Chamber Looks At Area Growth & Development

The Manchester Area Chamber of Commerce will present a timely look at area growth and development planning. Manchester Village is working on their general development plan, and there is action in the townships toward updating old and existing development guidelines.

Be sure to join us at our regular monthly meeting on Wednesday, November 21, at noon, at the Knights of Columbus Hall. Representatives will be there from Manchester Village as well as from the four surrounding townships of Manchester, Sharon, Freedom and Bridgewater. Also on hand will be representatives from the Washtenaw Development Council, and the County Planning Commission.

If you're planning to attend, please RSVP by Monday, November 19, by calling Rick Taepke at 428-7444. Lunch is available for $4

Tree Of Lights

Interfaith Counseling Service is sponsoring the Second Annual Tree of Lights during the 1990 holiday season. The purpose of the project is to give area residents an opportunity to remember a friend or relative, living or deceased, during this special time of year.

The week of Thanksgiving, registration forms will be placed in local stores and banks. (More information will follow in issues of the Enterprise.) A $2 donation will place a light in memory of your loved one, on a tree at the Gazebo. A tree lighting ceremony and Christmas carolling is planned for December 15. Names of all people will be read at that time.

All donations will be used to subsidize counseling for those who cannot afford it. Interfaith Counseling Service is available at the Community Resource Center each Tuesday and Thursday evening and Thursday afternoon. For more information concerning counseling call 663-6671 or 428-7722.

Sparks Named Board President

Robert D. Parks, M.D., director of substance abuse programs for the Battle Creek Adventist Hospital and chairman of the board of directors of the National Council on alcoholism and Drug Dependence, has been elected president of the Chelsea Arbor Treatment Center board of directors.

The center, a joint venture between the University of Michigan Hospitals and Chelsea Community Hospital, was formed in September to care for and treat patients with alcohol and drug additions.

Sparks, director of research and education for the Battle Creek hospital, is joined on the board by Lawrence B. Lindemar, a member and former chairman of the board of directors of AAA Michigan and a former U-M regent, as vice president; Walter F. Hamilton, former chair of the Chelsea Community Hospital board of trustees, secretary; and John D. Forsyth, executive director of the U-M Hospitals, treasurer.

Early Deadline Notice

Due to the Thanksgiving holiday, the Enterprise will have an early deadline for next week's paper. All photos and display advertising will be due Friday, November 16 by 5 p.m. All classifieds and news articles should be in by Monday, November 19 at 10 a.m.

Widows Unite to Resist Men's Wiles

Union Is Formed at Chicago and Application for a Charter Made - Rich Members Will Supply Building Fund

The widows of Chicago, or, rather, a progressive portion of them, have organized to protect themselves from married men, triflers and the economic stress due to living the artificial life. An application for a charter for the Widow's Association has been made.

The object of the association is to provide a sort of a community home for widows, where they can have more freedom than in hotels and boarding houses and more congenial company that they can have in their flats or homes. As many of the widows have children, widows with children will be welcome in the home. Because of the "little encumbrances" they now find themselves boycotted by hotels and flinty landlords. This is one of the crying evils that the association is to remove.

Only real widows are eligible to membership in the organization. Divorcees and grass widows are barred. The candidate for membership, be she young and pretty or old and plain, must produce evidence that "he" is dead for keeps. A death certificate may be required by the by-laws.

The widows have discovered that married men consider widows their prey. The rules governing the home will seek to prevent men from sailing under false colors. No married men will be allowed to make sentimental calls on widows. But married men friends may call if accompanied by their wives.

There is a class of unmarried men whom the widows put down as triflers, who will not be welcome in the home. Experienced widows can always tell a trifter, but real young widows are pie for him. The organization is intended to assist all members, and the experienced widow will see to it that the young and inexperienced are not fooled by the different species of male.

Mrs. Emelia Tenny is president of the Widows' Association, Mrs. Emma Field is vice president, and Mrs. Emma Wassergard is the secretary. There are 50 other widows in the combination. The majority of them are under 35. While they will not discourage Cupid, they will see that there is no whirlwind marriage panic.

