Like many rural crossings, the one they were approaching had no gates or lights; only a black-lettered "Railroad Crossing" sign warned motorists of potential danger.

At 8 p.m., Frank Hoffman, who lives near the crossing, heard a train whistle pierce the night in long, urgent blasts. Glancing out his window, he saw the Datsun approach the tuffoff, slightly ahead of the three-quarter-mile-long train. Then the car turned right and headed straight for the crossing without stopping. A split second later he heard an ear-splitting boom. Brakes squealing, the 3000-horsepower locomotive crushed the Datsun like a tin can and pushed it over a thousand feet along the tracks before dropping it into a ditch. The three girls died instantly. Devastated family members, friends and officials tried to piece together what had happened. The Datsun had no mechanical problems. The train's light and horn worked properly.

Perhaps the car radio blocked out the sound of the train's whistle. Possibly, when the girls turned toward the tracks, the locomotive was already so close they could no longer see its headlight towering two stories above them. Or maybe they simply weren't paying attention. One thing is certain: they had violated the first commandment of crossing railway tracks: stop, look and listen.

"Until you have been asked to identify your own child's body," Stephanie's mother would later explain, "you do not know the meaning of heart-break." Marlee's room—a friendly clutter of musical scores and family photographs has been left untouched since her death.

Lisa's parents worry about the effect of the tragedy on their youngest child, four-year-old Becky, who idolized her big sister. For a while the little girl was haunted by nightmares of a train with a big mouth that chased her. She has since gained a haunting insight into her own mortality. "How old," she asks, "will I be on my last birthday?"

Kim Lester, 15, greeted her boyfriend Chad Sullivan, 17, at the door. "Happy Valentine's Day," she said, handing him a balloon emblazoned with the words "I love you."

Kim hugged her mother goodbye, and the two teen-agers drove to Chad's house, where he presented Kim with a dozen red roses. "We're going to the movies," they told Chad's father, Gary. "We'll be back around midnight."

Chad and Kim made a striking couple. A high-school senior in Edgewood, Md., Chad was five-foot-eleven, with blond hair and blue eyes. Kim, a trim five-foot-six sophomore, had dark eyes and ebony hair and a sprinkling of freckles across her nose.

Chad put in long hours at the supermarket his uncle managed, and with his earnings had bought his father's 1985 Plymouth Laser. He wouldn't let anyone smoke or drink in it, and he insisted everyone wear seat belts. If Chad had a weakness, it was speed. Sometimes he liked to show off, squealing the wheels when he left a parking lot.

Kim, like Chad, was an honor student. She often had to study late at night because she was on both the soccer and cheerleading teams.

After seeing The Hand That Rocks the Cradle that Valentine's night, Chad took a new route back home. Unfamiliar with the two-lane country road, which was wet from a recent rain, he approached a curve too fast. Police estimate he was traveling 60 in a 40-m.p.h. zone. Skid marks indicate he jammed the brakes instead of pumping them. The car slid across the road, climbed an embankment and slammed into a utility pole.

Despite Chad's rule, Kim was not wearing her seat belt; police speculate that perhaps she was snuggling up to him. She catapulted through the windshield and hit the ground. The pole caved in the left side of the car and smashed into Chad's skull, chest and abdomen. Kim was killed instantly by the impact. Chad was rushed to the hospital. He died the next morning.

In the weeks following the accident, scores of grieving students visited the site. They erected a cross and brought flowers. "She was such a good kid," sobbed Kim's mother, Shirley. "And she was just going to the movies." "You'll never know what it's like," says Gary Sullivan, who sometimes finds himself crying while at the controls of the diesel locomotive he runs. "Parents aren't supposed to bury their children."

Greg, Renee, George, Stephanie, Marlee, Lisa, Chad, Kim — eight bright, promising youngsters, all needlessly gone. There are so many ifs. If they'd paid attention; if they'd slowed down; if they'd used their seat belts; if they'd looked more carefully perhaps they'd still be alive today.

If you know a teen-ager who drives, give him or her this article. It may save a life.

Planning Commission From Page 1

At the Regular Session of the Manchester Planning Commission, December 15, 1992, concerned citizens voiced their opinions of the proposed General Development Plan.

Planning Commission Members, after listening to the concerns of residents, considered three options as presented by Robert Daverman, Chairman.

1. Keep the plan as it currently is, General commercial west of 52, O/S transition east of 52.

2. Establish the west side of 52 as O/S transition & east side remain medium density residential.

3. Keep it as it currently exists.

The second option seems to be favored and may be acted upon.

