State to Reduce Manchester School Districts funding by $225,000

— Emory Garlick

School Board Secretary Paul Kluwe informed the Enterprise that the State of Michigan has revealed a $225,000 reduction of State formula funding for the 93/94 school year.

Manchester Schools has a fund equity built into their 93/94 budget of approximately $500,000. The fund equity is unappropriated reserves. The reduction of State funding will cut this reserve account in half.

Charles "Chuck" Cornell Retires

— Emory Garlick

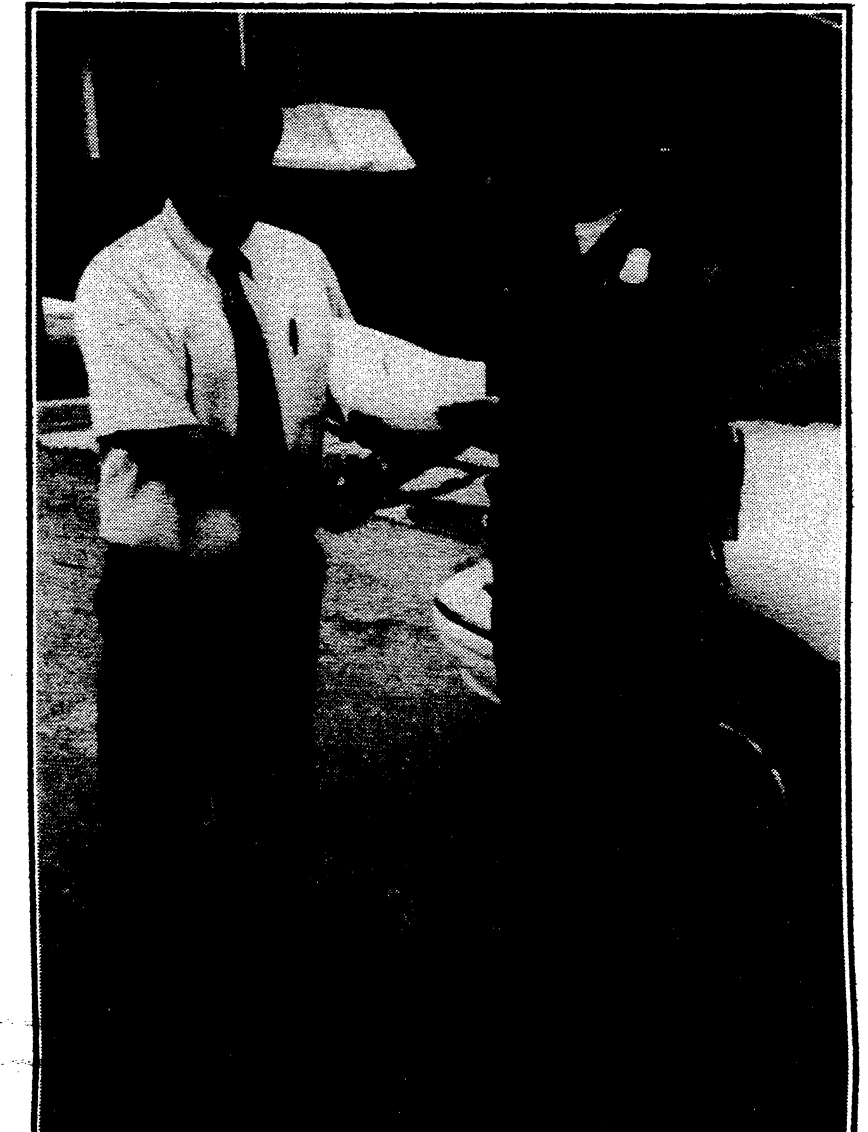

Chuck Cornell has decided to retire. After 23-plus years with the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department Chuck is hanging it up.

Whenever something was happening on the local scene his insight was invaluable in sorting out the details. Many of our more rambunctious lads came under Chuck's wing and with his guidance their lives were sorted out.

One of the unnamed lads related: "Chuck gave me hell. I was rowdy and undisciplined. Got drunk too often and wrecked several vehicles. I almost lost my family until Chuck came down on me. My driver's license was revoked and I was promised jail time if I didn't straighten out. Chuck went to bat for me. The probation officer said if Chuck would keep his eye on me, he would give me one more chance. I hate to see Chuck retire, he has helped a lot of us kids".

With that kind of tribute we are truly loosing a valuable asset to the community.

Good luck, Chuck, and thanks for a job well done!

Village Manager Jeff Wallace presents Officer Cornell with a certificate of appreciation.

Boy Scouts Honored

— Bill Kwolek

John Hugel, right, awards the rank of Life Scout to Senior Patrol Leader Dave Sweeton. The presentation also recognized Dave's mother, Mary Lou, for her contribution to her son's advancement.

