Construction Starts on Athletic Field Practice Diamonds

On Monday July 31, fruits of the labor invested in Manchester's Chicken Broil and the efforts of Manchester Athletic Boosters began paying dividends.

Football Coach Wes Gall has spearheaded an effort to construct two ball diamonds at the Athletic Complex north of Klager School. A new practice softball field and an new practice baseball diamond will be graded on the site. The two facilities have been on the master plan for about 20 years. The new diamonds are located east of the football field and south of Manchester Gravel Company's haul road.

The Chicken Broil executive committee has allocated about $10,000 toward the grading costs and work necessary to complete the project.

Gall has been a tireless worker in accomplishing many tasks involving our schools and students. His enthusiasm and dedication has given this project its major thrust. Manchester Community Schools' Board of Education recently gave its blessing to the project.

Wilkinson Contracting, who graded Manchester Manor, is the contractor of record. Bill Wilkinson has moved two earth movers, one large dozer and one grader onto the site. Approx-

Gas Line Installation Begins

Consumers Power awards gas line contract to Davis Excavating Co. of Manchester.

Jay Davis, president and owner of Davis Excavating Company, revealed that his company has been awarded a $950,000 contract to install gas lines in Bridgewater Township for Consumers Power Company of Jackson.

Davis Excavating will be installing 83,225 linear feet of 4 inch gas lines, 56,725 linear feet of 2 inch gas lines and connecting approximately 210 gas services. Completion is set for mid November.

Davis will install the gas lines by one of three methods:

Open trenching, which is accomplished by using a tractor backhoe. The gas line is buried approximately three feet below the ground surface. Open trenching is used primarily for short distances or for areas which are difficult to plow or bore.

Plowing in the pipe is used for long runs where a bull dozer can traverse the land. A large bulldozer with a mole stinger attached to the rear of the dozer. At the bottom of the mole is a mandrel, (a cone shaped metal fixture), to which the plastic gas line is attached. The mole stinger is hydraulically lowered into the ground and the dozer moves forward, forming a trench and a cavity in the soil at the bottom. It is in this cavity that the plastic gas line is placed.

In areas where a surface trench cannot be made, a boring machine is used. A boring machine is an air operated auger that drills a horizontal hole under the ground. When the auger reaches the end of its travel, usually no more than 500 feet, the plastic pipe is attached to the

Tony Keeps Hop, Hop, Hopping Along!

It all started some 30 years ago when Tony's son found three rabbits wrapped up in a box under the Christmas tree. His son was involved in 4-H and started showing his rabbits in the youth division. Before long, Tony was involved - as parents so often are - and, as rabbits do, things began to multiply. As his son got older, Tony took over and began in open shows with 4-H. Then he joined the Michigan State Rabbit Breeders Association which has led him to where he is today, some 30 years later, officially Micallef's Rabbitry.

Tony with just a few of his many trophies.

We met Tony at the Manchester Community Fair this year, where he most enjoys being - in the rabbit tent. Tony is the person who sells rabbits at the fair. Aren't they just so cute and soft? Of course, we couldn't resist having one of those fur balls for our pet. We ventured out to Tony's home on Bethel Church Road to pick out a rabbit. Since he lives close, Tony and his wife Jeannette moved to Manchester in 1986 when he retired from his "real job" to pursue his full time hobby.

When we pulled up I wasn't sure we were at the right place - it just looked like a regular two car garage. But as we entered the side door, there they were all those furry little rabbits - somewhere between 150 - 200. Looking at Tony, I asked him, why do you raise rabbits? He gave me this wonderful little chuckle and his whole face lit up, "Guess I'm a little crazy!"

You can just feel how happy Tony is with his rabbits - he beams all over while talking about them.

