Appearance and protest of the special assessment at the time and place of review is required in order to appeal the amount of the special assessment to the Michigan Tax Tribunal. An owner of or party in interest in property to be assessed, or his or her agent, may appear in person to protest the special assessment, or may protest the special assessment by letter filed with the drain commissioner at or prior to the time of review, in which case personal appearance is not required. If the special assessment is protested as provided above, the owner or any party having an interest in the real property may file a written appeal of the special assessment with the Michigan Tax Tribunal within 30 days after the confirmation of the special assessment roll.

Sharon Township Board Report

— Anne Rogers Marsh

The Sharon Township Board discussed two variance requests August 1st. The most pressing concerned Bob Sharp of Sharp's Construction. Sharp, whose 5 acre lot is non-conforming, has brought suit against the Township, and Zoning Inspector Gary Blades. The suit requests a judgement of monetary damages as well as a variance for his property. Blades, who entered the meeting late, said that his wife had been served the court papers by having them thrown at her in an abusive fashion.

The five-acre lot was split off from a ninety-acre parcel in the mid-1980's by Leonard Verrelli, who was then the Chairman of the Sharon Township Planning Commission, which created a nonconforming lot at that time. Verrelli still holds a warranty deed on the property, as it was sold under land contract. It is believed that Sharp wishes to develop the lot. Blades said that he didn't deny Sharp a land use permit, but asked him for additional information, as Sharp had no site plan or map. Blades said Sharp filed his suit after this conversation. The court date is August 8th.

The Sharon United Methodist Church is requesting a variance on 6.4 acres on property adjacent to the church on Pleasant Lake Road to build a parking lot and recreational area. John Savage, Chairman of the Sharon Township Board, said "I'm going on public record that I'm in favor of granting the church a variance."

Treasurer Paul Kluwe delivered the Treasurer's Report, which was read and accepted by the Board. The Board also passed a resolution to levy a tax rate increase of 0.9848. "We are conforming to truth in taxation (regulations), and the Headlee rollback," Savage said, "Same resolution as last year."

As state statute requires that delinquent tax funds be made available for public inspection, Kluwe left the documents concerning 1990 delinquencies on a table in the Township Hall.

Bob Ward, Chairman of the Sharon Township Planning Commission, reported on that body's approval of the goals, objectives, and strategies of the new General Development Plan. At Ward's request, the Board approved an extension of the moratorium on regular planning commission business until October 3, while the Commission prepares a zoning map and holds a public hearing.

Board member Willard Blumenauer was appointed Deputy Supervisor of Sharon Township during Savage's vacation.

Anne Rogers Marsh was approved as an alternate delegate to the Washtenaw County Recycling Program, to attend the meetings in Savage's absence.

The Board approved a motion brought by Dwayne Hazelschwert to charge a $25 interment fee for all township cemeteries. Previously, no fee was charged.

The next meeting will be held September 5th.

School Begins August 26

The Manchester Board of Education and the teachers association are in the process of negotiating a new contract.

An agreement has not yet been reached on a school calendar for 1991-92. Both the Board and teachers association have proposed Monday, August 26, 1991 as the starting date of school for students. The first day of school will be a half day for students. Kindergarten students will begin school on Tuesday, August 27th.

A tentative agreement has not been reached on the entire calendar for 1991-92. Therefore, these dates are tentative and subject to change as the bargaining process continues.

Schedule for first day of school:
Kliger 8:45 a.m. - 11:45 a.m.
Middle School 8: 50-11:56
High School 8: 45 a.m.-12:04

Vandals Apprehended Identified as local juveniles, one adult

On May 20, 1991 the Manchester School District was victim to $15,000 of Malicious Destruction of Property which was caused by unknown persons puncturing 72 tires on the school buses. On July 15, 1991 the School Board approved offering a $500 reward for information leading to and conviction of the person(s) involved in the incident.

Information was subsequently received which lead to the identification of one adult and three juveniles who were involved in the incident. All those identified are students in the Manchester School District. Names are being withheld pending authorization and arraignment. It is the request of the informant that the reward money be donated to a local charity.