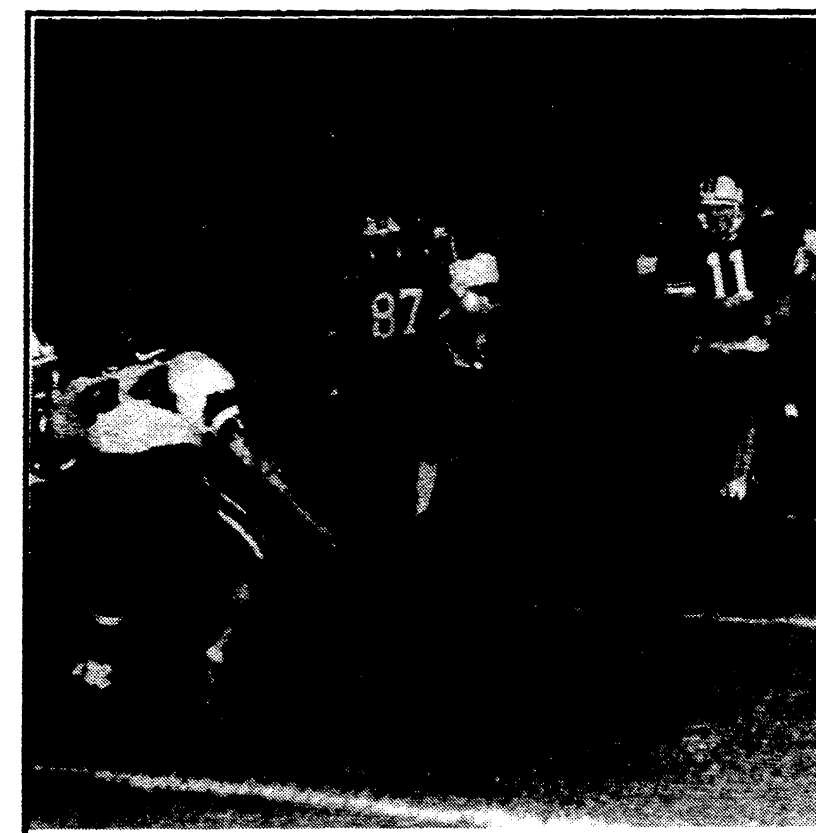

The scouts, parents and supporters of Troop 426 held their end of summer Court of Honor on the 17th of August at Emanuel Church. This year, Andrew Schook planned the occasion as a project to earn the Communications merit badge.

The ceremony started with the Color Guard leading those present in a recitation of the Pledge, Scout Oath and Law. Eloise Kemner awarded merit badges to Scott Burby for Fishing; Pat Chapin for Safety; Jason Campbell for Rifle Shooting; Will Roberts for Emergency Preparedness; Willy Slocum for Fishing; Ted Roberts for Metalworking and Emergency Preparedness; Andrew Schook for Leatherwork, Wood Carving, and Pioneering; and Dave Sweeton for Fish & Wildlife Management, Soil Conservation, and Mammal Study.

From The Ground Up

—by BG

This is the time of year to start the cleaning of the flower beds while still deadheading to encourage more flowers for the next few weeks. Getting rid of the debris, the dead leaves, dead stalks and some flower heads is important to good sanitation and a healthy garden.

The blotches and spots (leafspot) that show up on some Iris leaves are caused by bacteria and fungi that can remain over the winter and be ready to splash onto the new leaves in the spring to continue the cycle. It doesn't harm the Iris by cutting off the badly disfigured leaves. The clearing away of the dead leaves and stalks will also discourage the borers from overwintering. The debris should not be put on the compost pile.

Some plants such as Monarda, Lambs-ears, Daisies and Yarrow can be tidied for the winter by cutting the stalks down to the basal leaves.

Other plants such as "Autumn Joy" Sedum, Hydrangea, Yucca and Caryopteris (Blue Fringe) can be left with the seed heads intact for the winter beauty. In the early spring, the dead Sedum plant can be pulled away to make room for the new growth, but the Caryopteris has to be cut to the ground since flowers appear on the new growth.

Cutting back a portion of the plant including the flower heads is desirable for those flowers that could become too numerous and turn into weeds. It is easier to remove the seeds of Corsopsis, Gaillardia and Anemone now than to remove the small scattered plants next spring.

While deadheading certain plants to encourage more flowering, hopefully, enough ripe seeds will drop to provide seedlings for next spring. I can count on re-seeding from Sweet Alyssum, Foxgloves, Snapdragons, Pinks and Sweet Williams while deadheading this summer for more flowers.

It is a personal decision on what are "weeds" and what are "flowers".

Township Road Work Starts

—Emory Garlick

Manchester Township road reconstruction of Boetger Road started last week. Ditching and road base reconstruction was in progress. Road gravel will follow. Last spring this portion of the road was impassable and several cars became mired in the first one half mile of Boetger Road west of Logan Road.

Appropriations for Bridgewater Township $10,969 for 1 project, Freedom Township $25,998 for 2 projects, Manchester Township $35,503 for 3 projects and Sharon Township $10,895 for 1 project.

Altogether Washtenaw County Road Commission will improve over fifty miles of local roads in all of Washtenaw County Townships. Townships will be contributing over $1,350,000 to the Road Commission in 1993.

In addition, Bridgewater Township will be participating in the Allen Road bridge replacement project, although at this time it is not part of their 1993 agreement.

Cub Scout Roundup

Cub Scouts Flying High Into A New Season

—Diane DuRussel

On Saturday, August 28, 16 Cub Scouts from Pack 421, and their families, gathered at Rossettie's Airport on M-52 for a tour hosted by the owners, Alice and Mike Rossettie.

