Middle School Hit by Vandalism

Local Student a Participant

Wednesday night, June 22, the Middle School was broken into by vandals who seemed bent on total destruction.

Entering by the south west door, the office was an obvious target. A filing cabinet, copying machine, broken doors, and the phone system were all destroyed. The filing cabinet, which was locked, had been files pulled out but no apparent theft. The desk was missing a few dollars in pencil money, the only cash that was stolen. A new copy machine, which had been installed only the day before, had the glass plate shattered, the cartridges torn out and broken, and had obviously been beaten with heavy objects. Mrs. Goodell's monitor was broken; the computer itself was awaiting a technician to see if it had been damaged. The phone wires had been pulled from the wall and the answering system was also demolished.

An attempt had been made to enter the safe; a door to the room where the safe was located had been pried and finally the hinges removed. Heavy instruments were used to smash the face of the safe when efforts to open it failed.

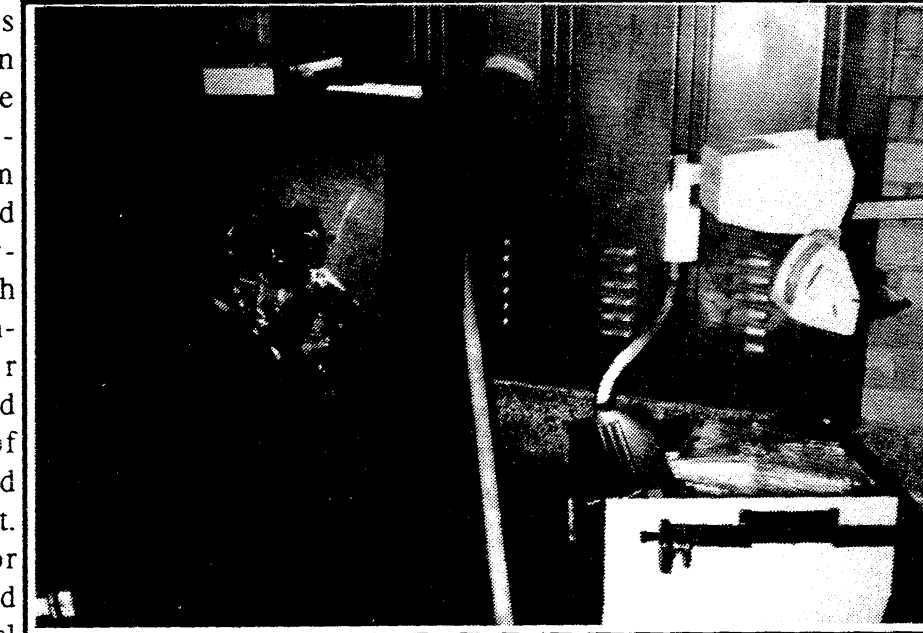

Mr. Schick's office door had several holes in the glass, but the wire imbedded in the glass prevented entry. The vandals then proceeded to the classroom to the south, where there was a glass door, and broke the window for entry into the principal's office. The damage was slighter inside Schick's office; a small amount of glass was broken and his desk had been opened and ransacked.

Across the hall in the gym, the newly-cleaned gym floor had been covered with fire extinguisher powder and buckets of soap poured overtop of it. The floor will need professional crews to repair the damage.

The library was the hardest hit in the school. Looking at a video of the destruction, it was hard to imagine why and how the vandals had done so much damage. "Trashed" is the only term relevant to the condition of the library. Two computer printers, monitors and hard drives, three televisions, an overhead projector, another copy machine, and older audio-visual equipment stored in the library for the summer, were completely smashed and destroyed. Card catalog drawers had evidently been thrown in the air and dropped on the floor - the cards were scattered everywhere in the library, and many drawers were broken. Books were all over the floor.

Down the hall in the science lab, broken glass from vials which had held chemicals, including formaldehyde, were smashed on the floor. Not only was the condition of the room difficult to look at, it was impossible to stay in the room for more than a few seconds at a time without being overcome by the fumes. Again, professional cleaners will be required to alleviate the damages.

