Voters Pass Eighteen Mills For Schools

Susan and Rudy Layher fill out their voter identification forms while son Matthew looks on. A concerted community effort passed the requested millage on non-homestead property.

With a total of 810 votes cast, despite closing the polls for 1 hour and 10 minutes due to inclement weather, Manchester residents passed the requested 18 mills on non-homestead property.

Only sixteen percent of our 5095 registered voters from the School District cast their ballots.

784 voters turned out on Monday. Some were asked to wait due to Superintendent Niedzwiecki's need to secure the school premises during a tornado warning.

"It wasn't the smoothest election we've ever had," according to Joyce Golightly, who is Chairman of the Election Board. Between closing down for inclement weather and one of the three voting machines jammed due to faulty loading by Doubleday, it was "quite a different" kind of an election day.

Thanks to Ann Becketl, who talked on the telephone to Doubleday, the kinks in the machine were fixed and results were available by 9:15.

The final tally for the elections was:

Millage Increase:

Yes votes: 567

No votes: 224

The millage increase passed on a 70% margin.

School Board Election:

Mike Gleason: 341 votes

Pat Sahakian: 402 votes

Sonja Schulz: 273 votes

Joseph Turk: 396 votes

The incumbents, Pat

Sahakian and Joseph Turk,

were elected by 49% and 48%

of voters, respectively.

Gleason received 42% and Schulz 33% of votes cast.

In recent years, more and more people have cast absentee ballots, perhaps due in part to the allowance for those

60 years and up to vote absentee whether or not they will be out of town at the time.

For this election, 26 votes or 3.2% were absentee ballots.

Preparing for a tornado:

- Have emergency supplies on hand during tornado season. Keep a battery-operated radio, a flashlight and a supply of fresh batteries in a convenient place. Know the location of designated shelter areas in public facilities. Most schools, public buildings and shopping centers have such areas. Make an inventory of household furnishings and other possessions. Supplement the written inventory with photographs of each room. Keep inventories and records in a safe deposit box or some other safe place away from the premises. Plan ahead. Be sure everyone in your household knows in advance where to go and what to do in case of a tornado warning.

What to do when a tornado threatens:

- Stay away from doors, windows and outside walls. Protect your head. In homes and small buildings, go to the basement or to an interior part on the lowest level. Get under something sturdy. In schools, hospitals, and public places, move to designated shelter areas. Interior hallways on the lowest floors are best. In mobile homes or vehicles, leave them and go to the nearest shelter. If there isn't shelter close by, lie in the nearest ditch and shield your head with your arms.

After a tornado:

- Inspect your property, including motor vehicles for damage. Check for electrical problems and gas leaks and report it to the power company at once. If you have damage, contact your agent. Stay out of damaged buildings until you are sure they are safe and will not collapse. Secure your property from further damage or theft. Use only approved or chlorinated supplies of drinking water. Check food supplies. Some food may contain particles of glass or debris.

Local Company Makes Recycling Work

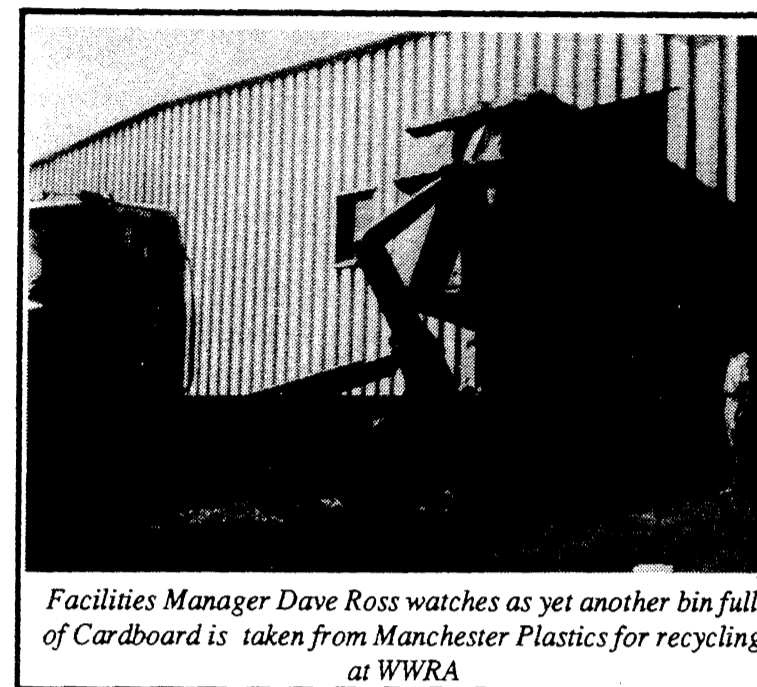

Recycling is more than a concept at Manchester Plastics' Manchester Division - it's a reality. With over 180,000 square feet under a roof, it would seem there is plenty of space for waste, but Manchester Plastics is into efficiency. Otherwise they would not have received the Quality Suppliers recognitions from both Chrysler and General Motors which are proudly displayed in their lobby.