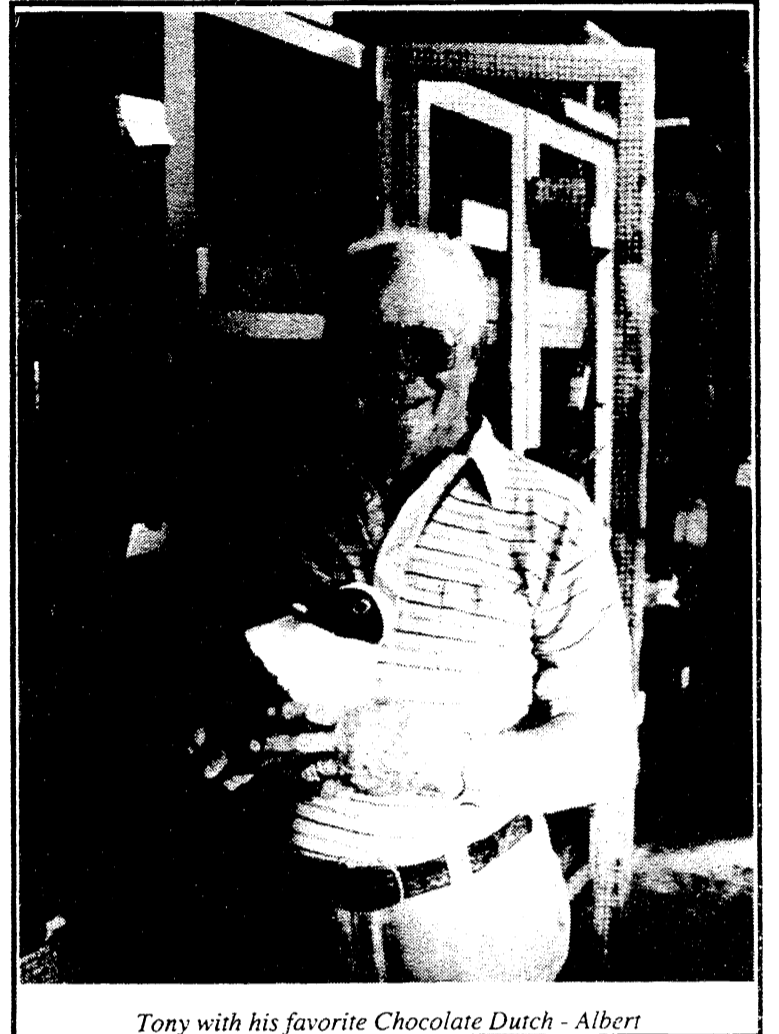

Tony specializes in Dutch and Holland Lop rabbits. Dutch are classified in Black, Blue, Chocolate, and Tortoise. They are also the hardest to show because they are judged on markings, fur condition and type. All of Micallef's rabbits are pedigreed rabbits and the majority are registered. There is lots of genetics involved and paperwork to keeping up with the rabbits. Tony keeps everything logged in journals and can tell you all about each rabbit - who are the parents, when it was born, what shows it has been to, etc. And on the front of each cage is an index card with basic information about the rabbit.

Tony spends about ten hours a day on his so-called hobby. He buys 1/2 ton of pellets at a time and goes through 50 pounds each day. Even with lots of vitamins in the food, Tony uses preventive medicine once or twice a year to keep his rabbits healthy and happy.

Water and food each day and a carrot once in a while, maybe some alfalfa now and then will do the trick. But not cabbage, much to our surprise - It can give them diarrhea.

Tony gets three litters a year, on the average, from his breeders and sells them at shows and through friends. Tony and Jeannette travel all over to shows and conventions - Manchester, Saline, the Michigan State Fair, other shows in the state and they attend the National Dutch Show once a year. He is a life member of the Ann Arbor Rabbit Breeders Association, Auto City Rabbit Breeders Association, Michigan State

Tony with his favorite Chocolate Dutch - Albert

Rabbit Breeders Association, the National Rabbit Breeders Association, and the list goes on and on.

In 1992, Tony won "Best Dutch" in the Country. He has hundreds of awards and trophies to prove his love for his rabbits.

What do you enjoy most about the rabbits? "Going to the shows. It's fun to travel and we meet lots of friends all over the country," replies Tony with a big smile.

His favorite rabbit right now is Albert, a five month old Chocolate Dutch Buck.

