Dr. Currey Chairman Of United Way

The Board of Directors of the Manchester United Way is pleased to announce that Dr. Allan Currey is serving as General Chairman of the Manchester United Way of 1990 campaign.

Dr. Currey was the chairman of last year's drive also. With last year's experience under his belt, and the enthusiasm and organization provided by new president Bill Panches, he feels that this year's drive should be even more successful than last year's.

"The needs of our local organizations have continued to grow with our community. They need our continued support. And the many organizations searching for cures and preventions for diseases are every bit as deserving of support as in the past. Please continue your generosity. All residences in the Manchester area should receive a mailing around the first of October. With your help, this can be our most successful campaign ever."

"Show Your Caring Through Sharing." Give the United Way.

Recent Summer Marked By Ostentation

Autumn's Decree Is That Quieter Effects Are to Rule, and Marks the End of the Reign of Hysteria

According to a well-known writer on fashion, it has been a delirious clothes summer, and the woman whose hysteria points that way has fairly reveled in the different effects she has created in the way of combinations, each one more violent than the last.

Chains and beads have been omnipresent, and glass and china have been worn as freely and fashionably as onyx and coral might be in more particular days.

Autumn, happily, has decreed that quieter effects must rule, proving that the girl who clung to white and black and brown through the rainbow summer was really in advance of the style, although the clothes maniacs set her down as dowdy.

There is positively no vice in the feminine list that makes a woman seem such an idiot as this dress hysteria.

She carries the air ever with her that she is watching for some gleam of recognition as to the smartness of her attire, and no glance is bold or long enough to convince her that it is not the beauty of her dress, but its elaborate loudness that is attracting attention.

Village Council Supports Recycling Consortium, Joint Grant Application

Manchester Village Council Monday night passed a resolution of support for creation of a Western Washtenaw Recycling Consortium comprising the Villages of Manchester and Chelsea and eight townships.

The resolution also supports a joint grant application by the 10 units of government for over $240,000 in state funds.

The grant money would help pay for recycling equipment and a campaign to publicize the recycling program. The Consortium would need to match the grant with approximately $60,000 of local funds.

The Village of Manchester and the Townships of Bridgewater, Freedom, Manchester and Sharon agreed earlier this year to apply for a state grant to fund improvements in the recycling program which they now jointly operate.

When it was learned that Chelsea was also interested in applying for a grant, in conjunction with its surrounding townships, a joint meeting was held in Manchester on September 5.

Participants in that meeting recommended a single grant application, to increase the likelihood of grant approval and to save money by eliminating duplication of equipment.

The program, which would not be operational for at least a year, would include weekly curbside recycling pickups in the Village of Manchester. Manchester, Freedom, Bridgewater and Sharon Townships would each have a recycling station with three drop-off bins for metal and glass, newspaper, and plastic.

Council also approved the appointment of representatives to the county-wide consortium on solid waste management. Trustee Jane Cooper was appointed as the Village representative, and trustee Mike Gordon was appointed as alternate.

The county group meets monthly to share information on such issues as recycling, landfill siting, landfill costs and implementation of the Washtenaw County Solid Waste Management Plan.

Michigan Remembers Our POW's and MIA's

A candlelight vigil in Washtenaw County for the 2,300 Americans still unaccounted for in Indochina is the centerpiece of this Friday's observance of POW/MIA Recognition Day. The vigil, which will include reading of the names of the 74 Michigan citizens still unaccounted for, begins at 8:00 p.m. in Riverside Park near Depot Town in Ypsilanti.

Organized by Chapter #310 of Vietnam Veterans of America, the ceremony is part of a local and statewide effort aimed at raising awareness in hopes of speeding a resolution to the POW/MIA issue.

"The cities of Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Saline, Milan, Dexter, Chelsea, Manchester and South Lyon, as well as the County of Washtenaw, helped us a lot in this effort," said Milt Davis, president of the local chapter. "Last year each city accepted our gift of a POW/MIA flag, told us they'd fly it each POW/MIA Recognition Day and on holidays like Veterans Day and Memorial Day, and again this year issued proclamations calling on their citizens to help commemorate the day.

