be. The Manchester Community School's 'tent' is big enough for everyone. I intend to be open minded about all the possibilities that may be forthcoming in education. Look at the possibility of Charter School for the summer, Home Schooling and other alternatives that might be available that can enhance education.

We need to go to the people to find out what they want for their school system. After all, the people of Manchester Community Schools are our Boss, our Customers and the people that we are elected to serve.

I intend to listen to all Board of education members for they have been elected by the voters to serve the voters' interests."

We asked Paul what he expects to be one of the early problems for this school year. His response was very enlightening. "We have started negotiations for the new teacher contract. Our American system of government, like it or not, is based upon negotiation of contracts. That is just the way it is. Sometimes it can be difficult but don't forget, this is part of our way of life. We will have a contract, our kids will have all of their school time and they will be educated."

As one board member stated, "Rest assured of one thing: Mr. Kluwe is one sharp cookie and he will get the job done."

Class of 1998 Works on their First Float

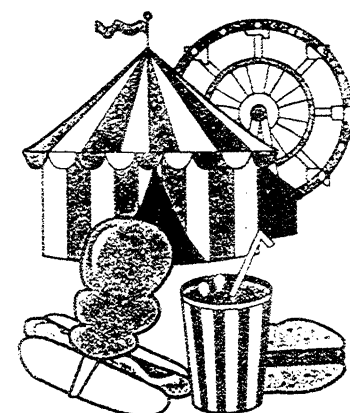

The incoming Freshman Class has been busily at work on the first Fair float of their high school career. Working at the Oak Leaf Farm on Schleweis Road, many of the class members have spent long hours making this first float a special one - complete with Ferris Wheel!

Since the Enterprise is a sponsor of their float, we went to check on their progress Monday evening. We found they were nearly done and were celebrating all their hard work.

Have a great week at the Manchester Community Fair!

The Manchester Chicken Broil Everyone's Family Tradition

There are few things in our lives that we can be certain of happening. Some of those "legendary" certainties are not very pleasant - but at least one is really fun: The Manchester Chicken Broil!!

This will be the 41st annual broil, and residents of Manchester have been celebrating this event in their own traditional ways since 1954.

Danny and Kathy Hakes have invited Danny's co-workers to the Broil for the past eight years. The Hakes' that evening, all of them coming from the Detroit area. One year, Danny invited a guest straight from New York City. Ann Arbor seemed rustic to him, and on his way to Manchester he said, "I have seen things I have never seen before and smelled things I have never smelled before!!" Danny is one of the many volunteers who make the Broil a success. When he leaves his job, he goes directly to the Broil to help make the FAMOUS COLESLAW.

Bertha Briggs and her family take a quieter approach to the broil. Bertha goes down early to stand in line, then her daughter or son-in-law will come down to help her after they get out of work. Usually, Bertha will buy about six dinners for her family.

Betty and Larry Benedict will entertain between 10 and 15 people again this year. The Benedicts have lived just down the street from all the Broil activities for ten years, so they are able to keep an eye on the take out line for a quick entry. About three of the guests are "drafted" to get in line and pick up the dinners while everyone else relaxes and enjoys the company. Larry and Betty have never missed a Broil; Larry has worked in the 'pits' and is now a Pit Foreman, and Betty has been one of the faithful supporters who makes the Broil a success.

For seventeen years, Wes and Kathy Gall have entertained family and friends at their house on Broil Day. The numbers vary from year to year, but each year a good time is had by everyone. Last year, the Galls had their most distinguished guests - Gerry Hanlin and his family. Gerry is the former defensive coordinator for the Michigan Wolverine football team under Bo Schembechler.

Mel and Joyce Sroufe's guests will swim, play volleyball and catch up on each other while enjoying the delicious chicken dinner. Mel and Joyce will entertain between 24 and 36 people this year, and have done so for fifteen years.

Bob and Linda Back have lived in Manchester for five years and every year have attended the Broil. The Backs have had both take out dinners and stayed on the grounds to enjoy the meal. This year, Bob thinks they will stay on the grounds to eat. He has found that it takes less time to be served and his family enjoys being in the action and taking part in their community's wonderful tradition.

Herb Widmayer, local business owner, dies at age 92

Herbert A. Widmayer 92, of Manchester, passed away on July 17, 1994 at the Saline Evangelical Home.

Herb was born in Manchester on January 12, 1902 the son of Fred and Emma (Faus) Widmayer. In 1924 he was married to Isabel A. Allan and she preceded him in death on August 14, 1983. Herbert owned and operated the Widmayer Hardware Store in Manchester until he retired in 1972. He was also a member of the Emanuel United Church of Christ.

Herb was also the founder of the Manchester Movie Theater and the Widmayer Furniture Store. He also served as Secretary/Treasurer for the Manchester Fire Department for many years, retiring in 1992 after serving with dedication for fifty years.