When Albert was three months old, at his very first show he took First Junior Buck and Best of Breed at the National Dutch show in Oshkosh, Wisconsin. What will Albert do now? He will be Tony's new breeding Buck.

As for Tony, he will keep on with his rabbits as long as he can; but says he needs to cut back because, he is "retired."

Tony chuckles, "I'm a little crazy - and you might be too someday," as he hands me our bunny. Happy Hopping!

Editorial / Opinion

Out of the Pen

- by garlene

garlene has been wondering what people are so darned angry about, anyway.

In the newspaper business we tend to see a lot of anger. Directed at specific people or directed at "things in general," some folks just seem to want to dump their problems on us. Whether on the editorial page or over the phone, we hear a lot of angry voices.

Columnist Reynolds Dodson of the Southampton Press has dubbed our generation "the age of anger." And it's little wonder. He speculates that future sociological researchers will look at us and wonder what we had to be so angry about.

Dodson recalls the days when the American 'fatuous smile' was our trademark. In ads, women smiled fatuously while stirring up the latest convenience food. Men smiled fatuously while driving a Buick the size of a small battleship to church.

Today, models glower at us from ads in magazines and on billboards. Or in TV ads, their fatuous smiles have turned into what Dodson calls the "Yuppie Smirk"... "my car is bigger, better and newer than yours."

Life is largely what we make of it. What can we say about our lives when we're just finding scapegoats for all of our problems, rather than trying to pull ourselves up by our own bootstraps and make things better?

Sometimes anger is justified. Sometimes other people, and sometimes things in general, happen to annoy us. Perhaps it isn't always fair. But as garlene is wont to mention to her piglets, whoever told you life was supposed to be "fair?" And she also tends to remind them at this point that their life is pretty comfortable, after all.

It seems that part of the problem is an unwillingness to take responsibility for anything unpleasant. No, the unpleasantness is not always our 'fault', but the need to shoulder responsibility when it comes our way is pretty basic. Let's take care of the problems rather than attributing blame or walking away, saying, "It's not my fault." Sometimes when people take on unpleasant responsibility, that often makes them a scapegoat for blame and anger. And that's when we at the Enterprise hear about it.

garlene is tempted to ask politely if we can't all just get along...but she's been informed that it's been said already, and people have glowered and smirked about it ever since.

garlene loves to see piglets getting along so well!

Good Things
Come in Threes
— Thursday at the Gazebo!

Three song writers. Three performers. Three-part harmonies. Three of Michigan's finest singers and multi-instrumentalists.

Put it all together and waddya get? "Mulligan Stew"! This week's enjoyable Gazebo Concert—Thursday, August 3rd, at 7:30 PM—at the Gazebo on Main Street.

When we think of "mulligan stew," we think of it being made up of a variety of meats and veggies. Variety may be the linking word for our featured performers this week.

"Mulligan Stew" plays a variety of music, from bluegrass to Celtic airs, contemporary folk and country ballads and so on.

They also play a variety of musical instruments, including: violin, viola, guitar, tin whistle, mandolin, tenor banjo, Irish accordion, bodhran (Irish drum), and bones!

"Mulligan Stew" is made up of Bill O'Connor, Rob Koch, and Charles Cares—all talented, veteran musicians who have played at festivals as well as coffee houses, from New England to Nashville.

Don't miss this exciting and ultimately enjoyable performance of "Mulligan Stew" this Thursday at the Gazebo.

Bring a lawn chair or blanket. Bring a friend. Bring the kids. It's a great opportunity to relax as we move into the dog days of summer but are starting to think about school being just around the corner.

Gazebo concerts don't just happen. A group of Manchester volunteers, friends and neighbors of yours, make up the Recreation Task Force (RTF). They organize, plan, and bring about a variety of events around town throughout the year, including these Gazebo concerts. If you would like to be a part of the RTF, call the Community Resource Center at 428-7722.

As always, no need to worry about rain or lament missing a concert—the show will go on!!! Come across the street to Emanuel Church Hall gym for an indoor Gazebo Concert!

