The Manchester Hospital?

When we first purchased our home in Manchester, people would ask where we lived. One of the frequent comments was, "Oh, yes. Mrs. Gumper's house."

A few years ago, while our children were at

Library story hour, the historical room was opened up for mothers to sit and visit, while the library wasn't officially "open". One day we found two books sitting on the table - birth and death records for Manchester. While browsing I found several references to births happening at Mrs. Gumper's Private Hospital" or, simply "Gumper Hospital". Several months later a knock at the door on a Saturday led us further into what may have happened at "Mrs. Gumper's house."

Marsha Johnson Chartrand had been used for the births (we didn't know), and who Mrs. Gumper was (we didn't know that either). But her longing to learn about her origins was so strong that it made us want to find out more about the house, too.

We became fascinated as we learned more. We would hear tales of "the hospital" or someone who was born in our house. Eleanor was evidently a midwife of sorts in the 1930's and 1940's. Chances are, if you weren't born here, you probably know someone who was.

Dorothy Adams Rogers, who was Mrs. Gumper's neighbor from the early 1940's on, recalls her wearing a crisp white uniform, and assisting doctors at routine tonsillectomies, appendectomies and births in the 1930's and early 1940's. Doctors would refer deliveries to her home/hospital. Among the doctors who signed birth certificates were Drs. Schuerer and Kent of Manchester, and Dr. Hornsby of Clinton. After the war she stopped doing births and did home nursing care for elderly people, continuing this until the early 1950's.

At the auction when her house was sold, among the items for sale was an operating table. Dorothy had a baby bed for her first child which Mrs. Gumper had given her. The two front rooms of the home, which would have otherwise served as living and dining rooms, were used as hospital rooms and were set up with beds. A large mangle (translated for us modern folk: an ironing machine) was kept in the kitchen to maintain the spotless white linens she used in the hospital.

Marie Gilbert's recollections of having her daughter, Nondus Gilbert Buss, in Mrs. Gumper's Private Hospital" were that you normally needed a reservation to deliver your baby there. She had been planning a home birth; however the baby was coming early and Dr. Kent called Mrs. Gumper to see if a room was available. The "hospital" room was prepared for another mother who had not yet delivered, so Mrs. Gumper said to come along. On the third day after Nondus' birth, the mother with the reservation came to give birth and Marie was first moved to another bed, then sent home in an ambulance to rest up in bed for another week. At this time, the normal recovery period was ten days...on the ninth day Mrs. Gumper might let you sit up and dangle your feet off the bed.

Florence Paul delivered her youngest son, Bob, in Mrs. Gumper's hospital on an "emergency" basis as well. Having delivered all her other children in the hospital, she recalls this as having a "homey" atmosphere. Both Florence and Marie recall Mrs. Gumper as an adept and knowledgeable practical nurse, who was very good at coaching childbirth. Florence also remembers that she was a good cook who fed them well while they were in her care!

The last baby who was born in Mrs. Gumper's home was Ian Luc Chartrand, on October 1984, while the Tigers were winning the World Series and the Manchester Flying Dutchmen were playing football at Alumni Field. Footnote: Mrs. Gumper died on March 2, 1976

Jon Vacation's

Our Jon Hardenbergh is vacationing at B.A.R.S.S. (Barass Adult Residential Support Service) up state. Note the pretty gal Jon's with.

The new photojournalist on the scene at Lakeshore Woods is resident Jon Hardenbergh. "They took the 'H' out of Jon and stuck it on the end of my name," he quipped when we first met. Jon owns a photo shop in Manchester Michigan, a town of about 1800 souls just south of Ann Arbor, and has written the sports column for 20 years for the town tabloid. All this from a wheelchair. "I was born with a rare hereditary disease called Freidricks Ataxia," he said, explaining his need for the chair. "It attacks the nerves and affects the balance." Jon loved sports and was active in all of them until he was about thirteen years old when his disease began to manifest itself, then he became manager of all the teams instead of playing. He attended the local high school in Manchester, graduated in 1968, and went to college at Ferris State for two years, though he had been in a wheelchair since he was seventeen. It was after one of the summer baseball games when he and his Dad went to a local pub to celebrate that the brand new owner, (Simon) of the

Recycling Authority To Consider Private Offers

Last week Browning-Ferris Industries and Mr. Rubbish came to the Western Washtenaw Recycling Authority to propose that they could handle all of the area's recyclables. As recently as December, private trash haulers could not provide recycling service at the Authority's rate of $17 per household in the townships, and $30 in the villages. Each waste hauler was willing to come up with a variety of proposals to meet the Authority's needs. Both BFI and Mr. Rubbish have new facilities in Washtenaw county to process recyclables. They are capable of offering a low rate for recycling if the home owner also contracts for trash hauling. Many questions were raised by board members. Whether the private sector can achieve the same results as stipulated in the grant for less money was a major concern. How the DNR grant for the original project would be affected was another question. In order to meet the deadline set by the DNR, the Authority will have to make a quick decision on any private sector offers. It was expected that this meeting would deal with choosing a contractor for the processing building and

Christmas In April — R. Zang

You may have heard about, or read about last Saturday's Christmas in April events around Washtenaw County. This day was designated as a national "annual one-day blitz to repair and rehabilitate the homes of poor, elderly and handicapped," no strings attached, organized by volunteers, and employing skilled and non-skilled workers to get the work done.

