Council Approves two-day Summerfest, July 21 & 22

Manchester Village Council, after spirited debate, approved a new two day format for the annual Summerfest. Greg Marvin of Midwest Ford, Chris Moyle of Sir Oliver's Pizza and Teresa Benedict of Calamity Jane's, presented council with a survey of business persons and citizens of Main St. showing overwhelming support for a two day attraction.

Marvin's list included 23 residents from Clinton to Elton Streets. Moyle's list of 40 business persons had only one dissenting vote. Councilman Joe Marshall, who has opposed the street fair in the past, presented conflicting sides of five business persons. Marshall's position was that his Antique store business would be adversely affected because of the lack of downtown parking. He further said that having the Car Show in front of his Main Street home would interfere with his customers' parking.

Last year's one day Street fair and Car Show was well attended and a huge success. Many felt the combination was an outstanding part of the Village's July activities.

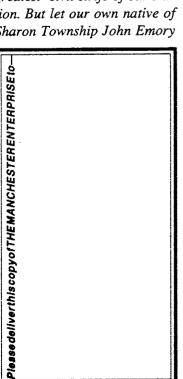

Council had a quorum of 5 present at the vote. Councilman Schaffer pointed out that Marshall might have a vested interest in any decision and Marshall wisely abstained from the final vote.

WAR ENDS!

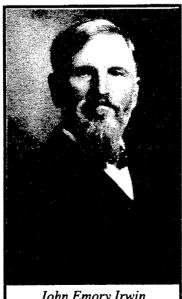

DOWN MEMORY LANE

Date Line April 9th, 1865 Confederate General Robert E. Lee surrenders to Union General Ulysses S. Grant at Appomattox. Terms were arranged for the surrender of 27,000 men. Though some feel the war began with disagreements when the Constitution was made first shots were fired by the Confederacy on Friday April 12, 1861. Nearly a million men lost their lives and an immense amount of property was destroyed. Untold or uncounted were the civilian casualties.

This was near the end of the greatest civil strife of our Nation. But let our own native of Sharon Township John Emory Irwin tell of his last battle in a letter sent home to his Mother. 20th Mich. Camp in the Field, Beyond Southerland Station, 12 miles from Petersburg, Va., April 6th, 1865.

Dear Mother-

Long before this will reach you, you will know all about our successes at and about Petersburg and also know by the short note I sent you of my individual safety and now I sit down quietly, not to tell you of our campaign, for you will perhaps know even more of it than I do myself, but just to tell you of some particulars of the part I, or rather we, bore in it.

You remember I wrote on the evening of the 2nd that we were expected to charge the works in our front the nest morning. We spent a night of anything but quiet, for every few moments our pickets gave an alarm to which we had to respond by bounding up ready to defend our-

Deputy Jon Scicluna helps students read their D.A.R.E. essays

The culmination of a seventeen-week course in Drug Abuse Resistance Education for the Fourth Graders of Manchester Community Schools came last Tuesday evening, as parents, friends, school staff and community members gathered at the Middle School gym to see just what these kids had learned.

The powerful program put on by these young people showed their commitment to making a drug-free life style for themselves and a drug free world for their future. Beginning with a "rap" song, directed by Mrs. Linda Klepaczyk, the message of "Don't Do Drugs" came through.

WCSD Deputy Jon Scicluna, D.A.R.E. instructor, introduced the great group of six students whose D.A.R.E. essays had won prizes. "This is my favorite part of the whole D.A.R.E. program," said Scicluna. He noted that all the essays had been exceptionally good this year and that the judges found it very difficult to choose with a moving rendition of "Lear only six winners from all the On Me".

entries. In the end, one girl and one boy from each class read their essays. Melissa Luckhardt, Graham Parker-Finger, Casey Young, Grayson Adler, Jenna Novess, and Dyon Evans all received framed copies of their D.A.R.E. essays, and read them aloud at the Graduation ceremony.

Students also received a large package of D.A.R.E. goodies from the school to remind them of the commitment they have made to remain drugfree. Superintendent Ron Niedzwiecki, resplendent in his Neon colored D.A.R.E. shirt, spoke as a 'pinch-hitter' for Sheriff Ron Schebil who was unable to attend the re-scheduled activity. He emphasized the importance of the message that these kids were learning, and also the importance of relying on one another for help in resisting the peer pressures which often lead to drug use.. The students underscored this by ending the evening's program

Second Front Page: Whistle Stop Restaurant

Sorry, No Fried Green Tomatoes Yet!

by Marsha Johnson Chartrand

"There just aren't enough weekend, hours in a day," laughs Sue Miller as she talks about the opening day of her new local restaurant, The Whistle Stop. Located in the old Corky D's building, Sue has purchased the business and with it the secret recipes necessary to make that excellent, locallyfamous ice cream.

