Rained On - But Not Rained Out!

MANCHESTER'S PIONEER SPIRIT PREVAILED against a damp day. Keith Doker, a former Manchester resident, didn't mind eating his chicken on the Athletic Field, and was typical of those who braved the raindrops (and a few downpours, too!)

Manchester's 42nd Annual Chicken Broil will be remembered not for its profitability, but for how the community banded together once more to make it happen.

It might have reminded you of the traditional postman's motto: "Neither rain, nor snow, nor sleet..." There was no snow or sleet (which might have been enough to cancel this year's Broil!), but the rain didn't dampen the spirits of the 550+ Chicken Broil workers and the 11,320 attendees. Lines for take out nearly always extended halfway down Duncan Street along the Athletic Field Fence.

Lines to eat inside the grounds were shorter and many were observed taking their chicken dinners "to go" from that line, often wrapped in plastic bread bags so kindly provided them by the Junior Optimists who took charge of roll detail this year.

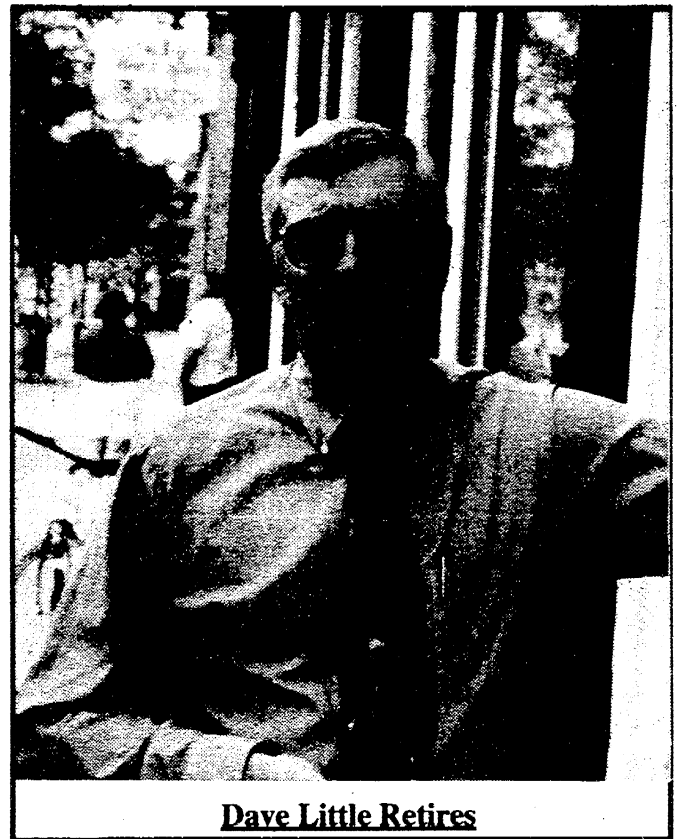

Many more brave souls, however, were determined to eat their chicken on the grounds. Rain coats, ponchos, umbrellas and makeshift gear were spotted and made the field as colorful a sight as if the sun had shone brightly on us, as it so often does for the Third Thursday in July.

Approximately 300 cooked chicken halves were donated to St. Louis School and delivered by Jeff Mann on Thursday evening. "We are a charitable organization," stressed Dave Little, publicity chair. "If St. Louis School had asked us for a few hundred dollars, we certainly would have given them the donation." The left overs were certainly put to good use by those kids at St. Louis.

We will have to put our local pastors back to work on the weather detail for next year. But once more Manchester showed its stuff - and came together to prove that "If You Cook It, They Will Come" - rain or shine!

Dave Little Retires

David (Dave) Little is retiring after twenty two years with Great Lakes Bancorp. Dave started with Ann Arbor Federal, hired by the President, Roy Webber, to gain experience and open a Manchester office for them which opened May 20, 1974. With the recent sale of Great Lakes Bancorp to T.C.F., Twin Cities Financial of Minneapolis/St. Paul, Dave was offered a buy-out package along with 60 other employees and as he said, "It was too good of a deal to turn down."

Born in Detroit, January 15, 1938 his father bought a farm on Ernst Road in Freedom Township in 1945. The youngest member of the Little family, Dave has two brothers and one sister. A 1956 grad of Manchester High School, he attended MSU until 1958 before going to work. He completed his education at EMU in 1981.

