The Manchester High School football team cordially invites family, friends and fans to the Silverdome

— Karen Strock

"Silverdome, here we come!" "We did it." "We're going to the Dome." "We made it TO THE TOP!" But, wait a minute - there's still one more game to be played. And the Manchester Flying Dutchmen want to make their season a perfect 13-0!

THE DREAM

Four years ago, an eighth grade football player at Manchester Middle School dreamed of playing in the Silverdome. Not only was his team there, but he dreamed that he helped his team win the game when he ———! You fill in the blanks, for it is a certainty that many seniors on this MHS football team had a dream - a dream of achievement - a dream of going TO THE TOP. And each member of this team has had a role in that dream.

Many things have been asked of these players. Their individual roles from week to week have not always been the same. How many teams can you think of that score 442 points in a single season? Or, with a potent offense, have no runners gaining over 1,000 yards, and no receivers over 1,000 yards? Or have 14 different players score 61 touchdowns in a season? Or allow the opposition only 25 points in 12 games? This is truly a TEAM of MANY - talented, dedicated, and smart young men.

The Class of '94 has had an incredible record over the past 6 years. They were undefeated as 7th and 8th graders. As freshmen on the JV squad, their record was 7-1. As JV sophomores, they dominated the opposition (8-0). Last year, as varsity members, the team went 10-1-1, losing only in the semifinal game of the State Championship playoffs.

As seniors, their record is 12-0. The Flying Dutchmen are the only undefeated team in Class C. This Friday they are playing in the final game, at the Silverdome, for the State Championship in Class C. To get there, they defeated Brown City in the semifinal game, November 20.

From The Ground Up

—by BG

The two most popular decorative plants for the Christmas season are Poinsettias and Christmas Cactus. These can be purchased now with the assurance of many weeks of bloom ahead.

The conditions for Poinsettia plants to remain blooming are simple. Give it some light, not too much sun; water but not wet feet; and no drafts. The plant will remain green and can be put into a sunnier spot after the colored bracts have dropped.

It is possible to keep the plant in hopes of having repeat blooms next Christmas. In late spring, the Poinsettia can be cut back and placed outside to form a nice foliage plant in a shady location. In the fall, it should be cut back again and brought into the house into a well-lighted location.

For the plant to make color for Christmas, it will need absolute darkness in October and November for 15 hours a day. Enjoy your present plant as long as you can and plan to buy a new one for next year's holidays.

A Thanksgiving History

While Thanksgiving Day in its present form is a distinctively American holiday, it did not spring from the brain of Governor Bradford in 1621, as some imagine. On the contrary we may trace its origin back through the ages and nations to the land of the Canaanites from whom the children of Israel copied many of their customs. The vintage or harvest celebration appeared later among Hebrews as an act of worship to Jehovah and was called the Feast of Tabernacles because everyone lived in booths or tents during the festival in memory of the years when the nation had no settled home. The Romans worshipped this harvest deity under the name of Ceres. Her festival which occurred yearly on October 4 was called the Cerealia. It began with a fast among the common people who offered her a sow and the first cuttings of the harvest. There were processions in the fields with music and rustic sports and the ceremonies ended with the inevitable feast of Thanksgiving.

In England the autumnal festival was called the Harvest Home which may be traced back to the Saxons of the time of Egbert. And in so being in the blood of America's first settlers, the custom reappeared early in our land.

Second Front Page: Chamber Visits Plastics

Manchester Area Chamber of Commerce visits Manchester Plastics

—Jim Achtenberg

Manchester Plastics was the featured topic of the Manchester Area Chamber of Commerce meeting on November 17, 1993. The meeting was held at the Manchester Plastics plant on Madison Street.

Mr. Dennis Donahue, the Manufacturing Manager, gave a presentation on the company and lead a tour of the plant. The Manchester plant is one of six, the others being in Homer, Williamston, and three in Canada. The Manchester plant produces door panels for the Jeep Grand Cherokee, one of the most successful products of the Chrysler Corporation. Production hovers at 1000 sets of panels per day, with four panels in each set. The panels are delivered Just-In-Time to the Jefferson North Assembly Plant in Detroit within a three-hour window. All production at Manchester is in the production sequence specified by Chrysler each day.

The Manchester plant employs about 225 with one-fourth Manchester residents and the balance primarily from Jackson and Adrian. The workers are members of an independent union.

Since reopening two years ago, the plant has a very progressive workforce. There are no supervisors on the production floor and employee involvement in management is very high. Productivity is about 80 percent, which is very high in the manufacturing industry. On the tour, it was very noticeable that the employees were interested in producing a quality product and not complaining or yelling at other workers. The plant works three shifts per day, 5 or 6 days per week.

The company and employees are very committed to recycling. In the past, the plant would generate one dumpster per week destined for landfills. Today, the plant sends one dumpster every three weeks to landfills. All scrap plastic is ground and reused internally. All cardboard and bags are collected and sold on the recycling market. Besides reducing costs, this saves a great deal of landfill space.

Also discussed at the meeting was the Manchester downtown Christmas lighting project. The trees on Main Street were trimmed by the Village in early November. This allowed for a nice, efficient installation of Christmas lights on Thursday and Friday, November 11 and 12. We had allowed three days, but with adequate volunteer help and trimmed trees, the job was done in a day and a half. Volunteers will again be needed to remove the lights after Christmas. Watch for details.

The Chamber is selling Christmas Tree charms to fund the lighting project. The charms are solid sterling silver, and are available at all area banks, Calamity Jane's, Marti's Salon, Woodbrook, and Manchester Electric. A red ribbon is attached to each charm which can be used to make it suitable for men. The price for a single charm is $5. Teresa Benedict, at Calamity Jane's, will take two charms and make them into a pair of earrings, for a total cost of $10.00. We encourage the entire community to support this project with the purchase of charms.