"I am experienced in the restaurant business, having worked in Clinton for several years," Sue explains. "But for the ice cream and deli are a new challenge for me." By Sue's own admission, she needed this challenge! And when the summer months arrive, the ice cream and deli business will be in full force. fered in

Out & About

What is that old saying? "Discretion is the better part of valor".

I remember as if it were yesterday, Junior High School. Lance Erickson, a classmate who I had beaten in the Detroit News Spelling bee in the fifth grade, and I had a Major Altercation. I don't remember over what but it turned into a real donny brook of a bare knuckle fist fight. My nose was bleeding profusely and I hurt all over but I wouldn't give up. If I remember correctly, Lance had blood coming from his ear, (probably mine), and we both were spent. The fight ended in a draw and we went back to

That turned out to be the last bare knuckle fist fight I was ever involved in that I had no idea why it was started or what was accomplished. But many things in life can be that dumb. We can fight for causes or ideas, but the best thing I learned from that particular altercation was that there are better ways to solve one's differences.

We as a civilized society must learn that to live without bloody noses we must find common ground to settle our differences.

That is hard to do and even harder to sometimes back down or compromise but truly, discretion is the better part of valor.

Dear Editor:

We have been hearing in the national news recently about the case of Jennifer Harbury, an American lawyer who went on a long hunger strike in front of the American Embassy in Guatemala to find out the truth about what had happened to her Guatemalan born husband, Efrain Bamaca Velasquez. She finally found out that her husband had been tortured and murdered on the orders of Colonel Julio Roberto Alpirez, a graduate of the School of the Americas in Fort Benning, Georgia.

What the media has not reported is that the School of the Americas ("School of Assassins") has been using millions of our tax dollars to train thousands of men from all over Latin America in "counterinsurgency" techniques: how to torture and murder their own citizens, many of them children. Here are just a few examples of the atrocities committed in El Salvador by graduates of the SOA:

*Assassination of Archbishop Oscar Romero

*Rape and murder of four U.S. nuns

*EI Mozote village massacre (hundreds massacred and mutilated including several infants under 3 months)

*Jesuit massacre (6 priests, 2 women killed)

Last week (March 24-31) people from all over the country participated in a seven day fast on the steps of the Capital Building in Washington D.C. to protest the School Washington with the Ann Arbor Interfaith Council for Peace and Justice delegation to fast for one day on March

What I learned is that twice in the last two years, Representative Joseph Kennedy has submitted an amendment in the House of Representatives which would cut the funding for the SOA. Both times it came to a vote the amendment was defeated. Our representative, Nick Smith, voted against the amendment both times.

I call on all of you to help close the doors of this School of Assassins by calling (202-224-3121) or writing (US House of Representatives, Washington, DC 20515) your representative in congress, asking him to vote to close the SOA by voting for the Kennedy Amendment. I also encourage you to call the White House Comment Line at 202-456-1111 to let the president know your views.

For more information of the Americas. I went to about this important issue, I highly recommend the 18 minute video called, "School of Assassins" which was nominated for an academy award for Best Documentary. You can check out the video from the Interfaith Council by calling 663-1870.

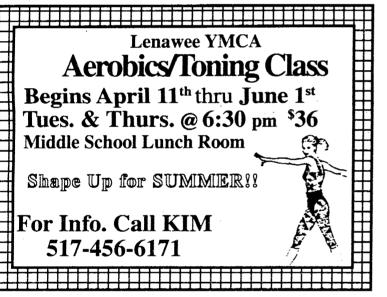

> Sincerely, Mary Goode

Emory,

I'm wondering why the motto of the Enterprise changed from "The Center of the Universe" to "Speaking for the People of the Manchester Area"?

I think that "The Center of the Universe" speaks volumes for pride in our community. And, it's unique and fun as well!

Bridgewater Township Planning Commission Minutes

March 13, 1994

Commission Chair Fish called the meeting to order at 7:50 PM.. Present: J. Fish, H. Cobb, M. Iwanicki, G. Marion, G. Snider Absent: A. Wahl, G. Dull, W. Peacock

There was a motion by G. Marion to approve the minutes of the February 13, 1994 meeting of Planning Commission. The motion was seconded by H. Cobb. The motion was approved by unanimous vote.

Martin and Sandra Russell were in attendance and presented a revised site plan for the Conditional Use Permit they are requesting to operate a commercial kennel. Following a review of the new plan Commission Chair Fish noted that the new plan seemed better able to address both site line and noise concerns. A motion was made by G. Marion to give preliminary approval to the permit pending a final draft of the conditions to be attached. The motion was seconded by M. Iwanicki. Commission Chair Fish noted that final conditions will be drafted and presented for approval prior to a final vote. The motion was approved by unanimous vote.