BRANCH BANKS CHANGE MANAGERS

Patricia Keezer, New 1st of America Branch Manager

Patricia Keezer was introduced at First of America Bank's Manchester Branch open house, Friday, January 8, 1993. Patty as she prefers to be called is a Manchester High School Graduate and Clinton resident. Patty and husband Dennis have four daughters; Stephanie, an EMU sophomore, Angie, Carrie and Sherry who attend Clinton Schools. When asked how she manages a full time job, family and the various education courses she takes to keep abreast of banking; "You just have to do a good job at balancing". That certainly sounds like the eminent qualifications needed to be a banker and branch manager.

Bob Wahr, new Branch Manager of Comerica

Robert "Bob" Wahr, has assumed the position of Branch Manager of Comerica's Manchester Branch. Bob's Great grandfather John Wahr, was a Sharon Township resident.

Bob was the Branch Manager of the Irish Hills office and has been in the banking business for 11 years. He and wife Debbie, daughter Stephanie and son Eric reside in the Irish Hills area.

A Michigan State Graduate who attended Columbia Central High School was born and raised in the Brooklyn Area.

The car on the right is the Sharon Hollow south bound vehicle that failed to stop at Austin Rd., driven by Rosemary Dejonghe of Manitou Beach, the car in the background driven by Tracy Tuhill of Jackson, the Station Wagon below was driven by Helen Strahle also of Jackson. Dejonghe was transported by Helicopter, Woods, Tuhill and one other by ambulance.

Conflicting reports of the accident have surfaced. Apparently Dejonghe ran the stop sign on Sharon Hollow and was struck by Strahle's east bound vehicle. Dejonghe's vehicle spun around and was in-turn struck by Karen Woods. Four "A" type injuries were reported. "A" meaning incapacitating injury requiring hospitalization.

Washtenaw County Road Commission reports two reports of accidents at that intersection in 1991 their most recent file. One of those accidents resulted in a death of a local teenager.

Manchester Family Service Christmas Shop 1992 Report

Though Christmas has come and gone, surely many pleasant memories of the 1992 Christmas shop will linger for a long time, not only for those who were the recipients, but also for those who gave of their time, money and gifts.

The Christmas shop is the culmination of several weeks of planning and preparation, not only by the MFS board, but for the community as well. Your support has, again, been tremendous, for which we are truly grateful.

Beginning in October and November, on surplus food distribution days, Manchester Family Service clients were given an opportunity to sign up for either a food or clothing gift certificate. This would give MFS an idea of the number of certificates to purchase, and in what amounts. Then came the checking and rechecking to make sure that all eligible families were listed, as well as the correct ages, sex and sizes of all the children. Some names were also received from DSS.

Probably the first call received by Manchester Family Service, was the one from Bob Mottice, on behalf of the Manchester Optimists Club and asking for the names of children, ages nine through eleven, to participate in the annual "Optimist's Christmas Shopping Spree". Children are picked up at their home, and, after an excitng and fun time shopping, are returned to their homes.

No doubt Sue's gingerbread man tree, at Great Lakes Bancorp, was the first visible sign of the upcoming shop, with its cutouts of gingerbread men decorating the tree, and with each cutout bearing the size, age and sex of an MFS child. All of the gingerbread men were soon taken and, before very long, beautifully wrapped packages began to appear under the tree. Though some individuals missed out on getting a gingerbread man cutout, that didn't dampen their spirit of wanting to give, and they still brought gifts, in colorful holiday wrap, to place under the brightly lighted tree.

Soon, articles appeared in the Manchester Enterprise relating to the shop, and signs appeared in local store windows, giving the time, date and location. Phones began to ring, with individuals and organizations asking to "adopt" a family.

Then there was the Pack 421 Cub Scout "Scouting for Food" drive, under the leadership of their den mother, Diane DuRussell.

Incidentally, Pack 421, with help from a Boy Scout Troop 426 member, pre-sorted all of the food they had collected, before it was taken to the Manchester United Methodist Church. This was a big help!

Food collections were also conducted by Klager Elementary, Manchester Middle and High Schools. We appreciate the support of the children and staff in this effort.

Sharon United Methodist Church also had a food collection for Manchester Family Service, and Manchester United Methodist Church shared its food collection with MFS.

Girl Scout Troop 728, with leaders Julie Mester and Lynn Green, to earn their community service badge, offered handmade holiday lapel pins for a donation so that they could buy a gift for each MFS child. They realized $200 from their efforts.

Sue Price of Manchester Plastics which contributed gifts to "adopted" families.

Brownie Troop 17, with Carol LaRock, Cathy Eisenhauer and Cheryl Steele, as leaders, collected coats, mittens, and boots to donate to the shop; Girl Scout Troop 706, with Anita Tyler and Lois Hanson, as leaders, came to the church to sort food after school on Thursday, December 17th.