In the hallways, broken glass was everywhere. Display cases, windows from the classrooms, and other inside glass were shattered everywhere. By Friday, when the Enterprise staff made their visit, much of the glass had been cleaned up, but much more was left to be accomplished.

The feeling of violation and hurt was palpable in the Middle School, even on the following day. Viewing the video, the voices of the staff members often caught in near-sobs as they described the devastation.

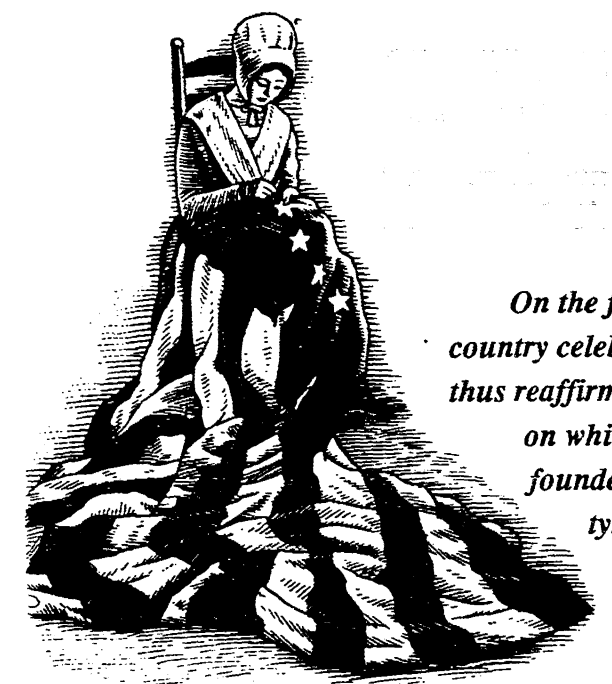

"These people take a lot of pride in the school; they feel the buildings are theirs', and their reaction is understandable," said Superintendent Niedzwiecki.

"Today we can look at this a little more objectively," commented Charlene Goodell. "Yesterday, we were in tears for most of the day."

This week still finds much of the clean up work continuing. Chris Honer, Liz Beuerle and other staff members are trying to put the card catalogues back together. This is a time-consuming task, made more difficult by the fact that many of the cards have fallen behind filing cabinets and bookshelves in the library.

Estimates on the costs of the damage are still being developed. According to Goodell, "We've reached $20,000 and there is still more to be done." It is obvious that the final tally will

Dairy Queen wins "Golden Cone" Award

The staff of the Manchester Dairy Queen have worked hard and made a real team effort, and earned themselves not only an international Dairy Queen award, but a trip to Cedar Point compliments of Jeff Fahey, owner, and Jeff Knasiak, manager, of the Manchester Dairy Queen.

Thanks to the generous effort of many of the Dairy Queen "Alumni", who pitched in to operate the store during the evening hours, the staff was able to take a well-deserved break from their routine to make the Cedar Point trip a great time for all. So far, the season has proven to be even busier than last year. The hard work and team effort by this group, has resulted in a 10% improvement in speed of customer service.

Construction is now underway on the second Dairy Queen Store by this team, which is located in the old United Savings Bank building on Michigan Avenue in Clinton.

In addition to expanding food offerings, this new Dairy Queen Store will offer drive-through service and a complete line of Dairy Queen Cakes and Blizzard Pies.

Premier Construction, owned by Manchester local Ron Milkey, is working hard to achieve a yet-to-be-determined August opening date.

Carnage at the Middle School

Friday June 23, the staff of the Enterprise visited the Middle School. At about 11:00 PM Wednesday June 21st, the Middle School had suffered a break-in.

After seeing the broken and damaged school property, and as we reviewed the video of the break-in aftermath and resulting carnage, I felt violated. At the time of our visit the perpetrators had been apprehended by the Washtenaw County Sheriff Department.