Manchester, far south-west, tucked into a corner of the county, almost missed it. But as usual, someone stepped forward, got the ball rolling, and made Christmas in April a reality for our own citizens.

The "who," go by the names of Martha Mackres, John Hinkley, and Diane Schwab, along with the others whose names or businesses or organizations appear in another part of this newspaper. The "what" goes by the work done in the form of yard clean-up, window glazing, window washing, painting, scrubbing, trash removal, electrical repair and installation, and plumbing. The "why" goes by names of desire, willingness, and effort by Manchester people to help those who wouldn't be able to do these things for themselves.

Martha Mackres was the one who spearheaded the Manchester effort, and told me that she got involved after attending an employee meeting at Great Lakes Bancorp in Ann Arbor. This meeting, headed by the chairman of the Washtenaw County Christmas in April task force and Great Lakes first vice president Tom Bowler, asked for volunteers to get involved in area community efforts. Martha, upon hearing that Manchester was not included on the original list of designated sites, took it upon herself to make sure we were. John Hinkley and Diane Schwab in turn were convinced by Martha that this was a good thing, and helped her with the organizing.

It's funny though how new things struggle to succeed. People tend to be hesitant, involvement sporadic, the outcome in question, until the very day it happens. With this in mind, the planners decided to go slow and not bite off more than they could chew. They also wanted to make sure all volunteers felt needed and actually had something to do. A total of five houses were selected to accommodate the fifty original volunteers.

I do believe it snowed in the early morning of this mid-Christmas event, but Martha stated that nearly everyone showed up to help. Those that planned to do yardwork at a couple of the sites were initially hindered by the elements and so decided to postpone part of their work, guaranteeing its completion at a later date. Others went at it anyhow, and as I traveled to the various locations, I witnessed leaves raked into huge piles and loaded into pick-ups, tree and plant debris piled and carted off, as well as an assortment of yard waste thrown into trucks for disposal.

Volunteers all wore white tee-shirts with the identifying green outlined house and "Christmas in April" logo. And sandwich boards identified two of the houses that had the greatest flurry of activity. Upwards of twenty volunteers were seen at one of the sites, each man, woman, or teen performing the tasks predetermined for them to do. I can't speak for initial confusion when that many bodies converge on one house, but what I saw later in the afternoon was a beehive of activity, laced with the smell of cleaning fluids, sawdust, caulk, and paint.

The homeowners watched with a sense of bewilderment, and obvious appreciation. I could see it written all over their faces, and their comments ranged from, "This is fantastic!" to, "This seems so good to have it done."

You knew it was a good thing, and the volunteers amazed themselves with their energy and strong feeling of camaraderie. Martha said the ages of volunteers ranged from young teen to adult, men and women in equal numbers, working side-by-side. Each had a gleam in their eye, and their comments to me were,

"This is fun; We're doing this because it feels good; There's lots of elderly people in the community who need this help; I never imagined people could make such a difference; I'm definitely coming back next year."

done to dwellings. And the purpose is to help, no strings attached, no dotted lines to sign, no condescension. Second, if you are the type who are looking for something neat to do for your community once a year as part of a group effort, this makes a great choice. Who knows? Fifteen houses? Twenty? Seventy-five volunteers? One-hundred? You got it. Manchester.

The feeling was that in spite of the weather conditions and first time "we're not sure how things will turn out" uncertainty, the effort was a near-total success. Martha, an engaging personality, talked to me in the aftermath, and fairly gushed with praise for all those involved. And what about next year? Martha hopes more Manchester people get involved in Christmas in April II, but in two ways. First, it was difficult to get names of individuals who could ben-

Out and About — by gar

Being a newspaper publisher and editor has become a very illuminating revelation. The revelation is all about people. One of the nicest things that has happened to me has been the association with some very talented women. Our own Kathy Kueffner, Teresa Benedict and Lanetia Aldrich being three talented individuals. Kathy is the real and true Editor of the Enterprise who in her modesty does not want the title. Kathy started working for Simon and stayed on when Don and I purchased the paper. As our resident computer expert and layout person, she carries the load. Reserved, almost to be called shy, Kathy provides the stability of the Enterprise.

Teresa, is the ad manager and builds most of the ads contained in the paper. Very outgoing and pleasant gal. Most of the people in town know her from, Surprise! Surprise!, or as a native of Manchester. Teresa has made a real difference here at the Enterprise. Lanetia Aldrich, is a very quiet gal who covers the front desk, addresses the papers, and is our resident bookkeeper. Lanetia has only been with us for a few months but in that short time has made significant contributions in straightening out the books.

The greatest attribute the three gals have, however, has been to keep "gar" straightened out. I tend to get too serious at times and worry about details. Matter of fact I will get mired down at times. When those occasions arise, one of the three, or all three get on my case.

We have another person who writes for the Enterprise and is a favorite with the readers. Ron Zang, who most recently wrote in the paper that if 20 or more people would go to Mark IV Lounge for Karaoke, he would get Gar and himself to sing "All I'm asking for is a little Respect...", by Aretha Franklin. Gar didn't proof that article, matter of fact he didn't read it until Ron said there are 25 people lined up to see you make an —, of yourself. OK, we are qualified to make an — of myself, let's go. BUT Ron look out when I volunteer you for that little detail coming up.

