Community Awareness Meeting Provides Important Information

— Kathy Kueffner
Guest speakers, members of the Manchester community, and other communities, gathered Monday evening at the American Legion Hall to confront the issue of child abuse. Because this meeting took place past our "deadline", the following is only a brief and inadequate summary.
We welcome your comments
and opinions for our next edition of The Enterprise.

The meeting was coordinated by Manchester resident Jayne Long who has organized
S.A.V.E (Sex Abuse Victims Everywhere).

Speakers included Brian Mackie, Prosecuting Attorney
of Washtenaw County, Norman Maxwell of the Ypsilanti State Police Post, Jim Douglas, Saline Chief of Police, plus various mental health clinicians.

Mr. Mackie stated that a sex crime unit has been in force in the Washtenaw County's Prosecutor's office since January of this year, however, additional funding is needed to obtain important specialized training both for our law enforcement agencies and in the judicial system.

Jim Douglas recounted the child sexual abuse case in Saline approximately 15 years ago
where 100 or so youngsters in a Boy Scout troop were victimized.
He stated that a community has two main lines of defense: First, prevention. The vigilance of parents cannot be over emphasized. In one of the handouts provided at the meeting, there were some important suggestions, among them - pay careful attention to who is around our children, take a second look at signals of potential danger, remind children that even "nice"
people sometimes do mean things, prepare children to deal with bribes and threats, as well as possible physical force...

And, second, changing the existing laws. Judges should be trained in handling these cases better, and they should be more liberal in accepting the testimony of children.

As a community we can help
by supporting neighborhood programs that protect our children and encourage schools to provide information about sexual assault as a problem of health and safety.

A spokesperson for the Governor's Task Force on Children's Justice made available an informative summary on their recommendations for improving response to child abuse and neglect. For more information, contact Jayne Long, P.O. Box 558, Manchester, MI 48158

NOTICE OF ADOPTION

easement, and to delete wording from subsection (2).

DUTCH SPIKERS GO TO STATE PLAYOFFS

— Patrice Faulhaber

The Lady Dutch Are Region Champs!

For the first time in the history of Manchester High School, the girls volleyball team has a shot at the title! They won the Regional Championship match
in Sand Creek, Saturday, beating
Dundee and Riverview Gabriel Richard.

Coach Barb Stein and assistant Wendy Towne were very proud and very excited about the way the girls took control in the final match. They beat Richard 15-11 and 15-2.

Barb said, "They came to play today. I am so proud! This is the farthest a team has ever gone
in Manchester."

Coach felt blocking was their biggest asset and most of the fans would agree. Every player was working the net. Sarah Riske and Olivia DeLongchamp had eight and six consecutively. Kathleen Baran, Adrienne Wallace and Sandra Wiitala had 3-2-2, in that order.

In game one against Dundee,
the team was having a little trouble hitting. Momentum picked up when Adrienne connected with a couple of kills.

They won 15-13. By game two the team was moving en-synch
and they rolled over Dundee 15-2.

Adrienne and Sarah tallied
up 14 kills each in just four games.

Sarah Riske has been a strong, all-around player this year
and Saturday was no exception.
Sarah's effort to improve her back row play and serving have been a big asset. She has blocked consistently all year and she has a right hook that sets her opponent back on their seat.

For the day, Sharon Fielder was 15 of 15 serving with 8 points. Tracy LaRue's serve has been strong all year and she had 19 of 20 with 14 points (3 aces).
Kathleen Baran was 14 of 14
with 6 points (3 aces), followed by Sandra Wiitala, 12 of 14 with 8 points.

Kathleen and Sandra each had 14 digs. Sarah, Tracy and Sharon had 12-11-11 in that order. Tracy had 32 assists.

They will advance to play in Kalamazoo Friday at Kalamazoo

Manchester Middle School Student Chosen for People to People Program

— Kathy Kueffner

Hal DeLongchamp Going To Australia

Wanted: Student Ambassadors

Reason: To promote goodwill and world peace.

After World War II, President Eisenhower envisioned a world where private citizens could be brought together in an exchange program to promote world peace. With this in mind, an international project was started in the late 1950's. The Student Ambassador program began in 1963.

