Scouts Receive "God and Country" Award

"And the child grew and became strong; he was filled with wisdom, and the grace of God was upon him" - Luke 2:40

On Sunday, November 28, 1993, Rev. Nancy Doty with the congregation of Emanuel Church and the leaders and families of Boy Scout Troop 426 honored Brad Kemner and Andrew Schook. In a ceremony held in the church sanctuary, the boys were recognized for their service to God and Country. This award was the culmination of a program that included both study and service. Brad and Andrew earned the right and privilege of wearing the emblem through personal study in their relationship with Christ, family, Church, and

In a tradition of Troop 426, the mothers, Eloise Kemner and Bev Schook, pinned the medals on their son's uniforms. Pastor Doty concluded the service with a prayer calling upon the Lord and challenging all of us to accept the task of lifelong learning and service to fellow man so that the kingdom of God may become a reality in and through our lives.

After the ceremony, refreshments were served in Emanuel's dining room and a special cake, commemorating the occasion, was presented to the boys and enjoyed by all. Hit and Run Driver Flees Accident

High School Student Joanna Detting was struck by an east bound vehicle on East Main Street Monday afternoon after school was dismissed.

Joanna with two of her high school chums were walking home when she decided to cut across the street just east of the corner of M - 52 and East Main Street. Three west bound vehicles were approaching the intersection. The third vehicle, a Bronco stopped and gave way so that Joanna could cross the street in front of the vehicle.

Apparently as Joanna walked between the two vehicles she was struck by an east bound auto. The driver, it was reported to the Enterprise, proceeded east on Main and turned the corner at Beaufort Street. There he stopped, got out of the car and walked back to the scene of the accident. After watching the activity the driver returned to the his automobile and left the scene of the accident.

The vehicle was observed to be a small red car and the Sherriffs Department personel scoured the local factories where they observed the vehicle. The driver was apprehended and taken to the Sheriff's office here in Manchester. It was reported the driver has a poor driving record and probably would not have been charged had he not fled the scene.

Joanna has a broken ankle and contusions. Officer Kevin Deacons and the Manchester Fire Department Rescue Team immobilized Joanna and placed her on a board Stretcher. Officer Deacons held her head and others at the scene covered her with coats and blankets.

Joanna's neck was immobilized and a head brace was affixed. Her Grandmother, Mary Johnson, was on the scene. It has been reported that her injuries are not life threatening and that she is resting comfortably.

Joanna, too, was wrong in not following basic safety rules. We should all be reminded to use crosswalks at intersections and "look both ways" before crossing any street.

Women's Night Out Looks at Stress and Time Management

"Taking Charge: Stress and Time Management" is the topic of the Women's Night Out for the Health of It dinner-lecture program Tuesday, Jan. 25, at Travis Pointe Country Club, 2829 Travis Pointe Road, Ann Arbor. The speaker will be Beth Adler, manager of Campus Information Centers, at The University of Michigan, who has conducted numerous workshops on leadership, organizational development and personal development.

Adler believes our reaction to stress is more important than what causes us stress. She'll help us understand the positive and negative stresses in life and our physical and mental reactions to stress. She'll also offer a new way of thinking on how to view life and make changes. The program is sponsored by Saline Community Hospital's Women's Health Council. Registration and social will begin at 6 p.m. with dinner at 6:30 p.m. and the presentation at 7:30 p.m. The cost of $21 per person includes dinner. Reservations are required by Thursday, Jan. 20. For more information, call 429-1555. Saline Community Hospital is a unit of Catherine McAuley Health System, a not-for-profit health care provider based in Ann Arbor, Michigan. Other CMHS units include St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, McPherson Hospital in Howell, and outpatient facilities in Washtenaw, Livingston and western Wayne counties.

NICK SMITH TO BE Kiwanis Speaker

Congressman Nick Smith will be Manchester Kiwanis speaker Thursday, January 13, at 7:00 at the Knights of Columbus Hall. The meeting is open to the public. Manchester folks will have the opportunity to be updated on what is happening in Congress.

Congressman Smith has three main concerns. They are:

- Reducing the negative impact of government on business, jobs and our standard of living; •Addressing crime and a growing lack of value and responsibility; •Eliminating inefficiency and waste in government.

This is an opportunity to meet one of our legislators locally.

Rep. Smith serves on three top committees: Budget, Agriculture and Science, Space and Technology.

It is important that we share our ideas and opinions with those who represent us at the government level. WE CAN MAKE A DIFFERENCE!

AUDITIONS for "La Traviata"

Chorus auditions for OPERA! Lenawee's 1994 production, "La Traviata", will be January 15, 1994 from 10 am to 2 pm at the Crosswell Opera House.

Twenty adult men and twenty adult women of all ages are needed to play a variety of members of Parisian society in the Verdi opera, which will be sung in English. There are no children's roles.

Chorusmaster again this year will be Kevin Bylsma.

Production dates are April 22, 24, 28 and 30, 1994. There will also be a special performance for school children on April 26.

Auditioners should be prepared to sing a piece of their choice with the provided accompanist. The auditions will take place in the Crosswell's rehearsal room, above the Heritage Room off the main lobby. Interested auditioners who are unable to attend on that date should call Crosswell artistic director Robert Soller at (517) 263-6868.

Emory Garlick My Pickup has been returned, repaired and in good working order.

To bring our readers up to date my pickup was parked on the street in front of the Enterprise when it was struck by another vehicle. That happened on the first of December. We had pictures in the Enterprise on our December 9th edition and also showed the truck tore down in the December 16th edition.

Two things became evident with this unfortunate event.

One: Find a good body repair shop with good people and repair equipment. We found that repair shop right here in Manchester at MIDWEST FORD. The good people there are Gary Freeman, Body Shop Manager and Bob Koonse bump and paint.

Two: Work with the insurance company people and the insurance adjuster. Since we were not at fault in the accident we dealt with the

If you are involved in an accident there are two things to get as quickly as possible.

- 1. Accident report number; 2. Insurance Claim number. With these two numbers a paper trail can be established and to the front left when the truck was pushed into the street light pole. The damage was quite extensive to sheet metal and plastic parts. Fortunately the frame was undamaged. The left front tire had to be replaced as the front bumper was pushed into the casing and the casing developed a blister where the chords were damaged.

Total repair bill to date a whopping $5,855.35. The way that breaks down is:

Tire Replacement; $82.96 The accident was an inconvenience in that replacement vehicle had to be located, several phone calls had to be made and trips to and from Midwest Ford Body Shop were necessary.

Midwest Ford's Bob Koonse did an excellent job of putting the truck back into working condition. The paint job is excellent and the color match appears identical. The fiberglass cap is a little worse for wear and tear. It appears that the cap has spread somewhat and the lift gate on the rear does not fit as well as it used to.

Allstate's people were very understanding and helpful throughout this ordeal. The gals in the office, Nancy Cotter and Debbie Smith called several times to check on the progress of the repairs and to see if there was anything else that could be done. Steve Stacherski checked to see if everything was to my satisfaction.