Summer Reunion

DOUBLE A EMPLOYEES REUNITE

Former employees of Double A Products Co. will gather at Carr Park on Saturday, August 12 for their seventh annual reunion. Old friendships will be renewed and tales of the "good old days" will be swapped. Double A was always a family oriented place of employment and when the factory was closed in 1987 the employees formed a Double A Alumni. This organization originated through the Community Resource Center (CRC) in Manchester. CRC is an outgrowth of the Double A closing. The first reunion was held in August of 1989.

Double A Products Co. had its inception in Ann Arbor in 1934 as a private entity headed by Herbert H. Upton and Finley B. Riggs. In 1939 the Manchester Chamber of Commerce urged Upton/Riggs to move to Manchester. In 1940 the Company moved its operations into a new building at the corner of Duncan & Division Streets, which was financed by a group of investors from Manchester. (This factory location now houses Pilot Industries.) Production began in the new building in October of 1940 with 22 employees.

During the years of WWII they sub-contracted to General Motors Corp. Oldsmobile Div. and made small gun parts. At the close of WWII they began the manufacture of small power tools which were marketed through Sears, Roebuck and Co.

In the Fall of 1947 Double A purchased the Hydraulic Hi-Speed Co. in Detroit, and moved the operations to Manchester, and began producing hydraulic circuits. In 1957 Brown & Sharpe Manufacturing Co. of Providence, RI bought the outstanding stock of Double A and the Company became a subsidiary of B & S.

To expand the hydraulic line they purchased the Rosaen Co. which, marketed power units. In 1958 the Gerotor May Corp. of Baltimore, MD was acquired to enhance the market with a line of pumps. Double A was then the leader in the fluid power industry with a world-wide chain of distributors and was employing 400 people.

We are dedicating the following:

*It must be nice to measure years
In kindness you've done
It must be nice instead of tears
To count the smiles you've won*

*It must be nice to reckon wealth
By all the friends you've won
To have the love and deep respect
Of everyone you've known*

News read "MANCHESTER LOSING BIGGEST EMPLOYER". The building on the corner of Duncan & Division was closed and operations moved to outstate Vickers locations. The Power Unit operation on Duncan St. remained open until September of 1991 when this portion of the Company was moved to Searcy, AR, Columbia, MO and Troy, MI.

Double A employees became displaced. Some were retired, a very few were taken into the Vickers organization and others sought employment outside of the village and in other fields.

The August 12th reunion will bring together all Double A employees who at sometime in their life received a Double A pay check and the husbands/wives of deceased employees and their families. A family reunited.

The potluck picnic will begin at 12 noon with lunch served at 1 PM. The organizing committee is asking all attending to bring a dish of food to share, their own beverage and table service for themselves and their family. There will be a grill and charcoal furnished for grilling hot dogs, etc.

WWRA Expands Services to Manchester

- by Marsha Johnson Chartrand

"It makes me feel good to see those blue buckets in front of people's homes each Tuesday," says Gina VanRiper of the Western Washtenaw Recycling Authority. And, in case you hadn't noticed, the operative words are "each Tuesday."

As of July 3, WWRA began weekly curbside pickup of recyclables in Manchester. The number of homes participating is up to about 120 ("on a good week," Gina says), which is up 20% since spring of 1994. Increasing use of the curbside program is encouraging.

And not only are they expanding the frequency of pickups, but what they can pick up is changing and increasing all the time. For instance, the WWRA is now accepting all Magazines for curbside pick up. Bundling them with string or in their own brown paper bag will bring the highest possible value for the recycled paper.

Office paper and "junk mail" is also recyclable now. One more excuse for the kids - "My mom recycled my homework." It might work better than "the dog ate it."

What Gina calls the "Three C's" of cardboard are also des-tinued for your recycling bins now. "Cookies, Cereals and Cracker" boxes are now accepted for recycling. Further clarification, according to Gina, is that the acceptable boxes have contained dry foods (like cereal or crackers). Kleenex and other cardboard boxes are often coated to retard moisture and don't break down properly. So please, don't try to recycle those. Corrugated cardboard is still in demand, and can be recycled, too.