Hal DeLongchamp, a seventh grader at Nellie Ackerson Middle School, was nominated along with 500 other students from the Washtenaw County area. After written correspondence and interviews with various committees, Hal was chosen to be one of 30 students to go to Australia. Their trip is scheduled for the first three weeks of July, 1993.

Activities will vary depending on scheduling, however, they may visit the Great Barrier Reef,
the Gold Coast north of Sydney,
go into the outback area, meet with Aboriginals to view their culture, visit the Sydney Opera House and see a Koala sanctuary. They may also see the traditional lifestyle of Australian sheep herders and obtain insight into the Australian form of government in Canberra.

The cost of the trip is $4,400
and covers everything from meals to transportation. Hal is accepting offers of part-time jobs to help finance his trip. Donations are also appreciated.

Hal will earn some money toward his trip by reporting for The Enterprise about events he witnesses and experiences in Australia. Hal can be reached at 428-9079.

The White House in Manchester Welcomes U of M Hockey Team

—Debbie Klumpp

Mention the word "hockey" to Tony and Vicki White of Manchester and you've said the magic word. To them hockey means opening their house and their hearts to some of the University of Michigan hockey players.

Seven years ago, Vicki asked some of the players when the last time they had a homecooked meal was — knowing that the majority of the team comes from hundreds and sometimes thousands of miles away from home to study at the University of Michigan.

Tony and Vicki have had the opportunity to welcome hockey graduates Brian Deasley, Brad Turner, Don Stone and Mike Helber into their home. Vicki prepares delicious meals and the players are able to just "hang out" in a family setting.

Currently the "White Guys" include goalie Steve Shields (#31), Dave Oliver (#26), Cam Stewart (#21), Mike Stone (#12), and Brian Wiseman (#16).

At a recent evening at "The White House", teammates Shields, Stewart, Wiseman, Oliver and Stone added Ryan Sittler (#17) and John Arnold (#20).