They are great and wonderful people and I have learned a lot from them. Thanks gang.

The Second Front Page: Focus on—ANDY end of a Era

Andrew "Andy" Schroen

Age 78, died Monday April 20, 1992, in Jackson, Doctors Hospital. Born March 6th, 1914 in Northfield Township, Washtenaw County. Father Edward Schroen, Mother, Rosa Houck Schroen. Survived by three brothers. Edward of Ann Arbor, Jacob of Findley Ohio, John H. Martin of Zainsville Ohio. Three sisters; Edna Richards, of Saline, Martha Iler of Westland, Alta Cluckey of Whitmore Lake, nephew Ernst Wiegard. Cremation has taken place and remains buried with his sister at Bethlem Cemetery in Ann Arbor.

The obit is innocuous and few in the community will connect his name to the person. But maybe you will remember if you think about the "Old Timer" riding his bright red Moped motor bike in town or out West Austin Road, Sharon Hollow Road or Herman Road.

Some might even refer to Andy as a character and maybe he was after a fashion. However; Andy was a fiercely independent person who lived in a small one room building on Herman Road. (see pic) Andy did not ask for charity because of his very independent nature. If you were to take time to visit his little building, the adjacent garden, the wood shed, the straw covering above ground for his well and cats, the little storage shed behind his home, where the Moped was kept. You would get a feel for his independence.

Al Grigaitis, a neighbor across the street and Keith Reed put together a collection from local donors about five years ago to get Andy his new Moped. As Al tells the story, "I was driving into town one day and Andy was walking toward Manchester. I stopped and offered him a ride. I asked Andy why he was walking and he replied, 'my motor bike wont run any more'. Al stopped at Keith's Barber Shop and the two of them started a collection. As Keith related,

"Al stopped and handed me some money and said, here you collect for Andy and we will get him a new Motor bike. The guys that came into the shop reached down into their pockets and within a few days we had the money for Andy's new Moped".

"Andy was upset when all we could get was a machine made by Honda. Andy said he would rather walk than have a bike not made in America. We from the storage shed he was living in. He moved up behind Smith's buildings until 1989, at which time he wanted to drag his shed down to the property where he had his garden, owned by the Gilbert's. The shed was in no condition to be moved and Grant Smith used some of his fathers inheritance money for seed to build Andy's Cabin. The community in it's true compassionate spirit chipped in materials, money and time to build a 12 X 20 foot cabin. Shingles for the roof is just one example, the cabin has one color on the front roof and different on the back. The paint on the front and two ends are one color and the back another. Andy stored his Moped inside his cabin until Grant convinced him the gas and oil was flammable and a danger because of the fire potential. A small storage shed was built behind the cabin and upon Andy's insistence a locking hasp and lock were installed. Andy had a well that he drilled on the property and he extolled the virtues of his water. He would take water up to the Smith's and tell them his water was much better quality. His claim, "My water still remains clear after standing two days and yours becomes cloudy".

The cabin was without a bath room, nor even an out-house. When it was suggested that an outhouse be installed or a bathroom Andy would have nothing to do with the idea. "The outdoor's is and always has been good enough for me".

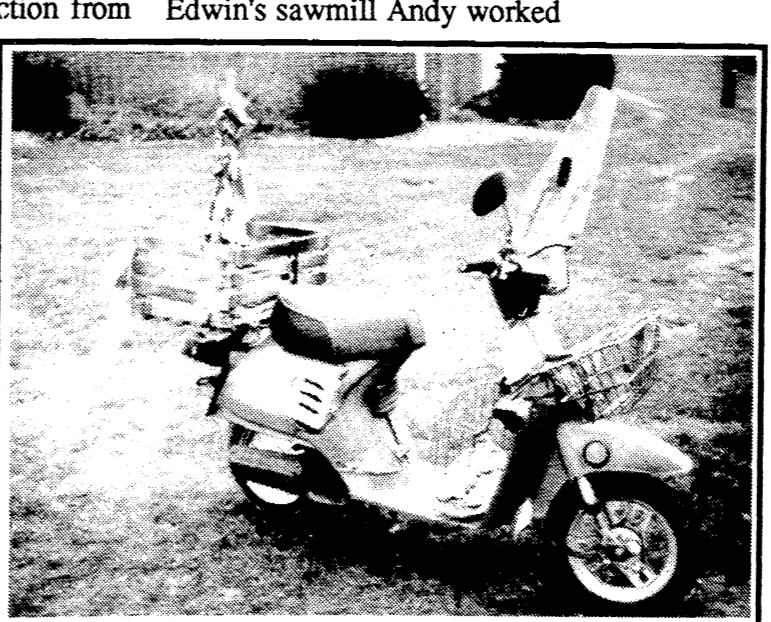

One of Andy's benefactors was Jeanette Stein, of the Village Tap. Jeanette put out a canister for donations and also provided a bed and mattress for the cabin. Jeanette can relate some very interesting anecdotes from her experiences with Andy. "Sometimes Andy's language would be quite colorful and he could become loud and almost belligerent, but he was always a harmless and good guy". The story is told that when

