As July Ends, the Street Work Begins

Well, we made it through all those fun events of July. Now some more vexatious events are starting to happen come the month of August.

Work began on July 28th with approximately $60,000 worth of street work, which (weather permitting!) should be completed by August 5th. This will be followed up with shoulder work, which will be done by the Village DPW.

Bids were received from several contractors, with Thompson-McCully Paving from Jackson, Michigan being awarded the work. Eight sections of streets will be pulverized and repaved along with 3600 square feet of patch work. The Village was able to do this amount of work because of the one mill increase in this years millage rate, which went directly to the local street program.

The bids were just received and approved two weeks ago, but because of an opening in Thompson-McCully's schedule they were able to do the work immediately instead of waiting five or six weeks.

In determining which streets were to be done, a street rating list - which is updated annually - is used along with other factors such as amount of traffic and future work to be done in the area. Costs are evaluated by the staff and Village Council to determine which streets are bid out for work. Extra streets were done this year as a result of the Village's ability to take advantage of a very competitive year in the asphalt paving market.

Streets which will be repaved will be: Clinton, between Duncan and Territorial; Duncan, between Riverside and Beaufort; Furnace Street, between City Rd. and Wolverine; Granger, from City Road to Summit; the intersection at Lafayette and Riverbend Dr; Madison St., from Clinton to Union; Union St., between Madison and the railroad bed; Vernon, from Wolverine to Torrey; and Wolverine St., between Duncan and Vernon Streets. This is a total of over 13 blocks of village streets.

As if this weren't enough detours for you, M-52 was recently resurfaced between Manchester and Chelsea.

The upside of all this is that when winter comes, we will have a lot of great new streets and roads on which to navigate through the snow and ice.

Happy Trails!

Manchester Stamping Receives Award from Honda of America Manufacturing

Don Brown, Honda; Tony Eichmuller & Wayne Hamilton, Manchester Stamping; John Plieman & Michael Fry, Honda; Dennis Herman, Manchester Stamping

The associates of Manchester Stamping Corp. were presented with a supplier award for outstanding achievement in Quality Performance by officials of Honda of America Mfg. (HAM) on Friday, July 29th.

Manchester Stamping was among only 28 of HAM's 320 North American suppliers to receive this Award at the company's 12th annual Supplier Conference in April. Manchester Stamping, who began supplying parts to HAM in 1987, makes metal stampings for the Accord manufactured at the Marysville Auto Plant and Civic manufactured at the East Liberty Auto Plant.

"We are pleased to recognize Manchester Stamping associates for their commitment to supplying quality parts for Honda products," said Dave Nelson, vice president of Purchasing for HAM.

The next few years will be a time of opportunity for HAM suppliers, noted Nelson. Honda's production in North America is projected to increase more than 15 percent in fiscal 1995 (year ended March 31, 1995), exports are up 75 percent, and HAM will begin to produce a new Acura division luxury model for the 1996 model year.

"As we look ahead to our increasing responsibilities for production of domestic and export models, we must continue to improve productivity by using more of the resources and capabilities of our North American supplier base," said Nelson.

Manchester Stamping began production in 1962, and has 88 associates in its 63,500 square foot plant on Austin Road.

MANCHESTER ENTERPRISE Second Front Page: Allen Rd Bridge to be Re-named

New Allen Road Bridge to be dedicated as the John Swainson Memorial Bridge

Before: The bridge, though picturesque, was deemed unsafe for vehicle traffic

The Allen Road bridge over the River Raisin was closed January of 1991 because it was in eminent danger of collapse. The residents of Allen Rd., Hogan Rd. and that general area have been without a means of crossing the river without detouring for approximately three miles.

This old bridge along with the Wallace Road and Wilbur Road bridges to the north have been restricted for weight and width for a number of years. Wide farm equipment and heavy loads have had to go around. With the new bridge and the new roadway approaches that will no longer be a problem. Clinton's Fire Department will have a good access to the general area.

From the close of the old Bridge in January of 1991 it took approximately 1-1/2 years to acquire funding and design the new Structure according to Mr. George Masinda, Project Engineer for the Washtenaw County Road Commission.

Huron Valley Contractors of Ann Arbor was the contractor for the Project. The contract price of $256,489.44 was substantially less than the Engineer's estimate of $291,000. Construction started October 18th, 1993 and the structure was opened for traffic July 1. Mr. Masinda said the work went well and no unusual problems were encountered.

