

Secretary of State Austin urges Motorists to give the gift of Life

Every year the Michigan Department of State distributes up to two million donor labels for motorists to place on the back of their driver licenses or Michigan identification cards, to encourage organ and tissue donation.

This year, in addition to issuing the labels, Secretary of State Richard H. Austin is joining with the Gift of Life Agency, the Michigan Eye-Bank and Transplantation Center, and the Michigan Tissue Bank, to remind motorists to fill out and use the labels.

"Since 1976, the Department of State has issued donor labels to Michigan residents to promote organ and tissue donation," Secretary Austin noted. "In 1993, 440 lives were saved in Michigan because someone was willing to donate one or more organs upon the death of a loved one. Unfortunately, Michigan has hundreds of residents who will not survive without a transplant and this is why the donor label is so important," Secretary Austin added. "If motorists have signed labels affixed to their licenses or identification cards, their wishes for donation are more likely to be fulfilled by next-of-kin in the event of unexpected death."

All 181 Secretary of State branch offices are recognizing Organ and Tissue Donor Awareness Week, April 17 through 23, with special displays and free information materials. On Tuesday, April 19, between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m., nearly 80 Secretary of State offices will host a visitor who has received a transplant or donated the organs of a deceased loved one.

The Secretary of State's donor label is designed to encourage people to discuss organ and tissue donation with their family and friends. Once signed by the motorist and witnessed, it should be placed on the lower half of the back side of your Michigan driver license or identification card. New labels are mailed with all driver license and ID card renewals, and are available from any Secretary of State branch office.

Organs and tissues may be donated from anyone 75 years of age or younger at no charge to the donor or donor's family. Organ and tissue donation is supported by all major religions and does not affect customary funeral arrangements, nor does it alter body appearance. Among the organs and tissues that may be transplanted are the heart, lungs, kidneys, liver, pancreas, bones, eyes and skin.

The Gift of Life Agency estimates more than 1,400 Michigan residents are currently awaiting organ transplants. Last year, at least 125 people died while waiting for a donated organ. Nationwide, more than 32,000 people are on a transplant waiting list.

Sergeant Carl Werner Apprehends Armed Robber

Local hero: Sgt. Werner

Durard Worthey on Friday, April 8th, 1994.

Society Bank, Chelsea Branch, was robbed of an undisclosed amount of money at 11:55 AM by an unidentified lone black female. Washtenaw County Central Dispatch reported that the Bank had been robbed. The report was broadcast that the suspect was headed south on M - 52, driving an older brown or gold Pontiac.

Sgt. Werner was at the Manchester station and immediately headed toward Chelsea on M - 52. As he was heading north, Werner spotted an auto which matched the description, although only one male was in the vehicle. The suspect saw Werner's approach, and continued south. At the big curve north of the Village, the driver threw a bag containing money and the gun used in the robbery from the passenger window. Werner, having turned around after noticing erratic driving in this vehicle, pulled him over for a traffic violation. The driver got out of the vehicle and was ordered to stop. A bulge was observed at the suspect's belt line which turned out to be a large amount of the stolen money. While the suspect was spread eagled on the auto Sgt. Werner observed a stocking cap and a camouflage fatigue coat in the front seat, which was part of the description which Werner had heard broadcast. As the suspect was being handcuffed, Lt's. Sutton and Struck stopped and assisted in securing the suspect.

A passing motorist who had observed a bag (presumably trash) thrown from the window of the vehicle. She then saw that money was blowing along the adjoining property. A second witness reported money blowing in the wind. Lt. Struck was able to recover the bag of money and the gun.

The suspect was turned over the Chelsea Police De-

School Board Candidates Announced

Four candidates have applied for the two available seats in the coming school board election, which will take place on June 13th.

Incumbents Joe Turk and Patricia Sahakian, and newcomers Mike Gleason and Sonja Schulz will vie for the positions of influencing future policy for the education of our children.

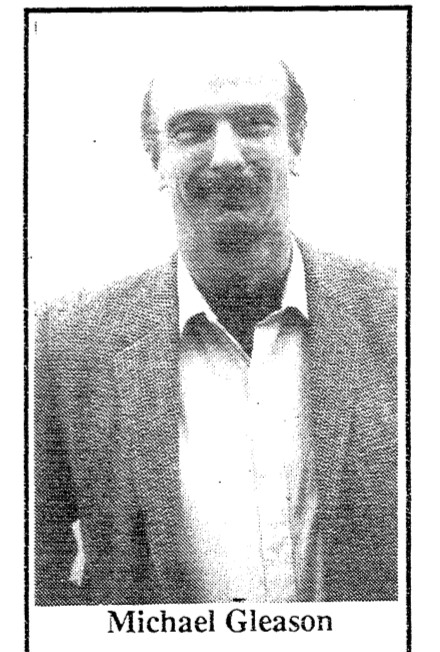

The Enterprise has obtained statements from each of the candidates, and will continue to cover the election by encouraging letters to the editor and further dialogue with each of the candidates.

Following are position statements and details of interviews with the candidates:

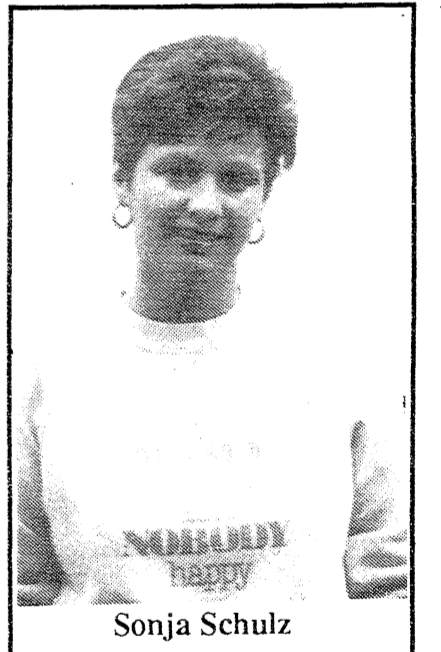

Joe Turk: Joe received his

Joseph Turk, Incumbent

Michael Gleason

Sonja Schulz

BA from the University of Detroit and an MBA from Eastern Michigan University. He has lived in Manchester since 1977 and has two children in the school system: Kevin, a fifth grader, and Justin, in eighth grade. Joe's upcoming concerns of items in the school system which need attention are: 1) Continuing to build the curriculum; 2) The issue of school financing. Joe feels there is a need to sort out the details on the changes in state financing. Fortunately, he states there are no immediate problems with financing within our school district; 3) The upcoming teacher contracts in September. Joe's hope is that positive negotiation skills will build teamwork among the staff, administration and board. This also takes us back to #1 - continuing to build the curriculum.

Joe says there has been positive direction by the Board in directing the Superintendent to develop guidelines for athletics and also for working with other districts.

Plans and goals on the Board will be looking at the School building program, review, and decide a direction to take in the future. Joe hopes to be a part of this process.

Mike Gleason: "To those of you who voted for me two years ago: Thank you. I'm pretty much the same guy I was two years ago. To those who voted for the two winning candidates: Thank you. These two guys are doing a fine job, but need help to make some necessary changes. To those of you who voted against me two years ago: I'm pretty much the same guy I was two years ago.