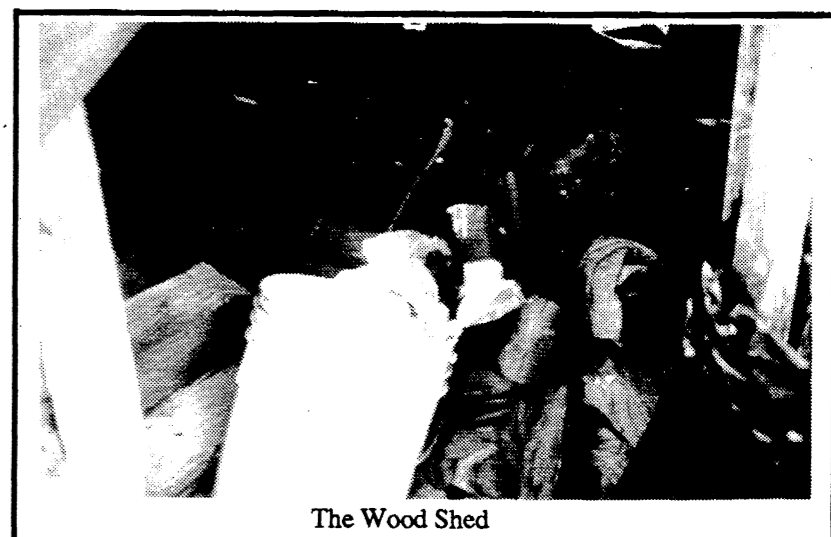

Andy's Cabin and to the right the wood shed

Shed where Andy kept the Moped

Andy's Honda Moped

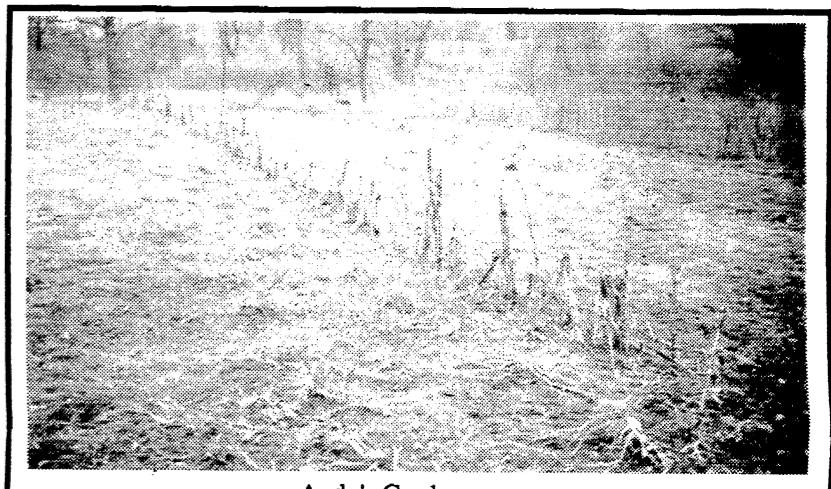

The Wood Shed

Andy was asked about his cabin and what he thought about living in it, he replied, "Its a damn Castle it is!"

A little known fact is that Andy was married at one time. His wife's name was Sarah and they lived in an old grassy log cabin near Ann Arbor. Another living unit was an old truck body died and who he will be buried with. The Smith's have made an attempt to locate the burial spot of his wife but as of this date they have been unable to find any information.

Glen & Ruth Squires sum up the feelings of a lot of people with their, "Tribute to Andy". We first met Andy through that was not insulated. There was an unidentified driver of a pickup truck that would stop and pick up Andy in the mornings and take him for breakfast about 7:00 or 7:30 according to Grant.

Mrs. Clare Reck who helped many, many people would take Andy to the Doctors and look after his welfare. Andy's income was derived from a small Social Security check. At the beginning of each month he would our Daughter, Judy, and Son-in-law Keith Beekel. They were concerned about Andy's well being, as were some others in our area.

We found Andy to be quite independent and outspoken at times! We also found Andy to be kind and thoughtful of others, who he considered to be his friends.

He was proud of his little home, his garden, his cats, and his little red moped bike.

come into Manchester and stock up on his chewing tobacco and supplies. The gals at Walco's relate that if his brand of chew was not available he would become very upset. Andy could neither read or write other than his name. His sums were not very good but his ability to calculate money in his mind was very good. Apparently schooling was never his strong suit.

We have been told that he had a twin sister who recently

We will miss you Andy. His family has indicated, if there is some one in need of a used moped with 26,700 miles on it, they will make it available to a needy person. Jean and Grant Smith are taking care of Andy's cats. If there is anyone out there that would like a cat, call Judy Beekel they were well taken care of and apparently in good health.

Our Readers Write — "...new buildings don't necessarily mean a better education..."

I would like to thank Mr. John Ochs and Mr. Garlick for expressing so well what needs to be said concerning the $7 million school millage issue.

Of course, as parents, we would love to give our children the best of everything. However, $7 million is excessive and we all must live within our means.

I am not satisfied that all options have been explored. Also, new buildings don't necessarily mean a better education for our students.

