Keep Dollar Going Around

The Manchester Enterprise
March 7, 1907
Home Merchants Should Patronize Each Other

The community that will pull together, that will work as one man for the general interests, will find an abundance of prosperity.

And working together means the spending of the dollars of the community within the community. Nor does it mean only that the farmer, the mechanic, the doctor, the preacher, the editor must spend their money at home, but it means also that the merchant must do the same thing. It means that you, Mr. Dry Goods Merchant, must patronize your neighbor, Mr. Furniture Dealer, when you want furniture. It means that you, Mr. Furniture Dealer, must patronize your neighbor, Mr. Dry Goods Merchant when you want dry goods. It means that the groceryman must patronize the home implement dealer when he wants a new wagon, and the implement dealer must buy his groceries in the home town. It means that whether Mr. Butcher, Mr. Groceryman, Mr. Dry Goods Merchant, Mr. Furniture Dealer, Mr. Hardware Man, or whoever it may be, that intends to erect the material for that building at home of their neighbor, Mr. Building Material Man.

And let us speak a word for Mr. Printer Man also. He is a part of this community; he contributes to its prosperity; he advertises it, and he is entitled to his place in the circle through which the community's dollars are to circulate. When you, Mr. Merchant, want printing of any kind, give the job to the home printer. The dollar that you spend with him he will again spend with you, and both will make a profit on it. It is but fair that he have this, his legitimate portion of the home trade. He is as much a part of the community as yourself, and as much entitled to your support as you are entitled to the support of the farmer, the mechanic, the preacher, the doctor.

"A Stranger In The Night"

The high school fall play is almost here! There are two plays put on by the high school drama club every year. One in the fall and one in the spring. This year's fall play is "A Stranger in the Night" by Paul S. McCoy. It is a murder mystery which takes place in a hotel book and gift shop.

Roles are played by Matt Bauder, Julie Cruz, Dennis Gehringer, Shawn Guidry, Heather Green, Cindy Leidel, Kelly Lucas, Michelle Mann, Camri McCormick, Mike Schuey, Seth Walker, Melanie White, and of course is directed by Mrs. June Weiland.

The Drama Club hopes you will show up and support them. The play will be showing on November 9 and 10.

WASHTENAW COUNTY VIETNAM VETERANS MEMORIAL

A ground breaking ceremony at the Ypsilanti Township Civic Center on November 4 is the beginning of a $67,000 project to honor the Washtenaw County Vietnam veterans.

This memorial will properly honor all of Washtenaw County's Vietnam veterans but particularly the 67 (currently registered) that lost their lives and the three still missing in action in that war. This memorial is not a political statement about, of, or for the Vietnam war. It is strictly to properly honor all those that served in that war from Washtenaw County.

It was designed by the Memorial committee. It is almost triangular shaped and made of an almost black granite. The basic design was intentionally influenced by "The Wall", the National Vietnam Memorial in Washington, D.C. It will be eight feet high at the center and about twenty-three feet wide. The names of those killed will be on the wall portion and randomly listed under their community name. There will be space allowed in the layout for names to be added, if additional names are discovered to be eligible in the future. This will also allow for the placement of the POW-MIA names on the wall portion, if their remains are identified. There will be a seating area which is unique in the design of veterans' memorials. The seating will allow people to sit and contemplate. The names of the POW-MIAs will be prominently listed on the back of this seating area. There will also be a map of Southeast Asia cut into a granite slab in the ground between the seating area and the wall portion of the memorial.

There are several symbolisms designed into this memorial. The wall portion has five sides which represent the five branches of the military service. The seating area has three sides for the three POW-MIAs. The distance from the back of the wall portion to the back of the seat will be twentyone feet to represent the average age of those listed on the Memorial. The almost black granite is self-explanatory.

This project is sponsored by the Vietnam Veterans of America, Inc., Washtenaw County Chapter #310.

