Chuck and Sandy to Retire from Baker's Dozen

- Mary Lobbetael

After 19 years of devoted donut baking and coffee serving, Chuck and Sandy King have sold the Baker's Dozen. Although the papers were signed early last week, the bakery doesn't officially change ownership until later this fall.

The Kings sold all three of their business entities, which include the Baker's Dozen, Village Pizza, and Village Bakery in Chelsea. Although the initial decision to sell was made about four years ago, the catalyst was the migration of the King's son, Bob, along with wife Shelley and the grandchildren up north. Health reasons were also considered in the decision-making process.

The Kings have had many people interested in buying the bakery over the past four years, but it wasn't until Kim and Michael O'Connor, of Rhode Island, offered that the Kings felt comfortable selling their long-time investment. The employees and customers proved to be first priority when considering offers from potential buyers. "Chuck and I have worked very hard to build our baking business. Although owning a bakery is a new venture for the O'Connors, they are not new to the "food business" - Kim has worked as a baking instructor and Michael is a chef. Chuck and Sandy agree that the O'Connors are hard working people with good ideas, and know that they will be an asset to Manchester.

Have no fear! Even though the ownership of the coffee shop has changed, the Kings would like to assure everyone that no drastic changes will be made in the Baker's Dozen or business, so we didn't want to sell to just anyone," Sandy King emphasized.

Chuck worked along side of Dick Way in the bakery for many years before purchasing it in 1976. He started his bakery career in Tecumseh 33 years ago and progressed from there to Campbell's Bakery in Clinton before coming to Manchester.

Kim and Michael O'Connor are planning on moving from Rhode Island to Manchester (into the apartment upstairs from the bakery!) very soon. The couple, in their early thirties, is moving back to Kim's native area (Grass Lake) to raise their first child and "start" their Village Pizza. The new owners are in fact planning on adding more to the lunch menu and expanding the selection of baked goods.

So, what will Chuck and Sandy do with all that spare time on their hands? Well, anyone who knows the Kings can guess that they will be flying up north to visit their grandchildren much more often! Although Chuck will continue working at the Baker's Dozen for about one year after the change-over, he plans to go back to school to "polish" his computer skills. Sandy intends to volunteer her time to their church and other local organizations.

A Late Summer Surprise

This group of baby finches is the second family to have made their home in our hanging baskets. Last year when the baskets went up, within a few days a finch started to build her nest in a basket and we were delighted to watch the progress from building the nest to laying the eggs and patiently waiting for those tiny eggs to produce little chirping finches.

This year although the baskets didn't make it up quite as early because of the weather, we didn't think we'd be blessed with our finch coming back, but much to our delight again this year, in the very same location, Lady Finch reappeared and began her nesting. On Friday, the babies hatched.

Who are Our Teachers?

Every year about this time, the youth of Manchester start to get anxious to know who their teacher will be for the coming school year and which friends will be in their class. The buzz has started; the phone is ringing, asking,

"When will the lists be posted?"

The Enterprise has learned that Klager will post the lists Friday, August 18. Middle School rosters will not be finalized until after Mrs. Goodell gets back to work next week.

Recycling Fun Facts

- Recycling 3 feet of newspaper saves the same amount of wood pulp as one tree
- Americans cart home nearly one billion grocery bags each week
- Each ton of recycled paper saves 17 trees, 4,012 kilowatts of energy, saves 3 cubic yards of landfill space, reduces air pollution by 60 pounds and requires 7,000 gallons less water.
- 5,000,000 homes could be heated for 200 years by the amount of paper Americans throw away in a year.
- More than 500,000 trees are needed to make the newspapers Americans read in one Sunday
- If you convince two people to do something for the environment, and the next day they each convinced two more people, and so on, it would take less than a month to get everyone in the United States to take action.

Second Front Page: The Making of a Park

Wurster Park gets a facelift

A new addition at Wurster Park will make it an even more pleasant place to stroll. A sidewalk has been added to enhance the "Village Green" quality of the park.

The cement is poured into the framework and work begins. Village Manager Jeff Wallace notes that a garden-type park, which may be the end result of this face-lifting, would be a great addition to our park system.