Manchester Plastics has come a long way since its re-opening in 1992. "We had a terrible name in this town," says Dave Ross, their Facilities Manager. Dave has pretty much taken full responsibility for improving Plastics' reputation around Manchester. It's not surprising, then, to learn that the recycling program - and many other environmental changes - are the brain children of Dave and a team of employees.

It began nearly two years ago, when Dave realized that the "reduce, re-use, and recycle" credo would work for them at Manchester Plastics. They began by trying "reduce and re-use." "We took pains to eliminate certain cardboard," said Pete Valentine, Plant General Manager.

Their supplies come to them most often in re-usable packaging, such as pallets, and sometimes are transported on bread carts without any packaging at all. These were implemented for almost a year before Dave got clearance, first from Management, and then from the Washtenaw County Board of Commissioners to begin working with the Western Washtenaw Recycling Authority (WWRA).

There was some resistance from the county at first, to utilizing WWRA for a commercial concern, as they had envisioned it as a vehicle solely to allow individuals to recycle more easily. Dave and his team of employees persisted, and with everyone's cooperation, from management to line workers, the program was finally begun in

Facilities Manager Dave Ross watches as yet another bin full of Cardboard is taken from Manchester Plastics for recycling at WWRA

September of 1993.

According to Bob Redding of WWRA, whose job it is to pick up the corrugated cardboard bin at Manchester Plastics (and also all the public bins at Walco Foods), from September 1993 to April 1994, Manchester Plastics has recycled 1,087 yards of cardboard.

Pete told us that their cardboard is taken to Marshall and recycled into Kellogg's cereal boxes. "We are saving 60% of the cost of compacting, by recycling instead," according to Bob Beoney, Controller. "We save $2,000-$2,500 by just giving it away." Cardboard constituted about 60% of their landfill waste component when they began implementing these changes.

Dave adds that although cost savings are certainly a consideration, "We do make a conscientious effort." The return on investment came less than two months into the program. Once the system was set in place, it improved their overall housekeeping procedures, and the staff satisfaction has improved along with it.

Pete noted that they also recycle and re-use their plastic scraps. "Although we actually generate a very low percentage of scrap [plastic] compared to the past operations, we do grind and mix in our scrap as a percentage of our product." All other waste plastic is recycled. Dave's pride in the facility, both the inside and the outside, is obvious. "I consider this 'mine,'" he observed, looking around the building and the property. He has landscaped and made necessary changes to reduce noises and generally be a "good citizen and a good neighbor" to those not only nearby the plant, but to everyone in Manchester. "If there is a complaint from residents, I'm the one who shows up on their doorstep to see how we can make things better," he says. Although this isn't his favorite part of the job, it is important to him that the plant be seen as a viable part of the community. "We keep it quiet, and clean," he said. "Most people have no idea what a large operation we have here - and we take pains to keep it that way."

Manchester Plastics has set a standard for industry in Manchester. Their environmental awareness is an example for all of us to follow. What more could you ask for in a neighbor? -MJC

Editorial / Opinion

Dear Editor:

I am writing this letter to express my concern about the recent articles that have been printed in the Manchester Enterprise regarding the South and West Washtenaw Consortium (SWWC). I am a 1992 graduate of MHS. I was enrolled in the Business Technology Management Support vocational program during my senior year. The skills I have gained at the consortium have been a great benefit to me at my job at Detroit Edison; which Mr. Miller (previous co-op coordinator) put me in contact with upon graduation. I am also a student at Washtenaw Community College (WCC) and I want everyone to know that there are no two courses at WCC that could have prepared me as well as the consortium did for my present job as a secretary. The question is, "Would an employer feel I was qualified with completing two classes at WCC?" It wasn't mentioned in any of the articles that many companies call the consortium when they have an opening to see if there are any students they would recommend. Detroit Edison is one of them. There are currently three people working at the Ann Arbor Division Detroit Edison Company that have completed the Management Support program. This says something about the kind of skills students are coming away from these programs with. Sarns, Sweepsters, and R&B are just a few of the many companies that hire consortium students.

