Local Student puts Theory into Practice

by Marsha Johnson Chartrand

When Rebekah Jackowski learned the Heimlich maneuver a few weeks ago in Health Class, she never dreamed she would be using it in a dramatic rescue effort.

Rebekah was just sitting at the bakery after school last Wednesday, "telling Sandy about my Science Fair project", when suddenly they noticed three-year-old Brittany Boughton choking on a piece of hard candy. Her grandmother, Bonnie Colter, was trying desperately to dislodge the candy by hitting her on the back, and turning her upside down. Unfortunately, this was only helping momentarily; as the piece became dislodged, Brittany would breathe in and the candy would get stuck again.

Rebekah "just wanted to help Brittany," and remembered the instruction she had received in Ms. Gay Perry's health class right at the end of the last marking period. While Bonnie quickly took Brittany's jacket off, Rebekah grabbed her from behind and performed the Heimlich on her. The candy came out right away.

"It was great that Rebekah knew what she was doing," said Sandy King. "Brittany could not breathe at all and it was very frightening. I had dialed 911 while Rebekah began helping. Fortunately, it wasn't needed."

According to Ms. Perry, teaching the Heimlich maneuver is part of the Michigan Health Model for eighth graders. "It is particularly gratifying to have one of my students learn this and be able to save a life with it." Most eighth grade students will find their basic health program advantageous while baby-sitting or otherwise being around small children.

Rebekah Jackowski and Bonnie Colter. Grandmother Bonnie was so grateful, she brought Rebekah flowers on Thursday.

Brittany Boughton is fine now, thanks to Rebekah's quick action.

Ms. Gay Perry, Middle School Health teacher

How does the heroine feel about the publicity she's receiving from family, friends and the community? "Everyone is making a big deal about it. It really wasn't a big deal; I just did it because I wanted to help Brittany."

"It really made Ms. Perry's day, when I told her about it though. She told a lot of people, and now everyone at school is asking about it."

Rebekah was getting a lot of attention at school and the bakery on Thursday. She seemed rather embarrassed by the scrutiny, as would any 14-year-old. But her actions are deserving of special notice.

This story points out the importance of learning Heimlich and other basic first aid techniques, especially CPR. None of us knows when we may be called upon to do something dramatic in an everyday situation. Knowing how to respond can make the difference between a happy ending and tragedy.

It wasn't long ago that the thermometer looked like this. With warm weather we haven't seen for two months arriving this week, we can finally enjoy the outdoors again.

Hooray for 100th Day!

Are there 100 coats in this hallway? Your guess is as good as ours - they were "hanging out" on 100th Day at Klager. More pictures on School Page, p. 12

Nancy Feldkamp, Local Artist, Featured in Area Art Shows

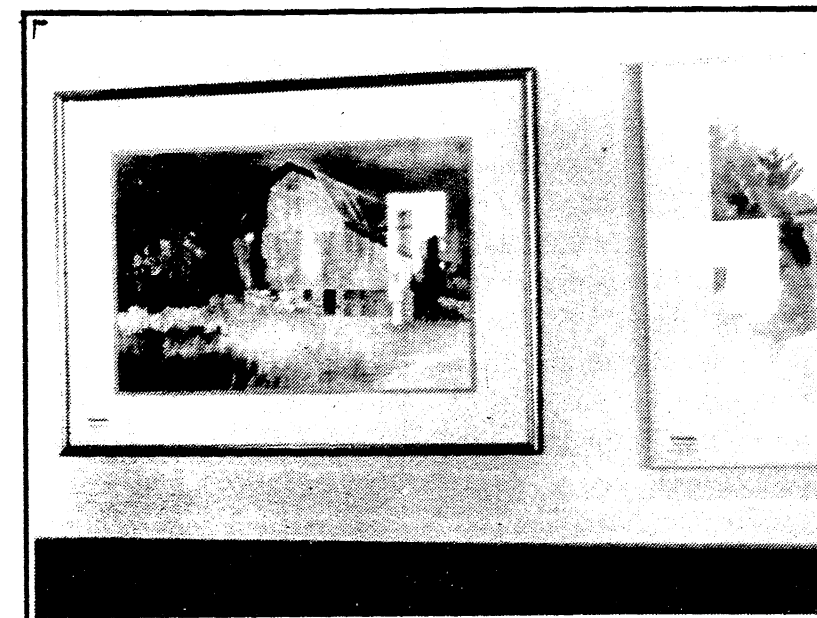

by Marsha Johnson Chartrand

If you notice art wherever you go, it's likely you have seen the work of one of our local artists, Nancy Feldkamp. Nancy's work has been displayed in many local shows and in corporate collections around the state. Currently, her watercolor paintings are on exhibit in two nearby art shows.