Winner of Recipe Contest Announced

Being judges for the Blueberry Muffin Contest was a more difficult task than we anticipated. One reason was because the community response was overwhelming! Starting at high noon we received blueberry muffins galore, and at 6 p.m., when the last group of muffins were entered, the judging became even more challenging.

Excitement had been building all day and finally it was time to sample the muffins. Each muffin was unique in its taste, texture and appearance. Heart-shaped muffins with ton o' blueberries gushing out was a conversation piece among the judges, but not for very long because we couldn't wait to dig in!

All of the entrants should be commended. We didn't know Manchester was the home of marvelous bakers, which made it tough narrowing it down to just one winner. We did, however, come to a consensus. But first, honorable mention goes to Jane Worthy-Howlett, Elsie O'Dell, Donna Stockwell, Chris Brooks, Betty Schwab and Ardie Rose. To find out the winner and the award-winning recipe, please see page 6.

First Manchester Golf Scramble

On Sunday, August 25, 1991 at 8:15 the shotgun will be fired signifying the start of the First Manchester Golf Scramble. The outing is open to anyone who wishes to participate. We will draw names for teams just prior to the shotgun start. Each team will consist of an A, B, C and D player which will be determined by the average scores turned in.

Individual men's and women's and team prizes will be awarded for a wide variety of successes on every hole ranging from closest to the pins, accurate and longest drives, longest putts, team skins, having the correct number on your ticket stub. Local merchants, businesses, and individuals have generously donated 75 prizes so far.

While friendly competition is a part of any scramble, the intent of this outing is to have a good time and enjoy each other's company. This is why we are drawing for teams.

In addition to 18 holes of golf, and a cart, Green Valley will us.

be providing a continental breakfast, hot dogs at lunch, and a steak dinner following the golf. If your spouse or friend chooses not to play golf, but wishes to join up afterwards for the steak dinner, he or she is invited to buy dinner-only ticket.

Tickets are on sale at Keith's Barbershop, Krauss Pharmacy, Great Lakes Bancorp, Comerica, First of America and the Community Resource Center who is the sponsor of this event. When you buy tickets, please enter your average score on the registration so we can evenly match teams.

The cost for the golf day is $35 and the dinner-only ticket cost is $8. Green Valley is located on M-50 (Brooklyn Road) minutes west of Napoleon on the left side of the road. If you would like any additional information, contact Dick Kuntz at 428-7777, Chris Brooks at 428-8695, or the CRC at 428-7722. Look for other details in the Enterprise.

Food and Spirits:

—Don and Emory

Occasionally, when you dine out a lot, a restaurant can become rather mundane. Prices can seem to be high, food quality that does not strike your fancy, in short eating becomes a chore or a necessary evil. Not so, however, with the following restaurant.

We wish to introduce you to the COUNTRY BRUNCH CAFE located at the Michigan Livestock Exchange on North M-52. Here, folks, is where you can get just good old plain MIDWESTERN COOKIN'. Good food at honest prices, nothing fancy, oilcloth table covering with placemats, simple straight forward dishes and silverware.

Ron and Cynthia Brown are the proprietors. Ron is from Hillsdale County, Walden area, who worked in the carpentry trade and machinery trade before being injured. After Ron's injury he worked at Frank's Italian Pizza where he learned about the restaurant business. Cynthia Pegouskie Brown, the pretty half of the Ron and Cynthia team, is a native of Willis, Michigan. They met at a horse show in Detroit and moved to Manchester in February 1990. Cynthia, a graduate of Washtenaw Community College and EMU with majors in two fields, Security and Radiation, worked for Domino's Farms before she and Ron took over the Country Brunch Cafe. Ron took over the operations from Frank's wife, Tina, in December of 1990.

