Tax Assessment Brochure Available

If property owners find an error, the Consumers Council recommends that the errors be discussed with the assessor first. Some assessors may be willing to adjust the appraisal on the spot, thus saving the property owner and the assessor the nuisance of a formal protest. If the property owner should find it necessary to formally protest, the brochure provides tips on how to proceed and document a case before a local Board of Review. The pamphlet emphasizes that timing is crucial in making an appeal. Each township and city has its own functioning Board of Review that meets periodically. It is crucial that property owners who plan to file a protest contact their local city or township office soon to obtain the deadline for filing. "How to Review and Appeal Your Property Tax Assessment" is available free of charge at many Michigan assessors offices or by contacting the Michigan Consumers Council, 106 W. Allegan St., 414 Hollister Building, Lansing, MI 48933, telephone 517-373-0947.

Free Community Lectures

Chelsea Hospital will sponsor two weeks of free community lectures dealing with the history of Alcoholics Anonymous. The lectures take place in the hospital dining room on Thursday, January 31 and February 7 at 7:15 p.m. Betty Bigger will lecture on the history of Alcoholics Anonymous. Week one spans the early history previous to Dr. Bob and Bill W's meeting through the story of how the Big Book was written and published in 1939. Week two emphasizes the infancy and adolescence of the growing program including how the 12 traditions were formed and written.

Cincinnati People Excited

with a single application of one of his preparations actually made deaf people hear again.

In addition to this work Cooper advanced the theory that stomach trouble is the foundation of nine out of ten diseases and claimed to have a preparation that would restore the stomach to working order and thus get rid of such troubles as rheumatism and affections of the kidneys and liver in about two weeks time.

This statement seems to have been borne out by the remarkable results obtained through the use of his preparation, and now all Cincinnati is apparently mad over the young man.

His headquarters resemble a veritable stampede. Thousands of people are visiting him each day, and the druggists are selling his medicines in enormous quantities.

What seems to make Cooper still more popular is the fact that he practices extensive charitable work and has already dispensed a small fortune among the poor of the city.

How long the tremendous interest in Cooper will last is hard to estimate. At present there seems to be no sign of a let-up. Reputable physicians claim it to be a fad that will die out as soon as Cooper leaves.

In justice to him, however, it must be said that he seems to have accomplished a great deal for the sick of this city with his preparations.

Better For Boys To Start
At The Foot

"Do you know what's bothering me now?" said a man who has made himself rich and is fast getting richer. "It's wondering what is going to become of my boys.

"I have four sons, all young, and all wholesome, natural youngsters but if I keep on making money the way I'm doing now I don't know what's going to happen to them when they grow up. There's nothing like being born poor to give a man a real start in life, with his feet firmly planted on the ground, where they ought to be, and he learning to rely on himself.

"I was born that way and I've always been grateful for it. If I had been born rich I think I should have been more or less of a no account. I had to get out and hustle and work to get along, and the habit of work has never left me since, as I hope it never will.

"But how is it going to be about my boys? They may come to think that they don't have to work, which would be the ruination of them, or would at least put them out of the running with self-reliant, able men.

"I'm sending them to public school, of course, and there they learn a heap of thing besides what they get out of their books. They learn for one very valuable lesson that there are other people in the world besides themselves and that there may be plenty of people smarter than they are, and that they've got to work if they expect to keep their end up.

"Boys are democrats. You can't put on any lugs or airs if you expect to get along with the boys in a public school; if you want friends you've got to be friendly. A good all around start in life it is for boys to go to a public school, and I hope my boys will profit by it.

"But I suppose in time they'll go to a private school, and then if they want to they'll go to college, and there what with their money, unless they should turn out to be very hardheaded young men, they will come to train with other young men with money and so get separated from the bulk of their fellow students and begin to live sort of by themselves; and I can't imagine anything happening to a young man worse than that, his getting away from the mass of his fellow men.

"My boys have never known what it is to be poor. They have always had what they wanted, and unless I should fail or bust up or something, which I don't expect to do, I don't see why they shouldn't always have things, because as long as I had anything I should be sure to keep them. That's the human nature.

"And, you see, there's the

Trek To The Future Sunday, February 10th

Come take a trek, a journey to the future. What lies ahead for the class of 2001? The answer can be found at Saline High School on Sunday, February 10, from 1:00 to 3:00 p.m. as the South and West Washtenaw Consortium presents "Trek to the Future. Opportunities for Success", a Family Career Education Day.