The next thing I would like to point out is that Mr. Kluwe mentioned in his article that the Manchester School District average for one class hour per student is $829 per year and that the consortium classes are $2,745 for one class per student, per year. What he didn't mention is that these classes are two class hours. This would make them $1,372 per class hour, per student, per year. He simply divided $140,000 amount expended by Manchester for the consortium) by 51 students, and he states that $140,000 is only an estimate. For what an asset these classes are to the students in this school district it's worth the difference and much more!

The following are some questions Mr. Kluwe's article raised in my mind:

- Would it be fair to restrict students without their own transportation from sharing the same opportunity given to students with a car?

- What kind of liability would the school have for students driving to Ypsilanti?

- Would parents like (or even allow) their kids to go?

- Who would make sure that the students are going?

The instructors at WCC are there to teach college-age students who are responsible for themselves. They don't care if you come to class or if you don't because it's your own money that is wasted if you don't go; but if the Manchester School Board adopts Mr. Kluwe's idea, it would be the school districts money that would be wasted. When in fact consortium students already earn college credits for completing these programs. I earned 10 credits at WCC.

In conclusion, I feel that this proposal is not about offering the students more, instead it is based only on saving money. What needs to be addressed is, "Would the money being saved be worth what is lost?" The individualized attention that is now given to the students would not exist. Also, the vocational programs that are presently offered give students such a broad base of skills related to the program they choose. These skills enable so many of the students that have completed one of these programs to get a good job right out of high school; and articulate credits to WCC that may equal more than two college courses. These jobs also permit them to pay for their own college, or possibly have their employers pay for a portion. College is then where they can get the in-depth knowledge/training related to their area of study.

Sincerely,
Tara A. Steele

Out & About

by gar

Dear Sir:
FARM BUREAU MEMBERS STAND FIRM ON FARMLAND EQUITY!

Farm Bureau members in this county worked hard to support passage of Proposal A because they believed it was a fair and equitable means of reforming school financing in Michigan. And although a 6-mill school operating status had been promised to the agricultural sector by leaders of the House and Senate before the vote on March 15, farmers faced a long wait as the legislative process ground out a farmland definition that would ensure rate equity and immediate effect for ag land. That legislation, the Gustafson-Profit bill, passed May 12 and was signed by Gov. John Engler on May 24.

Unfortunately, while farmers understand that the legislation extends fairness and equity under the tax reform law to all agricultural property, there has been criticism that the bill is, in effect, special tax treatment for agriculture. Far from being a special tax break, the Gustafson-Profit bill means that virtually all ag land will be taxed at the same rate and that no agricultural producer will be unfairly taxed at a higher rate than his or her farm neighbor. Without this legislation, farmers - and only farmers - would have been paying different rates on identical parcels.

Farm Bureau members in Washtenaw County demonstrated the kind of grass roots leadership on this issue that was needed for passage. No demonstrations, no rallies - just Farm Bureau members talking, one to one, with their representatives in the Legislature about what is right and fair for Michigan agriculture.

Harold Trinkle, President,
Washtenaw Co. Farm Bureau

Dads are pretty special guys. After all, without them there would be no Fathers Day. I would like to tell about one father who is very special to me.

My first recollections of Dad go back many, many years. We lived on the second floor of a rented house not far from Wayne, Michigan. That house was a converted pickle barn with living quarters on the second floor. The first floor had very high ceiling and a very long stairway to reach the second floor. There were five rooms, and the heating system was a coal burning stove in the living room.

In the winter Dad would haul coal up those stairs to fuel the stove. It would get pretty cold sometimes so I can remember when he would get the stove going. We would stay close to the fire until the house would warm up. Coal wasn't the only thing that had to be hauled. Water, groceries and all the other necessities of life were hauled on those stairs.

Dad taught me many things about life and he worked hard to provide for his family. As I look back at those days I realize how much I owe and appreciate what my father did for me.

Those stairs he used to climb? Well they are kind of like life itself! We have to haul a lot of things around in life and sometimes it seems it is always up a long stairway.

Thanks, Dad, and HAPPY FATHERS DAY!