Gina's Cafe in the Chelsea Shopping Center is the setting for one of Nancy's shows. There she has seventeen watercolors on display. Gina's is a lovely setting for Nancy's soft paintings of farm scenes - barns, sheep grazing, Victorian porches with gingerbread trim - "barns and farms are a recurring theme of mine," mused Nancy.

At the University of Michigan Hospital, Nancy has a selection of her "Watercolors from Italy." Last summer, she spent a "working vacation" at the La Romita School of Art near Termini, Italy. There she painted on location, studying under artist Charlotte Britton of California, living with nineteen other artists in a former monastery and traveling to nearby towns. They would choose a scene to paint each morning, then gather for a picnic at noon and return for an afternoon of work or rest.

Her scenes from Italy are all from the Umbrian hill country of Italy. The small hilltop villages have their origins in the Middle Ages, but all are still vibrant with life - and this life is expressed beautifully in Nancy's watercolors.

Nancy's barns are an often-seen theme in her paintings. Her inspiration is their own home farm on Smythe Road

This month, Nancy also has two paintings at a Juried Art Show at Ella Sharp Park in Jackson. Those again are "farm" scenes - "County Line #2" and "Barn Again and Again".

Nancy's painting goes back about thirty years - to an adult education class in 1964 here in Manchester. Although she had taken art classes in high school, she hadn't really developed her talent for painting until after she had her children. Then she had another baby, and art took a few years on the back burner again. She then joined a small group in Chelsea, under the tutelage of Betty Maxwell from Ann Arbor, and the same group has met weekly on Tuesdays for over twenty years.

In the mid-70's, the group began doing an annual show on the Chelsea Community Hospital grounds, donating 20% of their profits to the Palmer Medical Scholarship, which funds a couple of students in the medical field each year. This group of painters is a major contributor to the Palmer Scholarship. Chelsea Hospital's halls have often been graced by Nancy's art work, year-round.

Nancy has also been a member of the Ann Arbor Women Painters for about ten years, and enjoys working with this other group of painters as well as her established group in Chelsea.

Doubt is the beginning, not the end, of wisdom. BUT Faith will move mountains.

Besides painting, Nancy also is trained as a pianist and organist, sharing her talents with the Sharon United Methodist Church and other churches on occasion. She enjoys music as an art form as well as her water colors.

Another outlet which Nancy enjoys is entering juried art shows through the mail. She sends slides of her work through the mail, and they are judged by a panel of artists. Her paintings have been accepted by shows from coast to coast - from the Northeast Watercolor Society in Goshen, New York to the Watercolor West show in Brea, California. She has been accepted by the Michigan Watercolor Society for exhibit three times. "It is a challenge, and fun to do," Nancy said. "You get lots of rejection, but then the acceptances are more meaningful and exciting."

Nancy has recently joined an Experimental Watercolor Workshop, using mixed media for her work. She finds that interesting and a new challenge.

As you're traveling the nearby neighborhoods of Chelsea, Jackson or Ann Arbor, this month, you may want to stop and notice Nancy's paintings - and gain some new appreciation of one of our longtime Manchester neighbors.

Editorial / Opinion

To the Editor: from Larry Owen, Democratic Candidate for Governor

Dear Enterprise Staff:
The members of Bethel Church were very appreciative of your feature article on our retiring Pastor and his wife, Roman and Esther Reineck, which appeared in your January 20, 1994 issue. More than a few persons commented to me that they had enjoyed reading Marsha's warm and personal remarks about the Reinecks.

Thank you all for helping us to make this time in the Reineck's lives and in the life of Bethel Church a memorable one.

Keep up the good work.
Sincerely yours,

Mary Sue Moore

Dear Editor,

I have arrived at the astounding conclusion or should I say, visual observation, that your brains are in your foot. Left one to be exact.

If they were anywhere else you would not have gone roller skating. I have known you for more years than we care to remember but this has to be one of you classic goof's.

Why in the world would you go roller skating? You were never very good at it in the first place. Matter of fact the only thing you were accomplished at was riding the bench and getting a bunch of slivers.

Maybe that is where your brains are and you picked up a piece of wood in your misplaced cerebrum.

Any how get better soon so I can kick your you know what on the golf course.

Jerry
Thanks a lot old buddy, but don't ask for any strokes this year. The Editor.

"This will fund education and provide the extra money our schools need for quality education." Remember hearing that? It was the lottery promise years ago. The state would use the lottery profits to provide "extra" money for education. Almost as soon as the ink was dry on the lottery law, our representatives in Lansing started breaking that promise.

Now it's happening again. Last August, Governor Engler and some of our legislators were taking credit for what they called the biggest tax cut in Michigan's history. No longer would property taxes be used to finance schools.

Of course they took this action without a plan to replace that revenue. So what followed was months of political maneuvering and public "spin control". Five months later, after a classic 26 hour session stretching into Christmas Eve Governor Engler declared victory.