Open seven days—5:30 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. weekdays, Saturday from 7:00 to 2:00 and Sunday from 8:00 to 2:00—makes a very long week. The operation is primarily breakfast oriented. Starting with two eggs and toast at $1.50 to steak and eggs for $4.95. The three most popular entrees are: the #4 Two Eggs, American fries, choice of bacon or sausage, with toast at $2.80; the Country Pleaser with 3 eggs, choice bacon or sausage, American fries and toast; Western omelette, a three-egg delight served with American fries and toast. Some of the other entrees available are: Corned Beef Hash Platter; Cheese, Ham and Cheese, Sausage and Cheese or Vegetarian Omelettes; Butter milk or Blueberry Pancakes; French Toast; or Homemade Biscuits and Gravy. Side orders include Muffins, Farmer Fries and Sausage Gravy, Corned Beef Hash, Bacon, Sausage or Ham Steak.

Lunch has the usual sandwiches: Chicken, Stacked Ham, Stacked Turkey, Grilled Cheese, Grilled Ham and Cheese, BLT, Steak Hoagie, Roast Beef, Fish, Club, Burger, Cheeseburger, Bacon Cheeseburger, Mushroom Burger, Hot dog, Chili Dog, priced from $1.50 to $3.55. Luncheon entrees that include soup or salad, potato, vegetable and bread start out with Roast Beef, New York Steak, Meatloaf, Ham, Cod, Shrimp Basket w/fries, Chicken Strip Basket w/fries range in price from $4.25 to $6.65. Children's platters are available along with beverages and desserts. Prices cannot be beaten, quality is good to excellent, portions are good sized and prepared in the old fashioned midwestern manner.

Most of Ron and Cynthia's customers are from the local area, mostly farmers, construction workers or early morning workers that appreciate good food at reasonable prices. Michigan Livestock employees and people that use the livestock facilities make up a good portion of the trade. Midwest Ford employees quite often have both their breakfast and lunch at the cafe.

The Second Front Page: Focus on — Manchester On The Road

Occasionally you'll see a guy that hangs around the library fixing things. Or you'll see him volunteering in some of our community events. His dark complexion and beard distinguishes his friendly face and gentle eyes. He goes by the name of Monte. Formally he's Monte Jackson, married to Dorothy Davies, a.k.a. head librarian.

I wouldn't have found out about the topic discussed had he not during some of our conversations talked about what he does. And what he does is drive trucks; big trucks. I figure at least a few Manchester area people do the same, and heaven knows all of us commuters interact with big rigs on the expressway everyday. So I've got the news. I hope you'll at least gain some perspective about trucks, trucking, and the drivers who shift the gears and pull the freight. If anyone can talk about it truthfully and in representative fashion, it's Monte, one of Manchester's best citizens.

You may have noticed that more big trucks pull up and down the freeways than ever before. Monte says that it's a fact, and reflects the continued expansion of production and distribution of goods. Over-the-road trucks have two classifications; truckload industry and LTL freight. The first type carries freight from point of origin to destination, usually for just one company, with that company's product. LTL stands for "light truck load" and carries freight from many companies in one trailer with the same destination. You'll see perhaps 10 major companies that do LTL freight, including Carolina, Red Ball, G.I., and Consolidated Freight. Monte says that the best job situation is working for a company with a private fleet of trucks, but this approach lacks cost effectiveness and so many freight jobs are contracted out. Owner-operators pick up some of this contract work but this requires a sizeable investment and long hours on the road to earn a fair living.

What's it like in a big rig? You have a room with a view, sitting up high, lots of mirrors, a chance to see things developing down the road that we passenger car drivers can't. Sometimes the ride is real smooth, especially if your rig has the name Peterbilt. Air-cushioned ride, air cushioned seats, leather, good sound system, panoramic view. Or the ride can be Chevy-style, and who's complaining, with trucks by the name of International, Freightliner, Kenworth, Western Star, Ford, and G.M. Typically a truck has 10 or 13 forward gears. Imagine a five-speed on a car with a knob that pulls up to get you through gears 6 through 10 when you start building some speed. The 13 speed is somewhat more challenging, but preferred by Monte.

