Hillary Wiedmayer Student of the Month

The Manchester Optimists are very pleased to announce that Hillary Wiedmayer, a 12th grader at Manchester High School, has been named the April Optimist Student of the month. Hillary is the daughter of Gary and Diane Wiedmayer of Manchester.

Hillary is an excellent student who consistently is recognized on the B Honor Roll. She is an active member of the Key Club and the Students Against Drinking and Drugs (SADD). Last year, Hillary was the chairperson of the Jr-Sr. Prom Committee. As an 11th grader, she was a basketball cheerleader. This year, Hillary is a member of the Manchester High School Student Council.

Hillary is a four year member of the concert band. She is best known as the very talented baton twirler who, along with the marching band, entertains the community at all of the football games. Hillary also participates as a baton twirler and dancer with the Michigan Lions All State Band. As a member of that group, she has toured throughout the United States and this summer will tour South Korea, China and Hawaii.

Hillary is also very involved in the community. She is a three year member of the Huron Valley Ambulance Explorer Post where she works with paramedics at community events, the Gus Macker tournament, and at Eastern Michigan and University of Michigan football games. She has worked at the local Dairy Queen and recently began working at the Chelsea Retirement Home as a dietary aide. She also finds time to work as a baton instructor for the Chelsea Community Education program and the Chelsea Baton Corporation.

Hillary plans on attending Arizona State University or the University of Tennessee. She plans to major in nursing and continue as a twirler with a college band program.

Superintendent Niedzwiecki evaluated by Board

Emory Garlick

At the Board of Education meeting on Wednesday, April 26th, Superintendent of Schools, Ron Niedzwiecki received his Job Performance evaluation report. In past years his evaluation has always been outstanding. This year's evaluation however was different. Judged on eight classifications:

I. General School Leadership, II. Planning and evaluation, III. Personnel Team Builder/Empowerment, IV. Business Management, V. School and Community Communications/Influence, VI. Interactions with the Board of Education, VII. Facilities Management, IX. Knowledge/Expertise/Intellect/Initiative.

Of these Niedzwiecki was rated outstanding in three. General School Leadership, Business Management and Facilities Management.

He was given a satisfactory rating in the other five. The Board elected to not evaluate him on another classification entitled, Integrity.

His Overall Rating was Satisfactory plus, which Board Member Winzenz suggested the rating be recorded as Strong, a compromise between satisfactory and Outstanding.

For the past two or three years, the board has been divided into basically conservative and liberal factions, with the liberals supporting the superintendent in virtually anything he proposes or opposes.

On the other hand, the conservatives have questioned the superintendent about policies, direction, communication, handling of personnel and issues pertaining to programs.

Leading the charge of those consistently and blindly supporting the superintendent's wishes are board members Pat Sahakian and Bruce Abbott. Abbott faces re-election in the June school board election.

According to one School Board member, the situation is simply "crazy."

"All we would like to do is to make the school board and the superintendent more professional and accountable to the taxpayers through more open communication and understanding with the community. The superintendent often feels threatened by those suggestions and thus too often, decisions are made without public or even board of education knowledge."

In other Personnel action, it was moved and supported, "That the contracts of Yvonne Henry, elementary principal; Russell LeBlanc, high school principal; David Swanson, Director of Athletics and Student Services; and Brian Schick, Middle School principal be extended to June 30, 1997."

"Salary and contract adjustments will be recommended at a future meeting."

A discussion was held regarding the establishment of a facility committee for the new building program. Winzenz reported that, "Several people have expressed an interest on serving for the best interests of the school system."

Where Do We Stand on State Accreditation?

by Marsha Johnson Chartrand

When the lists of schools "accredited" by the State of Michigan were released two weeks ago, the absence of any buildings in the Manchester Community Schools District seemed conspicuous.

Hadn't we just heard how great our MEAP scores were, in all of the schools from Klager to High School? And wasn't the state basing their accreditation on how well the students fared on the MEAP tests? Where were the Manchester Community Schools, anyway?

If you wondered, you weren't the only one. Representatives of Manchester Community Schools and the Washtenaw Intermediate School District were also wondering the same thing. But there is much more to the story, we learned, than just scores.

First of all, schools had to show compliance with Public Acts 335 & 339 of 1993. PA 335 & 339 deal with an annual educational report. The annual report must include student achievement, a school improvement plan, parent conference participation, evaluation processes, staff development plan, and curriculum development. Each area has several sub-areas which need to be met. Wow - haven't we seen all this before? Aren't there plenty of programs which the

Second Front Page: Vogels & Fosters in Chelsea

"Good, Old Fashioned" Fashion

Where can you find a clothing store like they had in the good ole' days, when each small town had to support itself and all the townspeople did not have transportation to get to the larger cities?

Vogel's and Foster's in Chelsea is the answer.

After many long years of being the clothing store in Chelsea, Vogel's and Foster's closed in 1993 but only temporarily before it was re-opened under the new ownership of Michael Jackson.

The store will have its one-year anniversary this May to celebrate this rebirth. The plans that Mike made when he reopened included continuing the tradition of service and good quality clothing which the store has always represented. Keeping the store with the old fashioned feeling of warmth and friendliness but with new and exciting clothing for today's life-style seems to have been accomplished.

Bringing back many of the former employees made it an easier transition for Mike, since they knew what the customers liked previous and knew many of the customers personally, certainly made it easier for Mike to concentrate on the buying and marketing of the business.