Voters would be presented with a ballot plan that raised the sales tax by 50%, went back to using some property taxes, added cigarette taxes and created a new tax that is the equivalent of a 40 mill tax every time a home was sold. The package raises more money than the current system but the Governor urged passage of this proposal because he said it was a tax cut.

He then went on vacation and had his Lieutenant Governor sign a series of bills for a back-up plan should the voters not approve the ballot proposal. He was looking to escape responsibility for a plan he agreed to that raises the income tax by 30%, goes back to using some property taxes, increases business taxes, added cigarette taxes, and created a new tax that is the equivalent of a 20 mill tax every time a home is sold. These all take effect if we turn down Governor Engler's set of taxes. In other words this is political blackmail. No wonder one newspaper columnist called both plans "Tweedle Dumb and Tweedle Dumber."

And under both plans, in at least 40 school districts, taxpayers will have to ante up even more property taxes just to keep their schools funded at their current level.

Unfortunately all this should be no surprise. After our experience with the Lottery promise, we know where all this political maneuvering leaves us. One step forward, two steps back, and a broken promise.

Property taxes for schools are not eliminated under either plan. What's worse is that once again middle income and lower income working families are the big losers. The big winners — you guessed it. People who make more than $200,000 a year, and those who own a lot of office buildings or big apartment complexes — they're the ones who come out ahead. What's even worse is that under these plans, government once again penalized people for doing the right thing. Voters in school districts who supported and invested in their schools over the years, will find that they are hurt for that investment. They get to pay all the new taxes and will find themselves paying additional property taxes to keep up their good schools. It's the same logic that says if you keep up your home, improve it, care about your neighborhood you get to pay more in taxes than those that let their property deteriorate. It's the same logic that often makes people better off being on public assistance than if they took an entry level job. Read the fine print in these proposals. They are both so convoluted, so dependent on guesses about future revenues or needs, that two or three years down the road we could end up in the same kind of mess we have today. The politicians want us to believe that our only choices are whether we amputate our left arm or our right arm. THAT'S NOT TRUE. We should defeat Governor Engler's ballot proposal. Then we should demand that Governor Engler and the Legislature fix the so called "back-up" plan. They should do that with the following key principles in mind:

Guarantee full replacement of our education dollars, with money targeted to school districts with the toughest problems, while not penalizing schools that are doing a good job now. No windfall tax breaks to those of us who are the most wealthy, but instead close some of the current loopholes in our tax laws, and base a new plan on progressive taxes that take into account the ability of all people to pay. Protect middle and low income taxpayers from paying more as they do under either of these two plans.

Both of these plans are bad for the average person, bad for business, and bad for our state. We can do better and should demand that our political leaders do better.

Got cogitating about the human anatomy since the leg got busted. Our bodies are really rather amazing.

Starting at the bottom and working up let's view what we have.

Toes: They help the feet balance the legs that support the body.

Legs: Provide the locomotion to move the body from place to place.

Body: Hooks the legs, arms and neck together providing linkage for the physical portions of our anatomy.

Arms: Allow the grasping of objects for examining or procurement of fuel to sustain the other parts of the anatomy.

Head: The head is at the top of the body and has several integral parts that perform specialized functions. Sight, so that we can observe and record visual observations that may help sustain the body and enhance the control center called the brain. Hearing, records sounds that are used for communication between bodies and recognition of outside influences. Mouth, that ingests food for fueling the body and communicating vocally. Nose, which inhales the air, records odors and alerts the brain to senses that are not visible.

Brain: That portion of the body that coordinates all of the functions of the human anatomy and provides the thinking and reasoning for our being. The brain is the sum and substance of the each individual, as such we should reasonably expect it to be in total and complete control.

I have arrived at the astounding conclusion that the brain goes amuck at times and allows us to do dumb things. Things like roller skating, falling down, and breaking a leg. I wonder if that is a sign of a defective brain and thus body?

Property Tax Exemption forms

On or about February 7, 1994 the Michigan Department of Treasury will be sending a copy of the "AFFIDAVIT FOR HOMESTEAD EXEMPTION FROM SOME SCHOOL PROPERTY TAXES" to every mailbox in Washtenaw County. These forms must be filled out and signed by the taxpayer claiming a homestead exemption and filed with the township or city where the their property is located. The instructions to fill out the forms can be found on the back of each form. The most important part on the form is the correct PROPERTY TAX IDENTIFICATION NUMBER. There are several ways that this number can be found, they are

1. On your most recent tax bill.
2. On your assessment change notice.
3. From your local assessor or supervisor.
4. From the Equalization department, except for Ann Arbor City, Ypsilanti township and Scio Township.

In the event that you do not receive a form in the mail and you feel that you are entitled to this exemption your local unit has received extra copies for just this purpose.