High-tech demonstrations, college representatives, area employers, free t-shirts, and activities for all ages and family members, are just some of the highlights of the day, as well as a tour of the 15 programs offered by the Consortium.

The staff of the Consortium would like to cordially invite all parents and students of all ages from the districts of Chelsea, Dexter, Manchester, Milan and Saline to what should be an exciting and fun afternoon! "Trek to the Future" also kicks off National Vocational Education Week, February 10-17. Diane

Skinner, director of Vocational Technical Education for the Consortium, feels vocational education should be a part of everyone's high school experience. "The skills learned in vocational education are useful whether a person goes right to work out of high school or enters college."

Using the machine tool program as an example, Skinner noted that learning to read a blueprint is just as critical for future engineers as it is for a future lathe operator.

And what about a student who has yet to decide on a career? "Vocational education classes are a great way for students to explore occupations, to find out if they are really interested in that career area," added Skinner.

The administration and staff of the South and West Consortium would like to cordially invite the residents of Chelsea, Dexter, Manchester, Milan and Saline, to take a "Trek to the Future" and join us February 10.

25th Annual Canoe Race

So you would like to be a part of Manchester's 25th annual canoe race, but... Well, this year there are no excuses because the Recreation Task Force would like to present each participant in the race with a patch commemorating this event. The Task Force would like the patch to be designed by a member of our community. The designer of the winning patch will be awarded $25. Now, of course, there are some guidelines - the patch must be circular, three inches in diameter and contain the following:

- *Manchester
- *25 years
- *Canoe race
- *1991

The winning patch will be fully embroidered with four colors. The deadline for entries is February 20, 1991. Enter as often as you like, however, each design entered must be accompanied by either an entry form or a 3 x 5 card with your name, address, age and phone number. All entries must be mailed or delivered to the Manchester Task Force at 122 East Main Street (the Community Resource Center), P.O. Box 433, Manchester, Michigan 48158. (Phone: 313-428-7722). All entries are property of the Recreation Task Force. All judges decisions are final.

House Rejects Pay Hike

"The Legislature's first rejection of proposed salary increases sets a tone of fiscal prudence in government that is long overdue and will be crucial to ongoing budget negotiations," said state Rep. Margaret O'Connor, R-Lodi Township, who opposed the raise.

A 16.2 percent pay raise for legislators and other top state officials recommended by the State Officers Compensation Commission (SOCC) was voted down overwhelmingly in the House. The Senate rejected the salary hike on January 24.

This was the first time since SOCC was created in 1968 by constitutional amendment that the Legislature said no to a proposed pay raise.

"Today's vote was the only proper action in light of the serious budget deficit plaguing Michigan," O'Connor said. "The raises were unwarranted and inconsistent with the belt-tightening measures we are asking of others."

O'Connor said, however, that the rejection was not a victory of conscience. "I'm sorry to say the pay raise refusal was a concession to an angry citizenry rather than the right thing done for the right reasons," the fifth-term lawmaker said. "Many of my colleagues who wanted more money 'glimpsed the future' and saw they weren't in it with a 'yes' vote on this issue. "On the other hand, this was a victory for the people. It is reassuring to see citizens take an active role in government. I hope this issue serves as a beacon to the public that it has a powerful voice if it chooses to speak collectively, and it can change the course of history, as they say."

The SOCC proposal would have increased legislators' pay from $45,450 to $47,287 in 1991 and $52,800 in 1992.

In addition to legislative salaries, SOCC recommends pay levels for the governor, lieutenant governor and Supreme Court justices. The raises would have taken effect had they not been rejected by the Legislature February 1. By law, SOCC meets every two years for no more than 15 days.

This past week we faced two opponents. In Michigan Center, we never trailed and after 32 minutes of play, the score stood 72-48. We closed the week hosting Hanover-Horton and again won handily, 78-53.

We visited the Michigan Center Cardinals' gymnasium on Tuesday night and after jumping off to a 6-0 lead after the first minute and a half, the tally just grew and grew. Stefan Knul led all scorers with 26 points. Jesse Widmayer and Jason Dominick teamed up, popping for 23, 12 and 11 respectively.

Friday night we welcomed the Comets from Hanover-Horton.

This marks the midway point of the season when we start repeating in league play. The Comets offered little resistance as we upped our Cascades' record to 6 and 2. Stefan Knul scorched the nets for 32 points as Jesse Widmayer hit for 13. Jason Dominick also scored in double figures with 12.