Walking into Vogel's and Foster's takes you back in time with the high ceilings, wonderful old store fixtures lining the walls, and squeaking wood floors - although when you begin to look at the merchandise, you know someone has their eye on you. Women can go in and buy for themselves as well as their mothers. The clothing caters to young at heart retirees as well as to young mothers - from work to play with an emphasis on our casual life-style.

You will recognize many lines of apparel such as Alfred Dunner, Cambridge, Country Suburban's, Jantzen, Woolrich - the same as in large department stores but very price conscious here - and a wider selection within the grouping. And you will see many lines not found in other shops - some made right here in Michigan.

Then you enter the younger age group in the family, from infants up to girls 7 - 14. New this Spring is Boys 4 - 7 & 8 - 20. The girls wear area is very strong so Mike decided to add boys and take the challenge of getting the boys department off the ground with neat stuff the youth of today would wear. This makes it very handy to be able to stop in and pick up a gift for a shower or a birthday without running your legs off. And yes, as an extra bonus they gift wrap FREE - what a plus for today's busy family!

Vogel's and Foster's have not forgotten the better half (well, let's call it the other half). The men's store exists too, with plenty for today's guys. Mike does not stock suits but he does have sport coats, dress shirts and ties right on down to casual wear. You can run in a pick up a t-shirt and shorts as well as a shirt and tie. Woolrich, Levi, Jantzen, Northern Isle, Haggar, Boston Trader, Munsingwear, and Duckhead are just a few of the lines for the guys.

Mike stated that wrinkle free products are very strong on the men's side today - (I wonder if that has anything to do with men having to either help with the laundry or living on their own and having to do it all themselves? Amazing how times have changed since women have entered the work force.)

Not only do you get good personal service and free gift wrap, but they also do alterations and they now are open late Thursday, Friday & Saturday evenings 'till 9 PM for the 9 - 5 working class. Don't forget the basics, because Mike has all of those too at Vogel's and Foster's.

So if you are looking for that good ole' fashion clothing store with something just right for you, stop in at Vogel's and Foster's.

Foster's. You just might be surprised! Then again - maybe you won't.

Letter to the Editor:

I want to commend Ruby Ostrander, the crossing guard at the corner of City Rd. and Wolverine, for her professionalism and concern for my son's safety yesterday and every other day. Yesterday, I had some car problems and was forced to use my husband's truck in order to pick up the kids after school. Ms. Ostrander noticed that my son got into a "strange" truck and immediately took down the license plate number. A short time later she spotted me, back in the now repaired car and inquired about my son's safety and expressed her concern about the strange truck. I explained that it was me, but, it is reassuring to know that the crossing guard was looking out for Jeff.

Thank you,
Wendy Chapin

"How do you explain what's right and wrong?"

Yesterday she was chosen to hold the flag while her class said the Pledge of Allegiance. Her teacher told her she had earned that privilege. She was proud to tell her parents.

Today she saw a person burn a flag to attract attention. She asked her teacher if burning a flag was right or wrong.

The teacher had to tell her that it used to be a bad thing, but some important people in Washington said now it's okay.

She went home confused. Her parents decided that it was time to get involved. They know that flag burning is wrong.

Re: Clara Anne Young - printed as Corey Lynn Bondy

Dear Mr. Garlic,

Enclosed, please find copies of Clara Anne Young's Certificate of Baptism and Birth Certificate. I must say that I am extremely distressed at the position of your newspaper. The child sitting on the lap of the Easter Bunny on the front page of the April 19, 1995 issue of the Manchester Enterprise is Clara Anne Young, not Corey Lynn Bondy.

An error was made. Whether that error was one in judgment or a misprint is irrelevant. The fact still remains that an error was made. It should not concern the paper that there are underlying issues regarding the identity of the child. It is not relevant that there is a custody issue. The basic issue is, you featured my

No Winners! Editorial

Emory Garlick

This is a story I really don't like to write; as a matter of fact I feel somewhat like a traitor writing it.

As a long time friend, editor and publisher advised; "You do not have a choice. You are not just an engineer and business man. You are an editor and journalist - like it or not - and you are obligated to tell the readers and taxpayers the story!"

In late February, early March, some transportation department employees came to the Enterprise, and a board member called about a problem within the transportation department. I took that problem to the superintendent and asked him what's the "scoop?" Response: "There is no problem, except for some personality conflicts."

I proceeded to conduct ten interviews. Talked to some present and past board members and found this had been a problem of almost 10 years' duration. In fact, in 1988, one of the employees delivered to the superintendent a summation of the problem and a possible solution.

April 10, 1995 I hand carried a letter to the superintendent and the board president with my findings. At the April 17th board meeting I informed the board that I had delivered a letter to the superintendent and that the Enterprise and I stood 100% behind the good, honest and hard working employees of the school system. At a subsequent meeting with the superintendent I was informed that, "[he]...would not be pressured by the employees, the union, the board or the Enterprise to make a decision on the problem!"

A reliable source informed me that, "A solution has been found. A reorganization is planned that eliminates a supervisory position. The position is not warranted in a school system of our size. The departments can function perfectly well on their own." I have no doubt that is correct.