I would rather not have had the accident happen, but I am pleased with the repair work that was accomplished by Midwest Ford and with the Allstate Insurance Company. I was also happy that no one was injured. Many thanks to the DPW Department and to Officer Deacon.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Emory,

I read the Manchester Enterprise and particularly think the editorials are right on target. The one on the MEA really struck me.

Best Wishes for '94.

-Bill Dobson
Dobson-McOmber

Dear Colleague:

Great news for Michigan's school children, parents and employers across the state — Michigan has passed the most expansive and extensive charter public school bill in the country!

What are charter schools? Imagine a school created by parents, businesses and other groups, guided by its own mission and free of the red tape that stifles innovation in today's school. That's a charter public school, and it would be open to all without discrimination.

The charter school program would allow universities, community colleges and every single one of Michigan's school districts new opportunities to start their own schools, so students could receive a unique educational experience tailored to their needs.

Michigan already has one charter school, operated by Wayne State University in Detroit. More than 5000 individuals applied for just over 300 openings, indicating that the demand for change and alternatives in public education is enormous.

Legislation which has passed the State House and Senate will provide the opportunity for this demand to be met across the State of Michigan. And, in so doing, these new charter public schools will help improve education for every school child.

Dear Editor:

I am very concerned about the sidewalks and bridge on Main Street. I crossed the bridge three times Monday Jan. 3rd and almost fell trying to get to the other side. Whose responsibility is it to clean the bridge sidewalks, I believe the answer is the Village. We pay tax dollars to have those sidewalks cleaned! I am certain that one of our many hard working village people could get out of their trucks and get them cleaned - that is what we pay them for, isn't it? There are plenty of kids crossing on those sidewalks each day and I'm sure we don't want any of them to get hurt while trying to get to school. As for our older folks we could drive I guess, but it's nice to get a little exercise. After coming back up the street

Dear Editor,

Thank you; the write up and picture in your paper of our 50th anniversary was very nice.

Maybe some time you could do an article on the Manchester residents at the Evangelical Home in Saline. I'm a volunteer there for the past 19 years, and I take great pride in our Manchester residents.

Thanks again,
Bertha Tase

Ed. note: We will follow up on the residents at Saline Home!

in Michigan. Those students who attend the new schools will receive an education geared to their needs. And by introducing the element of competition, the new schools will force existing public schools to be more attentive and responsive to the needs of students, parents and educators.

Passage of charter school legislation puts Michigan at the forefront of education reform in the nation. It provides immediate help to students and parents who are searching for public alternatives. And it provides long range help to Michigan's job providers and employers as well.

Currently, Michigan's businesses must spend millions of dollars each year to re-train workers, so that they can work efficiently and effectively with the latest technology.

But by reforming and improving the education which our students receive, charter schools can help bring down the cost which business must pay to re-train workers. Thus, charter schools can, in the long run, also help to make Michigan more competitive.

That's why the new charter public school legislation is such a win-win for Michigan's students, parents and employers.

Sincerely,
Rusty Hills
Communications Director
Office of the Governor to get back to Calamity Jane's I walked in front of Manchester's Great Black Hole (in case you don't know, that's the Black Sheep Tavern). Of course there too was ice staring back at me. As I surveyed the rest of Main Street both on the North and south sides of the street, there was not a bit of snow or ice in front of any of the other buildings. Other business owners take the responsibility to clean their sidewalks or pay to get them cleaned. What can be done with the absentee owner of this Black Hole? Are we as a Village going to sit around waiting for someone to fall and sue the village or the Black Sheep? Can any action be taken by the Village to remedy this matter?

Speaking Out - Teresa Benedict

Dear Editor,

The state's most powerful insurance companies just won't stop trying to write a new auto insurance law for their own benefit. A little more than a year ago Michigan voters overwhelmingly rejected AAA's Proposal D. We rejected it because it dramatically reduced our benefits, did not guarantee lower rates, and meant more money for insurance companies. Now voters are faced with rejecting yet another law written to benefit the state's insurance companies. We will have to do it again because the Legislature and Governor just didn't understand what we meant by our NO vote last year. Just weeks after voters rejected Proposal D, legislators caved in to the Governor and insurance company lobbyists and passed into law a bill based on exactly the same principles as Proposal D significant cuts in consumer benefits and no guarantee of lower rates for Michigan drivers. In many respects, the new law, Public Act 143 of 1993, is even worse than Proposal D because it gives insurance companies even more ways to deny coverage. The new law takes away the full coverage for medical bills that you have today if you are injured in an auto accident. The new law allows you to buy back your old coverage, but of course it will cost you more - and you won't be able to buy back the coverage you have today at any price. Even more devastating for consumers, however, is the fine print that gives insurance companies much more control over your treatment and arbitrarily limits many rehabilitation services to a fixed time period - no matter what care your doctor determines that you need.

Under this new law, your insurance company - not your doctor - will have the final say about what treatment is appropriate for you. To add insult to injury, it would force accident victims who are denied coverage to appeal first to the very company that denied them coverage in the first place. And what are consumers supposed to get in return for these cuts in our benefits? The law contains something called a "sixteen percent average rate reduction." But it applies only to those who choose the minimum benefit levels. Extra coverage would be available, but at a higher price of course. Insurance companies can even request waivers from all or part of the rollback. And insurance companies are free to raise their rates again after just six months. Sound familiar? It should; AAA's Proposal D had the same loopholes in its fine print, too. Clearly, the Governor and the Legislature just did not understand - or care - what we meant by our NO vote against Proposal D. But they do understand they can't afford to let us vote on the law again. That's why they did everything they could in the legislature - including violating the Michigan Constitution - to try to prevent us from doing it again. The FAIR coalition believes that Michigan citizens should be allowed to exercise their Constitutional right to ask for a referendum on this law. That is why we're working to put it on the ballot next November - so that voters have an opportunity to review - and reject - it again. Groups like the Michigan Consumer Federation, Mothers Against Drunk Driving, the Advocacy Organization for Patients and Providers, the Michigan State AFL-CIO and the Michigan Head Injury Alliance are asking voters across the state to sign petitions supporting the referendum. We expect to qualify for the ballot soon. But the insurance companies aren't about to give up their fight to keep us off the ballot. They know voters will reject it just as overwhelmingly as we did AAA's Proposal D. Their lawyers are preparing right now to go to court to take away the people's right to vote. This is a fight consumers can't afford to lose. This is a fight about the public's right to vote. It's a fight about insurance company control over your life. And it's a fight about the arrogance in Lansing the kind of arrogance that led Governor Engler and many legislators to ignore two-and-a-half million voters who said NO to the insurance companies once and who want to SAY NO AGAIN!

JOLLY FARMERETTES PLUS

At the December meeting we made and delivered seven "Sunshine Boxes" to shut-ins in the area. We also sang Christmas Carols to the shut-ins.

After we delivered the "Sunshine Boxes" we went to Elaine Feldkamp's house and had lunch. We also exchanged presents that everyone had made themselves.

The next meeting will be on January 8 from 1 o'clock to 3 o'clock.

The Lure of Garden Catalogs

The avalanche of gardening catalogs in the winter months can be enjoyable with their pictures of gardening bliss. If you have ever succumbed to their temptations and later regretted it, here are some suggestions to help avoid disappointment.