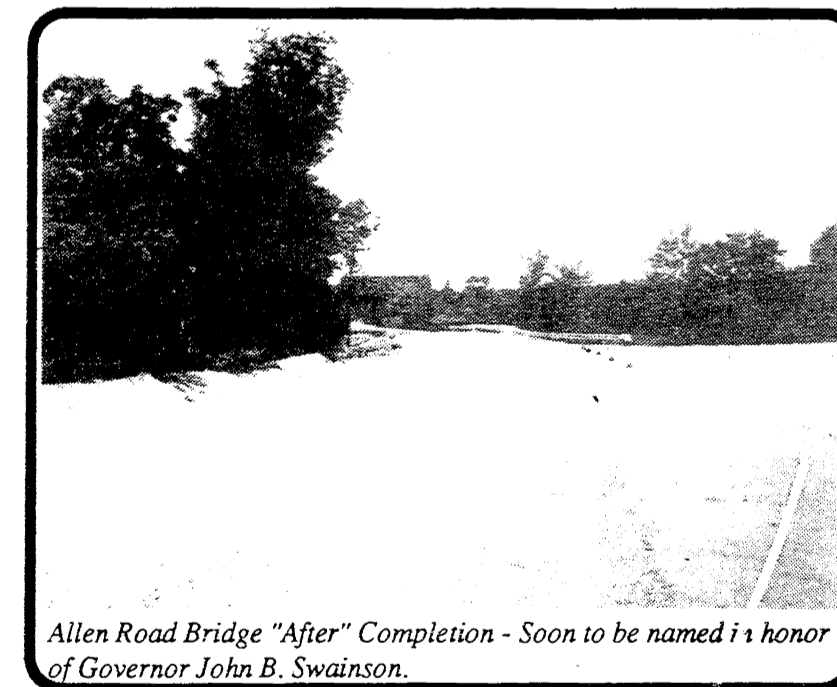

The Bridgewater Township Board decided to name the bridge in honor of the late Governor, because he had so much to do with getting the old bridge replaced. In his capacity as President of the Michigan Historical Commission, he helped guide the Township through the complexities involved in replacing an "Historical" landmark, which the bridge had been named.

According to Carol Peacock, who chairs the committee for the dedication, the placing of the plaque and a dedication ceremony will be held in the fall. A date will be determined when the plaque is completed - a window of about eight weeks.

Gov. Swainson was dedicated to our community and its history and it is a fitting tribute that a permanent structure will bear his name. His "bridge" between Michigan's past and its future will be a reminder to all of what can be accomplished with determination.

Editorial / Opinion

Editor:

As a Vietnam veteran, I'm sensitive to the fact that the Korean War veterans never got a Welcome Home. I've attended enough symposiums on Post Traumatic Stress Disorder to know how important the Welcome Home is to the returning war veteran. The psychiatrists will give some detailed technical reasons how this works, but that's not the point of this letter. Suffice it to say, now that many Korean War veterans are retired they are finding time for the first time in their lives to realize how bitter they are about no Welcome Home and no national Memorial for those that they lost over there. That aside, it's just not right that they were never welcomed back to our shores, nor told what a good job they did and how much their sacrifices accomplished. South Korea is free today thanks to them.

The veterans of the next war, the Vietnam War, plan to rectify that omission. In Washtenaw County, we're hosting a Welcome Home Party for our older brothers and sisters and we plan on telling them what a good job they did. This party will be a Pig Roast on Sunday, August 7, at the VFW Post 423 grounds at 3230 Wagner Road. Adult tickets are $10; Children 6-10 $5; and Children 5 & under are free.

The Korean War is known as "The Forgotten War" and we plan to show them that we haven't forgotten. I'm including a copy of a resolution which I wrote in recognition of the 40th anniversary of the Korean War Cease Fire and which was passed by unanimous vote at the last national convention of Vietnam Veterans of America.

It pains me every time I see an obituary of a Korean War veteran, knowing that he/she died without ever hearing a "Welcome Home" or "Job well done." Next year on June 25th, is the 45th anniversary of the start of the Korean War and I will be asking Vietnam Veterans' chapters throughout the nation to throw Welcome Home parties for the Korean War veterans. It's time.

Everyone is invited, not just Korean War veterans. I'd like to see veterans of every war there to say Welcome Home; we'll have name tags for them to wear to identify which war they were in, WWII to Desert Storm. I'd also like to see the general public there. If nothing else, it will be a great pig roast.

SMALL BUSINESS SPEAKS OUT ON HEALTH CARE

Last week, I chaired a public forum at Foote Hospital in Jackson. Two other members of Congress, Dennis Hastert (Yorkville, IL) and Pete Hoekstra (Holland, MI) joined me in Jackson to hear small businesses from the 7th congressional district explain how health care reform would affect them. The 16 witnesses were unanimous in their testimony that passage of the Clinton health care reform plan would hurt business and jobs. Noelle Clark of Hasselbring-Clark, Inc. of Lansing, said, "My point is this: many small businesses do not provide health insurance because they simply can't afford it. Just because it's forced (on business) doesn't mean the money will be there."

Sharon Roy, an accountant from Onsted, testified that many of the 40-50 small business accounts she has couldn't afford an additional government mandate of 7.9% of payroll as required under the President's plan. "It's going to mean jobs; they don't have the profits to cut and they cannot pass costs through (to consumers). Who are they going to price them (small businesses) right out of the market because they cannot compete with the big chain outfits. So you're going to force some out of business and definitely a lot of layoffs." Jim Ahearn, Pipeline Oil Sales, Inc. of Jackson said that his business couldn't pass on the health plan's estimated cost of $55,000 with increased prices and that would mean "probably getting rid of people and not buying that truck that they might not need right away."

Charlie Owens of the National Federation of Independent Business (NFIB), said that the Clinton plan would kill 32,604 jobs in Michigan alone, and "affect" another 817,000 workers. "Affected" means they haven't lost their jobs, but they're going to have their paycheck cut, so their employer can pay for health care costs. That translates in Michigan as $1 billion dollars of wages lost."

Richard Todoroff, of Todoroff's Restaurant in Jackson, said "...this is pure socialism...I see the United States of America getting what the USSR got rid of." He also stated, "I do not need government to tell me how to operate my business and damn it, that's what they're doing. Every time you turn around there is another mandate. If this health care plan passes, this will be the final nail in the coffin."