- The employees who had to file a grievance and come to the Enterprise to be heard are not winners.
- The employee whose position has been eliminated is not a winner. If the decision had been made in 1988 that employee may have had an opportunity to be gainfully employed elsewhere at possibly a better wage.
- The board of education is not a winner because this decision could have been implemented seven years ago. Yet, they had the expectation that the best decisions were being made according to the superintendents contract.
- The superintendent is not a winner because his decision (or lack thereof) in 1988, did not solve the problem.
- The taxpayers and members of the district are not winners because the decision delayed for seven years probably cost the system in excess of $350,000. Confidence is sorely lacking that the internal workings of the administration and the checks and balances within the system could and would solve problems.
- Nor are the Enterprise or this writer winners, because we do not like to write and investigate anything bad within the school system.

daughter in a photograph and identified her by the name of someone who, to my knowledge, does not exist.

There should be no confusion here. Clearly, there is motivation on the part of her father to engage in such inappropriate behavior, however, that is not the concern of the paper. Your involvement is limited only to the clear and simple fact that the photograph of the child does not match the name listed. That needs correction.

I would appreciate the correction to be worded as follows:

The youngest winner of the Easter Egg Hunt sponsored by the Manchester Mens club was Clara Anne Young, not Corey Lynn Bondy.

The child, Corey Lynn Bondy, does not exist, legally, in any form. Regardless of personal issues surrounding this situation, your responsibility and involvement is only the correction of the error. I have provided proof of the child's name and informed you of the error. That is where your involvement ends. Printing the correction does not involve you in the custody issues or any other issues involving Mr. Bondy and I.

I would expect the same type of professionalism from this paper as I would from any other larger paper. An error was made, I am asking you to correct it and identify Clara Anne Young by her legal name and not a fictitious name, regardless from whom it was provided.

I thank you in advance for your anticipated cooperation.

Sincerely,
Laura K. Gilmore

Out & About

by gar

When I was drafted into the Army during the Korean crisis I was able to spend some time with some friends in California, Ernie and Lou Draffin. On one occasion they took me to a small vineyard east of San Francisco. The wine making process was fascinating and the master vintner explained the process in some detail.

I was particularly interested in the fermenting process, when the raw crushed grape juice was placed into barrels. Being a Michigan farm-boy and not knowing anything about the process of wine making, I asked why they didn't bottle the raw juice then let it ferment. The vintner patiently explained that should they do that the bottles would possibly blow up, pop their corks or if they didn't do either the bottom of the bottle would be filled with dregs of the grape fermenting process.

That has always stuck with me and I have applied the analogy to other things in life. One of the analogies is that management of people and problems is a lot like wine making. If you get all the information together, like gathering of grapes and crushing them, put them in a bottle, cork the bottle and set it on a shelf for a period of time, the problem will ferment and the bottle will either break or pop its cork. Definitely the problem will leave a residue, most likely of distrust, disgust and frustration. And the vintner who bottled the problem will have another problem. Cleaning up the mess and solving the original problem. Kind-a like the ongoing transportation department problems. They were bottled up 7 years ago, set on the shelf, and now that the cork has popped, the problem and the resulting residue mess has to be cleaned up.

Dear Editor,

The bombing in Oklahoma has sent a shock wave through American society. Many of us feel intensification of anxiety and dread about the course this country is on. We recognize the daily escalation of violence about us. We know that if it hasn't touched us yet, the time will finally come when it will. What do we do?

It is important that we see that the mentality that drove those who bombed the Federal Building and killed scores of innocent children and adults in Oklahoma is a mentality of fear. Fearing an enemy magnified in their minds beyond all rational proportions, those responsible for the bombing chose violence as their means of "solving" their problem. Violence begets violence. Always.

When any of us begins to believe that there is an enemy out there so evil that it is deserving of our hatred and violence, we perpetuate the cycle of violence that creates the slaughter of innocents.

In this time of national mourning, we must not allow fear to guide our thoughts or actions. We must experience our pain and grief. We must vow to make a difference by increasing the expression of compassion and love on the planet for all life forms. Fear will be our undoing. Fear causes us to hide. What is needed now is action. The antidote to despair is action.

Martha Stoner

Dear Editor:

Sometimes life is hard, but, "This is the day the Lord has made. Let us rejoice & be glad in it."

Sometimes responsibilities are more than one can handle.

Sometimes there just isn't enough money or strength to do what needs to be done.

Then you wake up to a glorious sunny Saturday, and God blesses with a whole crew of good caring people; freely giving their time, labor, talents & skills.

This past Saturday - the one sunny day out of the week - generous, kind Plumbers, Scrapers, Roofers, Mowers, Painters, Heating & Electrically skilled people did their part to create a "Christmas in April" at my house.

As I think about all that was accomplished, I am amazed! A simple "thank you" cannot convey my gratitude - next year I'll be there to help someone else.

May God bless each of you with a good measure, pressed down, shaken together, and running over.

A Grateful Resident.

A Perfect Prom

The Junior-Senior Prom, "Now and Forever", was held last Saturday, April 29 at the McKinney Union at Eastern Michigan University. The evening's festivities commenced with formal pictures in front of a white backdrop with beautiful bouquets of fresh flowers. The dinner buffet, which included prime rib, vegetable lasagna, stemmed vegetables, salad, fruit, potatoes and dessert, began at 7:30pm. (Many students commented on the surprisingly tasty food.)

SADD (Students Against Drinking and Drugs) added a fun twist to the evening. This Manchester High School club gave all juniors and seniors (who were attending prom) the opportunity to sign a Prom Pledge. The participating students promised not to use drugs or alcohol on prom night. These responsible students were rewarded with various prizes, donated by local businesses.