Herbert is survived by one daughter, Doris A. Goodman of S. Dartmouth, Mass; one granddaughter, Susan W. Goodwin, also of S. Dartmouth; one nephew, Russell Widmayer of Saline. He was preceded in death by his parents and his wife, Isabel.

The Widmayer family will receive callers at the Jenter-Braun Funeral Home on Thursday, July 21 from 7-9 pm. Funeral Services will be held on Friday, July 22 at 11 am from the Funeral Home, with Rev. W. Brewster Willcox officiating. Interment will be in Oak Grove Cemetery.

Those wishing an expression of sympathy for the Widmayer family may make memorial contributions to the Manchester Township Fire Department.

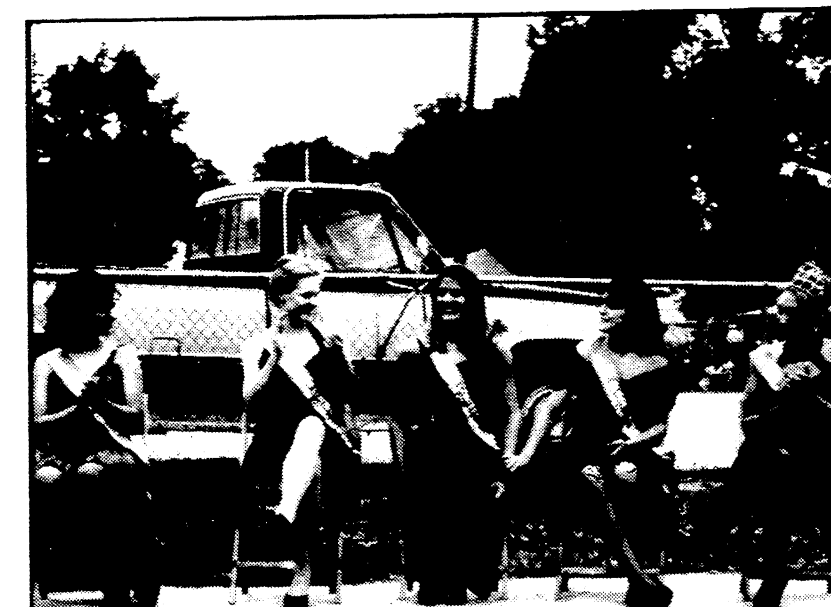

In remembering Herb, former Chief Jim Kensler said, "He was always there; he always showed up. When he couldn't fight the fire, he would man the hydrant, do traffic control, or anything else needed. And he would always help with clean up. He was a good guy - he had a steady hand with a lot of the younger firemen."

Herb will be missed by his fellow firemen and by the Manchester Community.

Fifty Years at the Fair; 45 Years of Livestock Auctions

The Manchester Community Fair sponsored its 45th Livestock Auction on Thursday night, July 14. The weather was fine, the bidding was spirited, and everyone - except maybe the livestock themselves - had a good time. There were some recalcitrant swine who didn't want their photos taken, but a photogenic queen, owners, and buyers made up for their stubbornness!

Ten swine, seven steers and thirty-one lambs rounded out this year's auction. A fine looking group of animals and some very dedicated young people who had taken good care of them during their time of stewardship.

The club sponsors, the buyers and the parents can all be proud of the accomplishments of their youth. The community, too, can look with pride at the positive energy these young people have exhibited here.

Editorial / Opinion

To the School Board:
As a Manchester taxpayer, yes, I believe the parents of these boys should be held responsible and have to pay for the damages to the school. Other people have to take out loans, so let them also if they can't pay.

Also, I hope the cases go to court, let them be sent to Maxey. As the saying goes, it will make or break them. Of course, cases today, it's a slap on the hand or wrist, as the saying goes.

I also think if it's possible, the school board should try to enforce a curfew. Like the papers stated, where are these parents, when the young ones are out all hours? Also the police to patrol better, but I've always thought they tend to overlook what young ones in our town are doing.

My parents went through the Depression and took out loans to buy a farm. They raised eight of us children. We didn't even think of destroying or trespassing on other peoples' property. We had great, hard-working parents, and I feel raised eight of us who know how to work and are good citizens.

I do wish any response you people get, will correct problems. After all us taxpayers pay for their education, we shouldn't have to pay for these doing damage. Maybe, if parents had to pay, things wouldn't happen.

Of course, the Enterprise are good to have people's concerned to do this. However, the little survey by Carl Werner hasn't accomplished a thing. People still disobey the law to cross the double line to park on the opposite side of the street. With all the parking behind stores, and too many too lazy to drive around a short block or a U-turn by the K of C Hall, the police haven't corrected this problem, either. What is the village paying them for?

Thank you for listening. I know as I, people don't like to sign their complaint. After all, we value our place and want no destruction here.

FIRST AMENDMENT TO THE U.S. CONSTITUTION

Enterprise Staff,
In regard to your request as to whether the parents of the boys who destructed the Middle School have to pay for their children's actions, I want to say -work with the Manchester boy's parents. Talk to them. From what I have learned about the young fellow from a school teacher, a bus driver and neighbors of the family, this is totally out of character for him. I think he was really miss lead by the other fellow. This has really been a shock to the parents who have always spent their time with the boy. I think the boy should surely be punished some how. I certainly hope the Manchester fellow has learned a hard lesson from this.