That property may be eligible for the reduced tax rate as well. The outcome of the ballot proposal on March 15 will determine which rules will apply, that is, which properties will be eligible for the reduced rate.

LOVE "Jesus, knowing that God had given all things into his hands...took a towel..." He washed the disciples' feet. He could have taken a throne, or a scepter, or a crown; but he took a towel. Love always does what it does not have to do. People do not have to go into foreign fields and become missionaries. Love sends them there. Paul did not have to go to prison and spend nights in dark dungeons with a bleeding back and his feet in stocks. Love sent him there. A mother does not have to watch her baby through long days and weary nights, but love makes her do it. Yes, love always does what it does not have to do, yet love has to do what it does because it is love. -SOURCE UNKNOWN (found in Zion Lutheran Church, February 1994 newsletter)

American Legion Auxiliary Notes

The American Legion Auxiliary met at the Legion Home on February 9 with 17 members present. The meeting was called to order by President Joanne Schiel. Roll Call was taken by the Secretary and the minutes of the January 14 meeting were read, corrected and approved.

Three flags (POW/MIA, State of Michigan, U.S.) have been purchased for the Post. The Michigan flag was obtained (from State Senator, 18th District, Lana Pollack) from the Capitol in Lansing and was flown over the Capitol on February 3, 1994 "in honor of American Legion Post 117" (per Kit Askin, Chief Sergeant-at-Arms, Michigan Senate). We will fly this flag proudly along with the POW/MIA and U.S. flags soon.

Joyce Stein reported thebingo party at V.A. Hospital in Ann Arbor will be held Saturday, March 12th. Looking for volunteers to assist in this project.

Refreshment committee for the January meeting will be Mara Knasiak, Marsha Chartrand and Judy Hoefl.

The meeting was adjourned at 8:30 p.m. with a prayer by our Chaplin Vivian Middlemiss.

FEBRUARY IS NATIONAL CHILDREN'S DENTAL HEALTH MONTH

February is National Children's Dental Health Month, a time when parents can focus on their children's oral health and get information from the Michigan Academy of Pediatric Dentistry.

Dr. Jon Cabot, spokesperson for the Michigan Academy of Pediatric Dentistry, explained that pediatric dentists are the pediatricians of dentistry. "We're specialists in taking care of the oral health needs of children," he said.

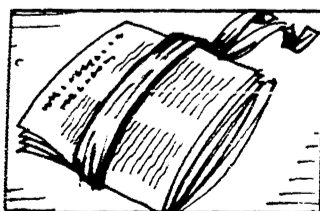

"Prevention is a key component to pediatric dentistry," Dr. Cabot explained. "Too many adults have significant problems with their teeth and gums that could have been avoided if they had received regular dental care when they were children," he said.

"By making sure that kids get regular check-ups and cleanings from their pediatric dentist, parents give can greatly increase the chances that their children will enjoy a lifetime of good oral health—and avoid discomfort and expenses in later life," Dr. Cabot said.

Although pediatric dentists are fully trained to handle unforeseen circumstances, such as a tooth that gets knocked out after a fall, pediatric dentists provide primary care to children on a regular basis.

"We're always there for the child," Dr. Cabot said. "We treat every day problems as well as emergencies." As children get older, pediatric dentists and their staff teach children proper brushing and flossing techniques. "We want the parents to be educated, but ultimately the children need to learn good, common sense habits that will serve them well in adulthood," Dr. Cabot said. "In this way, every pediatric dentist is a teacher."

The Michigan Academy of Pediatric Dentistry has created a toll-free hotline to answer questions about children's dentistry. Parents who call 1-800-779-KIDS will receive an information packet including "10 Myths About Children's Dentistry," "Facts About Children's Oral Health," "Questions and Answers About Pediatric Dentistry," and a geographical listing of pediatric dentists in Michigan.

The term "red tape," referring to bureaucratic inefficiency, originated in England during the 1700's when actual red string was used to tie up legal and other official documents together.

The laughs start at once as Lettice Douffet, the tour guide of a musty old English home, fights off boredom by wowing her tourist visitors with increasingly fantastic whoppers about the history of the mansion. As her stories grow more outrageous, so does she! Her superior fires her, but later regrets doing so. The laughs continue when the pair forge a friendship and plan to waken their fellow citizens to the dreariness of architecture around them.

SENIOR CITIZENS NEWS

-by T.V. Ludwick

We think we've had snow 'til we watched the Olympic games in Lillehammer, Norway. We've learned it is the only city in the world with a skier on its coat of arms. It is fascinating to me to see the novel ways they come up with for each host country's opening ceremony. A downhill skier with the torch tucked under his arm was the ultimate. Did you enjoy the giant egg which opened and displayed a dove of peace? This showed us how the minds of humans can work toward something noble, huh? Let's enjoy our 'heat wave' that is promised for this week and hope we will not be flooded in the process.