This memorial will be totally funded through contributions from individuals, businesses, and organizations. There will be no cost to the Charter Township of Ypsilanti. The cost estimate we have for the memorial is $67,000, which does not include the cost of the sidewalk approaches or any additional parking that may be required. Our Chapter #310 wanted to show that it was serious about erecting this memorial, so it started the memorial fund with a $6,500 contribution.

Tax deductible contributions can be made to: Vietnam Veterans Memorial, P.O. Box 3221, Ann Arbor, Michigan 48107.

Senior Citizens News

"I pledge my head to clearer thinking; my heart to greater loyalty; my hands to larger service; and my health to better living for my club, my community, my country, and my world." This is the creed of 4-H members and since I've devoted time to the Scouts, decided to give equal time to some other great kids. With Thanksgiving just around the corner, let's give thanks for our kids who are or have been involved in worthwhile projects and had no time to cause trouble. It is time consuming for both the kids and their parents, but fun, fun for both because it is family oriented. It takes energy, thought and follow through.

Athletic Trainer

Beginning this year with two-a-day football practice, Manchester High School has taken advantage of having the services of a certified athletic trainer.

The gentleman providing this coverage is Jim Biskner. Jim is a graduate of Eastern Michigan's sports medicine program. He has worked with the Eastern athletes as well as providing therapy of orthopedic patients at The Center for Sports Medicine and Fitness.

Jim's services are contracted by Manchester High School through The Center/Orthopedic Surgery Associates, P.C. in Ypsilanti.

Jim's duties include preventative measures for injury, such as consulting on conditioning and fitness measures, taping, padding and equipment fitting. He is also a licensed E.M.T. and provides on-field injury recognition and management. His rehabilitation skills allow Jim to work with athletes to return them quickly and safely to athletic competition. He consults with parents, coaches and athletes concerning injury care, medical referral, rehabilitation and over all fitness.

Jim is an athlete himself having lettered in cross-country and track while at Eastern Michigan University.

Jim's philosophy regarding his athletes is: "The safety of the athlete comes first. Every measure will be taken to ensure the athlete is 100% before returning to competition."

We met at the home of Charlotte Timmerman on October 30 for our meeting. Charlotte told us about the well-planned tour that she and other people from Manchester and other groups took during the summertime. They visited 5 countries in Europe with the highlight of the trip being in Oberammergau and seeing the Passion Play. The play was given in German and visitors needed to buy books written in English so they could understand the play. The members of the cast all live in Oberammergau and feel it is a great honor to be chosen to be in the play. Charlotte had many pictures to show us and also read some articles about the town and the play. She will be very happy to tell anyone about her trip. Why don't you ask her?

Our next meeting will be held on Tuesday, November 13 at 2:00 p.m. at the home of Mae Hardenberg unless otherwise notified.

Family Night Out Features Dust and Ashes

Dust and Ashes

The Manchester Area Churches is sponsoring Family Night Out Thursday, November 15, 7:30 p.m. at the Manchester United Methodist Church, 501 Ann Arbor Hill. The Christian Trio "Dust and Ashes" will be featured.

"Dust and Ashes" (Tom Page, Mary Lou Troutman, and Lee Domann) began their music ministry as early as the mid-1960's. For the last 20 years they have continued to write and perform music that reveals glimpses of God's kingdom as they understand it. Believing all of life is sacred, "Dust and Ashes" has built a repertoire with a wide range of style and content: Songs based on personal experiences, songs based on scripture, songs that paint pictures of how our world was created to be by God.

"Dust and Ashes" has recorded six albums and performed in virtually all arenas. Using guitars, bass, and keyboard, they have taken their music to colleges and universities, local churches and national church events, radio and television - even the stage of the Grand Ole Opry House.

"Dust and Ashes" sings about Christian faith - both the importance of a life of personal devotion to God and of a life involved in helping bring justice and peace to the earth. And after the music is over, "Dust and Ashes" believe that the most important work begins: building loving relationships among people. For that reason, "Dust and Ashes" are always the last to leave the sanctuary or concert hall.

