having all one's teeth ulcerating at once.

A prominent dentist stated, when interviewed upon the subject, that he had had several cases of that kind. "It comes," he said, "from an abnormal current of air, from fast riding, striking the gums, and if the popularity of the bicycle continues, it will develop a new feature in dentistry. At a private meeting of several dentists the other evening we found upon comparing notes that these cases are increasing. The only preventive is a difficult one to follow, and that is always ride with the mouth closed. The same effect, however, is caused by an unnatural draft of air, as, for instance, sitting in front of an electric machine for a long period. I have had several cases of that nature from hotel stewards and their assistants, who offices are generally situated in the basement, where a change of air can be brought about by artificial means."

-New York Herald

Everyone is welcome to stop by to watch and participate during those hours.

The theme is "Readin' and a-Rockin'" because the day begins with middle school kids marathon reading in rocking chairs. At 10:30, be sure to bring your little children to hear stories read to them by our middle school readers. And from 1:00 p.m. to 2:00 p.m., prize-winning storyteller Nathan Zahler, a sophomore from Jackson County Western High School, weaves tales to delight your family.

Your child is also invited to add a new scale to the back of the library's newest resident. It's a dragon whose scales are actually the titles of kids' favorite books.

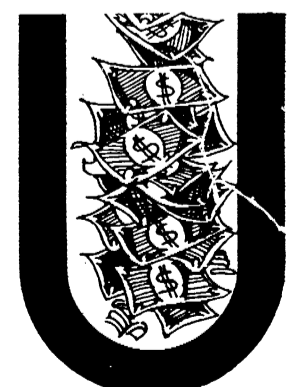

And for everyone else, there's a paperback book exchange. Be sure to bring the old books you've read and trade them for others that look like a good way to spend the upcoming cold and wintry nights.

One of the main reasons for the "Readin' and a-Rockin'" event is to raise money for new books written for the middle school child. Those books cost about $13 for a hardcover, and about $4 for a paperback. Kids have been given pledge sheets in order to sign up sponsors for the event. We hope your pledges will be generous, and of course donations are welcome.

A video of the days events will be made for the library archives. Friends of the Library will take orders for copies for your own home VCRs. Part of the proceeds will benefit the library.

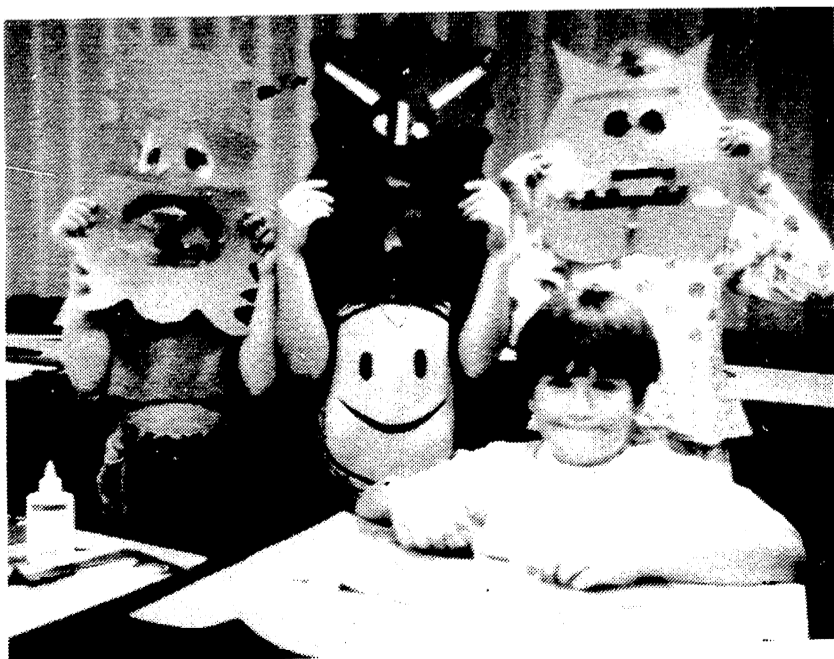

There are other special treats for these special volunteers. Kid fundraisers will feast on free doughnuts and cider, pizza and popcorn. At 2:00 p.m., the library closes to the public, and young marathon readers will stay on to watch a movie they've selected.