The Russells stated a concern regarding the condition of the secondary roads in the township, particularly Willow Road as it runs to their property. They stated that the condition of the road seemed particularly bad this year and they questioned who to notify. Commission Chair Fish referred them to the Washtenaw County Road Commission as they are in charge of the road grading within the township.

Commission Chair Fish discussed creating an updated map for the township upon which new permits and developments can be noted and mapped for the purposes of planning and zoning. He noted Wade Peacock has obtained some maps and information can be assembled and added to the maps to create new base maps for this purpose. It was agreed this project will be pursued.

H. Cobb presented a report on her attendance of the meeting of the Washtenaw County Planning Commission of March 9, 1994. The meeting included the reports of several committees including the Agricultural Lands committee and a Fragile Lands presentation. Also discussed was a rough draft of a interagency policy being written by the County Drain Commissioners office and the County planning Commission regarding the use of engineered drain fields, i.e. sand filter and cluster systems, for the purpose of rural development.

H. Cobb also reported on contact she had with Mark Wykoff of the Michigan Society Planning Officials regarding the possibility of a presentation by him on the subject of preserving open space through zoning. This presentation would potentially be for surrounding townships as well if interest seemed to warrant it. It was generally agreed that the commission would like to pursue this issue.

Zoning Administrators Report:

The Zoning Administrator reported a change to the Zoning Application and Compliance Certificate to allow information regarding the proximity of the site to any lakes, streams, or drains. This change was made following information received from the Washtenaw County Soil Erosion Control office regarding its importance when issuing permits. Sample revised forms were provided as well as sample forms for a Zoning Certificate of Occupancy, and Application for Addressing.

The following zoning permits were issued by the Zoning Administrator:

9629 Kies - Construction of a barn

9629 Kies - New single family dwelling

13514E. Michigan - Enclose an existing roofed porch

12155 Hogan - Construction of a pole barn

11304 Hogan - New single family dwelling

In addition to the above parcels the zoning Administrator reported 6 new addresses were assigned and footings were confirmed on 1 property.

There was a motion by H. Cobb supported by G. Snider to adjourn. The motion passed without objection at 9:05 P.M. The next meeting will be April 10, 1995 at 7:30 P.M.

Substance Abuse Task Force Meeting

Substance Abuse Task Force rescheduled its March 27 meeting to Monday, April 10, 7:00 at St. Mary's Parish Center.

The meeting will include feedback from the Fishbowl Student Discussion presentation March 6 and reports of information as a result of Manchester adult and student representatives attending a national Student Assistance Conference, Washtenaw/Livingston County ATOD Workshop and a prevention workshop attended by coaches and students representing Community Manchester Schools.

The Task Force is developing information about a SAFE HOME project and a community resource handout.

The Task Force represents a group of people who are working together to provide a safe and healthy community for our youth. Monthly meetings are open to anyone interested in investing time and energy to support the purpose of the group.

Manchester Area Chamber of Commerce

nson Controls Hosts Next Meeting

The new Research & Development facility of Johnson Controls is a handsome addition to the company's complex in the industrial park area of Manchester. You are cordially invited to visit this new facility for a continental breakfast and a tour, as part of the next Manchester Area Chamber of Commerce meeting on Wednesday, April

Arranged by Shelley Steele, the tour will showcase new developments taking place in plastic container technology.

The Research & Development Center is the new building just south of the Johnson Controls Plastics Machinery Division manufacturing facility. The Reentrance is the new driveway opening directly to M-52.

At the Chamber meeting on February 22, an informative tour was conducted by Doug Whelan of the cattle and sheep operations and Doug Brooks showed us the sheep operation, followed by lunch at Kim's Kountry Kitchen.

The nominations are being considered for the four current board of Directors whose terms are expiring. Dave Prohaska, Jim Sprague, Bruce Malinczak, and Bob Wahr have expired terms. All are eligible to run again with the exception of Dave Prohaska, who has served three terms and is ineligible to run for another term.

Manchester's CHRISTMAS IN APRIL *Washtenaw, 1995

The Manchester Unit of Christmas in April *Washtenaw is diligently organizing their one-day blitz on April 29, designed to assist low income families, Senior Citizens and disabled people so that they can remain in their own homes.

Many volunteers will begin their day at 8:30, April 29 at the St. Mary's Parish Center where they will meet for coffee, donuts and juice before they embark on their venture to accomplish the tasks that will help people with maintenance of their home and spring cleanup.