"What do I want to accomplish as a Board member? Same as two years ago. This school system needs responsibility. Financial responsibility is an obvious priority. 6% administrative raises (while others in business are lucky to get 3% or even keep their jobs) should make us remember which board members voted yes. Have these board members looked at our shrinking financial resources lately? It's another budget blowout.

Teacher contract time is here; what do we tell them? How about: 'The administration got their raise. They got yours, too.' Or, how about: 'Go ahead, take 6%, with the Proposal A tax savings, the voters will hardly notice another millage request in September.' Try this one: 'We can save money by laying off part-time teachers.' Or, as our Superintendent said, 'Manchester Schools are still in the millage business.' (Tax more).

We can and must get our finances under control, but we must first have school board members that can say no.

Second Front Page: Woodhill Apartments

A New Home for Area Seniors

by Marsha Johnson Chartrand

As you approach the Woodhill Senior Apartments on Galloway Drive, signs of occupancy are "springing" up. It's not only the several cars parked in the lot. Ceramic garden ornaments and lawn furniture appear on the cement patios at the outer entrances to the apartments. Little signs of "home" such as plants in the windows, or drapes and curtains...and you just know that the minute the weather finally turns warm enough, there will be flowers in tubs, window boxes, and the waiting plant stands. It's just that kind of place.

And, it would seem, just that kind of residents. Upon arriving at the main entrance to Woodhill, you'll find a security system in place. The outer door keeps you out of the weather, but an inner door needs to be released by a senior, or the manager, summoned by a buzzer. I buzzed. First at the office; and receiving no response I buzzed Mrs. Florence Paul's apartment. Oh, no. She didn't seem to be at home, although her car was parked out front of her apartment.

A smiling face appeared at the window. "Oh, it's you! Well, we'll let you in!" Florence had, it seems, been visiting in the common lounge provided in the lobby area of the Apartments. Hearing the buzzer in the office made her just a bit curious to see who was here. Along with Ethel Weir, the two seem to be among the longest residents of Woodhill. Ethel has been there a month, and Florence since the 17th of March.

The common area is so inviting and homey, it's no wonder the residents gather there. According to Florence, they often stay and visit there until 10:30 or 11 each evening. Sometimes they are even provided with song by Mr. Eggleston down the hall...who is allowed to play his organ, provided he leaves his door open so everyone can hear him! On occasion several residents will join him for a sing along. Sounds sort of like "dorm living for seniors" - only these seniors aren't fourth year college students, but the over-62 crowd.

The lounge has a cozy seating area which is conducive to visiting and reminiscing. Plants provided by another resident, Maureen Strong, decorate the common areas. A view of the wooded area to the back will be beautiful as the trees begin to bud and flowers bloom. To the back is a kitchen and eating area where one can entertain a larger group, by reservation - for family birthdays, holidays, and other special occasions, it can provide a "meal at Grandma's" for the entire family. Maureen, I am told, entertained sixteen people for Easter Dinner last week. A clean and spacious laundry room is just off the lounge, the mailboxes are inside the lounge, and all in all, the seniors at Woodhill have a self-contained arrangement where they can feel comfort-just in case you have a few more things you can't store inside your apartment, a storage cubby is just down the hall. One for each resident is provided, with a lock for security. "We live with our keys," laugh Florence and Ethel, one is almost always around, they say. Of course, most of the seniors are already acquainted. Some are "re-acquainting" themselves. Billie Mann has moved back here after living in Saline for several years. Mr. Eggleston, although from "the Detroit area", is the father of Bill Eggleston of Manchester. Opal says, "I have worked with most of these people at one ments are spoken for, and a few vacancies remain out of the 24 units. The manager, Charla Harris, is there from 8-12 each day to help with resident questions and problems, and to show the apartments to prospective residents.

The entire building is non-smoking, air conditioning is provided (in case summer ever comes along), and heat and hot water are included in the reasonable, safe, and have their choice of sociability or privacy.

The Woodhill Apartments in Manchester

Florence was gracious enough to share a tour of her apartment. The kitchen opening into the living room has a spacious feel for a rather small area. Most of the seniors have moved here from their own homes, and often want to keep their own belongings - although, as Florence has done, many new pieces of furniture blend with her favorite older pieces. Plenty of cupboard space in the kitchen provides extra storage for all those necessities; plus a generous floor-to-ceiling pantry cupboard, and an equal-sized broom/coat closet make it seem like these apartments were designed with storage in mind.

In the bedroom, a huge walk-in closet can accommodate even more of your possessions. Then, who both have them hanging on chains around their necks. Ethel says she's already locked herself out of her apartment once and doesn't want to do that again!

Back in the lobby, Opal (Clark) Marr has joined us, and a lively conversation ensues. All three ladies are enjoying living at Woodhill. Opal is the "newest" resident of the three, having moved in two weeks ago. A little homesickness, maybe... Opal confesses to wishing she could go home, but knows this will be good for her as she recovers from a broken hip. She gets around well with help from her walker, and has her cat to keep her company. As if she needed it! Afraid she would be "alone" up there while everyone was going places, it doesn't seem that's something Opal will be experiencing too often. Some-

School Board Elections

Four candidates have filed petitions for Manchester School system's Board of Education. It takes a lot of courage and devotion to vie for a position in the School Board.

School Board members are the extension of our community members. Students, Taxpayers and at large citizens that may or may not express themselves by voting at the polls.

Some school systems have been islands unto themselves. Their leadership seemed to assume that because they held a degree that they were above the common man. That is no longer the case. There are more people, with and without formal educations, that desire accountability.

Accountability in all things pertaining to education. No longer will the populace accept lesson plans that are carried for several years without upgrading at the lowest levels.

Accountability for sportsmanship is a part of the educational process and not having a code is no longer acceptable.

Accountability for educational standards cannot be mandated by the State it must be mandated by the Board of Education and carried forward by the Administration.

Financial accountability is not only desirable but a must. We cannot keep going to the well of the taxpayers pocket without being accountable. Wage scales must be in line with what is available to all workers.

Rubber stamping of administration policies by a Board of Education is not acceptable. We the members of the community want our children to have the best education possible but we also want that education responsible.

The elected Board members need courage and support from all members of the community. They need to know how you feel about the direction of Manchester's school system.

OUT & ABOUT — by gar

The game of golf has become a very lucrative sport for the winners. The Masters Golf Tournament, just completed, had a payoff of $360,000 to Olazabal the winner. Over one million dollars was paid out to the players who finished the four day event. Not bad, and when endorsement monies are added the winner will reap in excess of a million bucks.

Who pays for these purses? We duffers do. We the duffers who buy golf equipment, balls, clubs, clothing and all the other related items that are advertised.

Big business the game of golf.

I have wondered why that is? Golf is a game that can be played from infancy to senility. I certainly can attest to the senility part after just returning from a four day golf outing in Waynesville, N. C.

I was privileged to be asked to join an eight-some that played thirty six holes per day for four days. (Should I say tried to play.) Now for a duffer like me to play 9 weeks after having busted my leg sounds a little bit nutzy! (Which I am.) I have always loved the game and at times played fairly well. One observation about all golfers, we would like to be able to hit the ball like the pro's. To that end, without exception, a golfer will buy new woods, iron's, putters different balls, clothing or any equipment that might help the duffer in us to be a better player.