It is hard to imagine that two 14-year-old juveniles, one a Manchester School student and the other a Jackson County resident visiting his father in Manchester, could have caused so much damage. Worse than that, however was the question of why they would cause the damage. What possibly could have motivated two 14-year-olds to wantonly cause such destruction?

Suspension from school does not seem to be an appropriate disciplinary measure. If you have seen the damage, you may agree a more positive type of action should be taken. Public caning, paddling, stocks or any physical retribution seemed more appropriate.

Say what you will, but direct application (or threat thereof) of discipline, seems to be an effective deterrent that our society has discarded. Perhaps we should reconsider?

Manchester's Summer Bloodmobile

It's hard to believe that in just two and a half weeks, Manchester will be hosting the 'Summer Bloodmobile'. As is normally the case, the facility which we will use is the American Legion Hall. (They have air conditioning!)

The date of this blood drive is Monday, July 18, and the time is from 1:pm until 7:pm. Our hosting group will be the ladies of the American Legion Auxiliary, with Marilyn LaRock as the chairman of the day.

In a letter that I received from the Red Cross Blood Services office in Detroit, it is mentioned that blood collections for the month of July are anticipated to be particularly low. This is caused by the long 4th of July weekend, summer vacations and the automobile plants that will be on shut down.

While ALL blood is needed, the greatest need is for the type 'O' donors. Almost anyone of any blood type can be given type 'O' blood. It is sometimes referred to as the 'Universal Blood Type'.

On a human interest note, not long ago I received a call from a Manchester resident with a request of possibly finding between 4-6 blood donors of a specific blood type. The reason for the request was that member of the family was to have a very serious, possibly life threatening, operation and wanted to be able to be 100% sure of the blood that might be needed for this surgery. Six people were found and through arrangements made by the Red Cross Blood Services in Detroit, the main office, the donors all went to Ann Arbor and made their donations. Each pint of blood was tagged for the surgical patient. The person came through just fine and is now home and doing well.

This is not a common request; in fact, it is the first that I am aware of. The Red Cross does everything in their power, though testing, to make sure that all the blood that is given by us, the general public, is safe. We the donors, are also a major factor in making sure the blood is safe. We now that by giving, we are insuring that the person in need will be kept safe.

There are several ways to sign up to be a blood donor. Our local churches and industries all have a person who will be doing the recruiting. If you wish to donate, but are not contacted, then look for the small boxes (recipe card type) at the Baker's Dozen, Comerica Bank, First of America Bank, Great Lakes Bancorp, Kleinschmidt's Hardware and Walco Foods stores. There are cards in them you can fill out and then leave in the box. And if you decide at the last minute you are available to donate that very PRECIOUS gift, a pint of your blood, we will be more than happy to have you just walk in and say, "I'd like to donate."

Remember, there are no holidays or vacations when it comes to the need for blood. Be a summer blood donor. -Marja Warner

What are Parents to do With Their Kids this Summer?

"I'm bored!" "I have to have the car to get to Ann Arbor." "THERE'S NOTHING TO DO IN MANCHESTER!"

Years ago, Manchester hosted dances on the tennis courts every summer. This tradition faded twenty-five or more years ago, but is being revived by the Manchester Recreation Task Force in a revised form. The first dance, a trial run, is scheduled for Saturday, July 2, 1994 on Adrian Street between Main and Ockrow. "Silver Sounds" will D.J. from 8:00 to midnight. All teens should plan on coming.

Admission is $3.00 per person to defray the cost of the disc jockey and porta-facilities. Adult chaperones are scheduled. If you would like to join this group or volunteer for a future date, please call 428-7722.

The ground rules are simple. If you know a thirteen to nineteen year old, they should come and have a good time. No drugs, no alcohol, no smoking, and no leaving the dance area and returning. So when you hear "I'm going up town," you will know at least one night this summer just what that means.

If the dance on July 2nd is a success, the Recreation Task Force plans to schedule at least one more dance before school starts.