Tool Time for Dad

Great Father's Day Gifts
Today's Man has more jobs around the house than he did 30 years ago, so how about giving Dad something that he'll use, instead of adding to the necktie collection?

Everyone, especially men, loves tools. Even ordinary jobs require a variety of tools. High quality tools help get the job done with a minimum of frustration and maximum results.

As more mothers work outside the home, Dad needs more tools than ever before. The following suggestions are gifts for the busiest and most discriminating Dad.

Today, fathers are taking a greater interest in cooking and kitchen tools, either out of desire or desperation. A cast iron skillet will cook up a batch of pancakes or a beautiful omelette for a weekend brunch, as well as saute a steak and fresh vegetables for dinner.

Whatever job he is doing, Dad will appreciate the best possible tool to do it with. Quality makes a difference with all tools. A good, well-weighted hammer is easier and safer to use than one with a wobbly head. A good paintbrush provides a smooth finish.

You can never have too many tools and men love getting them as gifts. One father says that tools are his favorite kind of present - along with original art work. A homeowner especially appreciates new tools because, "Something always needs to be fixed. Besides, with kids in the house, my tools always seem to disappear."

Quality screwdrivers, adjustable wrenches and pliers are all available. Wrenches with metric measurements can be especially useful for fathers with foreign cars. Tape measures always get lost and need to be replaced.

As gender roles have changed, so has the definition of a tool. A hair dryer, once a beauty accessory, is now an essential piece of equipment which many men must use every day.

So, if Dad already has several mugs that say, "World's Greatest Father," give him what he really wants: a little adultation, and some great new tool

Thanks, Dad!

MANCHESTER AREA SENIOR CITIZENS News

by T.V. Ludwick

What a gorgeous weekend! We were dog-sitting and it allowed us to take outdoor walks which we haven't been doing. A friend asked if I didn't want a fulltime dog again and I said no. To us, it's like having grandchildren—love to have them for a while, but kinda glad when they go back home. We've had those years with many, many pets romping around with kids and their friends. But, it was a lot of fun.

Friday, June 17: The senior bus begins pickup at 6 PM for you to attend the Saline Senior Citizens Card Party. If you'd like to go, call Erma Alber at 428-8707.

Sunday, June 19: This is Father's Day and time to enjoy your dad. I've heard wives say, "Well, he's not my father, why should I buy him something?" Don't you agree that our family dad has 'fathered' us wives quite often? Let's baby him and enjoy him while we can.

Wednesday, June 22: Whee! Summer arrived yesterday and we will have our first Ice Cream Social. It begins at Sharon United Methodist Church at 5 PM today. Senior bus is available for all seniors who wish to ride out to Sharon, call Erma.

Thursday, June 23: It's the fourth Thursday of the month and time for our Senior Citizens' sponsored card party which begins at 7:30 at Freedom Township Hall. If you like to play euchre, this is the place to go, all you out there. Senior bus starts pickup for the ride out at 6 PM, call Erma.