Virginia Atayan of a car dealership in Charlotte summed it up when she said that government mandates of this magnitude would take away the incentives that entrepreneurs have to invest and work hard to be successful. "I've already paid the OSHA prices (referring to government mandates already in place), paid to get these safety features in place and safety glasses and the proper lighting and the disposal of all the waste. I've done all these things...it takes work time on my part to figure out how to keep this (government) happy...now to place more demands on me...I'm going to come back in the next world as a cat, sitting in a sunny window. That's the end of my testimony." None of the witnesses at the hearing favored government-run health care. The fact is small businesses have created nearly all of the net new jobs in this country over the last 5 years and if Congress imposes on them the cost of health care reform, we'll jeopardize these jobs. Instead of crushing small businesses and endangering the highest quality health care in the world, we should pass legislation to fix the problems and reduce the cost of American health care.

Bridgewater Township Planning Commission - Summary Minutes July 11, 1994

Commission Chair James Fish called the meeting to order at 7:33 p.m. The minutes of the June 13, 1994 meeting were approved as written.

The latest draft of a proposed Township Lot Split Ordinance was distributed. A question was raised regarding creation of non-buildable lots and the effect of the proposed lot split ordinance. It was noted that the new ordinance would not prevent non-buildable lots from being created; however, the lot split permit issued by the Township would clearly state that the lot being created would not be buildable under the current zoning ordinance.

It was decided that a public hearing on the proposed lot split ordinance would be held at the next regularly scheduled meeting of the Planning Commission on August 8, 1994. Copies of the draft ordinance will be available for review prior to the meeting at the Manchester, Clinton and Saline libraries. In addition copies would be available from Karen Weidemayer, Township Clerk.

Chairman Fish distributed copies of proposed wording changes to the zoning ordinance that would permit private roads in the Township of those roads met all standards of the County Road Commission for a public road. Comments by the Township Attorney will be sought before the public process for zoning ordinance change is initiated.

Amendments to the conditional use permit for Battlegrounds, Inc. located at 13333 East U.S. 12, Clinton, Michigan, were accepted by unanimous vote.

Meeting adjourned at 10:10 pm. Next meeting is August 8, 1994 at 7:30 pm.

Campers Volunteer at Christian Organizations

Not too often, but every once in a while, a news story not only comes to our attention, but walks right into our office. Last week, just such an occasion happened here at the Enterprise. Berry and Joyce Williams came in, introduced themselves, and explained their "mission" of goodwill.

Berry and Joyce are from Wilmington, N.C.; however, you may see them just about anywhere in the United States and Canada during the year as they travel and work with over 550 other volunteers.

The Williamses are field representatives for Roving Volunteers in Christ's Service (pronounced R-VICS). They contact local Christian organizations letting them know of the free labor provided by R-VICS volunteers. Additionally, they recruit volunteers to do the work.

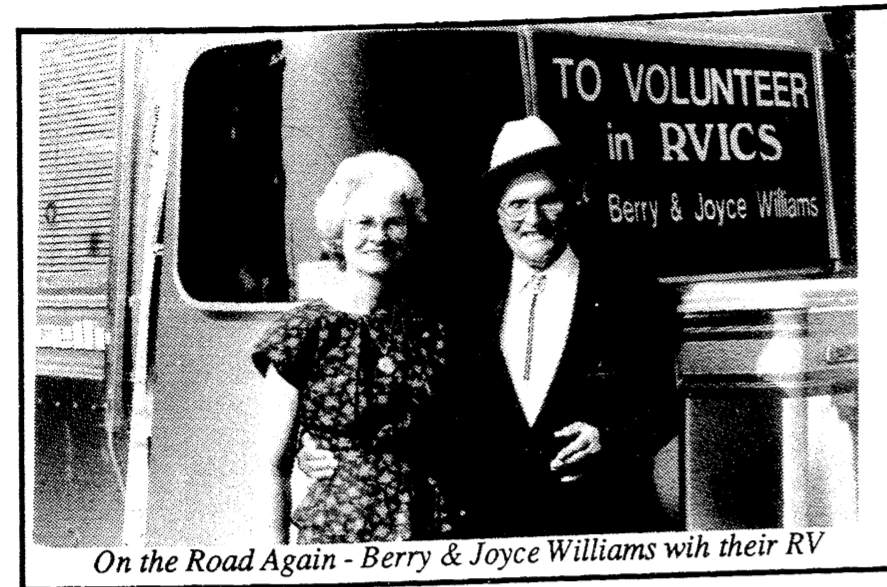

R-VICS was founded in 1977 as an interdenominational Christian group of retired or semi-retired people with recreational vehicles who volunteer time and skills to Christian organizations. There are no dues. The work includes building or remodeling Bible camps, churches, children's homes, Christian schools, etc.

R-VICS volunteers provide free labor. A group of five to eight couples work three to four weeks - about 1,000 hours on most projects. The organizations they serve provide a free place to park their RV's with utility hookups and supply all building materials. Berry said, "It's a wonderful way to see the country and do something worthwhile at the same time." There's a place for just about anyone who is willing to volunteer their services.

The Williamses have worked at Bible camps in Alaska, Maine, and Florida; helped build a new church in upstate New York; converted a tobacco barn into a chapel in Tennessee; fixed up a of scheduled projects and choose the area where they would like to work. Seventy major projects are scheduled for this year. As the number of volunteers increase more projects will be planned.

When the couple was married in 1987, they never imagined they'd be doing this kind of work. Joyce has been an RVer since 1975, but before their marriage Berry told her, "I like to travel, but I must tell you I'm not hauling one of those tin cans up and down the road." That was over 140,000 miles ago.

The Williamses got involved with R-VICS after hearing a volunteer speak about the group on a caravan in Canada in 1989. "We plan to continue as long as we can," Joyce said. Berry and Joyce are currently RV-ing in Grass Lake, and plan to attend an R-VICS reunion in Dexter at the home of Dave and Sandy Fisher August 4-7.