The moment a member marries she ceases to be a member. The social side of the home will be a feature. There will be an assembly room for entertainments, reception room, a ball room, library, play rooms and grounds for the children, and everything that modern conditions require in the way of convenience and sanitary regulations.

The money to build will be subscribed by rich widows who have the betterment of their sisters at heart. There will be an initiation fee of $5, but the community of interest plan to pay expenses has not yet been adopted.

"We want the organization to mean something," said Mrs. Tenny. "I was left a widow with three children, and I found myself boycotted on every side because of my children. It required a hard struggle outside of the money side of the question to educate them. We propose to have widows educate their children where they will be surrounded by the best influences.

"The members may work outside or inside the home and there will be a fine nursery where children will be given every attention. Thousands of widows could now earn good livings for themselves if they could only find a place where their children could be properly cared for while they were at work."

"The Magic Flute" To Be Shown November 16th

A reminder that "The Magic Flute" will be shown this Friday, November 16 at the Blacksmith Shop, 324 E. Main, beginning at 8:00 p.m.

This is an operatic masterpiece written by Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart two hundred years ago. Ingmar Bergman, the renowned Swedish filmmaker, produced this version in 1973.

The story is charming yet thoughtful. The music is perfect. And the adaption to film is magnificent.

You are invited to attend this free showing (no admission charge). The film is 134 minutes long. And your delight will be unmatched! Plan to be there this Friday.

Excellent Spellers!

Seven 2nd graders in Miss Koebbe's classroom scored 100% on all of their spelling tests during the first marking period. Congratulations to: (back, l-r) James Montgomery, Eden Sharkey-Jacoby, Leigh Auito, Ashleigh Sewell, Justin Knouase, (front) Michael Kennedy and William Robertz.

Thanksgiving is a time for warm memories. And the Manchester Area Historical Society will combine its focus on history with rich reminiscing when a guest familiar with Manchester's past shares some stories at the next meeting of the Manchester Area Historical Society.

The community is invited to share in this special opportunity to learn more about the heritage of this area which we have all come to call our "home town."

If you would like to know more about where you live, or if you would like to hear authentic stories, perhaps even of Thanksgiving in Sharon Township a hundred years ago, or if you would like to compare your Manchester memories with those of another, join us for this very special Thanksgiving meeting of the Manchester Area Historical Society.

The meeting will be held next Tuesday, November 20, at the Blacksmith Shop, 324 E. Main Street, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Obituaries

Esther I. Feldkamp
 Age 85, of Saline, died November 10, 1990 at the Saline Evangelical Home. Mrs. Feldkamp was born in Sharon Township on December 12, 1904 to John and Minnie (Rahfuss) Wahr. In May of 1943 she married Anton Feldkamp and he preceded her in death on July 20, 1968. Mrs. Feldkamp was a member of Sharon United Methodist Church, also being a member of the Ladies Aid Society of the church. She was a member of the Washtenaw County Farm Bureau. She was a rural school teacher for several years, then becoming employed by Double A Products of Manchester. Mrs. Feldkamp was a life-long resident of Sharon Township.
 She is survived by one step-son, Reno and Nancy Feldkamp of Manchester; five grandchildren, six great-grandchildren; 2 brothers, Lawrence Wahr of Bridge-water and Carl Wahr of Jackson; and one sister, Frieda Ahrens of Saline. She was also preceded in death by five brothers and four sisters. Funeral services were held on Tuesday at the Jenter-Braun Funeral Home with Rev. Erik Alsgaard officiating. Interment took place in Norvell Cemetery. Those wishing an expression of sympathy for the Feldkamp family may make memorial contributions to the Sharon United Methodist Church.