Pastor Nancy Doty Expands her Horizons

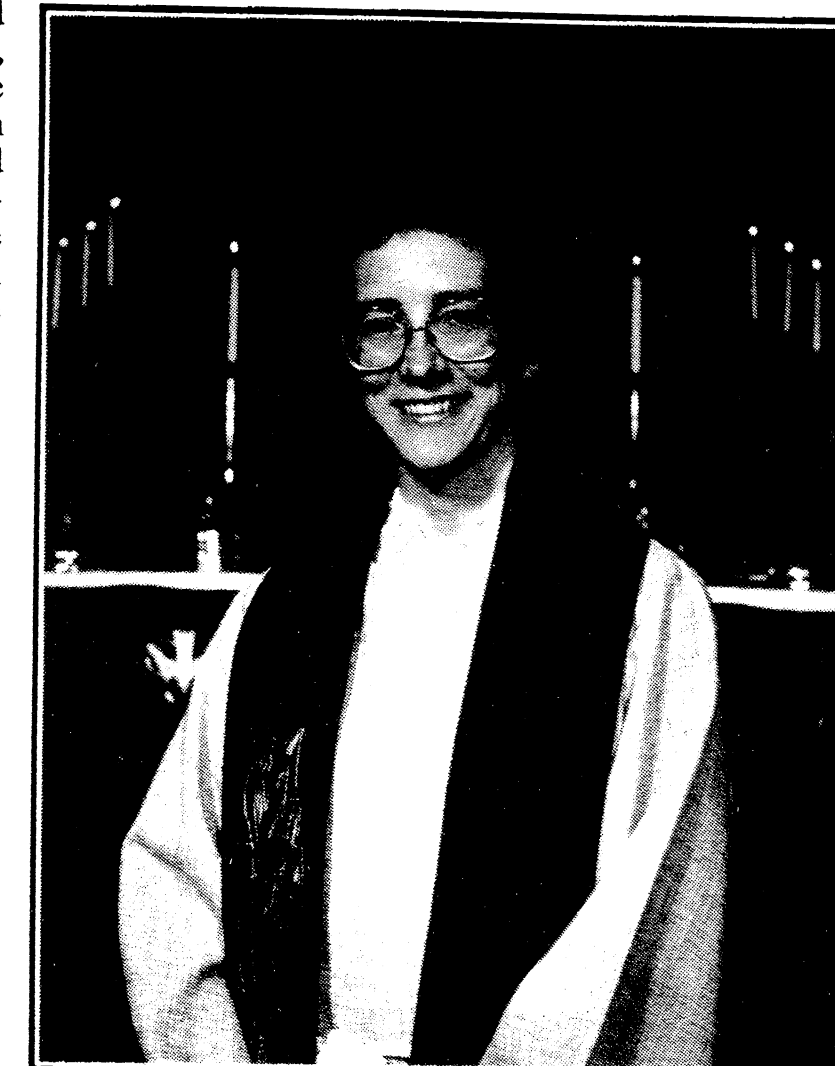

Over the past 7-1/2 years, Manchester, and most especially the people of Emanuel Church, have been fortunate to know their Associate Pastor, Nancy Doty. As Emanuel prepares to welcome a new Pastor, Nancy, too, is preparing to enter a new phase of her ministry.

In her farewell letter to the people of Emanuel, Pastor Nancy says, "God calls us to different ministries, both as a church and its pastor. However, the seeds that we have sown in our ministry together will continue to grow."

The "new ministry" to which she is called includes completing her doctoral studies, continuing as part-time called pastor of St. John's United Church of Christ at Rogers Corners, and a new position with Individualized Hospice in Ann Arbor.

"My real ministry at Emanuel took place, not in the times and spaces in-between. The times when we have worked, played, visited, and prayed together have been the times when God's spirit was most alive among us," reflected Pastor Nancy. "Although I will miss the friendships I have made over the years at families after a death has occurred. Emanuel, I expect we will continue to be in touch; and I certainly look forward to expanding my ministry in my new position as Bereavement and Pastoral Care Counselor at Individualized Hospice."

During her years at Emanuel, Pastor Nancy has made many friends. Her warm and caring manner has brought comfort to people in times of need and sorrow. Her dynamic sense of humor has added a new dimension to her relationships with parishioners and public alike. Her open-mindedness and acceptance have made her a pastor to not only her own "flock", but to the entire community. She shares in the joys and concerns of her congregations and yet, her own feeling is that of being privileged to serve.

In her work with the Hospice organization, Pastor Nancy will work with families during times of illness, and follow-up with

Our best wishes go with you in all that you do, Nancy!