Along with your washed tin or aluminum cans, you may now recycle aerosol cans - empty, of course! - and feel you're further contributing to the cause of recycling. And don't forget the glass, which is so easy to recycle. Just rinse your glass jars and you don't even have to remove the labels.

Plastics which are currently accepted for recycling are "milk jug" #2, colored mixed #2 (detergent and shampoo bottles), and #1 clear - juice, pop and other soft drink bottles. Margarine tubs, cool whip containers, and lids are still not accepted by the WWRA.

Of course, if you live in Manchester or Bridgewater Townships, the recycling bins at Manchester Market or the Bridgewater General Store will also accept all these same goods for recycling 24 hours a day. Magazines and office paper can in both cases be put in labeled bags or in bundles in with the newspapers.

Help Gina to feel even better each time she and the WWRA truck pull into Manchester! Have YOUR Blue Buckets ready for her next Tuesday. What?? You say you don't have your blue curbside recycling buckets yet? Give Gina a call at 475-6160. Tell her your address. She'll drop off the buckets to make it convenient for you.

"Manchester is doing a great job on recycling," Gina enthuses. Let's keep up that momentum and see how much better we can be doing a year from now.

was a member of Kappa Kappa Psi Fraternity.

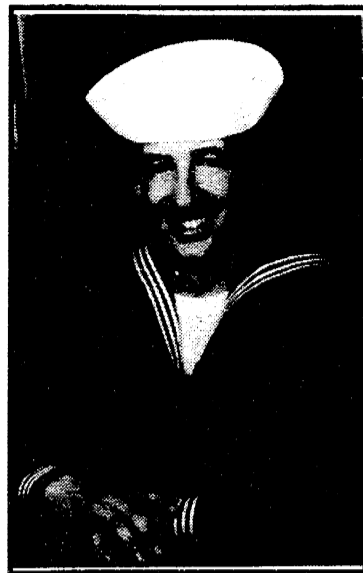

Upon graduation, Jamie was hired as a Software Engineer by the Kid's Software Division of Microsoft Corporation, who moved him to Redmond, Washington, immediately after graduation exercises this past April. A small going away party for family was hosted by his mother (MHS's Business Technology teacher) and her husband, Mark and Sheryl Ernst Purol, of Manchester. Jamie's father, John Hall and his wife, Hinde Socol, live in Ann Arbor.

Besides genetics, Jamie credits his success to his parents instilling in him the importance of always being open to learning as much as he can and to the Manchester School System for having everything available that he needed to learn to be successful at the University of Michigan. "Learning is hard work," said Jamie. "It's a real temptation to only work as hard as YOU want to learn something and then blame someone or something else if you haven't learned enough. The bottom line is everything is taught at Manchester, but you will only leave with what you were willing to work hard enough to learn. There is no free lunch; but, at Microsoft, there are free stock options AND there is free pop!"

Jamie, who was co-valedictorian of the Manchester High School Class of 1990, was a member of the Michigan Marching Band and had the unusual distinction of making the marching block for the first game of his Freshman year and went on to march in every game while at Michigan, including two Rose Bowls, the Gator Bowl, the Holiday Bowl, the Hall of Fame Bowl, Good Morning America, and The Regis and Kathie Lee Show. In addition to being a Michigan Marching Band Rank Leader and maintaining his 3.7 G.P.A., Jamie played in the U of M Hockey Band, participated in IM sports, belonged to the honorary engineering society, and

Editor's Note: Following are representative questions answered daily by VA Counselors. Full information is available at any VA office.

Q: I was a Merchant Marine during World War II. Am I eligible to receive medical care at a Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) hospital?

A: Those Merchant Marine seamen whose World War II service qualifies them for veterans' benefits may apply for medical care at a VA medical Center. They must present a discharge certificate, federal form DD-214, when applying. VA regional offices can provide information on obtaining a discharge certificate. You can call the regional office nearest you toll free at 1-800-827-1000.