All trucks must have air conditioning by law, the reason to be explained. Hours on the road makes music and news an important part of breaking the silence in the cab. Monte will turn on the radio for half of any trip. What he and fellow professionals won't do is abuse the CB radio. He said it was difficult in the 70's when CB's were the rage, because the airwaves were frequently jammed and couldn't be used for their intended purpose: accidents, bad roads, and weather-related warnings. He feels CB abuse still exists.

A trucker by law can't drive more than 10 hours a day and must take an eight hour break between 10 hour periods. And you can't log more than 70 hours of work in any eight day period. You carry a daily log that reports how your time is spent in 15 minute increments. Entries include "driving", "on duty-not driving", "sleeping berth", and "off duty". The specificity of this log, a document that the Department of Transportation can check upon request, should keep drivers honest. But, in reality, a trucker can work a log in a way to hide hours on the road, something many do in order to make more money. Union scale is $4.1 per mile, so you'd need to put in some hours in order to maintain a comfortable lifestyle and, in the case of owner-operators, cover expenses.

Driving long hours creates the situation that Monte feels is the most dangerous about his job: staying awake. He says the best time to drive is during the day, naturally. When it's nighttime you want to sleep. Late night driving creates gruesome accidents, and Monte has seen his fair share of them. He spoke with emotion when telling me of some of the accident situations, truck and auto, he's given aid to. He'll stop if first on the scene, death not excluded. He laments the number of truckers who take drugs and drink alcohol, but reminded me that this situation has cleaned its act up as of late.

He feels that as a professional, courtesy and safety rank as his priorities, and he gets angry with any trucker who doesn't work to this credo. What burns him up more than anything is a trucker who rides the bumper of a car. His advice is, "If a truck is obnoxious, get out of the way."

80,000 pounds of metal on wheels deserves professional attention by its driver, and plenty of respect from us autojockeys. Monte feels automobile drivers do a pretty good job around him when he's on the road; it's not often a car decides to play macho with his rig. Of course the advantage goes to 40 tons, even on crowded city streets.

Lately you may have seen double trailers going up and down 75 and on the turnpikes. You probably have seen triple trailers too. Monte says that double trailers give him more flexibility on the road; they turn better. He didn't have much to say about triple trailers other than competing with rail carriers, and scaring passenger cars.

Most truckers sleep in their trucks and for good reason. It's cheap. You may have noticed that trucks at rest overnight keep their motors running. That's because they power the air conditioners in summer, and heaters in winter. You can't have portable heating or cooling equipment in a truck cab by law so it has to be built in. A typical truck burns off a gallon of diesel fuel every hour. An eight hour sleep costs eight bucks. Cheaper than a motel. And fuel you ask? How about a 450-500 gallon capacity for one truck? How about five miles to the gallon going down the road? Those streamlined Freightliners do seven to eight miles to the gallon. I wonder how much attention has been given towards helping the trucking industry improve its fleet average.

Monte told me some good stories, not printable for this column, smacking of good-old-boy scenarios and truckstop activity of a varied nature. The reality, however, is of a professional job that carries big responsibility, long hours, time for much contemplation, and yet something that Monte hasn't tired of or grown bored doing. After talking with him, I have a respect for the job and those who handle the driving chores. Try driving upwards of 2,500 to 3,500 miles per week, at odd hours, in nature's weather, with man's propensity for doing weird things on the road, and you'll have an interesting life. Thanks, Monte.

OUT AND ABOUT

—by gar

ADVERSITY, defined in Webster's New World Dictionary as affliction, misfortune, difficulty, trouble, etc. Sometimes it seems as though we, individually as human beings and particularly if we are feeling a little down or blue, are faced with nothing but troubles. Indeed on occasion we have all felt the sun could not possibly come over the horizon ever again. It always has, hasn't it?

I have a friend, soon to have a birthday, who truly personifies the definition of adversity. Now he will not allow you to feel sorry for him, nor will he tolerate pity or the semblance of your expressed sorrow. However, having known him for over 20 years, he probably is saying, "Why me, Lord?" I will call this friend Tim, and share some of the things that have happened in his life.