The Friends of the Library hope to see you at the Manchester Township Library Saturday, October 13, between 10:00 a.m. and 2:00 p.m.

Senior Citizens News

We recently uncovered a trip sheet for 1969 to help us plan expenses while traveling to California. Average daily costs were as follows: food-$6.50 per person; motels for two-$12.50; admissions and amusements-$1.50; and allow $30 for each 1,000 miles as cost of car operation. Nowadays (1990), we would have to sleep in a tent, prepare our own food at campsite, bypass entirely Carlsbad Caverns, etc. to afford to run our car. It was fun reviewing how far our dollars went in another decade, but who could imagine the inflation in those 21 years?

Thursday, October 11: Spectra Care bus will be parked in Emanuel's lot to give free tests from 10:00 to 12:00 noon. Those signed up ahead will be pre-screened and asked to be present at 10:00 a.m. Exercise for seniors begins at 11:00, baked chicken will be served at noon with bingo following.

Saturday, October 13: Senior bus leaves the Center at 10:00 a.m. for the fall color tour by Southern Michigan Railroad to Raisin Center. Call Erma to see if there are empty seats for this tour.

Monday, October 15: Call Erma Alber at 428-8707 to go along on the shopping trip to Briarwood. Time of departure from the Center is 9:30.

Tuesday, October 16: Pastor Riske presents the clergy program for today, followed by lasagna. Inflation hasn't risen much at senior meals, do come try these excellent meals by calling Linda at 428-8359 ahead, or you may call Jan in the kitchen before 10:30 on meal days.

Wednesday, October 17: VIP members will be going to Saline Hospital for flu shots, leaving at a time to be announced at meals. You may call Erma to find out time of departure if you need to.

Thursday, October 18: Exercise begins at 11:00 Participants are having fun with their new instructor. Come and "play on the floor." Jan is serving up beef stew at noon lunch and bingo will be played.

Support Your Middle School Kids

During the next week, a few valiant middle school volunteers will be trying to find sponsors for the time they are contributing to the "Readin' and a-Rockin'" marathon October 13 at the Manchester Township Library. Student volunteers will have special Friends of the Library sponsorship forms.

They can't possibly contact all of you who would like to help them raise money for the library's middle school materials fund. If you would like to sponsor one of these public-spirited students, please contact the library at 428-8045.

We recommend 25 cents to $1 sponsorships for each hour the student participates, but any contribution to the fund would be appreciated.

Please help these kids have a successful project and help the library increase its collection for all our kids.

"DESTRUCTION OR REDEMPTION:"

Images of Romantic Love" is the topic of the upcoming Reading and Discussion group sponsored by the Manchester Township Library and the Michigan Council of the Humanities.

On November 8, at 7:30 p.m. at the Blacksmith Shop, the participants will discuss "The French Lieutenant's Woman" by John Fowles. Librarian Dorothy Davies arranged again to have Professor James Diedrick of Albion College as discussion leader. This is his fourth visit to the group and, since his English specialty is Victorian, is well suited to lead the groups' study of this Victorian romance. Members may recall that the novel was made popular by the movie of the same title. Copies of the book are available at the Library.

Future discussions will take place on the first Thursday of each month, December through March, 1991, at 7:30 at the Blacksmith Shop. The other books of romantic love to be read and discussed are "Madame Bovary" by Gustave Flaubert, "The End of the Affair" by Graham Greene, "Morgan's Passing" by Anne Tyler, and "A Mother and Two Daughters" by Gail Godwin. It isn't necessary (or required) that the book be read - come for the discussion and informal social period.