Be with us Friday as we bus to Grass Lake, then Tuesday finds us on the road again in Milan.

JV Roundballers Split

by Jon

On Tuesday, in Michigan Center, our win streak of five games was halted. We dominated the first half and led 29-16 at the intermission. The Cardinals came firing back and with three minutes left to play, took the lead 44-46. Jamie Sloat scooped and scored with six seconds remaining to knot the score at 52. Center shot and missed, but got the rebound in before the buzzer. Final, 52-54.

We began a new winning streak by beating Hanover-Horton 77-45. The big scorer this week was Rob Davis.

NATIONAL FFA WEEK TO BE CELEBRATED FEB 16-23

FFA members all over the country will promote FFA, agricultural education and the food and fiber industry during National FFA Week, February 16-23.

This year's theme is FFA - Leadership for a Growing Planet. During FFA Week and throughout the year, FFA chapters will pursue activities which show that they are leading the effort for a better environment. Planting trees, starting community recycling efforts and restoring cycling areas are just a few of the initiatives planned by various chapters across the country.

The week also provides FFA members in thousands of chapters across the U.S., Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands the chance to create awareness of and support for agricultural education and the FFA. Public service announcements at the local, state and national levels will help spread the message.

Agricultural education classes stress hands-on experience in diverse areas of agriculture. FFA activities provide leadership development, career training and award incentives for young people.

Mark Timm, national FFA president from Fillmore, Indiana, said FFA Week is an opportunity for members and communities to recognize achievements and activities available through FFA and agricultural education. This year's theme challenges FFA members to make a difference in their communities; to think globally but act locally.

"We're young people trying to strike a balance between progressive agriculture and a healthy environment," Timm said. "As FFA members and students in agriculture classes, we are learning to wisely manage our resources, and gaining leadership skills necessary to prepare for the diverse and challenging careers in agriculture."

Each year FFA Week is held during the week of George Washington's birthday (traditional) to recognize his leadership and commitment to American agriculture. The National FFA Center is located on part of Washington's original Mt. Vernon estate near Alexandria, Virginia.

FFA is a national organization of 387,042 members in 7,634 local chapters preparing for careers in the science, business and technology of agriculture. Local, state and national activities and award programs provide opportunities for students to apply knowledge and skills acquired through agricultural education. FFA members strive to develop agricultural leadership, cooperation and citizenship.

JVs Win Tournament Wallace Takes MVP

Saturday, February 2, Manchester's JV volleyball team traveled to Brooklyn CC for a tourney. They won the tourney and young Dutch star Adrienne Wallace (just a freshman) garnered Most Valuable Player of the tourney honors. Adrienne had 19 assists for kills, 10 kills, 32 digs and 7 aces. Liz Bragg and Sarah Riske joined Wallace in leading the offensive surge for the Dutch. Riske had 8 kills and Bragg recorded 19 kills. Kim Reeb assumed a great deal of the defensive load for the Dutch. She had 80 digs for the day.

The Dutch defense seemed to swarm to the ball. Reeb, Lynette Wackenhut, Kathleen Baran and Sharon Fielder all had over 70 digs. On a day where things just seemed to be going right, the Dutch service game was no exception. Laura Alber, Kathleen Baran, Tracy LaRue and Sarah Riske all served over 90% on the day.