Golf, has for the duffer, a handicapping system that should equalize all players. In most instances the low handicapped golfer will not be able to beat a poor player who has a good round. That good round is what allows us duffers to feel good about our gamgs. Not that we are better golfers than the low handicapper or pro but that the system allows us to believe that we won, when we didn't.

Don't make much sense does it? But chasing a little white ball around a cow pasture and dunk it in a gopher hole don't make a lot of sense anyhow.

RECYCLING

Paper Industry Sets 50 Percent Recovery Goal

(NU) - Imagine a railroad boxcar loaded with recovered waste paper. Now imagine nearly 19 miles of boxcars filled with waste paper. That represents 100,000 tons of paper, the amount recovered on Earth Day and every day in America.

Thanks to unprecedented participation by environmentally conscious citizens in collecting used paper, and investments in recycling equipment by paper companies, the United States is recovering for recycling and reuse 40 percent of all paper used in the country.

Paper recycling has been such a success that the industry has announced a goal to recover 50 percent, or about 50 million tons, of all paper Americans use by the year 2000. The 50 percent recovery rate would far exceed the world average and rival the rates achieved by more densely populated and fiber-deficient countries, such as Japan.

"Paper recycling is one of the great environmental success stories of the century," said Red Cavaney, president of the American Forest & Paper Association, the industry's trade group. "This new goal is part of our industry's commitment to maximize recycling and minimize the amount of paper that ends up in landfills."

Evidence of the progress in paper recovery is seen in these comparisons: In 1985, the amount of paper sent to landfills was more than twice the amount recovered, but last year the amount of paper recovered equaled that going to landfills. Achieving the industry's 50 percent goal means we will be recovering twice the amount going to landfills by the turn of the century.

Cooperation among industry, government and the public is essential if our country is to reach the 50 percent goal, say industry officials. The public must continue to separate its paper and to demand quality recycled and recycled-content paper and paperboard products.

There must be continued reliance on a market-driven, recovery-based approach, said Cavaney. Restrictive government policies such as "flow control," where a jurisdiction awards monopolistic ownership to recovered materials; or recycled content mandates, where government requires paper products to contain specified minimum levels of recycled fiber, are barriers to efficient recycling expansion.

It's important, Cavaney said, that paper manufacturers be given flexibility in how recycled fiber is used. Some paper and paperboard products are better suited to be made with recycled fibers than others. Market economics and papermaking technology must determine how recovered paper is used.

The paper industry has proven it will do its part, Cavaney said, by making necessary investments to retrofit and build new papermaking machines that can use additional amounts of recovered paper. Currently, 145 new projects that will expand consumption of recovered paper at U.S. mills are up and running, under construction or publicly announced.

And during the balance of the decade, U.S. paper companies plan to invest $10 billion in new manufacturing capacity that will allow them to make even more recycled and recycled-content paper and paperboard. "Achieving the 50 percent recovery goal will be an enormous national challenge, but with the public, government and industry working together, we can reach it," Cavaney said.

TAX TIPS

How to Obtain Tax-Filing and Payment Extensions

(Prepared by the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants)

If you don't think you'll have the time to complete your 1993 federal income tax return by the April 15 due date, the Michigan Association of CPAs points out that you can easily obtain an extension to file your tax return. What's more, if you're subject to a retroactive tax increase as a result of the Omnibus Budget and Reconciliation Act of 1993, you can pay part of your 1993 tax liability after April 15.

Automatic Extensions

You can obtain an automatic four-month extension to file your tax return by filing Form 4868 by April 15. You are not required to provide the IRS with any reasons for requesting this extension.

If you are an active military duty outside the United States or Puerto Rico on April 15, 1994, you get an automatic two-month extension (until June 15) to file your tax return, without the necessity of filing Form 4868. United States citizens and residents who live or have their principal place of business abroad on April 15 also qualify for the automatic two-month extension without filing Form 4868, but must attach an explanatory statement to their tax return. These individuals can obtain an additional two-month extension (until August 15) by completing Form 4868. Additional Filing Extensions

If you reach the end of the four-month automatic extension period and still need more time to file, you can request an additional two months by filing Form 2688, Application for Additional Extension of Time to File. However, you must provide the IRS with a reason for requesting this extension. Acceptable reasons might include the fact that you have not yet received necessary documents, such as a Partnership K-1, or that you have been seriously ill. Keep in mind that the IRS will only grant you the additional two-month extension if you had previously filed Form 4868. Late Payment Penalties

Obtaining a filing extension does not excuse you from paying your 1993 taxes on time. You must estimate your 1993 tax liability and send the balance of taxes due to the IRS by the April 15 due date. Failure to pay your taxes on time could result in a penalty of one-half of 1 percent of the tax not paid for each month (or part of a month) it remains unpaid, up to a maximum of 25 percent. You may also be hit with a penalty if the unpaid taxes are more than 10 percent of your total tax liability. Additionally, you will have to pay interest on any taxes due from April 15 until the date your payment is received by the IRS. Be aware that special rules apply to individuals who are in the armed forces.

Payment Extensions

What if you simply cannot pay your tax liability at the time you file for an extension? In such cases, you must submit Form 1127. This form requires you to document the details of any extraordinary hardship preventing you from paying your taxes on time. The IRS will review your case to determine if a late payment is acceptable. There are also procedures for requesting an installment payment agreement when you file your return. Individual taxpayers who are liable for additional 1993 taxes solely by reason of the income tax rate increases under the new law may elect to pay the additional 1993 taxes in three equal installments. You must make this election on your 1993 income tax return by filing Form 8841. The first payment is due April 15 (or for fiscal-year taxpayers, the initial due date of their income tax returns), with the second and third installments due on April 15 of each succeeding year. This will apply even if you end up getting a refund on your 1993 tax return. No interest or underpayment of estimated tax penalty will be charged if you pay the taxes attributable to the retroactive rate increase on this installment basis.

When the Government Owes You Money

If you are expecting a tax refund, keep in mind that the IRS has 45 days from the later of the original tax return due date or the date you actually file the return to issue you a refund and does not need to pay you any interest on the refund amount. Different rules apply to amended returns.

Registrations off to a Fast Start for 17th Briarwood Run

Early registrations are "way up" over last year for the 17th Annual Briarwood Run on Sunday, April 24. "Every year, people greet the Briarwood Run with great enthusiasm and anticipation, but for some reason this year we're already way up on early registrations," says Karen Fox, Briarwood marketing director. "We're probably a good 100 or more ahead of the same time last year."

The charity run, traditionally Ann Arbor's first major community activity each spring, features four events — open runs of five, 10 and 20 kilometers plus a one-mile walk — on rural roads and lightly rolling hills around the Briarwood area.

As many as 3,000 runners compete each year on the track, which is T.A.C.-certified to make it official for any records that may be set. KOOL 107-FM will put a new spin on the event this year with a live remote broadcast and oldies music in Briarwood's Grand Court from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. Bill Rice, will host the show. "Whether they're racing, dancing, or just tapping their toes, we're going to keep everyone on their feet that day," promises Fox.