Golden Anniversary

Jim and Olga Cox will celebrate fifty years of marriage on October 12th. A surprise anniversary party was given for them by their daughters and families on Saturday, October 6 at Manchester United Methodist Church. They were also honored at church on Sunday with the coffee hour being hosted by their grandchildren. On their anniversary weekend, beginning October 12, they will visit Greenup, Kentucky where they were married. In looking through a recent magazine, Olga discovered that Greenup is celebrating "Old Fashion Days" complete with a parade to take place on "their" weekend.

Their children are Barbara

Petersen, Mr. and Mrs. Al (Delores) Gebhardt, Mr. and Mrs. Bill (Darlene) Alber, and Mr. and Mrs. Gerry (Betty) Mann. They have eleven grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Jim and Olga are both retired from Ford Motor Company. His interests include cards, chess, and cribbage, which he has taught most of his grandchildren. Olga is a homemaker and enjoys cooking specialty dishes for her grandchildren. Her other pastimes are walking and shopping with her daughters. Jim and Olga take advantage of their leisure time by taking frequent daily excursions and mini-vacations with friends.

CATHOLIC HOMECOMING NIGHTS

Did you "used to be Catholic" or just stop going to Church? Has your marriage situation kept you from the Church? Did the Catholic Church or a priest or religious hurt you in some way? Have you wanted to work out disagreements with the Church and not known how? If you fall into any of these categories, it simply isn't good to leave them unresolved. The Catholics in our area are hosting three HOMECOMING NIGHTS to begin to deal with these complex issues in a non-threatening environment.

The evenings will be repeated on three consecutive dates, beginning at 7:30 p.m. each evening. No commitments will be asked of you. All we ask is that you come.

Come to me, all you who are weary and find life burdensome...

and I will refresh you. Matt 11:28

Delirious Dutch Down Napoleon

Friday's contest in Pirate land saw us rally late from a 7-0 deficit to win 13-7. This leaves us undefeated in the Cascades League.

It was Napoleon's homecoming. For this big matchup, both stands were jammed with eager fans. Jesse Widmayer kicked to the Pirates at exactly 7:30. The Dutch defense snuffed their first running play but then they ran a little counter trap play. The Pirate bounced off some would-be tacklers and raced 69 yards for the TD. The kick after made the tally 7-0, with one minute and one second having elapsed. This would have upset many teams, but not the Dutch. We just tightened our belts and took care of business. Our defense was superlative, stonewalling the run, intercepting the pass, recovering fumbles and blocking the punt. Unfortunately our offense took some time to cross pay dirt, but at 6:21 and 2:38 of the final quarter we scored and won.

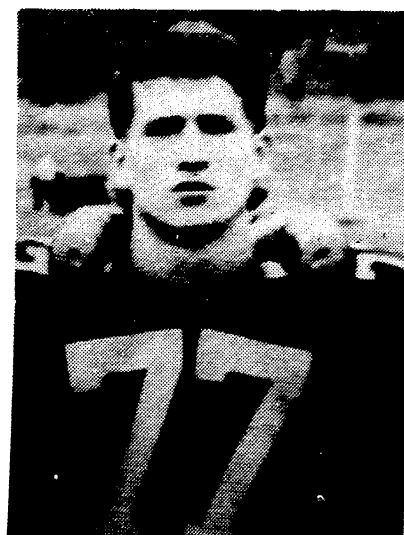

Our first score came as Lance Fielder plowed in from three yards out. The two-point conversion failed leaving it 7-6. Some four minutes later, quarterback Jay Gillow bobbled the center snap, collected his wits and the ball, and tossed to where he thought his receiver Jeff Smith should be. Jeff was there; he grabbed the pigskin, dodged the defender and rambled into the endzone. Jeff Gillow toed the P.A.T. and the scoreboard read 13-7, and this is how it ended.