Charles L. Carlton
 Age 88, of Reed City, died November 8 at Reed City Hospital. He was born August 4, 1902 in Oceana County, then lived in Big Rapids before moving to Detroit. He was married in Detroit to Eva Ruth Drescher who preceded him in death August 17, 1990. He had owned and operated a butcher shop and later a packing house in the Detroit area. He was a co-founder of the Country Market chain of supermarkets in Clinton, Manchester, Tecumseh, Milan and Adrian. He had lived in Clinton, Manchester and Bellaire before moving to Reed City in 1983. He and his wife helped to start the Faith Community Church in Manchester and had been a member of the Church of the Nazarene in Reed City.
 He is survived by two sons, Thomas W. of Clinton, and James A. of Indianapolis, Indiana; three sisters, Flossie Franck of Big Rapids, Blanche Thren of Mt. Pleasant, and Gladys Stolcenburg of Deckerville; eight grandchildren and five great-grandchildren. He was preceded in death by one son, two sisters and four brothers. Funeral services were held at the McDowell Funeral Home in Reed City on November 10. Burial was in Woodland Cemetery in Reed City.

Senior Citizens News

As we drive around, we try to be alert to deer crossing the road in front of us, but it was a big surprise when one ended up in the backyard. We, unfortunately, didn't view this spectacle (mowing with our backs to it, or something). Mrs. Johnson, our neighbor, was bent over picking up leaves when a clomp, clomp was heard on the sidewalk. She glanced around and saw a large deer on the dead run which just missed running into her. It then came into our yard and disappeared quickly. This was a week ago last Saturday, and we are hoping someone else saw it. It didn't even stop for corn at the bird feeder. And you know what? - I secretly hope it escapes the hunters and can run free.
 Jan will serve BBQ (classic) ribs on Thursday, November 15 and she didn't say venison! There is also exercise at 11:00, bingo at 12:30, and the last card party at Freedom Township Hall at 8:00 p.m. until they resume again in March.
 Friday, November 16: The senior bus leaves the Center at 9:00 a.m. for a tour of the U. of M. Hospital. The tour begins at 10:00 and will last from forty-five minutes to an hour. If you wish to go, call Erma Alber at 428-8707.
 Monday, November 19: A trip to the Target and Meijer's stores is planned. Seniors will leave the Center at 9:30; call Erma to go along.
 Tuesday, November 20: Pastor Reineck will begin his clergy presentation at 11:00. Glorified turkey casserole with trimmings will be Jan and helpers' contribution to a Thanksgiving treat (so we can get in practice for the big event on Thursday). God bless and thank you, Jan, and bon voyage to Sandy on her new job!
 One of our many blessings comes to us from the staff of the Manchester Enterprise who give us so much free space and even corrects my outstanding typoses. Thanks, Simon and staff - we wish you bountiful Thanksgiving memories and happiness!

Washtenaw County Historical Society

"Gateways", a 1989 film in color with narration, music and natural sounds which illustrates the 13 Huron-Clinton Metroparks, is available for presentations to civic and other community organizations.
 Metroparks serve the citizens of the counties of Wayne, Macomb, Oakland, Livingston and Washtenaw and are considered among the finest in the country.
 For a free presentation, which should be scheduled a couple of weeks in advance of the desired program, contact the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, phone 1-800-47 PARKS (toll free), or 313-227-2757 (Administrative Headquarters c/o Brighton Township).
 Between 1941 and 1942, the open farm fields east of Ypsilanti were transformed into the gigantic Willow Run Bomber Plant. By the end of 1942, the plant produced a plane an hour. The plane, the B-24 "Liberator" bomber is the subject of the Washtenaw County Historical Society's November meeting on Sunday, November 18, at 2:00 p.m. at the Bentley Historical Library, 1950 Beal Avenue, U-M North Campus.
 Historian Flavia P. Reys and former head pilot Bill Debbink will present a video talk on the "B-24 Liberator Bomber from Production to Action." The public is invited free of charge.