All three runs begin at 9 a.m. from Briarwood's southwest corner. The walk starts at 9:15 a.m. on the south side at Sears. Each run is split into divisions by age for men and for women, from "19 and under" to "70 and over." There will be one award each for the neighborhood and corporate team with the most participants finishing in all running races combined. Awards will also go to the top male and female runners in each of the three races and the top five finishers in each age division.

Registered participants will be eligible to win thousands of dollars in merchandise from a drawing in Briarwood's Grand Court immediately after the race. Top prize will be a $500 shopping spree at the center. Runners must be present to win. They won't, however, be the only winners.

All proceeds from the event will benefit Washtenaw County children through the Galens Medical Society, a group of U-M medical students who provide everything from art activities and teddy bears for hospitalized children to medication and safe playgrounds for needy youngsters.

Runners can pick up applications at Briarwood's Information Center and at Briarwood sporting goods stores including Athlete's Foot, Champs Sports, Foot Action U.S.A., Footlocker, Kids Footlocker, Lady Footlocker and Imperial Sports. The fee for those registering before April 18 is $8 for the run and $3 for the walk.

After April 18, it will cost $11 for the run and $5 for the walk. Long-sleeved Briarwood Run '94 shirts cost $8 sweatshirts cost $12.

Race packets outlining the route and contest rules will be available Saturday, April 23, from noon to 8 p.m. near Hudson's and Sunday, April 24, from 6:30 a.m. to 8 a.m. inside Briarwood near JCPenney. "Many of our restaurants will open at 7:00 a.m. that day so everyone can enjoy breakfast or a cup of coffee as the excitement builds, and many of our stores will open as early as 9 a.m.," says Fox.

New this year to the annual run is co-sponsor KOOL 107-FM, Ann Arbor's official oldies station. Other sponsors include Briarwood, MedSport, the U-M Orthotics and Prosthetic Center, MedRehab and MCare. Sponsors provide financial backing and volunteers to help on the day of the race.

For more information, call (313) 769-9610. Briarwood, located at South State St. and Eisenhower Blvd. north of I-94, features 125 shops and services along with Hudson's, Jacobson's, JCPenney and Sears.

Dacotah - The other side of the question
So you'll sell the old farm & the house on the hill
In spite of the charm that lingers still
About the old house once held so dear
Can you leave it now without a tear
And go to the plains of Dacotah?

We'll sell everything for what it will bring
The wagons & plows the horses and cows
The wheat the corn & the hay
And what we cant sell we'll give away
The pictures & books & the old arm chair
We never shall want to see them there
On the far off plains of Dacotah

Well I wish you much joy of your journey my boy
And since you're determined to travel
Why pack up & go where the grizzlies grow
And the blizzards blow & the beautiful snow
Is ten feet deep on the level.

Your wheat you can sow on the top of the snow
But you'll wait in vain for the corn to grow
And when you want water you'll have to go
With your coach & four ten miles or more
Be that beautiful land of Dacotah

I'm afraid your cabin will be all front door
With an open roof & no sign of a floor
And when you've been there a year or more
You will think with grief of the dear old home
And wish that you never, never had gone
To the far off plains of Dacotah

And then you will take the home ward track
With a very light load you'll have nothing to pack
And if "Lo the poor Indian" don't want your hair
You can beg a few morsels here and there
And foot it home from Dacotah

School Board Candidates Profiles

"I strongly oppose any more taxes, and I oppose our continual large administrative cost increases. Financial responsibility means not spending money that we don't have. I have to live within my budget. Our schools can do that, too. We can do it without ruining education."

"The need for responsibility in Manchester Schools is even more evident now than it was two years ago. Fortunately we have more board members that seem interested in it, too. The present board is split on most of its decisions about finance. This school election is a long-overdue opportunity for the taxpayers of Manchester Community Schools.

"I am convinced that the Board of Education in Manchester needs one more conservative vote to swing it towards financial responsibility. I would like to be that vote. Please feel free to call me at 428-8179."

Mike has been a resident of Manchester for 20 years, with 17 years of experience as School Parent.

Sonja Schulz: Sonja is running for the school board because she "Cares about Education". She feels that when the kids leave our school system, their chances should be excellent for getting a real good job. As a parent of three children, in eighth grade, seventh grade, and second grade, this is a primary concern to her.

Sonja's perspective on education is shaped by her experiences in Germany. Education there is done to prepare the students for "real life". "Let's see if we can't do more here, to give them a better chance," says Sonja.

As a parent, Sonja has been extremely active in the schools. Volunteering in the classrooms, as a chaperone at dances, sporting events, and many hours above and beyond the call of "parent's duty". Sonja has attended nearly every school board meeting over the last two years, either as Klager PTO representative, or as a concerned parent.

Goals would be to stick to or improve the current curriculum. "Curriculum should be the focus of the schools. However, we can't cut the sports. The kids have nothing else to do in this town. It gives them a chance to excel, apart from academics, as well."

How will we finance all this? "I don't know. There are so many issues. I read the mission statement of the schools, but I need to know more. The politics in Lansing, the politics here. We have no idea what will be cut, if anything. There is still the issue of space. Will the kids be the losers? What will the shortcomings be?" Sonja promises to ask a lot of questions as a school board member. "And I will expect answers."

Sonja likes the cut in property taxes, but feels taxes are necessary, to a degree. In Germany, the sales tax is 15% on EVERYTHING, and so an increase to 6% seems very small. It is a sacrifice she is willing to make to pay for her children's education.

Sonja has lived in Manchester for the past six years. She spends a great deal of time in the schools, becoming familiar with the system. She hopes to be working from within that system after June 13th.

Pat Sahakian: As School Board President, Pat is probably the most familiar name to residents of the district. Unfortunately, at press time she was unable to appear for a photo.

Pat's quotes: "I have worked real hard over the last eight years as part of a district wide team which has promoted excellence in our schools. Students can come into our schools, and if they are willing to work at it, they will receive an education which will serve them well in the future."

"I would like an opportunity to continue to serve the community and ensure continued efforts for excellence."

A recent accomplishment on the Board of which Pat is proud, is being "a key player in making the sexual harassment policy happen." She feels that it is extremely important that students have a clear understanding of the difference between flirting and breaking the law. It is a fine line and the students deserve to have a definition for that policy.

Pat is also working hard on the VISA volunteer program within the schools [see article, p. 12].

"Because I am so accessible, I have the opportunity to hear what is going on in the schools. Often this is what it takes to keep small problems from turning into large ones."

Pat looks forward to continuing her commitment to excellence in the schools.

More than $490,438 has been distributed by Washtenaw County to local communities to support local recycling and waste reduction programs. The revenues, received from BFI (Browning Ferris Industries, are the result of an agreement with BFI which provides solid waste capacity at BFI's Arbor Hill landfill and revenues to the county as stated by Dan Myers - Director of Public Works for Washtenaw County.

Our Village and Townships negotiated for a guaranteed amount for two years (until June 30, 1994) on these so-called tipping fees paid back to Washtenaw County for the use of BFI; after this time period the amount will float, depending on the amount of usage in each sector for a period of a year. Our Village and four area townships have each received between $8,000 - $10,000 per year.