First Mike explained to the boys the safety procedures, then with Mike's supervision, Alice lined the cubs up for plane rides flown by Chuck King, Terry Harris, Mike Loux, and Gary Shavey while Dave Kemner and Dody Lewis acted as ground crew.

In the air the Webelo Scouts learned about air pressure for their scientist badge. On the ground the Bear Cubs were introduced to different types of aircraft for one of their elective badges, and everyone was all ears as Dick Hausman explained glider craft assembly.

We had wonderful weather for this tour and we were all amazed to see what our homes looked like from the air.

The Cub Scout Pack has a meeting once a month along with Pack activities. In the coming year, Pack activities will include roller skating, swimming, a fall color hike, bowl-a-thon, Scouting for Food, the Blue & Gold Banquet, and a Pinewood Derby.

The Pack is composed of Dens which have six to eight boys (Cubs) of the same age and grade level. During the year the Cubs earn badges and arrow points with the help of their families and Dens (which meet three times a month).

The goal of Cub Scouting is best expressed in their promise: "To do my best, to do my duty to God and my country, to help other people..."

Registration will be Thursday, September 16 at 7:00 p.m. Membership fee for new scouts is $10.60 and for returning scouts it is $7. A subscription to Boys' Life Scouting magazine is $7.80.

Please join us. Contact person Diane DuRussel at 428-7051.

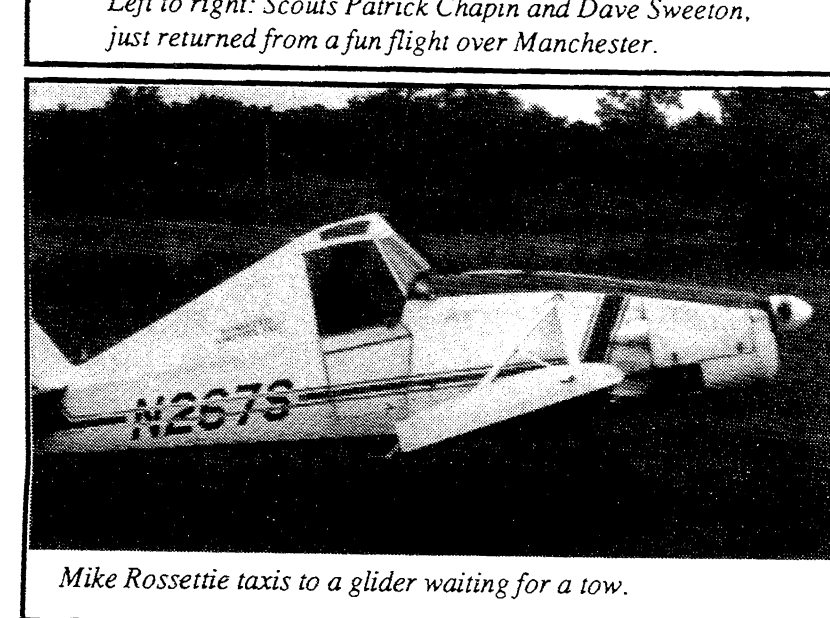

Pack 421 would like to thank the following: Mr. & Mrs. Mike Rossettie for the wonderful tour of their airport; the pilots - Dick Hausman, Chuck King, Terry Harris, Mike Loux and Gary Shavey; and the ground crew - Dave Kemner and Dody Lewis. You all really put a sparkle in our day.

Alice Rossettie tells the scouts and their families all about the planes.

John Hugel awarded the rank of Life Scout to Senior Patrol Leader Dave Sweeton. The presentation also recognized Dave's mother Mary Lou for her contribution to her son's advancement.