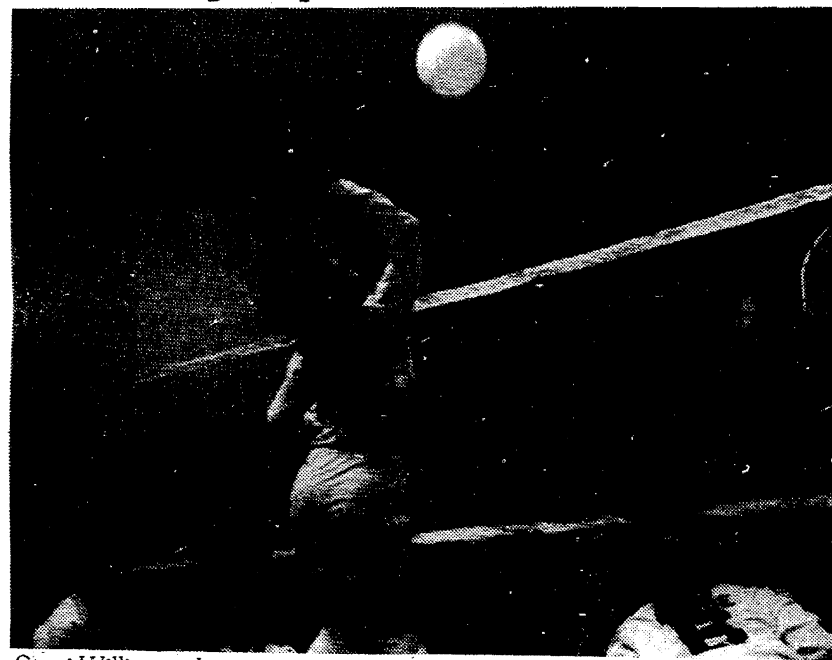

The Dutch ran a two-setter offense and, while we already know how Adrienne performed, let's see how Tracy did. LaRue was nothing less than exceptional on the day. She also had 19 assists for kills. But, more importantly, she ran the Dutch volleyball team like a master technician operating a finely oiled machine.

Coach Gilmore commented, "Things just went like clockwork. My leaders led, my players played, and we won. This was a good team waiting to happen. They happened this weekend."

After raising their season record to 13-4 by defeating East Jackson in the final, Dutch players LaRue, Wallace and Baran summed it up best by saying, "It felt real good to win, it just felt good".

Letters To The Editor

'Twas the night after "K" Day, and all through Iraq
Everyone was sleeping, no thoughts of attack.

Their planes were all grounded with Hussein unaware
That Uncle Sam's finest soon would be there.

The soldiers all tossed and turned on their beds
With nightmares of infidels that cut off their heads.

O! Saddam was dreaming and it frightened him too,
For in his nightmare he was strangled by the Red, White & Blue.

When all around Baghdad there arose the dread sound
Of great bombs exploding as their targets they found.

He jumped out of bed, his head all a-fuddle,
He was scared almost senseless and where he stood made a puddle.

Saddam opened the window, saw his city on fire
And wished he had never raised Uncle Sam's ire.

Then what to his trembling eyeballs see
But a squadron of bombers and some F-16s.

There were cruise missiles also, way more than a few
Hussein saw what he dreaded; the Red, White & Blue.

Sam sent them like eagles and thicker than fleas,
Determined to bring Saddam to his knees.

Now dashin', now crushin', keep bombing Iraq,
Liberations begun, there's no turning back.

From the center of Baghdad to the east and the west,
Destroy all your targets and show them who's best!

Like a man that is crazy, Saddam started to cry
"Launch some SCUD missiles up into the sky!"

Shoot them toward Saudia, make sure they're all hits,
We'll show the American's, we'll blow them to bits.

The SCUDs headed southward, their tails all aglow,
He'd kill all Sam's forces like ducks in a row.

But the Allies were ready for Hussein's deadly due
With missiles called Patriots and blew them to hell!

The soldiers who launched them did so with skill.
They did like they practiced, only this wasn't a drill.

The Patriots were fired, Sam knew they'd do well.
They raced toward the SCUDS and blew them to hell!

Sam's forces all shouted and gave high fives of glee,
Iraq was in shambles and Kuwait soon would be free.

Saddam was real worried, things weren't going as planned,
He thought in his bunker, way deep in the sand.

I have missiles and planes, tanks and mines it is true,
But they're all made confetti by the Red, White & Blue.

Uncle Sam pressed on in the war in the East,
The mightiest country protecting the least.

He wouldn't let up till Kuwait's people were free,
And the villain Hussein was brought to his knees.

Americans finest is second to none
And they wouldn't rest until victory was won!

It was an awesome task they faced in the sand.
In that far away place, in that strange barren land.

The sons of liberty from the home of the brave
Sent Saddam's army straight to their grave.

And the whole world watched as tyranny fell
As Hussein joined Satan in his bunker in hell.

Now he knows full well what the world always knew,
You can't touch this - the Red, White & Blue.

Steve Trammell

To the Editor:

Thank you for printing Mark Zimmerman's letter in the January 17 issue. I agree with everything he wrote. Hussein is a power hungry madman, who has shown the world that he cannot be reasoned with, cares nothing about human life or the damage he is doing to the planet's ecology, and he will stop at nothing.