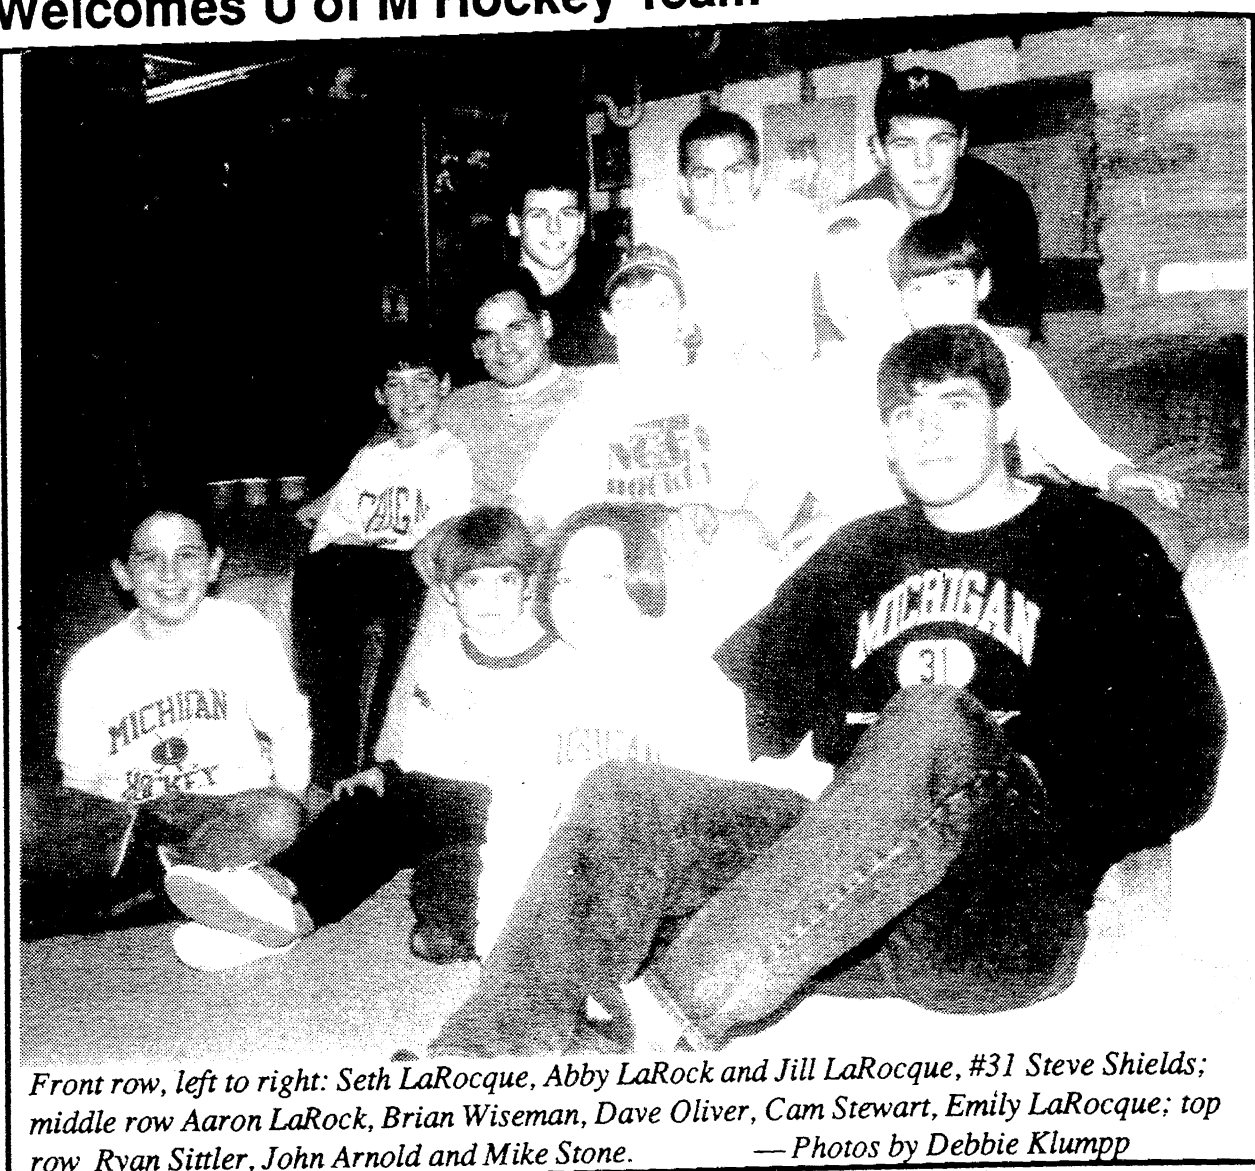

Jill, Seth, and Emily LaRocque, and Aaron and Abby LaRock won't soon forget the evening either. The hockey players took time away from hockey (and food) to talk to the children and share some of their time with them. The most important fact all of the players stressed was the importance of doing well in school. Dave Oliver wants kids to know that you should get as much as you can out of your grade school years, to study hard and to be prepared to put all your efforts into doing well in college. School is a one time opportunity not to be taken lightly, that it's there for a reason, enjoy it!

Like many athletes, Cam Stewart is most thankful for the love and support of his family and friends. Without them, the courage to continue when the times are tough would not be there. It's great to be part of a winning team, but the distance between home and school is overwhelming at times. With supporting friends and loyal fans the players are fortunate for people like Tony and Vicki White who do indeed take the time to show them how special they are.

Vicki takes homemade cakes, cookies, taco salads and other goodies to "her guys" to help them feel at home. After the games, Tony and Vicki are outside the locker room to show their support (win or lose).

Of all the advice the hockey players want to give the kids it's to stay away from drugs. There are many children who look up to these great athletes and advice like that should last a lifetime!

Steve Shields, Goalie

by Jill LaRocque

Steve Shields is the goalie for the U of M hockey team. He was named second best goalie out of the league in the USA. Shields is studying Kinesiology. Shields is also going to college to get a good education. After college Shields will be on the Sabers. He likes it when he gets worshipped but only when he deserves it!

Stop 'em at the finals, Steve!