The four Dutchmen picked as players of the week by the coaching staff were: Brian Leach, offensive; Israel Clouse, defensive; Pat Clark, scout; and Jesse Widmayer, special D-team.

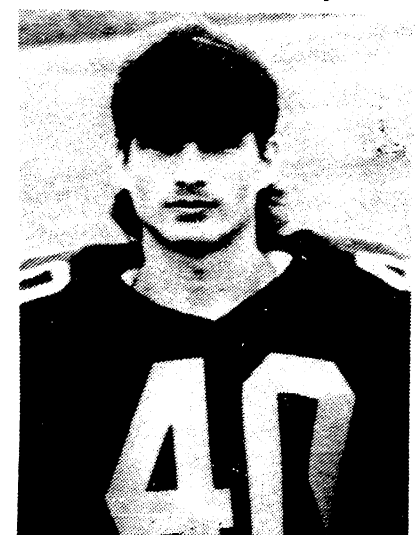

Be with us Friday as we visit Vandercook Lake.

JV Girls Basketball

The Manchester JV's hosted East Jackson on Thursday night with hopes of making it two wins in a row - but when the final buzzer rang, the score was Manchester 10, East Jackson 25. It was a low scoring game for both sides, but full of action. Manchester just couldn't score. We did run into foul trouble and ended up outfouling E. Jackson 14-7. Sarah Riske was held to 4 points and was our top scorer. Angela Roehm had 3. Top rebounders were Sarah Riske and Adrienne Wallace.

We play in Addison on Tuesday and in Michigan Center on Thursday.

Shakespeare Reading Club

On October 2, the club members met at Jane Korth's home. Her son was in the Peace Corps in Kenya for two years and helped the people build proper wells so they could have clean, pure drinking water.

Jane and her husband visited their son and took many slides of the country, the people, their homes, wells, and wild animals. The natives have gardens and their own chickens to help feed them as their incomes are very small. We all enjoyed the day and are very thankful that we could learn about the work of the Peace Corps there.

On Tuesday, October 16, at 2:00 p.m., we will meet at the home of Jeanette Kirk. She has chosen "The Rag Seller's Dream" for her topic. See you there.

The basketball dribble was first used professionally by Bert Loomis in 1896.

Jane Finkbeiner Named Branch Manager

Jane Finkbeiner has been named Saline branch manager for Great Lakes Bancorp. She has also been elected an assistant vice president of the bank. Finkbeiner joined Great Lakes in 1980 at the Manchester office as a customer service representative, and was promoted to assistant branch manager in 1989.

A graduate of Manchester High School, Finkbeiner attended Eastern Michigan University. She is a charter member of the Manchester Kiwanis and served for two years as treasurer of the Manchester Chamber of Commerce. Finkbeiner is a member of St. James United Church of Christ, serving on the board for six years, and currently serves as treasurer.

A Saline resident for ten years, Finkbeiner is involved in the Junior Livestock Association which participates in the Saline Community Fair.

MARCC Hosts Political Forum

The next meeting of the Manchester Area Resource Conservation Coalition (MARCC) is scheduled for October 17 at 7:30 p.m. in the Blacksmith Shop on E. Main St. The meeting will feature two candidates for the open seat on the County Board of Commissioners, Democrat Marcia Hancock of Milan is running against Republican Mike Du-Russell. Neither has held political office before.

The candidate question and answer period is designed to give the community a chance to find where each of the candidates stands on the issues, particularly the environment.

The contest for the County Board of Commissioners seat is an important one as many residents are concerned that the natural resources of our community are not adequately protected by law. For instance, Oakland County Commissioners have gone far beyond Washtenaw County Commissioners in establishing model policies for protecting natural resources.

The fact that Washtenaw County Commissioners have not given our local representatives comparable guidance has led ultimately to Manchester's loss of several acres of woods at least a half a century old.

We need to know how our candidates plan to safeguard our drinking water, protect our trees and rivers and wildlife. We hope we get some good answers October 17. We look forward to seeing you there.