Kiwanis Bird Seed Sale

The Kiwanis Club of Manchester is sponsoring their second annual Bird Seed Sale November 16 through December 6.
 Christmas shoppers, how about purchasing bird seed for those special people who want to take care of our birds during the winter months? In addition to mixed bird seed and thistle seed, the Kiwanis will also be selling tubular feeders. Orders may be placed at the Comerica Bank, through Kiwanis club members, and also by calling the CRC 428-7722, or Dianne Schwab 428-8976 before December 6.
 Profits realized from the bird seed sale will be donated to the Manchester Family Service to help those who need daily living assistance.

Bill of Rights

Two important anniversaries of America's Bill of Rights are coming up soon. It was on November 20, 1789, that New Jersey became the first state to ratify the Bill of Rights. On December 15, 1791, with ratification by the state of Virginia, the Bill of Rights officially became part of the United States Constitution.
 The Bill of Rights consists of the first 10 amendments to the Constitution. They specify certain basic freedoms and procedural safeguards that the government must honor.
 Probably the best known is the First Amendment, which guarantees to all Americans the freedom of religion, of speech, of assembly, of petition and of the press.

Romantic love is surely one of the most universal and one of the most puzzling features of the human being. Romantic love is also the main theme of all the books in the new Manchester Township Library's "Let's talk About It" series.

Meeting November 8 at the Blacksmith Shop, a group of 16 persons was led on a lively discussion of "The French Lieutenant's Woman," written by John Fowles.

Leading the conversation was Jim Dietrich, professor of English at Albion college. "Among other things," he said, "The French Lieutenant's Woman" is an homage to the great English novels written between the years 1742 and 1897." He then led the group through a quick thumb-nail sketch of Henry Fielding, the Bronte sisters, Dickens, and George Eliot. "Fowles draws upon all these sources to write his novel," Dietrich pointed out.

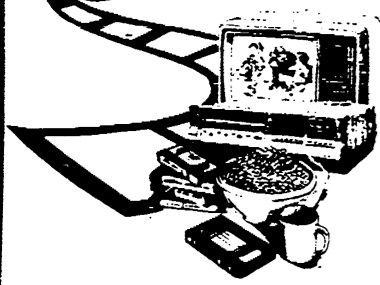

Set in the Victorian era, "The French Lieutenant's Woman" is a modern look at that time, its age and its fictions. The novel also sharply focuses on the dichotomy of its people. "Remember," Dietrich said, "the Victorian era is characterized by the covering of the legs on pianos so that nobody would get any ideas." Repressed sexuality in the age of evangelist pietism is also a key theme in the novel as the main characters, Charles and Sarah, try to ignore their deep feelings for each other. How this all gets resolved is the fascinating tale of "The French Lieutenant's Woman."

The next discussion will be on "The End of the Affair," written by Graham Greene, on December 6, at 7:30 at the Blacksmith Shop. Copies of this book are now available to check out at the Manchester Township Library.

Diabetes: Take The Test—Know The Score

Diabetes is serious. Six million people have it. Another six million probably have it and don't know it.

November is National Diabetes Month and this year, the American Diabetes Association is urging everyone who is at high risk to take the test and know the score about diabetes.

You can have it without having the typical symptoms: blurred vision, frequent urination, or rapid weight loss. Untreated, diabetes can result in blindness, heart disease, kidney failure and even death.

That's why everyone should take the blood sugar test. Especially if you have a family history of diabetes. Or if you are over 50. Or if you've given birth to a baby weighing over 9 pounds.

The good news is, when most types of diabetes are detected early, there are usually simple treatments that don't require insulin. Like diet and exercise.

So the next time you see a doctor, ask about diabetes and take the blood sugar test. Then ask for your score and find out what it means. Then you'll really have it all. Because you'll have peace of mind.

Deer Hunter Information Stations

Hunters heading north for the November 15 firearm deer season opener can stop and take an information break at two Deer Hunter Information Stations located along US-27 at Clare and I-75 near St. Ignace, from November 11-14.