The evening climaxed when MC's Erin Binder and Sandi Fielder announced the prom court (see picture), and then crowned King Jeff Steele and Queen Shan Lee. The royal couple danced the first song of the evening together, and were later joined by other couples.

After hours of dancing, mingling, and laughing, the final song was played, and the magical evening was over, or was it? Not by a long shot! You guessed it! After-prom parties capped off the night for many students. Others ate out at restaurants, or visited local clubs.

Everyone at prom received a prom favor (a candy-filled vase-like glass), as well as a program booklet entitled "Now And Forever". The red and black decorations, although simple, were very elegant. Thank you to the Class of 1996 for such a classy prom, it was appreciated by all.

Quiz Bowl at State!

Manchester High School's Varsity Quiz Bowl team competed at the state tournament in Port Huron April 28 and 29. Although the team played well, others played better. The team lost their first match, came back to win the second, but then lost the third match against tough competition.

Even the team's good luck charms, which included a pair of sunglasses, and a lucky maze, weren't enough to help defeat the seemingly impossible competition. However, Manchester did play quite well, losing by only few precious points.

The team was led by seniors Justin Ebersole, Diana Kruse, and Jennifer Nosbisch. These seniors (who were also the top three scorers for the season) played in all matches, while Andrew Schook, Peter Paige, and Sean Clifford rotated in every half. Also, Captain Justin Ebersole rewrote the books by scoring over 1000 points during this season and setting a new school record. Congratulations!!

The 1995 tournament marked the third time Manchester has qualified for state. This year's performance matched the team's best showing ever. The team was very pleased with their overall performance, and were most adamant about the fact that they had FUN! Congratulation to all members of the Varsity Quiz Bowl Team!!

Japanese Guests Revisited

Dear Mr. Howard Parr;

Thank you very much to send me a copy of the Manchester Enterprise. We enjoyed reading very much. The picture on the paper is very good to explain us. Anyway, thank you very much.

I will send you some pictures and a small donation for the historical Blacksmith Shop.

Our visiting to your place is our good memory for long time. If I have a chance to visit Manchester, I would like to come on July, because the BBQ party open, doesn't it? Every March, I come to the U.S.A. to attend the dental meeting. I hope I will be able to have a chance to visit Manchester again, hoplly with my family.

Please take care of your health and I hope many people around the world come to visit the Blacksmith Shop. Thank you very much for your kindness.

Sincerely,
Yasumasa Fukase

In response to Dr. Fukase's letter, Howard sent him the following e-mail message:

Dear Dr. Fukase,

Thank you for your letter of April 10th—especially for your contribution to our Historical Society. I enjoyed having you, your family and guest at the shop. Yes, the chicken BBQ is held the third Thursday in July each year and you are welcome anytime.

We did not like the news about another terrorist attack in Japan—this time in your home town. We hope you were in no way involved.

We are in Oxford, Ohio visiting our son and his family. He teaches vocal music at Miami U. here and his 90 voice men's glee club sang its spring concert last night. They all did very well, so you can realize we are proud parents today.

I do not have E-mail facilities in Manchester. If you answer by this mode to him here, he'll forward me a hard copy.

Again, thanks for your letter and contribution. Good luck to you and your family.

Sincerely,
Howard Parr

State Awards Local School-To-Work Grant

Governor Engler announced the award of a $150,560 grant to the Washtenaw County School-to-Work Local Community Partnership, administered by the Washtenaw Intermediate School District.

"School-to-Work programs are vital to Michigan's economic development strategy since they forge important linkages between classroom learning and the rapidly changing world of work," said the Governor. "It's critical that our students acquire the knowledge, skills and abilities they need to make the transition from school to career-oriented employment."

The grant will be administered by a local community partnership comprised of at least 51% private sector representatives, an employer chair, and representatives from K-12 and post-secondary educational institutions, organized labor, community organizations, local government, parent and student organizations, and other key partners.

Michigan's School-to-Work Initiative is being implemented through the Michigan Jobs Commission, the Michigan Department of Education and local community partnerships.

THE ANNUAL AT THE FLAGPOLE, ACROSS FROM THE GAZEBO

Once again this year, Manchester will join the rest of the country in coming together at noon on the First Thursday in May for prayer - prayer for our country, our government leaders, our politicians, our schools, our churches, and our families. Concerned individuals are urged to participate that day, by meeting at the flagpole in Wurster Park at noon on Thursday, May 4th. In case of rain, we will meet at the Gazebo.

For fifteen minutes, Manchester residents can join with others across the nation in prayer. Anyone who believes in God and the power of prayer can participate! Come and go as you must, but please plan to attend. Be a part of the difference that prayer can make in the life of our community.

by T.V. Ludwick

Go, go is the motto for my gadding husband who finally is getting his 'fill' of it this week (maybe). Over the weekend of the 22nd, we attended a wedding of a cousin in the Alma area and on to Shepherd to visit three more on Sunday.

Then, on Tuesday, son Phil picked him up to go along to deliver finished lumber at Ulby and stopped at Decker going and coming. Absolutely no admission to the Nichols' farm, in fact at Marlette where they ate lunch there was a poster stating arrests would be made if attempts were made to enter this farm property.