Gift Enables WISD Purchases

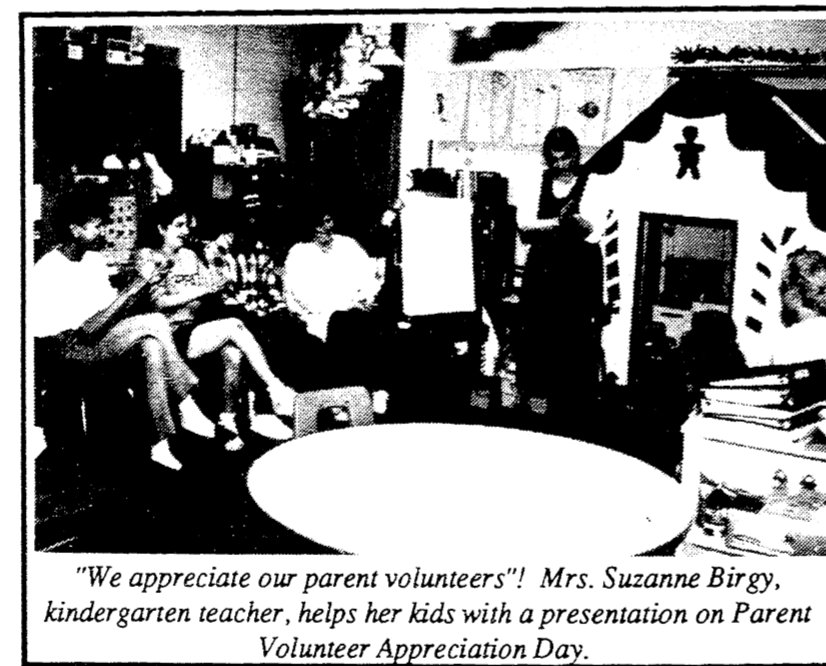

The Washtenaw Intermediate School District (WISD) Special Education Department has purchased much needed equipment for the benefit of students with vision and hearing problems throughout Washtenaw County thanks to a generous gift from The Kegel Family Foundation.

We purchased two closed circuit color televisions that makes it easy for anyone to produce braille reading materials for the blind using a standard word processing program. Before, in order to produce a braille document, you had to know braille. This equipment will be placed in Saline Schools so that the educators working with two elementary students who are blind can prepare braille materials on site. We also purchased four listening devices to amplify sound in the classroom for students who are hard of hearing. This equipment helps them hear their teachers' and classmates' voices. These devices are being used by elementary students in Dexter and Manchester.

At WISD, it's our charge to educate special ed students in the least restrictive environment available. It's also our goal to make sure that students with disabilities have the tools they need to access all aspects of the instruction and learning in that environment. We're grateful to the Kegel Family Foundation for helping us move toward that goal.

Dean's List at Adrian College

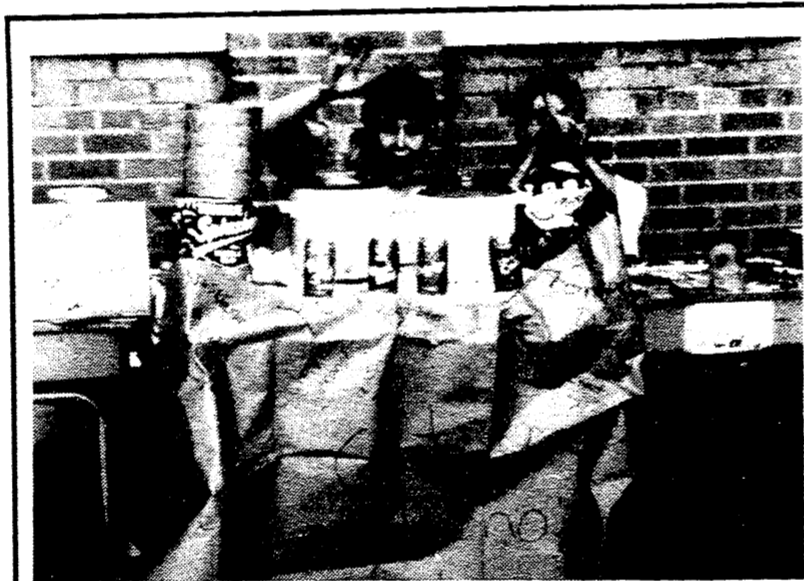

Jason E. Gillow, a junior majoring in Business Administration/management, was named to the 1994 Spring semester Dean's List at Adrian College.

To achieve this honor, a student must maintain a 3.50 grade point average and carry at least 12 credit hours of classes.

Jason is a 1991 graduate of Manchester High School and the son of Robert Gillow of Manchester and Terry Gillow of Saline.

An end-of-the-year tradition for the kindergartners is a tour of the library and story time. Believe it or not, the kids were calm and attentive during the special story hour held for their classes!

Mexican Market Day at the Middle School - A sure sign summer is coming! John Williams and Dan Stephens, enthusiastic young entrepreneurs, are ready for some customers.

The end of the school year involves many extra activities; and band concerts are among them. Here the 5th and 6th graders share what they have learned this year.

Manchester Area Historical Society

The Manchester Area Historical Society invites you to join us on Tuesday, June 21, at 6:30 pm for our annual Community Picnic on the grounds of the Sharon Mill Winery. Historical Society members eagerly await this event each year for its unique combination of wonderful food, friends and vistas.