Department of Natural Resources (DNR) conservation officers and wildlife biologists will staff the stations to provide hunters with deer hunting literature and answer questions on deer concentrations, hunting prospects, regulations and places to hunt and camp.

The stations will be located at the US-27 John C. Mackie Welcome Center at Clare, and at the I-75 St. Ignace Welcome Center.

"Last year, more than 4,400 deer hunters visited the two stations," said DNR Director David Hales. "Now in its fourth year of operation, the stations continue to offer a fine location for us to meet and talk with hunters one-on-one."

An estimated 735,000 hunters are expected to harvest 324,000 deer during the November 15-30 firearm deer season, according to DNR wildlife biologists. Michigan's deer population is estimated between 1.6 and 1.8 million.

Federal Surplus Foods

Federal surplus foods will be distributed from the Manchester United Methodist Church, 501 Ann Arbor Street, from 9:00 a.m. until 11:00 a.m. on Friday, November 16. Commodities for this month are: butter, honey and cornmeal.

This is also the date on which MFS clients, who wish to receive an MFS holiday gift order for food or clothing, must sign up. It is very important that we have this information as soon as possible, so that orders can be distributed at the Christmas Shop, which will be on Friday, December 14 from 9:00 a.m. until noon. It is also very important that we have the ages of clients' boys and girls so that the generous individuals, groups, organizations and companies who buy gifts for the shop each year will have an idea of the ages of the boys and girls for whom they are buying.

The MFS Christmas Shop will also be held at the Manchester United Methodist Church. If you are unable to come on November 16, please call sometime after noon of that day to let us know. These are the numbers to call: 428-8790, 428-8852, or 428-8010.

RIDICULOUS BUT TRUE!

Government regulations designed to increase competition in the entertainment industry actually have the opposite

The Financial Interest and Syndication Rules were created 20 years ago to encourage diversity in programming. Today, the Rules favor giant pay TV companies and foreign media conglomerates at the expense of the U.S. networks that provide free over-the-air news, sports and entertainment. The Rules substantially diminish competition and can hurt our economy as well as the quality of the television shows we get to see.

Anyone can write Congress on either side of this or any issue at the U.S. Senate, Washington, D.C. 20510 and the House of Representatives, Washington, D.C. 20515.

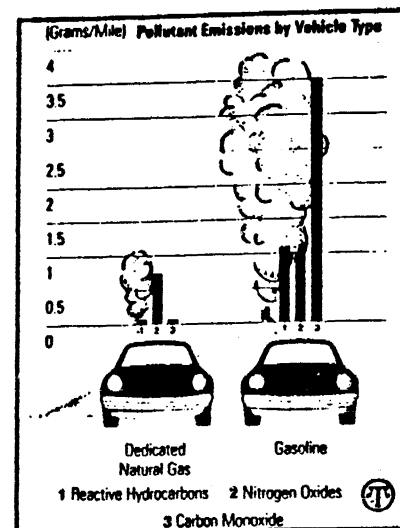

Clean Air Strategies Can Reduce Pollution

Because natural gas is the cleanest burning fossil fuel, it can help improve the quality of air and water, especially when used in place of other, more polluting energy sources.

Natural gas combustion results in virtually no atmospheric emissions of sulfur oxides, or small particulate matter, and far lower emissions of carbon monoxide, reactive hydrocarbons, nitrogen oxides and carbon dioxide than the combustion of other fossil fuels.

Using more natural gas can help reduce the causes of acid rain and the ozone pollution that appears as smog in major urban areas.

Natural gas can also make a significant contribution toward improved air quality in the field of transportation. Advanced natural gas powered vehicles have the potential to reduce carbon monoxide emissions by up to 99 percent, reduce nitrogen oxides emissions by up to 70 percent (30 percent in light vehicles) and reduce reactive hydrocarbons emissions by more than 90 percent, when compared to today's gasoline vehicles. More than 30,000 natural gas vehicles, mostly in fleets, are operating on U.S. roads and about 700,000 are in operation around the world.