Again talk & work with the parents of the Manchester boy. I don't know anything about the Jackson fellow - but don't forget he needs the punishing also for destruction of our Manchester Middle School.

We are a family of four adults who have lived in Manchester only two years. Yes, would like to have believed that such destruction and violence did not occur in this lovely town, but we really knew better. Still, the reports of the recent incidents at the church and the middle school as well as the complaint in the Letter to the Editor regarding the park have saddened us. We would like to express our response to the question of accountability in these situations. We four agree that in any such case those found guilty of the offense should be held responsible to pay the costs of correcting and repairing. Why should the insurance company need to pay when the persons who caused the destruction are known??? The cost if the insurance company pays is only passed on through higher premiums to those of us taxpayers who do abide by the law and guide our children and grandchildren to do the same...that certainly doesn't seem fair! Two of us in this family of four adults have spent 27 years raising our children and foster children and we are well aware that parents don't always know what children are "up to" regardless of how much we try; but it seems that the responsibility for paying the damages still lies more with the parents of the guilty than with the rest of us in the community. We would vote for the school board to press charges. Unless the unjust pay for their injustices, how will this world ever improve? Thanks for the opportunity to express our thoughts.

There has never been anything for the Manchester youth to do in this town unless they are in sports or they are farmers. They can't even play with squirt guns in town without the authorities taking them away. When I was a kid, we used to play frisbee in the street (after hours) and nobody ever bothered us.

As far as the destruction of property that has taken place recently in Manchester, they should have found a better way to vent their frustrations. Whether it was pressure, depression, or any other teenage problem, the decision of what to do about it should be left up to the school board and the courts. These citizens who have given their opinions do not know what goes on in these children's lives or what they are going through now!! As far as naming anyone in these cases, they were all minors and mentioning names would do more harm to the child than good. These kids need help not the severe punishments that have been mentioned by other readers. Lashing and caning is barbaric as far as I'm concerned, where were you from anyway? The Stone Age!!!

I know the Manchester student who was involved in the School incident and he has never been in trouble (of any kind) until now. He is a good kid and has terrific parents and they are taking responsibility for his actions. I also know the child from the Jackson area, he has had a rough time going through a divorce, which is when is trouble started. He could also be a good kid, he just needs a little help. This child and his parents are also taking responsibility for his actions and he also has a terrific father.

The people of this town who are condemning these kids, don't even know the children, their families, or their situations. Therefore they should keep their mouths shut unless they know the whole story!!!
Nobody's Business!!!

Guest Commentary: Judge's tongue-lashing of teens upsets mothers

They do not go in for caning in Oakland County. Even a tongue-lashing is more than some parents can stand.

When Circuit Judge Steven Andrews, during a sentencing, called a group of teen-agers "a despicable bunch of crumbs" and "terrible human beings," three of their mothers knew just how to respond. They filed a complaint against the judge with the Michigan Judicial Tenure Commission. They said he had "humiliated" their sons. "If that's the way he talks to teen-agers," said one of the angry mommies, "how does he talk to murderers or rapists?" I don't know. Judge Andrews seems to have a fairly firm command of the English language, though, and I'll bet he could summon up much better invective than that if he really were on his game. After all, it's not like these buckeroos did anything really wrong. All they did was break into a house when a fight broke out, trash the place to the tune of $8,000, and, allegedly, punch a teen-aged girl in the face — although no charges were brought because she could not identify her attacker. What's so terrible? In the run of horrible events these days, that doesn't even rate a furrowed brow on the six o'clock news anchor's face.

While it is commendable that parents stand by their children during tough times, it's a bit hard to understand why they would go after the judge. The idea that he was deliberately trying to shake these kids up for their own good by using immoderate, harsh, even injudicious language, seems to elude these parents entirely. Not that this is uncommon. A West Bloomfield clergyman told me once about an incident at a dance. One of the young men in attendance had to be removed from the hall because of loud, abusive behavior. When he was taken to the office and told that he was going to be sent home, his response was: "You can't do that. My dad's a lawyer and he'll sue you." The man who told me the story was still shaken by it weeks later. Of course, it's not hard to figure out where the kid would have learned to respond to a situation that way. His parents probably thought it was cute. And who knows? Maybe they really would have sued.

In another recent incident in Bloomfield Hills, members of the school cheerleading squad, upset over being teased by one of the athletic teams, responded by lathering their critics' cars with mustard while the vehicles baked in the hot sun.

The school, trying to avoid legal action, informed the parents that they would each be assessed $700 to cover damages to the cars.

At least one parent stormed into the school office and said she wouldn't pay. "The kids were just playing a practical joke," she fumed. "Don't these parents have a sense of humor?"