What can this money be used for?

Recycling, composting, road side clean-up and other special solid waste programs.

Let's see how your township or village has utilized the monies.

Village of Manchester

Jeff Wallace is the person to talk to and he is who initiated the interest in this article. The village is defraying the cost of leaf pick-up from this fund, instead of taking it out of the general fund at a cost of $18,000 - $20,000 per year. The village is also looking at alternatives in composting; whether to have our own compost station or contract it out to a private or public sector.

How many households are using curbside recycling? Approximately 120 households bi-weekly out of 671 households in the village or about 18%. The village of Chelsea curbside is about 25%. Why? Are we not recycling enough? Many people still use the drop bins in Walco parking lot because of the convenience. WWRA in Chelsea (where our goods are taken) stated that curbside recycling around Walco is "dead" - meaning that there are only 4-5 stops made in that part of town for recyclables. Is that part of town not recycling? Rest assured many of them stated they use the bins.

Manchester Township

They have spent their tipping fees on the new cardboard bin at Walco Foods which is available to everyone in the township, village, and the businesses. The bin cost approximately $3600.

Manchester Township is looking at options for tire disposal and a chemical disposal day (such as paint & other toxics that BFI does not allow) to be disposed of in a Summer project.

Bridgewater Township

A new cardboard bin was purchased and placed at Bridgewater General Store. The Spring Clean Up which happens this Saturday, April 16, from 8:00 am - 12:00 noon at the Bridgewater Township Hall is also part of this money. This is only open to their residents and you must show proof of residency with a drivers license or tax statement. They will be collecting old discarded household rubbish, furniture, appliances, lawnchairs, lawnmowers, water heaters, etc." Clean out your garage and barn," says Supervisor Doug Parr, "also load up all other recyclables and take them down to the bins at Bridgewater General Store." Make this a day for helping the Earth! At the Fall clean-up day they took away more cubic yardage of recyclables than of refuse and by selling the recyclables paid for the hauling & trucking of the clean-up. Plus think of all the space not used in a landfill!

Point: Money is not made but the materials are recycled and not in a landfill, says Doug Parr (Bridgewater Township Supervisor).

Doug also stated that brown paper bags is one of the highest priced commodities by the ton. We want your brown paper bags - they can go in with cardboard or be used to bundle up newspaper and then they are sorted out at

WWRA. "When asked paper or plastic at the grocery store, say PAPER Please."

Bridgewater also spent their monies on a newsletter to all township residents talking about recycling and ways they can be effective.

Sharon Township

Sharon Township sends out a letter each year with a certificate to all residents to redeem at Wacker's for their recyclable bags ($8.50 a set) to use either at curbside or drop off at Wacker's.

John states there are 466 Households in Sharon with approximately 135 on the program. The 30 gallon recycling bags have holes in them to make it easy for use and for Mr. Rubbish to pick up and crush in their truck. Then when the truck gets into Mr. Rubbish's Whitmore Lake facility, the bags are pulled out and sorted.

The huge container at Wacker's will be pulled out and four smaller containers will be put in for green, brown, & clear glass. Sharon Township also picks up #1 & #2 plastics, magazines, office paper, newspaper, tin & aluminum cans, & telephone books. They are recycling everything that is recyclable at this time.

Freedom Township

Freedom has used their monies for site maintenance and improvement. Stone was laid down around the bins at the township hall, as well as fenced in and lighting added.

They, too, furnish recycling bags and will continue to. And new bins for clear, green, & brown glass have been purchased according to Bob Little (Freedom Township Supervisor). While talking with Julie Schaible (Township Clerk), these figures were given for the 12 months of 1993: 2,329 bags from the bins, 485 bags at curbside which totals 2,814 bags - not including glass. Total yards diverted from landfills was 113 cubic yards (more than a football field stacked), which converts to 42,210 lbs.

Freedom is also looking into a Spring Clean-up.

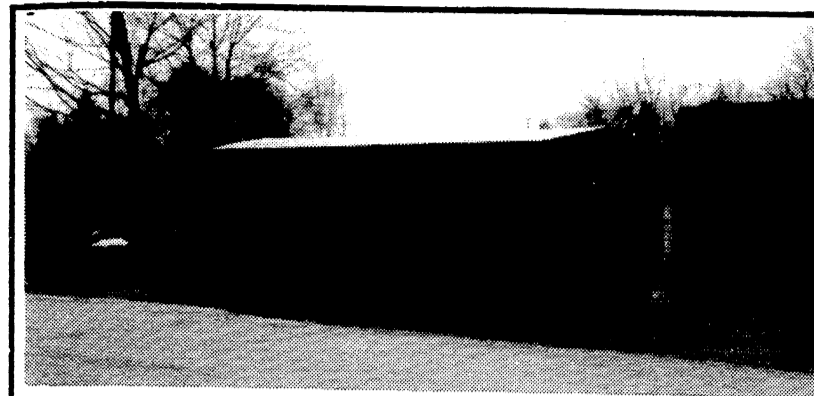

COMING NEXT WEEK: Information about WWRA and Solid Waste Handling facilities. How does this affect you?

We're in the newspaper business. Newspaper companies are always looking for ways to reduce the usage of newsprint. Recycling newsprint means saving trees. Recycling newsprint also means keeping the newsprint out of the landfills.

For the past three years Michigan newspapers have voluntarily and dramatically increased their recycling efforts. In 1993, 88% of newsprint in Michigan was recycled compared to only 14% in 1990.

We just thought you, as a reader, would like to know.

SCHOOL VOLUNTEER PROGRAM GETS A NAME AND A LOGO

Passport to a better Community.....

-by Deb Havens

volunteer programs that are tailored to meet district needs.

Committee members are introducing pilot volunteer programs at the high school and middle school this spring. The VISA program is scheduled to launch into full operation in the fall.

Program planners hope the VISA program will eventually be as successful as the SUPER Volunteer program which already flourishes at Klager Elementary. The VISA Volunteer program for the middle school and high school is based on the same consistent, district-wide goals which guide the SUPER Volunteers. They are two-fold:

1) to provide academic support for students

2) to provide support for the classroom teacher and staff

District-wide goals guarantee a smooth transition for elementary school SUPER Volunteers who become VISA Volunteers at the middle and high school levels. District-wide programs welcome all community members who wish to share the satisfactions of working with students and staff in the Manchester School District.

Ms. Sahakian adds, "We hope our VISA program will be the catalyst to help community members understand the needs of our students and staff. We hope VISA will help volunteers become a resource in the educational process that is so important, and one that can be satisfying to us all."

Anyone interested in joining the volunteer program can call the building principals for further information.

The Manchester School District has selected a name for the middle and high school volunteer programs: VISA - which stands for "Volunteers Investing in Student Achievement"

The name and the logo were created by Manchester High School principal Rugs LeBlanc, and approved by the Volunteer Program Development Committee at its regular monthly meeting in March. The committee, organized last summer, is composed of principals from each school, the school board president, the school superintendent, teachers, support staff, and members of the community.