Also, who said that Pleasant Lake school shouldn't be reopened? I think most of the parents and students from the Pleasant Lake area remember what an excellent school this was. I am one parent (and I'm sure there are more) who would love to see this school reopened for elementary classes. But even if it isn't, why should I vote to increase my taxes while the school system gives away much needed classroom space? Many of the parents in this area felt that the school system was being short-sighted when they closed Pleasant Lake school.

Of course this wouldn't solve all of the problems. But it seems that additions could be made to the high school. There is enough land in front of the school to take care of new additions.

I hope more people will have the courage to speak out concerning this proposal. Many people are being taxed to death. We simply cannot afford to tax ourselves more, especially since there are cheaper options for accomplishing what needs to be done. I'm sure most people realize by now that an increase in taxes or funding does not cure most problems. Let's take an example of the German educational system, one of the best in the world. They spend far less on buildings and administration than the U.S.

A beautiful new building will not make better students. We simply cannot afford $7 million dollars.

Thank you, Pamela Peters, Freedom Twp.

Jewelers Return from Isreal with Diamonds for Tecumseh Store

Open House Scheduled for May 1 and 2

With sales lackluster at fine jewelry stores nationwide, Eggleston Jewelers in Tecumseh is all aglow with sales nearly 30 percent over last year's.

Doug and Tammy Eggleston, owners of the independent jewelry store, attribute their dazzling sales to their new role as direct diamond importers from the diamond capital of the world, Tel Aviv, Isreal.

Last November, and again in March, the Egglestons traveled to Tel Aviv to personally select and purchase diamonds for their Chicago Boulevard store. Eggleston Jewelers now has one of the largest inventories of loose diamonds in South-eastern Michigan.

As far as they know, the Egglestons are the only independent jewelers in the area who have gained access to the International Diamond Exchange to purchase diamonds directly from the diamond cutting factories.

Sellers from diamond cutting factories in Isreal sell their wares at the Diamond Exchange to brokers and wholesales, who in turn sell the diamonds to distributors and large jewelry stores throughout the world.

"Each layer of middlemen between the diamond factory and the retail buyer makes a profit on the sale," Doug explained, "which increases the price the retail buyer has to pay for that diamond."

The Egglestons have bypassed several layers of middlemen by purchasing most of the diamonds sold in their store directly from the diamond factories.

"Because we eliminated the layers of middlemen, we bought these diamonds at amazingly good prices," Doug added. "We'll pass our savings on to our clients and sell these stones at prices that are hard to beat."

For example, a one-carat diamond they purchased in Tel Aviv is available at Eggleston Jewelers at about half the price of a comparable stone from a large chain jewelry store, explained Doug.

"The diamonds we brought back are of various qualities," Tammy added, "ranging from stones with only slight imperfections to diamonds that are only one step below the extremely rare flawless stones."

Doug and Tammy are amazed at the beauty of these diamonds, even the ones with slight imperfections. "They are bright, lively, jazzy stones that really dazzle," she added.

The diamonds the Egglestons imported are available in their Tecumseh store, and at independent jewelry stores throughout Michigan, Ohio and Indiana, through a diamond salesman they employ.

Both Equations teams from the middle school brought home trophies from the annual Lenawee Area League of Academic Games tournament held on April 14. The team consisting of Brad Kemner, Bryan Duvall, Chad LaRue, Luke Hugel, and Jamie Knowase earned a second place trophy while the team made up of Angelo Petrino, Jenny Sahakian, Sean Clifford, Mike Mann, and Trevor Schleicher won third place.

Equations is a math game that involves the skills of mathematics, strategy, and problem solving. Seventh and eighth graders are taught the rules of the game in an exploratory class and practice competing amongst themselves. Practice competitions involving 25 teams from schools in Lenawee, Monroe, and Washtenaw counties are held monthly from November through March with a final tournament taking place in April each year.

Manchester teams, coached by Mary Ann Fielder, have been involved in Equations for three years and have five trophies to show for their efforts.

MHS Granted Accreditation

We are pleased that Manchester High School has been granted accreditation by the North Central Association for the 1991-92 school year.

The school has been a member of the North Central Association since 1987, and has been accredited continuously since that time. This should be a matter of pride to the students and the parents of the school, since accreditation gives assurance that the school meets those preconditions for effective education established by the Association. The North Central Association is the largest of the country's regional accrediting agencies. It is a voluntary membership league of over 7,000 schools and 900 colleges and universities within a 19-state region. The association works with schools to improve their educational goals through evaluation, accreditation and school improvement plans. We salute Manchester High School and this community for a job well done.

— Russell J. LeBlanc, Principal Manchester High School

BOY CHOIR ANNOUNCES AUDITIONS

The Boychoir of Ann Arbor, now preparing for its seventh season, announces auditions for places in the choir. Parents of musical boys, aged 8-1/2 to 13, are invited to arrange for an audition by appointment with the director, Dr. Thomas F. Strode.

The 1992/93 season will include an Evensong in the Anglican tradition; a number of Christmas appearances; the first Michigan Boychoir Festival in July, 1993; and, participation in the Michigan premiere of McCartney/Davis' Liverpool Oratorio. We will appear in the 1992 May Festival (Carmina Burana) with the Detroit Symphony under the direction of Neeme Jarvi.