Be wary of descriptions which don't include hardiness zones, plant size, or other cultural information such as a shade or sun requirement. The plant may not be hardy in our zone 5, for example.

A "bargain" plant may mean smaller bulb or plant size, smaller quantities of seed, or last year's left overs. If you don't mind the extra time for a plant to reach its mature size, or a limited selection of colors, "bargain" plants may be for you. There is a risk, however, that these may be low quality plants.

Learn everything you can about the plant. Catalogs may not mention that dahlias need to be dug up in the fall, or that trumpet vine (Campsis radicans), will quickly out-grow its boundaries. Also, the more you know about a plant, the less likely you are to plant it in an unsuitable location. Some plants are very fussy about drainage, soil type, and light levels. Failure to heed these requirements is one of the main reasons a new plant dies. If you don't have a good gardening book that you can use as a reference, your local library or Extension Office (971-0079) are good places to start.

Some companies ship a better quality plant than others. Sometimes there is a price difference between these companies, and sometimes there isn't. Ask your friends and family about their experiences with different companies to get an idea of what to expect. You may wish to limit the size of your initial order until you can make a decision about the quality yourself.

Be realistic in your expectations. Most of the pictures in the catalogs are of mature plants growing in ideal locations. It will take time for plants to reach maturity, and they may never look just like the picture in the catalog.

If you have been disappointed by catalog orders in the past, or if this will be your first order, use these guidelines to increase your chances of success. But the best defense against disappointment is educating yourself as much as possible.

Parents - an Essential Part of Government's New Drug Strategy

by Terry White

By now, most of us are tired of hearing about the deluge of illegal drugs that continues to flood our towns and cities year after year. We are tired of hearing about the ever-increasing violent crime rates and how these are linked to drug use. We want our children safe. We want our neighborhoods safe. And that means most of us wish to blaze that somebody would work out something that actually seemed to work for a change.

It's been almost a decade since the government's billion-dollar "war on drugs" was launched and children were urged to "Just Say No." It's been a couple of decades since new-style drug education programs were put into our schools—programs which, it turned out, often increased drug experimentation among youngsters rather than reducing it.

A University of Michigan survey has found that the 12-year gradual decline in casual drug use has come an abrupt halt. College students and even eighth graders are reporting higher rates of drug use in 1992 than they did in 1991. As well, fewer eighth graders in 1992 perceived any great risk in using cocaine or crack.

Articles in the media have begun to declare the return of a 1960s-style drug culture. Heroin is becoming the new trendy drug on college campuses—a cheaper, and more concentrated form of heroin that has already led to a 34% increase in hospital emergency room admissions for the drug last year. Among students, too young to remember the strung-out junkies of the 70's, the drug has acquired a romantic mystique and the usual shroud of drug advocate lies that only "wimps" get addicted.

The Clinton administration has just issued a new interim National Drug Control Strategy. This is designed to shift the focus away from the easy part of the drug problem, reducing casual and intermittent drug use, to the most difficult aspect, reducing drug use and its consequences to hard-core drug users.

It calls for grass roots efforts to deal with the drug problem (rather than top down Federal-to-local problems), it supports efforts to reduce ready availability to guns which play a significant role in drug-related violence, and it plans to put more money into drug rehabilitation and education and prevention programs. As well, it views alcohol abuse, especially underaged drinking, as part of the drug problem.

"This is the first government strategy in years which stands a chance of really tackling the nation's problems with drugs," said John Duff, president of Narconon International, a worldwide network of drug education and rehabilitation centers which have possibly the best record of drug-free results of any rehabilitation program.

"The new interim drug strategy places the emphasis on prevention and rehabilitation of the hard-core drug user," said Duff. "Once, rehabilitation had something of a bad name because of poor results. But now, even the large majority of hard-core drug addicts can be fully rehabilitated so they are able to live completely drug-free lives."

But Duff says that parents can't afford to wait until the government's new drug strategy is fully implemented. Drug use has become trendy again. The chances are that their children are going to come into contact with drugs. Their friends are possibly using them. More than ever, drugs are being promoted as the "cool" thing to do.

Parents, however, can play an important part in the grass roots prevention strategy. Why wait for the government or schools to educate your children about the dangers of drugs?

Duff says that children need to understand that mind-altering drugs are actually only poisons which can make people feel better for short time. But after that, the person starts feeling worse than they did before they took the drugs. And no matter what children may have been told, the truth is that their mental abilities and their ability to be successful and enjoy life goes rapidly down the toilet with drug use. Just because it's trend doesn't make it sensible.

One reason there are long-term harmful effects from drugs, even marijuana, said Duff, is because drug residuals actually stay in the system for many years. Drugs get trapped in the fatty tissue of the body, so after using a drug even casually for a short time, a person can start to feel worse all the time. This contributes to the urge to continue taking drugs. People find they need them just to feel half-way okay. That's the real trap.

"As well," Duff points out, "children need to understand that we live in a drug society. The fact that millions of people use alcohol, tobacco, and a host of legally prescribed mind-altering drugs does not make some drugs okay and other drugs 'the devil incarnate.' Addiction to alcohol or tranquilizers can be just as devastating as addiction to heroin or cocaine.

"The short-term high these poisons produce is loaded with long-term liabilities and is very second-rate when compared to the natural high one achieves through formulating goals and successfully reaching them," said Duff. "If children can be taught this by parents, then we have taken a major step forward toward a drug-free society. And parents would not have to worry so much about their children becoming part of the drug statistics that continue to fill the news."

School Finance Reform Plan Draws Attention of Agriculture

The state's largest farm organization complimented Gov. Engler for submitting a comprehensive school finance reform proposal.

"Gov. Engler's efforts are a good starting point for the debate over the future of school finance in our state," said Ron Nelson, legislative counsel for Michigan Farm Bureau.

"The financial elements of this plan are so complex that we'll need to do some further analysis to determine the precise impact on Michigan farmers. But in our initial review, it appears that we'd have some questions about exactly which real estate transactions would fall under the proposed four percent transfer tax. In addition, we'd like some further definition as to which businesses and properties would be subject to the 16 mill property tax. We'd like to know where agricultural property would fit under this plan," he said.

Nelson said he expects Farm Bureau will have a more definitive review of Gov. Engler's plan prior to legislative hearings next week.

Horning Farms' "Distinguished Young Farmer"

by Marsha Johnson Chartrand

Jeffrey Earl Horning, the fifth generation of farmer on the Horning Farms of Freedom Township, has been named Michigan's "Distinguished Young Farmer of the Year" for 1993.

Jeff and his wife Lynda and daughter Katie, age 18 months, are an integral part of the family farming operation on Pleasant Lake Road.

How did Jeff achieve this honor? It all started with the Young Farmers Group here in Washtenaw County, which is an outgrowth of the Washtenaw Farm Bureau. Each county organization selects a candidate to vie for the title of Distinguished Young Farmer. In Washtenaw County, the membership nominated Jeff as their candidate.