Q: My father is a World War II veteran requiring medical care. How do I get him admitted to a VA hospital?

A: Have your father's current physician contact the admitting physician at the nearest VA medical facility. If your father is not currently under the care of a private physician, you can get an application (VA form 10-10) from a benefits counselor at a VA regional office (1-800-827-1000) or at a VA medical facility (check your local listings for telephone number or address).

Q: I'm a former member of my state's National Guard. At one time I served a six-month stretch on active duty. Am I eligible for VA medical benefits?

A: National Guard members are only eligible for VA medical benefits if they have an established service-connected disability which was incurred or aggravated in the line of duty while serving on active-duty training.

MANCHESTER AREA SENIOR CITIZENS

News

by T. V. Ludwick

Summertime is a time for romance and herewith will give you facts received from sister Bid which she sent to help with this column. This, of all things, pertains to the love life of fireflies—to me, lightning bugs.

Article states: "Almost as fascinating as the way they light up is the way they attract each other. The male firefly hides in grass or unmowed meadows during the day. Shortly after sunset, he crawls out. Flying slowly, usually 2-3 feet above the ground, he sends out periodic flashes to the females hiding in the grass. When the females see his sparkling flashes, they climb out until they spot the right signal from a compatible male. Then, they flash happy greetings to each other, and they meet. If the male and female feel good about each other, they fly off together and mate. Romantic, isn't it? By the way, a female firefly generally captures one male firefly for every 10 attempts."

Just think, no wedding to organize and losing your cool over the happy union. Have two cousins who have had kids married this summer. Kidding they probably asked "Why don't you just run off and elope (in the middle of all the festivities)?" But, then we moms would have absolutely nothing to talk about for the next several years. We certainly would feel cheated and quite perturbed, huh?

Monday, August 7: Come along a trip for shopping at Oak Valley and Meijer's, Ann Arbor today. Senior bus will leave the Center at 9:30. Call Erma Alber at 428-8707 for your spot on the bus.

Tuesday, August 8: There will be no Council meeting this morning, but work begins at 9:30 on the September-October Trumpeter calendar. Come with your ideas for trips and activities.

Thursday, August 10: Join the senior citizens at Carr Park for their annual picnic and potluck at 12 noon. Bring a dish to pass and a white elephant something for bingo prizes and enjoy the peace and quiet of our beautiful park while feasting. Also, don't forget your table service, as you can't run to the kitchen for some (as I have to do now and then).

Rain, blessed rain—hasn't everything outdoors benefitted? Last week's over an inch made my tomato plants say thank you and me, too, that crazy lady doesn't have to run around with her watering can for a while, at least!

WHAT IS SECTION 504 OF THE REHABILITATION ACT?

Not all students who are having trouble in school will be eligible for special education services, but some may be eligible for accommodations under Section 504.

Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 is civil rights legislation which prohibits discrimination against individuals with handicaps. 504 prohibits schools from discriminating on the basis of handicap in providing any aid, benefit, or service. Under 504, schools must provide accommodations for students with handicaps to ensure they are afforded educational opportunity equal to their non-handicapped peers.

Under 504, a "handicapped individual" is defined as any person who has a physical or mental impairment which substantially limits one or more of his or her major life activities. "Major life activities" means functions such as caring for oneself, performing manual tasks, walking, seeing, hearing, speaking, breathing, LEARNING, and working. "Handicapped" individual includes persons with a history of impairment and those regarded as having an impairment who may in fact have no actual impairment. This last portion of the definition protects individuals from discriminatory action based on the perception of a handicap.

The following categories of students could be eligible for accommodations under Section 504:

Students with ADD/ADHD. ADD/ADHD are impairments under Section 504 if the condition substantially limits a major life activity such as learning.

Learning Disabled without discrepancy. 504 regulations define "mental impairment" as any mental or psychological disorder including a learning disability. Students with learning disabilities who do not show a severe discrepancy between achievement and ability are handicapped within the meaning of 504 if their condition substantially limits a major life activity such as learning.