In 1960 Dave married Janice Klager. They have two children: daughter Amy resides in Miami; son Craig lives in Manchester, with three grandchildren Adam, Emily and Ryan. In 1959 & 60 Dave was employed by City Finance Company of Jackson. He relates their loan maximum was $500. Interest rates were 36% for the first $50, 24% for the next $250 and 18% for the last $200. "We had $300,000 out in loans."

From 1960 to 1970 Dave worked for his father-in law at

MANCHESTER ENTERPRISE

Second Front Page: Manchester Plastics

In a Successful Mold

"We are not closing," stressed Peter Ballantyne, General Manager of Manchester Plastics. "We would like to dispel any rumors to that effect." Since re-opening after a complete plant shut-down just a few years ago, Manchester Plastics has made some dramatic changes. And, in the process, has become an extremely successful company, as indicated in a company profile in a recent issue of Automotive & Transportation Interiors. Peter and Manufacturing Manager Dennis Donahue were featured as "cover guys" in the April 1994 issue of the trade publication.

Right now the plant is re-tooling in preparation for a new program which will begin production in July, 1996. The program will consist of manufacturing interior door trim panels for the 1997 model Cadillac DeVille and Concours. The Cadillac doors, combined with other programs currently in the plant, will generate sales of over $50 million per year.

During this re-tooling, some 140 employees have been laid off while a crew of about 65 people remains throughout the slowdown. Recalls of laid off employees will begin next April, and they expect to be at full staff again by mid-June of 1996 - and will probably find it necessary to hire additional employees.

The current layoffs are "disappointing and unfortunate", but the company's long term outlook is very good. In addition to the Cadillac doors, Manchester Division has also acquired a contract to manufacture interior door trim panels for the 1998-1/2 model year Oldsmobile Achieva, with production starting in January, 1998. They recently received their third consecutive GM Worldwide Supplier of the Year Award, and has been approved as a supplier to Ford Motor Company. They expect to receive a Q-1 award in early 1996.

While remaining a low-cost supplier, the Company has continued to provide very high quality as well as adding significant capabilities in design and development, and provide innovative and creative ideas to the automotive companies.

The plant shipped over three million door panels in full sequence with zero defects and zero shipment errors - mostly due to the development of "mini-companies" within the plant. "Natural work teams of 9-12 employees form a mini-company," explains Ballantyne. "It is an unusual way to run a plant, and has been the object of benchmarking tours by customers and competitors alike."

But the concept of mini companies has improved productivity, attendance, morale and safety at Manchester Plas-have total control over what happens in their environment. This additional time to refine the systems which have worked so well can only add to the employee satisfaction when they ultimately return next spring. Additional training will be done in team facilitation and interaction, along with training areas such as safety (the plant has currently achieved 240 days with no lost time injury), wellness (along with the addition of a golf driving net and a fitness trail around the building and grounds), problem solving, leadership, and new technology and processes.

Their Financial Incentive Plan is unique in the industry. This gain-sharing program is tied to both company and individual goals. The program averaged about $1.15 per hour added to employee wages in just the first half of 1995. Some of these incentives are tied to productivity, safety and other individual goals within the mini-companies. As a result, many of the teams have exceeded 300 days with no loss-time for accidents or injuries.

The automotive world is keeping an eye on Manchester Plastics. The community of Manchester might do the same.

- Marsha Johnson Chartrand

tics. It is designed to give employees total control of their work environment. Team-building and problem solving are important components of the program. Productivity was enhanced from 75% to 84%, in just two weeks before Christmas, by installing stereos in work areas. "If you can get an 18-year-old and a 65-year-old to agree on music to listen to, you've broken some serious barriers," comments Donahue.

Ballantyne sees the current slowdown as an opportunity to enhance and improve the environment at Manchester Division. The "mini-companies" have no traditional supervisors or quality inspectors. The work teams

QUESTIONS ASKED OF THE ENTERPRISE

Our recent articles about Manchester Community Schools have raised some interesting questions and observations by community members. We present those to you, along with what we know.