The choir's plans include touring and joint concerts with other boychoirs in Michigan. We have developed a program which provides boys with a wonderful opportunity to become acquainted with great choral literature, to learn ensemble and choral skills, and to sing with professional singers and instrumentalists.

Parents should call the Boychoir at 313-485-1534 before July 15, 1992 to arrange for an audition.

Glacier Hills Names Employee of the Year

Long-time Manchester resident Peggy Kruse has been named Co-Employee of the Year by Glacier Hills Retirement Center and Nursing Center in Ann Arbor. Kruse is the Dining Room Hostess and has worked at Glacier Hills for over 15 years.

Along with Co-Employee of the Year Wendy Gary of Ypsilanti, Kruse was cited for her caring and devotion to residents.

She does special things like taking pictures at resident activities, making decorations for special meals and taking the time to deliver flowers and visit residents in the Nursing Center. A special treat is when she brings her pet Sheltie, Megan, to visit. At the beginning of each summer, staff and residents alike look forward to the fresh rhubarb dishes she brings in to share. It was also mentioned that her attendance is excellent, even on heavy snow days and living over 30 miles away from work. Peggy is the daughter of Margaret and the late Laurance Kruse.

COMMUNITY NEWS

Senior Citizens News

-T. V. Ludwick

I shouldn't talk about the weather, but it is making me groan. So April showers make May flowers. How about all the April flowers that are screaming for sunshine? A few of us hoomans are getting cabin fever too. On the other hand, we've had no earthquakes or flooding to destroy what we've accumulated nor any loss of family members because of disasters. Let us be thankful.

Run in out of the rain to Emanuel's dining room on Thursday, April 30 and be surprised. Jan is serving Chef's Choice at 12 noon sharp, so get your reservations for senior lunch in to her before 10:30 that morning by calling 428-7630.

Tuesday, May 5: Macaroni and cheese (or c & m, whichever) is the menu delicacy for today. Come try our senior meals if you haven't been there recently or at all. You may call Linda at 428-8359 ahead, she will place your name for lunches on the list. After you eat, join seniors at the Center for activities.

Thursday, May 7: The last craft session for this season starts at 9:30. At 12 noon, turkey casserole will be offered at our special Birthday Bash for all seniors born in the merry month of May. May birthday folks are treated to their meal at half-price, a corsage, cake and candles and a rousing natal day song. Hope to see all you May-born folks 55 or older.

Got your mother's present yet? The tip for May, printed on The Busy Woman's Calendar is: "Beware of gifts with air holes in them!" as the Mom receives such a present from her two young 'uns. The mom looks shocked and, if like me, wonders why kids would do this to their one and only. Haven't we all received things we didn't need as gifts from our offspring? My brother tells of saving each year to buy our mom a bottle of special perfume which she thanked him for sweetly. Years later she confessed she disliked that particular brand and used it up in the washing of blankets. Wouldn't you hate to have a child wonder why that bottle never became empty?

It's ready and you can pick up your May-June edition of the Trumpeter at meals.

Cubscout Pack 421 Visited By "The People"

The last regular Pack meeting was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall on Thursday, April 23. The theme was: The First Americans. Sam Guidry and his son, Sammy, were special guests.

Sam Guidry is a Cherokee Indian and a former resident of Manchester as is Sammy. They now live in Brooklyn, MI, but still have many friends in Manchester. Mr. Guidry is very active in studying the history and culture of "The People" which is the term he uses to describe Native Americans or Indians. He pointed out that the name that the each tribe used to describe themselves was different, but each meant "The People." Mr. Guidry says that there is much that can be learned from the Elders and he frequently attends Pow Wows all over the country. He encourages everyone to attend one because of the warm feelings that abound and the opportunity to learn about "The People."

Sammy Guidry is in the 6th grade in Brooklyn. He has studied traditional native dance and gave us a demonstration. We learned about the origin and purpose of different parts of his costume. Mr. Guidry referred to the dance as Indian aerobics and it certainly appeared to be hard work.

The Pack meeting was sponsored by Den 9 which is lead by Rose Grenier. Den 9 made a teepee which Mr. Guidry referred to as a lodge. Den 9 did a skit on the naming of an Indian child and showed off the native dress that they had made. Other Dens discussed their activities this past month.

The following scouts from Den 8 received their Bear Badge: Michael Kennedy who also got one gold and three silver arrows; Jack Snail and Derek Smith, also one gold and one silver arrow; and, Dave DuRussel, also one gold and two silver arrows. The following scouts from Den 9 were awarded their Wolf badges: Clint Grenier, also one gold and two silver arrows; Chad Roberts and Adam Knapp also one gold and one silver arrow; David Ellison and Jacob Miller also one gold and three silver arrows; Chris Maly also one gold and four silver arrows; and Derek Panches. Eric Mackies from Den 10 received his Wolf, one gold and two silver arrows. William Cole and Aaron LaRock, also from Den 10, received one gold arrow, and two and one silver arrows respectively. Congratulations.

We had a nice turnout at the Pinewood Derby which was organized by Dave Roberts. Thirty-nine boys participated. The top four were Aaron LaRock (Den 10), Shawn Bordine (Den 3), Ted Roberts (Den 4) and Paul Bordine (Den 4).