The men work 21 hours a week and the women 12 hours, but R-VICS projects are not all work. Several nights are devoted to activities such as Bible study, games, potlucks, birthday and anniversary celebrations, and good fellowship. Fridays are spent sightseeing and touring as a group. "At the end of a project, we have a new family," Berry said.

Christian radio station on the Navajo Indian Reservation in Arizona, and many other projects. They have been on the road since January of this year, and by the time they return home (temporarily, of course!) in September, will have visited 22 states and Canada.

The volunteers as well as the projects are from across the United States and Canada. Projects are available year-round. R-VICS has done almost 800 major projects in 46 states and Canada, plus many smaller ones. Active volunteers get a list

Still Going Strong at 85

There needs to be a sign that says, "Chicken Crossing" on English Rd. near the farm of LoRen Trolz in southwestern Manchester Township. Those free-running hens and roosters are a sure sign to a casual passer-by that a farm house is near.

In an age where so many things have changed for farmers, it is refreshing that some things need not change. On this quiet country road, too few people will see this throw-back to an earlier time when dangers to free-roaming poultry were limited to the fox.

In addition to these fowl, Mr. Trolz also raises peacocks, a few cows, and a few sheep - "but the dogs took care of quite a lot of the sheep a few months back." Unfortunately, some things do remain the same.

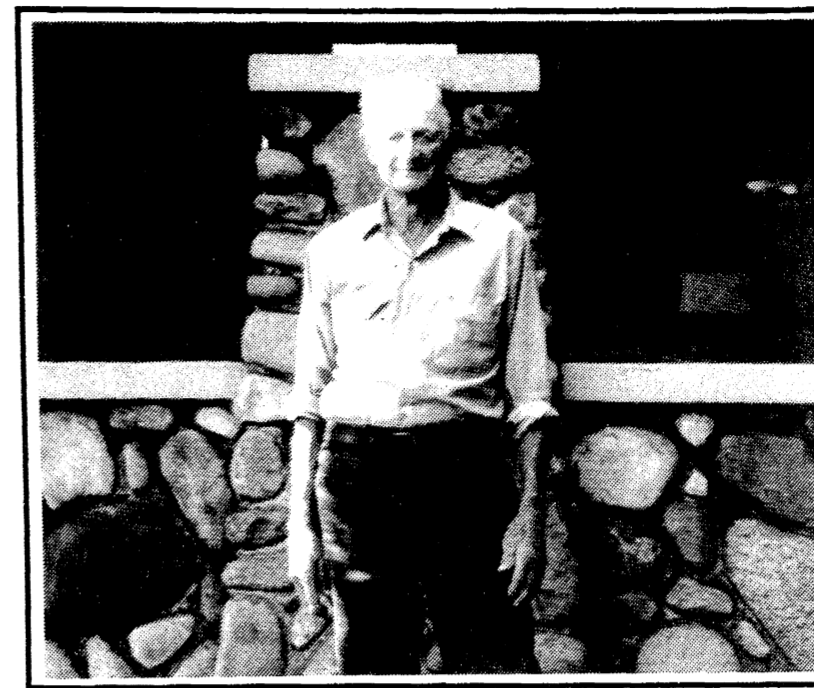

In his long life, Mr. Trolz has been an active member of the Manchester community, and continues to be active in his church and in township affairs.

"I've been treasurer of Iron Creek Church since 1936," he relates. "Except for about one year. I've been a board member of the church for I don't know how many years - over thirty, I'd say." He is also a member of the Board of Review in Manchester Township, having served in that capacity for over 40 years.

In earlier days, Mr. Trolz was also a Judge for the Manchester Community Fair, a worker on the Chicken Broil, and a member for ten years of the Manchester Public School Board. In the late 1940's he was also a director of the Madison District School, located on Noggles Rd. on the property currently owned by Dick Kensler. He also remains a member of the Washtenaw County Farm Bureau.

"My grandfather has been a farmer most of his life," said granddaughter Angie Trolz of Napoleon. Having lived on the English Road farm for 82 of his 85 years, and taking over the farm at the young age of 18 after his father passed away, it seems that is a pretty accurate statement. As did all children on a farm in the early 1900's, Mr. Trolz and his six brothers and sisters had chores and responsibilities which were expected of them. To remain on the family farm after his father's untimely death required that a young man, newly graduated from high school, take over the entire responsibility for the farm and his family.

Currently lives in Napoleon, has been a partner in this venture most of his life, too.

LoRen Trolz and his wife, the late Margaret Lowery Trolz, had three children - Jerry (& Barb) Trolz, of Elkhart, Indiana; Joan (& John) Dobbin of Jackson, and Roger (& Ruth) Trolz of Napoleon. The family includes several grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Mrs. Trolz' grandfather was Mat Blosser, co-founder of the Manchester Enterprise nearly 127 years ago. Mr. Trolz farming operation has slowed down somewhat with the passing years. "Now we are only renting two farms," said Mr. Trolz. Time was when they rented as many as seven farms for their operations. His son Roger, who currently lives in Napoleon, has been a partner in this venture most of his life, too.

And taking a cue from that esteemed individual, Mr. Trolz, too, has continued his business well into the 70-year range with as alert and active interest in its continuance as Mr. Blosser showed in the Enterprise.

The Trolz family will be holding a celebration in honor of Mr. Trolz' 85th birthday on Saturday, August 6. Your good wishes are welcome.