Come listen, enjoy, and stick around for awhile. That way, everybody wins.

Saline Community Hospital Open House

Last year, 26,000 Michigan residents died of heart attacks. In many cases, no symptoms preceded the primary warning sign of cardiac arrest, chest pain. And almost as often the chest pain was so mild it was dismissed, a fact supported by national studies that show only 40% of heart attacks cause severe pain.

"When cardiac chest pain strikes, prompt medical evaluation is crucial," explains David W. Laidlaw, M.D., director of Saline Community Hospital's Emergency Services Department. "It can literally make the difference between life and death."

In an effort to stress the importance of proper care for chest pain and the value of a healthy lifestyle, Saline Community Hospital will host an Open House Sunday, November 11, from 1:00 to 4:00 p.m. In addition to showcasing its Chest Pain Care capabilities, the event will include a complimentary holiday food buffet with healthy recipes to take home, and a chef who will demonstrate the proper preparation of healthy meals. Free blood pressure and cholesterol screenings and body fat analysis also will be available. The event is open to the public.

Regardless of where you live and work, Dr. Laidlaw recommends knowing the location of your nearest emergency chest pain facility. "Every minute counts, from the time it takes to alleviate the pain, to stabilizing the patient, to evaluating the need for further treatment. The individual's best recourse, for himself and for his family, is to know precisely where to receive that level of care when necessary."

For residents of Saline, Milan, Willis, Dundee, Clinton, Manchester and surrounding communities, Saline Community Hospital's Emergency Chest Pain Care addresses the need for quality care that is quickly and easily accessible. As part of the Michigan Heart Institute's Cardiac Emergency Network, the hospital's emergency staff is certified in Advanced Cardiac Life Support. Emergency services are available around the clock, including the capability of providing extensive cardiac evaluation, as well as treatment with such clot-dissolving drugs as TPA, an advanced form of heart attack treatment.

Dr. Laidlaw emphasizes, however, that state-of-the-art equipment and skilled medical personnel are no substitute for the individual's own quick response when chest pain strikes. "Often the level of pain experienced is so minor you may be inclined to shrug it off as heartburn or a pulled muscle. But when the pain spreads into the arms, neck or face, or you begin to feel dizzy and lightheaded, it's time to seek medical care." Dr. Laidlaw also advised that chest pain accompanied by nausea, shortness of breath and sudden, excessive sweating are other signals of a heart attack to be heeded.

Prevention remains the primary safeguard against heart attack. Proper diet and exercise, a smoke-free environment (studies show "second-hand smoke" can be as harmful to non-smokers as the person who smokes) and moderation in alcohol use are but a few examples of how individuals can "take charge" of their health.

Dr. Laidlaw also offers the reminder that as the winter season approaches, older men and women should exercise caution in their outdoor activities. The colder weather in general, and shoveling snow in particular, can cause the kind of over-exertion that can trigger heart attack. "If you must venture out to shovel snow, take your time, rest often and know when you've reached your limit," he advises.

Morenci Silences Dutch

#12, senior Jay Gillow, scampers on a quarterback keeper.

On Saturday night, we hosted the Bulldogs in the first round of the Class C State Playoffs.

Morenci is a speedy team that executed well. They scored three times in the first quarter on two Dutch mis-cues, and it was all downhill after that. At halftime the scoreboard read 20-0, with the final being 33-0.

Morenci advances to round two in Clinton this weekend.

In spite of this disappointing loss, let us not forget that Manchester finishes the season with a highly respectable 8 and 2 record. We captured the league championship for the second year in a row and beat Reading and Homer in the Big Eight Crossover Playoffs.

On a personal note, I would like to thank the graduating seniors for their years of gridiron performance. Some of these players I have been writing about for many years now, and they will be missed.

Land Damaged By Off-Road Vehicles

More than a billion dollars would have to be spent to restore land in the state damaged by off-road vehicles, according to a survey conducted by the Michigan Association of Conservation Districts (MACD).