J.S. - Why did it take three years to take care of Janice Lillie's improprieties? It was known in 1992 according to her disclosure, wasn't it?

Dear J.S. - Yes it was known in 1992. Apparently the Superintendent assumed she took care of the problem. There were no apparent checks and balances however.

A.N. - Why are some school invoices being paid twice? Gar, you should check with Z.Z.Z.!

Dear A.N. - Apparently some invoices have been paid twice. Past accounting procedures appear to have been very lax. Let us hope the Intermediate School District staff, with Wayne Winzenz' oversight, can sort this mess out.

C.J. - Why was it necessary for Jan Lillie to take work home with her? Was she unable to do her job and thus hired her children?

Dear C.J. - Jan told me, after she was fired, that there was too much work for her to do and Ron would not get her help! I do suspect however, that her health conditions may have been a contributing factor.

J.R. - Did the Superintendent know that funds on deposit in some banks were not being reinvested after the interest bearing note expired.

Dear J.R. - You are the third person who has told essentially the same story. I have passed that information along to the Superintendent and to the school board. It does appear that we have lost substantial interest income (up to $138 per day, according to one source) by allowing monies to languish in non-interest paying accounts.

P.T. - Now that the Athletic Director has resigned and my kids are not in school why was a double standard allowed for athletics? Better players were disciplined by being held out for the first two plays of a game - or couldn't start, and lesser players were simply kicked off the team.

Dear P.T. - I don't have an answer for that one and neither did Swanson when I asked him back in March. (Let's make a wild guess - the Stars were not expendable but the bench warmers were? - or win at any cost?)

D.S. - Gar, why are you so critical of the past school board president?

Dear D.S. - Let us look at the record, which has now been exposed. The Transportation director resigned - he had an ongoing drinking problem for at least 8 years. Improprieties led to the firing of the finance director and that dates back some time. Unauthorized use of sick time led to one resignation and the disclosure that the practice happened with other employees. Problems with policies and inconsistent application of these policies. All these things happened during her tenure.

The general attitude prevailed, that the administration could do no wrong. That did not help a new administrator who had no previous experience as a superintendent. Many of the people that came to me at the Enterprise said they contacted the president and board members during her presidency without avail. Until the Bus Drivers, Board members Kluwe, Ochs, & Hochstetler, and The Enterprise got involved nothing was done until the situation exploded! Enough said.

Dear Manchester Enterprise:
We Won First Place!!

The Class of 1998 would like to thank you for supporting us. Without your support, we could not build a successful fair float.

Thank you,
Lisa DuRussel, Treasurer

The firing of Janice Lillie has raised some interesting questions. I had a phone call from Jan and she had some very interesting observations.

One of her observations was that the Superintendent of Schools Ron Niedzwiecki, "wanted all the authority for himself. He could not delegate any of the authority and as a consequence people under him were unable to make decisions or get information as to the direction they should take to accomplish their jobs. Our hands were tied trying to get things done. We had money that needed to be invested but were unable to get direction from him. I went ahead and did things. I did not steal any money. Yes, I took materials from the school that no one could use after it was ordered, because I could use the material."

Apparently other problems arose which would indicate her contention is with merit, if what she related is correct. Example, Jan said, "Last fall a VCR was stolen from the school. I urged Ron to get the Police involved and make an investigation. He did not and nothing was done. I don't understand why he didn't, yet I was the one that brought to Ron's attention my oversight after Jeff's letter to him."

I asked Jan if she thought there was any credence to some rumors that were floating around. Some people think there may have been kickbacks from suppliers to some employees. She answered, "No, I don't think there were any kickbacks. We may not have always got the best prices and I don't know why; but no, I don't think there were any kickbacks." I failed to ask Jan if competitive bids were solicited by the school.

It does appear the management style could and should be reviewed. Maybe some delegation of authority and responsibility is in order, but only if we have good qualified people. A management style where everything is kept close to the vest is and can be construed as covering things up. That can cause more problems.

A true manager is a communicator, able to delegate and accomplish. And must first have confidence in his own abilities!

Out & About

by gar

One thing I admired about Manchester when I first came here in 1943 was the honesty and integrity of the people here. As one of the first persons I met in the village said, "We welcome all the folks who come here and respect their wishes. If they want to be left alone or wish to join our activities we honor their desires. There are but two things that are important. We expect them to be honest and not to be liars."