In the decade since the Vietnamese conflict ended, the Indochinese governments have proven less than cooperative in accounting for prisoners who did not return or in providing information on the missing. Within the past two years, cooperation increased significantly. Yet, according to the National League of Families of American Prisoners and Missing in Southeast Asia, there are 2,300 American servicemen and civilians still missing and unaccounted for in Indochina.

"A lot of people ask me how I can think any of them are still alive," said Paul Dumsch, chapter vice-president. "My answer has a lot to do with the Golden Rule. No I can't say with certainty that any of those Americans are still alive. But by the same token, I sure can't say they're all dead either. And I know if I was there and still alive, I'd hope someone would be working to get me out."

The stated goal of the League, Vietnam Veterans of America, the U.S. government, and other veterans organizations is to obtain as full as possible an accounting of Americans still prisoner, missing or unaccounted for in Indochina. Increasing public awareness and focusing public attention on this issue is one way to help achieve those ends.

Also, the Prisoner of War Committee of Michigan, along with Oakland Hills Memorial Gardens, will host a special 5th anniversary ceremony of the "Michigan Remembers Memorial" at 1:00 p.m. on Friday, September 21, 1990 at Oakland Hills Memorial Gardens, 12 Mile and Novi Road, Novi, Michigan.

The ceremony is open to the public.

Hastings Receives Award

Optimists Al Currey and Yvonne Henry with Buzz Hastings

The Achievement in Education award was created in 1989 by Manchester Optimists to honor an outstanding educator from our community.

Buzz earned both his bachelors and masters degrees at the University of Michigan. He came to Manchester in 1974 after teaching at Willow Run High School and Oakland Community College. Fellow teachers and hundreds of students acknowledge his effective style and ability to infuse enthusiasm in English, Speech and Literature. Buzz has also been involved in curriculum development, class sponsorship, as English Academic team coach, and as Manchester's personal link with Shakespeare and other classics.

His personal library contains over 4,000 volumes and his teaching philosophy is quotable: "...an outstanding teacher is...an artist. He or she guides, motivates, monitors, disciplines, supports, teaches and loves even his most difficult charges...Seeing a non-achiever suddenly begin to achieve, and knowing that I in some measure had an effect in producing that change is a thrill."

Congratulations and thanks, Buzz. We hope you enjoy the $150 gift certificate at B. Dalton Books.

Senior Citizens News

Brrr! It is cold this Monday as I hung clothes out. Last evening, Rubena reminded that weather persons stated it might frost, so we got "blankets" on our tomatoes, peppers, and those sweet potatoes (a nice gift from Howard Parr to our two families.) He told us to not let the vines get frozen as the potatoes wouldn't last. And viney they are, and so pretty. Just see how educated you get by reading our senior column (even if some of it is mis-information!) Listen and learn, that's what I need to do more of.

Thursday, September 20: Jan says this Polish sausage is skinless and it is tender, come try. Then play bingo at the Center.

Friday, September 21: Bus pickup begins at 6:15 to travel to Saline for their Senior Citizens Card Party. Call Erma at 428-8707 for your ride.

Tuesday, September 25: One of our local nurses will take your blood pressure beginning at 11:00 a.m. (thank you, gals.) At noon lunch, we travel to China with a Chinese Day surprise by Jan and helpers (don't we get around?) Barbara Zaret will present a talk on "Update on Nursing Home Insurance" and explain new policies on home health care. If you have questions about Medicare, bring them to her for answers and help in this sometimes confusing area of our lives.

Wednesday, September 26: Today is the postponed trip to Barns Produce and then shopping at the Saline Mall. The senior bus will leave the Center at 9:30, call Erma to go along.