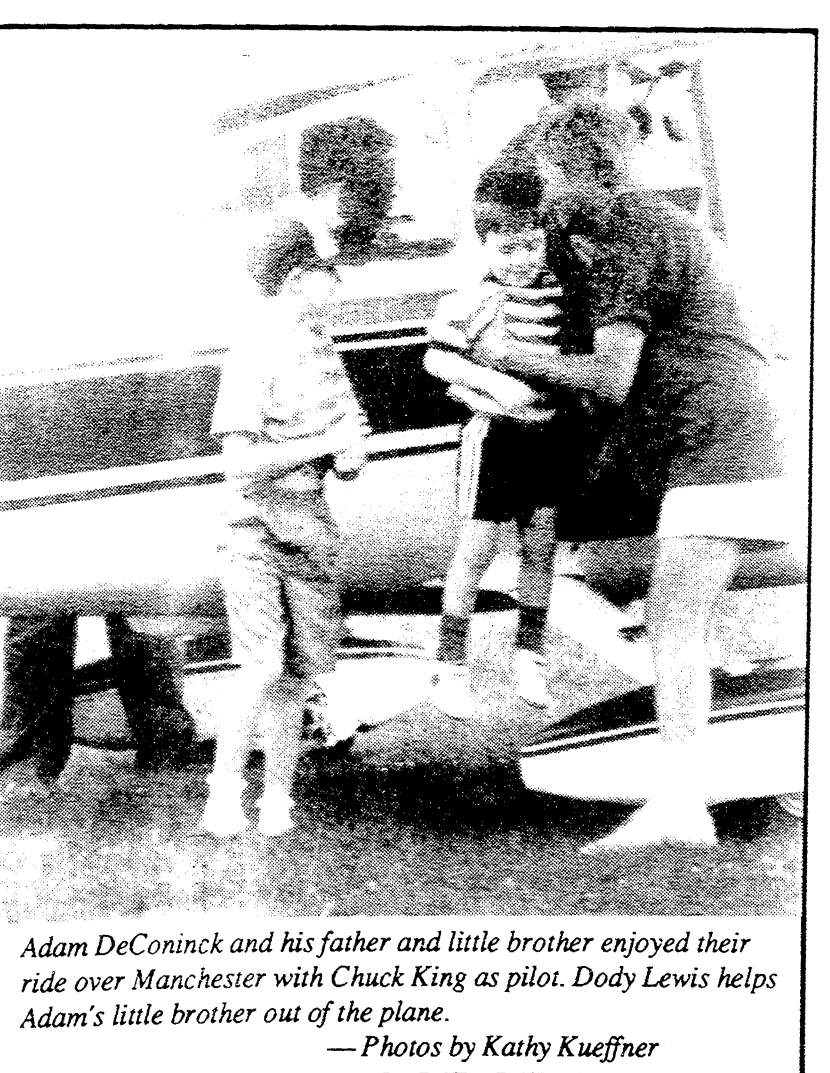

Brad Kemner and Andrew Schook received the Square Knot Patch which accompanies the God and Country Award. The honor will be formally presented at a church service later this year.

Scoutmaster Ron Schook also presented two special awards to adult volunteers for service to the troop. John Hugel was distinguished as "Top First Aid Kit Salesman" and "Uncle Bill" Kwolek was proclaimed Senior Troop Scribe. Readers will appreciate the license granted with this title: ...to violate verbs, adjust adjectives, pang periods, and cream commas.

The celebration ended with the final recitation of the Scout Oath and Law. Afterwards, I remarked to David Goodrich how readily those words came back after 30 years. He turned to me with an easy smile and said "that's what's supposed to happen when you live them".

Pack 421 would like to thank Jack Gould for his donation from the golf tournament. We are a non profit organization and his contribution "helped to make our Pack go."

Adam DeConinck and his father and little brother enjoyed their ride over Manchester with Chuck King as pilot. Dody Lewis helps Adam's little brother out of the plane.

Editorial / Opinion

Dear Editor:

In response to a letter I found lying on a table in Baker's Dozen written by Mr. Paul Kluge —

Mr. Kluge: First of all, I would like to know what the words "truth" and "reality" mean to you? Since it seemed to me that both must have been hidden very deep in your letter.

Why were these decisions made behind closed doors and not during an open session? Doesn't our school board think that the community taxpayers should have the right to be a part of such decision making since it effects all of us?

Why do you feel that it's so important that our administrators be paid more than our teachers? You said yourself that two of them could opt to return to the classroom and earn more money, yet that's not what they've chosen to do. That tells me that even though they make less money perhaps they feel fulfilled in what they are doing. Hats off to them.

You also stated that our administrators are the lowest paid in the county yet, in the example you listed, two of the schools are Jackson County schools, one is Lenawee County and one other than our own is from our county. Also, all of these are larger school systems than ours

As far as having assistant principals in elementary and middle school, does anyone really see a need for them? Personally, I don't understand why the high school needs an assistant principal.

I do agree with Mr. Kluge on one point. We do have some excellent administrators, we also have a super teaching and support staff. I feel they should all be highly commended for the jobs they do.

In closing, Mr. Kluge, I also wonder why you had a copy-right put on your letter?

Sincerely,
Mary E. Ridenour
P.S. Remember, financially for many of us times are very hard, many of us make less than twenty thousand a year. How much more do you think we can afford to pay out in taxes and still survive?

Out and About "Shooting Manchester" by gar

This past week Manchester has been shot by a T.V. commercial crew. This gang of desperados have closed the streets, on occasion, and used big bore camera guns to capture the images of our local celebrities.

Keith's Barber Shop was decimated and Keith captured for posterity and national television. Take that Japan, now you will find out the real truth of life in the good old USA.

The Duncan Street castle was included along with a large contingent of citizens on the bridge next to the Dairy Queen.

Calamity Jane's Antiques was also featured, starring yours truly holding open the door for Hollywood's newest additions Teresa and Zachary Benedict, Arienne Chartrand, Nancy Dietrich and her sister Ann Lee.

Mazda Motor Corporation, (Ford Motor Car Company who reportedly own's 24.5% of Mazda) authorized the commercial now being shot in Manchester. Mazda and Ford have a Flat Rock factory (now being managed by Ford) producing cars. Mazda had some of their cars on Main Street. Their little Miata, patterned after MG's popular 1970's B model, was present in a very colorful blue.

Mazda, like other Japanese companies has fallen on hard times. Sunday's edition of the Detroit News has a very interesting article in their business section. Well worth reading.

At any rate some of our Manchester citizens may be in a commercial produced in the "Center of the Universe", look for it.

Evangelism means

Enthusiasm As Christians we let the world know we are ready to help in any way we can.

Vision With vision we can look at every corner of life and recognize the gracious purposes of God.

A live The gospel helps people change and this change takes place...

Right now! Today! In this place! Genuine The change is for real because of Jesus Christ.

Expectant We are people who expect big things to happen. Learning We learn God's Word and we apply that Word to today's living.