Those two precepts are still present today.

Over the years we have had persons come and go from the community. We have had our share of problems with some who had very responsible positions. Whenever that happened, invariably their longevity was short. In some cases their incompetence cost financially but far worse is the loss of faith in our fellow man. You may steal from my pocket but stealing my faith is an ultimate loss.

I am not saying that people do not make errors in judgement or that the rest of us are perfect, because we are not. Each of us can look back in time and say, gosh I wish that I hadn't done this or that, or boy was that a stupid thing to do.

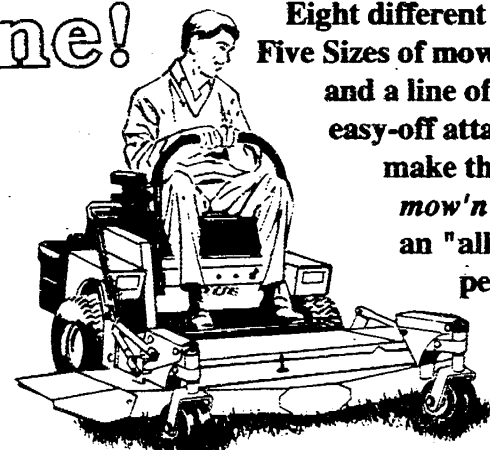

This community has been a very forgiving community. People rally around others in need. It is not uncommon for help to be given for the needy on occasions, other than "Christmas in April." A good number of people help in many ways and for that we in Manchester can be proud. We take great pride in our children's accomplishments and want them to have a better, a richer, a more meaningful life than we have had. There is an intrinsic good in our community members and for that we give thanks.

Bridgewater Township Planning Commission

July 10 1995
Summary Minutes

The primary business item was a public hearing on the request by Mr. William Szyndlar for a Conditional Use Permit to operate a golf course at 13435 East Michigan Avenue. Chairman Fish announced that Mr. Szyndlar had died the previous week. The Szyndlar family has asked that the conditional use permit request be put on hold temporarily.

Chairman Fish stated that since the public hearing had been announced, the notice published, and a number of property owners and other interested parties were present the hearing would proceed with the purpose of providing public input to the Planning Commission and the Szyndlar family. If and/or when the permit request is to proceed, there will be a full public hearing with representation from the permit applicants.

There was a lengthy public comment session with most attendees participating. Primary concerns expressed and questions asked related to environmental impacts of construction and operation of the proposed golf course. There was no specific objection to the course as such.

On July 6, requests for proposals to update the Township Zoning Ordinance and subdivision Ordinance were sent to six professional planners. The schedule calls for a final proposal to be selected by October 18 and work to begin on updating the ordinances in early November.

It was reported that the Michigan Department of Transportation (MDOT) is considering a study of highway 12 to identify what actions might be taken to improve safety. However, to get the project approved the Department needs a demonstration of support from local residents.

The Planning commission passed a resolution urging the Michigan Department of Transportation to conduct a study of highway 12 that would address safety matters in an effort to reduce traffic accidents and the resulting personal injuries.

The next meeting is August 14, 1995 at 7:30 P.M.

The prizes for the nightly drawings which were held, however, were donated entirely by local merchants.

I ♥ Folk Music —especially at the Gazebo!

If you liked the music of the Kingston Trio or Peter, Paul and Mary, you won't want to miss being at the Gazebo this Thursday evening, July 27th, at 7:30 p.m.!

A great group called "One Flight Up" will be performing on the Gazebo stage. Their high caliber music and entertainment is enjoyable to young and old alike!

Shelley Quayle is the lead singer for "One Flight Up." (You may recognize her voice from the many commercials she has sung.) Eric Anderson, the leader and organizer of the group, is also the composer of many of their original tunes. David Best places a unique musical stamp of their music—and plays killer guitar!

And John Tschirhart holds the wonderful sound together with his steady and compelling bass lines. Look for Jerry Schmidtke also, the sound man for "One Flight Up."

Put them all together and you will have excellent entertainment! Folk music became mainstream about the same time as rock 'n roll. But where rock 'n roll divided the generations, folk music brought them together. People of all ages enjoy the melodic sounds, fun and interesting lyrics, and entertaining performing style of folk music.