I have a son in the Reserves who could be called to go to the Gulf. I hate war and pray daily for peace. But we must not let Hussein have his way. It is my opinion that the protests held by these idealistic Peace Movements is undermining the efforts of the United Nations and the troops to end another Hitler's aggression.

We hope to retire in the next year to the Manchester area. But if it is indeed another bosom of the New Peace Movement, I'm sure we wouldn't fit it. I shall be reading the paper with interest in the weeks to come. I hope others will also express their support of the President and our troops.

I do wish Christian pacifists would study their Bibles more carefully. There will be no lasting peace until the Prince of Peace comes to rule. And guess how he brings about that peace: "In righteousness he doth judge and make war" (cf. Revelation 19: 11-21).

Sincerely,
Mrs. E.D. Storms

Dear Editor:

I recently contacted BFI to cancel our refuse service. Since my family is active in recycling, we felt that sixty dollars a quarter was too high a price for one bag a week.

Their representative offered the "Bag Program" ($1.85 per bag, using their bags) as an option. We have chosen to continue using their service under this plan.

Interestingly, when I contacted BFI in June of 1990 to begin the service, I advised that we recycle. I asked if they had a program that discounts service for customers with a limited number of bags. I was advised they did not. I have since talked with other BFI customers, who also recycle, that were unaware of the "Bag Program".

The "Bag Program" is a good method to help the "ecological fence sitters" see another benefit in recycling. I will save better than $140 on my annual refuse service. I doubt if cancelling is the only eligibility requirement.

Sincerely yours,
Jeff Whitman

Little Known Facts That Deserve Our Attention

[Reprinted from an article by Ann Landers]

Do you know what happens in the first fatal second after a car going 55 m.p.h. hits a solid object? In the first tenth of the second, the front bumper and grill collapse.

The second tenth finds the hood crumbling, rising and hitting the windshield as the spinning rear wheels lift from the ground. Simultaneously, fenders begin to wrap themselves around the solid object. Although the car's frame has been halted, the rest of the car is still going 55 m.p.h. Instinct causes the driver to stiffen his legs against the crash, and they snap at the knee joint.

During the third tenth of the second, the steering wheel begins to disintegrate, and the steering column aims for the driver's chest.

The fourth tenth of the second finds 2 feet of the car's front end wrecked while the rear end is still moving at 35 m.p.h. The driver's body is still traveling at 55 m.p.h.

In the fifth tenth of the second, the driver is impaled on the steering column, and blood rushes into his lungs.

By the sixth tenth of the second, impact has built to the point where the driver's feet are ripped out of tightly laced shoes. The brake pedal breaks off. The car frame buckles in the middle. The driver's head smashes into the windshield as the rear wheels, still spinning, fall back to the earth.

In the seventh tenth, doors fly open and the seats break free, striking the driver from behind.

The seats striking the driver do not bother him, because he is already dead.

Village of Manchester Non-Acute Total Coliform Notification

The Village of Manchester routinely samples water from several points in the distribution system, and has the samples tested at the laboratory of the state Department of Public Health. Samples taken on January 16, at the end of the North Macomb Street water line, tested positive for coliform bacteria (this indicates an environment in which bacteria could grow.) Subsequent samples taken on January 22 at the same addresses all tested negative for coliform bacteria.

There are several reasons why positive results may have been obtained. (1) Water sampling bottles may have been accidentally left open to air or human touch before they were furnished to the Village. (2) The person taking the sample may accidentally have touched the rim or lid of the bottles before they were sealed up. (3) The flowing water may have picked up something as it left the faucet (in this case, one of the "positive" samples was taken from a seldom-used outside faucet). (4) And, of course, the final reason - the reason for regular testing - is that something may have been in the water itself.

In this case, because all follow-up samples were scientifically tested by the Department of Public Health and found to be "negative" ("clean"), the Village of Manchester is convinced that no problem exists with the water system.

Nevertheless, the earlier "positive" results constituted a violation of the maximum contamination level of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency. The EPA requires publication of the following message:

"The United States Environmental Protection Agency sets drinking water standards and has determined that the presence of total coliforms is a possible health concern. Total coliforms are common in the environment and are generally not harmful in themselves. The presence of these bacteria in drinking water, however, generally is a result of a problem with water treatment or the pipes which distribute the water, and indicates that the water may be contaminated with organisms that can cause disease. Disease symptoms may include diarrhea, cramps, nausea, and possibly jaundice, and any associated headaches and fatigue. These symptoms, however, are not just associated with disease-causing organisms in drinking water, but also may be caused by a number of factors other than your drinking water. EPA has set an enforceable drinking water standard for total coliforms to reduce the risk of these adverse health effects. Drinking water which meets this standard is usually not associated with a health risk from disease-causing bacteria and should be considered safe."