The next meeting of the Manchester Area Chamber of Commerce will be a Christmas Social Hour at 5:00 PM on Wednesday, December 15, 1993 at Haarer's Meeting Place. This will be a chance to visit with others in the community in a social setting. For more information on the Chamber, or for a membership application, contact Jim Achtenberg at Woodbrook (428-7011).

Guest Editorial Send The Cash, Keep The Change

On October 5, Governor Engler presented a plan for comprehensive education reform in an address to a Joint Convention of the Michigan Legislature. "Real change," he said, "means not just more politics, but more principle. Not just talking about putting kids first, but doing it."

Two weeks earlier, the U.S. Department of Education released a survey which revealed that 90 million adult Americans—nearly half the adult population—possess only rudimentary literacy skills.

With that as a powerful and self-evident argument for "real change," one might expect that those who profess to know the most about education would be leading the charge.

But if initial reactions from the public school establishment to Governor Engler's address are any indication, Michigan's educational "Berlin Wall" won't be coming down as easily as the one of concrete and steel.

One of the main divisions in the education debate concerns which should come first: quality reforms or replacing revenues. No business decides first what its price will be before it decides what its product is, so the argument that reform deserves our primary attention would seem to be a strong one.

As a general rule, those who are comfortable with the status quo will emphasize replacing revenues; those who see the need for genuine reform, like the Governor, will put money in second place. That describes the context of the debate in the month since the Governor's address.

Reformers say, "Change the system so schools can work better, and we will be happy to fund them."

Unfortunately, many of those in the education industry are saying, "Send the cash, keep the change."

One such group is the Michigan Education Association, which has insisted from the beginning that funding be put ahead of quality. In spite of the fact that spending for education is up 25 percent after inflation since 1970 and that the Engler plan restores virtually all of the revenue cut by the state's elimination of property taxes, MEA President Julius Maddox nonetheless declared the schools to be "woefully underfunded."

Maddox's response was not exactly unexpected. As president of the state's largest teacher union, his principal purpose is to secure the highest possible wages and benefits for his members.

His organization opposes parental choice, opposes charter schools, opposes saving money through privatizing support functions, and opposes making it easier to reward good teachers for merit or discharge bad ones for poor performance. It even opposes competitive bidding for teacher health insurance, which would reduce costs and allow more dollars to reach the classroom.

This is the way subsidized, unaccountable monopoly works: it treats its clients as hostages, not customers; it demands to be fed more of other people's money without end; and it throws up a smokescreen of the most absurd allegations when confronted with evidence of its own mediocrity.

Send the cash, keep the change. If that sort of thinking prevails, the children of our state will be the real losers.

(Joseph P. Overton is Vice President of The Mackinac Center for Public Policy, a Midland-based research and educational organization.)

Guest Editorial

— Senator Jack Welborn, 13th District, Lansing

— by Joseph P. Overton

It has been nearly four months since the Legislature's historic, $5.6 billion property tax cut, and the day of reckoning is fast approaching.

When I supported the tax cut proposal on the Senate floor, I pledged to come up with at least half of the school-operating replacement revenue by finding areas in state spending that could be cut without jeopardizing public safety, educational quality, or reducing services to those unable to help themselves, such as needy children and disabled persons.

Aided by former representative Margaret O'Connor, who had ten years of experience ferreting out waste in government while compiling her annual Porkbarrel Awards, as well as John Prange and other members of my staff, I exceeded my goal a couple of weeks ago, coming up with $2,917,814,653 that could be cut from nonessential spending and put instead into education.

To further tilt the decision-making process in favor of taxpayers, I made another trip through the budget to find a surplus of spending cut options from which my colleagues could choose. The exploration was a success. I found $306,706,200 more that could be put into education without raising taxes.

This includes $2.5 million that we could save annually in legal fees by abolishing the Teacher Tenure Act.

This is the law that recently allowed a convicted ax murderer to get $200,000 in back pay from the Ann Arbor school district. Four years before murdering his wife, the former teacher had been fired after five teenage girls at Huron High School accused him of sexual abuse.

Assisted by the MEA teachers' union, he fought the firing for 13 years, and was recently granted a victory by the Michigan Court of Appeals. The ax murderer is eligible for parole next September.

I don't know how much this case has cost the Ann Arbor school district already in legal fees, but if the murderer gets paroled and wants his old teaching job back, taxpayers will have to shell out even more in legal fees trying to keep him out of school.

This is an extreme case, but it is an actual case and it happened in Michigan. Even before this case, I opposed the Teacher Tenure Act because, on top of the job protection provided through the union grievance procedure, the Teacher Tenure Act makes it doubly tough for responsible school districts to fire bad teachers. Employees in the private sector have to depend on good work performances to keep their jobs. We ought to expect the same of teachers.

Senior Citizens News

—T. V. Ludwick

A bit of nostalgia returned Sunday eve when we watched "A Walton Thanksgiving Reunion". Hope we can see some more of their family in the future, enough of cops and robbers. We didn't see the work of providing food for all those assembled around that giant table and we wondered where in the world they all slept. They can do anything in the movies.

"Busy Woman's Calendar for this month states: "When considering what to make for Thanksgiving, try reservations". Not for me, you say, no leftovers! My family loves cold turkey sandwiches. Have a fun filled day.

Board of Education Summary November 15, 1993

The regular meeting of the board was called to order by President Sahakian at 7:36 p.m. with the Pledge of Allegiance.

State Representative Beverly Hammerstrom, 55th District, was present and discussed School Finance Reform and Restructuring. Trustee John Ochs served as moderator of this forum. A question and answer period followed Representative Hammerstrom's presentation.