Thursday, September 27: Senior exercise program begins at 11:00 a.m. (get your corpusescles moving!) Turkey casserole is the treat planned by Jan for lunch at 12 noon in Emanuel's dining room - this will be a good one, come, but call in your reservation ahead to 428-8359. Go to the Center to enjoy bingo at 12:30. Tonight, on the 27th, we'll have all those euchre players pitting their skill against young (we hope) and us oldsters at Freedom Township Hall. Be there at 8:00 p.m. for our sponsored public card party.

Looking ahead: On Friday, September 28, the long-awaited trip to Gregory Shopping Mall will be. Bus leaves the Center at 9:30, call Erma.

Please bring your old (clean) nylons either to meals or to the Center for use in making pillows for our area nursing homes.

JV's Down Michigan Center, 40-0

Led by their stingy defense, the Manchester JVs shut out the Michigan Center Cardinals by a score of 40-0.

The defense, wanting a shutout badly, never let up their intensity in the 4th quarter as Andy Corwin, Luke Weiss, and Kye Potter all had interceptions in the quarter.

Midway through the first quarter, Rich Lutton raced into the end zone from 4 yards out for the first score.

Following a Dutch interception from Shayne Ahrens in the 2nd quarter, Jamie Sloat powered in from 4 yards out for a touchdown. The conversion attempt failed and the Dutch led 13-0.

Another Dutch interception, this one by Mike Barnard, led to another 2nd quarter score. On 4th down and goal at the Cardinal 4-yard line, Jamie Sloat grabbed an option pitch from QB Tom Fielder and raced into the end zone for the score.

The Dutch led 20-0, Michigan Center 0. This ended the scoring in the first half.

Starting the second half, the Dutch defense again took charge of the game, not allowing Michigan Center to cross midfield throughout the entire half.

However, in the 4th quarter, the offense came alive with three touchdowns. All three touchdowns were scored by Shayne Ahrens. Mark Mann and Jeremy Strock kicked the conversions and Manchester had a 40-0 lead.

The defense, wanting a shutout badly, never let up their intensity in the 4th quarter as Andy Corwin, Luke Weiss, and Kye Potter all had interceptions in the quarter.

Pacing the Dutch offense in their win were: Jamie Sloat, 17 carries for 115 yards; Rich Lutton 15 carries, 70 yards; Shayne Ahrens 6 carries, 28 yards and three touchdowns; Brad Davis 6 carries, 31 yards. Also playing well offensively were Robert Spork, Jeremy Davis, Stacey Clouse, Todd Meeks, Andy Corwin, Rod Burkhardt, Kerrick Renfro, Tom Fielder, Matt Fielder, and Jeff Weidmayer.

Defensively, the Dutch were paced by the five interceptions and fine play by Clouse, Meeks, Corwin, Brandon Woods, Matt Wiethoff, Matt Fielder and Daren Hagan.

The Dutch play host to Grass Lake this Thursday. Game time is 7:00 p.m.

Friday night the Michigan Center Cardinals visited our turf. Despite dominating the first quarter, they left losers. The score was 12-8.

The contest began on a dry field with the Cardinals kicking to the Dutch. We soon punted and Center simply marched down the field for the first TD of the game. Offensively we weren't playing well so we relied on our defense to fire us up.

It seemed the entire second half of play belonged to our defense. They came up with big plays like fumble recoveries and pass interceptions at crucial times.

Statistically speaking, Jay Gillow threw 7 passes completing 6 for 71 yards. His receivers were Jeff Smith with 31 yards and Jon Uphouse with 22 yards.

Be with us on Friday as we bus to Grass Lake seeking revenge for last year's narrow loss.

Congratulations to our JV who downed Michigan Center 40-0 to remain undefeated. They host Grass Lake Thursday evening at 7:00 p.m.

According to some area statistics for all of Washtenaw County, regardless of school size, Jay Gillow is ranked #2 quarterback along with his receiver Jeff Smith who is ranked #1 after the first 2 games of the season.

Our basketball squad is still seeking that elusive first season win. We trekked to Hanover-Horton Thursday and despite Jennifer Kunzelman's 11 points, lost 43-18.

under loan money if there is a physical interference. Gary is looking into it. He is also looking into the cost of running a 6" line if it is not funded by the loan, to close the loop.