The Village of Manchester is convinced that the tests of the January 22 water samples verified the safe condition of the water supply. The Village will continue to monitor the water system with routine testing, sampling only at the specific locations approved by the Department of Public Health, according to a schedule that meets or exceeds the state requirements.

Money Management

KEEP MORE OF WHAT YOU MAKE: TAX TIPS FOR SMALL BUSINESSES

When it comes to running a business, taxes can be a make-or-break proposition. If you want to increase your after-tax profit, take the time to familiarize yourself with tax laws that can have an impact on your bottom line.

Offset Cost Of Office Equipment

To offset the high cost of office equipment - whether office furniture or a computer system - you can depreciate the equipment over its useful life. For computer equipment, the depreciation period is generally five years. For other depreciable business assets, such as office furniture, the write-off period usually ranges from seven to ten years. But keep in mind that there are certain assets which may be subject to additional restrictions and expense limitations.

As an alternative to depreciation, you may choose a special expensing election. With first-year expensing, you can take an immediate tax deduction for equipment purchases of up to $10,000 per year, as long as that amount does not exceed your business income. You basically treat these equipment costs as current expenses and deduct them in full in the year incurred - just as you would deduct salaries, office supplies and utilities. If the property costs more than $10,000, the excess amount can be depreciated. (The $10,000 limit applies as long as your business equipment purchases are less than $200,000 for the year.)

Here's an example: If you buy a photocopier for $20,000, half of the copier's cost can be taken as an immediate tax deduction. The other $10,000 is depreciated over five years. Expensing gives you the greatest tax boost when you apply it to property that would otherwise have the longest depreciable life.

Deducting Legitimate Business Expenses

As a small business owner, you are allowed to deduct 80 percent of the cost of business meals and entertainment expenses as long as they are directly related to or associated with the active conduct of your business. Generally, this rule means that you must discuss business immediately before, during, or immediately after the meal. In addition, the costs must be reasonable.

To protect your deduction in case the Internal Revenue Service decides to launch an audit, make sure you carefully record the date, place and business purpose of the meal or entertainment, as well as the amount spent, the name of the individual entertained and the business relationship and topic of discussion.

Bear in mind that the rules for overnight business trips allow you to deduct 100 percent of your lodging and travel expenses. Furthermore, the cost of meals while away from home on business are 80 percent deductible, whether or not there is any special business purpose for the meal.

Employing Your Children

When you hire your children to work for your business, you may generally deduct their salaries as a business expense. As an added incentive, the income your children earn will be taxed at their own tax rate, not yours. Most children are taxed at a rate of 15 percent. Bear in mind that deducting wages to a family member may trip an IRS red flag, so handle this situation carefully.

To insure your deduction, your children must actually perform necessary business services and their wages must be in line with what you would pay an outsider. You are also required to withhold taxes from their wages and to provide them with W-2 forms at the end of the year. For children under age 18, however, you do not need to withhold FICA taxes. Finally, CPAs advise you to maintain detailed records of any work your children perform for your business.

For further information on how tax laws can affect your company's profitability, you may want to consult a CPA.

Road Commission Elects Officers

At their January 15, 1991 meeting, the Washtenaw County Board of Road Commissioners elected Norman E. Kennedy as chair and Herman L. Koenn as vice-chair. Mr. Kennedy is a resident of the city of Ypsilanti and has been a Road Commission member since 1981. He previously served as chair of the Road Commission in 1985 and 1986. Mr. Koenn is a resident of Sylvan Township and has been a member of the Board of Road Commissioners since 1983. The third member of the Road Commission, Mr. Fred Veigel, a resident of the city of Ypsilanti, was recently appointed to his first term on the Road Commission.

The Road Commissioners are appointed to staggered six-year terms by the Washtenaw County Board of Commissioners. The Road Commission is responsible for the maintenance and operation of almost 1,500 miles of county roads. The Commission employs a staff of 126 and its 1991 budget totals $16,189. The Board meets on alternating Tuesdays at 1:00 p.m. at their main facility, 555 North Zeeb Road, Ann Arbor, Michigan.