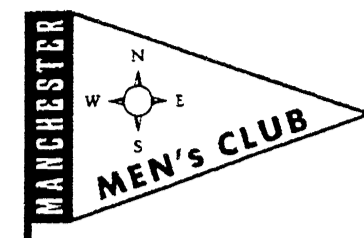

If you're a regular, you're probably already imagining the scene: little cafe tables and chairs in the winery grove; huge trees lining the banks of the River Raisin as it glides past the charming stone winery, formerly a mill built by Henry Ford; long tables set up with the homemade specialties of the best cooks in this community - casseroles, salads, breads and desserts.

Now picture yourself in this scene! The Historical Society provides beverages - the legendary lemonade from Howard and Lenora Parr - and iced tea. The Manchester Community Band provides entertainment.

The picnic is a chance to spend an evening without TV, visiting with friends and neighbors in one of the most beautiful spots in our community. Bring a dish to share, your own table service, and prepare to enjoy yourself the good, old-fashioned way.

The winery is located at 57012 Sharon Hollow Road, about 3-1/2 miles west of the intersection of M-52 and Pleasant Lake Road. We look forward to meeting you there.

Lyme Disease prevalent in Michigan NAME WANTED FOR PEREGRINE CHICKS

A recent Michigan Lyme Disease Association survey indicated that Lyme disease is far more prevalent than health department surveillance studies have shown. 517 residents responded to the survey, reporting that they have been or are currently receiving treatment for Lyme disease by 111 doctors across the state. Individuals called from 234 cities and 67 counties. Unlike the Michigan health department's claim that few Lyme disease cases occur in the lower peninsula, the M.L.D.A.'s informal survey found that 91% of respondents were from the lower peninsula. It is prevalent in urban areas such as; Detroit, Grand Rapids, Flint, Bay City, and Saginaw.

Lyme disease is a serious bacterial infection. Current blood tests are unreliable. To further complicate diagnosis, only 30-50% of patients show evidence of the classic bulls-eye rash. Left untreated, severe, potentially dangerous complications can develop. Common symptoms of early disease include: skin, joint, heart and brain infections. Late stages of the disease are often difficult to treat and may require intensive antibiotic therapy. Lyme disease remains a clinical diagnosis by knowledgeable doctors.

We believe Lyme disease is a serious threat in Michigan. It is often unrecognized, misdiagnosed, and under-reported. Prevention, education, and prompt treatment remain crucial to the health of Michigan residents against this devastating disease.

Entrants should include their name, address and telephone number along with the names for the birds. Deadline for entries is July 1.

The decline of peregrine falcons has been linked to chemical pesticides, primarily DDT. Michigan's peregrine restoration program, which began in 1986, is funded through the DNR's Natural Heritage Program, with contributions made primarily through the Nongame Wildlife Fund checkoff on Michigan state income tax forms.

A major goal of the project is to reestablish ten breeding pairs of peregrines in Michigan by the year 2000. People interested in supporting the program can send a check or money order payable to the Non-game Trust Fund, Department of Natural Resources, P.O. Box 30180, Lansing 48909. "Detroit Peregrine Program" should be noted on the check.

Capital Improvements at Our Library

Last week's Enterprise photograph of the Manchester Township Library (featuring the new Michigan flag) gave a clear picture of the new drop box. When the former box rusted through, local supporters contributed funds to replace it. Director Dorothy Davies used additional donations to upgrade the Library's computer. Now the staff daily accesses other library collections for items needed by patrons. Contributors to these capital improvements include Johnson Controls Container Division, Johnson Controls Machinery Division, Manchester Plastics, Manchester Men's Club, Boone's Tree Farm, and patrons Merrill & Jane Korth.

Gazebo Concert Series Begins

The Raisin Pickers

Come on down... and enjoy the entertaining music of The Raisin Pickers as the 1995 Concert Season officially opens in Manchester this Thursday, June 16th, at 7:30 pm at the Gazebo on Main Street.

The Raisin Pickers have been described by the Ann Arbor Observer as "the only outfit around these parts offering the skilled yet affectionate sort of folk music you might hear on 'A Prairie Home Companion.'" And they are home town folks!!!

A five-piece string band, the group consists of Bill Farmer, Mike Gleason, Carol Palms, Mark Palms, and Gary Reynolds. They play fiddles, banjos, guitar, dobro and bass—plus such non-stringed instruments as cello, washboard, accordion, and even tuba! Their mixture of bluegrass, novelty tunes, old-time string band swing, and originals is sure to please audiences of all ages.