Bring a friend down to the Gazebo this Thursday and see for yourself when "One Flight Up" takes the stage.

Although there are a few picnic tables at the Gazebo, you might rather bring along a lawn chair or blanket and pick the best spot to sit for maximum enjoyment.

Gazebo concerts are organized by the Recreation Task Force (RTF), a group of Manchester folks who plan and bring about a variety of events around town throughout the year. If you would like to be a part of the RTF, call the Community Resource Center at 428-7722.

In case of rain—the show will go on!!! Come across the street to Emanuel Church Hall gym for an indoor Gazebo Concert!

An old lady asked a child, "How do you do, my dear?" "Fine, thank you," came the reply.

There was a pause, and then the lady asked, "Why don't you ask me how I am?"

"Because," said the girl, "I don't really care."

That raises the question: How much do we care for others?

If you love the Lord, you'll care for those who are loved by the Lord, and if you care, you'll share the gospel with them. Sharing is the outgrowth of salvation.

Today, so many live and let live. But if you really care, you'll live and help others live for the Lord.

Do you care?

Senior Citizens

by T.V. Ludwick

We need a break at times and Howard Parr willingly came through again to 'look at life from a different perspective'. We appreciate his efforts as one of our area veterans who lived through World War II serving our country. These are his remembrances, thanks.

"Thanks, T.V. for offering to let me use your column to talk about the VE and VJ Day exhibit at the Fair. Strictly speaking this may not be the typical senior news copy, but I guess we from the World War II era are all qualified as seniors by now. I didn't think a letter to the editor would do what I wanted done and somehow a thank you ad seemed too cold and brief.

For several years now while Lenora's hair is drying, Carol Britten and I have picked each other's brains trying to figure out what the new theme should be for the up-coming Fair exhibit. This year it was easy; 50 years since the victory days of World War II—the war Studs Terkel calls "The Last Good War".

After the theme was set, I started sifting and sorting to arrive at some display which would appropriately honor the generation that was called upon to do so much at that time—our 'rendevous with destiny...' as FDR called it. I thought of our Legion Post's picture gallery of all men from Manchester lost in all our wars. I went to school with most of the boys from World War II who are included in that beautifully done photo gallery which holds them forever as the 'boys' so many of us remember. Wayne Alber, Clarence Bivins, Edward Brazee, Arthur Frey, Karl Rague and Richard Seckinger.

I went to the Post meeting on July 6th and asked to borrow these pictures for the fair display. The response seemed to me to be spontaneous and unanimous. As background for them, banners were ordered showing the dates for VE Day—May 8 and VJ Day—August 15, 1945. We also included a banner repeating the immortal words from WWI—'Lest We Forget'. Uniforms seemed the best way to identify that period of time—Army (which included the Air Corps), Navy and Marines. Bob Luckhardt and Eddie Steele combined forces to furnish the Navy uniform, Ron Jenter lent us his Marine dress blues and my 'Ike' jacket from WWII (and later Korea) was still presentable, even if it seems to have 'shrunk' a lot!

I wanted a 48 star flag as part of the exhibit and was stumped for a while until I remembered that John Swainson had accepted one for our Historical Society collection while he was president. Sure enough, I found it easily even among the dislocation of our collection during renovation. I will always be proud of any official form our national flag may take, but somehow it seemed especially fitting to display the flag our boys fought and died under during World War II. I have stood reveille and retreat many times with that flag and deep down inside still feel it looks 'better' and more graceful with its 48 stars symmetrically and spaciouly arranged on the field of blue as compared to the irregular star rows and less generous borders appearing on the present 50 star flag. But, I am getting old. It is always a thrill for me to see our flag used in any ceremony or other way to emphasize patriotism and duty to our country.

Anyway, that's the way the exhibit grew, somewhat like Topsy. A guest book designed for recording WWII veterans at the fair and a couple small flags for color rounded it out.

I want to give public thanks to Emil Jacob Post #117, Manchester American Legion for use of the portraits.