Debra Bogar, MACD Executive Director, said the estimate is extremely conservative since it is based on figures supplied by only a third of Michigan's 83 counties. MACD sent questionnaires to Conservation Districts in every county and received responses from 27.

They showed a collective total of over 600,000 acres damaged by ORVs. Resource agencies estimate costs of restoring damaged areas at from $2,000 to as high as $20,000 an acre, depending on the severity of erosion. Using the $2,000 minimum figure for all 600,000 acres yields a total of $1,200,000,000 in estimated restoration costs.

Damage estimates ranged from 20 acres in Hillsdale County to 109,010 acres in Presque Isle County. Several land management agencies report that the northern Lower Peninsula has been hit harder by irresponsible ORV users than any other part of the state.

MACD released the figures as the Legislature prepared to take final action on a bill to restrict ORVs on state forest lands. Introduced by Rep. Thomas Alley, D-West Branch, the legislation would allow ORVs to be used only on state forest lands that are posted open. At present, ORVs can be driven on any of these roads that are not posted closed.

The bill also provides stiffer penalties, including confiscation of vehicles in cases of flagrant violations. It also provides for increased funding for law enforcement and for trail development and maintenance and establishes an ORV Trails Advisory Committee. A hearing on the bill is scheduled in the House Conservation Committee on November 13.

Ms. Bogar pointed out that Michigan has more places open to ORV riding than any other state except California.

MACD is a private, non-profit association representing the state's 83 Conservation Districts. The Districts, governed by boards of elected citizens, provide assistance to landowners in resource management.

MACD is part of a coalition seeking adoption of legislation to control ORVs. Other members of the coalition include the Michigan United Conservation Clubs, Michigan Audubon Society, Michigan Sheriffs Association, Consumers Power Company, Michigan Forest Association, Trout Unlimited, West Environmental Action Council, Michigan Wild Turkey Federation, Rails-to-Trails Conservancy, and Anglers of the AuSable.

"Ask The Doctor"

"Ask the Doctor," a panel discussion of common health problems of the elderly, is the topic of Senior Health Day Wednesday, November 14, at 11:00 a.m. in the Blue Room at Saline Community Hospital, 400 W. Russell, Saline.

The panel of family practice and specialist physicians will also answer questions from the audience.

Preceding this free program, blood pressure checks from 10:15 to 10:45 a.m.

Club 55 Dining, nutritional meals at a discount for those 55 years of age and over, will be available following the program in the hospital cafeteria.

Senior Health Day is sponsored by Saline Community Hospital's V.I.P. Advantage Program, a health care connection service for those 55 and older.

V.I.P. van transportation is available for this program. To make reservations for van transportation, or for more information about Senior Health Day, call V.I.P. Advantage at 429-1511 or 1-800-622-5592.

Money Management

CHOOSING A MUTUAL FUND

If you are a new or uncertain investor, the thought of putting some of your hard-earned dollars in the stock market may send your blood pressure soaring. But, according to the Michigan Association of CPAs, there are other investment options that are less risky and still offer a consistent return on your money. One of these is mutual funds.

What Is A Mutual Fund?

A mutual fund is a financial service that pools the money of individual investors - or shareholders - in order to purchase a specially selected group of investments. Many mutual funds are ideal for both large and small investors, and some will accept opening deposits of $1,000 or less.

Mutual funds offer several advantages. First, they allow you instant diversification - that is, access to a wide selection of securities, some of which would otherwise only be available to large investors. Furthermore, the diversified nature of mutual funds makes them a lower risk. If one investment in a fund should happen to do poorly, it is unlikely that the entire fund will be dragged down with it.

Another advantage of mutual funds is that they are managed by professionals who study the investment market daily and are generally in a better position than individual investors to predict soaring or souring trends. And you can easily redeem your shares any time you choose.