Plastic Recycling Plant Prepared For Late October

Johnson Controls, Inc. is making final preparations for a late-October 1990 start-up of its $4 million, 50,000 square foot plastic recycling plant in Novi, the first such facility in the U. S. to be operated by a soft drink plastic bottle manufacturer. At full operation, the facility will recycle more than 140 million used soft drink containers - 20 million pounds of material - per year.

The key plastic to be processed at the new plant is polyethylene terephthalate (P.E.T.), the primary material used in making soft drink containers. More than 28% of all P.E.T. soft drink bottles sold in the U.S. are recycled and used to make carpet yarn, fiberfill for clothing, non-food containers, automobile parts and industrial strapping.

"Johnson Controls has a commitment to recycling the plastic containers we manufacture," said Robert D. Gustine, vice president of the Plastics Container Division of Johnson Controls. "With this new facility, we will provide a steady market for used P.E.T. bottles throughout Michigan and nationwide," he said. "The new facility creates environmental benefits, and makes good business sense, since the current market potential for recycled P.E.T. exceeds supply."

In addition to operating the recycling facility, Johnson Controls is supporting development work to improve plastics reclamation technology. "Our ultimate goal is to develop technology to recycle used soft drink containers," said Gustine. "We have programs underway that are aimed at 'closing the loop' on P.E.T. recycling," he said.

Johnson Controls, Inc. is a market leader in engineered systems, products, and services in four major markets: Commercial environmental controls systems, automotive original equipment, automotive replacement equipment, and plastics packaging.

LOCATION, LOCATION, LOCATION

If you are thinking of opening your own business and are trying to decide on a location, consider this: poor location is frequently an important factor in the failure of small businesses. What this warning underscores is the importance of knowing what to look for in choosing a location for your new business. The decision to buy a particular piece of property should not be made on impulse or solely because the location is beautiful or close to home. There are some general guidelines you can follow to help you make the right choice.

Look At The Demographics

The Michigan Association of CPAs suggests that you begin by investigating the make-up of several target communities and locations. One of the best resources for information about a community and a particular location are census bureaus. They can tell you if the community is growing or shrinking. In addition, they can supply you with vital details about a community's population, such as the average income, predominant occupations and median age. By comparing this information with past figures, you can determine if and how a community is changing. Also find out whether nearby residents tend to be college-educated or blue-collar, whether they rent or buy their homes and whether property values have increased or decreased. These statistics will paint a picture of the population and help you determine whether it can support your type of business. For instance, if you're thinking of opening a children's bookstore in a neighborhood whose local population is near retirement age, you may want to consider another location that services younger consumers.

Besides the census bureau, other sources of background information include local government agencies, chambers of commerce, the Small Business Administration, trade associations, local newspapers and local residents. By talking to the locals, you can get a feel for the distinct personality of the area, and which types of businesses are more likely to thrive. Also, read the editorials and letters to the editor in the local press to find out some of the concerns of community residents.

Traffic Patterns
Traffic patterns are an important factor in choosing the right location. For example, if your business is manufacturing, you should have quick and easy access to transportation routes and necessary suppliers. If you are a retailer, you should pay particular attention to store visibility and the amount of pedestrian and vehicle traffic. The Small Business Administration has a number of publications that can help you utilize traffic studies.

Find out if any new construction is planned for the near future that might affect your business. For instance, if a new office building is under construction several blocks away, and you're thinking of opening a coffee shop, you may be able to service many of the employees who work in the building.

Making The Right Choice

Let's suppose that you've selected the area where you'd like to locate your business. The next step is to choose a particular property. Here again, CPAs suggest that you follow some basic guidelines to help you make the right choice. Obviously, proximity to competition is often a factor in deciding where to locate a business. If it turns out that the shoe store you plan to open will be the third one of its kind to move in on the street, you might want to reconsider your choice. Small business owners often make the mistake of ignoring the site's history. If four businesses have come and gone in the building you're thinking of purchasing, take a closer look at the property. You may have missed a subtle - but devastating - flaw in the building's location.