The Enterprise most graciously provided all the poster cards we needed to formalize and spruce up our exhibit. Pyramid Office Supply furnished all the banners gratis. Thanks to Carol for supporting the idea and helping with tables, etc. Nothing would have looked much different from my work bench or desk if Lenora hadn't been present to guide things. Somehow this process typifies the way good things continue to be done in Manchester and makes it all just a little more worthwhile." (Well done, friends)

Manchester Area Senior Citizens wish to acknowledge and thank the Ann Arbor Meijer Thrifty Acres store for donation of candy that seniors tossed from the bus to all kids during the Fair parade. This is the same Meijer Store we bus our shoppers to.

Thursday, July 27: Bus pickup begins at 3:30 for the social at St. Mary's Church. You may call Erma Alber at 428-8707 for your ride to enjoy the food and fellowship. Then, at 6 PM, pickup starts to transport seniors to Freedom Township Hall for the senior sponsored public card party which begins at 7:30. Call Erma for your ride.

Wednesday, August 2: Here comes our final ice cream social of the season. It will be held at the Manchester United Methodist Church at 5 PM (they have good pie!). Pickup begins at 3:30, be sure to give Erma a ring to go if you need a ride by bus.

Now, where did the summer and July go?

If you can't hear, how can you listen?

Are you tuning people out because you can't hear what they say? Do you get tired of asking people to repeat themselves?

Attention Deficit Disorder
-with and without hyperactivity-

Attention Deficit Disorder (A.D.D.) has gotten a lot of publicity in the last few years. Most people think it refers to children who are very active - or hyperactive. This is not the case. Not all hyperactive children have A.D.D. and some children (and adults) who are not hyperactive have A.D.D. People who are both attention deficit and hyperactive are said to have attention deficit hyperactivity disorder (A.D.H.D.). A.D.D. and A.D.H.D. are genetically-based conditions (are inherited) and are biologically based even though there is currently no medical laboratory test that can diagnose A.D.D. and A.D.H.D.

First, let's understand about people's involuntary distribution of their attention. For the majority of people 60% of their attention is consumed by one object (reading a book, doing homework, listening to someone, etc.). The other 40% of their attention is available to keep track of their environment. As with any other trait, this percentage varies from person to person, however, the attention of people with A.D.D. and A.D.H.D. is consumed very differently. About two-thirds of A.D.D. and A.D.H.D. people use only 10% of their attention on one object and 90% on their environment and the other one-third use 90% for one object and only 10% on the environment. Autistic children use nearly 100% of their attention on one object.

A.D.D. and A.D.H.D. usually becomes apparent in children when they enter school. Below is a list of common signs and symptoms of A.D.D. and A.D.H.D. If many of these characteristics describe you or your children then you need to get more information about A.D.D. and A.D.H.D.

1. Inattention: fails to finish what is started, seems not to listen, gets distracted easily, has trouble paying attention and concentrating, doesn't stay with a play activity very long.

2. Impulsiveness: acts without thinking and often feels bad 'after the fact', moves from activity to activity, has trouble organizing work, requires a lot of supervision, speaks out of turn, has trouble taking turns.

3. Hyperactivity: runs and climbs excessively, has difficulty sitting still, tosses and turns excessively while sleeping.

4. Emotional Instability: has angry outbursts, is a social loner, blames others for everything, fights with others quickly, is very sensitive to criticism.

Additional signs and symptoms in teenagers are:

- Hyperactivity often diminishes, still feels inadequate at school and at social events.

- Has low self-esteem, poor self-image, often depressed

- Are candidates for drug and alcohol abuse, delinquency and other emotional problems.

- Functions below their potential, change courses or academic plan to areas of lower expectation, drops out of school, wavers in career choices and goals, depression becomes serious.

LOCAL TEACHER RECEIVES NATIONAL AWARD

Mr. David Mellor, Agriscience Educator/FFA Advisor at both Saline and Manchester High Schools, recently returned from the 1995 Professional Development Institute for Educators held in the Sault Ste. Marie area July 5-8.