Thursday, February 17: Craft class begins at 9:30; baked fish is featured at noon lunch at Emanuel for us who are 55 or older with bingo at the Center following.

Friday, February 18: There will be a 6 PM pickup by senior bus to go to the Saline Senior Citizens' Card Party. If you wish to go along for the fun, call Erma Alber at 428-8707 to be placed on the list.

Saturday, February 19: Add Fun Night to your calendar. It will be held at St. John's Church in Bridgewater and pickup begins at 6:30. Call Erma for your ride.

Tuesday, February 22:

Blood pressure will be taken by Jo Simmons, or one of our other dedicated volunteer nurses. Thanks are extended to you from all of us for this and all the other dependable folks who keep our programs running. Jan, who succeeds in keeping us all healthy with her good food (and fun) serves turkey tetrazzini today at lunch. At 12:30, a presentation will be given on our new senior citizen housing by representatives from American Preferred Management of Grand Rapids. After the talk, we have been invited to tour one of the new apartments off Territorial in town. Come to lunch at noon and stay to ask questions about these living quarters for seniors.

Thursday, February 24: Craft class at 9:30, then to Emanuel for baked fish and back to the Center for bingo. We urge you to come and enjoy our senior meals on Tuesday and Thursday at noon. Call in your reservation to either Linda Simkiss at 428-8359 ahead, or to Jan Barbour at 428-7630 before 10:30 on meal days. The bus will pick you up if you can't face getting that car out to go. Be sure to call in first!

Looking ahead to Saturday, February 26: A trip is planned for Okemos Orchid Show, leaving the Center at 10 AM. Call Erma to go along.

MANCHESTER COMMUNITY SCHOOLS SCHEDULES MAKE-UP DAY

State law requires that all Michigan K-12 public schools be in session at least 178 days per year. As a result of the most recent ice storm and the cancellation of school on January 28th, one day of classes will need to be made up for all Manchester students.

Representatives of the Board of Education and the teachers association have agreed to reschedule the day for Monday, June 13, 1994. Additional cancelled school days will likewise be made up in June.

Klager PTO Minutes

Klager PTO met on February 1, 1994 with 14 members present.

Tina Way, reported that at this time we show a net profit of $11,739.97. This report included checks and debits from Art Cart, Santa's Workshop, and Frankenmuth.

It was reported by John Adams that the school board rep position was open and became filled by Cynthia Sewell for the months of February and March, then by Bruce Thomson for the months of April and May. Anyone is welcome to attend these meetings.

Mrs. Henry gave the Klager School Report. The 4th grade did very well on the MEAP tests as shown in the Ann Arbor News.

Winter Dance committee reported the free dance was canceled due to bad weather, and rescheduled for Friday, February 11.

Bruce Thomson handed out a copy of the budget and suggested expenditures. This list will be passed out at the next teacher's meeting for evaluation and vote. Any new ideas of how to spend our money out of the normal budget would be welcome. Suggestions were more play balls, jump-ropes, and gym equipment for each class.

The carnival committee is willing to put together another one next year. Any Communication directed to the PTO may be placed in the PTO mail box in the Klager School office.

Art Cart has continued and completed an extensive program including the elements of art, line, shape, colors, texture and art history. Motion was made to purchase $500 worth of art history materials, and needs vote by PTO Council.

Joan Harvey was allocated $1000 for playground signs to be set up by Men's Club. Near the end of March the dedication of the new play ground will be completed, date to be announced.

Next meeting is to be held Tuesday, February 22.

Klager Kids' Bear Stories!

Once we went camping and I saw a bear. I screamed and ran to another camp ground. I told my mom and dad, "I want to go home!" I sang camp songs. When we got home I was so happy, but when I got in my room I saw that bear eating my pillow.

The Middle School Wants YOU!

The hustle and bustle of Science/Social Studies Fair preparations are again underway at Nellie Ackerson Middle School. Sixth and eighth graders are continuing to do science projects while fifth and seventh graders are doing social studies projects.

These projects will be displayed and evaluated during the week of February 27, with phase 2 judging taking place on Wednesday March 2. We are inviting all who have been judging the fair to continue, but need some new volunteers to assist. If you have some background or interest in science or social studies and can volunteer a few hours of your time on March 2, please contact Nondus Buss at the middle school (428-7442) as soon as possible. Leave a message with the secretary, including whether you wish to judge science or social studies, and you will receive further information. People who judge once almost always always to be invited back again. Join us for an enjoyable experience.

Mrs. Kathy Rose's second graders have a special way of telling us about their enthusiasm for "100th Day" at Klager on Feb. 10th.

SAVE THE LABELS!

Time is running out for the Campbells Soup Labels this year. Each year Manchester Middle School collects labels to be exchanged for audio-visual equipment.