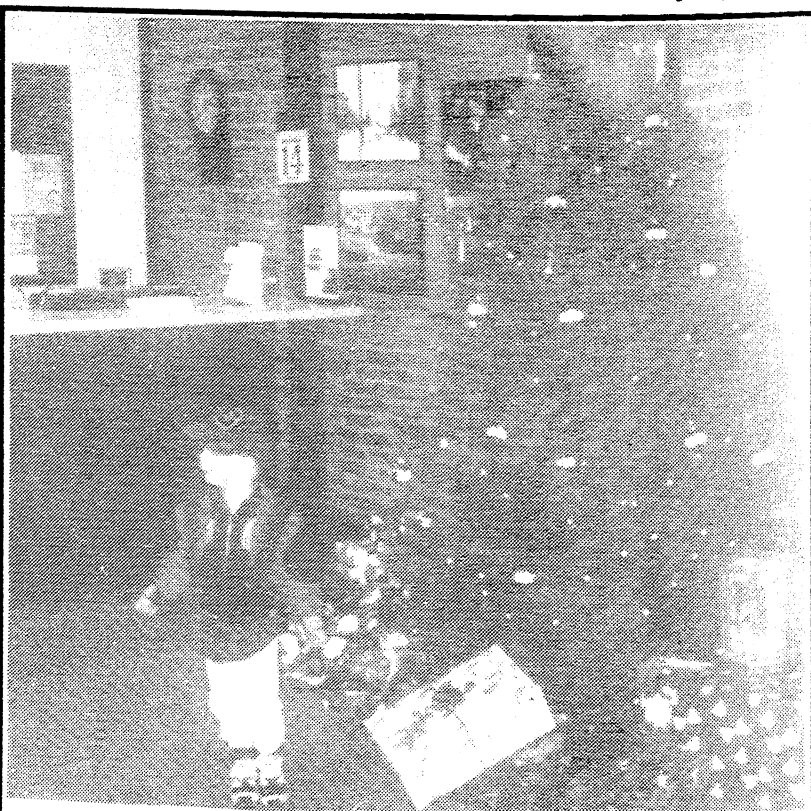

There was an abundance of food—possibly more than last year. Food collected by the schools was delivered to the church by John and Pat Sahakian, and food collected by the Cub Scouts was delivered by Dave Roberts.

We appreciate the donation of the K of C hall for storing of the food collected by the Cub Scouts, until such time as it could be taken to the church.

Gloves, mittens and socks were purchased for the shop by Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, and Comerica Bank matched its employees' collection, to buy gloves, mittens and toys for the shop.

On December 17th, Hoffer Hall, at the Manchester United Methodist Church, was again the busy center of preparation for, and the location of, the annual Manchester Family Service Christmas Shop. From the snowflake covered ceiling, to the beautiful Christmas tree, in the front hall, there was an air of excitement in getting ready for the shop to be held on Friday, December 18th.

Among those who adopted families were: Johnson Controls, Manchester High School Office Staff, Manchester Bus Drivers Great Lakes Bancorp would like to thank all of our customers and friends for their help in making the 1992 gift collection a huge success. We worked with the Manchester Family Service in helping 25 families and 67 children. Thanks again!! Pictured above: Owen Jackson was good enough to pose with our tree and some of the gifts.

The Second Front Page: Building a House Part 10

Update: With the moving of the furniture, clothing and inevitable junk collected over the years the real work will commence. Settling in, sorting and putting away.

On Thursday the 7th the painter returned to complete the painting in the master bath, back door entry closet, shoe molding and general touch up to repair minor dings and abrasions.

D) Final Building Construction:

The final building phase of your new home will consist of placing the cabinets and vanities in the kitchen and baths, plus hardware, faucets for lavatories, tubs and showers. Faucets that are single lever are nice as well as practical. Newer models have the control temperature on the face and once the desired water temperature is found the flow control portion is simply on and off.

Kitchen amenities such as garbage disposals, dish washers, trash compactors, micro waves, can openers, in-counter-top mixers and a myriad of kitchen convenience items are available. Only restriction again is your pocket book.

Lighting fixtures; hopefully by this time you have visited several stores for light fixtures. Hanging fixtures are not cheap. You may have to keep one eye on the furniture and one eye on the interior decor. If for example the electrician has placed overhead lighting boxes in the bedroom ceilings fixtures will have to be selected. If the room is large the fixture may need two or three light bulbs.

Alternately, if the upper-half of the wall outlets have been wall switched then floor lamps or bedside lamps can be connected to that portion of the circuit. One drawback of that type of lighting is if a bed side lamp is turned off then no light is available when the switch is turned on.

Bathroom lighting can be as elaborate or as simple as your pocket book allows. I placed large vanity mirrors across the vanity wall. Over that strip lighting was installed. Sixteen bulbs were installed. Each bulb is frosted and only 25 watt capacity. The total wattage is 400, and without the frosted bulbs the light would be too bright. The lady of the house will enjoy this type of light as makeup can be readily applied and seen. Being almost bald the light is not necessary to comb hair but sure comes in handy for shaving.