Some parents do get it, though. The mother and father of one defendant in the house-trashing case, Andrew Kremhelmer, wrote a letter to a local newspaper supporting the judge. "Our son did something that was very wrong and he has to pay for it," they said.

"I just wish the whole thing would get dropped," said Kremhelmer of Hazel Park when I spoke to him. "I did a really stupid thing and when you do something like that you've got to be strong enough to take what you get," he continued. "Yeah, I was a little bit upset when the judge said those things. I kind of wish my parents hadn't written the letter, either. But from now on, I don't even jaywalk."

Point made, Judge Andrews.

Your Opinion Matters!

Our mail and phone calls are still running heavily in favor of accountability for the students and their parents involved in the school damage last month.

This week's tally included nine "yes" and one "no" vote by phone, and seven "yes" votes in person, in addition to the comments above.

In the Detroit News last Thursday, a column by George Cantor attracted our attention. It seemed very appropriate in light of the recent wave of youth vandalism in our town.

We would like to remind our readers of our standing policy on letters to the Editor, which was suspended for this brief period. Once again we will request that all letters considered for publication must be signed. If there are extenuating circumstances which warrant the withholding of your name, our Editorial committee will give that full consideration.

We appreciate the sincerity with which readers of all opinions have written expressing their views. Hopefully a dialogue will continue, on this issue and others.

All opinions will be forwarded on to the school board for their consideration.

The Manchester Enterprise welcomes letters to the Editor, Guest Editorials, and your comments, suggestions and opinions. We ask that all letters be signed!

BIBLE SCHOOL AT CLINTON UCC

Participants in the 1994 Clinton Community Vacation Bible School, 6 to 8:30 p.m., July 25 - 29, will travel back in time and become the children of Israel who will live in tribal tents in the wilderness near Mount Sinai, spending their time working in a variety of craft shops and contributing to the common goal of the building of the Tabernacle in which God will dwell.

Each evening, with tablets from God in hand, Moses will descend from Mount Sinai to share with the Israelites God's plans for the Tabernacle. Throughout the week, dramas also take place in the wilderness settlement often drawing the children into the action.

As the week progresses, the pieces of the life-size Tabernacle begin to take shape in the craft shops. The excitement builds day by day, and the Israelites grow in reverence and understanding of the task God has entrusted to them. The final day of Bible school arrives, the walls of the Tabernacle are raised, the furnishings set in place and the curtains hung. A feast of fruit, chicken and bread comes from the kitchen and some tour the Holy of Holies while others eat. The Old Testament has come to life!

Sponsored by St. John's Episcopal Church and the United Church of Christ of Clinton, the Clinton Community VBS will take place on the campus of the Kimball-Smith Community Center. Registration is open to the community and can be accomplished by calling (517) 456-4363 by July 22.

MANCHESTER AREA SENIOR CITIZENS News

by T.V. Ludwick

What do you do when the well runs dry? You borrow (or barrow) as from the The Pig Calendar for Jowly 1994. "How Does Your Pig-Garden Grow?" lists plants and we name a few. 'Jonqswills, Pigtunias, Rhodo-pen-dron, Hamsies, Hamaryllis, Bachelor buttons, Styris, Lardspur, Pigionias, Black-eyed sowans, Giltenrod, Pussy swallow and Poinswitia.' The Troughvial Porksuit for Jowly states that hogs eat about 20% of the corn grown in the U.S. (here I thought that hubby and son-in-law Rod accomplished that as they really love it).

A television reporter stated last evening that we'd had .75" of rain so far in July. Did I hear it wrong? We've recorded 1.7" as of July 15 which has made weeding quite a job around here. We are also to the point of mowing nearly twice weekly which doesn't appeal to me much. But have two tomatoes just about ready to pick and cucumbers now needing picking each day, whee! Isn't it fun? Pig Calendar states "Halfway Point of 1994" occurred on July 2. That doesn't make me too happy either!

Thursday, July 21: We are forecasting no bad weather for this year's Manchester Chicken Broil. The week before the full moon is the time we choose to go on vacation and the full moon arrives on July 22. (Hope our friends and nephew in Georgia read this.) What a shame to undergo all the problems caused by all that water! Pecan trees are maybe tall enough to outstretch it, but peach trees haven't grown that tall. Anyway, see you at the Big Broil!

Tuesday, July 26: Senior Council Meeting begins at 9:30. Come with your ideas—you can make our programs better by your input.

Thursday, July 28: Bus pickup starts at 4 PM to attend another great Ice Cream Social at St. Mary's Church. There is always something different to make each one unique. Call Erma Alber at 428-8707 if you wish to ride along to the socials (seniors are treated special at each one). Senior Citizens' Card Party will be held at Freedom Township Hall beginning at 7:30 and we invite you to attend. Bus pickup begins at 6, call Erma to ride along to Pleasant Lake. Meanwhile, Manchester Community Band will entertain at the park and they are great!