Manchester volunteers are needed to fill the variety of skilled and unskilled job positions: Washing windows, raking lawns, trimming bushes and cleaning up trash. Repair window sills, paint the garage, repair the leak in the faucet, fix the roof and update the electrical service. Painters, plumbers, and carpenters with hammers, paint brushes and saws are needed to accomplish all the assignments we have for the day.

Christmas in April volunteers have safety-checked all the homes targeted for improvement. Material lists will be made and all materials will be purchased with funds donated by individuals, church organizations, businesses and industry.

Volunteer forms can be picked up at the Community Resource Center or any of the local banks. The forms need to be dropped off or mailed to the Community Resource Center before April 14th, so that job assignments can be confirmed before April 29. If other information is needed contact the Community Resource Center, 428-7722.

Become a Christmas in April volunteer and experience the joy of sharing the smile that is the result of improving the quality of life for someone in our community.

G.E. Wacker announced as Amoco Inner Circle Winner

In mid-January, G.E. Wacker opened up their new modern pumps with canopy connecting the two buildings housing their "Inner Circle" business.

1994 was a good year for seventeen Amoco jobbers in this region, including Manchester's own G.E. Wacker Oil Co. In addition to their newly opened modern gas pumps with canopy, which opened early in 1995, Wackers were the proud winners of an Inner Circle Award bestowed by the regional corporate office of Amoco.

Based on the number of gallons sold in 1994, Wacker's were presented with the Bronze Inner Circle award which includes a very special trip to Florida for some well-earned relaxation

The trip, to be taken over the long weekend of April 27-30 in Naples, Florida, will just happen to fall in a very timely manner - over the weekend of George and Lois' 33rd wedding anniversary! Their luxurious get-away vacation will be in a fully furnished estate home complete with private pool.

In addition to their tour, complete with airfare, car, lodging, entertainment, meals, and more, they will also have their choice of leisure activities, be it golf, deep sea fishing, an Everglades tour, or a private trolley tour with shopping.

This is the first time in the 60+ years that Wacker Oil has been in business that they have been the recipients of such a prestigious award from Amoco. George and Lois and their family, second and third generations in the business, have earned this special bonus though hard work and dedication. Congratulations - and best wishes for more rewarding trips in the years to come! G.E. Wacker, Inc., obviously has a vision for the future, and are a positive addition to the Manchester Community.

COMPLAINTS

by Paul Kluwe, President, Manchester Community Schools Board of Education

About ten years ago when I was getting petition signatures for my involvement with the school board, a good friend told me: "You know, the school board is a really difficult job. You're always dealing with two of the most emotional issues a person can have: their children and their money." Through the years I have seen the wisdom of these words proven time and time again.

One issue that entails both students and money is that of personnel, both teaching and support staff. Let me begin, and I don't want this to sound like an obligatory introduction, by saying that we are fortunate in the Manchester School District to have a very competent staff. As with any work organization, however, there are a few people who might find better use of their talents elsewhere. I even have some names in mind, and probably everyone who reads this will, too. The really interesting point is that each list would most likely have significant differences.

I hear from time to time that this teacher or that bus driver really isn't up to snuff and needs to be put on notice or replaced. Heck-I've even heard that the board president is incompetent and should be fired (I asked my wife about this and she thinks the board president is doing a fine job). At any rate, it is very helpful when the public gives their feedback on the shortcomings of our school system so we can try to improve things. In many cases, perceived shortcomings of our staff has turned out to be a shortcoming of our structural or organizational methods. Other times. our staff has offered different options to help relieve a difficult situation. And, ves, in more cases than we'd like. nothing happens and things stay the same. The whole process can be very frustrating and painfully slow, but it is through the combination of patience where prudent, impatience where necessary, tenacity, and perseverance that we all make progress.