Your bath lighting fixture can also contain fans and heating elements if they are UHL approved and meet code. Make sure when they are purchased that they do conform to local and national codes.

If you have stairways, which most homes do, those stairs will have to have railings. If there is no wall behind the railing spindles will have to be placed to prevent fall through by the users. The old BOCA Code (1987) version had a six inch spacing between spindles. When my son Bruce and I were building some stair gates we built to that code. Grandson, Billy, proceeded to put his head and body through that opening size and we had to add additional spindles to keep Bill from falling down the steps.

The new 1990 Code provides for a 4 inch spacing and the small fry in the house will be hard pressed to fit through that opening size.

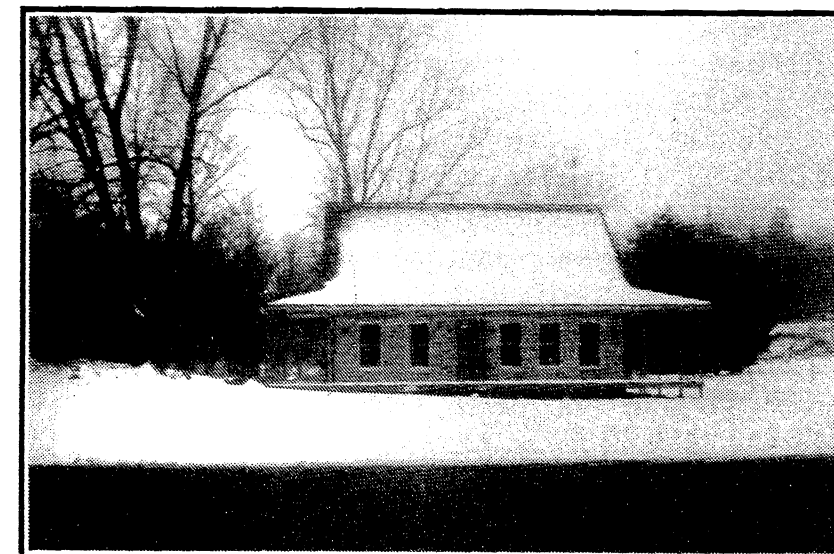

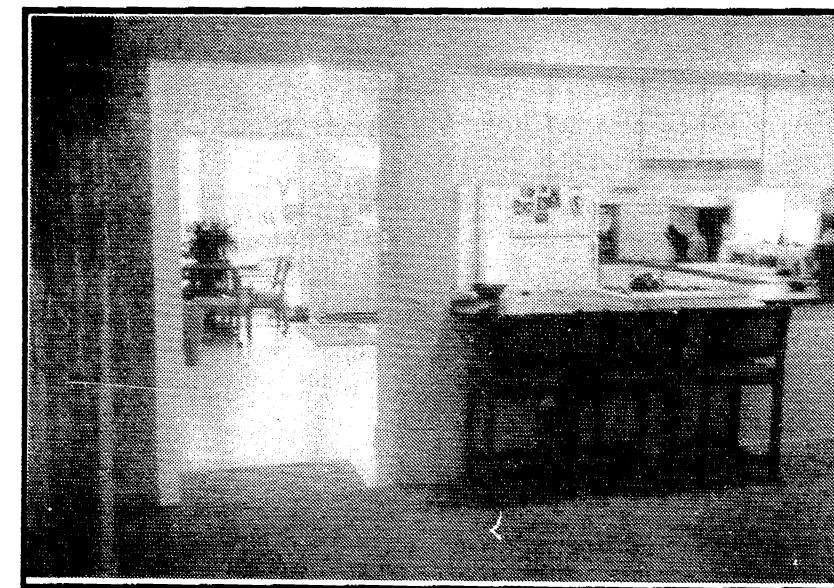

We built a wider stair case than normal. Forty two inches wide with one open side going upstairs. I wanted a simple railing so we did the following.

A eight inch wide oak rail board, set vertically attached to newel posts top and bottom. A twelve inch wide fascia board was attached to the side of the stair case projecting above the stair treads. Rectangular oak spindles were attached to the fascia board and the upper rail board. Our spacing is just slightly under 4 inches for balance and appearance. This was kept natural, without stain, shellacked and two coats of polyurethane.

The stair railing provides a focal point and I have always liked the appearance of oak. This same railing extends over a narrow balcony area.

Some of the things that will need doing; caulking minor irregularities where trim meets hard floor's in the house. Your painter can do this or you can save a couple of bucks by doing the caulking yourself. If you decide to caulk yourself get caulk that matches the trim color. If large gaps are present a caulking gun may be needed. Tube caulk generally will work satisfactorily.

A tip, cut the end of the tube at an angle but make sure the cut is toward the narrow end for a narrow bead of caulk. The end can always be re-cut further up the cone for a wider bead. BE CAREFUL, take your time. Some brands are water soluble and a damp cloth or sponge will clean up excess before the filler is dry. Color sticks are available for flat work. The paint store can help match paint and color.