A correction in the Trumpeter: Olive Feldkamp's No Frost Cake takes a box of Butter Pecan cake mix (or vanilla) instead of butter-scotch cake mix. We are sorry for the error and hope it didn't inconvenience you.

Grilling Comes of Age

When you think of grilling, do you envision a steak or burger over open flames? Welcome to the 90's, a new age of grilling, with high-tech equipment that charbroils, smokes and roasts. It's also an era of grilling non-traditional foods that reflect the healthier tastes of the 90's — leaner meats, fresh fruits and vegetables, and new flavor profiles.

Increasingly, garden produce —zucchini, bell peppers, broccoli, endive and even squash — is ending up on the grill. Brushed lightly with olive oil and sprinkled with herbs or flavored vinegars, char-grilled vegetables make an eye-peeling complement to any entree.

Fruit is also making an appearance, as pineapple and apple chunks are grilling beside pork, chicken and fish. Fruit kabobs of pineapple and orange, peach, nectarine or plum wedges bring fruit salad into the new age.

Even traditional picnic fare as potato salad can be contemporized with a little fire power. Skewer small new potatoes, grill them, then drizzle with a vinaigrette (see recipe).

For dessert, consider a "grilled" baked apple. Start with a partially peeled, scooped-out apple. Fill the cavity with butter, walnuts, raisins, and a touch of cinnamon. Wrap in heavy foil and grill for 40 minutes.

Skewered French Potato Salad

32 small new potatoes, washed and dried
4 tablespoons vegetable oil
1/2 cup olive oil
6 tablespoons red wine vinegar
1 teaspoon Dijon-style mustard
1 teaspoon dried thyme
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 minced shallot
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
2 tablespoons minced chives

Rub potatoes well with the vegetable oil. Skewer four potatoes on each of 8 metal skewers, leaving space between the potatoes. Grill over moderately hot coals, turning once, for about 20 to 25 minutes, until the potatoes are tender. Meanwhile, whisk together remaining ingredients. Arrange skewers on serving platter, twist each potato open slightly with a fork, drizzle with the dressing, turning each skewer to coat potatoes. Serves 8. (Approximate per serving: 165 calories, 10 grams carbohydrate, 1 gram fiber, 13 grams fat, 324 milligrams sodium.)

Fair Wrap-Up

Melissa Driessche Crowned '94 Fair Queen

Melissa Driessche was crowned as the 50th Manchester Community Fair Queen on Tuesday evening, July 12, following the Fair Parade.

Although the Parade didn't seem long enough for some (notably the kids clutching their bags of candy!) it was the culmination of a very L-O-N-G day for Driessche and her Court.

In the early afternoon, the Candidates gathered at the Emanuel Church, where they were interviewed individually by the judges. Criteria for judging included poise, personality, expression, speech, leadership and appearance. At the end, the scores were tabulated and the highest point total awarded in all of these areas named the Manchester Community Fair's 1994 Queen.

Named as First Runner Up was Jennifer Sahakian. Second Runner Up was Maggie Gisting. Miss Congeniality, elected by the entire court, was Jennifer Sahakian. Jennie was chosen on the basis of friendliness, helpfulness and sense of humor.

The Twentieth Century Club has coordinated the Queen Contest for several years now. This year's co-chairs were Sandi Smith and Sharon Day, with a committee including Mary Blossom, Marge Scully, Shirley Carpenter, Judy Walz, Maggie Tapping, Jeanine Uphouse, Mary Kallewaard, Kay Schook, Janice Little, Jean Little, Jean Schmidt, Florence Koceski and Liz Beuerle.

The judges put the contest in such eloquent terms in the following letter, that it is reprinted here rather than on the Editorial Page:

Dear Editor:

We had the privilege of helping judge the Fair Queen Contest last week and want to tell you how impressed we were with your community fair, the many volunteers that make it a success and, most especially, to compliment all of the contestants. The young women presented themselves very well and were a tribute to the community.

I am sure the other three judges, Gerald and Jackie Ellertorpe and Dorothy Kerr, join us in congratulating the community.

The older and more experienced girls displayed a bit more confidence and poise, but even the very youngest presented themselves in a way the community can be proud.

The fact all were attractive was a small part of the total contest. Their achievements to date were taken into account along with volunteer activities and family values and ability to express themselves. We learned several of the girls were from large families, and some have experienced serious set-backs and hardships in their young lives and merged from them stronger than before.

Only one could be crowned queen and we believe Melissa Driessche very well represented the group, but there wasn't one candidate that was not fit to wear the crown and represent Manchester. They are all winners.

On another note, we thank the Committee for hosting us and making us so welcome and comfortable and for them accompanying us to dinner at their own expense. We thank the Fair Board for hosting our dinner and the persons who provided us an exciting time riding in the parade in their new convertibles and restored vehicles. Several of the drivers paid as much as thirty-five dollars for candy to toss to the little children along the parade route.

Obviously, the Manchester Fair is the result of many volunteers working to make it a success. The community can take pride in the event. This kind of event doesn't happen just everywhere - Manchester must be a very good place to live and raise a family!