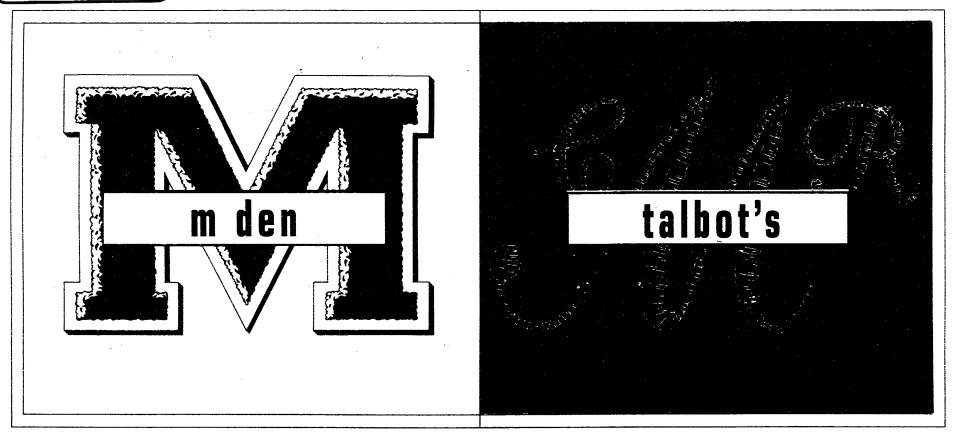

So back to the issue having the board "do something" in certain instances and "take care of" a situation involving a district employee. In the case of teaching or support staff, the board cannot take direct action without violating the superintendent's contract, written board policy, and (usually) common sense. The superintendent's contract states: "The Superintendent shall have complete freedom to organize, reorganize and arrange the administrative and supervisory staff, including instruction and business affairs, and all employees . . . The Board. individually and collectively, shall refer promptly all criticisms, complaints and suggestions called to its attention to the superintendent for study and recommendation." Board policy has similar content along with two pages (Policy #1315.1) of procedures to be followed. In many instances, an appeal to the board for a decision is the final step of the process of resolving complaints.

To a person in crisis, this may appear a "cop-out" on the part of the board. What good are they anyway? It doesn't sound like it does any good to talk with them, so why bother?

It is always helpful (and mandated by school policy) to try a direct approach first and talk directly with the employee(s) in question and follow up with the school administration to seek resolution to the issues in question. It never hurts, however, to keep a school board member or two advised if it would be helpful in their job on the board. And just what is their job of the board? According to school policy (Policy #1000): "The primary responsibility of [the] board is the transformation of the educational ideals, values, and goals of the community into concepts of policy and the subsequent implementation of this policy. The board is charged with the complementary task of interpreting the educational needs and problems of the school system to its constituency. Both functions require effective two-way communication between the board and the public at large..." This is a broad mandate, and it is one through which we can make changes to continually improve our school system. Far from being a bane on our existence, many of our best efforts for improvement have started with a simple, single complaint.

[Note: The Enterprise has offered space in the paper (and an occasional diet Coke) if I ramble on about school issues from time to time. The opinions expressed are my own. If there is a topic you'd like to see addressed, please advise me directly or call the Enterprise.]

Don't you envy these at 12:30. special folks who are so very talented in so many areas? I'm speaking of Howard and Lenora Parr who both have this incredible memory and talent of bringing it out of File X when needed. Being able to write it down so that we feel we actually were a participant along on the bus. is the added plus (aren't we supposed to get forgetful as we advance in age, like me?). They also say 'If you don't. use it, you lose it'. The old adage of remembering happenings of fifty or so years ago is so clear and you can't remember what you did yesterday does not apply to them. Maybe living 'In the shadow of their shepherd' as with the sheep has greatly helped.

For whatever reason, Howard's by-line articles are a joy to read. Thanks so much for clearing up the maple syrup issue and giving us insight into farm activities such as butchering and the real work of preserving the meat 'the old-fashioned way'. Buzzing of wood and shearing of sheep interested us too, they were activities I was not exposed to, being raised as a printer's devil in a small town newspaper office. Why would anyone choose to live in the city? Look what they miss.

Thursday, April 6: Come to your April Birthday Bash which we all enjoy, but is especially made for you Aprilborn seniors 55 or over. Your special tables (you eat first) hopefully will be filled with folks who are celebrating. You may join in by first calling either Linda (ahead) at 428-8359, or Jan (before 10:30 on meal days) at 428-7630. Then come and enjoy! Salisbury steak is on the menu. Bingo is played at the Center

Friday, April 7: Senior bus leaves the Center at 11 AM for the postponed trip to Ann Arbor to view the Art Train on N. Main St. Note change on calendar. Lunch will be enjoyed, too. Call Erma Alber at 428-8707 to go

Tuesday, April 11: Senior Council meeting begins at 9:30—come with your ideas. At noon we will be eating veal Italian instead of the roast pork listed, this is one of the few mistakes that Jan has made! Then, come enjoy the activities at the Center.

Wednesday, April 12: Seniors who have either signed up at meals or have called Erma will leave on the senior bus at 9 for the journey to Hillsdale. Glei's Greenhouse is the attraction and they will go on to Country Loft for more fun.

Thursday, April 13: Our loyal cooks will prepare and serve roast pork today (more in the Easter theme). Let he (or she) who has never made a mistake not do more than tease our cook, she thrives on it, bless her. Then, on to the Center for bingo, good luck.

Well, we arrived home on the 26th (next day 2 inches of snow) after having 80 degrees each day in Winter Haven. Glad to be home, even with all dirty clothes, putting away light weight ones and opening all that mail. Had a good trip, maybe more later.