St. Mary to Begin New Building Project

First time since 1911

"At long last, after three years we are ready to begin our barrier-free project," began Fr. Murray in his letter to parishioners in last Sunday's church bulletin. For more than three years the people of St. Mary's have been discussing and looking at diagrams and possible plans for a second entrance/exit to the church, an entrance which would also provide barrier-free access.

Currently the only entrance is the front steps to the church which are very steep. Anyone in a wheelchair or on crutches, or anyone who simply has difficulty climbing long steep steps has been effectively unable to attend church liturgies or other activities in the building.

Also, other than the front door, the only other exit from the building is a narrow door at the back which has even steeper steps and which therefore does not serve as an adequate second emergency exit. Now the fruit of three years of research labor is nearly ready to pick. St. Mary Parish is ready to begin fundraising for the "123 Campaign" to finance the building of a second entrance at the east side of the church building near the back.

This entrance will have an enclosed lift device for carrying two people at a time from the sidewalk level either up to the church worship area or down to the church social hall in the basement. It will also have an outside staircase. The "123 Campaign" will also raise money to make the bathrooms barrier-free and to carry out some necessary repairs in the church building, the downstairs social hall, and the new parish center (formerly the K. of C. building).

The name for the fund-raising campaign comes from the history of the parish. 123 years ago St. Mary Parish was founded. In the "year 40," which was in 1911, parishioners responded to the need for a larger church building by contributing the necessary materials—time, funding, and stones. Now in this year, "Year 123," the people are again being asked to help. The needs are simple and obvious. The solutions are practical and necessary. And the parishioners are again, in this 123rd year, asked to provide the means to bring about the solution.

The people of St. Mary Parish look forward to this timely opportunity to meet the present needs. And the solution should be attractive and pleasing to the community of Manchester. The small addition will have a clay tile roof and random field cobblestone walls to match the beautiful historic building. A stained glass window will be removed in making the new entrance into the church, but it will be relocated in the addition and will face Main Street.

Compared to a new church building, this undertaking is modest. It is nevertheless very important. The worship space for St. Mary Parish will be safe and accessible for all who wish to gather there to praise and worship the Lord and to rejoice with the St. Mary community of faith!

New Format for Property Tax Bills

In July, the residents of the Village of Manchester and residents in the school districts of Clinton and Columbia may notice a change in the appearance of their summer tax bills. These changes were required in order to implement the new property tax reform bill voted in the March 1994 election.

The State Tax Commission now requires that a tax bill show the percent of the state equalized value that has been declared as exempt as a homestead. For most improved residential properties, this will be 100%. The tax bill must also include space for the State Education tax. This is the state levy of six mills on all properties. The Commission also recommended that there be separate calculations for the School Operating Millage and School Debt. In the past, these levies have been calculated together. (The operating millage is only levied on non-homesteaded properties). Washtenaw County has had to redesign the tax bills to incorporate all these changes. Although these requirements do not pertain to summer village tax bills, all governmental units will be using these new forms.

Village tax bills do not include any school property tax millages. Therefore, there will not be a noticeable change in the amounts of summer Village taxes paid in 1994. Township tax bills (Manchester school district - December bills) because they include school millages, will be significantly lower.

Although your bill may look a little different, the bottom line will reflect a reduction in school property taxes.

doing all the damage described in about an hour's time. The clock in Schick's office had stopped at 11:10 pm.

Incredibly, the suspects did not seem to have any special reason for their actions. Speculation has occurred about the involvement of a young girl, a vendetta on the school, and other causes of the vandalism. According to Sgt. Jerry Haensler, "they were just looking for something to do." And their "something to do" became one of the most severe cases of vandalism that Sgt. Haensler has personally handled.

What will happen to these offenders? Potentially, the Manchester student could spend time in the juvenile home (Maxey) until he turns 19. The Jackson County youth will be dealt with in that jurisdiction.