Insight We look at relationships and situations with the eyes of Christ. Seeking We are always seeking out people and challenges with the gospel.

Mission As Christians, it is our task to proclaim the gospel of Jesus Christ through the way we act and how we talk.

—Bethel United Church of Christ September newsletter

The battle wasn't going well, and the captain said to his men, "Fight until your last shot is fired, and then run."

But he added, "Since I'm out of bullets, I'll start running now." That wasn't true of another fellow whose side was losing. Victory seemed impossible. But David said to the discouraged men, "The battle is the Lord's."

He then ran to meet Goliath and he conquered the giant with a sling and a stone. Facing a giant? Does everything seem hopeless? Look to the Lord. He's stronger than the devil and any difficulty. Trust Him, and you'll triumph. You see, "The battle is the Lord's."

What's a Catholic Forester?

The Catholic Order of Foresters is a fraternal organization that has been serving Catholics since 1883, when the country was recovering from the horrors of the Civil War and the financial panics of the 1870's. Immigration into the U.S. was at flood tide, with millions of Catholics arriving from Europe. The great bulk of the new arrivals settled in large cities like Detroit and Chicago and they faced extraordinary hardships. To provide security for Catholic families, the non-profit insurance society known as the Catholic Order of Foresters was founded. Since then, the Order has grown and prospered, all the while providing life insurance and annuities to tens of thousands.

I'm told that you don't need as much sleep as you grow older. I hate to awaken at 3:00 or 4:00 a.m. and not be able to go back to an even drowsy state. Told a friend, who is having the same complaint, that I would call her and we might get together and play cards. It's a waste of time and frustrating to me, who has usually slept through the night. Know of any cures? Suppose it may be all this rain and the thought that it could be that other four-lettered word, which could be a lot worse. I recite the 18 linking verbs (know what they are?), Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, and even some Shakespeare which I learned many, many years ago -- this just makes my mind more active. We will overcome, it is all in the mind anyway, huh?

The Manchester Township Library Invites You to Explore the Delightful World of Children's Literature

In sharp contrast to our last selection, Little Women, The Wind in the Willows presents a fantasy world inhabited by males only, free from demands and responsibilities. Kenneth Grahame began this book by telling bedtime stories about Toad and Rat to his only child, Alistair.

But is it a fantasy book for children — or an adult satire? Perhaps both. Even the structure of the book suggests this duality with chapters alternating between the imaginative antics of Toad with his motorcar and philosophical reflections of rural life.

Come talk about it with children's author Gilbert Cross

Manchester Golf Open

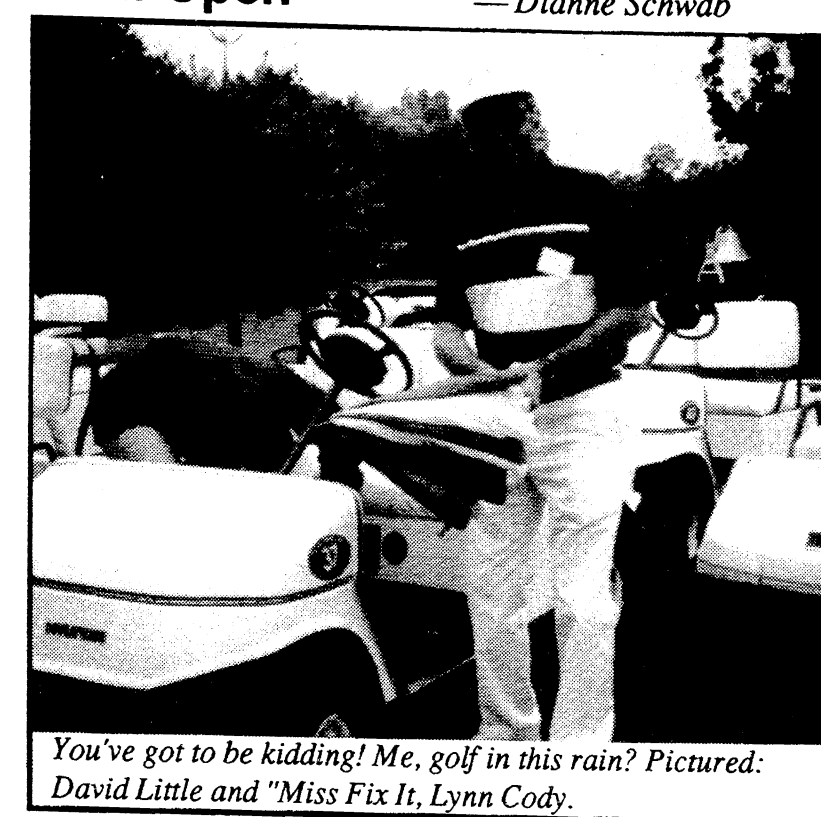

—Dianne Schwab

The Community Resource Center Golf Open was "dumped" on to say the least. Golfers didn't give up the ship until the greens were flooded and the carts were spinning their wheels going up the grade.

Golfers were all in good spirits and they were wonderful good sports. Designers should have been on the course this day to see the latest design in rain gear: 1960's rain caps that cause your neck to itch, plastic garbage bag shifts with special shoulder designs and a special life jacket for golf balls. One hooded jacket was worn upside down so the hood would catch the water as it flowed off the back side. Some rainwear had waxed seams, but even those people got wet.