Thank you Howard!

Summary Board of Education

March 27, 1995

Not official minutes payable of $625,662.98.

The regular meeting of Manchester Community Schools' Board of Education was called to order at 7:50 PM with the Pledge of Allegiance.

President Kluwe welcomed all parents and students to the MEAP awards presentation. Mr. Kluwe acknowledged building principals Yvonne Henry, Klager Elementary; Brian Schick, Nellie Ackerson Middle School and Russ LeBlanc, Manchester High School as well as Superintendent Niedzwiecki for their contributions to the students, district and community. One hundred and thirty-three students were recognized by the Board of Education for their outstanding achievement on the Michigan Educational Assessment Program test. President Kluwe and Superintendent Niedzwiecki presented those in attendance with a certificate and thanked the parents for their support. A brief reception was held after the presentations for all students and their family.

Upon reconvening at 8:46 PM, the Board approved the minutes of the Regular meeting of February 20, 1995 and the treasurer's report with a cash balance as of February 28, 1995 in the amount of $1,729,179.38; total bills

The Board received correspondence from Dianne Schwab, Director of Community Resource Center and Bill Kindt, Social Worker for Manchester Community Schools regarding the Drug Task Force and request to make a presentation at the April Board meeting.

Ron Erickson, financial advisor, discussed with the Board suggested debt payment schedules and bond procedures. Following discussion, the Board adopted resolutions authorizing the sale of the bonds and approved the application for final qualification of the

The Board approved the technology report presented by Harriet Amsler, chairperson of the Technology Committee, and authorized the appropriation of $225,000 in the 1995-96 budget towards the purchase of hardware and software.

Board Policy 5130.2a -Dangerous Weapons, Arson and Rape in the School was adopted. The Board also adopted the resolution authorizing the sale of Bus Purchase Notes for a new 71 passenger bus and reimbursement to the general fund from the proceeds of the Bus Purchase Notes.

Bryan Barnard was appointed J.V. baseball coach and Craig Vitale assistant middle school track coach for the 1994-95 sport season.

The application of membership in North Central Association of Luther C. Klager Elementary and Nellie Ackerson Middle School was approved by the Board.

The Board took action to extend Ronald Niedzwiecki's contract as superintendent of Manchester Community Schools to June 30, 1998.

Discussion took place on the 1995-96 preliminary budget report and the Cultural and Aesthetic Awareness core curriculum. Board members will further review the state curriculum guidelines, and the recommended core curriculum. Action is scheduled for a later board meeting.

The Superintendent was authorized to contact the Leslie Schools regarding the availability of a used portable classroom and make necessary arrangements if determined appropriate for our use.

A Special Board meeting was scheduled for 7:30 PM on Wednesday, April 26, 1995 in the High School Media

The meeting adjourned at 10:47 PM.

24 Hour Relay Challenges YOU!

We're looking for a few good volunteers. Actually, we're looking for a LOT of good volunteers! Co-chairs Deputy Jon Scicluna & Yvonne Henry, along with the entire 24-Hour Relay Challenge Committee are counting on the support of everyone in Manchester to make this very special event happen here.

The goal of the 24 Hour Relay Challenge is to bring community members together for a weekend of fun, substance-free activities, and will raise money to support the D.A.R.E. drug prevention program at Klager School and expand it to the Middle School and High School levels. Also, proceeds will benefit students and community members wishing to provide activities promoting drug free life styles.

The event itself will be held May 27 and 28 at the Athletic Field. Teams of ten members participate in a non-stop, 24hour marathon relay of walking, running, dancing, crawling or being pushed around the track, one mile at a time. As a community-building effort, the relay is a tried and true concept created by Community Matters of California, and has been successful in raising over $1 million in support of community service activities in just four years, through over 50 Relay Challenge events nationwide.

People of all ages and interests are needed to serve on planning committees, participate on relay teams, or donate their time and energy the day of the relay. Volunteer coordinator Dianne Schwab is generously allowing us use of the lines at the Community Resource Center as a clearinghouse of volunteer information. Please call 428-7722 if you are interested in finding a volunteer position which fits your interests and time commitment.

Area businesses, service organizations and merchants are being asked to donate goods and/or services as well as consider sponsoring team members. Individual cash donations are also welcomed in lieu of direct participation in the relay.

Would you like to form your own team? Do you know a group of people who are nutty enough to spend 24 hours camping out on a football field? Maybe you know seven or eight people who are crazy enough to do this, but you need a couple more. Contact Wes Gall or John Korican, in care of the High School (428-7333), who are in charge of Team Participation. They'll help you get your team together.