After this, Jeff told us, there was a very detailed application to fill out. From the 83 counties in Michigan, four young farmers were chosen to be interviewed as finalists. After the interviews, Jeff was chosen as Michigan Farm Bureau's "Distinguished Young Farmer".

Was this something that made him a little nervous? "Yes, I was extremely nervous over the interview. What made it harder was that many of the interviewers were people I knew from school [Jeff is a 1989 graduate of Michigan State University]. I think it would have been easier if I hadn't known any of them."

Jeff's father, Earl Horning, remains active as a partner on the farm. His grandfather, Alton Horning, though retired, still lives nearby and keeps an actively interested eye on the farm. Alton's father and grandfather (both named Gottlieb Horning) began farming in Freedom Township over 100 years ago.

Jeff's state title qualifies him to represent the Michigan Farm Bureau in the National competition of the American Farm Bureau Federation annual meeting in Fort Lauderdale, Florida, later this month.

The Horning family is active in the Washtenaw County Farm Bureau, and Jeff is also active in Pro-FILE, an intensive leadership program for farmers.

The Horning farm has recently expanded with a new facility for their dairy operation. They have added a large pole type structure that houses the dairy cattle while they are in a loafing area. The cows are then brought into a "double ten parlor" milking parlor which can accommodate 20 milking cows at a time. The station is divided in half with 10 cows on each side. The cows are cleaned, fed and milked all in this same area.

The milk is transported through piping into a separate milk holding area. There, it is cooled and readied for transport. This area is spotless and cleaned at every milking. The Horning's facility is one of the most up-to-date and modern of any in the area.

Horning Farms currently milks over 140 cows in one of the top producing herds in the state. They also raise their own replacement animals and grow most of their own feed on the 550 acres which they farm.

Jeff, Lynda, and Katie, his parents, Earl and Diane, and grandfather Alton all share in the achievement that Jeff has attained for the farm and the family this year. Congratulations to all, and may there be many more generations of Hornings to continue the legacy begun by Gottlieb, Sr. over a century ago.

NAFTA Passage a Big Victory

The House passage of the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA) begins a new chapter in trade relations, built on mutual respect and cooperation, said the president of the Michigan Farm Bureau. "This new accord will bring ever-increasing benefits to agriculture and will strengthen the U.S. economy," according to Jack Laurie.

"Many sectors in Michigan agriculture will benefit," he said. "Overall, U.S. farm exports to Mexico will increase by over $2 billion a year above what would have normally occurred. The big winners will include dry edible beans, livestock, corn, wheat, soybeans, and countless retail food products.

"The approval of NAFTA will make it much easier to reach a satisfactory resolution of our trade differences with the European Community as we near the Dec. 15 deadline for concluding the Uruguay Round of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade," Laurie said.

The farm leader said farmers appreciate the members of the Michigan congressional delegation "who took a step forward in supporting this very important trade agreement. Their courageous vote may some day be noted as the most important action affecting agriculture in this decade."

From the Heart

Hi Folks,

This week, I am going to try and discuss some of the situations we encounter in the service area.

One challenging situation we encounter is when we have a mechanical problem which only happens occasionally, and naturally you bring your vehicle in and it won't act up for us. We know there is a difficulty but we can't verify it until it happens for us.

We have highly trained mechanics and not parts changers. Parts changers just keep changing parts until the situation goes away. This can be very expensive as well as frustrating to you.

Have you ever tried to repair a vehicle based on a customer's version of the noise they hear? Sometimes we want to laugh, but of course we can't. And explaining these noises to the mechanic correctly can be the most critical part of correcting your problem.

Another inconvenience sometimes is trying to get help from Ford with your repair bills. The mechanics need to be reimbursed for their work. Their wages come either from you or from Ford. Many times we assist you ourselves, although you may not realize it. We want happy customers, and so does Ford Motor Company. Ford deals with thousands of customers, and many times repairs are due to customer neglect or abuse. Ford will stand behind their product as long as they are at fault.

Many times we get frustrated because we have to wait on parts, but remember folks we install the parts not build them, so like any business we are at the mercy of the suppliers.

And yes, sometimes we make mistakes and misdiagnose a repair, but with today's high-tech equipment and our highly-trained staff, this is rare.

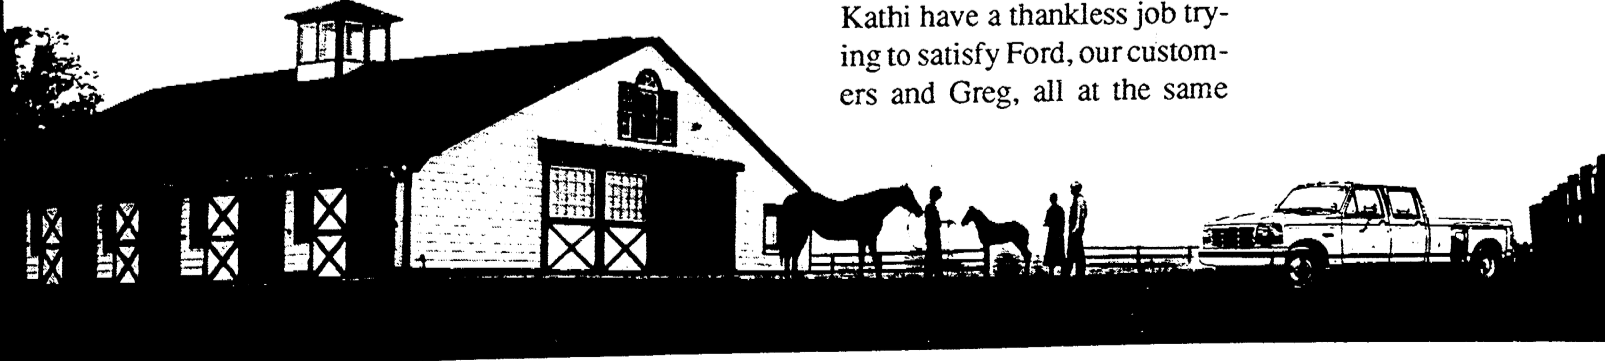

Nobody has perfect service, but we have award winning service, and this is not easy to come by. Only a small percentage of the dealers in the US achieve this.

We want and need your business, and the key to any business is service. Rich and Kathi have a thankless job trying to satisfy Ford, our customers and Greg, all at the same time; and they put in long hard hours trying to do this. And being human, sometimes they get little short but they are on your side.

But sometimes, when the customer leaves and says "thanks for the help, and we'll see you later," maybe their job is not so thankless after all.

Government Should Respect Private Property Rights

Farmers, other landowners and entrepreneurs are confused and disturbed over the multi-fronted attack on property rights, according to the president of the state's largest farm organization.

"Property rights are a cornerstone for the historic success of American agriculture," said Jack Laurie, president of the Michigan Farm Bureau. "The federal government is vigilant in its defense of other civil rights and liberties. Why shouldn't the right to own and use property enjoy the same status? The Fifth Amendment says it should."

The American Farm Bureau Federation recently testified before Congress in support of H.R. 561, the Private Property Rights Protection Act of 1993.