On the way back, they went into the Village of Decker (population 90). Buses and trucks with generator for power lined the street to the small church preparing for the television town meeting with Ted Koppel. Did you stay up and watch the program? We put a tape in the VCR intending to record and watch it in the morning, but remained glued to the television until it finished. They arrived home after the 400 mile round trip tired. Is Del ready to go again somewhere? Just ask him.

When kids were young, we traveled the back roads as far as a week's vacation would take us and bring us back within that time limit. Such memories, but oh, my aching back!

Thursday, May 4: Whee, exercise class begins at the Center at 10:30. Then, on to birthday dinner for May born seniors - baked chicken will be served. Get your reservation in early to Linda (428-8349, or to Jan (428-7630) before 10:30 on meal days and enjoy your party.

Bingo will be played at the Center, come join in at 12:30.

Tuesday, May 9: Council meeting starts at 9:30 and you are invited to come to the Center for this. Jan and loyal crew are again surprising us with chef's choice (last time it was delicious but not named, Jan thinks it will be named sometime). Aren't all those senior meals tasty and enough for threshers?

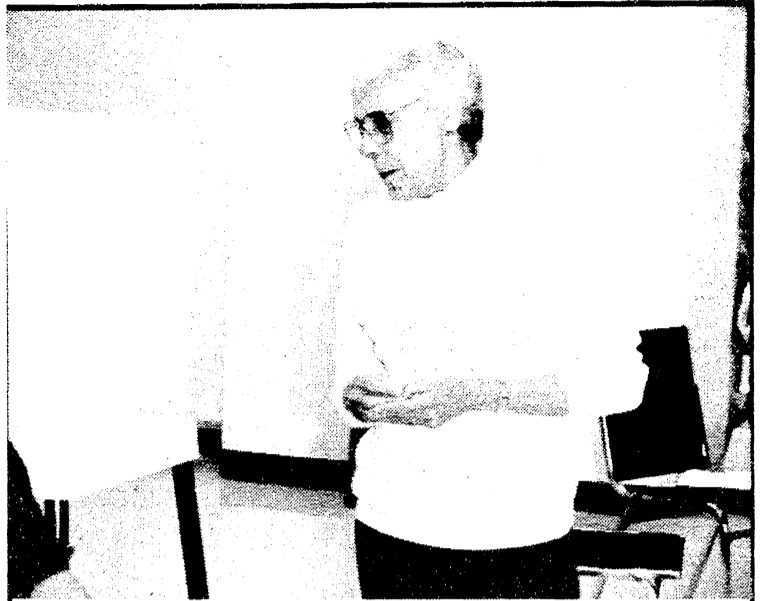

At 12:30, senior bus will transport us to the residence of Dr. Glenn Lehr where he will proudly display his orchids. We find hidden talents all over our area, huh? We will leave from Emanuel Church.

Thursday, May 10: The fun of exercise class begins at 10:30, come try it. Noon lunch at Emanuel UCC Fellowship Hall features 'Some Stew in Battercrust'. Does that mean it is some like something special, or some like in whatever? We'll probably not know until we taste it, dear Jan. She comes up with ideas that are unheard of and we love them.

Then, go to the Center for bingo where confusion won't reign.

Looking ahead to Friday, May 12: Bus will leave the Center for Gee's Market where nursery stock, a greenhouse and produce abound in plenty. A visit to the Stockbridge Market will also be made. Give Erma Alber a ring to place your name on the list.

Manchester Senior Citizens have a box in Great Lakes Bancorp for deposit of articles designated for Ronald McDonald's House. A list of articles needed will be posted.

Christmas in April

Emory Garlick

I used to think Christmas only came in December but that's not true. On a wonderfully warm and beautiful Saturday in April (29th), the CRC gang lead by Bill and Diane Schwab and about 100 beautiful, wonderful dedicated citizens of Manchester and friends from other communities dispelled that myth.

One hundred (or thereabout) Santa's helpers met at the K of C Hall at 8:00 AM Saturday to have coffee, rolls, milk and refreshments. They received Santa's six assignments for CHRISTMAS IN APRIL. Those assignments were to help refurbish residences at;

- 19542 Bowens Road
- 11750 Hogan Road
- 6700 Kothe Road
- 12870 Bethel Church Rd.
- 815 Vernon Street
- 520 Granger Street

The task's at hand ranged the entire gambit from raking yards, cleaning flower beds, mowing grass, cleaning windows, washing walls, conditioning lawn mowers, trimming bushes and trees, to checking furnaces, replacing soffits, installing new electric service entries, rewiring houses, installing smoke alarms, erecting partition walls, rewiring hot water heaters, replacing shingles on roofs, repairing gutters, painting, replacing front doors, installing handicapped ramps, plumbing repairs, new GFI electric circuits, installing handrails on stairways and landings and much, much more.

I talked to most of the recipients of this CHRISTMAS IN APRIL and never have I heard so much praise for the wonderful kindness and work being done. Most of the recipients were unable to accomplish the needed tasks because of health problems.

Diane Schwab asked me to not use the recipients names if they did not want to be identified, everyone of the recipients was very gracious in allowing pictures to be taken and a few said they did not mind me taking their picture and identifying them.

One wonderful long time farmer had to show me his new lambs and told how without Santa's helpers he could not do the work.

But let the pictures do the talking and say thanks to all the wonderful volunteers, for your efforts were appreciated and applauded.