Closet shelf's, rods and dividers can be added as needed.

Full length mirrors on a couple of bedroom doors are nice so the lady of the house can straighten seams and frills.

We are not done with the house yet, the garage and breezeway have to be built. A rear deck will be added when the weather allows. Landscaping, grass planting, trees and shrubs, flower boxes, driveway paving, retaining walls and a few rocks here and there will be the order of business in the spring.

Dear Concerned Citizens:

Recycling has come to Western Washtenaw County. The villages of Chelsea and Manchester have united with Bridgewater, Dexter, Lima, Lyndon, Manchester and Sylvan townships to form the Western Washtenaw Recycling Authority. They have received a grant from the State of Michigan, Solid Waste Alternatives Program to implement a cost-efficient recycling program for all the communities. Chelsea and Manchester have had curbside recycling for several months. The drop-off sites are now ready for township residents.

Why are we concerned about garbage? Solid waste disposal costs have increased dramatically in the past five years. The Chelsea landfill is running out of room. The Authority, like cities across the country, are looking at methods of reducing what is thrown away by promoting waste reduction, recycling and the composting of yard waste.

The Authority has a goal of diverting a minimum of 3,500 tons of waste per year through recycling. That equals seven million pounds. With approximately 10,000 households in our communities, this equals 700 pounds per household per year or 13.5 pounds per week. You can see that the Authority needs everyone to pitch in and recycle.

Through the grant the Authority received funds to build a materials recovery facility, more commonly known as a MRF. Located at the site of the Chelsea landfill on Wexner Road just off M-52, the MRF has opened and is sorting, processing and selling the materials collected in the curbside programs in Chelsea and Manchester.

More material is needed to meet our goals. We hope that you will join your neighbors and participate.

Sincerely,
Western Washtenaw Recycling Authority

OUT & ABOUT

I have been a science and politics buff since early childhood. Looking at the stars and the moon have always held a certain fascination. Invariably when looking at the big city "fish wrappers", newspapers they are called, I look for science articles and anything about the universe. The Detroit Free Press ran an article entitled, "Signs of huge black hole found". This was written by John Wilford of the New York Times.

"Phoenix - Astronomers have found new evidence showing that a black hole with the mass of a million suns sits in our galaxy.

A black hole is a mass so dense that its gravity prevents light from escaping."

That article got the grey cells a-cogitating. Those astronomers needn't have looked all the way to the galaxy to find evidence of a black hole. All they would have had to do from Phoenix is look to the east and to Washington. That place has to be the biggest and black'st hole in the entire universe. Every dang dollar, those I. R. S. agents so diligently collect, disappear into that black hole.

If we do a little cogitation there just never seems to be any return to anyone that I have heard about.

Talk about dense, those politicians have to be about the densest things in the universe. They never seem to respond to anything the voters want. They love to have all those funds from special interest groups to increase their density.

Talk about mass; why that mass of political personalities haven't shed a peep of light from Washington since they were elected.

Maybe we need a million suns to enlighten that black hole called Washington. We sure can wish and hope lies eternal on the human breast.

Have a great day!

THE SCHOOL PAGE

A SUCCESSFUL SOLO & ENSEMBLE

Sixteen Manchester Middle School students earned ratings for their performances on December 5 in the annual Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association's District 8 Solo & Ensemble Festival, held at Hayes Middle School, Grand Ledge. District 8 includes schools from the Lansing area down to the state line.

This year, Manchester students participated in 9 solos and 5 duets (the most participants from Manchester in several years!). Each event was judged on the basis of such things as tone, rhythm, technique, and musical effect. A total of 4 Division I ratings, 9 Division II ratings, and 1 Division III rating were earned by the musicians.

Saving for College from Birth

Here's money expert Jane Bryant Quinn's advice on saving for college down the road if your student-to-be is just an infant.

1. From your child's birth until age 12, buy shares in stock-owning mutual funds. Invest regularly. Don't worry if the stock market drops. Eventually, it will come back.

2. When your child is 12, hold on to all past investments in mutual funds. Divert the fresh money you save each month into safer havens, such as Series EE Savings Bonds and Treasury Securities. The stock market is less reliable over the short term.

3. When your child is 14, move the freshman-year money out of stocks and into a guaranteed four-year investment. That close to college, you should take no risks. At age 15, move the sophomore-year money, and so forth. If stocks have just taken a big drop, wait an extra year or so.

Keep in mind: When college is many years away, invest for growth. When it's close, invest for safety.

Manchester Kiwanis Celebrates its Charter Anniversary

The Manchester Kiwanis Club is about to celebrate its second anniversary. The club was sponsored by the Saline Kiwanis and joins the 229 clubs in Michigan and 8000 clubs with over a 300,000 Kiwanis members in 71 countries throughout the world.

for two years, it has many accomplishments. They sponsored a canoe trip for the local girls scouts, and Jeff Loomis attended the police career academy. They also sponsor a child attending the Manchester Co-op Pre-school.