We started our respective businesses within a year of each other. My firm would build the designs that Tim's firm developed. Over the years a mutual respect developed for each other's abilities. Tim had some top-notch people working for and with him and their work was and is highly acclaimed. Over the years, the partners in his firm changed and developed as the needs of that business changed and developed. We would sit and commiserate over lunch or dinner, most of the time with our favorite drinks, and ask each other how long could we tolerate the rat race of business. I sold out in 1986, and Tim was putting the pieces together to be out of business in '92 or '93.

Unfortunately some things are not working out as planned. About a year ago his eyesight became blurry and several eye examinations could not disclose any particular disorder. During the late summer, while addressing some bankers and introducing new partners, Tim had what appeared to be a stroke.

Three brain tumors were discovered, an operation for the largest tumor would be performed and the other two would be treated with radiation and chemo. Complications developed, pneumonia, extreme fatigue and the entire gauntlet of reactions to chemo. The brain tumors were apparently controlled, however, the eyesight was still a problem. Cancer of a different type was diagnosed behind the eyes. Radiation and chemo of a different type and now the last of the chemo treatments and a hoped-for cure.

Additionally, this family has experienced other problems. An auto accident partially paralyzed a son, a mother is in a nursing home with some other problems of a health nature.

Tim and his family are not unique. As we look around adversity seems to strike many, many people. The emotional problems encountered in life have to be faced and dealt with for those have solutions we can decide. Health problems we are at the mercy of fate or the skill of the doctor. Life sometimes does not seem fair but it is the only game we have to play.

Happy Birthday, dear friend. I hope the next year is better than the last.

Letter to the Editor:

To set the record straight — the County Health Department had nothing to do with the food not being run at the fair. In fact, the fair food concessions are governed by the State Department of Health, not the county. We can speak for the last four years of food tent operation. The inspectors were friendly and helpful.

One of the reasons there is no longer a food tent is that no one would be chairman of the project. It's a big job, but fun and rewarding.

Over the years the food tent had become a wonderful tradition. It was homemade pies, chili, macaroni and cheese. You could eat breakfast, lunch, snacks, or a delicious daily dinner special. It brought the community together in work and conversation. It was a great meeting place and is sadly missed.

Thank you, Gar, for bringing up the subject of the food tent. Maybe we've managed to stir up an interest in it again. We still have all the records and are willing to help someone get it started.

The 1991 Manchester Community Fair was very nice and enjoyed by many. But, there was something missing — the fabulous food tent.

Volleyball Anyone?

Summer is not over yet! Still several weeks of good, warm weather to enjoy playing volleyball during the months of August and September. The volleyball court at Carr Park has been used on a regular basis during the summer. After work, weekends and evenings, groups gather at the park for great fun.

The Community Resource Center has made a few contacts to industries and organizations with the invitation to organize volleyball teams for a short season of play. Contact people from each group will come together to set up game rules and schedules.

Any organization or business interested in forming a team can contact the Community Resource Center 428-7722 or 428-8976 by August 12.

The series of games will include tournament games at Carr Park on September 15 hosted by the Manchester Kiwanis Club, who will sponsor a pig roast that day.

1990 Volleyball tournament participants were Manchester Men's Club, Manchester Kiwanis, Knights of Columbus and Soules group.

The Knights of Columbus claimed the prize ball for their display in 1990. WHO WILL BE THE WINNER IN 1991?

Senior Citizens News

—T. V. Ludwick

What a summer! Blowing hot or cold as it is now and makes you wonder where the fireflies and mosquitoes went? Moisture is needed for both, we decided at the picnic table while playing pedro (women are ahead as of Sunday). Rubena reports that the senior picnic at Carr Park had 24 in attendance with lots of good food and unusual white elephant prizes. I'll bet they had fun, too — they are a fun-loving bunch of seniors. She also remarked about enjoying the river boat cruise in Frankenmuth which included local entertainment. We have more than one comedian in our group, so why tell us that they had a hard time to control Elsie? Don't fret, friend, life is supposed to be enjoyed. Remember that article telling us "You can do as you please when you are eighty"? (I plan to.)