After a recess, the board reconvened and approved the minutes of the regular meeting of October 18, 1993.

The treasurer's report was approved with a cash balance, as of October 29, 1993, in the amount of $802,195.72; total bills payable of $758,376.81.

Correspondence included a letter to Trustee John Ochs from Andy Blakita, President of the Washtenaw Association of School Boards, regarding requirements and course descriptions for MASB's voluntary Certified Board member Award Program; memo to Superintendent Niedzwiecki and President Patricia Sahakian from Dr. Michael Emlaw, Superintendent of the Washtenaw Intermediate School District, notifying board members that there will be a vacancy on the intermediate school board; letter to Mr. Russell LeBlanc, Manchester High School Principal, from William Bushaw, State Director of the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools, notifying him that Manchester will be placed on the Outcomes Accreditation five-year evaluation cycle; and an anonymous letter from a parent sent to Trustee John Hochstetler indicating some concerns/issues at the high school.

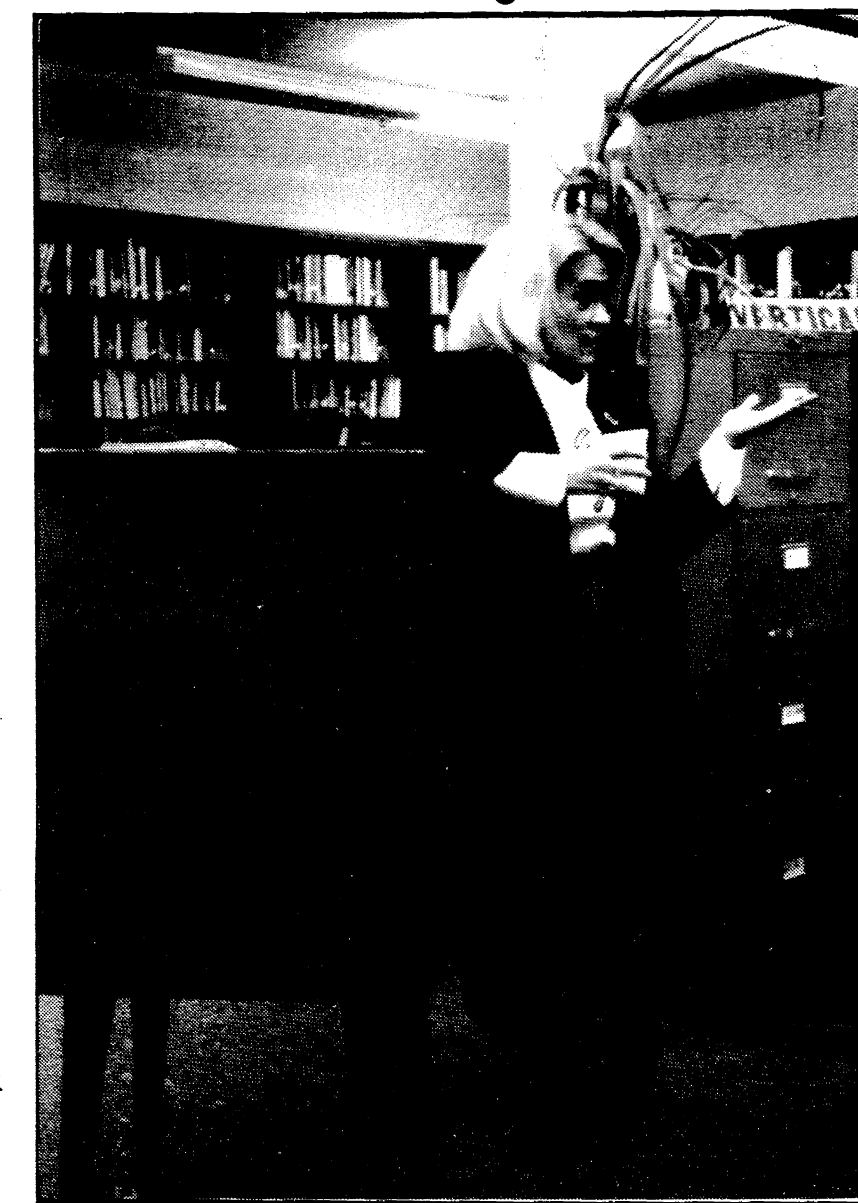

Marius Grazulis has been appointed to the position of freshman boys basketball the 1993-94 sport season.

The resignation of Joan Martin as junior varsity volleyball coach has been accepted.

Two board policies, Tobacco Free Schools and Staff Development were presented for the first reading. No board action was required at this time. Discussion took place regarding the use of tobacco in the bleachers and/or designated play areas. Revisions will be made to the policy and both policies presented to the Board at the regular meeting in December.

Superintendent Niedzwiecki presented an opinion survey to the Board regarding school finance and school reform. Members were asked to individually respond and a consensus will be taken.

Rep. Hammerstrom guest at school board meeting

A list of district needs, which were identified at the October 4, 1993 "Town Meeting", were reviewed by board members and the items ranked in order of priority. They will be presented at the December meeting.

The meeting was adjourned at 9:30 p.m.

SALUTING THE DUTCH

The Game: Manchester Shuts Down Wing-T Beats Brown City 26-0

—Karen Strock

On a cold and windy day at Lansing Sexton High School, the Manchester Flying Dutchmen beat the Brown City Green Devils to advance to the Silverdome. They will be playing for the first State Football Championship and undefeated season in the history of Manchester. Their opponents will be from Iron Mountain.