This is part of what is called a major emphasis project. The program is something that affects Kiwanis members all over the country. WHY IS IT when one thing goes out of whack, there is at least one more minor upset that follows? That first weekend of 1993 had a lot of us spending time "down under" in the basement either sweeping water or repairing damage by human hand. We blame January thaw, too much rain, even retrograde of the planets. In our case, it was a valve nut which broke by the touch of human hand (and old age). Misery loves company and heard worse tales from friends. Does that make one feel better? Saturday evening is not the ideal time to rouse a plumber and coax him out in the sleeting rain, but bless a neighbor who did and solved our immediate problem. Hope yours is solved, too.

Friday, January 15: Senior bus will leave the Center at 9:30 for Plymouth and the 11th annual International Ice Sculpture Spectacular. Quite a sight to see - all those animals, birds, buildings and even full-size cars

Tuesday, January 19: Clergy presentation begins at 11:15, unless otherwise reported. Jan and crew will delight us with pork chops with dressing at 12 noon in Emanuel's dining room. Call either Linda, 428-8359 ahead, or Jan 428-7630 by 10:30 a.m. on meal days. Then come to the Center to help at 12:30. Beginning at 5:30, senior bus will pickup to travel to Tecumseh for the travelogue. Call Erma to be picked up.

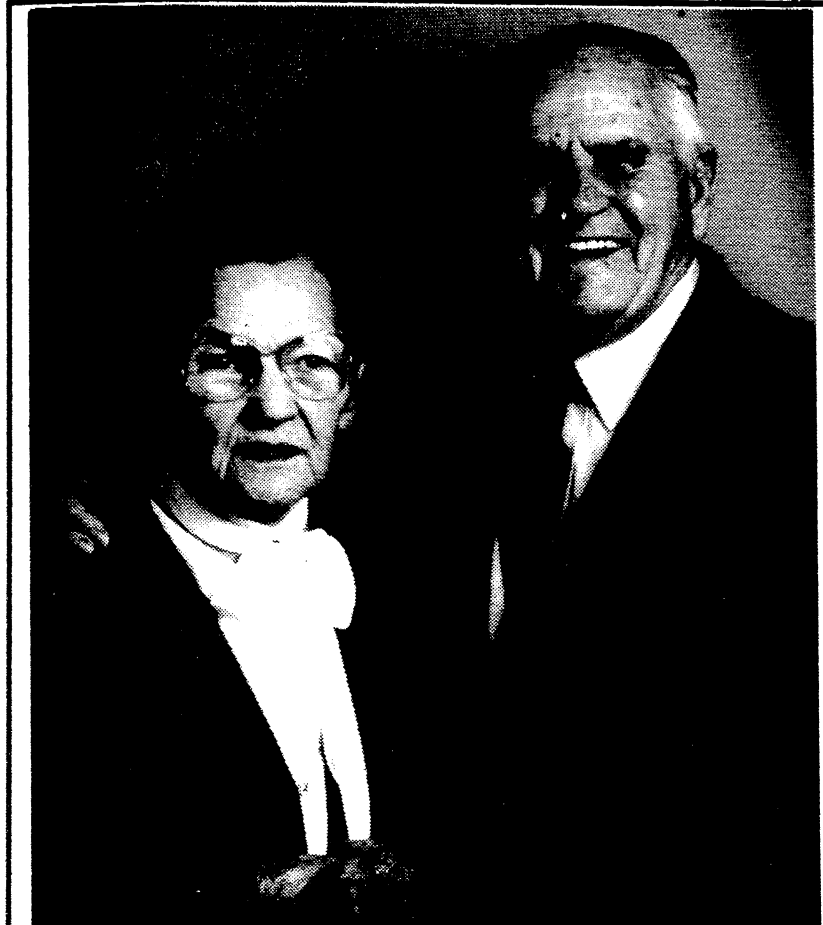

Wednesday, January 29: Seniors will leave the Center at 9:30 to visit the Washtenaw Parks & Recreation Center where activities abound. Admission costs $1.25. Call Erma to go along.

Manchester to Pray for Christian Unity

Although Christianity has many denominations, there is a continuing longing for Christian unity. To that end, members from five sponsoring Manchester congregations plus others from throughout our community will gather next Monday evening, January 18th, for an Ecumenical Prayer Service to pray for Christian Unity.

All in the community are invited to gather at St. Mary Church on West Main at Macomb, beginning at 7:30 p.m. to celebrate the Word of God as part of a "Week of Prayer for Christian Unity."

The congregations of Bethel United Church of Christ, Emanuel United Church of Christ, Manchester United Methodist Church, St. Mary Catholic Church, and Sharon United Methodist Church are sponsoring the event in Manchester.