David Oliver

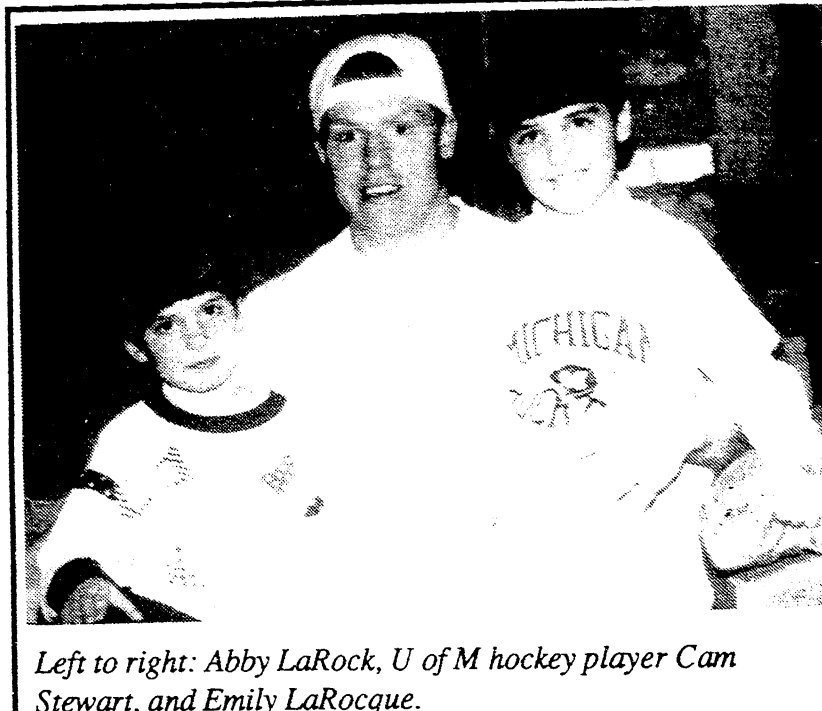

by Jill LaRocque

Oliver started to play hockey at the age of six. He got started in hockey because of his two older brothers. He is now on the University of Michigan college hockey team.

He is studying Kinesiology (or science). Oliver thinks that you should stay in school because it is important. He says try to do the very best you can do in school.

After college Oliver will play for the Edmonton Oilers. Oliver says that when he gets sent to the penalty box it makes him feel very bad (seeeee-ya!) But, when he scores a goal, it makes him feel lots better.

Good luck in the finals, Dave Oliver!

Butterflies sipping nectar from summer flowers, a beautiful sight becomes extremely rare and meaningful when the date is only March 25th and the place is Ann Arbor. This year, the 1993 Ann Arbor Flower & Garden Show, March 25-28, promises to make just such a live butterfly presentation. In keeping with the show's theme, "A Walk On The Wild Side", butterflies: Painted Ladies, Queens, and Zebra longwings, will be incorporated in a one-quarter acre exhibit.

A greenhouse sheltering the live butterflies will highlight the garden. Butterfly favorites such as Sweet Alyssum, Heliotrope and Verbena and more than 50 other species of plants are being grown and will provide the nectar necessary to sustain the butterflies throughout the show.

At the show, reap a wealth of information and ideas for your home and garden from professional horticulturists. Experience the dazzling displays presented by dozens of plant affiliated organizations such as the Cacti & Succulent, Gourd and Herb Societies. See balcony, patio and whimsical miniature gardens, created in a kaleidoscope of colorful annuals and perennials. Become inspired by over 200 stylish horticultural exhibits offering innovative

An Update From the Western Washtenaw Recycling Authority

The Western Washtenaw Recycling Authority has been operating its Material Recovery Facility on Werkner Road for the past two months. Things have been going well and the public is starting to participate in a major way.

The recognition of public participation comes in the form of quantity of material recycled and processed at the facility. The material is collected by utilization of the drop off sites located throughout western Washtenaw County as well as the curbside programs located in the villages of Chelsea and Manchester.

In its first two months of operation the Authority has processed the following quantities of material:

- 165,940 pounds of newspapers
- 82,440 pounds of corrugated cardboard
- 32,440 pounds of glass
- 32,300 pounds of tin cans
- 14,000 pounds of plastic milk jugs.

These various materials total 327,102 pounds of what in the past would have been buried in the landfill. Translated into volume, these materials would cover the downtown main street of Chelsea its entire width four feet deep.

And, if this material would have continued to go into the landfill in Chelsea, the landfill would have reached capacity and would already be closed.

For people who are true environmentalists, our recycling efforts have saved approximately 2,100 trees, reduced industrial water consumption by 1,116,000 gallons, and reduced industrial electrical usage by an excess of 5 billion watts of energy.

This is only the beginning. To make recycling successful requires the participation of all of the people in Western Washtenaw County. Every child, woman, man, business and industry needs to participate. Every pound or cubic foot of material we can divert from our landfills contributes to keeping the landfills open longer as well as not having to spend a million dollars an acre to develop new landfills.