Saturday, August 10: The bus will leave the Center at 10:00 a.m. for Hillsdale and the Fiddler's Convention viewing. You may check with Erma at 428-8707 to see if there is still room on the bus for you.

Monday, August 12: It's back to Frankenmuth! Departure time from the Center will be at 12 noon for the Music Festival. Call Erma Alber. Do our bus drivers ever get lost? Occasionally, they tell me — welcome to the crowd, I've been lost all over the place.

Tuesday, August 13: Senior Citizens' Council meeting begins at 9:30, come with your ideas. At 10:45 work will begin on the September-October Trumpeter calendar. Thanks to replies for help in gathering recipes, all you good cooks.

Wednesday, August 14: You are invited to go along to the Saline Home and visit our Manchester friends who reside there. The bus leaves the Center at 11:30. Call Erma to be placed on the list.

Looking ahead: To finish a busy week, there is a 6:15 pickup for the Saline Senior Citizens' Card Party. Erma will again take your reservation. Thanks, Erma and Earl for your dedication to all of us.

COMMUNITY NEWS

3rd Annual Double AA Alumni Picnic

Employees at Double A have always said they felt like one big family. Double A opened its Manchester doors in 1939 and employed as many as 400 people in any one year. The plant was purchased by Vickers Incorporated, a Trivona company in 1985. Vickers closed the plant in 1987 leaving the Double A family homeless and scattered across the country.

Like the family they are, the Double A employees have remained close. This Saturday, August 10, will be the third annual Alumni picnic at Carr Park in Manchester. The picnic will start at noon with lunch at 1 p.m. and a short meeting at 2 p.m.

Alumni and their families are asked to bring a dish to pass, beverage and table service for themselves and their family. A grill and charcoal will be furnished for those wishing to grill hamburgers and hot dogs.

Pilot Industries, the new owners of the old Double A plant, have graciously offered tours of their new facilities to the alumni and their families after 2 p.m.

Double A Alumni includes people who at some time in their life received a Double A paycheck and husbands/wives of deceased alumni. Since Double A employees are scattered throughout the country, the news of this third meeting will have to be spread mostly through word of mouth. There are flyers posted throughout Manchester.

The Double A Alumni organization was originated through the Community Resource Center (CRC) in Manchester. The CRC is an outgrowth of the Double A closing and is dedicated to assessing the needs of Manchester and coordinating educational, recreational, housing and other activities.

If you are or know a former Double A employee, spread the word. If you have any questions, you may contact Dick Kuntz at 428-7777 or Diane Schwab at CRC headquarters, 428-7722. The spirit lives on.

Volunteer Marilyn LaRock Honored

Marilyn LaRock is being featured this week by the Community Resource Center as one of the outstanding volunteers honored on May 1, 1991.

Marilyn's volunteer service is being recognized by the American Legion Auxiliary. She has been an active member for 12 years. She has and is now holding the position as Unit Secretary.

One of Marilyn's great accomplishments was to complete her idea of having a picture of each Commander of the American Legion and each President of the Auxiliary from the date of the charter in 1919 up to the present year. She spent many hours gathering snapshots, studio pictures and information of the 81 Commanders and Presidents. After they were all collected they were placed in matching frames with name plates and are on display in the American Legion Hall. She did this in honor and memory of her husband, Robert (Rocky) LaRock. Stop in and see a bit of Manchester history.

Marilyn's most recent project was the operation Desert Shield window at Baker's Dozen. She helped organize the group of ladies who made and displayed the red, white and blue ribbons and bows worn by countless people.

Marilyn coordinated opportunities for many people of our community to share loving and patriotic thoughts as they worked together on projects associated with the war.