Types Of Funds

Mutual funds are divided into categories depending on investment objectives. For example, you can choose among aggressive-growth funds, growth funds, income funds, growth-plus-income funds, balanced funds, bond funds, international funds, money-market funds and specialty funds.

Each type of fund has a different risk factor. In general, aggressive-growth funds focus on building capital over time and tend to be somewhat volatile. If you're a conservative investor, stick with an income or money-market fund.

If you are willing to take bigger risks, you may want to consider investing in a sector. These funds invest in a single industry. They can offer big gains - or big losses.

All In The Family

Many companies offer investors a family of funds from which to choose, based on their special financial needs and objectives. Investing in a mutual fund family means that you can move money from one fund in the family to another, often with a phone call.

Suppose that you have invested $2,000 in a money market fund that belongs to a family of funds. If the international stock market suddenly takes off, you can take all or part of that $2,000 and switch it to the international fund in that same mutual fund family. But keep in mind that when you make that switch, you may end up with taxable capital gains or losses.

Open and Closed-End Funds

Mutual funds are also distinguished by the way they create shares. Most people select open-end funds, which create new shares for investors as money comes in. The price of these funds is set daily, based on the fund's net asset value per share or the fund's total assets after deducting liabilities, divided by the number of outstanding shares. Closed-end funds issue a fixed number of outstanding shares, which are then traded either on an exchange or over the counter. The price of these shares varies, depending on supply and demand and may be above or below the net asset value.

How Much Will It Cost You To Invest?

Mutual funds charge investors for brokerage commissions and management fees, usually in the form of an annual charge collected from the fund's assets. However, not all funds charge the same amount. And with annual fees rising quickly today, it pays to be a cost-conscious investor.

Load funds, for example, require you to pay a sales commission - or load - when you make a deposit. In return for the load, you should expect advice concerning which funds would be most appropriate for your financial objectives. Up-front loads generally range between .75 percent and 8.5 percent of the total price of the shares you purchase.

Back-end or contingent-deferred load funds charge a certain percentage if you redeem your shares within a certain period. This is similar to the early-withdrawal penalty that banks charge if you redeem a certificate of deposit (CD) before maturity.

Many investment experts suggest that investors look for no-load or low-load funds. research has shown that, on average, there is no difference in performance between funds that

SOC Public Hearing

The State Officers Compensation Commission (SOCC) decided today to hold one public hearing in Lansing, starting at 4:00 p.m. on Tuesday, November 27, 1990, and to encourage those who wish to express an opinion about pay for top state officials to write in or show up.

The Key to Choosing A Mutual Fund

CPAs recommend that you look for a fund that demonstrates consistent performance and keeps a tight lid on total annual operating costs. The ratio of expenses to average net assets should remain under 1 percent. Be sure to look at the fund's portfolio turnover rate. A 100 percent turnover rate means the fund trades every stock in its portfolio every year and is subject to market timing. This may mean greater risk for the investor. However, it may also be an indication that the fund is constantly adjusting its portfolio to help minimize investor risk.

Under the Michigan Constitution and law, the SOCC must set pay and expenses for the next two years for the offices of Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Justice of the Supreme Court and member of the Legislature.

At the November 1 organizational meeting, the Commission elected Burton H. Schwartz, Farmington Hills, as chairman, and Darryl Cochran, Muskegon, vice-chairman. Other members are Marvin C. Daitch, Birmingham, Deborah D. Dolman, Lansing, Arthur E. Ellis, Mt. Pleasant, Sharon McPhail, Detroit, and Achilles J. Tarachas, Saginaw.

Sessions to take testimony from various interested parties and groups will also be held on November 20 and December 6. If additional time is needed for deliberations or testimony, a meeting will also be held on December 11.

Noting that public response has been sparse to requests of past Commissions for citizen input, SOCC members directed staff to make maximum effort to inform those who want to send in views or to be heard.

Mail may be directed to individual Commissioners, or to the Commission, at this address: State Officers Compensation Commission, P.O. Box 30002, Capitol Commons Center, 400 South Pine Street, Lansing, Michigan 48909. Those wishing to register for the public hearing may call 517-373-8066.