The "Week of Prayer for Christian Unity" was begun in 1908 and is observed each year in cities and towns across the United States and throughout the world.

International preparations involve the World Council of Churches and the Vatican's Pontifical Council for Promoting Christian Unity. National preparations involve the National Council of Churches, the U.S. Roman Catholic Bishops' Secretariat for Ecumenical and Interreligious Affairs, and the Graymoor Ecumenical & Interreligious Institute.

In Manchester, each year the service will be held at a different community church. This year's service is being held at St. Mary.

Please join your brothers and sisters in Christ in this heartfelt prayer and expression of Christian unity in Manchester.

Praise, like gold and diamonds, owes its value to its scarcity.

Idomeneo: Opera Night, January 22nd

First of all, it's Mozart. Secondly, Pavarotti plays the title role. Third, it's a Met production, filmed in 1982. Fourth, it has this great story:

Idomeneo, the King of Crete, on his way home from the Trojan War, vows that if he is delivered safely over the stormy seas he will sacrifice to Poseidon the first living creature he meets after his arrival.

When he lands, he is greeted by his own son, Idamante. Horror-stuck, he tells his son to fly with Electra, Agamemnon's daughter, and rule in Mycenae. When Poseidon sends a sea-monster to remind Idomeneo of his vow, he resolves to kill his son but is saved from the deed when Poseidon's heart is melted by the devotion of Ilia, Idamante's betrothed, who wishes to die with her beloved.

And finally, it's right here in Manchester: "Opera Night in Manchester." Next Friday, January 22. On the large screen video at the Blacksmith Shop, 7:30 p.m.

It's free, it's fun, it's phenomenal. All in the community invited. Try it; you'll like it!

DUTCH WRESTLING

Thursday the 7th, we traveled to Jonesville and got a rude awakening as the Comets handled us with ease by the score of 43-20. This was something of a wake up call for the team and gave me something to get after them about. Our winners were Jay Eiss, Lucas Millheim, Chris Carson, Brent Woods and Steven Duvall.
After a good practice on Friday, we headed to Clinton for the Dave Elliot Invite and with 10 teams there, my expectations were high. When the wrestling started I could tell that the kids were better prepared for this day, unlike Thursday. Some of the best matches for us were against wrestlers who we had already lost to and came back and beat these kids. That means we're working towards our goal of improving each week until we reach Districts.
Jay Eiss started things on the right track by winning 103 for his first tournament, consistently beating higher seeded kids and beating wrestlers who had previously beaten him. This is why I considered him our most valuable wrestler that day.
At 112, we also had a great performance by Jim Suggs who placed third and is really starting to get confidence in his abilities, wrestling well for the team.
At 119, Lucas Millheim had the toughest weight class at the tournament but hung in there and placed a tough 5th place.
At 125, Captain Chris Carson took 2nd place behind his rival from Springport Mike Engelter who took a 3rd in State last year and has handed Chris 3 of his 5 losses. Every match becomes closer which is encouraging to me that Chris is still trying hard and showing his leadership to me and the team, not giving up and keep pushing each other to our goals.
At 130, Brent Woods continued his successful season by winning his class controlling his opponents and running his season record to 16-0.
Another terrific effort was turned in by freshman Bryan Duvall who always impresses me with his work habits and positive attitude to improve. Not even seeded he came through the brackets and placed a strong 3rd, his only loss coming to the runner-up. Also he defeated an opponent that had soundly defeated him twice earlier in the year.
At 145, Adam Erskine continues to show improvement as he took a hard fought 5th. We just need to get him a little more experience so he can start reaching more of his goals.
At 152, Mike Croghan is in the same boat as Adam, just a little more experience so he can take these older wrestlers but still doing well and taking a 3rd home.
Even though our 160 pounder Dan Campbell didn't place, I give this kid a lot of credit. Only weighing 145 pounds, he continues to help the team by going this weight and winning points for us which everyone appreciates. Dan keep up the good work and be looking for a good year next year.

At 189, senior Steven Duvall has been doing well but hasn't quite reached his abilities yet — which is fine for me just as long as he peaks at the right time and finishes strong around Districts. But even at his level he wrestled well enough to win Saturday. His record now stands at an impressive 9-2 with 8 pins.
Overall our team placed second out of 10 coming from 24 points down and passing a tough Quincy team. All the kids did great and I'm very proud of them and our program. If you see the kids around give them a boost because they definitely deserve the congratulations from everyone.
Hope to see you soon watching them continue their success. Our next meet is at Grass Lake on Wednesday and the Blissfield quad on Saturday.