Among other projects Marilyn has done is to prepare schedules for lady bingo workers, which is so very important as the money the Auxiliary earns from bingo goes for projects such as flags for the schools and Village buildings, athletic projects, people in need and more. She has worked with the blood bank, and sold Memorial Day poppies, and her newest project is working with one of the Legion men to plan an extra special Memorial Day Parade to honor our military people wherever they are.

Marilyn, your Legion Auxiliary "Hat" is well worn.

Michigan Farm Numbers Stabilize

The number of farms in Michigan during 1991 is estimated at 54,000 farms, the same as last year, according to the Federal/State Michigan Agricultural Statistics Service. This is the first year since 1983 that farm numbers have not showed a yearly decline. Michigan has 10.8 million acres of land in farms, unchanged from the previous two years. The average size of a Michigan farm in 1991 is 200 acres.

Of all Michigan farms, 8,000 were in the $100,000 and over economic sales classes. These large farms operated a total of 6 million acres. Farms with sales between $10,000 and $99,999 accounted for 18,000 farms and 3.3 million acres. Farms with sales between $1,000 and $9,999 represented 28,000 farms and 1.5 million acres. Farmland numbers and acreage within economic sales classes did not change from last year.

A farm is defined as "any establishment from which $1,000 or more of agricultural products were sold or would normally be sold during the year" and must be operating on June 1. Land in farms includes: crop and livestock acreage, wasteland, woodland, pasture, land in summer fallow, idle cropland, and land enrolled in conservation reserve program and other set-aside or commodity acreage programs. It excludes all land operated by establishments not qualifying as farms.

The number of farms in the U.S. in 1991 is estimated at 2,105, down 2 percent from 1990. Total land in farms is 983 million acres, fractionally below last year. The number of farms has continued to decline faster than land in farms, with average farm size increasing from 461 acres in 1990 to 467 in 1991. Texas held its position as the state with the most farms, 185,000, down 1,000

Gazebo Concerts: Only Two More To Enjoy

A surprisingly large audience came in from the heat last Thursday evening to enjoy the comfort of air conditioning in St. Mary's Church and to hear some of the music she has studied and come to love.

Perhaps the surprise of the evening came when members of the Manchester Chamber Orchestra took their places on stage. They range in age from seven years old to, well, "senior" status, and their experience levels span from beginning students to professional musicians. The one important thing they share is an undeniable love for music.

Next to take the stage was an ensemble named the Tree City Strings. Members Denise Turk, Linda Shapanka, Catherine Franklin and Amy Kuras gave a very exciting reading of Dvorak's "American" String Quartet. They were then joined by cellist, Kirk Montgomery, to play the Allegro movement of a string quintet by Schubert. Their performance was polished and sensitive, and it received an enthusiastic response from the audience.

Organist Marjrim Thoene, of St. Mary's Church played some lovely Spanish and Italian music with the help of flutist Rhee Kyung Kim and percussionists Jay Diane DuRussel and Jesse Thoene. Marjrim is a frequent recitalist on both organ and harpsicord, and it was a real treat to hear her perform some of the music she has studied and come to love.

soon at the Performance Network in Ann Arbor; and Mark Palms, a songwriter with Maxton Bay and a member of Manchester's own Raisin Pickers, will take turns on stage with their original works. See you there at 7:30 p.m.

Next week, August 15, is the final concert of the gazebo summer series. In the tradition of many midwest small towns, the Manchester Community Band will fill the park with sounds of Sousa and swing. Bring your blankets and lawn chairs, maybe pack a picnic. Relax in the historic atmosphere of our little gazebo in the park.

Concerts are open to the public, free of charge. Donations are gratefully accepted, either in the donation cans at the park or by mailing checks made payable to the Manchester Recreation Task Force c/o the Community Resource Center, 122 West Main Street.

In case of rain, concerts will take place across the street in the Emanuel Church gym. Call 428-7722 for concert updates.

The Village of Manchester Planning Commission is conducting a series of public workshops as part of the Village's General Development Plan revision process. The current General Development Plan was adopted in 1967, and is being revised to reflect the many changes which have occurred within the Village since that time.