"What is successful aging? How do you define it?" These were some difficult questions put to hubby & I at a recent interview in our home.

Most gracious Marley Pagel who lives on Granger Street in town, is working on her masters degree in Social Services at Eastern Michigan University hoping to specialize in Geriatrics. How quickly this hour passed. She posed questions which took some thought and we hope we answered each with some degree of aplomb (unrelated statements surely popped up and had to re-ask "What was the original question?") Then, we "posed" for several pictures outside to accompany her paper she is preparing.

Finally, we offer this challenge to you senior citizens out there: What is successful aging and how do you define it? Your answer may be mailed to Marley Pagel, 520 Granger St. Manchester, or to me at Box 192, City. We feel she will be a sympathetic and well-informed social worker to represent us who are aging; thanks so very much, Marley.

Thursday, August 4: Come to the park tonight at 7:30 to listen to stories from Beverly Feldkamp Smith. Clowns will entertain you, too, so it should be another great evening at the park by the gazebo. We are enjoying these Thursday night concerts, etc.

Monday, August 8: Shopping will be enjoyed at Tecumseh and senior bus leaves the Center at 9:30. Call Erma Alber at 428-8707 to go along.

Tuesday, August 9: There is no council meeting today, but work on the September/October calendar will begin at 9:30. Your ideas are needed for activities for the next two months, please attend with all your good ideas in mind.

Wednesday, August 10: Seniors will leave the Center by bus at 11:30 for Kellogg Eye Center and a comedy entitled "I Love You To Death". A stop to eat will be made before the show, so come along and bring a friend (Eye Center's invitation). Just be sure to call Erma to give names who wish to go.

Looking ahead: Friday, August 12: Dexter's Summer Daze will be visited and the bus departs the Center at 9:30 for this fun trip. Call Erma for your ride. We do hope many of you will give us your ideas about the aging questions. We eagerly await your answers. It is so surprising that we old-timers have so much wisdom tucked away!

SENIORS CAN DELAY PAYING PROPERTY TAXES UNTIL 1995

Senior Citizen homeowners in Washtenaw County age 65 and older can delay paying their winter and summer taxes until 1995 by filing a "user-friendly" deferment application with their local treasurer.

The deadline for completed deferment applications is September 15, 1994. With the deferment, payment for winter and summer taxes are delayed until April 30, 1995 without penalties or interest.

"The deferment gives many Seniors the time they need to budget for their taxes," says Carolyn Hastings, executive director of the Housing Bureau for Seniors, "but remember sometimes out of sight means out of mind, you still have to pay."

For additional details and assistance with the Deferment Application, contact Michelle Dallos at the Housing Bureau for Seniors at (313) 763-0970.

Notice of Public Hearing on Increasing Property Taxes

The Board of Trustees of the Township of Manchester will hold a public hearing on a proposed increase of 0.0294 mills in the operating tax millage rate to be levied in 1994.

The hearing will be held on Monday, August 8, 1994 at 7:30 p.m.

at Manchester Township Hall 275 South Macomb Street

The date and location of the meeting will increase operating revenues from ad valorem property taxes 5.95% over such revenues generated by levies permitted without holding a hearing. If the Proposed additional millage rate is not approved the operating revenue will increase by 2.85% over the preceding year's operating revenue. The taxing unit publishing this notice, and identified below, has complete authority to establish the number of mills to be levied from within its authorized millage rate.

This notice is published by: Manchester Township 275 South Macomb Street Manchester, MI 48158 (313) 428-7090

NOTICE FROM THE MANCHESTER TOWNSHIP BOARD OF TRUSTEES:

The proposed millage of 1.0061 is less than 1.0243 mills collected in 1993. We apologize for the misleading words "Increasing Property Taxes" in the heading of this notice. This wording is required by law. The Manchester Township Board will be holding their regular meeting at 8:00 p.m. following this public hearing. SPECIAL BACK-TO-SCHOOL IMMUNIZATION CLINICS IN WASHTENAW COUNTY

The Washtenaw County Health Services Group will be offering low cost back-to-school immunization clinics for children beginning in August. Other community organizations are helping us to provide these expanded services in various convenient locations. These special clinics are in addition to our regularly scheduled clinics every Monday evening from 4:00-7:00 pm and our appointment based services.
Immunizations are very important. They help to protect your child from nine different diseases. These diseases are very contagious and can spread rapidly from child to child. In recent years these diseases, such as measles and whooping cough, have been making a comeback. The increasing number of infections can be traced back to the large numbers of infants and children not fully protected. The majority of your child's shots are needed before the age of two. Be sure your child is up-to-date. Don't wait until your child goes to school.
Immunizations will be provided to infants, children, teens and adults. No appointment is needed. Please remember to bring immunization records with you, it may prevent your child from receiving unnecessary shots. If you don't have a record, the nursing staff will determine what is required to bring your child up-to-date.
Clinic dates, times and locations are:
Saturday, August 6 11:00 am-2:00 pm Salvation Army Citadel, 100 Arbana St. Ann Arbor. Sponsored by Kiwanis Clubs of Washtenaw County

Day Camp "Under the Big Top"

Well, it's come and gone for another year, but the Manchester Day Camp '94 will not be soon forgotten by the 88 kids who came this year!