Gary made a list of all galvanized and lead services related to this separation project. He estimated a cost of $30,000 to change to copper service. Michigan Remembers Our POW's and MIA's

Guest speaker, James Thompson, a former prisoner of war from the Korean War, will be recognized as a true American hero who, on August 14, 1990, some 37 years later, received his POW medal as one of "the Forgotten 33". Also taking part in the ceremony will be Sue Scott of Troy, Michigan, chairman of the Board of the National League of Families.

The memorial will be updated to include the latest returned remains in January of 1990 of Gary Russell LaBohn from Wixom, Michigan.

At the September 4 meeting of the Manchester Village Council, the following Resolution was approved:

Season Was Too Gaudy

Tulle boas, reduced by dampness to the consistency of a gauzy caterpillar, have been flouted for the reason that they furnished the necessary note of color contrast.

At some of the boardwalk places, young women have disported themselves in khaki coats, skirts, leggings and hats suggesting the Rough Rider uniform.

On bathing beaches, there have been such sights as never were before on land or sea, the princess effects offering opportunities for the cartoonist's pencil, calculated to add hugely to the world's gawdy at the expense of woman's good taste and modesty.

Autumn offers a safe antidote to the woman who has suffered even slightly from the clothes hysteria during the last few months.

Whatever mistakes she has made she now has the chance to redeem them, not by laying in an entirely new set of clothes, but by modifying her contrasts and wearing dark hats, gloves, veils and coats.

These will convert her from a demoralized May queen into a sane and sensible appearing person, who has a mind fit and willing to take up other issues of life beside this eternal clothes mania.

Hospital Honors Student Artists

NOW, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED by the Council of the Village of Manchester, Michigan, that Friday, September 21, 1990, shall be designated as POW/MIA RECOGNITION DAY. We urge all of our citizens to take note of this important issue and remember those servicemen and civilians who were prisoners of war and those who are still missing and to commemorate this day with appropriate activities.

Laurie Fielder Attends Seminar

This summer, Laurie Fielder attended a Women in Engineering Camp in Angola, Indiana. The week-long seminar covered the major types of engineering: mechanical, civil, chemical, and aerospace.

Although the camp is primarily designed as an excellent educational experience for aspiring engineers, opportunities for enjoyment and relaxation were available.

Federal Surplus Foods

Federal surplus foods will be distributed on Friday, September 21, 1990, from 9:00 a.m. until 11:00 a.m. at the Manchester United Methodist Church.

Commodities for September are butter, peanut butter, and vegetarian beans.

Clothing Shop For Low-Income Families

The fall clothing shop for low-income families will be in October this year, instead of September. The dates of the shop are October 18 and 19. We are concentrating on winter clothing, especially jackets and coats. Other items are welcome, as always. Watch for further details.

Area students whose art work has been purchased and hung in halls of Saline Community Hospital were honored at a recognition tea recently at the hospital.

The art purchases are made each year by the Saline Community Hospital Auxiliary. The program is intended to encourage young talent and to add interest in the halls of the hospital.

Projects this year came from students in Clinton, Dundee, Lincoln, Manchester, Milan and Saline schools. These works of art will be on display for a year.

Manchester students whose work was honored were Andrea Rizzo, grade 12; Donna Spiess, grade 10; and Jamie Sloat, grade 9.

Road Rally Comes To Manchester

The Manchester Recreation Task Force has announced plans to present "Rally 'Round Manchester" on October 6, 1990. It will be a time/speed/distance road rally around a course about 50 miles in length and taking approximately 3 hours to run. The object of the rally is to follow the course at various assigned speeds while keeping as close to the correct elapsed time as possible. Trophies will be awarded for first, second and third place finishers.

To enter, you need: 1. A driver and navigator, 2. A valid driver's license, 3. Any type of street-legal vehicle with current insurance and a working odometer, 4. A watch (or stopwatch), a calculator and a clipboard.