In a capsule, the defense did it again, posting their eighth shut-out of the season. This time they did it against the Wing-T offense of Brown City. Tom Fielder, QB, passed for 218 yards. Brandon Woods, Wide Receiver, had five receptions for 152 yards, including 2 TD's. Mike Barnard scored a TD on a 11-yard pass reception. Jeremy Strock kicked two field goals to finish the Dutch scoring.

Manchester kicked off to begin the game - a familiar scenario! Brown City went to work immediately, picking up three first downs. This left the fans, who were sitting on the edges of the cold aluminum bleachers, biting their frozen fingernails. Had they come to watch their beloved team get scored upon early in the game? Or even get beat?

Fear not, for Brad Davis and Tom Fielder came up with big hits to send the Green Devils backwards with losses. The remainder of the first quarter was consumed by short yardage gains, some losses and two turnovers on 4th down by each team.

Shortly into the second quarter, Brown City punted out of bounds at the Manchester 26. On the first play Tom Fielder hit Brandon Woods, who had beaten the Brown City defender, for a 74 yard TD. This play broke the ice and the Green Devils could never overcome the stiff Dutch defense or the momentum gained on that play. Strock's PAT was good for a 7-0 score at 10:31 of the 2nd quarter.

On the KO which followed, Aaron Garrett and Brent Woods stopped the runner at the BC 20. Brown City gained essentially nothing on their possession. They punted to the 50 and the Dutch returned to the BC 46.

Davis ran for a Dutch first down after an encroachment penalty against BC. Short runs by Goodell and Tom Fielder, and an incomplete pass left Manchester on the 31 facing 4th and 6. Tom connected with Kevin Phelps for a big 1st down at the 11. Mike Barnard was the recipient of the next pass and he crossed the goal line, after fooling the defense with a fake pitch, for the second Dutch TD. The PAT was good and Manchester led 14-0 at 5:45.

...One team — in the game regardless of who carries the ball...Each player on the team, whether he shines in the spotlight of the backfield or eats dirt in the line — one team...

Garrett again made the tackle on the BC 24 following the ensuing RO. The Green Devils made it to the Dutch 42 before turning the ball over at the 48.

Davis ran the ball twice, picking up 21 yards to the BC 31. Brent Woods made a reception at the 15. Goodell and Geoff Brooks carried for 3 and 7 yards before the Dutch were shut down. Strook kicked a 26 yard field goal. The score: 26-0. The time: 2:20.

The Green Devils again crossed mid-field before Tom Fielder sacked the QB for a 13-yard loss. After the punt, Manchester took possession at their own 32.

Brent Woods made a reception of 17 yards, giving the Dutch a first down. Garrett gained 7 on a run. Manchester ended this possession on a turnover when Tom Fielder was sacked on 4th down.

Brandon Woods intercepted to end the next BC possession. Starting at the Dutch 13, Barnard became the QB, and many other Dutch players entered the game. Only 7 minutes remained. Garrett punted for 32 yards.

The Green Devils gained a 1st down to the Dutch 34 and then Strook recovered a fumble. The highlight of the next Dutch series was a 6-yard pass to Trevor Schleicher.

The game was history - the final score in the books. The Manchester Flying Dutchmen are on their way to the SILVERDOME.

AWARDS FOR THE GAME

Offensive Players: Tom Fielder and Brandon Woods

COACHES' COMMENTS

Coach Gall was very pleased with the outcome of the game. His first comments, however, were for the fans. "I am very happy for the support of the fans. The flags and banners flying in the air gave the team a 'home field' advantage and really showed your support."

"The defense just did an outstanding job. Things were happening all over the field, and the kids played very well. They kept good pressure on the QB. The offense started slow, but worked well in the second quarter. Brandon and Tom connected well. Mike played a good game."

"The offensive line did a good job, but need to improve so that we can establish our running game."

"Next week we will be facing a hard-charging defense, who are quicker than the Schoolcraft defense. The Iron Mountain offense is explosive - they can score in a hurry. They are much like we are. It should be an exciting game to watch."

THANK YOU

It has been a treat to watch this Manchester Flying Dutchmen football team. We all have expected victory week after week. We salute the young men who have not disappointed us.

Let us not forget to thank the dedicated coaches who have played a big role in the development of this team. In Jr. High, on Junior Varsity and Varsity, the coaches have put in many hours, not only at practices and games, but developing game plans - plans that brought the talent and the task together.

The coaches from the Jr. High - John McGuire, Jay Gillow, Jeff Etzel and Dennis Steele, - have assisted Coach Gall by scouting other teams. Additional scouts, from Manchester and surrounding communities, will remain nameless, but - THANK YOU, too.

Hats off to the fans who have been there, cheering for and supporting this team. Some of the supporting cast has been featured over the past few weeks in this paper. Others have taken tickets, worked in the concession stand, run the score board, etc. Community support has been abundant.

And the parents - the proud parents, who have had to suffer endless weeks of picking up the slack, or suffered through periods of tension, silence, sore muscles, injuries, etc. But the parents have been there for these young men - and we salute you.

Join in the celebration and congratulate this team Friday at the American Legion when the team returns home from the Silverdome. (Details on the front page.) — Karen Strook

A Ford Legacy

Did you know that Henry Ford did much more than create the first assembly line? He was very much into architecture and restoration of old buildings. Two of which he bought are right here in Manchester.

Recently, I visited Sharon Mills. This building is located on Sharon Hollow Road just north of Austin Road. Today, it is owned by the Hawker family, and is used as a winery. It was originally built back in 1834 as a grist mill in order to grind grain for local farmers in the area with the use of waterpower.