The collection period ends on March 1, 1994. Please save labels from all Campbell's Soups, V-8 juices, Swanson canned and frozen foods, all Franco-American products, Recipe dog food, Mrs. Paul's frozen foods and Vlasic Pickle Products.

The labels may be sent to any Manchester school to be forwarded to the Middle School, or deposit the labels at the local Walco Store. Of course, any Middle School Student will be delighted to accept the labels, as there is a homeroom competition for the class bringing in the most labels.

Thank you for helping again this year!

QUIZ BOWL Setback

-by Leah Bragg

On February 2, the Manchester High School Quizbowl Team suffered their second defeat. The only scorers were Justin Ebersole, Ben Lowery and Diana Kruse, with 6, 6, and 1 points respectively. This resulted in a score of Saline 465 and Manchester 180.

One week later, Manchester was defeated again. This time the match was much closer but ended with Dexter in the lead with a score of 335-250. Leading scorers were Justin with 12 points, Ben (8), Diana (1), and Andrew School (1).

This Wednesday, the 16th, is our next home match, at 4:00 in the high school library against Milan. It is a very important match, as we are tied with them for the league lead.

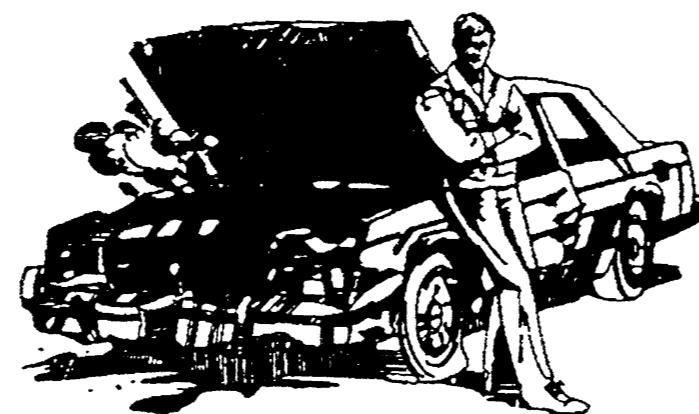

Look closely at their eyes! A finger in front of those sunglasses means "100". Two of Ms. Rose's students demonstrate this phenomenon for us.

The Dutch were up by 13 points in the fourth quarter at one point and then Vandy began hitting three-pointers to cut the lead to one. However, with 5 seconds left on the clock, the Jayhawks missed a shot from the top of the key.

MANCHESTER WRESTLING

VANDERCOOK was our first destination for the big Dutch machine, but with only six wrestlers for Vandercook this would be a quick night. We won three matches; those winning were Steve Spurr, Jay Eiss, and Mike Bunn - the final team score reading 45-18, running our season record to 14-5. We really could have used a tougher match to prepare us for our league tournament on Saturday, but we had to work with what we got.

On Saturday at Michigan Center our hopes were high as we went in looking for some rematches and to even some scores with old foes. Steve Spurr was our first placer; he took home second place in an action packed final that saw several lead changes, ending up 12-11.

Jay Eiss was our first champion, winning his second tournament of the year with two impressive victories while preparing himself for one of the tougher weight classes in Districts next Saturday. Even though Ryan Eiss didn't place, he had the toughest weight class at league losing two matches by the combined point total of three points.

Joe Tobias placed a respectable second, really improving on his previous match against his Addison foe, collecting his 27th win of the season. Not bad for his first varsity year. Mike Bunn took home a 3rd place, losing a real nailbiter in overtime to advance to the finals, still coming back strong to win his next match and take home his medal.

We had a first at 140 as Brent Woods became the only four time league champion in Manchester history. He beat Randy Mapes of Addison 6-1 in the Finals, running his season record to 36-1. At 145, Bryan Duvall placed second coming up short in a tough fought battle with the score reading 7-5, raising his season record to 35-5. At 152, Mike Croghan took home a second after avenging an earlier season loss. This win put him in the finals where he lost to yet another Addison grappler.

Our biggest surprise of the day would definitely be Dustin Williams who wasn't even seeded. He placed an impressive 3rd place, winning three matches - two by pin. He's really been working hard the past two weeks and all the work paid off: good job. Ed Cruz didn't place even though improving his margin of defeat and keeping

HOW ARE WE DOING? PLEASE LET US KNOW

By Sheriff Ronald J. Schebil

At the Sheriff Department we use many methods to measure our performance, both quantitatively and qualitatively. On the quantitative side, we study the number of police runs handled per deputy, reports written, arrests made, public relations contacts made, etc. The intent here is to assess the efficiency and effectiveness of our performance. With less emphasis on pure statistics, we meet regularly with neighborhood watch, our contracting municipalities, other criminal justice agencies, public officials, and groups or individuals in other service areas such as domestic violence and fire safety. The emphasis of these contacts is qualitative. They provide us with the feedback we need to assure that we are meeting the most important needs of those we serve as we carry out our statutory and contractual duties.