The purpose of this conference each year is to update agriscience educators on the technical aspects of the many diverse areas in agriscience, agribusiness, agricultural production and natural resources management. In addition, the Michigan Association of Agriscience Educators (MAAE) takes time to conduct business sessions and awards recognition. Mr. Mellor was presented the national "Make It Happen" award from the National FFA Organization (formerly known as the Future Farmers of America) naming his agriscience programs at Saline & Manchester Schools the "1994-95 Highest Percentage Growth FFA Chapters in Michigan." Enrollment in Agriscience has grown from 6 to 22 students at Manchester and from 20 to 48 students at Saline under Mellor's leadership since he took over both programs less than one year ago. While attending PDI, he had the opportunity to participate in several technical sessions including: Aquaculture at the Lake Superior State University Aquatics Lab, Draft Horse Judging, Decisions & Dollars... a new FFA Financial Record Keeping System, and a workshop on K-12th. grade Integrated Sciences explored via agriculture. Additional highlights of this years conference included tours of the Louisiana Pacific Hardboard Plant, a snow fence factory and the Seney National Wildlife Refuge. This four day conference proves to be extremely valuable as it helps educators to maintain strong agriscience and FFA programs.

Meeting Notes Unit #117

The American Legion Auxiliary met at the Legion Hall on July 12, 1995 with 18 members and guests. Girls State representative, Sandy Fielder and her mother were present. The meeting was called to order by President Schiel. Roll Call was taken by the Secretary and the minutes of the June 14, 1995 meeting were read, corrected and approved. This was our summer potluck meeting and installation of officers.

Post photos of deceased area military personnel are on display in the exhibit tent at the Fair by the Manchester Historical Society. Brochures and a thank-you note were received from Deb Havens, President of the Historical Society concerning 4th of July Celebration.

Representative Sandy

Fielder and mom were guests at our potluck. Sandy gave a presentation of her stay at Girls State.

Auxiliary dues are $7.50 seniors, and $1.50 Juniors. One 40-year member was recognized - Lucinda Wurster. Congratulations, "Cindy".

Post has moved their installation of officers up one month to June, and have requested Unit to do the same for a combined installation of officers. This would mean election in May of 1996 for 1997 officers.

THERE WILL BE NO MEETING IN AUGUST. Incoming President Geneva Walkowe will prepare a new schedule for Refreshment Committee.

The meeting was adjourned at 9:00 by Chaplain Elaine Hansen.

Student Athletes Can Get Free, Customized Mouth Guards

The University of Michigan School of Dentistry will offer free, customized athletic mouth guards to elementary, junior high, high school and college students in Washtenaw County. Fittings will be 9 AM to noon on August 5 at the Mouth Guard clinic, third floor, School of Dentistry Building.

The impression process takes about ten minutes once you reach the chair, although there is usually a 30-to-45 minute wait before you can be seated, depending on the crowd. The finished guards will be available for fitting and pickup about two hours after the impressions. No appointments are necessary. Students will be taken "First come, first served," while supplies last. The clinic will be able to make 125 mouth guards.

U-M faculty members, dental students and local dentists will make the protective mouth guards that are required for most student athletes.

"A U-M School of Dentistry study shows that the customized mouth guards are considerably more comfortable than those bought in stores," said William C. Godwin, U-M professor of dentistry and specialist in sports dentistry. "When we surveyed the men's and women's lacrosse teams at Ann Arbor Pioneer High School, 34 of 36 players preferred the customized mouth guards made at the clinic to those available in stores. The more comfortable the guards are, the more likely students are to wear them."

The clinic is funded by a grant from Samuel Harris, a U-M dental graduate who practices in Detroit.

For more information, call 764-1559.

SUMMER BLOODMOBILE RESULTS

THANK GOODNESS for air conditioning. This was the thoughts of the 85 people who came to donate their blood on Monday, July 17th, at the American Legion Hall. Also, the sentiments of all the volunteers and the Red Cross staff. It made the running of this bloodmobile easier.

As always, a big "THANK YOU" to all the people who made the bloodmobile a success. This means the ones who helped rearrange the tables before and after, the gals who prepared the sandwiches which were delicious, the ones who helped prepare you to fill out the form and Marilyn LaRock who was chairperson of the day. It is not always easy to find the people needed to get all the things done that are necessary.