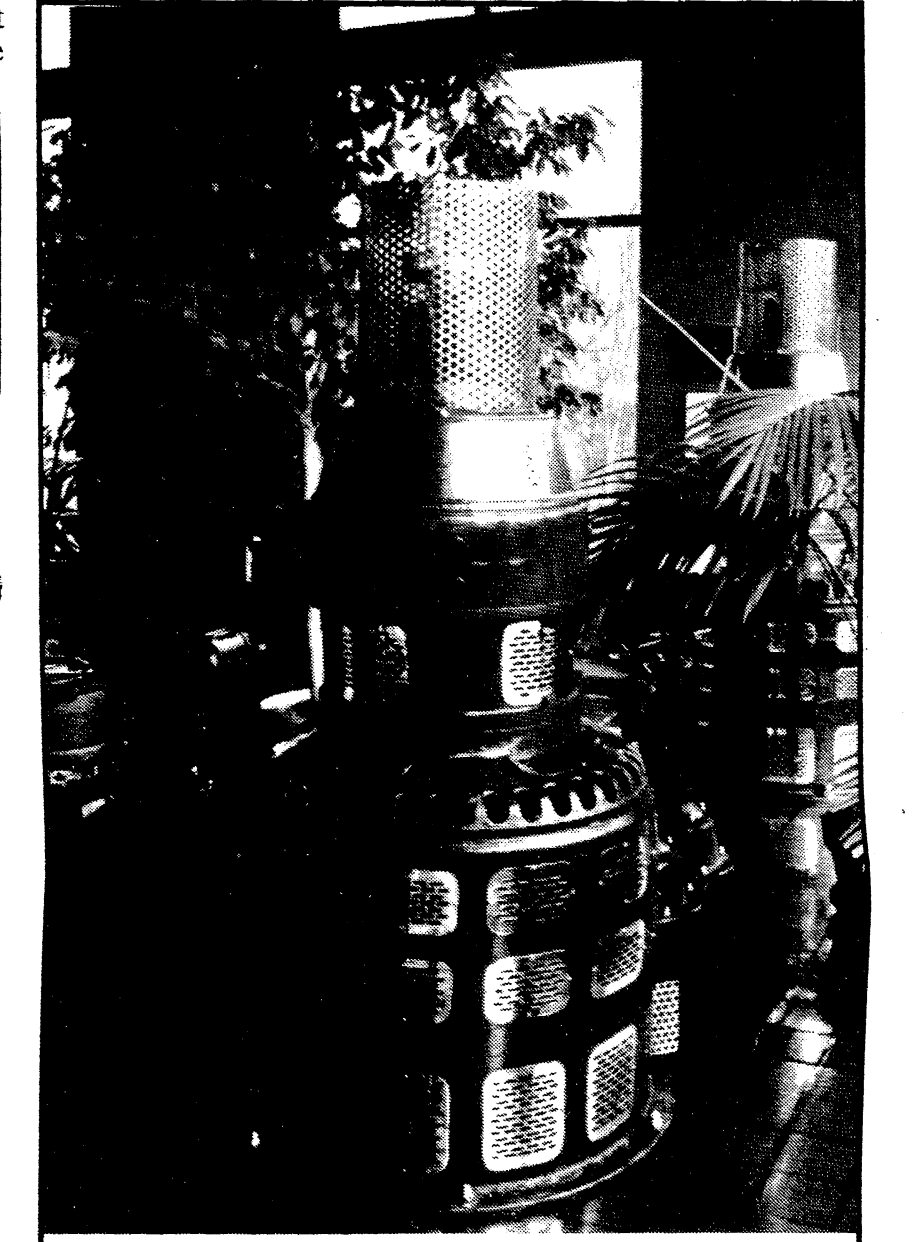

After Ford purchased it a century later, he employed German stonemasons to reconstruct the walls. Ford wanted to be able to use the Raisin River as a source of electricity, so he installed a hydro-electric generator to run a small parts factory which manufactured such things as cigar lighters, stoplights, and generators for use in automobiles.

This generator still stands, and is still used for temperature control in the wine cellar. It is said to have retained the original paint job done by Ford with the same type of paint that he used on his Model T cars.

Ford also purchased the Manchester Mill in 1941, now owned by Johnson Controls, and the headquarters of the Plastics Technology Group. During 1941 through 1957 the plant was used in manufacturing dashboard gauges for Ford cars. The Plastics Technology Group continues to carry on Henry Ford's interest in recycling.

Henry Ford accomplished a great feat when he created the assembly line. He created a faster and more efficient way to produce automobiles. Through his interest in renovation, he has also created interest in learning about past history, and given Manchester two historical sites to be proud of.

A beautiful reception area has been created by Johnson Controls using the original Ford machinery and potted ficus and palms.

Temper may get us in trouble — but it's pride that keeps us there. — Herm Albright

Parish Mission Begins This Sunday

When their pastor, Fr. Murray, recently returned from his month-long convalescence, the people of St. Mary's, Manchester greeted him with the news that "everything is all set" for their upcoming Parish Mission.

And the people of St. Mary's share the same good news with you, their friends and neighbors in the Manchester community!

The plans are all in place, and everything is ready for the beginning on Sunday, November 28th, of the five-day Parish Mission.

You are all warmly invited to attend! Each evening's service (Sunday through Thursday) will begin at 7:30 p.m. at St. Mary Church on the corner of West Main and Macomb. The services will last about an hour, and refreshments and socializing will follow.

Nearly 100 members of St. Mary's have volunteered in some capacity to help plan and bring about this special event!

This parish mission will bring to Manchester two priest from Grand Rapids who are in the Redemptorist order. They bring to this Mission their special gift from God to preach and inspire.