"The right to own and use property is guaranteed by the Constitution, as important as the right to worship, to free speech, to vote," said Laurie. "Yet, overzealous regulators interpret laws to suit their personal philosophies or to justify their existence. These unnecessary regulations are expensive, time-consuming and cause good people to have some bad problems."

Laurie said federal agencies should have to consider the impact of government regulations on reducing the use of private property. Laurie said the goal of the bill is to minimize unintended takings and the resultant costs to the government to compensate landowners when such takings occur.

"Under the proposed law, regulators will have to stop and think about the implications of their regulations," he said.

IT'S AN ANTIQUE WORLD

Marilyn Koebbe Dearborn West Estates Liquidators

The world of antiques is so vast, encompassing within its arms furniture, jewelry, glassware, clothing, books, paintings, and prints, and the list goes on and on. It is a world which enhances our lives and teaches us history. This world excludes no one from its realm, for each of us has been touched by it through possessions, friends and relatives or admiring them in the numerous antique shops.

What makes an item an antique? According to the United States Tariff Act of 1930, an antique is any item produced prior to 1830. This date was not chosen randomly for it marked the beginning of the Era of Mass Production. Items which originally had been hand-crafted were now being made by machine. However, the term "antique" through common usage includes any item of historical or cultural significance regardless of date or manufacturing method.

Within the world of antiques is another world, the world of collectibles. How do they differ? A collectible is something which due to its rarity, its role in popular culture or oddity has value to a collector.

Just as the world of antiques encompasses a wide range of items, so does the world of collectibles. Ranging from toys, dolls, primitives, classic automobiles and so on.

Do these two worlds intermingle? When is an antique a collectible or vice versa? An example would be of the person who collects a particular oddity in the pottery category such as teapots. Within that collection a person can possess a teapot with the artistic beauty of one of the porcelain teapots from one of the dynasties of China (an antique) or one of the teapots by the Hall China Company (Jewel Tea). Here the antique teapot is part of a person's collection and is both an antique and a collectible.

The line between the two worlds is ever so fine, criss-crossing back and forth as history and cultural changes occur.

Within the economic world, we are all aware of prices. Antiques and collectibles have been and continue to be good investments for the future. Prices for antiques and collectibles range anywhere from a few dollars to thousands. For the bargain hunters, yard sales, secondhand stores, rummage sales, estate sales, flea markets and auctions are excellent sources. For those interested in seeking out particular items, your local antique dealers can be of great assistance.

The world of antiques and collectibles also consists of trends and cycles. What was popular a few years ago may not be so today. The true collector or antiquer, whether an item is popular or not, will still continue to seek out these treasures. If one wants to invest in antiques, invest when the market price is low. Just as history seems to repeat itself, so will the demand as the item becomes a rarity or back in "vogue", causing prices to increase. Venture out into the world of antiques; you'll find it an exciting adventure.

Historic Church Tour

Detroit, MI: Tour five historic churches with the Detroit Historical Society on Monday, January 10, 1994 at 10:00 a.m. Tours last approximately 4 hours, and lunch is served during the tour. Churches on the tour include:

Central United Methodist: Designed in a modified early Gothic style, the church was built in 1866-67; it was altered when Woodward Avenue was widened in 1936.

Holy Family: Designed in 17th century Baroque style, the church was built by the Italian community in 1908.

Fort Street Presbyterian: This gothic revival structure was built in 1855.

St. Peter Episcopal: The neo-Gothic structure was begun in 1928, and has never been officially finished.

Most Holy Trinity: The first English speaking Roman Catholic parish in the city was built in 1855.

The Historic Church Tours, now in their twenty first year, are sponsored by the Detroit Historical Society, the National Society of the Colonial Dames of America in the State of Michigan, and the Detroit Historical Museum. Tickets are $9 for Historical Society members and $11 for non-members, and must be reserved in advance by calling 833-1405.

Senior Citizens News

by T.V. Ludwick

We spent New Year's Day with old friends in their large farm house 'down home' at Stryker. I was privileged by arising to witness the most gorgeous sunrise I've seen for quite a while. My other housemates accused me of seeing things, as they were asleep for the half hour I was glued to window. What a way to start the new year of 1994! Back home, it must have rained in the night, 'cause on Sunday morning there was a ice skating rink out there. I went three parking spaces beyond where I'd planned to turn in at church and was very careful walking into the building. Could have been worse, don't we always say that?

Thursday, January 6: We celebrate our January born birthdays today at Emanuel's dining room at noon. If you are 55 or older, come help fill up that special table by calling Jan in the kitchen (428-7630 before 10:30 AM. She is serving pork chops in mushroom sauce (tender and a treat). Then go to the Center for the fun of bingo at 12:30.

Tuesday, January 11: Senior Citizens' Council meeting starts at 9:30. We welcome you and your ideas to make programs better. Jan and crew plan to serve baked chicken at noon lunch (you get your choice of white or dark meat and we definitely have choices). Come see how much food you are served besides the main dish! Center activities follow and you are urged to come help out.

Wednesday, January 12: Senior bus leaves the Center for Chelsea and the Retirement Center. Other places of interest will also be visited. You may go along by first calling Erma Alber at 428-8707.

Thursday, January 13: Our Jan has listed Polish sausage as the entree for today. Aren't you curious about what she'll serve with it? Get your reservation in to Linda (ahead) at 428-8359 or to Jan on meal days and come join us delighted eaters. See you there!

Social Security 1994 Changes

Your Social Security benefit increased by 2.6 percent effective with this month's check. The increase is based on the rise in the cost of living.

If the Medicare Part B premium is deducted from your check, you will not see the full increase and some will see no increase at all because the premium also went up on January 1.

Medicare Changes

The basic Part B premium, the amount deducted from most people's Social Security checks, increased to $41.10 for 1994. The Part A deductibles—the amount you owe before Medicare starts paying—also went up. In 1994, you will pay $696 for the first 60 days of a hospital stay and $174 per day for the next 30 days. The Part B deductible did not change. It is $100 per year.

If your monthly income is near the national poverty level ($601 for an individual and $806 for a couple), your state may pay your Medicare premiums and deductibles. Contact your state or local medical assistance (Medicaid) agency, social services department, or welfare office.

If You Plan To Work In 1994

The amount of money you can earn before your benefits are reduced also went up on January 1.

If you are 65 or older, or you will reach 65 in 1994, you can earn $11,160 and still get all your benefits. We will deduct $1 in benefits for each $3 you earn over $11,160.

If you will be under 65 all year, you can earn up to $8,040 and still get all your benefits. We will deduct $1 in benefits for each $2 you earn over $8,040.

Beginning with the month you turn 70, you can earn any amount and still get all your benefits.

Contact Social Security if you think you will earn more than these limits.

If You Worked In 1993

You have until April 15, 1994, to report your 1993 earnings to Social Security. You must report your earnings if you received benefits last year and if you earned more than $10,560 (for people 65-69) or $7,680 (for people under 65). There is a substantial penalty for not filing a report. Filing a tax return does not take the place of filing this report with Social Security. If you were 70 or older for all of 1993, you do not have to file a report Different rules apply if you receive Social Security disability or SSI. You must report all your work no matter how little you earn. If you receive benefits for someone else, you must report for that person.