We thank everyone who has participated in our program thus far and encourage those who have not become involved in recycling to do so, for everyone's sake.

If you have any questions about recycling, please feel free to contact the Authority manager Jeff Bagocius at 475-6160.

"Chelsea is my hospital."

"I got acquainted with Chelsea during my residency at the U-M Family Practice Center on the hospital campus. Ten years of private practice later, I still appreciate the same things about the hospital I did then—an emphasis on primary care, consultation with well-respected specialists, and a caring philosophy that's in tune with mine. It's important that the hospital works well with me and treats my patients well. Chelsea Community Hospital gets high marks on both counts."

The Young Reporter Corner: News and views from students in the Manchester Community Reflections of Grief

— by Heather DuRussel

February 23, 1993 was a normal day for us at the Middle School. We had just eaten lunch and were in sixth hour. Each teacher said they had to tell us something and not to ask any questions for a few minutes. We all sat down to listen. They said that Greta had died early that morning or late that night.

The first thought was total and complete shock. Then it was "How could something like this happen to someone so young and loved?" We then could go to talk to counselors or just to friends sixth and seventh hour.

It was a very emotional afternoon. There were a lot of tears and disbelief. I don't understand why our society would turn away someone who needed help. How could this happen? I think that this has brought our school much closer together.

We will all miss Greta, her smiling face and great personality. She was a friend to everyone. I, as a fellow eighth grade cheerleader, will always think of Greta when I'm cheering because she was so devoted and spirited.

I know that the students are not the only ones grieving over Greta's death. The teachers and staff are taking this all very hard and are being very brave and understanding of our feelings.

There is a lot of sympathy towards both families. They both lost someone very special in their lives. Thanks to friends, family, teachers and staff we have begun to understand, forgive and listen. We also know that we never have to forget the good times we had with Greta whether it was in cheerleading, in school, at dances, or just talking. I know in my heart that Greta will never be forgotten.

Partners In Education For The 21st Century

The exploration begun on February 10 and scheduled to continue on March 10 was forced by the snowy weather last Wednesday to slow up and de-tour. The small group of hardy souls who made it to the high school library decided it would be better to reschedule to a time when more people could be available to continue this very important mission. Those present did stay and spend time discussing some of the issues involved as we begin to work together to change education to meet the needs of today and tomorrow.

A new date for this undertaking will be announced in the near future. The evening will be focused on two issues: how to accomplish the staff development required to bring about the necessary change in education and a continuation of our discussion regarding cooperative efforts of the schools and community to form partnerships to enrich our educational system.

Staff development must be more than sending people to training sessions or hiring someone to come in and speak on a topic for an hour or so or even a day. The program we design must contribute to a dynamic process of learning and growth which will pave the way to a changed educational system appropriate for educating the citizens and leaders of the future.

Manchester Community Schools' Professional Council again invites you to join with us as Partners in Education for the 21st Century. To receive information about future meetings call the Superintendent's Office, 428-9711 and have your name put on the mailing list. Remember, we adult citizens of today are responsible for developing the citizens of tomorrow.

Manchester Township Library

"Michigan's Oldest Township Library" Established 1838

We asked Director Dorothy Davies, "What's new at the Manchester Township Library?"

She replied, "With the elimination of the book collection at our cooperative, the Huron Valley Library System, I was able to choose 1,500 free titles to add to our collection recently. The staff and volunteers processed, shelved, and filed the catalog cards to this addition. Many of the non-fiction books improve our selection on woodworking, antiques, history, mammals, art and Michigan. I was also pleased to obtain many "classic" fiction to add to our shelves.

"Because of this windfall, many of the shelves are crowded and we moved some books to the upstairs 'Classics Room'. Staff and volunteers help patrons to locate specific books."

Dorothy added: "Our Board recently voted to use some contingency funds (from a recent bequest) to build additional shelving upstairs and in the downstairs hallway."

Dorothy also told us that Assistant Librarian Carol Johnson is now responsible for the video collection and with the assistance of volunteers Carol Driessche and Marsha Chartrand, renovated the entire system this month.

"Also," Dorothy said, "Marjorie Bentschneider and Ann Fowler volunteered to take inventory of the books in the Youth and Children's rooms.