Once the insurance claims are filed, and the checks are received, the option will remain with the school board and administration whether to charge these youths and/or their parents for any uncovered balance.

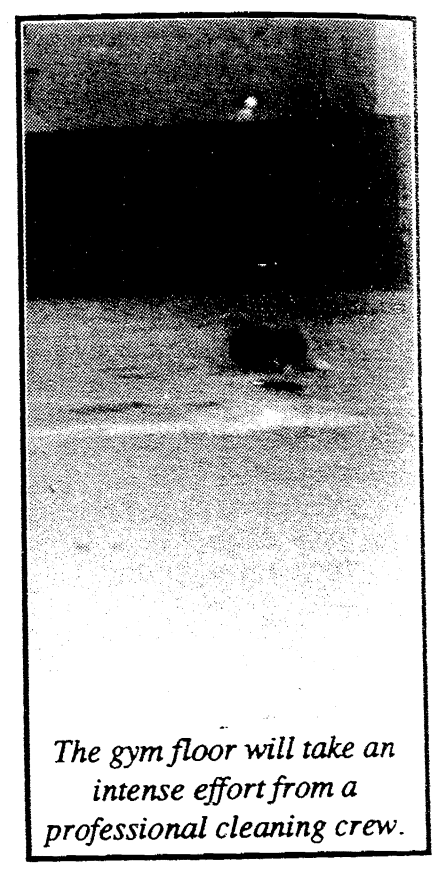

The question of accountability remains. It is mind-boggling that only two young people could cause such havoc, "just venting their frustration." As Brian Schick said to us on Friday, "This is not just a school problem; it is a community problem."

What will the community do?

be well in excess of that figure.

Washtenaw County Sheriff Deputies were on the scene last Thursday morning. Before the news broke to the public, two suspects were apprehended after they wandered onto the school grounds - a proverbial "returning to the scene of the crime". The quick observations of deputy Bill Moffett turned up a library card in one of the suspect's pockets. Upon further questioning, it became more obvious that these were, indeed, the vandals for whom they were searching.

Two fourteen-year-old juveniles, one a Jackson County resident visiting a parent in Manchester, and the other a Manchester student who would be entering High School this fall, were taken into custody. The local youth was released into the custody of his parents. The Jackson County youth was returned to his county of residence, where he already had a juvenile record.

The youths admitted to having a "fire extinguisher fight" in the gym, using bolt cutters to attempt to open the safe, and

Senseless Vandalism Rampant

Sixteen years ago, we bought a house. One of the selling points mentioned by the Realtor was the fact that the dump across the street was being turned into a park by the village. Plans were made to put tennis courts and a playground there.

Looking across the street, we laughed. So far there was a sandlot for baseball and a dirt parking area. Not a tree in sight. Some park!

A few years later, swings, merry-go-round and other playground toys were added. Small trees were planted. A fence was put behind the sandlot, and people played impromptu softball games there on weekends. Our toddlers loved to play at the park.