Scout-O-Rama will be held at Camp Munnhake on May 15-17. Tickets may be purchased from the Den Leaders. The next Pack meeting will be held at Carr Park at 6:30 on May 21. We will roast hot dogs and have our graduation ceremony. Day Camp will be the week of June 22-26.

Karen Tobias has announced that this will be the last year as Cubmaster. If you are interested in learning about the position, please let her know.

River Raisin Festival Features Special Family Events

The Manchester Area Resource Conservation Coalition (MARCC), will sponsor the River Raisin Festival on May 16 & 17, to coincide with the annual Manchester Canoe Race. The festival will feature several events on Main Street at the bridge to get crowds in a river-loving spirit.

The weekend celebration will begin with string music at the Main Street bridge around 11:30 a.m. on Saturday, May 16. At noon, the Manchester Volunteer Fire Department will man a pumper fire truck to demonstrate how the river can help fight fires in the downtown area.

Then canoe lovers will take to the river by the bridge for an exhibition of canoe paddling techniques and some just-for-fun showing off!

After the exhibition, a two-inch thick rope will be thrown across the bridge and a line drawn across the middle of Main Street. That signals a tug-of-war! Everybody on one side of the bridge faces off everybody else on the other side of the Main Street 106 Madison Street in bridge. (Remember to wear blue jeans or knee pads.)

MARCC is also sponsoring contests seeking the best photographs, essays and raisin recipes, to encourage interest in the importance and beauty of the River Raisin. Entry forms for the recipe contest are available at Pyramid Office Supplies, Krauss Pharmacy, Great Lakes Bancorp and Jon's Photo shop.

contests seeking the best photographs, essays and raisin recipes, to encourage interest in the importance and beauty of the River Raisin. Entry forms for the recipe contest are available at Pyramid Office Supplies, Krauss Pharmacy, Great Lakes Bancorp and Jon's Photo shop.

A special concert of good old-fashioned river songs will begin at 7:30 p.m. Saturday night at the K of C Hall, preceding a community square dance at 8:00 p.m. Music has generously been donated by the Raisin Pickers, featuring Carol Palms as caller for the dance.

Around 2:00 p.m. Sunday, after the Canoe Race starts, kids are invited to the Knights of Columbus Hall for a special presentation and hands-on way to learn about wildlife on the river. Kids will be able to make plaster casts of the footprints of the animals found around water and wetlands, and take the cast home.

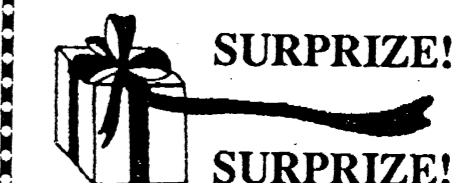

MARCC would like to invite you to participate in the best music, fun and festivities Manchester can offer.

Special Requests

If you would like to participate in Saturday's canoe exhibition, please call Sybil Kolon at 428-8108. It's a great opportunity to get a little early practice! Also, MARCC is collecting empty cardboard milk cartons for the kids' plaster cast activity. If you can save them over the coming weeks, it would be much appreciated. Questions? Call 428-8586.

newspaper walked in and asked how the game had gone. He was so enchanted with Jon's animated description of the game that he offered him a column and asked that he write exactly as he had talked. He has been writing the sports column since 1971. Jon also writes about local events like the Fair and the Annual Chicken Broil and the Big Snow Storm and other news that a family of 1800 would be anxious to know. The Photo Shop was an extension of what he was already doing. Jon would write a column, take a picture, develop it, sell it to the newspaper and sometimes the people involved would want a copy of the picture too. By 1981 he opened his shop, it just seemed like the thing to do. The folks in town thought so too. Jon has put a lot of miles on his chair. Two trips to England and Scotland, a trip to South America, twice to Hawaii and "all over the US...every state but five," said Jon. His philosophy? "I don't like the expression, 'One Day at a Time'." said Jon, "I get the most I can out of every single day."

When I first joined the Fire Department in 1942 there was John Wallace, Rollie Grossman, Rus Widmayer, Earl Alber, Willard Mann, then in 47 Ron Jenter and Paul Eisele joined. and choosing a manager to run the program. That is on hold while the new options are studied Individual meetings were set up for this week with each company, to consider various options. The board will then hold a special meeting the following week, Wed., May 6, at the Sylvan Township Hall in Chelsea. The meeting will begin at 3:00 PM and is open to the public. The WWRA is made up of the villages of Chelsea and Manchester and the townships of Bridgewater, Dexter, Freedom, Lima, Lyndon, Manchester, Sharon and Sylvan. The Freedom township board had voted to withdraw from the Authority the previous week, but that action has not been formalized. Mr. Rubbish and BFI made presentations to the Freedom Township Board which convinced the board that their services would be more economical than the Authority's.

We return to the Diary of John Emory Irwin who lived in Sharon township. The diary starts April 20, 1861 and as we go to press, 131 years have transpired.

Saturday, May 4th. Quarterly meeting began today. I sat in the house all thru forenoon and in the afternoon went to meeting and also to pray meeting this evening.

Sunday, May 5th. Meeting continued over today and this afternoon I went to Chelsea to take aunt home. The weather has been pleasant for this quarterly occasion but tonight when I was coming home it rained quite a hard shower and I got the new harness as wet as it could be.