Another volunteer, Anne Marsh, meets pre-school children on Monday nights at 6:30 for story telling.

In addition, recent donations made possible the purchase of many adult best sellers, some reference books, and up-to-date non-fiction books for juveniles. Students preparing for the social studies and science fairs made good use of the latter.

"Finally," Dorothy adds, "we are fortunate that Frances Goff and Paul Smith have joined our part-time staff. And, we are always thankful to the other volunteers, especially Mike Miner who has kept our walks shoveled for many winters."

Community-Wide Youth Impaired Driving Program

In communities around the nation, government officials, educators, health professionals, parents, concerned citizens and youth are joining together to combat the loss of life, debilitating injury and wasted human potential caused by the use of alcohol and other drugs and impaired driving by youth.

However, many community efforts are frustrated by a lack of information concerning concrete steps that can be taken to reduce the number of youth who drink and drive. Youth Impaired Driving Program ideas have been developed to assist community efforts to address related issues.

Schools are one important institution in which young people grow and learn. The other two important institutions are the community and family. The values, expectations and standards that children learn in the home and the neighborhood are the base and frame upon which good citizenship and positive health behaviour are built.

Manchester's Community Resource Center and Washtenaw County Project Director Jon Scicluna are coordinating efforts to form a community task force in Manchester. Wednesday, March 24 at 8:00 p.m., Deputy Scicluna will present a video Kids and Alcohol. Interested people of the community are cordially invited to attend this meeting.

Let's join together as a community to address issues that affect us all.

Senior Citizens News

I didn't realize what excellent weather predictors the Ludwicks are. Talk about picking just about the right three weeks to be away from here—how'd they do that? All I can say is "enjoy!"

It is probably a good thing I got started on my new health plan when I did. Otherwise, this week you would all have been bored out of your minds while I told you about my "operation". All of that waiting at the hospital and doctors offices last week paid off with a surgery date and an operation to take my miseries away. Sometime when I don't have any thoughts at all about what to write in this column I can tell you about my gall bladder and the size and shape of my gallstones, but not now.

Mail about my new health plan hasn't had a chance to pick up much as yet. But I expect it will soon. Don't suppose Hillary will have time to write me while she is so busy holding secret hearings about what she has to recommend at the end of her 100 days. I'll be here any time she wants to acknowledge what I have done for health care. As the song goes, "Oh, God, But It's Hard To Be Humble", but I'll sure try.

I've got our kids working on this project, too. The following excerpt from the Times-Arrow of Barre-Montpelier, Vermont arrived in the mail. Thought you'd like parts of it, so here goes.

Author Dave Barry writes about "Goodbye Tax Relief: Hello Shared Sacrifice". He takes off on several appropriate themes and then gets to pooh-poohing dumb government expenditures for things like the Space Toilet—budgeted at $2.9 million and coming in at $23.4. And that doesn't include the costs of Space Plumbers to go up there at $3.4 million per hour to fix it, not including $12.1 million for every coffee break the guys or gals are entitled to under their labor contract.

"University of Virginia medical researchers have embarked on a four-year constipation investigation employing video games to help children better control their bowels. With a $1.2 million grant from the National Institutes of Health, researchers will try to teach children how to ease the passage of bowel movements and determine how success affects family and school life."

The story relates that, in this study, children will learn how to control their bowels by operating a video game, controlled with the aid of electrodes attached to the child's... OK, never mind where the electrodes are attached. Suffice it to say that you'd have to pay me AT LEAST $1.2 million to attach them.

The point is that the government needs your money for many vital activities, and you need to just forget about Tax Relief, and start thinking in terms of Sacrifice. Remember: If your government can buy electrodes for researchers at the University of Virginia, it can also buy them for the IRS."