One of the most important ways we evaluate and improve our performance is through contact with you, our citizenry. In general, we have three methods of receiving feedback from the public. The first is through surveys that we periodically mail to citizens who have called upon the Sheriff's Department for assistance. We ask survey recipients to rate our response time, professionalism, appearance, courtesy and performance. When we detect a problem via the surveys, we try to correct it.

The second method of receiving feedback is through the Sheriff's Community Relations Advisory Board (SCRAB). This group is comprised of citizens from throughout Washtenaw County and serves as an advisory body and as a conduit of information between the Sheriff Department and the community. For example, a citizen who is uncomfortable bringing an issue directly to the department may contact a member of the SCRAB for assistance in expressing his or her concerns.

The third and most common method of citizen evaluation is direct contact from a citizen (or family member or friend). We often receive letters of praise thanking a deputy or group of deputies for a job well done on a case, for helping a stranded motorist or for visiting a church, school or other community group. We appreciate receiving these letters and it reminds us that our employers, the members of the public, do care about how we do our jobs.

Unfortunately, we occasionally make mistakes and we receive direct feedback then, as well. Citizens dissatisfied with our service or the manner in which we conduct ourselves can call a supervisor, write to me, or visit one of the stations to file what we refer to as Service Complaints.

Service Complaints generally fall into two categories. First, a policy or operating procedure of the Sheriff's Department or Washtenaw Central Dispatch may be objectionable to an individual who contacts us to express his or her dissatisfaction. Second, a citizen may have a problem with the way he or she was treated by an employee, or with the way the employee handled a request for service.

In the first instance, we will evaluate the policy or practice in light of the complaint. Our intention is to determine if a change in policy or more clarification for our employees in how to properly implement a policy or department practice is required. Often, we find that a better explanation of our practice and the rationale behind it is sufficient to alleviate a citizen's concerns. Other times, we determine that a policy or practice requires change, and we do so.

In the second instance, a complaint about an employee, we will conduct an inquiry to determine exactly what happened and whether the employee acted properly. In many cases, we discover a misunderstanding that is cleared up after both the complaining citizen and the employee are consulted.

Unfortunately, sometimes people complain about a deputy in order to avoid paying a ticket or answering to a criminal charge. When this happens, we immediately separate the issues so that one case is not used as leverage to affect the status or outcome of the other.

Other times, we find that an employee has made a mistake or has acted improperly. In these instances, we apologize and take corrective action which may require a policy change, additional training and occasionally, discipline.

In all instances our primary purpose is to provide the best in public safety services. If you have a complaint, a complaint or a suggestion to better your Sheriff Department please let me know. As our purpose is to serve you, your input is essential to assure that we are fulfilling our mission:

TO PROVIDE LEADERSHIP TO OUR COMMUNITY TO PREVENT UNLAWFUL ACTIVITY, ENSURE INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS, AND PROMOTE A SAFE AND SECURE ENVIRONMENT.

Has the state taken over raising all revenues for local schools even though it has taken over more control of the operation of local schools? NO!

Our leaders have lead us to believe that all school operating funds will come from the state, and local school districts will no longer be in the millage business. Don't let them fool you! Locally-voted property tax dollars will still be needed to fund our schools.

Your school district will have to ask for a millage increase if it:

* is not currently operating under a voter-approved, multiple-year millage. This means many school districts will need to have a millage vote after the March 15 statewide election to maintain their level of spending per pupil.

* is currently spending more than $6,500 per pupil and wants to maintain its level of spending.

* wants to build a new school or remodel an existing building.

* wants to improve current educational opportunities including computer technology and instruction so our students can be competitive with those in other countries.

* is currently spending its savings to maintain its educational programs. Very little revenue from a school district's savings has been applied to the state's guarantee of $4,200 per pupil.

* has expenditures which grow faster than revenue allows * becomes overburdened from paying employer's share of FICA (social security) and state's share of retirement costs for employees — a significant cost, recently shifted from the state to local school districts, which will only increase as teacher's salaries rise and educators retire.

If local millages are not approved, cuts may be made in transportation, equipment purchases, current basic educational programs—reading, writing and arithmetic, extra-curricular activities, hours of operation, after-school programs, hot lunches and even custodial services and building maintenance. As we saw with Kalkaska last year, schools may even close.

Indeed, property tax reform in Michigan will not save homeowners as much money as expected. Property taxpayers will still pay the price — either by approving local millages or reducing the quality of education for our children.

Ask no questions and hear no lies.