Today, natural gas is in abundant supply and the nation has a huge resource base to develop for future consumer energy needs at competitive prices.

TEC. Mobile Debuts At Tecumseh Schools

Students at Tecumseh Elementary School board the school district's most unusual classroom. The TEC. Mobile, dubbed the bus transports, is a moving computer classroom which houses 29 fully-operational Apple Macintosh computers. The official dedication of the moving classroom will be held Tuesday, November 27 at 10 a.m. at the Tipton Elementary School.

Tecumseh school district will dedicate one of the most unusual classrooms in the state, a computer classroom on wheels, at the Tipton Elementary School on November 27 at 10:00 a.m. The school is located on Tipton Highway, 1/4 mile north of M-50, in Tipton.

The moving elementary school Apple Macintosh computers, was dubbed the "TEC Mobile," for the Tecumseh schools and the technology the bus transports. Tecumseh students, staff and community members are invited to attend the TEC Mobile's public dedication ceremony.

The TEC Mobile, an orange and black painted Blue Bird bus with a full-time computer lab instructor, travels between the district's six elementary schools. Its purpose is to educate fourth-, fifth- and sixth-graders in basic computer skills, such as keyboarding and word processing as well as simple project-oriented lessons that can be taken back to the classroom.

The project to bring computers to Tecumseh's elementary students began four years ago. With a number of the elementary schools in very rural areas, Tecumseh district administrators realized that finding space and installing a computer lab in each elementary building was too difficult and too costly. The TEC Mobile was the solution.

"The slogan on the bus exterior is representative of the district's philosophy," said Dr. Gary Lovett, coordinator of the K-12 computer curriculum for the Tecumseh schools. "It reads: 'Tecumseh Public Schools committed to tomorrow's education today.'"

The district also took into account the training necessary for such an advanced project. A full-time classroom teacher accepted the position as the mobile's permanent instructor. In addition, 80 teachers have received 12 hours of training on the Apple Macintosh computers. The comprehensive training has prepared the regular classroom teachers for the lab.

In order for the students to gain some basic skills, the lab remains at each elementary school for approximately three weeks at a time. At each school, fourth-, fifth- and sixth-graders take turns receiving 30 minute computer classroom lessons. The lab will rotate throughout the year, returning several times to each elementary building.

"Our goal was to get the students above frustration level," said Lovett. "We wanted to show them that computers are good learning tools and we wanted to show them through hands-on experience."

"The TEC Mobile is a wonderful example of how technology can be brought to rural settings to assist the learning process and encourage students to further explore and learn on their own," said Gary Whisenant, district sales manager for Apple Computer, Inc. "Apple is pleased to support innovative approaches to education and we think programs such as Tecumseh's will serve as a model for schools in the future."

Free Tree-Pruning Guide

During winter dormancy is a popular time to prune trees, and a free booklet is available from The National Arbor Day Foundation to show you how.

The illustrated, easy-to-follow guide called "How to Prune Young Shade Trees" has been prepared for homeowners.

How a tree is pruned in its first few years of life will affect its shape, its strength, and even its life span.

The how to prune guide includes step-by-step illustrations showing how proper pruning in the early years of a tree's life can save money in the long run and result in safer, more beautiful, healthy, east-to-maintain trees.

The booklet is filled with illustrations showing you how to make a pruning cut, how to prune for desired form, how to strengthen your tree by removing certain branches, how to maintain the tree's health by removing trouble spots, when to leave temporary lower branches, and when to cut them.

The booklet even shows how to hold a pair of pruning shears and how to make pruning cuts at the proper angle.

You'll learn how to shape and guide a shade tree when it's young so that it's tall, straight, strong and healthy when it's old.

The design of the booklet makes it easy to browse through to pick up tips. You'll discover why tree paint isn't necessary, even on large cuts, how to select and care for pruning tools, and how to prune according to the tree's function.

To obtain your free copy of this valuable booklet, send your name and address to: How To Prune, National Arbor Day Foundation, Nebraska City, NE 68410.