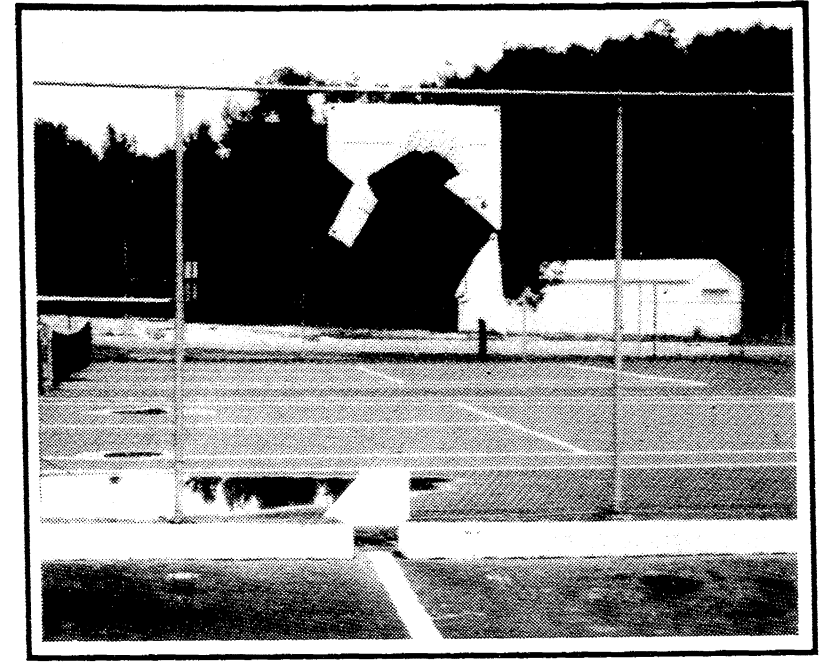

One summer, we were entertained by helicopters flying over the park with night scopes, looking for the panther which had reportedly been seen in the park. We had a few nights when it was difficult to sleep because of low-flying aircraft or heavy police and animal control traffic down our street.

Then real baseball diamonds were added at the other end of the park. T-ball and little league ball games were begun. Minor annoyances such as people occasionally parking on our lawn were easily solved. We bought tennis rackets, but it seemed like we would never get a chance to use them. Some trees were damaged and were re-planted.

One Hundred Rose Bushes were planted in honor of Mrs. Kirk's 100th birthday and the park was officially named "Kirk Park". A wooden sign was erected by the rose garden.

About four years ago, they moved the playground equipment. The ball diamonds were further improved. They excavated at our end of the park and we learned that we might actually get to use those tennis rackets for something besides killing bats. It seemed we really would have a park across the street - and maybe before our kids were too old to appreciate it!

The tennis courts and a basketball court were paved, along with a large parking lot. Great! Now no one would have to park on our lawn. The kids rode bikes, roller-skates and skateboards on the blacktop. They learned that the signs said "NO BICYCLES, SKATEBOARDS, OR ROLLER BLADES ON TENNIS & BASKETBALL COURTS," although some kids (and parents) couldn't seem to read these signs. Waste cans beer cans come from, I asked? They weren't there when I went to bed the night before. Well, he told me, he can't be everywhere. (I know). Maybe the kids were of legal age. (I doubt it). He knew the kids; they weren't troublesome; they just needed someplace to go. (How about home?) I wasn't satisfied with his answers, but he was just here on rotation; he didn't really have a stake in our community.

This past Sunday I woke to find the sign in the park had been vandalized, the concrete benches had been stolen, and garbage was dumped all over the parking lot. I'm tired of senseless vandalism, in the name of "there's nothing to do in Manchester". I applaud the Recreation Task Force for trying to plan activities which will be of interest to a wide range of kids. I challenge all parents to help your kids find a safe and reasonable outlet for their energies. I do not think the Village of Manchester and the Washtenaw County Sheriff Department are baby-sitters for teenagers. If there's "no place for them to go", an excuse I have heard once or twice too often, why don't you provide a place for them? How about hosting them in your front yard for once, instead of mine? Maybe you, too will get tired of finding beer cans, used condoms and other garbage, and set down some ground rules for your sons and daughters. Don't count on others to do it for you.

My husband said the other day he wished we still had a dump across the street. I said, I think we still do. What an unfortunate attitude to have about what should be a beautiful addition to our community. It's a sad commentary on our village of Manchester.

-Marsha Johnson Chartrand

louder, voices are raised. Those nights I have called 911, a patrol car responds within fifteen minutes. They chase the kids out - at least the ones who are there at that moment - and leave. Often they don't return. But in five minutes, the kids are back. They cruise in and out every few minutes, squealing their tires and racing their engines all the way up the hill. The cat-and-mouse game appeals to them.