Sarah Feldkamp Optimist Student of the Month

Sarah Feldkamp receives her Optimist Student of the Month Recognition from Principal Russ LeBlanc. Her parents, Art and Elaine Feldkamp, are at right

The Manchester Optimists are very proud to announce that Sarah Feldkamp, a Manchester High School 11th grader, has been named the January Student of the Month. Sarah is the daughter of Arthur and Elaine Feldkamp of Manchester. Sarah is an outstanding student; she has been on the A Honor Roll since the 5th grade. That superior academic record has earned her membership in the National Honor Society and recognition with MEAP awards in math and reading.

Sarah is very involved in extra curricular activities. She is a member of the marching, pep and concert bands, the Spanish Club, the Drama Club, FFA, and SADD. She also has been selected as the vice-president of the Key Club. Last year, she was the secretary of the Class of 1995 and a member of the 1993 yearbook staff.

Outside of school, Sarah is active with the 4-H Club. She is presently the president of the 4-H Jolly Farmerettes. This year, she is the 4-H Washtenaw County Ambassador, 4-H Buymanship Club-Junior Instructor, and 4-H District public speaking representative. Recently, Sarah was the state junior representative for the Michigan Make-It-Yourself-With Wool conference. In 1988, 1989, and 1990, she was a Manchester Fair Junior homemaker.

Sarah shares her talents and intelligence with others. She has tutored clarinet for 5th graders, she is treasurer of the Washtenaw County Teen Club and a member of the Irish Hills St. Joseph Shrine Church youth Group.

Her future plans include attending college or university majoring in business law or agriculture.

Manchester to Look at the "Current Status" of Health Care

Last summer, when it seemed that health care reform was just around the corner, the Manchester Area Churches organized a four-week study series to look at the issue of health care and to consider the problems and possible solutions from a perspective of faith.

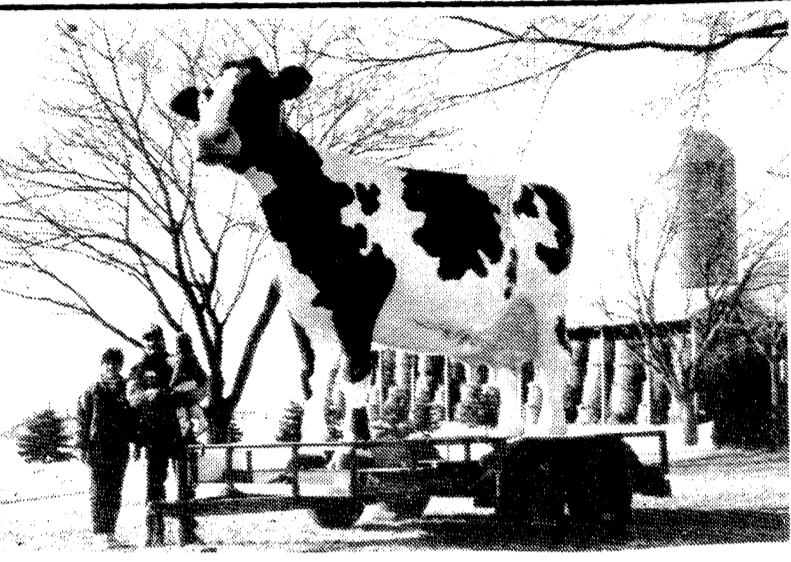

Now it is nearly eight months later and there are several specific proposals on the table before Congress. As a follow-up to the study from last summer, the Manchester Area Churches invite you to bring yourself up-to-speed; join us for a Health Care Reform "Update." We will look at "The Current Status."

This one-time meeting will be held next Tuesday, March 1, at 7:30 p.m. at the Emanuel Church Hall dining room. It will end at 9:00 p.m. sharp! The issue concerns all of us—worker, retiree, self-employed, young, old, healthy, not-so-healthy. It commands our attention—through our pocketbook if no other way!

Join the small company of those who actually know what the health care issue is all about. Join us March 1 at 7:30 p.m. at Emanuel. (You need not have attended the summer study series to benefit and enjoy this meeting!)

For more information, contact Laura Sutton 428-7445 or Janet Shurtliff 428-9462 or Fred Munson 428-8885.

Klager Kids JUMP ROPE FOR HEART

The students at Klager Elementary School are jumping at the chance to fight heart disease. On Friday, February 25th, the school will hold its second Jump Rope For Heart event. Students will win exciting prizes and raise money to benefit the American Heart Association's fight against heart disease. Jump Rope For Heart is sponsored by the American Alliance for Health, physical Education, Recreation and Dance. Last year 90 students participated in this event, raising over $3,600.

Jump Rope For Heart teaches participants about the benefits of regular exercise and a healthy life-style while they have fun and challenge themselves. The event emphasizes the importance of a healthy life-style, including proper nutrition, exercise, not smoking and controlling high blood pressure.

Please support our children as they Jump Rope For Heart! Contact Sandee Sheats at 428-8321 for more information about how you can become involved.