High School Basketball Update

1993 has been quite cruel to our varsity and junior varsity as they dropped both contests this past week. Only our freshmen hoopsters triumphed by beating Chelsea.
We traveled to Chelsea on Tuesday to face a non-league foe. The Bulldogs proved their toughness and speed as they demolished our squads. Mike Mann had 11 points while Troy Niehaus contributed 10 points for our Little Dutch.
Friday we welcomed the Grass Lake Warriors to our gym. In the JV matchup, the first half was dominated by the Little Dutch while the second half belonged to Grass Lake. With six minutes and eight seconds remaining in the third quarter, the Little Warriors took their first lead and never trailed again. The final score was 50-58. Andy Winzenz led our scorers hitting for 16 while Shane Goodell had 12 points and 9 steals. In the varsity battle, the Warriors set the tempo and controlled the first period, 9-18. Despite trailing 18-24 at half time, coach Krzyzaniak must have revved up his team as they outscored the Warriors 15-8 in the third period, knotting the score at 32. Unfortunately Grass Lake had better control and won in the end 44-47. Rob Davis led our scorers with 17 as Tom Fielder assisted with 11.

Upcoming games are Friday, January 15 at Vandercreek Lake and Tuesday, January 19 we host East Jackson with the JV game starting at 6:00 p.m. and the varsity game immediately following. Our ninth grade hosts back to back with January 13 Addison and January 20 Hanover-Horton. Game time is 7:00 p.m.

and the Manchester Club has chosen to aid the Preschool to attain that goal. Another project they developed is to help children in the annual volleyball tourney in September for Mott's Children's Hospital.

The Kiwanis has also tried to make our community more attractive. They are taking part in the Adopt-A-Highway Program sponsored by the Michigan Department of Transportation, and clean M-52 from the village limits north to Pleasant Lake Road. Also, you may notice in the spring the flowers on Freddy's Island, on the Raisin River between the Mill and the Dairy Queen; they are planted and cared for by Kiwanis members. They are also active participants in Christmas-in-April.

Most of their proceeds are earned by their Food Wagon that you will see at the fair and other community events, fall Cider Sale, or the bird seed sale that is going on right now. So remember if you purchase something from the Manchester Kiwanis, they will put the proceeds to good work.

Chelsea and Manchester to Receive Expanded Curbside Recycling

Beginning Wednesday, February 4, the villages of Chelsea and Manchester will receive expanded curbside recycling. Collection will be every Wednesday instead of the present monthly or bi-monthly collection. In addition, residents will now be able to put their newspapers and plastics with the number 2 on the bottom, out for collection. Special recycling buckets are available at the village offices for residents who have not received them.

Residents in Bridgewater, Dexter, Lima, Lyndon, Manchester and Sylvan townships now have nine drop-off sites available for their recyclables. Residents of the villages and townships will receive a newsletter that explains how and what to recycle and a map with all the drop-off locations.

Residents are invited to attend an open house on Saturday, January 16, 1993 at the Materials Recovery Facility (MRF) at the Chelsea landfill. A ribbon cutting ceremony including local dignitaries will be from 10:00 a.m. - noon. Refreshment and a tour of the facility are planned. Anyone who attends and brings their recyclables with them, will receive a coupon for $.25 off a gallon of milk, redeemable at eight local stores.

From Noon - 2:00 p.m. at the nine drop-off sites, volunteers will help residents with questions and will distribute the coupons to those who recycle.

MIDWEST FORD PRESENTS KEYS FOR NEW DRIVER EDUCATION VEHICLE

Mr. Greg Marvin of Midwest Ford presented the keys to this beautiful light blue 1993 Tempo GL Thursday, January 14, 1993. This 2.3 Liter, 4 cylinder, fuel injected auto with a 3 speed Automatic transmission, will be the Driver Education auto for 1993. Greg and Kathy Marvin have provided the Driver Education cars for the past five years.

Manchester Community Schools Driver Education program was mandated by the State of Michigan in 1955/56. According to Mr. Ron Jansen, who accepted the keys for the car on behalf of the school, there are 65 students enrolled. Enrollment varies up to a maximum of 100 students. The State provides reimbursement to the school system for offset costs of instruction. A minimal lease charge and partial cost recovery is made to Midwest.

The Driver Education car accumulates about 10,000 miles each year. Ford Motor Company encourages local dealers to furnish vehicles but there is no compensation by Fo Mo Co.

That program according to the Marvins will set aside a percentage of the business garnered from Manchester residents. Any business from Service, Body Shop or Sales will have that percentage set a side for scholarship awards starting this year.

The Marvins care about the community and have sponsored Township Library, Historical Society, Men's Club, Athletics Program, Girl Scouts, Community Resource Center, Recycling Programs, Kool Cruisers Car Show, Canoe Race, Chamber of Commerce, Lamb Club, Steer Club, Swine Club, Recreation Task Force, Fireworks, 125th Anniversary Celebration and the Kiwanis. Greg and Kathy Marvin care about our community and about Midwest Ford.