Even though 12 of the 16 teams temporarily dried off their cart seats and decided to tee off at the first hole, chairmen Dick Kuntz and Chris Brooks realized there would be no hole in one. There could be balls close to the pin if they didn't drown first. Plan A changed to Plan B; dinner time would be 11:45 and prizes awarded as the ticket stubs were drawn from the cap. Rain checks were given to local golfers and refunds to those who travelled a distance.

After dinner a mist continued. Approximately 30 determined golfers participated in the putting contest. Next week's Enterprise will feature the winners of those great prizes.

You've got to be kidding! Me, golf in this rain? Pictured: David Little and "Miss Fix It, Lynn Cody.

As director of the Community Resource Center who's a non-golfer, I personally want to say "What a great group of people!" Community Resource Center Board members Dick Kuntz and Chris Brooks, and their committee of Bob and Sue Kensler, and Chuck and Lynn Cody certainly did a wonderful job with planning the Golf Open. Manchester businesses and industry were very generous with financial donations and prizes.

The 1994 Golf Open committee will also include Jean Little and Irene Wurster. All these special gifts of volunteers' time and donations benefit the community of Manchester.

JV Footballers Win Opener

— John Williams

The junior varsity football team began their season on a winning note with a 34-0 victory over Clinton.

The Little Dutch set the tone for the rest of the game right from the first play from scrimmage. After kicking off to the home team Redskins, Zack Maghes picked up a fumble on the 42-yard line and rumbled into the end zone for 6 of the 20 points he would score for the evening.

On its first offensive series, Manchester scored again on a Maghes' 29-yard gallop who then ran in the two-point conversion. The first half ended with a 14-0 score.

With 8:40 left in the third quarter, Aaron Garrett picked up some key blocks from his offensive line and darted 57 yards to pay dirt. A Mark Harris to Jason Barnes pass converted a 2-point attempt for a 22-0 score. Garrett chalked up over a 100 yards in rushing for the game.

Then Clinton began to threaten only to be stopped by a Jessie Hakken fumble recovery on the Dutch's 35 yard line.

The fourth quarter scoring began when freshman Steve Riske hit Maghes on a 40-yard pass play. At the 8:47 mark, Clinton began to seriously threaten the shut-out at the 2-yard line only to be intercepted by Maghes, who had clear sailing only to fumble it away at the 43-yard line. The Dutch missed another scoring opportunity when a 45-yard punt return was called back because of a clipping penalty.

Trevor Schleicher closed out the scoring when he plowed through the end zone on a 4-yard run.

MHS Golf Team Results

— John Korican

Manchester opened its league season with a Jamboree at Grace Pines, the home course for East Jackson. A Jamboree is when all five schools compete in dual meets with each other. Our league will have five Jamborees and then a conference meet on October 6.

The Dutch made a fine showing by tying Michigan Center for second place with a 177, but we dropped to third when we had to use the tie breaker rule. Seniors Ben Lowery and Jared Donnellon each carded a 40. Junior John Kallewaard had a 44 and senior Matt Blossom came in with a 53. Final results were: Hanover (161) 4-0; Michigan Center (177) 3-1; Manchester (177) 2-2; East Jackson (179) 1-3; Addison (180) 0-4.

Our JV team also finished third by defeating Addison and East Jackson. The team scored a (225) and was led by sophomore Mike Ridenour (53), freshman Jimmy Donnellon (56), freshman Ryan Roberts (58) and freshman Will Roberts (58). Other JV team members are sophomore Dan Kwolek, sophomore Marcus McNamara, sophomore Andrew Schook, freshman Jeff Tyler and freshman Jon Way.

The Dangers of Smokeless Tobacco

When a young boy gazes in awe at his favorite professional baseball player, he sees more than a pitcher throwing strikes or a batter's home run—he picks up habits from his hero, including the kind that can be hazardous to his health.

Many of these athletes sport wads of chewing tobacco in their mouths while they're on the diamond. And many young people, in an effort to imitate those they admire, start chewing smokeless tobacco themselves.

To millions of young people, the use of smokeless tobacco products, also known as "snuff," "chew" or "plug," is somehow glamorous. Unfortunately, many of these youngsters don't know about the potentially dangerous consequences of such a habit.

The incidence of oral cancer is expected to increase five-fold over the next 30 to 40 years, largely because of the enormous increase in smokeless tobacco use among young people.

Ann Arbor dentist, Dr. James Clark, president of the local dental society, wants youngsters to know smokeless tobacco is not a safe alternative to cigarettes. Like cigarettes, smokeless tobacco is habit forming. It contains irritants that can permanently destroy gum tissue and damage the sensitive tissues of the mouth. And like cigarettes, smokeless tobacco contains large amounts of cancer-causing agents. Snuff dippers and tobacco chewers run an increased risk of developing cancers of the mouth and throat, just as cigarette smokers do.

There's nothing glamorous about such a dangerous habit with such ugly consequences. To receive a free brochure about smokeless tobacco, send a self-addressed, stamped, business size envelope to: Michigan Dental Association, 230 N. Washington Sq., Ste. 208, Lansing, MI 48933-1392.