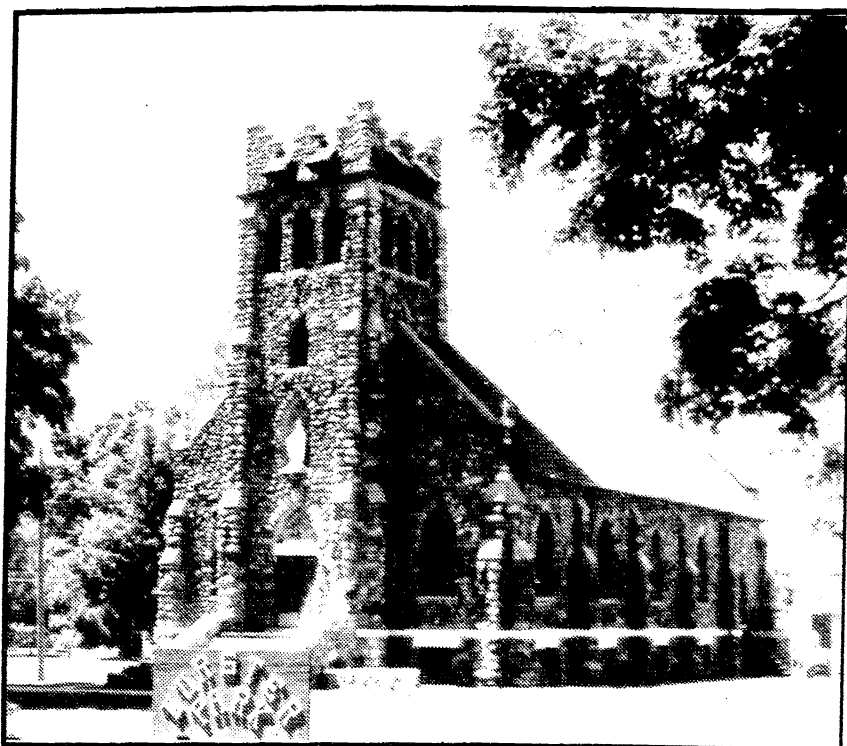

It is the beginning of the Season of Advent. This is the time of year for prayerful preparation for the joyful Christmas Holiday, for the celebration of Jesus' birth in Bethlehem, and the birth of Christ in our lives.

Perhaps this Parish Mission will help you to start this Holiday season in peace and with a faith-filled heart, and help to avoid the stress and franticness of our commercial Christmas season.

The Green family would like to state there is no engagement between their daughter and Grant Briggs.

The Manchester Enterprise regrets the publication of this incorrect announcement in last week's edition.

A bird in the hand is worth two in the bush. BUT A man's reach should exceed his grasp.

Please join us. Child care will be available downstairs at the Church. And should anyone need a ride, arrangements can be made easily by calling Bill Kwolek at 428-7674.

May God's blessing be on this Parish Mission, on our Manchester community, and on the families and individuals whose hearts are open to God's light, especially at this special time of the year.

From the Heart

by Ken Moull-3rd in a Series

Hi Folks,

Well, I hope you have enjoyed my articles so far and maybe found them a little helpful.

This week I think I'll talk about some of the hype words used in advertising.

The ads that bother me are the "one price" ads. No hassles, no gimmicks, just one price. I want to say first of all, I am referring to one price on new vehicles only. Most good dealers put the price on the windows for after hour shopping convenience of their used vehicles; this is different than what I'm talking about. The price on a used vehicle is for your convenience, and may or may not be the final price.

But I feel the one price on a new vehicle is usually just a "come on" except in the case of last year's leftovers. These will usually be marked at near bottom prices. But I do not believe a dealer will give you his bottom line price first on a new vehicle. Why should he? He needs to make a fair profit or he won't stay in business. How about the dealer that says not one price, but your price! Does that mean you can buy below cost if that is your price?

Or maybe you have been shopping for a while and all of a sudden you see an ad for below your best price; and then you go there and find out that price is for Ford employees and does not include destination or prep charges and has three or four rebates figured in that you probably don't qualify for. Does that sound familiar?

How about the really low payment, and you don't read the asterick that says this is a lease payment with two or three thousand dollars down. Don't get me wrong, a lease is good for a lot of people and I believe it is the way of the future. However, it is not for everybody and there are pros and cons and it would be a good subject for further discussion.

How about the dealer that will sell for a $100 over invoice? Is this the true invoice and will they show it to you?

There are times when a dealer will sell that cheap, but believe me, that is the exception. With today's overhead you can't sell that cheap and stay in business long.

Most ads are not lies or intended to be but they use well placed words to get you in the door so a fast talking salesman and his sales manager can work on you.

Have you ever noticed how a smaller low pressure dealership like ours makes it easier to read the fine print and astericks.