One Saturday morning, I found 15 beer and pop cans in the park. I talked to the officer who had been on duty the previous night and he said he'd been down there, once, and the kids weren't drinking. Where did the Wanna get rid of ants? Have you tried microwaving? While Sammie was here visiting a while back, we took her dog food from the large bag and put some in a white plastic bag, and put it on the back porch. Lo, and behold, when feeding time came, small ants were feasting on it. These were the smallest red ants I've ever seen and I liberally sprayed that area. Into the microwave the bag went (a safe place for temporary seclusion). Hubby opened the door to discover my hiding place and said, "Aha, let's try something", as there were more in there on a paper towel crawling around. A bowl of water went in and he turned on the oven, only to discover when opening the door that they were still busily moving. What a shock! After disposing of the towel and ants, we are still trying to figure out how they lived through microwaving. They were determined and we can learn from that, it must have taken them all of one day to reach their original destination, being so tiny.

The 41st Annual Manchester Chicken Broil

The third Thursday of July is always a festive time in Manchester, Michigan. This year is the fortieth anniversary of the event. July 21st will be the 41st time that 600 of Manchester's men and boys will gather together to prepare and serve up some 15,000 chicken halves to visitors from all over the country.

You can choose to partake on the grounds or pick up dinners "to go". The time you spend at the site will be filled with entertainment by roving barber shop quartets, the Sweet Adelines, and a variety of stage bands. All this and it still only costs $5.50 in advance or $6.00 at the gate.

The serving starts at 4 PM on the grounds of the Manchester Alumni Field at the corner of Vernon and Wolverine Streets, right in the heart of Manchester. Signs and guides will point the way to convenient parking, from which free shuttle rides are provided by horse drawn wagons.

Proceeds from the broil always go toward projects that help the Manchester community maintain its small town beauty and charm.

Join us on July 21! The delicious dinners

Musical Double Header- this week at the Gazebo!

On the double bill this week at the Gazebo you will find two sides of a coin—so to speak: The side with you in the audience—and also the side with you as the participant.

The first part, the musical performance, will be by a group called Skylark. Then they will be followed by the second side, Manchester's own Bruce and Sharon Hunt, who will get you out of your seats and dancing—country western style, that is!

Skylark is an acoustic group which plays a variety of types of music, from sing-a-longs to swing to folk and country. Expect to hear a spirited and engaging repertoire played on the hammered dulcimer, banjo, guitar, tin whistle, autoharp, mandolin, ukulele, keyboards, fiddle, and dobro. The individuals who make up Skylark are Betsy Beckerman, Anne Jackson, and Tom Wall. For our Gazebo concert, they will be joined by a special guest, Kelly Schmidt. Skylark appeals to audiences of all ages and has played throughout Michigan, from the Renaissance Center in Detroit to the Grand Hotel on Mackinac Island. They have played at fairgrounds, festivals, clubs, schools, and for special events.

Bruce and Sharon Hunt are well known here in Manchester. In their inimitable style, they have been teaching and leading country western dance to an appreciative portion of the community for some time now. This Thursday, they will bring it all on home—at the Gazebo. Both beginners and the more experienced will surely have a right good time! Sharon says she will give an introduction to country western dance. She'll be teaching, "lead and follow," the 2 step, mixers, east coast swing, and maybe a few others.

Although there may be some in the crowd who have already learned the basics from Sharon and Bruce at their dances at the American Legion Hall, there is always more to learn. And for the more shy members of the audience, this will be a great treat—just watching!

The 1994 Manchester Gazebo Concert Series is presented by the Manchester Recreation Task Force, a group of volunteers (your friends and neighbors) who put their energy into making things happen in this community.

The show will go on, rain or shine. Should the Gazebo Concert need to move indoors due to the weather, the rain location is the K of C Hall, located behind the Hop-In. But let's think clear skies. Come to the Gazebo on West Main Street, at 7:30 p.m. this Thursday, June 30th. Bring a lawn chair or a blanket. And maybe bring your dancing shoes. This night will be special!

Next week, we welcome the Gazebo Singers and the Swing Singers who will grace the stage of the Gazebo. Music from the heart—and from the heart of our community!