When you are satisfied with the site, concentrate on the physical condition of the building. Look at the age of the plumbing and wiring. Is the facility large enough to accommodate a future expansion? Will you have to make substantial modifications before you move in? Are there ample parking spaces available so that customers are not inconvenienced? How close is the building to major roads and public transportation?

When you're ready to buy or lease the property, you'll have to weigh all legal and financial ramifications. How high are the property taxes? Should you lease now or buy the property outright? Are there zoning regulations that may adversely affect your future plans? Are there local ordinances which restrict the type of business that can exist in the building or limit your hours of operations? These are basic but vital questions that you must get answers to before signing any agreement. To help you get those answers, consult your CPA and an experienced lawyer.

Unless you're planning to sell antique, gold-plated hammers, you wouldn't be wise opening a hardware store on chic Rodeo Drive in Beverly Hills. But, opening the first video rental store in a middle class town may be an excellent move. As they say in the real estate business, when it comes to buying property, the three key factors are: location, location, location. That's sound advice for anyone thinking of starting or moving a small business.

Farmers Cheer Wetlands Decision

The Army Corps of Engineer's recent decision to exempt most farmland from wetland provisions of the Clean Water Act has been called a victory for farmers nationwide, according to Al Almy, director of public affairs for the Michigan Farm Bureau. The announcement came a day before the conclusion of a two-month public comment period on the nation's wetland policies.

Four separate government agencies enforce wetland provisions of the Clean Water Act and President Bush's expressed goal of no net loss of wetlands. After the wetland policies were developed, many farmers discovered many of the fields they farmed for years were defined as "wetlands". The policies unleashed a firestorm of protest from the farm community, culminating in the public hearings.

The latest Army Corps of Engineers ruling applies to areas now in agricultural crop production, most notably, "prior converted cropland." It calls crop production "the normal circumstances" of those areas. However, croplands that revert to wetlands may once again be subject to regulation. "This ruling deals with one aspect of the problem," Almy said. "There is still more work to do since this is only one part of the wetland issue hanging over agriculture. We're continuing to seek legislative and administrative solutions."

Almy said other issues that must be addressed include the definition of wetland, and how to accomplish President Bush's stated goal of no net loss of wetlands. Six hearings held across the United States drew hundreds of farmers, voicing their concerns about existing wetland policy. A decision based on those hearings is expected early next year.

"The development of a sensible and equitable regulatory program must balance public and private interests. Farm Bureau believes that any attempt to identify wetlands as anything other than swamps, marshes or bogs will result in confusion and poor wetland policy. We also believe that the 'no overall net loss' concept allows for net change, and where individual property rights are found to be in conflict with wetlands protection, the public must bear the costs," he said.

Prepare For Winter Driving

Failure to be prepared for cold weather driving can lead to costly and dangerous breakdowns. So here are some hot tips from the experts to take the chill out of winter driving.

Plan ahead. Fall is an ideal time to get ready. Read your owner's manual and follow the manufacturer's recommended service intervals.

Replace worn wiper blades and keep lots of washer fluid on hand to fight road salts, grit, and other windshield grime.

Replace balding tires with all season radials or snow tires, as conditions warrant. Don't forget to check your spare and make sure the tire jack works.

Have a qualified mechanic check the condition of your battery and cables, plus the radiator, hoses and belts.

If you don't have a regular mechanic, a popular way to find a good one is to look for certification.

Engine performance problems such as rough idling, poor acceleration, or hard starts should be corrected. In addition to peace of mind, you'll see better fuel economy.

Make certain your heater and defroster are in good working condition.

Carry emergency gear: flares, boots, gloves, ice scraper, blanket, shovel, flashlight, tire chains, and a few tools.