Graduates of Special Education. Section 504 protects students who graduate from special education and continue in regular education programs as well as those who graduate from high school and enter post-secondary settings.

Students with Drug and Alcohol dependency. Students with alcohol or drug dependency are handicapped persons under 504 if their impairment substantially limits one or more of their major life activities. Under ADA amendments to 504, students who are active drug abusers are not afforded 504 protection.

When a student is found to be eligible for Section 504 they are accommodated in the general education classroom.

Some possible accommodations could be:

- Daily assignment sheet
- Reduced work load
- Peer tutoring
- Develop behavior plan
- Write key points on board for student to copy
- Divide several step tasks or assignments so student is presented with only one part at a time.
- Permit additional time to finish written assignments
- Teach book format. Review a table of contents, index, glossary, etc...
- Try a study buddy for the distractible student.

Beyond the Classroom:

- Chapter 1 service for reading, math, visual perception
- Work with paraprofessional or other adult volunteer.
- Middle school or high school counseling service.
- Additional parent/teacher communication

School is right around the corner. If you feel your child may be eligible for 504 accommodations, or if you would like more information regarding Section 504 call 428-0738.

P.A.S.S. is a parent/student support group. Meetings are at 7 PM on Wednesdays at Klager School.

Travel Tips

Money advice for summer travelers

When gearing up for that summer getaway, travelers should ask themselves an important question: what is the best way to manage vacation spending money?

AAA Travel Agency officials say traveling with loads of cash is not wise.

"If lost or stolen, cash is irreplaceable," said AAA Travel Director Bill Best. "Also, flashing wads of bills may make a tourist an easy theft target."

Instead, he suggests vacationers consider a variety of payment methods—from travelers checks to credit cards—to ensure maximum convenience and security.

Most of the vacation funds should be in travelers checks, Best said. The agency recommends American Express Travelers Cheques since they are widely recognized and accepted like cash throughout the world. And unlike cash, if they're lost or stolen, they are easily replaced at thousands of American Express offices worldwide. It's vital to keep a set of travelers check serial numbers separate from the checks to order for them to be replaced.

American Express Travelers Cheques have lots of other advantages. They are fee-free to AAA members at any branch office. In general, visitors also get a better exchange rate overseas when changing travelers checks rather than cash. And for those away from home a long time, mail can be sent in care of the American Express office wherever they are visiting. Also, American Express "Traveler's Cheques for Two" are the only travelers checks that allow two people to carry and use the same set of checks, letting them pursue separate vacation interests without sacrificing security.

AAA Travel Agency also recommends members use a credit card to cover unexpected or very large expenses incurred during vacation. Credit card purchases are exchanged at the interbank exchange rate, usually the best rate available for currency exchange. Also, credit charges are the easiest to challenge if services or merchandise purchased are unsatisfactory or incorrectly charged.

AAA offers its members VISA and MasterCard with low and no-fee options. AAA credit cards give special privileges to travelers, including travel agency monthly specials and easy cash advances. With the AAA Gold credit card, members also receive $250,000 in Free Travel Accident Insurance, no cost emergency medical/legal assistance and emergency trip assistance.

Finally, travelers should carry some cash in small bills to cover tips, taxi fares, telephones, and other miscellaneous small expenses.

AAA Michigan offers these safety tips for carrying cash on vacation:

- Split up cash among family members so funds are still available should one person experience a loss. Carry only the amount of cash you need and lock the rest in the hotel safe deposit box. Never leave cash in a hotel room.
- Avoid carrying a purse. If you must, use a clutch-type or one with a strap and hold the purse in front of you. "Fanny pack" wearers should make sure the pouch is worn in the front and the pack strap is secured under belt loops, if possible.
- Consider bringing an ATM card on vacation. Withdraw only small amounts of cash as needed. If the ATM card is linked to the PLUS, CIRRUS or Magic Line systems, it's easy to obtain cash virtually anywhere in the U.S. and local currency in some countries abroad. Cash from ATM machines is exchanged at the interbank exchange rate so travelers get a good deal.