EMILY BARRON celebrated her eighth birthday October 19 with a pizza party at Frank's hosted by her parents, Mr. & Mrs. Tom Barron of Manchester. Guests were Jenny Stofka of Erie, Michigan, and Emily's sister, Elisa.

A sincere word of thanks to the many of you who have remembered me with your prayers, offers of help, calls and good wishes during my recent illness and hospital stay. The knowledge that you did care helped a lot; it is also reassuring in these days to know that there are still caring places like our Manchester.

Keep Dollar

The battle against the mail-order octopus can never be a successful one unless all interests are actively engaged in it. It can never be successful so long as the merchant wants it preached but does not want to practice it himself. The merchant who sends his savings account to the city bank for safe keeping is not entitled to the support of the community whose money he takes from it. The merchant who will not patronize his brother merchants, who makes his visits to the city an excuse for buying his own household supplies, supplies that are not carried on his own shelves, of the city merchants, is not entitled to the support of the community. Such a merchant wants to preach but not practice home trade. He wants to do with the community's dollars just what he condemns in others - send them away from the community. He would bankrupt the community for selfish interests.

There are a few, if any, such merchants as this in this or other communities, but if there are any here it is not for their benefit that this paper is preaching home trade to its readers.

We hear much of the strength of trusts and combinations. In what does their strength lie? To a large extent in the fact that they control the trade in the commodities in which they are dealing. They make every dollar they spend an interest earning dollar. Let us form a little trust of our own. Let all of us, merchant, farmer, doctor, mechanic, preacher, editor, spend our dollars at home, keep them at home, and we have organized a trust of our own that will bring to each of us our share of earnings on the capital invested.

This is not a hard problem to figure out for ourselves. The farmer, let us say, wants a dollar's worth of sugar. He buys it of the home groceryman, and the groceryman buys a dollar's worth of dry goods, and the dry goods merchant makes a profit. The dry goods merchant patronizes the dentist, and the dentist makes a profit, and the dentist buys butter and produce from the farmer and the farmer makes a profit. So as the dollar goes around and around a community each man into whose keeping it comes makes a profit on the handling of it, and the dollar grows into two. But what would have happened had the farmer taken that dollar to buy his groceries at the mail-order house, or the groceryman sent it to the city for his dry goods? The trust organization of the community would have been broken, that dollar would have ceased to earn profits for the people of the community, but would have began earning dollars for the city into which it was sent.

It is the dollar that is spent at home that makes the savings deposits of the home bank grow; that increases the wealth of the community, and decreases the tax rate. Buying at home means saving the community, but, Mr. Merchant, do not preach this trade as home doctrine unless you practice it. You must buy your stock of merchandise in the city to be sure, but aside from what is spent for your stock of merchandise see to it that every dollar it is possible to keep at home remains in the community. Keep them circulating among your neighbors, and they will make money for you as well as for them; they will build the home community, and make of it a prosperous community in which your business will grow, and your town holdings will grow in value at the same time the farmer's acres grow in value. The home trade problem is a many sided one, and the home merchant's side of the problem is not the least of them.

Drug Education Videotape

"How to Raise a Drug-Free Child" is a videotape available at the Community Resource Center to be used for church-sponsored events, PTA meetings, family gatherings, staff meetings, and local service organizations events. United Way of America has joined Johnson & Johnson and HBO to provide information to help combat drug abuse among young children in our community. In "How to Raise a Drug-Free Child", Mary Tyler Moore talks directly to parents and other adults who want to know what they can do to combat drug use among American children. Beginning with thought-provoking questions about the extent and nature of the problem, Ms. Moore provides information that can help adults understand the drug problem, identify commonly used drugs and drug paraphernalia, recognize symptoms of drug use and implement a seven-step plan to help keep children drug free. Contact the Community Resource Center, 428-7722, to arrange to use the videotape.