Varsity Downs Clinton 14-0

— Karen Strock

The annual game between Manchester's Flying Dutchmen and Clinton's Redskins was determined mainly by special team players. After returning the opening kick-off to their 26-yard line, Clinton was forced to punt, having gained only five yards. In their first possession, the snap from center was low, rolling past the punter, who fell on the ball at Clinton's 15-yard line.

Manchester took over and mixed five running plays with two passes to score. Matt Fielder's 9-yard reception kept the Dutch in the hunt. A one yard toss from Tom Fielder to Brandon Woods made the score 6-0. Jeremy Strock's PAT made the score 7-0 at 5:55 of the first quarter.

Clinton gained a first down on its next possession before Brandon Woods intercepted a pass at Manchester's 23-yard line. In the next series we gained a first down on Matt's second yarder. When a face mask penalty was tacked on at the end of Shayne's reception, Manchester had the ball on the Clinton 21-yard line. Then, looking at 4th and 7, the quarter ended.

The first play of the second quarter was a blocked field goal attempt, as Clinton's Chris Imber shot up the middle. Clinton took over at their own 24. At 4th and 6, Clinton punted. Manchester and Clinton exchanged three more punts with no first downs. On the third punt in the series by Clinton, Brent Woods received at the Manchester 40, followed his blockers on the home side of the field and scored a 60-yard touchdown. This set the crowd buzzing. The PAT was good. Manchester led 14-0 at 3:04 of the second quarter.

The remainder of the game was defensive in nature, with neither team proving to be a real threat. There were too many fumbles and too many incomplete passes.

Coach Gall states, "We didn't execute 100% on offense. We have to establish our running game to make the passing game effective. When they shut down the run, they got through to the quarterback, flushing him out of the pocket."

Manchester did get first downs on a 15-yard run by Geoff Brooks and on two run by Shane Goodell in the second half. A Matt Fielder interception and run to the 9-yard line gave Manchester a chance to score in the final minutes of the game. Mike Bamard, playing quarterback, ran the ball twice to the one before Manchester called time out with five seconds on the clock. Mike down the ball on the last play of the game.

The crowd had a rather empty feeling at that point wishing that the reserves could have scored. However, Coach Gall stated, "We had already won the game and there was no need to add extra points. If it had meant something, we would have tried to score."

Offensively, the big gainers were Brad Davis (25 yards); Tom Fielder (22); Geoff Brooks (15); and Shane Goodell (15). Receiving leaders were Shayne Ahrens (3-34); Matt Fielder (2-20); and Brandon Woods (2-15). Punts: Shayne Ahrens (5-204).

The big story of the night was defense. Manchester allowed only one offensive first down, intercepted two passes, and held Clinton to a total of 43 yards, while gaining 165. If I had to pick a defensive player of the game, I'd have to go with the whole team. They seemed to know where the ball was and had excellent pursuit.

"The defense played extremely well. They took the scouting reports and played the game plan as designed. They swarmed the ball well. Coach Gall reports that Micah Puscas had three tackles for losses for 12 yards. Matt Fielder was the leader in.

CARD OF THANKS

Dr. Purfield and his family would like to thank the hundreds of wonderful people who sent beautiful cards wishing their old family doctor a Happy 80th Birthday. The floral pieces were just beautiful and greatly appreciated. They helped to make the occasion more festive and we loved them. We also wish to thank the many people who braved the rain to attend the open house celebration at our home. It was a fun occasion for us all.

We have so many people to thank that if we forget anyone please bear with us. We have received so much love and support for the people of this community and area churches, we're sure that the reason we've come through this. A special thanks to Sharon Church membership for all their prayers and cards sent to us while in the hospital, we received well over 100 cards. Rev. Pegg for all of her time and prayers for us at the hospital her support of Roy was very helpful. To mom and dad for always being there no matter what we needed. A special thanks to the love of our lives my sister Sandy who twice flew in from San Diego to help me through when I thought I couldn't make it. To our children and family for all the special things they did. Bonnie Harvey, a good friend who took pictures of friends and made a poster of friendships to hang in my room, beside the many other things she did. Sandy King for being there for us.

To our son Randy for holding my hand through many long nights and to Kaye and Paula and Brian for making sure I had everything I needed. A very special thanks to "our baby" who bounced in the hospital room, slipped off her shoes and hopped in my bed bring a smile to all our faces. I've always felt it was an honor to live in this community and you've responded in kind and loving way we would expect. Thanks so much! Roy and Connie Pratt

MMA Education Reform Action Plan (continued from last week) Recommendation #3: Increasing Community Involvement

Schools should be the heart of the community, and should take full advantage of opportunities to get businesses and members of the community involved.

1. Bringing the Community Into Schools: Schools should be encouraged to make better use of their facilities by opening them up during non-school hours for community activities. Schools should serve as a community meeting place for meetings of private, not-for-profit or charitable organizations, community education programs, scouting activities, Junior Achievement programs, local theater presentations, etc., so they are fully utilized throughout the year.

Bringing the community into the school building will help to build stronger ties between the school and the community, and could serve as a springboard for recruiting volunteers and initiating business partnerships. Providing community education programs in the schools will also enforce the concept of "life long learning" that is essential in today's real world of work.