- When possible, do all ATM banking during daylight and business hours. After hours, only frequent ATM machines located in grocery stores, malls or other busy areas.

end and the auger is withdrawn, pulling the plastic pipe behind.

Plastic pipe comes in sections and is joined in the field by a unique system. A jig is used to hold adjacent ends of two sections. A cutter is placed between the pipe sections and the jig draws the two sections together, shaving the plastic pipe ends so they are matching. A heating element softens both pipe ends uniformly. The heating element is removed and the two sections of pipe are pressed together. As the heated plastic pipe cools, a solid impervious joint is formed.

If you are traveling along East Austin Road you will be able to see this operation in action. At this point, it is well in advance of the plowing, trenching or boring operations.

Saline Family Care Adds Providers

Dr. Karl J. Edlmann and Saline Family Care are proud to announce the addition of two new providers to their staff at their current office at 107 W. McKay in Saline. Gayle Fox PA-C, a certified Physician Assistant, and Beth Hesseltine RN, CNS, a Registered Nurse Clinical Nurse Specialist, are now accepting new patients for a full spectrum of health care from infants to older adults.

Each is a Masters Trained specialist working in close collaboration with Dr. Edlmann to provide daily appointments and ongoing care to Saline and the surrounding communities. Gayle Fox earned her Physician Assistant Degree from University of Detroit Mercy College and has practiced in the Saline - Ann Arbor Area for nearly four years. Beth Hesseltine, who has worked in nursing for several years, joins Saline Family Care after the completion of specialized training at Michigan State University.

"We are very excited to be able to bring together such a wide range of skills and training to the Saline area. We are committed to local primary care provided near to home on an ongoing basis," states Dr. Edlmann. "Both Beth and Gayle allow us to continue to expand our commitment and meet local needs."

Why Is the Hole Still Open?

Benedict's Service closed in May and John Benedict immediately took action to get the facility ready to be used as a commercial building (other than a gas service station). That meant pulling the tanks and having the soil tested by the E.P.A. before being able to cover up and cement over the area. John has been patiently waiting for this information, and has even put in extra gravel fill and fenced the area for additional protection until it can be sealed. As of this date, he has been approved but is waiting for paperwork to be in hand before cementing over the hole.

Extortion Plot Revealed

(The Hat Caper)

The Enterprise received a letter, Attn.: Mr. Emory Garlick from T.H.T., Manchester, MI. The postmark was from Grand Rapids, MI. The letter as follows.

"Dear Emory,

This letter is to inform you that your favorite straw hat with the colorful cloth band has not been misplaced by you.

It has indeed been taken by me. I did this for two reasons number one is simply to drive you crazy.

Reason number two is to extort some of your pocket change.

This is my first demand. Go down to the Dairy Queen and prepay a large hot fudge sundae for me. Then wait for further instructions.

Any attempt to try to investigate this matter will result in your hat being returned to you in several pieces.

I will write next week for further demands.

Sincerely,
The Hat Thief"

This dastardly deed was committed on the evening of Saturday, July 22, 1995 at Haarer's Restaurant, while we were entertaining Anita and Kent Tyler after the successful conclusion of the street fair.

This magnificent Straw Hat, with colorful cloth band, had been hidden in the wall at Haarer's about 9:00 PM. Entrusted to the personal care of one Neil Haarer who seated our dining party.

We suspect that one Duck Catcher and his beautiful companion may have been the perpetrator of this dastardly, cowardly infraction of justice. Larceny in its lowest form. This magnificent Straw Hat along with five others of similar nature were procured at the Bridgewater Haberdashery, commonly known as the Bridgewater General Store.

We are at present reviewing the Dram Shoppe Laws to ascertain the responsibility of Haarer's Restaurant. The letter and the extortion demand have been referred to Sergeant Haensler. We have made copies of the letter and fingerprints from the letter are being sent to the regional office of the F.B.I.

If any one witnessed this dastardly deed please contact gar at The Enterprise.

To the girls at Comerica: Keep your bats in the belfry and not in the lobby! Signed, Julie, Teresa & Zachary