Sincerely,
James W. & Rose Ann Pelham

People

Homemakers still Jammin'

Is homemaking a dying art? Not in Manchester - at least three energetic women entered the "Homemaker of the Year" competition at the Manchester Community Fair this year.

Grand Champion Homemaker in the Adult division is Jean Robert. Reserve Adult Champion Homemaker is Rebecca Ebersole. And the Junior Champion Homemaker is Jodi Feldkamp.

Our Champion Senior Homemaker, who has lived in Manchester for five years, works 30 hours a week at Mundus & Mundus Insurance in Ann Arbor and has a fifteen-month-old son, Kevin.

"I have lots of energy," Jean explained. Which seems like an understatement when you learn that she entered ninety items in the fair - in every category except wood-working. "I love to bake, sew, craft and cook. I guess I just like to make the most out of every minute." A lot of effort went into Jean's award; she has been striving toward this for two years.

"Two years ago, I decided on Sunday afternoon to go for it," she told us. "I gathered together as much as I could and entered about 40 items.

That year I was Reserve Champion. I was determined to become Champion, but last year Kevin was so little I didn't have the time I needed to prepare."

In addition to her home, garden, husband, son and job, Jean also feels a commitment to 4-H. She was in 4-H for ten years as a young girl, and now helps the Country Expressions Club members with their projects.

For example, says Jean, "Canning is almost a lost art. Growing up on the farm, I remember my mother canning everything. I taught a friend from work how to do it, and I would like to pass this on."

Jean also has praise for those who helped her in her quest. "I entered a picture of Kevin that won Best of Show. I had taken it to Manchester Labs, and Richard enlarged it as a gift to me, because I bring so many pictures in there. Who would have done that for me if I had taken it to Meijers? When it won Best of Show, I felt Richard was sharing in that with me. That's why I love living in a small town."

Jodi, at 14, is following a family tradition. Her mom, Elaine Feldkamp, has been Champion Homemaker two or three times; Sarah, her sister, has been Junior Homemaker three times. Jodi herself is in her second year as Champion Junior Homemaker, and was reserve champion the year before. This year, Jodi had 22 entries in sewing, crafts and foods.

Jodi, too, has those 4-H "roots". Her mom is a 20 year 4-H Leader. As a member and teen leader of the Jolly Farmerettes Plus, Jodi has been busily working on her projects for the upcoming 4-H Youth Show. Not one to start at the last minute, Jodi has been working ever since last year's fairs to prepare her entries for this year. She is also working now on a quilt to enter next year.

Jodi would like a career as a Physical Therapist or a nurse, working with children. Although the realities of the "modern world" have caught up with homemakers who now must juggle work with their home responsibilities, both Jean and Jodi feel strongly that the domestic arts are important and need to be "preserved".

Both agree that entering in the fair is exciting and fun, and wish that more women would enter the homemaker competition, to provide them with a little extra excitement. "Jodi thrives on competition," her sister told us. Just be warned that these ladies are really good at what they do! But, especially in the Junior Division, there was only one entry - Jodi's. So there is certainly room for more to be involved in the fair, and the chance to be recognized for your hard work.

Congratulations, Jean, Rebecca and Jodi!! -MJC

Washtenaw 4H Youth Show

Jason Cousino of Manchester, member of Townline Workers 4H Club, with Cody and Abby, two of his three goats.

Washtenaw County 4-H Fair (Youth Show) will be held JULY 25th - JULY 29th, at the Washtenaw Farm Council Grounds, 5055 Saline-Ann Arbor Road.

The 4-H Youth Show is a special time in Washtenaw County for young and old alike. 4-H'ers, volunteers, leaders, and parents all combine to present the highlight of the summer. More than 800 area youth will be participating in this year's show.

There will be over 1,000 tremendous displays in the livestock and exhibit areas, plus activities every day. The Youth Show runs Monday, July 25 through Friday, July 29, 1994. Animals will be on display beginning Tuesday at 1:00 p.m. The gates open at 8:00 a.m. and close at 10:00 p.m. each day of the show.

Each year, youngsters from across Washtenaw County select animals from the best livestock available in the area, and hand-raise the animals as part of a year-long project. The culmination of their focus and effort is the annual Washtenaw County 4-H Youth and Livestock Auction, held July 28th this year.

At the Youth Show, youngsters enter their project in a variety of classes; and outstanding examples of each breed are given awards. On Thursday evening the top entries from beef, pork, lamb, goat, poultry, rabbit and dairy product categories are brought to public auction. It is an exciting time for the young 4-H members, who receive all proceeds from the sale of their entry.

The schedule for July 25th will include the Cat show, Dog show, Horse & Pony Protege; Therapeutic Riding Classes, lead-line and walk trot.

July 26th will feature an Awards Program and Presentation of 4H Ambassadors at 7:30 PM

On July 27th, the Swine, Rabbit, Sheep, and Beef Shows will continue throughout the day. At 9:00 am, the English Pony and Horse Classes will be held.