SCHOOL BOARD MEMBER RECOGNITION MONTH

Local leaders make communities work!

Michigan officially honors local leaders who envision a better world for all of us through education. January is School Board Member Recognition Month. The 1994 theme is "Local Leaders Make Communities Work!"

School board members take on a tremendous task when they are elected to set direction for their local schools. Acting on behalf of all of us, they make decisions and set policies that are not always popular, but are in the best interest of our community and our children.

School board members have safeguarded the American ideal of public education through tough times in recent years. They are now working relentlessly to turn Michigan's education system into a world class resource for residents of all ages.

The Manchester Community Schools will recognize and introduce our school board members during half-time of the varsity basketball game on Friday, January 14, 1994. We ask the community to join us and show support for these dedicated leaders.

OUR BOARD OF EDUCATION is a seven member legislative body elected by residents of our school district to be advocates for our children and act in the best interest of our community.

OUR BOARD OF EDU-

CATION is responsible for school matters established by the state legislature and the state board of education on behalf of all Michigan schoolchildren.

OUR BOARD OF EDUCATION determines general policies for the management, care and control of our school district and makes decisions that affect 1,166 students in our public schools.

OUR BOARD OF EDUCATION meets on the third Monday night each month at 7:45 p.m. in the high school library.

OUR BOARD OF EDUCATION meets publicly, unless closed sessions are required by law, and listens to concerns of the public both formally and informally.

OUR BOARD OF EDUCATION hears the public formally at board meetings when concerned citizens request to speak.

OUR BOARD OF EDUCATION members are: President, Patricia Sahakian, seven years of service; Vice President, Joseph Turk, four years of service; Secretary, Bruce Abbott, two years of service; Treasurer, Paul Kluwe, serving first year of new term (previously served four years); Trustee, John Hochstetler, one year of service; Trustee, John Ochs, one year of service; Trustee, Wayne Winzenz, serving first year.

Financial Aid Program Available at High School

Each year Grand Valley State University provides Manchester High School with a free computer program called S.N.A.P. (Student Need Advisory Program). This easy to use program will calculate accurately what a family will be expected to pay for a year of college for their son or daughter. This program follows the financial aid form of the College Scholarship Service. S.N.A.P. takes 20-30 minutes to run and requires no previous computer experience. It runs on an IBM or IBM compatible computer. S.N.A.P. can be used at the high school or signed out and used at home or at work.

S.N.A.P. can be a valuable tool in helping parents plan for financing their student's college education. It is especially recommended for parents of seniors who are not sure whether they want to fill out financial aid forms for next year. It will tell them whether completing financial aid forms would be beneficial. It can also be used by parents of seniors who definitely plan to apply for financial aid but would like to have a head start in planning the process and find out where they stand financially. A third group of parents who could benefit from S.N.A.P. is parents of underclassmen who are planning for the future, trying to learn how they can help meet the ever-increasing cost of college. Please call the Guidance Office (428-8274) to use or sign out S.N.A.P. or to find out more information.

Local Host Families Needed

ASSE International Student Exchange Programs is seeking local host families for boys and girls from Scandinavia, France, Italy, Spain, Portugal, Germany, Holland, Britain, Poland, Czech Republic, Austria, Hungary, Switzerland, Malta, Mexico, Japan, Thailand, Canada, Australia and New Zealand, from the ages of 15-18 years, coming to this area for the upcoming high school year.

Exchange students are personable and academically select, speak English, and are bright, curious and anxious to learn about this country through living as part of a family, attending high school and sharing their own culture and language with their newly-adopted host family.

The students are sponsored by ASSE, a non-profit, public benefit organization, affiliated with the Swedish and Finnish Departments of Education. ASSE also cooperates with the Canadian Provincial Ministries of Education and is approved by the Australian and New Zealand Departments of Education. ASSE is the only organization with these credentials.

The students arrive from their home country shortly before school begins and return at the end of the school year. Each ASSE student is fully insured, brings his or her own personal spending money and expects to bear his or her share of household responsibilities, as well as being included in normal family activities and lifestyles.

The students are well screened by ASSE. Families may select the youngster of their choice from student applications, family photos and biographical essays. Families are encouraged to begin corresponding prior to the student's arrival.

ASSE is also seeking local high school students to become ASSE exchange students abroad. Students should be between 15 and 18 years old and interested in living with a host family, attending school and learning about the lands and people of Scandinavia, France, Italy, Spain, Portugal, Germany, Austria, Holland, Britain, Poland, Czech Republic, Switzerland, Malta, Canada (French or English speaking), Mexico, Japan, Thailand, Australia or New Zealand. Students should have a good academic record and desire to experience another culture and language through living with a warm and giving volunteer family. Academic year and shorter term summer vacation programs are available.

Persons interested in obtaining more information about becoming a host family or becoming an exchange student should contact ASSE's local representative, CATHIE & SKIP BASIL at 313-685-8686, or call 1-800-736-1760.

*When things go wrong as they sometimes will,
When the road you're trudging seems all uphill,
When the funds are low,
and the debts are high
And you want to smile,
but you have to sigh,
When care is pressing
you down a bit —
Rest if you must,
but don't you quit
Success is failure
turned inside out,
The silver tint of
the clouds of doubt,
And you never can tell how close you are,
It may be near when
it seems afar.
So, stick to the fight
when you're hardest hit —
It's when things go wrong that you mustn't quit.*

Save Those Labels!

It's Campbell Soup time again. Manchester Middle School is collecting labels to be exchanged for audio-visual equipment. The collection period ends on March 1, 1994.

Please save labels from all Campbell soups, V-8 juices, Swanson canned and frozen foods, all Franco-American products, Recipe dog food, Mrs. Paul's frozen foods and Vlasic pickle products.

You may send the labels to any Manchester school to be forwarded to the middle school, give the labels to any middle school student, or deposit the labels at the local Walco store. Thank you for helping us again.

VOLLEYBALL SEASON STARTS FOR MHS

by Adrienne Wallace

The 1994 Manchester High School Women's Volleyball team begins its quest for the Cascades Conference title on Monday, January 17th at Michigan Center. Last year the team placed second in the Conference behind Hanover-Horton and made it to the state Quarter-Finals with an overall record of 38-8-5, claiming District and regional titles along the way.

Returning from last year's squad are three-year Varsity players and All-Region selections Sarah Riske -Sr; Tracy LaRue -Sr; and Kathleen Baran -Sr. Also back are two year Varsity players Liz Bragg -Sr; April Butterfield -Sr; and Laura Alber -Sr; and first year Varsity players Jenny Nobsch -Jr; Sharon Goodell -Jr; and Amber Burkhardt -Jr.

Absent from this year's roster is All-Conference and All-Region Dream Team member Adrienne Wallace -Sr, who will miss the season year's squad has what it takes to make 1994 a banner season. Please help this talented team make the Conference Title dream a reality by attending matches which begin in January and run through February. Your support can make the difference!