In order to develop a plan which represents the community's vision of its future, the Planning Commission is seeking citizen input, and encourages all citizens interested in contributing to the General Development Plan to attend at least one public workshop. Public Workshop I was held Tuesday, May 28, 1991. At this workshop the community planning issue which need to be addressed in the General Development Plan were identified.

The Public Workshop II is scheduled for Tuesday, September 17, 1991 (rescheduled from August 20, 1991, at the Emanuel Fellowship Hall). The purpose of the second workshop is to develop community goals and policies to guide future land use and development within the Village. The Planning Commission wishes to stress that attendance at the first public workshop is not a prerequisite for attendance at future General Development Plan Workshops.

Public Workshop II will be held at the Knights of Columbus Hall located at 106 East Madison, Manchester, Michigan. For more information, please call Bob Daverman, Village Planning Commission Chairman at 428-9367 (evenings) or Emily Palacios of Carlisle Associates at 662-2200 (days).

Sharon Township P.C. Discusses Land Conditions Relative to Development

—Anne Rogers Marsh

With a draft of the new Existing Land Use map and a Soil Permeability map on the table before them, the Sharon Township Planning Commissioners evaluated and discussed what natural features and soil conditions should mean for future development.

As displayed at the work session on August 8, the draft of the Land Use Map showed color-coded features such as wetlands, steep slopes (defined as an 18 percent rise or above), floodplains and water recharge areas.

Bob Ward, Chairman of the Planning Commission, commented that maps which show recharge areas help planners set density standards, as such maps show how many septic fields an area will support without well contamination.

The Soil Permeability Map shows not just which areas have permeable soils, but the rate at which water perks. Commission Secretary Sandra Thomson explained that if water flows too quickly through the soil, it does not allow a septic field to operate efficiently. Thomson related that her former well was contaminated by the septic field due to fast soil permeability.

The map showed that the zoned residential area just to the north of Manchester Township has very fast-perking soils. This area is within the Manchester municipal well field, and the commission voiced concern that septic fields there could carry the potential for contamination.

Ward raised the possible strategy of creating a new residential zoning district requiring one dwelling per five acres in the area near Manchester to deal with rapid infiltration rates. But Commissioner Tom Lavender said "I'm very concerned that we get the proper legal advice," noting that property owners who planned to sell one acre lots might cry discrimination if the area was rezoned to a five-acre lot requirement.

In considering a plan for future residential development, Ward and Zoning Inspector Gary Blades pointed to the R2 area north of Manchester as being a perfect place for Planned Unit Developments (PUDs). Blades explained that a PUD would give the township control in requesting that property owners submit a plan designed to avoid groundwater contamination.

It was decided to leave the zoning of the area unchanged for the present.

The Commission also voted not to enlarge mapped areas for commercial or industrial zoning, as there is undeveloped land available for both.

At the conclusion of the meeting, the Commission decided to follow the zoning map in the creation of a planning map, noting that the planning map could be redrawn in the future to reflect township needs.

Soviet Woman Visits

On August 7, we had a wonderful intercultural experience at the Enterprise when a geneticist from the Ukrainian republic and her Manchester hostess, Charlotte Major, observed operations at our American newspaper.

Dr. Tamara Shevchenko, a professor at the Institute of Molecular Biology and Genetics Academy of Sciences, and Charlotte have now been friends for three years. They met when Charlotte ran a marathon in the Soviet Union. At that time Tamara had just recently learned to speak English and when they met Tamara took advantage of the opportunity to practice her second language.

They have since corresponded by mail and have extended the friendship down the generations so that Tamara's daughter and Charlotte's niece are also developing a friendship through letters.

Tamara came to the United States for a 5-day conference held at Stanford University in California. The Manchester Enterprise wasn't her only stop in Michigan. Charlotte took Tamara to a wedding, an experience Charlotte was a le to enjoy when she visited the Soviet Union.

Charlotte yes to visit the Soviet Union a Tamara with her niece in the net ture.