Dutch Roundballers Conclude 55-56

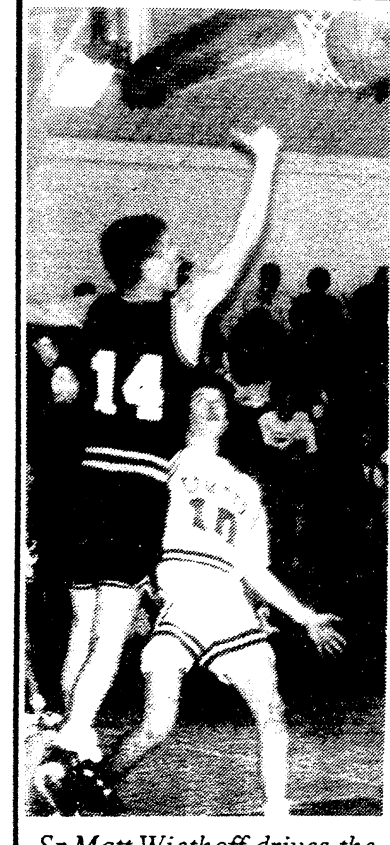

—by Jon

On Monday, we traveled to Concord for the first round of the District State playoffs. It's always rough to draw the host team the first time around, but we did it. We had to play catchup basketball most of the way as Concord led 11-19 after one period and 29-34 at the intermission. We entered the third period on fire, but by the end of eight minutes, Concord sat atop by five points. We started the final stanza with solid offense and good defense and scored 12 straight points to assume the advantage. With 2:53 left to play, we had a five-point lead but Concord went to the charity stripe six times and made all six to win by one point.

Rob Davis led our scorers with 19 points as our two seniors, Matt Weithoff and Rodney Burkhardt had 16 points and 12 points respectively.

The Wrestling Report

by Coach Vlchik

After two anxious weeks of waiting for State to start, we traveled far and wide for tough competition to practice, going to places like Ypsilanti, Adrian Addison, and Hudson. This was a good tune-up for our kids as they got to practice with different kids and got tough workouts in the process.

After all the hard work that the kids put in, I figured it would pay off on Friday. Lucas was our first wrestler and he went out with everything he had losing to a State qualifier from last year on a terrible call by an official who should have given him a take-down late in the match which would have given him enough points to win, but he ended up losing, 9-8. In his second match he lost another tough one by the score of 3-1, closing out an outstanding season. Lucas really surprised a lot of people and really proved a lot to himself.

Chris Carson continued his desire to wrestle at his highest level placing an impressive 7th place. In his first match, he lost in the final seconds on a reversal from another State qualifier. After winning his second match it would come down to one of his rivals, Jamie Brown from Addison, who had beaten him in his last three matches. Chris came out strong and took an early 2-0 lead but Brown hung tough and tied the match up with a minute to go after going out of bounds with 15 seconds to go. My confidence in him grew, especially with the match he had in regionals to get to state which he won in the last seconds. Chris really dug down inside himself and pulled off the upset by the score of 4-2, putting him in the medals. In the morning, he lost a close match by the score of 8-7 dropping him down for 7 and 8. This is where he met up with Matt Depeel from Dansville. Before the match I had asked Chris if he was ready and he told me that there was no way this kid would beat him. He was right, going out in the third period and pinning him for a well-deserved and worked hard for 7th place.

Congratulations, Chris. I'll really miss having a kid like you around; it's been a real pleasure to coach you and watch you mature for 6 years.

Brent was our best bet for a high placing, but he knew as well as I did that you just don't get things handed to you up there. You have to earn it and he did. After destroying his first opponent he met up with Brandon Chapman from New Lothrop. This is the same kid who beat him last year at State. This one turned out in Brandon's favor again in a tightly wrestled match, the score being 3-2. Again one of our kids would face a rival, Cory Corbin from Addison who has always given Brent troubles; but Brent came out on top with another close match by the score of 4-3. This is the first year Brent has beaten him everytime and again the match put Brent into the medals. In the morning Brent would have to face not only a State qualifier the past 2 years but he also placed both years. Coming out strong and not letting up, Brent took the win with probably his most impressive match of the year by the score of 5-2. His next match was against a power ball from Berrin Springs, who he hammered, taking the stronger kid to his back several times and winning easily by the score of 12-6. Then it was rematch time with Brandon who again came out on top with the score of 5-4. Still it was a great try from Brent and definitely nothing to be ashamed of, just giving him something to shoot for next year.

Once again I'd like to thank the parents of the wrestlers and our supporters for making this one of my most enjoyable seasons. See you next year.

What is Cable?

Recently, it has come to my attention that there are people (from Jackson, MI and Ohio) who are going door to door with this phrase: "Have Cable in your home!"

The term "Cable" has become confusing. (They are talking about "satellite" — not "cable"). I would like to explain "Cable."

First of all, Cable is not a satellite dish.