Manchester High School Accreditation Renewed

Manchester High School Principal Russel J. LeBlanc announced that the school's North Central Association accreditation has been extended through the 1994-95 school year. This action was taken at the NCA's Annual Meeting in Chicago, Illinois, on March 29, 1995.

Russ LeBlanc, MHS Principal

"Along with hosting periodic on-site evaluations by a visiting team of educators, each NCA school is accredited on the basis of an annual report on conditions in the school and on such supplementary information as the Commission on Schools requests," Mr. LeBlanc explained. "The continued accreditation means that the conditions for effective education exist in the school."

The North Central Association is the largest of the country's regional accrediting agencies. It is a voluntary coalition of over 7,000 schools and over 1,000 colleges and universities in the nineteen-state region of the central United States. The Association works with schools to improve the quality of education through a continuous process of accreditation and evaluation.

Earth Day Stories

by Mr. K's and Mrs. V's fourth grade class

What Earth Day Means To Me

By Annie Ganger

Earth Day means a day that you care for the earth. A day to plant trees. A day to pick up litter. Earth Day is a special day to me and maybe to you. Not only on Earth Day should you clean and recycle things. You should clean and recycle every day! Earth Day is to keep plants, animals, and us clean. To keep the earth clean you can turn down the heat in your home, not feed wild animals because they can get sick from eating human food. We can take short showers instead of baths. We shouldn't pick wildflowers because there are not so many of them. Everyone can recycle paper, plastic, glass and metal. If we see litter we can pick it up. We should make sure that we have a full load of clothes or dishes before we wash them. We can ask our parents not to dump motor oil into storm drains because it can leak into rivers, lakes, and streams. These are some ideas for you. There are lots more ways to save our earth. Try some!

What Earth Day Means To Me

By Jenna Novess

Earth Day means a lot to me. I think that it means it's a day where people realize how much the earth means to us and what it has given us. I feel Earth Day should be every day! People should do everything they can to help the earth. We should plant new trees so we can get more oxygen to breathe. We can pick up litter when we see it. We can learn all about animals and their problems so that we can help them. There are many other things we can do. "The worst thing you can do is nothing at all" said a famous poet. I think it is very true. And that's how I feel about Earth Day.

What Earth Day Means To Me

by Amy Ervin

Earth Day is a special day. What I do on earth day is to plant trees and help keep our earth healthy for when I get older. I would like people to not cut down too much trees. We should recycle all the newspapers, maybe we should recycle all the homework papers too. We should learn to reuse all the things such as furniture, clothes, cans, bottles, tins. As I am sitting typing out what Earth Day means to me my Dad and Mom bought a chair from an Auction, they try and teach me that everything does not have to be new it can be used and recycled.

I hope that I can do more recycling as I get older. I will try and teach my family and friends to recycle, reuse and reduce the things in this world. I would like to have clean air to breathe as I get older, I would like the river to stay clean so that I can play in it. Earth Day means let's try and keep things recycled so that we can live in a clean earth for years and years to come.

What Earth Day Means To Me

by Dale Becker

To me, Earth Day is cool! I think everybody should do something for Earth Day. If you pollute, it is like pouring oil into your mouth. Planting trees or seeds is a good thing to do on Earth Day. I wish nobody would pollute. It is bad for us and for animals. Polluting can hurt the environment. By us not polluting, animals can live longer and better too. To me, polluting can kill most anything. When I get older, I will not pollute. If you want to be cool don't pollute. People that pollute, I don't think are smart. So, be cool and don't pollute!

What Earth Day Means To Me

by Josh McCalla

Earth Day means a day to help the earth and universe. I wish everybody would take care of the earth so it wouldn't get polluted. I like the earth and I hope it never gets destroyed. When I see people polluting it I get very mad. If people pollute they should be fined $100.00. It is very stupid to pollute or do anything to hurt the earth. I think people should recycle, plant trees, conserve water, carpool, and take a bus to get around. It would help a great deal.

School Issues

school has publicized, in the Enterprise, within the school system, and elsewhere in the community, which cover these criteria? Yes, indeed. The schools in Manchester are in compliance with all the standards set by PA 335 & 339.

Secondly, schools need to submit to accreditation, as outlined in PA 25 of 1990. The purpose of the school - in mission statements, statements of philosophy, and student outcomes - are all covered in 23 subsections of PA 25. The purposes of the organization and administration of the school are covered in eleven different areas. Other significant standards are created for Staff, School/Community Relations and Facilities/Equipment. Haven't we heard about Mission Statements, District Goals & Purposes, Student Outcomes, and all the rest of these phrases over the past five years? Once again, the answer is yes. Manchester Community Schools

Superintendent Ron Niedzwiecki was notified on Monday, May 1, that through an error at the Michigan Department of Education, Klager was mistakenly omitted from the original list of accredited schools. Of this fact, we can be very proud...Klager school had 65.8% of their students over the past three years who achieved satisfactory MEAP scores.

has been striving over the past few years to meet or exceed these standards which were set in PA 25.

Finally, the MEAP (Michigan Educational Assessment Program) test results. As recently as the February and March Board of Education meetings, the schools were presented with accolades for the high percentage of students with satisfactory MEAP scores. At the March Board of Education meeting, these students were honored with certificates and a special presentation by the board.

What happened? So what happened?