MANCHESTER WRESTLING

- submitted by Steve Vleck

This year's season started out on a good note with the majority of our wrestlers returning and ready to reach new heights with both team and individual goals. Our first meet was the Concord Tournament where we usually do well and this year was no different. We took third out of ten teams, only four points out of second place. Our top wrestlers were: Freshman Steve Spurr took a second place to a Senior in an exciting match by a score of 18-13. At 112 Junior Jay Eiss also took home a second place medal, losing to one of his old rivals from Leslie but still wrestling well during the day. At 119, Senior Jim Suggs placed second, losing to Springport's state placer Ben Engelter. Ryan Eiss, wrestling his first Varsity Tournament, surprised a lot of people by winning the 125 weight class beating a senior in the finals - not bad for only a Sophomore. At 130 another one of our Sophomores, Joe Tobias, had another strong day losing by only four points to the wrestler who took 8th in State last year in the finals. Our Seniors now had their chances, as Eric Anderson took home a third place collecting four pins on the day. Eric has really improved this year and is really contributing to the team. At 140 Senior Brent Woods continued his domination of most of his opponents by easily winning the tournament by the score of 9-1 in the finals. Bryan Duval had a tough second match, losing a close one 7-5, but came back to take home a well-deserved third place. At 152, in one of the toughest classes, Senior Mike Croghan took home a fourth place. In all a good day for all of our kids.

Onsted was our next destination; this would be a good day for the Dutch as all the wrestlers including our JV would get a match. Some of the highlighted matches were Ryan Eiss, winning a last-second match 9-8 and Sophomore Dustin Williams winning an exciting match. When all was said and done we walked away with a 47-20 victory. Jaws Team tournament was the team's next task as we were placed in the toughest pool in our division, facing both teams who had placed higher at Concord: Springport and Leslie. Our first match we came out a little flat and lost a close match to Leslie 40-27. After talking to the kids and getting my point across we wrestled much better and hammered Concord by a score of 58-13. Springport was next and this was a team who had gone to state last

DUTCH VOLLEYBALL TAKES SECOND AT ALLEN PARK, BUT STRUGGLES AT BEDFORD

-by Adrienne Wallace

The Manchester High School Volleyball team opened its season on Saturday, December 18th with the Allen Park pre-Christmas tournament. The Lady Dutch were undefeated in pool play and made it to the tourney finals where they then lost to host Allen Park in three games (13-15, 15-13 and 16-14). This second place ranking is a step up from last year's placement of third among some tough Class A and B teams.

Some highlights were Tracy LaRue's 92 assists, Sarah Riske's 57 kills, Laura Alber's 46 service points and Kathleen Baran's 90% passing accuracy. Coach Stein was pleased with the team's overall performance of 11 wins and two losses, and recognized the great efforts put forth by Liz Bragg, Laura Alber, April Butterfield and Amber Burkhardt.

After leaving Allen Park on a positive note, the Dutch practiced four short days in preparation for Wednesday, December 29th's tournament at Bedford. Last year the Dutchwomen failed to advance out of pool play into the playoffs. This year the Dutch faced tough opponents Adrian, St. Mary's Catholic Central, and Livonia, and were stopped again.

They tumbled through pool seven losses, and didn't proceed any further. Coach Stein said, "Overall, we didn't play well; I don't know what happened." However, there were some bright spots in an otherwise dark day: Senior Kathleen Baran served 26 points and had five aces, Senior Sarah Riske added 26 kills and Senior Tracy LaRue made 33 assists.

The Dutch hope to pick up the pieces of last week's defeat and continue their "pre-season" non-conference play at the Saline Invitational on Saturday, January 8.

year. We came out strong and built an early lead as we got key wins from Bryan and Brent while Dustin got an important pin also. The final score would end up 45-30, sending us into the championship bracket and facing a tough Hudson team. In the lower weights Hudson has three returning state placers, but our kids hung in there and gave them a small lead. As we started to climb back we got key wins from three seniors: Eric Anderson, Mike Bunn and Brent Woods all three with pins. With the score close, it came down to the 189 pound weight class where freshman Ed Cruz was giving it his all. He came up short in a thriller 9-8. The final score was 32-30. Hudson went on to win the whole shebang, so we had nothing to be ashamed of - we lost to the first and second place teams. In the consolation finals, we met up with one of our oldest rivals Jonesville. We really went after them and beat them handily 52-20. After it was all said and done it was a rewarding day as we took home the third place plaque.

On a down note, we lost one of our spiritual leaders who does whatever he can for the team to a knee injury, from which hopefully he'll recover.

Before we broke for the Holidays we had to meet up with Jonesville again. I knew they would wrestle much tougher, and that they

NOTICE VILLAGE OF MANCHESTER REMOVAL OF SNOW AND ICE

The occupant of any premises, or the owner of any unoccupied premises or real property, is required to keep the constructed sidewalks in front of, or adjacent to such premises cleared from snow and ice which will impede passage on such sidewalks.

Snow and ice shall be so removed from sidewalks in all business districts by four (4) business hours after the cessation of any fall of snow, sleet, or freezing rain, or by the beginning of business hours of the next day following such fall, whichever period is shorter.

Snow and ice shall be so removed from all residential sidewalks within twenty-four (24) hours after the cessation of any fall of snow, sleet, or freezing rain.

If the snow and ice on a sidewalk has become so hard that it cannot be removed without the likelihood of damage to the sidewalk, the person responsible for its removal shall, within the time requirements, have enough sand or other abrasive put on the sidewalk to make travel thereon reasonably safe.

If the person responsible for the removal of snow and ice fails to comply with the ordinance, then the Village may remove the snow and ice, and the cost thereof may be collected as a single lot assessment. Further, such responsible party shall be liable to the village for all losses to the village or recoveries from the village for damages to person or property of other caused by the failure of such responsible party to so remove all snow and ice accumulations.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture said that college graduates with expertise in food, agricultural and natural resources disciplines will experience a strong employment market through the middle of the decade. There is expected to be an 11 percent shortfall in qualified graduates for the available jobs. Marketing, merchandising and technical sales positions will be the most difficult to fill. Also needed will be qualified graduates in science, engineering and related specialties. "Modern agriculture is more than just production farming," said Laurie. "It's a tremendously diverse and exciting industry that can offer dynamic opportunities to young people."

Contributors to Record-Breaking Michigan Harvest Gathering Honored

Lansing — Food banks, pantries, and soup kitchens around Michigan are stocking shelves and freezers with more food for the holiday season, thanks to the generosity of Michigan businesses and individuals, according to Governor John Engler.

He said hundreds of businesses and individuals from all over Michigan donated food and funds to make the third Michigan Harvest Gathering (MHG) food and fund drive a record-breaker.

"This is an incredible commitment of caring by Michigan citizens," said the Governor. "Michelle and I are very proud of the people who have made MHG a big success, helping families all across the state who need a helping hand."

The Governor announced that this year contributors have given $431,506 and 622,662 pounds of food, with more donations expected in the next few weeks.

Bill Schuette, Director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture and MHG coordinator, added, "The 127 compassionate corporations and businesses that gave so generously to this year's effort will make a real difference for people this holiday season. I am impressed with the continued support by businesses, large and small, to making this annual effort a success."