Our theme this year was "UNDER THE BIG TOP". Everything was centered around the circus idea, from crafts to food. Campers enjoyed Helen Popkey's homemade pretzels and thanks to the GENEROUS donation by the Kiwanis of the trailer and contents,

Lynn & Julie preparing snack in the Kiwanis Trailer

We did crafts too! Each camper made a glitter toy, leather juggling bags, a leather clown bag, and a pair of wood stilts. It was a great sight when all of our campers stood with or on their stilts at once! It's nice to see our campers enjoying them around town this week. Other crafts included painted visors, carousel animals, clothespin dolls, parachute toys, beaded jewelry, animal-shaped necklaces and more.
We offered "wide games" at camp. A wide game is an event that involves everyone at camp. Although all were enjoyed, the FIRE BRIGADE relay seemed the most popular. Teams passed water buckets drilled with holes down the line to put out the camper who was "on fire". The kids didn't want to stop! Leaders, watching from afar, made a comment about being so dry and some campers caught on. The leaders were soon part of the game!

Our special guests for camp were a juggler and a clown. Juggler Rob Hindley from Plymouth stayed all day and taught the kids the art of juggling. Each camper used either handmade leather juggling balls or one of 100 sets of donated tennis balls. A lot of the campers caught on and even a few adults got in on the action. Dr. Bates was picked from the crowd and soon proved to be a natural. We wondered why he left in a hurry - maybe he went back to his office to practice? Thanks Rob! You were great.
Our clown, Brit the Clown from Lansing, was a big hit also. Although the weather was stormy, Brit entertained the campers with ease. He put on skits, did demonstrations, and showed us how to act clownish. Brit was also responsible for the picture art on all of the campers' t-shirts. Thanks Brit!

Richard Spring, Unit Leader, Juggler & Stilt Extraordinaire!

The last day of camp was spent finishing crafts, gathering belongings, saying good-bye to friends, and an end-of-camp ceremony. This year, due to the generosity of our sponsors, we purchased Day Camp patches for everyone. Campers also received a certificate, a helium balloon and cotton candy.

Volunteers make Manchester Day Camp possible. These people were our loyal helpers and without them, Day Camp could not have taken place. Unit Leaders and Assistants: Joelle Armentrout, Sherry Barker, Maryanne Bommer, Melissa Driessche, Dawn Huggins, Marikay Kennedy, Megan Kennedy, Karen Lorincz, Susan Lowery, Jennie Sahakian, Richard Spring, Debbie Spring, and Jessica Weber. Tot lot leader and assistant: Susan Wootke, Koebbe Barker. Floating assistants: Eric Anderson, Renee Foster, Ben Grenier, Sue Luckhardt and Patty Swaney. First Aiders: Linda Arnsdorf and Joan Harvey. Lucile Bruner, face painter; Marikay Kennedy Registrar; & Patty Swaney, Day Camp Photographer.

These people gave up four days of their time, lost countless hours of sleep, and we even made them eat all that junk food! We owe them great thanks. Can you believe at last count most of them said they would do it again next year? We call that dedication, and we appreciate them for all they did.

We also acknowledge all the wonderful businesses and people who support Day Camp. Without your support, it wouldn't be so great!

La-Z-Boy-Monroe, Dow Chemical Corp, Wilson Sporting Goods, Biomet Corp., Warehouse Lumber, Builders Squar -Ypsi & Westland, Erb Lumber-Ypsi, Chelsea Lumber, Kleinschmidts, Koebbe Welding, Feldkamp Tire, First Brands Corp., ACO - Chelsea, Target-Ann Arbor, Sam's Ann Arbor, Kiwanis Club, Carl Werner, American Legion-Manchester (Bob Trent), Marilyn LaRock, Sue

So we settle down for a couple weeks, then start all over again for next year. If you missed this year and would like your child to attend next year, or you would like to assist, look in the Enterprise around the first of May next year. You won't want to miss it!

Watch for Perseid meteor shower on August 12

The pre-dawn hours of August 12 may bring Michigan's sky watchers an exceptional view of the annual Perseid meteor shower, according to University of Michigan astronomer Richard Teske.

"1994 may produce an outstanding display," Teske said. "If so, observers in eastern North America will be ideally placed to see it."

Astronomers agree a big Perseid meteor shower is coming, Teske explained, but they disagree on what year to expect it. Some think the great shower will come this year, while others say we'll have to wait until 1995 or 1997.

The best time to look for Perseid meteors is between 1 and 5 a.m. on August 12. Observers should watch from a location where the sky is dark—away from yard lights and shopping malls. This year, the moon will set in the west before midnight, so we will not experience its light-polluting interference. Choose a place that has a flat horizon without nearby trees or buildings. Bring a blanket to lie on, because you will be gazing nearly straight up.

Perseid meteors are usually about as bright as the North Star, Polaris, but some are much brighter, Teske said. "Their fire streaks can be as long as the Big Dipper's handle. Some leave glowing trails that persist for a few seconds before abruptly fading."

The meteors seem to come from the constellation Perseus, located in the northeast sector of the pre-dawn sky. Their streaks are best seen nearly overhead in the vicinity of the W-shaped constellation. With good conditions, meteor hunters ought to see more than one per minute, according to Teske.

"Meteor showers occur when the Earth's orbit around the sun intersects the independent orbit of a stream of sandy material, which has been ejected from a comet," Teske said. The separate paths are like intersecting streets. A collision occurs if the Earth and the grit-sized pieces arrive at the intersection point at the same time. As each sandy bit plunges into our atmosphere at high speed, it produces the bright trail and flash of a meteor.