According to Kathy Cambria, of the Washtenaw Intermediate School District, Manchester Community Schools' three buildings (for the purposes of accreditation, buildings are accredited - not districts) are "on the cusp" of summary (full) accreditation. As the Director of Staff Services at the WISD Development Center, Ms. Cambria is the resource person for local districts working toward state accreditation. "Manchester Community Schools is one of my favorite school districts in the county," says Cambria. There are wonderful things happening in your district." But her glowing recommendation is a prelude to telling me that the "elaborate formula" by which accreditation is achieved has somehow managed to elude all the school buildings in Washtenaw County - even here in Manchester.

Manchester can take comfort in the fact that summary accreditation was only granted to 145 of the 3,331 schools in the state - less than 4.5% - on the initial list released April 19th. Subsequently, 13 more schools have received their summary accreditation notification. Notable among these few is Klager Elementary School. Superintendent Ron Niedzwiecki was notified on Monday, May 1, that through an error at the Department of Education, Klager was mistakenly omitted from the original list of accredited schools. Of this fact, we can be very proud. Klager school had 65.8% of their students over the past three years who achieved satisfactory MEAP scores. Nellie Ackerson Middle School had the highest science scores in the county. Their math and reading scores are "right up there" with about 60% achieving the satisfactory benchmark.

Manchester High School is also "very close" to reaching the standards set by the Legislature and the Department of Education for school accreditation.

Furthermore, all three schools in our district have been granted scores rule our children's curriculum. How do we consider the human factor? Cambria acknowledged, "Children are not parts which can be molded or die-cut. They are not nascent automobiles which end up all alike." Some children take tests well; others don't.

And for those who can take tests, it can be compared to taking the driver's test when you renew your license. If you've been taught; if you can study; and if you know the questions that will be on a test - you can score well. Does that mean you know how to drive a car? Does it make you a good driver? Does the state of Michigan understand that passing a test does not make you a good student? It just makes you a good test-taker.

When our teachers are forced to teach what is on these "high stakes tests" in order to meet state requirements, does that mean they are forced to abandon other, equally important topics in the limited time which they are given each day? Are the walking down a too-narrow hallway? Is the state, rather than broadening our children's horizons, as we all hope education will do for them, instead limiting what they will learn by prescribing what they should be taught? Do the teachers go beyond teaching to the tests?

Thankfully, it seems that many of the teachers in Manchester do just that. "A dedicated, committed staff, ready and willing to meet the challenges," is how the teachers of Manchester Community Schools are described by Cambria.

MANCHESTER COMMUNITY SCHOOLS Mission Statement

The Manchester Community School District believes that through partnership with community, parents and school family, all students will be challenged to obtain the skills necessary to realize their highest personal potential.

The success of the Mission will be monitored through Student Achievement Data, Co-Curricular Participation, Graduation Rates and Surveys. Use of the feedback will lead to exemplary education and constant improvement vital to success.

membership in North Central Association, as prestigious and well-recognized national accrediting organization. Manchester High School has just recently had its accreditation renewed by North Central; Klager and Middle School have been granted membership which is the initial step in North Central's accreditation process. Comparing the standards set by North Central to the state accreditation is like comparing apples to oranges, however. The criteria differ widely; although North Central also focuses on School Improvement Plans, curriculum and staff development, and student outcomes. North Central doesn't rely so completely on test results as a measure of student achievement.

Many parents question the wisdom of letting standardized test

Niedzwiecki, and many other educators and community members.

But on the horizon loom more issues. Increasing MEAP standards. New components to the MEAP tests. This October, a new writing assessment will be added to the more-familiar Math and Reading tests. More intervention in local districts by state and federal government regulations.

"As they change the test, we will be prepared for that," Niedzwiecki assured us. "We are trying to align our curriculum so that we will be brought into line with the standards which are set for us. We have worked very hard; it will take time, but the students are successful on the existing test because we have been doing this." Keeping balance, stability and perspective, and "Not losing sight of our ultimate goal - the kids" are all important components of a successful school district, according to Niedzwiecki. He believes we are handling the challenge.

"There are a number of legitimate assessment tools to determine student abilities as well as the district's success in educating those students," Niedzwiecki said, when asked about the human factor in education. "Many educators are troubled about placing all the credit or blame on one 'high stakes proficiency exam' to determine the quality of education." Cambria adds, "There are alternative ways to show mastery of objectives." Perhaps these alternatives need to be explored. It does not seem fair to place all our eggs in one basket.

Perhaps the standards will change - although it seems less likely that the state will decide to back down than that they may decide to get more involved in what our local districts are doing. A "schizophrenia" exists, in that we are getting messages of local autonomy at the same time state and national standards are increasing. Hopefully the legislators and the Department of Education will see that the results of standardized testing are not a true measure of what a school district is all about - just as it is not a true measure of what a student is learning there.

"This will take some time," indicates Cambria; referring to a process during which the current criteria may make way for the alternative type assessments. Is the two years we have been granted (as 'interim accredited' schools) enough time? What will happen to the less gifted students? What will happen to less 'gifted' districts?

Yes, standards are a useful tool - to ensure a benchmark for which districts can strive, to assure that students who transfer from one district to another will not be at a disadvantage, and to measure how successful a district is in meeting its goals. And certainly, standards have resulted in dramatic improvement in our own schools here in Manchester over the past several years. Better facilities, better faculty, better curriculum, and better and brighter student results. But to begin with a set of very high standards, and then tighten them up each year, is to make it nearly impossible for many schools - or students - to ever catch up.