July 28th at 4:30 is the 4-H Performing Arts demonstration, with the Livestock Auction at 7:00PM

July 29th concludes the Fair Week, with Demonstrations at 9:00AM and continues with Livestock trail classes, Horse Grand Entry, and Sweepstakes Showmanship.

There will be Livestock and Horse Shows all week. Admission is free. Club Exhibits and Displays can be seen throughout the week.

Chelsea Area Players Present "The Most Happy Fella"

The Chelsea Area Players will present "The Most Happy Fella" July 22, 23, 28, 29 & 30 at 8:00 pm at the George Prinzing Auditorium, Chelsea High School.

The Most Happy Fella is a lively musical with plenty of dance. The story takes place in Napa Valley, California, on a vineyard. Tony, the male lead, visits restaurant in San Francisco and falls in love at the sight of a beautiful waitress. He leaves her his genuine amethyst tie pin and an address. She does not remember him, as she had waited on many people that evening. A pen-pal romance ensues.

Tony is a slightly older gentleman with a very heavy Italian accent and lives with his sister, who does not want her brother to fall in love and leave her alone. Many of the hands on the ranch are also immigrants from Italy.

Rosabella, the waitress, wants to see a picture of Tony. He is hesitant, so he snaps a picture of one of his handsome young farm hands. Rosabella really falls in love with the picture, and eventually agrees to come to Napa and marry Tony...or so she thinks.

The musical is being directed by Ms. DiAnn L. Roy from Texas. Ms. L. Roy started the Chelsea Area Players back in 1972 and has agreed to return to direct this show. DiAnn has an extensive background in musical theatre and CAP is very excited to be working with her on this project.

Tickets are available at the Chelsea Pharmacy or by calling 475-8011. Ticket prices are $8.00; groups of 20 or more may purchase tickets at $7.00 apiece. The Thursday evening (July 28) performance is priced at $5.00.

This Week: Barbershop Harmonies... A Gazebo Favorite!

Love those barbershop harmonies!! This Thursday, July 21st, is of course Chicken Broil Thursday. But the excitement doesn't end with dessert...it continues as dusk falls at the Gazebo on West Main near St. Mary's and Emanuel churches.

Come on down...at about 7:30 p.m. as The Harmonizer Chorus takes the Gazebo stage. This group sings those delightful barbershop harmonies in a big way with a chorus up to 30 voices strong!

Under the direction of Rob Peffigrew, this Washtenaw chapter of an international "Barbershop Society" will transform any number of tunes into the a cappella, four-part, close harmony that we recognize as "barbershop."

The evening will also feature the AYU Quartet, a four-man group from Eastern Michigan University who will give barbershop a little different twist—while giving it their all!

As always, Gazebo concerts are sponsored by the Recreation Task Force, a group of folks just like you who volunteer a little of their time and talent to make activities happen in the community. If you are interested in being a part of the Recreation Task Force, call the CRC at 428-7722.

Rain or shine, Gazebo Concert shows will go on! The rain location is at the K of C Hall. Same time- 7:30 p.m.-same day.

Bring your lawn chair or blanket and linger after the Chicken Broil at the Gazebo this Thursday, July 21st, at 7:30 p.m. It will be a delightful evening of barbershop harmonies!

To: Manchester Downtown Merchants

As a reminder to all, the free parking spaces on Main Street in the downtown area are limited to two (2) hours. The intent of this limit; is for the convenience of your customers. These spaces are not intended for store owners, employees and downtown apartment residents; each business and apartment has convenient spaces behind Main Street for those people.

Unfortunately many owners and employees do abuse the Main Street parking and affect their own and others' businesses. We ask that all owners police themselves and their employees so that Main Street parking is not abused. We much prefer voluntary compliance rather than resorting to strict enforcement of the ordinance. If you do notice people continuing to abuse these parking spaces please advise me or the Deputy on duty and we shall enforce the ordinance.

Cooperation by all in this matter is greatly appreciated.

Ed. note: In addition, Sgt. Haensler requested that the Enterprise inform the public that if you need immediate police assistance, please call either "911" or Central Dispatch at 971-3911. If you do NOT require immediate assistance, or wish to leave a message for Haensler, you may reach his office phone at 971-9036. Please do not call this number in an emergency situation, as it is often answered by machine.

126th Year -- No. 40

Manchester, Michigan

35¢ per copy

July, 1994: The Month That Was...

Dateline, Manchester, MI - July, 1994 - The month that was:

Fireworks, July 3rd - Bigger and better every year! Those of you who enjoyed the fireworks and would still like to contribute are welcome to stop in at the local banks through Friday, July 29 and make your donation.

Pleasant Lake Boat Parade, July 4th - a standing tradition at the Lake! Since we don't have a July 4 Parade downtown, head out next year to watch the decorated boats cruise the lake.