In announcing the new name and logo, the committee stated that both depict the guiding philosophy of the Manchester School District. School board president and committee member Pat Sahakian explains, "Our logo emphasizes our belief that drawing the community into our schools allows us to expand our curriculum to a future-oriented and global-based education for our kids."

The Volunteer Program Development Committee patterned the district-wide volunteer program on a state model developed by the Michigan School Volunteer Program. The MSVP helps school districts of all sizes design

Manchester Freestyle Wrestlers Keep Busy

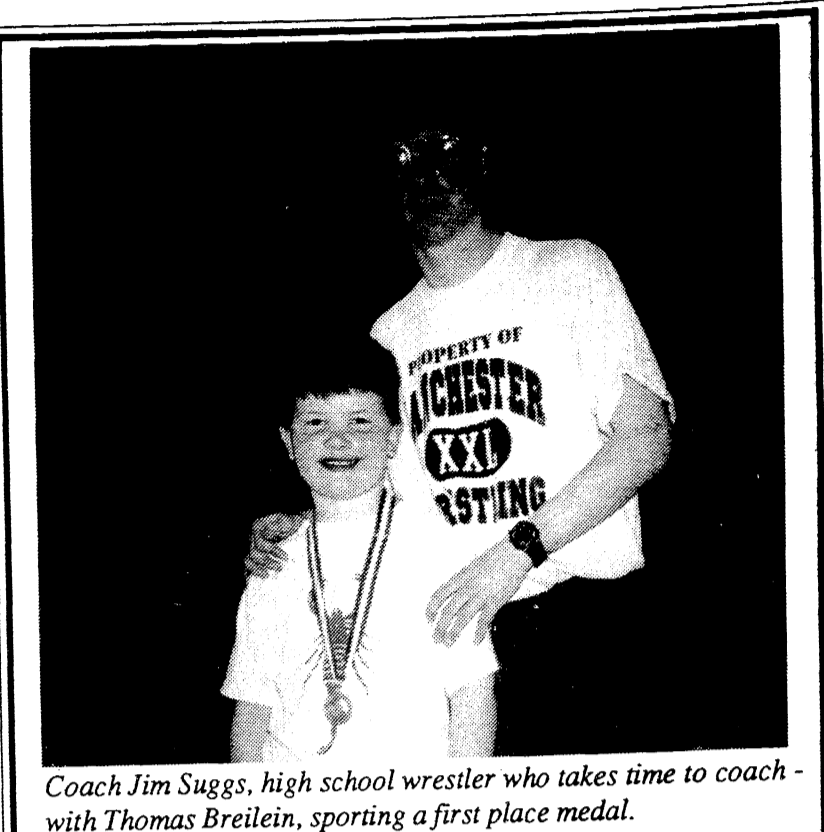

The Manchester Freestyle Wrestling Group

Last week two of our wrestlers went to Dansville: Dustin Williams, 1st place and Ed Cruz, second place.

A special thank you goes out to two special teachers, Sue Whitney and Amy Esty, from Klager for attending the Dexter meet to cheer for "their boys" - and to Coach Vleck who surprised us all when we spotted him in the stands. It means a great deal to these young athletes when they have fans other than their parents in the stands to cheer them on.

Next Saturday we head to Western in Jackson.

Coach Jim Suggs, high school wrestler who takes time to coach with Thomas Breilein, sporting a first place medal.

We headed to Dexter last Saturday with twenty-two wrestlers.

Medal Winners were: Group I: Tom Breilein, 1st Place; Danny Fleck, 3rd place; Brian Meadows, 4th Place.

Group II: Noah Kuhn, 4th place. Tate Curtis, 2nd place.

Group III: Tyler Breilein, 1st place, Justin Knouase, 4th place.

Group IV: Jeremiah Tobias, 1st place; Dave Herman 3rd place; Nolan

Westcott, 3rd place. Cadet: Brian DuVall, 1st Place; Ed Cruz, 2nd place.

Mark Trinkle, Caleb Westcott, Jeff Chapin, Josh Knouase, Keith Peasley, Justin Preston, Andrew Roberts, Josh Harris, Pat Chapin and Willy Slocum also participated with Mark Trinkle taking a fifth place, which was one match from a medal

Friday night in Litchfield, Robert Sloan took 2nd place and Jim Suggs, 3rd place.

Coming soon on Main Street! Owner Chris Moyle announces that they hope to be open within 7-10 days. Equipment is coming in and the place is filling up. Casual passers-by will notice the menu on the wall, which includes pizzas, subs and garden fresh salads.

Chris has worked for Dominos, and currently owns the Village Inn Pizza in Jackson. So the Pizza business is something that will come naturally.

Watch for more of "Sir Oliver's" happenings in the Enterprise. We'll keep you up-to-date on the latest developments.

WESTERN WASHTENAW COUNTY PROGRAMS FROM HUMAN SERVICES

by Joanne Fredal
Manchester Advisory Team

In November, 1993, Ilene Friedland, of Washtenaw County Human Services Group called various people in Manchester to participate in a group to be known as the Manchester Advisory Team. On this team is Bill Kindt, Counselor, Manchester Schools; Mike DuRussel, Commissioner, Western Washtenaw; Joanne Fredal, Manchester Family Service; Dianne Schwab, Community Resource Center; Pat Sahakian, Manchester School Board; Cecelia Chapin, and Rosemary Hamilton. The purpose of the team was to relate needs, feedback, and information about the community to bring Washtenaw County Human Services to Manchester and meet periodically with Trena Risher, Director, of Employment Training & Community Services Group and Ilene Friedland.

It was Ilene Friedland's vision to bring programs of interest to the people of Western Washtenaw County that would not only save them making the trip to Ann Arbor or Ypsilanti, but would be a means for them to participate in and enjoy some of the services provided by Human Services.

One of the first plans activated was the free "Human Services Event" presented by trained personnel each month during Federal Food distribution at Manchester United Methodist Church on Ann Arbor St. Since August, 1993 Ilene has scheduled such varied events on that day as nutrition including recipes using commodity foods, blood cholesterol screening, home weatherization, stress counseling, exercise tips and healthy habits, Headstart preschool, and gardening. The programs are open to everyone, not just those families who participate in the Federal Food program. The availability of the church hall at the same time as food distribution was a convenient venue to present these programs.

The success of the events led to the formation of the Advisory Team to suggest other needs that could be met by Human Services. From team input a very important service set up locally was WIC for assisting women and children with supplementary food coupons for butter, milk, eggs, and cheese. Now qualifying mothers and children do not need to travel to the WIC office on Hogback Rd. in Ypsilanti. WIC is located at the Manchester Senior Center on Macomb St. and is open the third Wednesday each month at 9 AM to 4 PM. Immunizations for children will be given at this site also.

Manchester Advisory Team worked together to plan and support the recent Parenting Fair in March at Manchester High School. Various agencies of Human Services and Washtenaw County were represented with booths set up in the hallway. Some of the participants were WICS, Washtenaw Public Health - Aids Awareness, Huron Valley Child Guidance Counseling, Catholic Social Services "Parent to Parent" program, and Cooperative Extension - Nutrition.