The rally will begin and end at Carr Park on Austin Road. Training will be available before the rally. Activities at the park are being planned for after the rally.

Watch for more details in the Enterprise next week. To get your questions answered or to volunteer to help with the rally, call Rick Taepke at 428-9471 evenings for more information.

PUBLIC HEARING TRUTH IN TAXATION

Proposed synopsis of public hearing on "Truth in Taxation" held September 10, 1990.

Meeting opened at 7:35 p.m. with Board members Mann, Up-house, Macomber and Hakes present; Widmayer was absent. There were no visitors present.

Supervisor Mann explained that the purpose of this meeting was to allow public comment on a proposed change in operating tax millage rate for the Township. If this hearing were not held, a rate of 1.0503 would have to be levied. This hearing will enable the Township, in accordance with the law, to decide at a later date to levy 1.107 mills, a difference of .05 mills. This action would generate $3,365.82 for general operating funds.

Since there were no taxpayers present, the Board proceeded with discussion concerning various alternatives: future recycling and solid waste disposal costs which cannot be anticipated over the next few years; and fire truck, fire hall, and road millages.

A vote regarding "Truth in Taxation" will be taken at a Special Meeting of the Board to be held on Monday, September 17, 1990 at 8:00 p.m.

The public hearing was adjourned at 7:55 p.m.

Submitted by Kathleen M. Hakes, Clerk Approved by Ronald E. Mann, Supervisor

Money Management

HOW DOES YOUR SAVINGS ACCOUNT RATE?

Trying to decide where to invest your money based on available interest rates can be baffling. Just look at the financial advertisements in your daily newspaper, each trying to entice you with annual rates varying by fractions of a percentage point depending on how much you plan to deposit, which account you choose and whether the yield is taxable, tax-free or tax-deferred.

If you are trying to figure out which investment offers the best return on your hard-earned money, the Michigan Association of CPAs suggests you learn how to interpret interest rates.

The Secret of Compounding

Most people choose to deposit their money in a bank or other savings institution by virtue of newspaper advertisements that proclaim the highest available interest rates. But, in fact, those impressive interest rates may not always be the best available. To really understand the investment value of a savings account, you have to know how often the interest earned on your money is compounded.

Imagine you have only two possible choices for your investment: a CD with an annual rate of 8 percent, compounded monthly, and a CD with an annual rate of 8.1 percent, compounded semi-annually. Which is the better investment? Believe it or not, the account that offers the 8 percent rate will earn more than the CD with an annual rate of 8.1 percent, compounded semi-annually. The key factor is compounding.

Compounding means that your interest is periodically added to your savings, so that your interest earns more interest. Interest can be compounded in any number of ways: daily, monthly, semi-annually or annually. In general, the shorter the compounding period, the more total interest you earn on the account.

Look at the difference compounding makes. At maturity, a one-year CD advertising a 10 percent simple interest rate would earn $100 in interest on a $1,000 deposit. By comparison, the same 10 percent compounded daily would be equivalent to an account earning 10.52 percent - for a return of $105.20 on the same, one-year CD. Those extra dollars mount up over time. An account that earns a non-compounded interest rate of 10 percent would double in value in 7.2 years. The value of an account that compounds interest daily, would double approximately 1.5 years earlier.

Although the Federal Reserve Board does not require bank advertisements to disclose the compounding period applied to an investor's deposit, many ads do volunteer this information - often in fine print located beneath the interest rate figure.

Effective Annual Yield

Another number that is frequently trumpeted in ads is the effective annual yield which provides a more accurate gauge for those shopping for the best savings account. This figure reflects the impact that compounding has on the annual interest rate. By comparing effective annual yields between two or more accounts, you can get a fairly accurate idea of how hard your money will be working for you in the account.

A simple comparison of yields may not work, however, if you are comparing taxable investments to those exempt from taxes, such as a municipal bond. The actual yield of a tax-exempt account depends not only on the account's interest rate, but also on your tax bracket.