Significant questions need to be asked. Not only of our schools, because they are accountable to us, the taxpayers. But also of the other bodies who are accountable to us - the State Legislature who has formulated these standards; and the Department of Education who enforces the standards. How far will we let big brother go?

Suddenly, it doesn't seem like such a stretch of imagination that big brother is trying to maintain control.

Manchester Bands Have a Busy Spring

The High School Band received a rating of "2" for their performance at the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association (MSBOA) District 8 Concert Festival held March 17 in Jackson. Bands are rated on several performance aspects, such as tone quality, presentation of the music, and musical ability. Each band was evaluated individually by the festival judges and received a rating of "1" through "5," with a "1" signifying top honors.

At the MSBOA District 8 Junior High Festival held March 5, the Manchester Seventh and Eighth grade band also received a "2." Both bands improved their scores over last year, when each received ratings of "3."

Manchester students who performed in the MSBOA

District 8 Junior High Solo and Ensemble Festival had much to be proud of as well. Receiving ratings of "1" for their performances were Tracy Brooks, Ann Hinkley, and Amber Reed. Brandy Aiken and Erin Wiley each performed in two pieces and received ratings of 1 for both performances. Bringing home ratings of 2 were Eli Bragg, Jodi Donnellon, Rachel Fleck, Erin Fox, Laura Kanta, and Megan Wilson.

Manchester bands were also represented in the District 8 Honors Band which performed February 4 in Jackson. The top three to eight band students from schools around Jackson, Lansing and western Washtenaw county were selected to participate in the auditions. Representing Manchester were Jodi Donnellon, Erin Kane, Sarah Patak, Amber Reed, Dawn Shaw, Justin Turk and Megan Wilson.

In a well-deserved break from performing, 39 High School band students and seven brave parent chaperones headed for a long weekend in the Big Apple. The group left Manchester March 22 and traveled to New York via Travel Adventures motor coach. They toured Manhattan, with stops at Radio City Music Hall, the Apollo Theater in Harlem, the Statue of Liberty, Ellis Island and Liberty Science Center. In keeping with their connection to the arts, they brushed up their performance skills at a music clinic offered by Lehrman College in the Bronx, and thoroughly enjoyed themselves at a Broadway performance of Grease, starring Brooke Shields.

RACING ON THE RIVER RAISIN 29 YEARS LATER

May 21, 1995

by Patty Swaney

The Manchester Centennial Celebration was well under way, the 22nd of April, 1967. Charles Hough and Allen Clark had worked out all the details for the first Manchester Canoe Race. They felt that since the River Raisin had played such an important part in the settlement of Manchester the river should be part of the Centennial Celebration.

On the morning of race high winds discouraged about 10 entrants but 31 canoes and row boats battled wind and currents for the nearly 9 miles of winding river.

Clark, aided by J. C. Hendley and L. Dean Sodt started the boats off from the Fellows Bridge starting point. Some simple rules were laid down and only two classes for either boats or canoes: father and son teams or choose-your-partners.

A cheering crowd encouraged the weary paddlers and rowers toward the Main St. Bridge finish line. Handing out the trophies was the Centennial Chairman, Irwin Gill, along with time keepers Allen Alber and Doug Hughes. Winning times for paddlers in that first race were very close to recent record times. The first partner team won the race with a time of 37 min. 31 sec.

The following year the canoe race was held in May. The big news however in 1968 was that a new class was added to the events. Ladies - boat - choose-your-partner. Four ladies pioneered this event: Delores and Brenda Buss and Carol Way and Betty Cox.

Some other things have changed since that first canoe race down the River Raisin 29 years ago! The Manchester Recreational Task Force now mobilizes the committee that runs the canoe race. On May 21, 1995 for the 29th Annual Manchester Canoe Race there are 7 classes. Included are: Women, Man and Woman, ChoosePartner, Adult and Child, Competition, Single and Sprint. You don't even have to have your own canoe since Manchester has its own Sharon Hollow Acres Canoe Livery.

Entry forms for the race are available at: Manchester Pharmacy, Pyramid Office Supply, Movieland, and the Community Resource Center. You can also call 428-7722 for specific information. Rules and classes have changed over the 29 years, but the fun and excitement of racing down our town river still remains.

Entering the Home Stretch for the 24-Hour Relay Challenge

artwork for the 24 Hour Relay Challenge by David Staten, MHS sophomore

The 24 Hour Relay Challenge Committee would like to invite everyone in the Manchester area to become a part of one of the most exciting and meaningful events to take place locally over Memorial-Day Weekend. It is, of course, the 24 Hour Relay Challenge which will take place on May 27-28 on the Athletic Field.

10 AM Saturday to 10 AM Sunday is the time set for the event, which is a relay "race" for the entire 24 hours. All involved will camp out all night with entertainment, food and fun activities provided. The event will be entirely drug and alcohol free.

The proceeds from the event will go back to our schools to sponsor D.A.R.E. programs at Klager, High School and Middle School here in Manchester. Also, funds will be made available to local student groups who wish to sponsor drug and alcohol awareness programs for the community.

The support and encouragement of the entire community will be the biggest advantage we can give to this event. Volunteer by calling the Community Resource Center at 428-7722, and lend your support in that way. Or, if you want to be part of a team, contact Wes Gall at the High School, 428-7333, for a Team Participation Form.

It's not too late to be part of one of the biggest events to hit Manchester since the Chicken Broil and Summer Fest! Pick your participation and get with it! We'll be looking for you there. -MJC