Future ideas for services to be brought to Manchester include the provision to receive Food Stamps locally rather than having to make a trip into Ann Arbor or Ypsilanti. To date, Reaching the people who could qualify for the Food Stamp program and learning if they would like the choice to pickup their Food Stamps in Manchester is being worked on.

Human Services Group of Washtenaw County has the motto, "We Go the Extra Mile for You!" Coming to Western Washtenaw is a trip of 30 miles that they are happy to make each month to bring their programs and services to our community. Manchester Advisory Team is asking for your input as to needs and suggestions to implement future programs and services in Manchester. You can call Ilene Friedland at 971-2192 but be sure to stop in for the event on Friday, April 22nd, starting at 9:00 AM at Manchester United Methodist Church which will include Cholesterol and Blood Pressure Screening, and Food Demonstration. Ilene is present during each of the programs to answer any questions you might have regarding Human Services of Washtenaw County.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY SALUTES OLD BARNS

The Manchester Area Historical Society invites you to join us on April 19 for a salute to the artistry of old barns.

Mr. Ted Micka, who works exclusively on the restoration of older homes and barns, will be our guest speaker.

Starting with an engineering degree from the University of Michigan, Mr. Micka added studies in design and architecture to his arsenal of restorative expertise.

The meeting will begin with a short business update at 7:30 pm. Presentation begins at 8:00 pm at the Blacksmith Shop on East Main Street.

and appreciation for the older structures and their builders. Over the years I have grown from carpenter to contractor because there are also stone, glass, metal, paint, and other materials used in the past which must now be repaired.

Come meet Mr. Micka. Enjoy his enthusiastic salute to the artisans who created the barns which decorate our rural landscapes - many of which still serve a useful purpose today, thanks to Ted Micka.

The meeting will begin with a short business update at 7:30 pm. Presentation begins at 8:00 pm at the Blacksmith Shop on East Main Street.

CHRISTMAS IN APRIL *Washtenaw April 30, 1994

Homes that were referred to Christmas-in-April *Washtenaw have been safety checked and requested maintenance work has been reviewed.

Volunteer forms and liability forms have been mailed to those people who volunteered in 1993. People who want to become new volunteers in 1994, or those who are not on the mailing list, can call the Community Resource Center.

In 1993 over 100 volunteers joined together in fun and fellowship to provide service to their Manchester neighbors.

St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Offers Nursing Scholarship

St. Joseph Mercy Hospital (SJMH) in Ann Arbor is offering a number of scholarships to support individuals in the community who are interested in entering the nursing profession.

The annual "Commitment to Nursing" program awards two or more scholarships to individuals who have demonstrated a commitment to the nursing profession.

To qualify for the program, students must be formally accepted into an accredited associate or baccalaureate degree nursing program and have a minimum 3.0 grade point average.

Applications are available at SJMH, local high schools and colleges. Applicants will be notified in August. For more information or to receive an application, call (313) 712-3672.

Announcements

Alma Wheeler Smith announces for State Senate

On Wednesday, April 6, 1994, Alma Wheeler Smith will make a formal announcement of her intention to seek the 18th District Senate seat currently held by Senator Lana Pollack.

Smith presently serves the second district as Washtenaw County Commissioner. Prior to her election to that seat, Smith held office for eight and a half years as trustee on the South Lyon Community School Board.

The Smith for State Senate Committee has scheduled a kickoff event in Chelsea on April 6: From 8:00-9:30 am at the Common Grill, 112 S. Main St.

We encourage community members to come and meet Alma.

COMMUNITY RESOURCE CENTER Benefit Banquet

The Community Resource Center Board of Directors is inviting community business and industry representative and individuals to attend the CRC's Seventh Annual Benefit Banquet at Chelsea Community Hospital, Wednesday, April 27, 1994.

A 6:15 PM Social Hour will provide an opportunity for guests to gather and celebrate the continued success of the Community Resource Center serving the Manchester area.

The program will be a short presentation by Katrina Paradine, United Way Volunteer and recognition of local volunteer awards.

All of the contributions received from our local community go directly toward partial funding of the CRC both in terms of annual operating expenses of $25,000 and special projects.

As contributors decide upon your contribution amount, keep in mind the need for strong local support to enable the CRC to continue providing these much needed services to our community.

Banquet invitations have been mailed to business, industry and individuals who have contributed to the CRC in the past. Those who wish to be added to the Community Resource Center list of donors may call the CRC 428-7722 or use the Banquet dinner reservation form in this week's Enterprise.

Mailing address for the Community Resource Center is 122 W. Main. P.O. Box 433, Manchester, Mi. 48158.

A contribution to the Community Resource Center provides the opportunity to add SMILES to the faces of people of the Manchester area who are less fortunate than ourselves.

In Honor of National Tourism Week and Michigan Week

Have you been thinking of staying at a B&B? Or are you a regular B&B traveler who would like to see just one more (and one more) B&B? Or maybe you are not even quite sure just what is this thing called B&B?

Sunday, May 1, 1994, from 1-3 p.m., Bed and Breakfast innkeepers across Michigan will host an open house event to acquaint you with their special style of lodging. Because Bed & Breakfasts are so unique innkeepers have decided to open their doors and invite everyone in for a tour.

"More than one hundred B&Bs throughout Michigan will be participating and everyone is welcome", said Jan Kerr, executive director of Lake to Lake Bed & Breakfast Association. "It is fun to visit neighbors' homes — especially when that home is an inn. This is a great opportunity to experience the exceptional hospitality for which B&Bs are famous".

There will be a B&B to suit everyone's interest. In the upper peninsula visitors can tour a B&B lighthouse, the largest mansion in the western U.P., or an elegant Colorad Revival home. The lower peninsula also offers a variety to choose from: a 10,000 square foot Dutch Colonial home; a stone house, a restored 1850's barn, and homes on the state and national historic registers.

Those participating in the open house are members of the Lake to Lake Bed & Breakfast Association which inspects all members and publishes an annual directory Lake to Lake Bed & Breakfast of Michigan. Everyone attending an open house will receive a free copy of the 64-page 1994 directory.

Those who are unable to attend may order a copy of the directory by calling 800-832-6657, or writing B&B Directory, P.O. Box 428, Saugatuck, MI 49453. There is a $3.00 postage and handling fee which may be paid by check or charged to any major credit card.

[A note to our readers: Although space limitations prevent us printing all 100 participating B&B's, we would be happy to share the list with anyone who wishes to stop by our office! B&B's as close as Saline or Brooklyn are participating in the Open House.]

OPERA! LENAWEE OFFERS LOOKS INSIDE THE WORLD OF "LA TRAVIATA"

Adults and children alike will have the chance in April to learn more about the world of opera in general, and OPERA!Lenawee's upcoming production of LA TRAVIATA in particular, at two very special events.

Want to find out just what LA TRAVIATA is all about? Make plans now to attend the preview dinner Sunday, April 10, at the Secret Garden in downtown Adrian. The 6:30 p.m. event will feature an Italian buffet meal catered by Ami Jo Walters of Zeld's Catering, appearances by some of the singers who will appear in LA TRAVIATA, and the story of the opera presented as only OPERA!Lenawee music director David Katz can tell it.