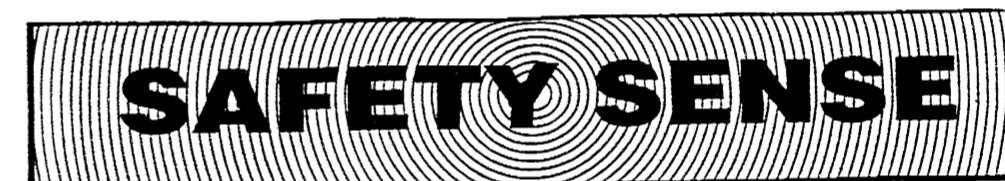

"A typical Perseid meteoroid likely resembles a grain of sand about one-sixteenth of an inch across. It weighs in at 0.1 gram, less than the weight of a small postage stamp," Teske explained. "The orbital movement of Earth and grain combine to produce a grain arrival speed of 37 miles per second. About 60 miles over the Earth, the meteor begins to glow—partly from its own incandescence and partly from friction with molecules of air. Within one or two seconds, the tiny grain is consumed and its molecules dispersed in the upper atmosphere."

According to Teske, these bits of rocky material came from the surface of a bright comet named Swift-Tuttle, which visits the inner solar system every 135 years. The comet and its sandy debris follow a long orbit track around the sun in a path that carries them beyond the planet Pluto before they curve back toward the inner solar system.

In December 1992, Swift-Tuttle whizzed by the same orbital intersection point that the Earth passes through each August 12. Astronomers believe a large amount of debris is tagging along immediately behind the comet.

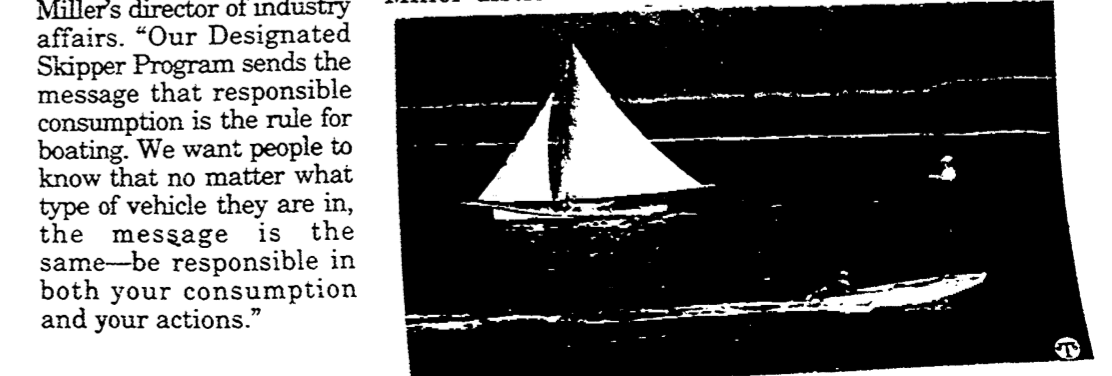

"The Earth is due to plunge through this flowing stream of sandy bits every August for awhile, so Perseid meteor showers in subsequent years should be grander than usual," Teske said.

Steer Clear: Don't Go Overboard While On The Water

(NAPS)—Every boating season, the nation's waterways are filled with more than 70 million Americans enjoying recreational activities. Although the number of boats and boaters has increased, boating accidents involving fatalities have steadily declined in recent years. U.S. Coast Guard statistics show boating fatalities have declined 36 percent in the last ten years. The Coast Guard attributes the much-improved record to safety programs and increased awareness of the dangers of operating boats while intoxicated. Still, boating accidents do occur. The Coast Guard reports that alcohol beverages are involved in at least 60 percent of all recreational boating accidents. Miller Brewing Company, through its "Steer Clear—Don't Go Overboard" Designated Skipper Program, hopes to help reduce this statistic and keep the number of boating accidents headed downward. "Many boaters around the nation enjoy recreational outings with their friends and family," said Yvonne Lumsden-Dill, Miller's director of industry affairs. "Our Designated Skipper Program sends the message that responsible consumption is the rule for boating. We want people to know that no matter what type of vehicle they are in, the message is the same—be responsible in both your consumption and your actions."

Know how to swim, and make sure there are the proper number and size of life preservers on board. Ensure that people are wearing them. Learn safe-boating guidelines by taking a boating safety course. Always carry safety equipment. Boaters should have flares, a foghorn or whistle, strong flashlight, first-aid kit and bailing bucket. Make sure the boat's battery is charged and the running lights are working. Studies show that the combination of alcohol and fatigue from boating can dramatically reduce a boat driver's judgement, coordination, stability and reaction time. "Our Designated Skipper Program is one way to encourage responsible consumption habits that will benefit everyone who enjoys boating or sailing," said Lumsden-Dill. Under the responsible boating program, skippers who agree not to drink alcohol beverages receive free non-alcohol Sharp's or soft drinks. The program is operated in conjunction with local Miller distributors from across the country. It is being launched at locations that include Bridgeport, CN, Newport, RI, Annapolis, MD, San Diego, CA, and the Pacific Northwest. These locations are host to major boating activities. Lumsden-Dill offers boaters some helpful hints to make an excursion on the water safer and a fun-filled experience: If on board a small boat, insist that everyone remains seated. Employ "defensive driving" techniques. Watch for other boaters who may not follow the rules as closely as they should. Use extreme caution near swimmers and water skiers and slow down in crowded waters. Check the weather report—the weather can change rapidly over water. Have non-alcohol beverages available. Safe and fun boating can be a part of recreational activities, but only if common sense and moderation are practiced by everyone aboard: the captain, the crew and the passengers.