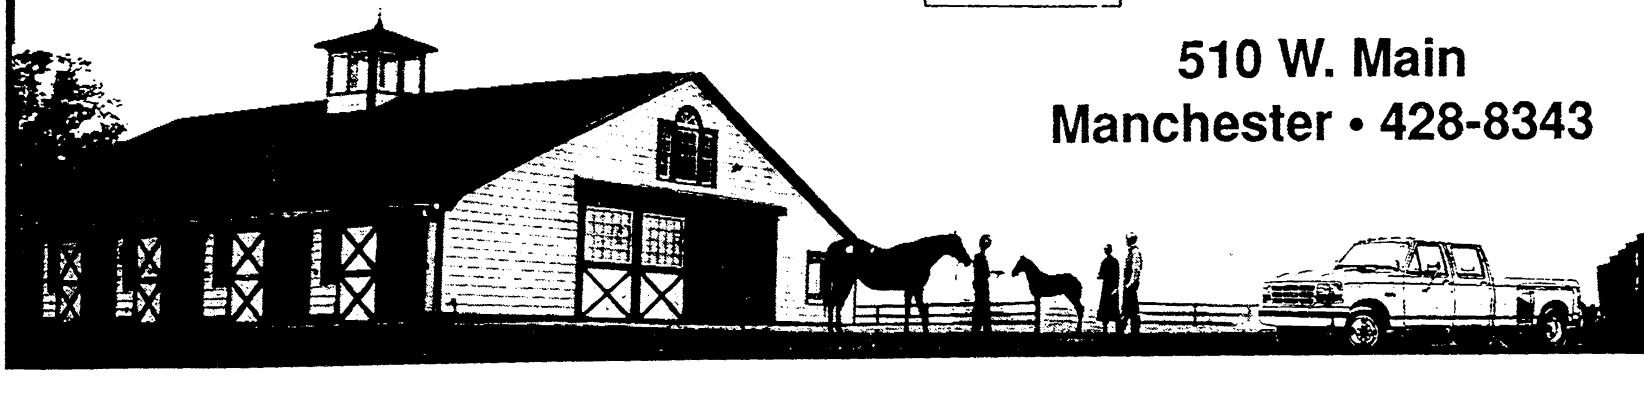

Every dealer has a gimmick- some use their ads and some use free gifts.

Our gimmick is a low pressure sales staff and high quality service. Our service will win you over.

Band Boosters Sponsor Fruit and Wreath Sale

The Manchester Band Boosters are again sponsoring citrus fruit sales — and this year fresh balsalm fir Christmas wreaths — for the 1993 holiday season.

Band students will be canvassing the village to take orders for oranges, grapefruit, tangelos and the 18-inch wreaths. If they miss you, and you would like to order, please call 428-7361 or 428-9079.

Fruit will be delivered to the high school for pick-up Thursday, December 7 from 3-7:00 p.m. Please pick up your fruit promptly as we cannot store it properly and it will deteriorate if left over the weekend.

Many in the community look forward to this annual event as an opportunity to lay in their supply of citrus fruit for the holidays, while lending support to the local band students. Proceeds from the sales will help the Boosters sponsor a band trip and young musicians at summer music camps.

Manchester Township Library

"Michigan's Oldest Township Library" Established 1838

One of the challenges in encouraging a child to both learn and love reading is to make the child see that reading is at least as much, if not more fun than TV or Nintendo.

We are very fortunate that one of our library patrons, Mr. John Crispin has volunteered to share the joy of reading at weekly story hours for young children. Story time is at 6:30 on Tuesday evenings and lasts about 40 minutes. After dinner and before bedtime is a perfect time for reading!

HELPING YOUR CHILD GET THE MOST FROM STORYTIME:

- On the way to the library, remind preschoolers to sit still so as not to disturb others.

Henry Thoreau, the poet, knew all the birds and enjoyed looking at them with a spyglass. He said, "A gun gives you the body, not the bird."

-Arrive ten to fifteen minutes early so that your child can meet other children, say hello to the storyteller, and get comfortable.

-Plan as a parent to stay in the library so your child isn't frightened by your absence, or in case your toddler loses interest or distracts the group.

-Follow up storytime with a read aloud "special time" at home. Try not to be bored with the 35th reading of favorites!

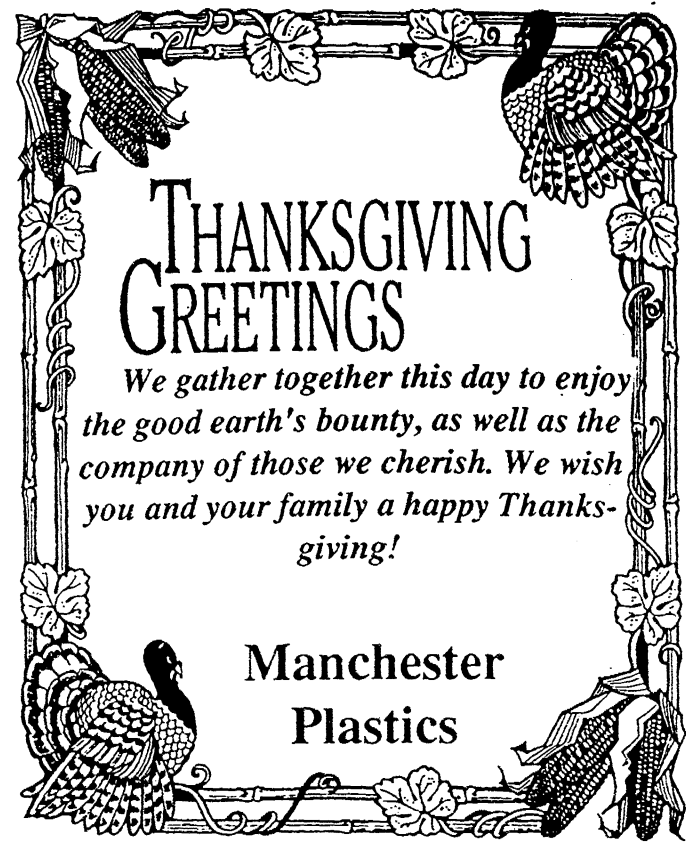

-Teach your children how to handle books - clean hands, pages turned carefully, no crayon markings.

For more information about story time, please contact the Library at 428-8045.

Manchester Area Historical Society

MANCHESTER AREA HISTORICAL SOCIETY

The Manchester Area Historical Society enjoyed a special program on World War II on Tuesday, November 16, at the Blacksmith Shop. Several Manchester High School students from John Korican's history class joined us to hear first hand how the war affected those on the home front as well as those in the military.

John Swainson told of being the only survivor of a land mine explosion that resulted in the amputation of both of his legs. On the way to a hospital in England, his plane crashed at the end of the runway and he injured his back. He described his experience matter of factly, and feels he is more fortunate than many who had more severe injuries. He is grateful for the GI Bill of Rights that allowed him to go to college. He is one of the youngest veterans of WWII and believes that his youth allowed him to accept his injuries and deal with them.