Manchester Township Library

Because of the increased costs of books and other materials which make the Manchester Township Library a full-service institution, it is necessary this year to request individual and business donations for operating expenses.

A major advantage to Michigan income tax payers is the little publicized deduction available. Diane Wiedmayer, CPA, advises that the 1990 Michigan Tax Law again specifies that one-half of a donation to a public library (up to $100 for an individual's donation of $200, and up to $200 on a joint-return donation of $400) may be subtracted from the income tax itself. Thus, one-half of the contribution is returned to the payer at tax time. In addition, those who itemize deductions on the Federal form may include the entire donation.

Though there is no specific tax assessment for the library, the township includes support in the General Funds budget. Funds are also received from the Village of Manchester, Manchester United Way, and from the surrounding townships based on patron use. Individuals and businesses have donated time, products, and financial support during the 150 years the library has served the community. Manchester area residents responded to the renovation needs during recent years. Operating support, though less visible, is essential and needed now. Please make checks out to the Manchester Township Library and send to Box 540 or bring to the library.

Gettysburg Address

It was 125 years ago, on November 19, 1863, that President Abraham Lincoln delivered perhaps the most famous speech in American history. The occasion was the dedication of a national cemetery, on 17 acres of land near Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, where 43,000 men had been killed or wounded in a three-day battle four months earlier.

Newspapers of the day devoted most of their coverage of the ceremony to a two-hour speech given by a noted orator, Edward Everett. But it was the two-minute address by Abraham Lincoln that became famous throughout the world.

"Four score and seven years ago, our fathers brought forth on this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal," began the president.

He concluded by saying that the Civil War would determine whether the American experiment in democracy—"government of the people, by the people, and for the people"—would survive.

Parks Commission Update

Greetings from the Parks Commission! Have you noticed the new playground equipment in Carr park? We understand the instructions were in scientific notation (i.e. hard to follow). However, the Manchester Men's Club figured it all out and did a terrific job assembling it for us. Thanks again, Men!

The Commission has recently acquired maps of three of our village parks. These were prepared for us by Hobbs & Black. With the maps we will be planning the future use of ChiBro, Kirk, Carr and Wurster parks. We would like some input from the villagers on your dreams for our parks, so we will be posting the maps in some of the local banks.

If you have a suggestion toward changes or future use of these parks, please feel free to indicate it on the maps or tell one of the commissioners. Your commissioners are: Ray Steele, Jeff Wallace, Patty Swaney, Pat Fielder, Jack Gould, Lynn Niehaus, and Diane DuRusell.

Keep your eyes on Wurster Park for some new ideas in Christmas decorations and ice skating fun!

The basketball dribble was first used professionally by Bert Loomis in 1896.

NOTICE

The Manchester American Legion Auxiliary is in the process of compiling a list of our area men and women who are in the armed services so that they can be remembered during the Christmas season.

Please call 428-7681 or 428-8427 with the correct names and addresses of service men and women you would like to have us remember.

Put Your Asbestos Fears to Rest

If you live, work or study in a building with asbestos-containing materials, a recent report from Harvard University has some reassuring news for you.

We're much safer in a building with asbestos materials than we are driving a car, riding a bicycle or drinking the water in some U.S. cities, according to a group of leading scientists and doctors who gathered at Harvard to consider the safety of asbestos in buildings. After looking at the latest scientific evidence, these experts concluded that the typical levels of asbestos in building air are extremely low.

Until the 1970s, asbestos was used in buildings for pipe and boiler insulation; as fireproofing on structural steel; in cement board found near furnaces and boilers; on ceilings and walls for soundproofing and decoration; and in floor tiles.

While asbestos-containing materials present no significant health hazard, the experts at Harvard warned that removal of the materials could be dangerous -- to building occupants as well as removal workers. That is because when asbestos materials are ripped out, clouds of fibers are released, and these fibers are difficult to control and clean up.