School Board Makes Decision at Discipline Hearing August 3

Student Expelled; Courts Next to Act

Manchester Board of Education held a special meeting on Wednesday, August 3rd. The main item on the agenda was a resolution and disposition of one of the students who will fully damaged the middle school. Those damages are in excess of $31,500. The special meeting was convened in a closed session at the request of the parents of the Manchester student. (We at the Enterprise will not disclose the name of the student or his family).

Manchester's Board convened their session and heard a report from School Superintendent Ron Niedzwiecki of damages. A letter from the parents was on file. The board reviewed a video tape of the damages. After the conclusion of the closed session the general meeting was reconvened and the motion was made in open session to permanently expel the student. According to a board member: "Because of the severity of the student's actions, we as a board had very few options. We felt that the only viable solution was the expulsion of this student so that he might start his life over at another school. That will be after his arraignment with the juvenile justice system."

We know that the decision by the board, although unanimous, was not without misgiving. It is always sad to have to pass judgement on a student for actions that need not have occurred.

Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department turned all of their investigation material, including the confession of the two students, over to Washtenaw County Juvenile Prosecutor's Office. Felony charges have been filed in both Washtenaw and Jackson County.

The two 14-year-olds have been charged with B. & E. (breaking and entering), and MDOP (Malicious Destruction of Property). The Washtenaw County Juvenile Prosecutor has sent back warrants for the local youth. The next step will be the Court arrangement where either a guilty or not guilty plea will be entered. The court will set either a date for a trial or a sentencing date, depending upon the plea entered.

Currently the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department is recommending that damages be set, sufficient to cover the costs of the destruction. According to Deputy William Moffett, investigating officer, "The community has expressed themselves by saying, the students and parents are responsible. The school system should not have to bear the cost of additional insurance premiums created by the students."

Currently the Jackson County Youth is in detention as a result of his probation violation. His sentencing will await the outcome of Washtenaw County Court decision.

Manchester Board of Education, The Administration and their insurance carrier will have to await the outcome of the Courts decision before determining future action if any.

In other action by the Board on Wednesday evening, dates for the start of the 1994-95 school year were established.

Friday, August 26, will be reporting day for all teachers. The beginning date of school for students will be Monday, August 29, which will be a half day for students and a full work day for teachers. Kindergarten students will begin on Tuesday, August 30, 1994 - which will be the first full day of school.

Also established were Board Goals (see School Board Summary, page 12) and District Goals and Procedures for 1994-95, as follows:

1994-95 District Goals & Procedures

1. Administrators, teachers, and staff to formulate proposals for district goals for September committee meetings.
2. Encourage public response and input for district goals prior to "Town Meeting."
3. Hold "Town Meeting" September 19, 1994 for additional community input. Regular board meeting will immediately follow with district goals as an action agenda item.

Manchester's Election Results

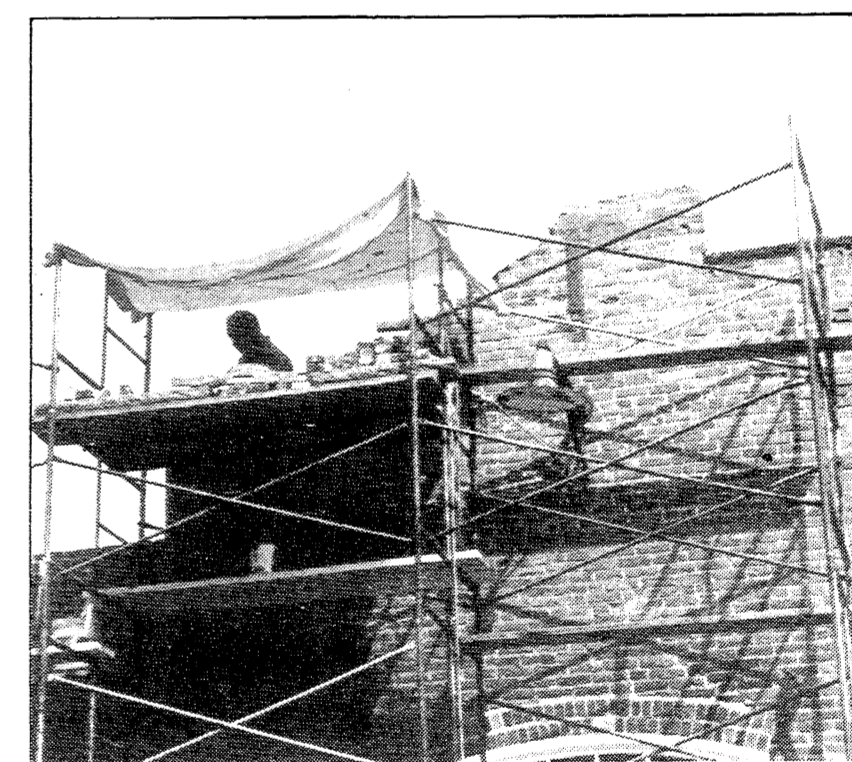

A contested race for the 8th District County Commissioner probably contributed to higher than usual voter turnout in Manchester and Freedom Townships last week.

Manchester Township, with three proposals of its own on the ballot, and a four-way race for representation on the County Commission, had about 25% voter turnout. "The new machine probably helped out, too," commented Clerk Kathy Hakes. "Sometimes there's a lack of interest in the primaries, but that didn't seem to be the case this time. Manchester Township voters approved the renewal for road improvements, rejected an increase in road improvement tax, and approved a millage request for purchase of fire equipment.

Freedom Township voters seem to be quite interested in the democratic process, according to Julie Schaible, township Clerk. "Although we were at the high end of our projections this year. We expected a 25-30% turnout, and we had about 30%. We usually