The menu will include Caesar tortellini salad, chicken breasts stuffed with wild mushrooms and spinach, potatoes Parma, and crema al Limone (lemon mousse) for dessert. Coffee and tea are included; guests may bring other beverages.

At preview dinners in years past Katz has unwrapped giant "lozenges," sang silly songs, and popped balloons. This year, among the events will be a segment Katz calls "Triviata," which will give the audience entertaining pieces of information about LA TRAVIATA and about opera in general.

"The point is to have people raise their understanding of the opera and know that it's something they will truly enjoy," Katz said. "We'll tell people the story of the opera in a way that is entertaining and removes any concerns that opera might not be for them."

In addition, Martha Duersten-Pettit, Neal Harelson, and David Murray, who will sing the roles of Violetta, Alfredo, and Germont respectively in LA TRAVIATA, will present some of the music of the Verdi opera. "This will be a unique opportunity for people to get a 'sneak peek' at LA TRAVIATA," OPERA!Lenawee stage director Robert Soller said. "It's a chance to actually hear some of the people who have been chosen for roles, singing music from the opera."

"I think one thing (OPERA!Lenawee) does very well is to welcome its singers to the community," Katz said.

Tickets to the dinner may be purchased separately at $18 each or as part of the OPERA!Fan package, which is $50 and includes the dinner and priority seating for your choice of LA TRAVIATA performances. Call the Crosswell Opera House at (517) 264-5HOW (7469) for reservations.

Dinner reservations must be made by April 6.

Area schoolchildren aren't left out of OPERA!Lenawee's educational outreach. OPERA!Discovery will give children a behind-the-scenes look at LA TRAVIATA in two special shows April 26 at the Crosswell.

In what Katz terms "more of a workshop than a performance," OPERA!Lenawee will present some scenes from LA TRAVIATA, complete with singers, chorus members, and the Adrian Symphony Orchestra.

"It will give the kids an idea of how multifaceted a production this is," Katz said. In fact, the children will actually get to see things that the regular audiences won't, like how a set change is done.

Young people may be particularly interested to see some of the creative work by Adrian's Toby Ost, who is handling the set design for LA TRAVIATA. Toby, an Adrian High School graduate who is now a University of Michigan student, has already made a name for himself locally through his extensive involvement over the years with both OPERA!Lenawee and Crosswell productions. "Toby is such a wonderfully gifted young man when it comes to set artistry," Soller said. "His design for this opera, which will include painted portraits and an immense chandelier, just has to be seen to be believed."

Katz said he believes OPERA!Discovery, which is held during the run of each OPERA!Lenawee production, is one of the most important events surrounding the opera.

"If it makes one more person decide to pursue a career in the arts, or if one more person recognizes the emotional power that live theatre can have, then we've done our job," he said. "The opera is the biggest thing either the Crosswell or the Adrian Symphony does, and it's important to spread the word to young people."

Katz said that many of the cast members of the operas over the years have commented on the number of community educational opportunities which surround each production. "We do whatever we can to make it as user-friendly as possible," he said.

The curtain rises on LA TRAVIATA April 22 at 8 p.m. at the Crosswell Opera House in downtown Adrian. Additional performances are April 24 at 3 p.m., April 28 at 8 p.m., and April 30 at 8 p.m. For ticket information, call the Crosswell at (517) 264-5HOW (7469).

SCHOOL BOARD SETS MILLAGE AND BOARD ELECTION DATE

Manchester Board of Education set the date of June 13, 1994, for the Annual School Election during which we will choose two school board members and decide on an operating millage proposition for non-homestead property tax.

The passage of Proposal "A", mandates a vote of the electorate which would allow the school district to levy the statutory rate of 18 mills against non-homestead property. This vote is required of all Michigan School Districts for the district to be able to receive its per pupil revenue foundation guarantee, from the State of Michigan. The only option available to each District is the length of term for the 18 mills. State law permits from one year, up to 20 years for the resolution. Manchester decided for a middle of the road term of 10 years.

Under the new State Law the State of Michigan levies 6 mills on all property, the local district levies 18 mills on non-homestead property, if approved by the electorate. Homesteaders will see a savings reduction of 31.5831 mills. Non-homestead property (commercial, second home and rental properties) will see a reduction of 13.5831 mills.

In other action, the Board of Education listened intently to Marilyn Knoause requesting a more comprehensive Special Education program at the High School. The Board also approved the Reproductive Health Curriculum as presented by Klager Principal Yvonne Henry. The "Growing Up Program" is being implemented in the 1993-94 school year.

Principal Russ LeBlanc and Math Teacher Jim Fielder received the go ahead for Fielder's Chicago System math program extension.

Director of Student Services/Athletics presented the Board with the Athletic Department's Winter report of 1993. Thirteen students made Academic All Conference. Forty-four student athletes have maintained a cumulative 3.0 Grade Point Average. Not one word was mentioned about the melee at the Hanover-Horton basketball game.

Contracts were extended for administrators Yvonne Henry, Russell LeBlanc, Brian Schick and David Swanson.

The Board reluctantly granted Superintendent Niedzwiecki's request to study the Klager Renovation/Building program for consideration on a September ballot. Comments were to the effect, "This is too soon after the tax reduction; we need to consider the voters." President Sahakian made a passionate plea for Niedzwiecki's proposal.

South and West Consortium Agreement was presented to the Board and tabled for action until the May meeting. The Consortium uses the Pleasant Lake School Building for their programs and is made up of Chelsea, Dexter, Manchester, Milan and Saline area Schools.

Probationary, tenure, contract extension and resignations were acted upon. The Board adjourned at 10:45 PM.

Key Club Rock-a-Thon

MANCHESTER High School Key Clubbers rocked around the clock from 8:00 P.M. Saturday night, April 9, to 8:00 A.M. Sunday Morning, April 10.

Cards, games, videos and lots of chatter and giggles were just a part of the evening's entertainment. Kiwanis members challenged the Key Clubbers in several games of Euchre.

Pizza, donated by Village Pizza, was enjoyed by all throughout the evening. Doughnuts, donated by Deputy Carlos Garcia, were devoured by Key Clubbers at their Monday morning meeting.

At approximately 1:00 A.M., the name of the lucky winner of the rocking chair was announced. Congratulations!!!! Marge Scully.

The Rock-a-thon netted about $175.00 that will be used for bus drivers' CPR training in the fall.

Key Club Member Angie Carlson, who raised the highest amount of $106 in pledges, rocked the night away with the rest of the gang.

Who are these women, and what are they doing? See story, Second Front Page.

The suspect was turned over the Chelsea Police Department for questioning and arraignment. The suspect has made no statement. $250,000 cash bond has been established. FBI Special Agents have assumed jurisdiction.

The suspect is a prison guard at a prison in Jackson. He has no known police record, although he was about to be questioned by authorities about another recent bank robbery.

A quick response by Chelsea Chief of Police, Len McDougall, within two minutes, assisted Sgt. Werner in his efforts, as he made the arrest within only thirteen minutes of the robbery.

Quick action on the part of our police and sheriff's departments is always desirable, but none more than when an armed suspect is at large. Thanks go out to these men and women who risk their own lives for our sake.