May 6th, Monday. Field 6 was almost ploughed last fall but it finally froze up before we could finish and we have begun at it again today with a three horse team. It has rained occasionally and we have been once driven from our work.

Tuesday, May 7th. We finished ploughing field 6th this forenoon and this afternoon have been drawing sand for mortar. It continues cloudy and cold with occasional showers of rain. A piece of line between Sam Raymond and field 6th is charged today but was made some time ago.

Wednesday 8th. We cleaned up flour bags of wheat this morning & father went to Grafts Lake with it and got a load of brick. While he was gone I put a kind of temporary fitting machine on the colt for the first time. This afternoon I went over to help Gilbert Rowe raise a barn frame. I found Porter over there and we appointed tomorrow evening to meet to sing.

Thursday 9th. Another year has rolled around and brought another birthday today. I am twenty. After the time honored custom of our people I was promised a thrashing but have thus far escaped. I plowed this afternoon in field 7 and this afternoon Uncle William Doyle's folks have been here and I haven't done anything. Our Glee Club met again tonight for the first time this spring.

Friday 10th. Nette staid here after her folks went home. It rained this forenoon and I did nothing but thrash a few sheaves of oats. This I have been plowing again in field 7. This afternoon it has cleared off and tonight it is as clear as a whistle and I presume we shall get a frost.

again the other way. I got a letter from Lucie on Sat. last she may talk of coming out here the coming summer. Wednesday 15th. Noon, I am

Mr. Sam'l Raymond's folks expect to plant tomorrow & Uncle Joel's folks have already begun, but I think there is no hurry yet. The buds on the oak trees have scarcely started yet grafts comes on very slowly and the ground is as cold as cold weather can make it. I think that we had better wait till spring before we begin. It is now the middle of May and today we have turned out the colts for the first time this spring.

The Irwins Homestead was about three and a half miles north of Sharon Hollow. The picture above was taken at the turn of the century about 40 years after the diary

Thursday 16th. I dragged this forenoon and this afternoon, wrote a letter to Lucie and went to Grafts Lake and Father took my place at the drag. I contracted for a pair of boots of Mr. Patterson and after I got home we went to the Glee Club and had a fine time. The weather is still cold though the clouds appear broken.

Sat. 11th. I have been plowing all day and am consequently very tired. I finished plowing our corn ground today but if the weather continues as cold as hertofore it will be of no use to plant. Father took Frank home this afternoon.

Monday 13th. I have been dragging all day on field 6th and got about 2/3 done. That is once over.

Tuesday 14th. Dragged all day again today in field 6 and succeeded in finished it once over and began it dragging again. It was very clear this morning and promised to be a beautiful day but about eleven o'clock there came up a real cold drizzle and at 1/2 past I turned out. Night. It cleared off about 3 o'clock and was quite pleasant but at 5 it began to be cloudy and at 6 rained again. The weather is quite cold one needs to have his coat buttoned the whole time. I have dragged all the afternoon and got over it the 2nd time and begun it the 3rd.

MY MOTHER

Who fed me from her gentle Breast, And hushe'd me in her arms to rest, And on my cheeks sweet kisses prest?

MY MOTHER When Sleep forsook my open eye, Who was it sang sweet hushaby, And rock'd me that I should cry?

MY MOTHER Who sat and watch'd my infant head When sleeping on my cradle bed,

And tears of sweet affection shed? MY MOTHER When pain and sickness made me cry, Who gazed upon my heavy eye, And wept, for fear that I should die?

MY MOTHER Who drest my doll in clothes so gay, And taught me pretty how to play,

And minded all I had to say? MY MOTHER Who ran to help me when I fell,

And would some pretty story tell, Or kiss the place to make it well?

MY MOTHER Who taught my infant lips to pray?

And love God's holy book and day, And walk in wisdom's pleasant way?

MY MOTHER And can I ever cease to be Affectionate and kind to thee, Who wast so very kind to me?

MY MOTHER Ah! No the thought I cannot bear, And if God please my life to spare, I hope I shall reward thy care,

MY MOTHER When thou art feeble, old and gray, My healthy arm shall by thy stay, And I will soothe thy pains away,

MY MOTHER And when I see thee hang thy head, 'Twill be my turn to watch thy bed, And tears of sweet affection shed,

MY MOTHER Written by Jane Taylor and a long time favorite, expressing what each of us must feel about our mother's love.

Mary Ann Fielder

The Achievement in Education Award is a recognition of outstanding commitment and dedication to youth in the Manchester School system. Each year a broad range of people involved in education in our area provide comment and recommendation to the Optimist Club.

The award is truly an honor among peers and was presented to Mary Ann Fielder for her unmistakably positive impact on our children.

Middle School kids will be the first to agree. She is generous with time and orchestrates after-school activities like the Junior Optimist Club, cheerleading and the 8th grade Toronto trip. Fellow teachers testify that when she isn't an organizer she's a helper.

Her teaching ability and style are widely appreciated by both parents and students. A colleague summed it up with the title "Master Teacher".

Congratulations, Mary Ann. The Optimists and entire community say thanks for your pursuit of excellence. Jim Datsko presented the award and a $150 gift certificate.