Cable is a service performed by companies such as: Columbia Cable Vision, Clear Cable, Omnicon, Multivision or Televista.

Second, Cable does not cost $3,000 to $4,000. Basic cable service is less than $20 per month. So, don't be confused. Call me and get all your questions answered and pricing on a satellite dish at $2,100.

EMU's Elderwise Program Announces Spring 1993 Program Series

From 9:00am -12:00noon, April 7, 1993, Eastern Michigan University's Elderwise program will kick off its Spring 1993 Program Series with an Open House in the Multipurpose Room of the McAuley Health Complex in Ann Arbor.

The event will feature a video presentation on the Grand Tetons, Jackson Hole and Yellowstone National Park and an orientation to Elderwise, a collaborative learning-in-retirement program designed to meet the needs of area seniors.

Registration is free and open to the public, but interested individuals must register in advance by calling (313) 572-2035 or (313) 487-0409.

The Open House marks the beginning of a second year of exciting learning opportunities designed especially for individuals 50 and over. Since its inception in the Fall of 1991, Elderwise has taken a unique approach to learning-in-retirement. The organization and its programs are entirely membership-shaped and driven. Working with individuals from Eastern Michigan University's Gerontology and Continuing Education areas, Elderwise now boasts a membership of nearly two hundred and offers both a Spring and Fall Program Series.

The Spring 1993 Program Series offers courses, hands-on workshops, slide and video presentations and a number of special events. A sampling of course titles include: Some Time With Abraham Lincoln, Masterpieces In Music, Photography For the Fun Of It, and Ladies And Gentlemen-The American Circus: Past, Present, Future.

Other offerings include a three-day outing for Elder campers at Higgins Lake, a slide presentation entitled The Romance Of Michigan Rivers, and biweekly "unmeetings" for sharing experiences and spending time with friends.

All Elderwise programs are open to anyone 50 or over. Members receive a program discount.

For more information about Elderwise and the Spring 1993 Program Series, call the Elderwise Office at (313) 572-2035 on Wednesdays from noon to 4:00pm or Eastern Michigan University's Office of Continuing Education at (313) 487-0409 during regular business hours and ask for Ariene Phillips.

Optimists' Oratorical Contest Medalists

Jennifer Nosbisch and Herb Mahoney were judged first place winners in the Manchester Optimist Club's Annual Oratorical contest held at the meeting of March 8th. Jenny is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Doug Nosbisch. Herb's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Herb Mahoney.

In the girls' division, Michelle Schaible finished second while Joanna Dettling was presented with the Runner-up award. Also participating was Katie Roberts and Jill Pfau. In the boys' division, Joe Tobias received the second place award, Randy Burkhardt received Runner-up. Rounding out the boys' competitors were Adam Corwin and Pete Paige.

Each of the contestants received a Certificate of Participation, and the three winners from each division were presented with a medallion. The official topic this year that the students based their orations on was "I Can Make a Difference." Mike Gordon, Oratorical Contest Chairman, expressed the gratitude of all Optimist members to Mrs. Daisha Daniels of Nellie Ackerson Middle School for such fine work over the years with all of the students. The two first place winners will compete at the Regional Competition on April 3 in Brighton. If either is awarded a first place at this event, they will receive a $1,000 scholarship from the Manchester Optimists and compete in the State Finals in May. With first place in the finals, a $1,500 scholarship is awarded by the Michigan District of Optimists.

SADD NEWS

It's almost spring and with spring comes all the Graduation parties and, of course, the Prom. This is also a time when the number of drunk-driving related accidents rises.

The Manchester High School SADD chapter is planning and participating in many activities to provide social awareness of this time.

Our SADD chapter is sending a few students to Jackson Northwest High School for Peer Resistance training. This workshop will provide the students with the knowledge needed to teach younger students about resisting peer pressures and saying "NO".

Project Graduation is also coming up this spring. This is an awareness program put on every year by the area SADD chapters. Personalities from various TV and radio stations, such as WHYT 96.3FM, WXYZ Channel 7, and WKBD channel 50, will be on hand to share their ideas and statistics about drinking related accidents.

Junior High week is also taking place this spring. The HS SADD members use this time to talk to Junior High students about joining SADD in High School and about peer resistance.

Spring is the busiest time of year for our SADD chapter. We hope you will help us by not drinking and driving!