2. Business In the Classroom: Consolidation of schools and opening up the school buildings to the community will help to facilitate the formation of business partnerships. Whenever possible, businesses should be encouraged to contribute time, rather than just money. Involving business people in the classroom would have a much greater impact in the long run, as they could share their experience and expertise with students and can help them to understand the importance of education on their future careers. Having a "real" business person tell a class what it takes to succeed will be remembered a lot longer than it will if it comes from a teacher.

Businesses that contribute to schools, either through time, money or both, should receive tax incentives to do so. Not only would more businesses consider striking up a partnership; the fact that incentives would be provided to encourage these partnerships would recognize their importance to the education community.

3. Teaching Teachers: Business has a lot to offer teachers, not only inside the classroom, but outside as well. A training program should be developed that will bring teachers into businesses so they can learn first-hand how the world of work is changing and why the skills identified by business as critical skills are necessary for students to succeed.

Businesses take full advantage of the latest technology that most schools don't have access to and teachers need to know about. They can learn in industrial labs; can experience team-building, quality control techniques, and the application of computers in the work place; they can learn how a product is produced and marketed; and how math, science and reading skills are used in business, so they can go back to the classroom with a much better idea about how the students will use the knowledge they are in school to attain, and can impart the importance of the necessary skills using real-world examples.

The more involved the community is with their local school system, the stronger and more accountable the school will become.

A Little From You...

Manchester United Way president Bill Panches is shown presenting a check to Shannon Seltentright. Shannon's entry in this year's slogan contest, "A little from you means so much to others", was selected as the motto for the 1993 Manchester United Way campaign.

The check was donated by Manchester Tool & Die.

The campaign will run during the month of October when you will be asked to give what "...means so much to others."

Manchester Stomps Hanover-Horton 48-0

- Karen Strock

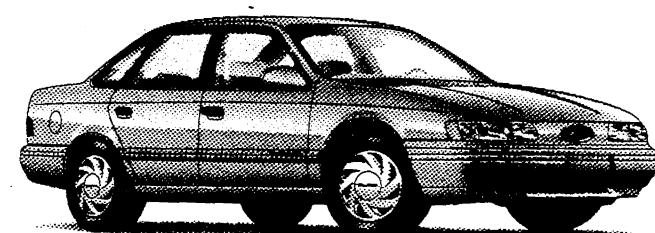

The Manchester Flying Dutchmen remain unscored upon. On Friday, September 10, the varsity men were literally flying all over the field. The defense did an excellent job of holding the Comets to 22 yards on three catches and minus-2 yards on 21 carries. Meanwhile, the Dutchmen amassed over 350 total yards, scoring 7 TD's by 6 different players.

It was a balanced attack with unselfish play being the rule. On their first offensive play of the game, Hanover Horton gained 9 yards, only to lose it on one of two sacks by J.D. Gould. A bad snap from center on 4th down led to the first Dutch TD. Shayne Ahrens blocked out the punter while Gould picked up the ball and ran 10 yards for the TD. Strock's PAT was good and the score was 7-0 with 2 minutes gone.

Back-to-School: An Open Letter to a Parent from U.S. Secretary of Education Richard W. Riley

As your children get ready to head back to school and you count up the cost of new sneakers, jeans and book bags, you may be wondering if there is anything more you can do to get your children ready for the school year ahead.

You're exhausted from the shopping, a little tired of the summer and deep down, you're looking forward to school starting again. Anything else?

Well, yes. I talk to parents all across the country and find that most of you are worried, frustrated and sometimes just barely coping. The question I am always asked is, "How do I know whether my child is learning what he or she needs to learn?"

It's a question full of anxiety and doubt about the real fear that your children may not be getting the "leg up" in life they will need to get ahead. I hear you.

For me, the essence of education comes down to values, standards, performance, and maybe — what to do about television.

So how do we re-invent education?

Setting challenging national education standards is important and we'll get that done. It is also important to raise the quality of teaching and get a fix on how we can help the majority of kids, who don't go directly to four year college, "jump start" their careers. We'll make progress on those, too.

But, ultimately, the improvement of our children's education is also a willingness to slow down the pace of our lives to help our children grow.

Education starts with values. Most of us who have made a go of it in life have gotten ahead because we had a Mom, a Dad, a grandparent or a guardian who let us know where they stood about our sticking to our studies.

Perhaps we didn't like it then, but we know now that the values process worked, and still works.

If a parent or a family member places value on integrity, a commitment to excellence, and studying hard, children come to school prepared to learn.

It's that simple. Parents create the frame; teachers help kids fill in the picture.

Here, it is important to point out what may not be so obvious — these values can be stressed to children by anybody. A parent doesn't need a Ph.D. to make learning a priority in the home. If you haven't made it in life quite the way you expected, you can still make sure that your child does. A good education can do that.

All those stories about children from rough or poor neighborhoods who succeed because a parent insisted that they crack the books make a convincing and telling point — drive, determination and focus still come from the family.

Some folks say that setting high standards is unfair. I don't — if the students, teachers and parents work together to reach the higher standard. Children who get smart, get smart because they study and take tough courses to meet high standards. continued on page 13

On a sunny September Sunday, three youngsters enjoy the new playground equipment at Klager. Brothers Mark, Chris and Steven are from Chelsea but were spending this particular afternoon with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Tapping in Manchester.