Do you know anyone who is locally famous? The Public Relations Committee needs your help to compose a "Dream Team" which will consist of celebrities and add some highprofile names to our roster. Please contact Marsha Chartrand (428-8173) or Sonja Schulz (428-9252) if you can help make a connection.

The next meeting of the 24 Hour Relay Committee will be on April 17th at 3:30 PM in the High School Band Room. If you're enthusiastic about participating, interested in learning more, or just curious about the whole thing, you are welcome to attend this meeting. If you are any of the above but unable to attend, please feel free to contact one of the people mentioned above for more information.

"Common Blessing of the Palms" to be held in the park by Emanuel and St. Mary Churches

On Palm Sunday, Christians throughout the world celebrate the memorial of Christ's entrance in triumph into his own city, into Jerusalem, to complete his work as our Messiah.

In Manchester this year, in a very special ceremony, the people of Emanuel United Church of Christ and of St. Mary Catholic Church will literally join together on the lawn of Wurster Park, in front of St. Mary's, to share in the blessing of the palms.

All in the community are invited to join this gathering on Palm Sunday morning, April 9th, at 10:15 a.m.!

The assembly will first sing a hymn together, and then Rev. Vincent Carroll of Emanuel Church and Rev. Francis Murray of St. Mary Church will preside over a ceremony to bless the palms for each congregation.

The people will then in procession carry the palms to their respective churches and continue with their Palm Sunday services.

Although this is the first t i m e Manchester has held a Common Blessing of the Palms, it has been done in other communities. In fact,

Rev. Carroll participated in a common blessing when he was chaplain at Annapolis. And Bishop Povish, the Bishop of the Lansing Diocese of which St. Mary is a part, endorses and supports the ceremony.

This Common Blessing will witness to our common Christian belief in the kingship of Christ and in our tribute to Christ, our King and our Savior.

People of all faiths, please join with your sisters and brothers in faith for a "Common Blessing of the Palms," on Palm Sunday morning, April 9th, at 10:15 a.m. on Main Street on the Village Green, in front of St. Mary's.

Hosanna to the Son of David.

the King of Israel.

Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord.

Hosanna in the highest.

Tax Tips You Can Use

Individuals who privately purchase automobiles and license the vehicle at the Secretary of State's office will occasionally receive notification from the Michigan Department of Treasury of state use tax due on the transfer of the car's title. Also, owners who paid the use tax at the time of title transer may also find they owe more use Two situations most often lead to this problem. One involves the value of the vehicle, the other involves transer of title from one relative to another.

Use tax is due on the value of the vehicle being purchased, not on the actual purchase price. If the purchase price reported on the Secretary of State transfer application form is significantly less than the retail market value of the vehicle, the purchaser will receive a notice for additional use tax due. The additional tax due will be based on the retail market value of the vehicle.

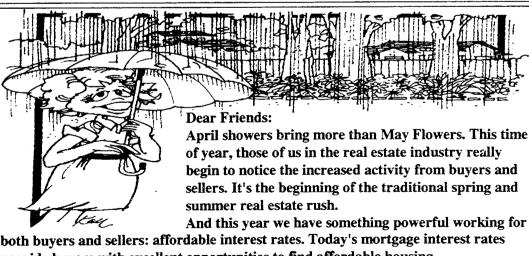

If a purchaser claims an exemption from the use tax on a title being transerred from one immediate family member to another, the Department of Treasury will follow up to secure the proof necessary for the exemption.

Relatives eligible to transer title between one another without paying the use tax include spouse to spouse, parent to child, child to parent and natural sibling to sibling. Half sibling, step-sibling, step-parent or in-law, etc. transfers are not exempt.

The Telephone Operations Section of the Michigan Department of Treasury has increased its hours of operation to assist taxpayers with their questions about preparing their 1994 state tax returns. The hours are 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday through Friday. The phone number for this service is 1-800-487-7000.

Automatic Extensions Offer a Reprieve to Taxpayers

If you're among those taxpayers rushing to locate tax records, document deductions, and complete the tax forms necessary to meet the April 17 deadline, the Michigan Association of CPAs (MACPA) says consider applying for a tax-filing extension.

Filing Extension-Yours for the Asking

It's relatively easy to apply for an automatic four-month extension. The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) doesn't even require a reason for the delay. Simply complete Form 4868, Application for Automatic Extension of Time to File U.S. Individual Income Tax Return, and send it to your IRS Service Center by the normal filing date. This extends your tax-return filing date to August 15, 1995. The MACPA points out that filing for an extension does not necessarily increase the chance of a tax return audit by the IRS, as many people think.