"Whiplash" Neck Injuries

"Whiplash" neck injuries are rapidly building into one of America's greatest health problems.

Ever increasing numbers of vehicles on the highways, increased speed and increased power of the vehicles, and the constantly-growing system of freeways throughout the country, continually expand the opportunity for the type of accident which can result in "whiplash" injuries and agonizing pain.

While such injuries remain little-understood in many branches of the healing arts, the chiropractor, because of his constant training and study of spine & its alignment, is well aware of the significance of even minute changes in the alignment. He realizes that "whiplash" victims really are in need of help.

The chiropractor, through scientific examination, can locate tiny spinal displacements which may result from "whiplash-type" accidents. With competent, gentle adjustments he restores proper alignment to release dangerous nerve pressure and allow nature to restore the body to its normal, healthy condition. Free Tennis Lessons

Many school children around the country are learning to play tennis through their physical education classes thanks to the United States Tennis Association (USTA) Schools Program.

It annually introduces over four million elementary and junior high school students to tennis through clinics and assemblies. Nineteen full-time sectional schools program directors travel throughout the country, showing school instructors how to teach the game to students as part of their physical education classes.

Even if there are no courts at the school, the USTA can teach children tennis skills through a scaled-down version of the game using smaller, portable courts and foam balls. The Association will also help with equipment donations and fundraisers.

When school is out, tennis can be in for young enthusiasts thanks to the USTA's National Junior Tennis League and the USTA trouble. They've got somebody to lean on, and a man that doesn't have to isn't apt to put out his own strength. The only way in which a man can ever amount to anything is by work, hard work.

Junior Team Tennis. The whole family will find tennis is an excellent way to court physical fitness and fun.

For information on USTA programs and tennis, call 1-800-253-USTA.

"The man that doesn't work dwindles and comes to be of no account. And I do hope my boys will want to work. I don't care what they do if they'll only work at it, and work hard and faithfully. I think they're handicapped as it is; I think it would have been better for them to have been born poor, but I hope they'll turn out to be men."

Vickers To Close

Vickers Inc., a Troy-based firm at 800 E. Duncan St., Manchester, has announced that its Manchester plant "will be phased out by mid-year".

Vickers currently employs 59 workers who build hydraulic line power units. This process is being transferred to the firm's technology center in Rochester Hills and the Vickers Special Products Center in Columbia, Missouri.

Vickers' spokesman, Bill Nixon, said some of the Manchester workers will be offered other jobs within the company, and some will be given severance packages and help in placement.

Put In Your Two Cents Worth

What's the Manchester Area Historical Society been up to lately? What kind of projects is it undertaking? What kind of plans should it be making?

These are some of the points on which the discussion will center when the members become a forum at the next Historical Society meeting on Tuesday, February 19.

You are invited to join in the discussion and to share your thoughts on "Directions for the 90's" for the Manchester Area Historical Society.

The meeting begins at 7:30 p.m. at the Blacksmith Shop, 324 E. Main Street.

There is real value to periodically looking at where you have been and where you would like to go. Since the Historical Society was formally organized in 1976, it has served the community with a number of important and worthwhile projects. Like the gift to the Village of the Gazebo. Like funding the microfilming of old Enterprises for the Library. Like the purchase of the Schneider Blacksmith Shop for a museum.

The Society continues its work with on-going projects like video taping a chronicle of each year for future generations. But are there other ideas that you think ought to be addressed? Are there other directions the Historical Society should consider?

Come to the meeting on next Thursday and enjoy the camaraderie and group energy as we

Participation In Recycling

He will also present a brief educational session on the identification of types of plastics. Also present will be Tony Menyhart, a representative of Spectrum Printers of Tecumseh, one of southeast Michigan's largest users of recycled paper products. Mr. Menyhart will speak about the recycling process for printing papers and their application in business communications.

Intersection To Be Made Safer

A dangerous intersection just north of Manchester is to undergo modification, according to Michigan Department of Transportation officials. The intersection is at M-52 and Pleasant Lake Roads in Washtenaw County's Sharon Township. A recent accident at that intersection left a Manchester school employee with several broken bones, and slight damage to the Sharon United Methodist Church which sits on the northwest corner.

In a letter read to the Sharon United Methodist Church during worship February 10, MDOT official Dwight Hornbeck outlined five steps to be taken at the corner. Among them are installing additional left side stop signs, removing or relocating the "Watch for Low Flying Planes" sign from in front of the "Stop Ahead" sign on the westbound intersection approach, and installation of "dual flashing lights and a lighted stop sign...on the overhead support span".