The Fine Print

A few other wrinkles must be smoothed over before you can rest assured that the account with the highest annual yield will actually provide you with the best bottom-line earnings. For instance some accounts require you to deposit a specific amount in order to get the advertised yield. While the boldly printed rate and yield numbers may catch your eye, the ad may make no mention about any minimum deposit.

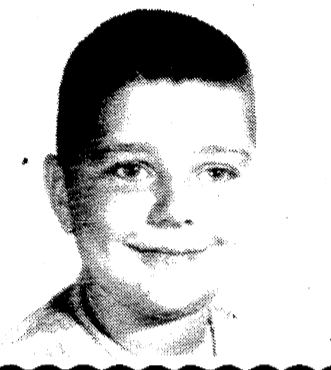

Another factor to consider when choosing a savings account is whether the institution imposes restrictions on or charges fees for establishing, maintaining or terminating your account.

According to a Federal Reserve Board study, some depositors are paying fees as high as $60 a year. Some banks that offer the convenience of automatic teller machines charge as much as $1 for each transaction conducted at one of their machines. Other fees that take a bite out of your savings include penalties for low balances or early withdrawals.

According to the Michigan Association of CPAs the best way to avoid any surprises is to ask your banker to calculate how much will be in your account after a specific period of time. If you are shopping for a two-year CD, for example, find out how much money you will be able to withdraw when the CD matures.

Tips For Working Parents With Latchkey Children

The number of children left to care for themselves while parents work has been steadily increasing for more than a generation. (The term "latchkey children" was originally coined in the early 19th century to describe children who wore housekeys on strings around their necks.) Today, more and more working parents face unavailable or unaffordable child-care.

Latchkey children have increased responsibilities, safety risks and temptations. Both the physical and emotional welfare of latchkey children is becoming a growing concern in every community because they are a group more vulnerable to juvenile delinquency, acts of violence and sex crimes, alcohol and drug abuse.

The decision to leave children unattended or in charge of each other is not always an easy one to make. Here are some useful guidelines for working parents:

1. Establish house rules. Write rules down, post them, and periodically review them with your children. You may want to cover homework and chores, using the phone, allowing friends in the house, using the stove and other appliances.

2. Be certain they have memorized their own address, phone number and your place of employment. Post important phone numbers, including parents' work places, police department, fire department, doctor, trusted neighbors or relatives. Some communities sponsor "warmlines" volunteers for children who just need someone to talk to or turn to when their parents aren't available.

3. Equip children with practical skills. Rehearse how to answer the phone calls, take messages, deal with strangers and peer pressure. Show them how to safely use appliances and prepare simple snacks and meals.

4. Set up emergency plans. Make sure your children know what to do if they lose their housekey, miss the bus, are approached by a stranger, find a window broken or door open when they come home, or injure themselves in any way. By having them imagine what they will do before hand, you help them become better decision makers when situations arise.

5. Clear communication is reassuring to both parents and children. Always let children know why and how long you will be away. Return on time or call if you can't avoid being late.

To encourage and help your children express what they have been feeling while you were gone, establish a special check-in time for them to share with you. Make a ritual of asking them the best thing and worst thing about their day. Their feedback will always be important.

6. By supporting after-school programs and neighborhood safety awareness, parents can improve their community's efforts to protect all children. Boys and Girls Clubs, Big Brothers/Big Sisters, the YMCA/YWCA, city recreation departments and community/neighborhood centers, schools, churches, libraries and other groups sponsor after school their primary protector, advisor and loving parent. It is harmful to saddle children with the worries of parenting decisions for their brothers and sisters and other situations they are not old enough to shoulder.

Children need lots of encouragement. They will come to you more freely with their questions or problems if you treat their mistakes not as failure but as learning experiences. Show them appreciation for their helpfulness and self-reliance while you are away.

As a public service, the Independent Order of Foresters disseminates useful pointers for parents like these suggestions for dealing with latchkey children. Known as the Family Fraternal, the IOF also distributes educational booklets and films to help strengthen families and prevent child abuse. To learn more about these, call the IOF's toll free number 1-800-828-1540.