Tootie Armentrout and Edna Defenderfer gave a humorous account of their experiences as "Rosie, the Riveter." After six weeks of rivet training, they went on the production line of the bomber plant at Willow Run, building B-24 Liberators. The rivet had to be used or they would not hold. Some even had to be driven while they were frozen. At first they worked 10 hours a day five days a week. Then the government said that women couldn't work 10 hours a day so they worked 9 hours a day six days a week. The work was hard and tedious, but also very inspiring.

Rosemary Whelan was a small child in England during the war and remembers air raid shelters, black out curtains, and food shortages. The air raid shelter had bunk beds and a supply of food. They all-clear siren sounded like Manchester's fire siren and she was reminded of it the first time she heard our siren. Food was rationed in England as it was in the United States. She was seven years old before she had her first banana, which was shared with her brother and sister. The biggest effect the war had on Rosemary was not having a father at home until she was five years old. He was called up three months before she was born and came home in 1945.

Howard Parr related that he was teaching school when Pearl Harbor was bombed. He looked on every map he could find and could not locate Pearl Harbor or Oahu. He was in the Signal Corps in 1944 staging to go to Japan when the atomic bomb ended the war. The whole country was behind the war effort. When he was aboard ship returning to the United States, a USO ship came out to meet them, told them they did a good job and put on a show for them. Howard closed by reading a letter from Emil Jacob, the only Manchester boy killed in action in WWI and for whom the American Legion post is named. He was killed on October 8, the Armistice was signed on November 11, and his parents were notified of his death almost two weeks later. It was a terrible shock.

Six Manchester boys were killed in WWII. They were Richard Seckinger, Karl Rague, Edward Brazee, Wayne Alber, Clarence Bivins and Arthur Frey.

Following the meeting, Tom and Mary Walton provided refreshments. Our Christmas party will be on December 21 at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Steve and Mary Smolinski. We hope many in the community will join us for an old-fashioned carol sing and a chance to see "the castle."

Introducing The Market Rate CD. Wall Street Thrills Without Wall Street Chills.
This year we're offering you a blue chip opportunity to invest in a new kind of two-year CD. One that allows you to go after Wall Street's potentially higher rates without risking your principal. Your Market Rate CD can be opened with a low $2,000 minimum deposit. At the end of each 52-week period, your interest is calculated based on the average change in the S & P 500® Index** as reported in The Wall Street Journal. And at maturity, you're guaranteed a 100% return of your FDIC-insured initial deposit. The new Market Rate CD. Now the best way to lock in the market's high earnings potential is with a CD that has no risk to principal.

Lock Up A Rising Rate With A CD That Won't Lock You In.
Every six months of its initial two-year term, our Rising Rate CD gives you a guaranteed increase in your interest rate without locking you in. The rate earned for each six-month period rises as the chart above indicates, giving you 4.75% APY during the final six-month period.* You can withdraw all of your investment within the first 10 days of any six-month interval during the initial two-year term without penalty. Or you can make a partial withdrawal without penalty as long as you maintain a $1,000 balance. And the minimum deposit amount is only $1,000. The Rising Rate CD. The liquidity you want, with the guaranteed interest growth you need.

Briarwood Retailers Sense Growing Sophistication Among This Year's Holiday Shoppers

Consumers are entering the holiday season this year with greater sophistication than ever before, according to Briarwood shopping center retailers.

"Shoppers have become much more discerning over the last year," says Ted Schwarz, Briarwood general manager. "They do their homework, and they know ahead of time exactly what they're looking for."

"Our retailers tell us that shoppers seem to feel more comfortable with the economy than they did last year. They're ready to buy but only when they find what they want in terms of quality, value and service."

This new consumer assertiveness will serve shoppers well this year, according to Schwarz.

"In order to meet consumer demands, retailers have been working very hard to make sure they give shoppers exactly what they want at the best possible prices," he explains. "As a result, this holiday will offer some of the best shopping in many years."

Retailers forecast strong holiday sales increases for themselves as well as welcome news for consumers: prices no higher, and in many cases lower, than they were in 1992.

Retailers said they have also broadened inventories and placed new emphasis on customer service.

Retailers surveyed also predicted that because consumers have become highly sophisticated about value, many of this year's hottest holiday sellers will be traditional gifts like classic clothing, home furnishings and family entertainment that can be used over and over from year to year.

Other popular gifts this year include absolutely anything with cartoon and movie characters; pamper products like fragrances, massagers and body lotions; retro everything from music to necklaces; and organizers like jewelry boxes, purses with compartments and storage units.

Briarwood shoppers will have even more to chose from this year because the center has added 11 new stores and 18 Europeanstyle Common Market carts this year. Two seasonal shops, Christmas by Frank's and Hickory Farms, will also be open for holiday shoppers.

"This holiday season, Briarwood offers the strongest mix of stores ever in its 20-year history," says Karen Fox, Briarwood marketing director. "With Jacobson's recent arrival, we now have the county's most diversified selection of merchandise — from fun, inexpensive stocking stuffers from any of our unique carts to classic investment purchases that will last a lifetime."

Holiday shoppers can enjoy Briarwood's Enchanted Forest, with animated elves and a 30-foot tree. Those who visit Santa can have their pictures taken with him and receive a free gift. And everyone can take advantage of Briarwood holiday services including gift wrapping, coat and package checking, and assistance carrying packages to their cars.

Briarwood, located at South State St. and Eisenhower Blvd. north of I-94, features 125 shops and services along with Hudson's, JCPenney, Sears and Jacobson's.