Even when removal activities are conducted properly, airborne asbestos levels can rise for as long as 10 months, studies have shown. In addition, there is a limited number of qualified removal contractors who can safely remove and dispose of asbestos materials, and their services are expensive.

The high risks and costs of removal, compared with the safety of leaving asbestos materials in place, are leading more people to favor maintenance of the materials -- a wise practice, according to the experts, who say that as long as asbestos materials are kept in good condition, it is better to leave them alone.

Money Management

CONTROLLING YOUR SPENDING

Does your spending outpace your earnings? Do you often find yourself running to the automated teller machine for some quick cash to cover a purchase? Almost everyone needs to find ways to control spending. And, according to the Michigan Association of CPAs, fall is an excellent time to begin pulling together your financial records and examining your spending habits.

Before you can begin to control spending, you need to know where your money goes. Where should you begin? The first step is to identify all your fixed monthly expenses. Fixed expenses are those that remain pretty much the same from month to month - items like your mortgage or rent payment, car or installment loan payments, insurance, alimony and child support. The amount you spend for these items is probably clearly registered in your mind - or at least in your checkbook.

Now move on to your variable expenses; those that vary from month to month. The variable expenses you pay for by check, like your electric and telephone bills, can be easily identified. Other expenses are more difficult to track, especially those for which you pay cash. Do you have any idea how much it costs to run your automobile including gas and repairs? Probably not. How much do you spend dining out? Most families are amazed at how quickly this category can add up. What is your annual tab for gifts for others? If you're like most people, you probably can't answer questions like these because you don't keep track of your spending.

Identifying where your pocket money goes will require a bit of effort. You will want to get a small notebook or expense record that fits in your pocket or purse to keep a log of daily spending. Jot down everything you spend regardless of whether you pay by cash, check or credit card. It's easier if you identify your spending by categories that work for you. Some examples are gifts, groceries, commuting costs, haircuts and manicures, clothes, newspapers and magazines. Keep your categories narrow to develop a detailed picture. For example, rather than using a general category for clothes, itemize what you spend for your clothing, for your spouse's clothing and for your children's.

The daily exercise of recording the money you spend serves another purpose. It turns spending from an impulsive process into a more conscious one by connecting the act of spending money with the act of writing it down. You have a tendency to rethink a frivolous expense when you know you have to record it.

You will probably need to keep track of your expenses for three to six months to get a fairly accurate spending picture. A simple columnar pad or a home budget book from a stationary store will do fine. You can record all your fixed expenses and any variable items directly into your ledger as you pay them. At the end of each month, total the spending for each of the pocket money categories in your daily log and transfer these figures to your spending spreadsheet.

After a month or two, take some time to review your spreadsheet. You will start to see spending patterns emerge. Excessive spending will become easier to pinpoint. Start by determining the categories where you feel you are overspending and think about how you might trim these categories. Could you use the library more instead of buying so many books and/or magazines? How about planning ahead and making gift purchases when you see appropriate items on sale? You may find that some expenses are more difficult to cut back on. Your dry cleaning bill may seem to be disproportionately high but you may very well determine there's not much you can do about it. Look at your categories and judge what is right for you.

Once you are aware of your spending patterns, you can begin to make trade-offs. If you know your gift category is going to go through the ceiling in November and December, maybe you could brown bag your lunch for a while and at least partly offset your holiday expenses. In other words, trimming one category can give you a little extra in another.

Now it's time to think about some financial goals. What kind of things are important to you? Analyze your expenses to free up money for what matters most to you. Set goals for yourself and treat payments to these goals as fixed payments. Want to spend a week at Club Med? Sacrifice some of the money you spend on dining out and deposit in an account earmarked for vacation. Are you concerned about saving for your child's education? Make tuition savings a fixed expense and make a payment each month just as you do for your mortgage.

Control your spending, set financial goals and establish priorities and you will be on your way to reconciling your spending habits with your income, suggests the Michigan Association of CPAs.