The comments came this evening at a "Celebration Reception" honoring the 1993 Michigan Harvest Gathering contributors. The event was held at the Marshall Street Armory in Lansing and featured Michigan-made food, prepared by Michigan's commodity groups.

Special thanks were given to three of Michigan's corporate giants — Ameritech of Michigan, Consumers Power Company and The Dow Chemical Company for giving $25,000 each for a total of $75,000 as part of the "Michigan Harvest Gathering Challenge".

In that Challenge, the three corporations pledged that amount if Bill Schuette could raise $150,000 from ten other companies. The Challenge was met with donations from: Amway Corporation, Detroit Edison Foundation, Ford Motor Company, General Mills Foundation, General Motors Corporation, W.K. Kellogg Foundation, Kroger Company, Masco Corporation, Meijer Inc., Monsanto Agricultural Group, and Spartan Stores, Inc.

Fourteen Michigan businesses gave $10,000 or at least 10,000 pounds of food, earning the distinction of being named "benefactors" of the Michigan Harvest Gathering. They are: Absopure Water Company, Awrey Bakery, Bil Mar/Mr. Turkey, Blue Cross & Blue Shield of Michigan, Burnette Foods, Cherry Central Inc.,

Chrysler Corporation, Cole's Quality Foods Inc., Glen's Markets, Graceland Fruit Company, Kellogg Company, MBG Marketing Inc., Ralston Purina, and The Upjohn Company.

Six business or school food drives have either taken place or are currently underway, including a state employees canned food drive throughout the Lansing area. Canned goods from the canned food sculptures will also be donated to the Michigan Harvest Gathering.

The Canned Food Sculpture Contest, now in its second year, was initiated to provide a unique and fun way to participate in the Michigan Harvest Gathering. Twenty-seven (27) sculptures were entered and nine selected as finalists by a group of judges, including Michigan First Lady Michelle Engler. The finalists displayed their sculptures at the program for final judging.

PUTTING THE PEDAL TO THE METAL CAN HAVE A WHOLE NEW MEANING.

The shock, the anguish, the damage—the results of a crash far outweigh the time you save by driving too fast. It's a fact that your chances of seriously injuring someone increase the faster you go. And when you drive too fast for conditions, you make things even worse. A crash like this can happen in a heartbeat. And if it does, it will change your life forever.

SPPEEDING GETS YOU NOWHERE FAST.

GOOD Morning News

Oatmeal Makes You Feel Good

There's nothing quite like the wholesome goodness of a bowl of hot oatmeal for breakfast, especially on a cold morning. It's healthy and nutritious and a recent Gallup study shows that Americans believe oatmeal makes them feel good and makes them more productive than other breakfasts.

But for those people who love cold cereal, there's another way to eat your oatmeal. Quaker Toasted Oatmeal cold cereal is a delicious, hearty flake cereal that provides all of the wholesome goodness of authentic Quaker oatmeal. In fact, whole oats are visible on every flake. Available in original and honey nut flavors, it's delicious for breakfast and also is an excellent ingredient to add a crispy twist to muffins and streusel toppings.

- 1-1/4 cups all-purpose flour
 - 1/2 cup chopped nuts (optional)
 - 1/3 cup granulated sugar
 - 1 tablespoon baking powder
 - 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
 - 1/4 teaspoon salt (optional)
- Streusel Topping
- 1/4 cup Quaker Toasted Oatmeal
 - Cereal, any flavor
 - 1/4 cup all-purpose flour
 - 1/4 cup firmly packed brown sugar
 - 2 tablespoons margarine, chilled
- Heat oven to 400°F. Line 12 medium muffin cups with paper baking cups or spray bottoms only with no-stick cooking spray. Combine cereal, bananas and milk; let stand 5 minutes or until cereal softens. Add oil and egg whites; mix well. Add combined remaining ingredients; mix just until dry ingredients are moistened. Fill prepared muffin cups until almost full. For streusel topping, combine dry ingredients; cut in margarine until mixture is crumbly. Sprinkle evenly over batter, patting gently. Bake 22 to 25 minutes or until golden brown. Makes 12 muffins.

FORUM ON SCHOOL TAX REFORM WEDNESDAY JANUARY 12th AT 7:30

The Manchester Area Chamber of Commerce announces a panel discussion on the school finance reform issue. This forum will take place at Manchester High School on Wednesday, January 12 at 7:30 in the evening. The panel will include the following:

- Ron Niedzwiecki, superintendent of the Manchester Community Schools
- Professor C. Phillip Kearney of the University of Michigan School of Education
- Alma Smith, Legislative Coordinator for State Senator Lana Pollack
- A representative from the Governor's office
- A representative from the Manchester Education Association

This forum is designed to give the community an opportunity to hear the current status of the school-finance issue and ballot proposal. The Chamber desires to present various points of view on this subject, and provide an opportunity for questions and answers with key decision makers. The Chamber does not endorse any proposal or speaker presented at this forum.

If school finance reform is important to you, this is your chance to come out and hear what the experts have to say. The forum is open to the public and is presented at no cost as a service of the Manchester Area Chamber of Commerce. Whether you have ever been a Chamber member or not, join us at the High School on Wednesday, January 12 at 7:30 PM and hear how our children's education will be financed. The Manchester Area Chamber of Commerce meetings are always open to the public. For more information, contact Jim Achtenberg of Woodbrook at 428-7011. This issue affects everyone of us. It is important for all of us to know the issues, so come to this forum and learn more about the proposal being voted on in March.

SNOW!!!!

The first major snowfall of the winter may not have been everyone's cup of tea. Getting to work in the morning became an even bigger chore than usual; cleaning the car off and shoveling a path just takes a lot of extra energy, not to mention the extra time it takes to get wherever you're going.

Then there is the matter of school. All the kids were disappointed that school went on as usual, despite the snowy weather, but that didn't keep them from spending fun hours over the weekend on sleds, skis, snowboards, or anything else that will slide on the snow!

We caught these snow-lovers on the Klager Hill. Togetherness seems to be some people's preference - does this bring to mind how many people you can fit in a Volkswagen? (above), but collisions are inevitable - and often scary.

There's more snow on the way, so be careful and enjoy!

1994 Week of Prayer for Christian Unity

Tuesday, January 18th 7:30 p.m. hosted this year in Manchester by St. Mary Church

Called To Be 'One In Heart And Soul'

Next week, Tuesday, January 18 at 7:30 p.m., St. Mary Church will host an ecumenical prayer service during Christian Unity Week. Five churches will be participating: Emanuel UCC, Bethel UCC, Sharon Methodist, Manchester Methodist, and St. Mary.

This year's theme is "Called to be 'One in Heart & Soul'" (Acts 4:23-27). The annual week of prayer for Christian unity began in the Episcopal Church in 1908 at Graymoor, New York. In 1926, the Faith & Order of the World Council of Churches published suggestions of prayer for Christian unity. From this has developed a worldwide Week of Prayer for Christian unity.

The theme and text for this year are based on what was prepared by the Irish Episcopal Conference and the Irish Council of Churches. Plan now to join in prayer on Tuesday, January 18 at 7:30 p.m. at St. Mary Church.