It is especially gratifying to welcome to the Manchester blood donor family Paul Antonelli, Clayton Covel and George Shear. These three gave for the first time. We hope it is only the beginning of your generosity. 11 people received gallonage pins. These were Vivian Brown and Bruce Dettling, 1 gallon pins; Rachel Bross, John Kemner, Gertrude Kensler and Peggy Paige, 2 gallon pins; Norma Fillyaw, a 3 gallon pin; Mary Smith, a 4 gallon pin; Lamont Okey and Terry Walter, 5 gallon pins; and William Pfaus, a 6 gallon pin.

Let me break down for you the actual number of pints of blood these 11 people have given: It adds up to 33 GALLONS or 264 PINTS. Just think of all the people - young and old - who have been helped.

Every once in a while, someone will remark that they don't give blood because they are afraid that they might get AIDS. There is NO way possible that you can contract AIDS from donating blood. If someone makes this remark to you, please reassure and inform the individual that donating blood is safe.

As I have said before, we are the source for that much need GIFT OF LIFE. 82 pints of blood were collected. THANK YOU for giving of yourself.

Manchester's next bloodmobile will be in October. Watch the paper for date and place.

the Klager Hatchery in Bridgewater. The cholesterol scare combined with a glut of chickens forced the closure of Klager Hatchery. Ford Motor Company beckoned in 1970 where Dave was employed in Quality Control. "That wasn't my bag and I was available when Ann Arbor Federal called. Lorenzo Steele and Frank Randall were instrumental in my getting the job for FoMoCo in Saline and I appreciated the chance."

"I have really enjoyed my stay here in Manchester with Great Lakes. I was given great latitude in approving loans. We employed local people and therefore had the opportunity to serve our local customers better. We consistently out-performed many other branch offices. One of the reasons was that Jane Rose Finkbiner and now Kim Cowan have been great for our customers. Jane went on to manage Great Lakes' Saline office, and now has moved up into the upper management of the company."

I asked Dave, where or what are you going to do now? "At my age, I will continue to work at something. At the present time I am considering a couple of options. I would like to make a career change and gain some outside interests. I love golf and will enjoy that for a little while - but at 57, I am too young to quit working."

"I will continue with the Chicken Broil. I started there in 1954, helping to set up the pits with the FFA kids. Since 1978 I have been Publicity Chairman. This year, for example, we had 160 radio spots and ads in the area newspapers. The AAA News carries the Manchester Chicken Broil in their calendar section now. We continue to get coverage with J.P. McCarthy on WJR and that is a great help. This year even with the bad weather we had an outstanding turnout and that says something for our advertising."

Dave has served as Mayor of Manchester and he says,

"That was easy because we had people like Joe Fitzgerald, Herb Mahony and Jim Scully as well as many more on board at the time. Those guys were smart, hard working, honest and what they said you could count on. I really enjoyed being a part of the 'Blue Ribbon Task Force' which managed to change the ownership of the old Double A building from Vickers to Pilot Metal Products. The Task Force became the Community Resource Center, which continues to be a part of Manchester's problem solving."

Those of you who know Dave realize he has been instrumental in a lot of things within the community. One place that his enthusiasm and optimism shows best, however, is on the golf course. He loves to make small wagers on his game. Hey, Dave, how about a dollar nassau, no strokes, automatic presses one down and carry over's?

Dave, we will miss you at the Great Lakes office and we wish you well.

AN OPEN LETTER TO SHARON TOWNSHIP HOUSEHOLD RESIDENTS:

Since 1992 you have had the opportunity to recycle newspapers, aluminum, and steel cans, #1 and #2 plastic containers, brown, green, and clear glass at the expense of local government. This may have saved you up to 30% of your household waste disposal costs.

The Sharon Township Board thanks you and is happy to announce the continuation of the recycling program in cooperation with MISTER RUBBISH of Whitmore Lake and G.E. WACKERS INC. at M52 and Pleasant Lake Roads.

Now, in addition to the above items, you can recycle magazines, phone directories, corrugated cardboard, box board, office paper, and junk mail.

WATCH YOUR MAIL FOR A FREE $8.50 CERTIFICATE REDEEMABLE AT G.E. WACKERS FOR A SUPPLY OF MISTER RUBBISH RECYCLE BAGS.

Your continued participation in recycling will help save the environment for our children and future generations, use natural resources more effectively, save tax dollars, and reduce your household expenses.