The 50th Annual Manchester Community Fair, July 12-16 - Still going! Our fair, the culmination of a year's work for the Fair Board and many members of our community, is something we can all be proud of. Visitors to Manchester remarked that they couldn't believe that a small Village like this could put on such a great fair.

Bloodmobile, July 18 - The Ladies of the American Legion Auxiliary hostess the summer's annual blood bank at the air-conditioned Legion Hall. Ably coordinated by Marja Warner, the four-times yearly bloodmobiles have happened for over forty years here, and are appreciated greatly by those in need of that precious commodity.

Manchester Day Camp, July 18-21 - Sponsored by the Recreation Task Force and the Lucky Duck!

Steven Bush, of Manchester, was the winner of the Rubber Duckie Contest First Prize - $300.00! His duck was purchased for him by Linda McGee at Great Lakes Bancorp. Rumor has it that Linda had all the posters spread on the bank floor to choose "just the right number". She signed Steven up because he is a Lucky Kid - for sure!! Steven shared part of his prize with Linda but is saving some and will take a little of it on his camping vacation next week.

Rubber Duckie Contest Winners

- First Place: Duck #115 - Steven Bush, $300.00
- Second Place: Duck #257 - Katie Fielder, $150.00
- Third Place: Duck #516 - Judy Keyes, $50.00
- Fourth Place Winners: $20.00 each - #454 Ashley Rogow; #672 Juli Swaney; #130 Robin McCarthy; #22 Dorothy Rogers; #615 Jennifer Hammer; #37 Barbara Mizrahi; #733 Jeannine Uphouse; #392 Rick Burch; #112 Sue Guest; #111 Lisa Brannock; #400 Grant Smith; #72 Sandee Sheats; #57 Jarod Seltenright; #73 Darci Chrestensen; #607 Kathy Woodward; #52 Ann Lee; #696 Sydney Lee; #549 Kaitlyn Marvin; #530 Tab Grimmett; and #729 Don DuRussel, Jr.

Huron Valley Girl Scout Council, this is another "new" tradition (in its seventh year) which seems to get better each year. Co-directors this year were Lynn Green and Julie Mester. See story, page 19.

Manchester Chicken Broil, Thursday, July 21 - Already preparing for the 42nd Chicken Broil next year! And the same "original recipe" pioneered in 1954 is still a resounding success. Story on page 9, this week.

Summer Teen Dances, July 2 and 22 - Sponsored by the Manchester Recreation Task Force, these dances are a hit with both kids and their parents. Kids - for fun and frolic; parents - for knowing their kids are safely expending all that excess energy stored by sleeping late in the summer. Another teen dance is scheduled for Friday, August 19th, so get those dancing shoes ready!

Third Annual Manchester Summer Festival, July 23 - The "new kid on the block" is still getting its feet wet - especially on the bridge at the waterball contest! Of course, those little yellow duckies got a bit damp themselves. The Summer Festival this year boasted over 50 artists and crafters, a mini-carnival, informative booths, sidewalk sales by local merchants, food for all palates to enjoy, and a Classic Car Show added to the festi-

Whew! What a month! -MJC

Welcome visitors: Manchester natives Jon Hardenbergh and mother Mae were in town for the week

CHICKEN BROIL - A Tradition

Richard and Debbie Spring, Manchester residents for ten years, attend the Broil each year. Last year, although they were on their way to Maine for their family vacation with their two daughters, Megan and Katelyn, they still found time to stop by the Broil and "take out" dinners to eat on the road. Now that's dyed-in-the-feather Broil lovers!

Dan and Shannon Fleck have often entertained family and friends in years past. Now that the kids are grown up and family members have moved further away, they still find time to eat that famous charcoal-grilled chicken. Daughter Robin usually "hangs around" at the Broil, visiting friends and taking in all the sights and sounds (and smells!) of the Chicken Broil, while Shannon often takes out dinners for the rest of the family to eat at home.

Sandy Trolz, owner of the 18th Century Shoppe, will stay open until 9:00 that night. However, Sandy is not about to miss out on her Chicken Dinner - She will have her dinner delivered to her directly at the Store!

The employees at Great Lakes Bancorp will be dressed "in uniform" on Thursday. Everyone has an Official Chicken Broil T-Shirt, which will be worn as a casual tribute to the Broil.

Store windows up and down Main Street have the Chicken Broil as their theme. Dr. Al Currey's office has their traditional papier-mache chicken; Bakers Dozen has a "Chicken" window; The Flower Garden has a chick just clucking, "Help!" And speaking of t-shirts, you can get one at the Enterprise.

Everyone in Manchester will participate in making the Broil a success. Preparation for the Broil and the day of the Broil takes a tremendous amount of work; and all the efforts made by the community are volunteer hours. It is not only the men who work the pits and make the slaw and fill the boxes and set up and take down the tables; but it is also the women and children who promote it and prepare for company at their homes, and the business people who cooperate to help make the Broil the success it always has been. This is an entire community at work making this event more successful year after year.