A January 30 meeting between Washtenaw County Road Commission personnel, MDOT officials and over 30 concerned church members and citizens was helpful in prompting these actions, Hornbeck said.

Other ideas were suggested at that meeting, but were rejected. Among those were the installation of a four-way stop and installation of flashing lights on signs in advance of the intersection. So called "rumble strips" on Pleasant Lake Road are also being reviewed, but Hornbeck noted the installation of these is the responsibility of the County.

Any person with comments or concerns about the recommendation from MDOT are invited to call Rev. Erik Alsgaard at 428-8430.

Automobile Trip

The Manchester Enterprise
May 16, 1907

The editor and wife were invited to accompany Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Burtless in an automobile trip to Lansing last Friday and we will say that despite all the unpleasant features of the weather we enjoyed it. We left home at 9 o'clock standard, going over the Spafard plains, passing L.S. Hulbert's, and striking the county line road we proceeded past Wm. Halls', Myron Pierce's, Wm. Haeussler's, then turned west past Charles Nichols' to the road north from Norvell, passing the farms formerly owned by Samuel Campbell, Wm. Freeman and others.

We stopped several times when meeting them and were stopped by a rag peddler halfway up a sand hill, but we made the run in one hour and reached the home of Mr. & Mrs. Herbert Dewey at Grass Lake safe and sound.

While Mr. Burtless treated our friends to a pleasant ride about the beautiful village, we called on Brother Ahrens of the News, found him and his office force busy at work, and he proudly showed us a building in the central part of the business section that he has purchased for an office. We are glad to see these evidences of prosperity and we know that the citizens appreciate his efforts to give them a good newspaper by supporting him liberally.

Grass Lake has some very handsome residences, among which is one owned by Miss Ella

Rose. After dinner we visited awhile with Mr. & Mrs. Dewey and looked up the route from there, intending to go through by way of Stockbridge but finally decided, not knowing the condition of the roads, to go via Jackson. Bidding our friends goodbye, we sped onward, reaching the central city in due time. We stopped there a short time to call on friends. When a few miles from the city, snow began to fill the air and we thought that we were speeding north so fast that we were approaching Alaska. We raised the top and buckled down the front curtain which protected our persons from the storm, but the snow covered the curtain so that Fred had to crane his neck one side in order to see the road. In places the road soon became wet and slippery and our progress was somewhat retarded in consequence, but the steady click, click of the engine sent us flying past farm houses and villages and we stopped not until we reached Mason and there our way was blocked by a freight train.

The storm had not subsided and the sun came out bright, making the balance of the trip most enjoyable. Reaching the capital city, we were soon at home and found a cheerful fire in the grate, which was much appreciated. We were not cold, but somewhat chilly after the long ride.

Automobile is great sport and the Reo touring car is certainly a fine machine, speedy, comfortable and reliable, at any rate when driven by Fred Burtless.

This Month's Opera "Year of Mozart"

This is the "Year of Mozart!" December 5, 1991, will mark 200 years since his death.

All around the world, people are celebrating Mozart this year. There will be concerts and operas and special performances of this greatly gifted composer.

In Manchester, the small group dubbed "The Mozart Society" has been hosting "Opera Night in Manchester" each month. "Not always Mozart," they said, even though it was unanimous that Mozart was their favorite. "We'll alternate months. One month a Mozart opera; the next perhaps Bizet or Humperdinck or Rossini."

Last month the group enjoyed the great Mozart masterpiece, "The Marriage of Figaro". So what will they present this month?

"We will show Mozart again!" they proclaim. "It is, after all, the year of Mozart!"

Come join the gathering at the Blacksmith Shop on Friday evening, February 22, beginning at 8:00 p.m. On the large video screen you can see "Cosi Fan Tutte," Mozart's wonderful comic opera in two acts.

The Italian title translates to mean: All Women are the Same. Hmmm. The libretto tells of a wager between a philosopher and two army officers regarding the fidelity of the women they love.

But it is the music - the music of Mozart - that makes this opera so remarkable. So beautiful. So memorable. So important. So incredible. So necessary for one to experience.

Come see this film version of Sweden's Drottningholm Court Theater perform this masterpiece of Mozart's. It last approximately 140 minutes. And it will be surely a wonderful bit of time! For more information, call 428-8963.