The Raisin Pickers' performance will also feature "clogging," traditional Appalachian dancing, with some of the tunes. Cloggers will be Sheila Graziano and Jacqueline Palms (and perhaps some others, too)!

Coming next Thursday, June 23rd, the Gazebo will present Short Dead Dudes, a rock 'n roll band which originated in Manchester. It's modern...and it's fun. Come. It is sure to be something different!

The Gazebo concerts are organized and presented by the Recreation Task Force, a volunteer organization of Manchester people who lend their energies and talent to making things "happen" in the community. You are very welcome to join in the effort—just stop by for a meeting, or call the Community Resource Center at 428-7722 to get more information.

In case of rain, the concert will be held indoors at the K of C Hall. See you this Thursday for the first of a ten-week long season of Thursday evenings concerts at the Gazebo!

Do You Love to Sing?

Wanted: People who love to sing - to be part of the community chorus which will sing at the Gazebo Concert on Thursday, July 7.

Requirements: First and foremost, a love of singing. Second and equally important, the desire to have a good time. Third and necessary, the ability to make two practices before the concert and to come a bit early that Thursday evening, July 7th for a warm-up.

Zion Lutheran's Pastor, Rev. Mark Weirauch, passes away suddenly

Pastor Mark Weirauch

Pastor Mark A. Weirauch, of Zion Lutheran Church, Chelsea, pastor and friend to many in the Manchester area, passed away suddenly on Thursday, June 16, 1994 at Chelsea Community Hospital.

Pastor Mark came to Zion in November of 1987 after serving St. John's Lutheran Church in Oak Harbor, Ohio for seven years. He was ordained after receiving his Master of Divinity in 1980.

He is survived by his wife, Deborah Ann (Dennie) Weirauch, children, Rachel, Andrew and Kristin Weirauch, and by his parents, Clarence and Loeta (Rabe) Weirauch, along with several siblings, nieces and nephews.

Funeral services for Pastor Mark were held at the Zion Lutheran Church on Sunday, June 19, and interment will be held at Forest Hill Cemetery in Napoleon, Ohio, his home town. While at Zion, Pastor Mark has been noted for his dedicated youth ministry and has taken an active role in the Chelsea Ministerial Association as well as other community and church-related organizations.

Most recently, Zion Church has embarked on an ambitious building addition which will renovate the entrance and provide handicap access. This project was extremely important to Pastor Mark, and its completion will be an important occasion to the congregation.

Pastor Mark's energetic leadership will be missed by his congregation and the communities of Chelsea and Manchester. Please keep the Weirauch family and Zion congregation in the thoughts and prayers of our community. -MJC

Manchester School System Policy Program tested

Prior to graduation, a drug incident occurred which tested the recently implemented "Policy Program" of Manchester school system.

LSA was brought to the High School. Purchased off campus by one student, sold to a second student, and delivered and consumed by a third student. The consuming student had a reaction to the hallucinogenic drug and was taken home by a friend and fellow student. A staff member observed the student's erratic behavior.

When the details of the incident became known, an investigation was initiated by the high school staff. The Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department was summoned and began their own investigation. Superintendent Niedzwecki was informed.

Superintendent

Niedzwecki is the appeals officer for such incidents and had to await the staff's determination. This was necessary so that the students' appeal rights, as outlined in the Policy Program, were not violated.

The first two students were suspended from school for ten days each for delivery and or sale of a drug. The consuming student was suspended for five days for use of a drug. One of the students suspended for ten days, after returning to school was found guilty of a second offense. This resulted in an automatic expulsion.

A discussion of the incident was briefly mentioned at a School Board meeting and was down played by Board President Sahakian. Superintendent Niedzwecki informed the Enterprise this was necessary as the involved students appeals rights had not been completed. Our review with some of the Board Members indicated that they were not aware of the incident. Niedzwecki accepted responsibility for not informing all the board members.

According to these Board members, President Sahakian is not sharing information with all of them. Comforting is the fact that the administration implemented the Policy Program to its fullest affect. The faculty member who observed and reported the student's erratic behavior, is to be commended highly.

Parents: be aware of these situations. Talk to your kids. We all need to keep our eyes open, and our heads out of the sand, in order to prevent further occurrences like this in our school system. -EWG

What is received in donations, is spent the next year on fireworks displays. So be generous, as you can continue to offer the BEST fireworks around! Rain date is July 4. -MJC