A Filing Extension is not a Payment Extension

Filing an extension does not delay the deadline for payment of taxes. If you estimate that your 1994 federal income tax return will show a balance due, you should write a check for the amount you owe, attach it to Form 4868, and mail both to the IRS by April 17, 1995. If you underestimate the tax you owe, you will be charged interest on the unpaid amount. If the amount you paid through April 17 is less than 90 percent of the taxes due, a late payment penalty will be charged in addition to interest.

If You Need More Time

If you can't complete your tax return by August 15, you can get another reprieve, but this time it's not automatic. You'll need to provide the IRS with a compelling reason, such as a serious illness, for requesting the additional extension. Make your request on Form 2688, Application for Additional Extension of Time to File U.S. Individual Income Tax Return. The IRS will notify you of its decision.

Should the IRS approve your request, you will have until October 16 to complete and file your 1994 tax return. When you file, be sure to attach a copy of the extension to the front of your tax return. If your request is not approved, you must file your return by the original extended due date of August 15. However, you may be given a 10-day grace period from the date of the denial or the due date of the return, whichever is later.

> If You're Living Abroad Slightly different tax rules apply if you are a U.S. citizen or resident and your home for tax purposes is outside the U.S. and Puerto Rico on the date your tax return is due. You automatically have two extra months, until June 15, to file your return and pay any taxes that are due. There's no need to file Form 4868 by April 17. However, you must attach a statement to your return explaining why you are entitled to such an extension. Although you're not required to make any tax payment until you file your 1994 return, you will be charged interest on the balance due from April 17. This automatic extension is also available to military and naval personnel on duty outside the U.S. and Puerto Rico.

A married couple filing a joint return is granted this automatic two-month extension, even if just one spouse is overseas on the filing date. However, if separate returns are filed, the additional time to file extends only to the spouse outside the U.S. If you find you still need more time to prepare your return, file IRS Form 4868 by June 15, to extend your filing date to August 15. Clearly indicate "Taxpayer Abroad" on the form. Finally, you may be able to obtain an additional twomonth extension by filing Form 2350. Remember: your extension does not only apply to the payment of taxes. If you haven't paid at least 90 percent of your expected tax liability by June 15, you will incur late payment penalties in addition to interest.

Don't Make Filing an Extension a Habit

The MACPA recommends that whenever possible, file your tax return on time. You'll be able to do that, and not overlook valuable tax deductions, if you keep your tax records organized throughout the year. What's more, even if you file an extension and the IRS owes you money, you're actually making an interest-free loan to the IRS.

selves. Finally at three O'clock AM, we were turned out and while waiting for some preliminaries to be arranged remarked various changes in the appearances in front. The enemy were and had long been perfectly silent. The city was all on fire, apparently, the air in the direction of Gooseneck, followed by an explosion that shook the earth and rent the heavens. Then we began to smell a mice. Still it seemed too good to believe.

It didn't seem possible the frowning earthworks that had defied us and sent destruction through our ranks for ten months and a half were to be left and become suddenly harmless. At half past three the 1st Michigan deployed as skirmishers, ran across to the works and finding them empty kept on, only occasionally informing us of their success by the ringing cheers that gave vent to their spirits as they leaped over each new work and at last the clanging of the bells with the cheers of our skirmishers told us the town was ours.

At half past four the flag of the 1st Michigan waved from the Court House and the town was regularly turned over to Maj. Lounsberry of our Regt. Col. Ely of our Brigade was constituted Military Commander of the Post. Major Lounsberry Adit. Genl. and Capt. Adams of our Regt., Provost Marshal of Petersburg. Our Regt. was the first to march into town and if that wasn't Honor enough for one day what more should have been added? It was a proud day for the Army of the Potomac and the armies operating against Richmond. We remained as Provost Guard for two days and ought to have been there now and would have been, but for the ambition of Genl. Wilcox -- at least he is the scape-goat and gets the credit for

So we were relieved by some Heavies and sent on to the front where we haven't arrived yet, and perhaps won't for some time. I'd give something to know the whole situation tonight, but when one hears anything in the army one can't know the truth of it without the most convincing proof. We heard once that Lee with 20,000 men had surrendered, again that he and Johnson and Bragg and Hood's forces were to re-unite and thrash us in detail and again that Sherman had cut off Lee's retreat and was driving him back this way again, That Lee's whole army are broken and scattered and not toe be united anywhere. These are only a specimen of the flying reports from which one can't glean truth enough to pay for the trouble of sifting them. Our folks have run the railcars up as far as here tonight, and as the road is to be guarded, maybe we'll do it. Write often and send stamps. Goodbye.

John E. Irwin.

Irwin did not realize within 3 days Gen. Lee would surrender to Gen. Grant and that his four years of war would end.