The job of smoothing the concrete begins. A sidewalk also extends to the home of Ron & Susan Fielder, who requested the sidewalk be installed. Sue Fielder is a member of the Parks Commission and maintains an avid interest in upgrading our Village's recreational property.

Although always a "Village Green," as noted on the original plat books of the Village of Manchester, no evidence can be located which indicates that a sidewalk ever previously existed in this location. Here, Jeff Wallace observes as John Schaible of Schaible Masonry puts the finishing touches on the job.

Out & About

by gar

Much is being written, recorded and said about this country's dropping two atomic bombs on Japan fifty years ago this month. Many are condemning the U.S.A. for the mass killing of innocents in Hiroshima and Nagasaki. The ironic part is that many who are condemning our war actions were not a part of that era. They were not born nor did they experience those days. I was but a lad of ten and a half when World War II was thrust upon us and fourteen plus when it ended.

I remember hearing FDR, (Franklin Delano Roosevelt) speaking, on radio, to the people of the nation. He described the attack on Pearl Harbor by Japan, "as a day that will live in infamy." I truly had no concept of what war was about at the age of ten. Listening to FDR and adults of that era, it was not hard to feel the repugnance of the sneak attack.

The 1930's were not easy; this country was recovering from the great Depression. By 1941 the economy was starting to roll again. Cars were being manufactured, housing was on the upswing and people were finding employment. Hitler had invaded and captured most of Europe and was expanding Germany's conquest of Russia and Africa. FDR had instituted the "Lend - Lease program" so that England could be armed with our outdated military equipment. Our industrial might was being directed toward supplying our European Allies with war materials.

What I remember of those days following the Pearl Harbor attack were the little blue flags with the red border and the white star in the center. They indicated that one of our "Boys" had gone to war. One house had a flag with three white stars. One day, one of the white stars changed to gold. That neighborhood "Boy" had given his life in defense of our country. Ration books for essential commodities: sugar, meat, gasoline, tires, anything needed for the war effort were issued. Your automobile had a sticker on the windshield indicating your priority rating, -A-, -B-, or -C-, for obtaining gas. Air raid drills and blackout alerts were practiced. People were concerned that our country might be invaded or at least bombed.

People from all over the country started to come into the metropolitan area to man the factories and produce war materials. Tanks, trucks, jeeps, guns, airplanes to name a few. My Detroit News paper route grew from 30 to 300 deliveries and getting a bicycle was difficult - even those were hard to obtain, due to the concentration on the war effort.

All of these things kept the war effort foremost in everyone's minds. Our "Boys" were being killed in far off lands. After V-E day, victory in Europe, we feared a protracted fight with Japan. Capturing the islands in the Pacific had been long and costly. We did not want to lose anymore of our "Boys" in the coming battles.

A bomb was dropped in Japan; then another two days later, read the newspapers I was delivering. The radio proclaimed the amount of destruction that was accomplished. We were unable to grasp the magnitude of 20,000 tons of explosives. But we were glad for anything that might end the war without losing more of our "Boys."

No one questioned the motives of President Truman nor the amount of effort and sacrifice that was necessary to defeat the enemy. That was the cost of defending our country and the destruction bestowed upon the enemy was justified.

To the moralists who now condemn our actions as immoral, so be it! Without the actions taken, perhaps your father would not have survived a prolonged war, nor given you life.

Condemn not that Samson slew 10,000 Philistines with the jawbone of an ass.

Questions Posed to The Enterprise

J.H. - Was there a VCR stolen from the school last fall? Who knew about it and was the Board of Education informed?

Dear J.H. - Yes there was a $1,400 VCR taken.

Football team members, Varsity and J.V. Players and some middle school students raised the funds through a weight-a-thon and selling T-shirts and sweat shirts. This was a special VCR that could be used to edit and dub special educational tapes or reviews of other tapes. UPS supposedly delivered the unmarked package to the main office area. The package delivery ticket was scanned in and the electronic scan box was signed by Linda Steele. She never saw the actual box as that supposedly was dropped with other packages in their normal drop area. The package was sent September 26 and arrived, if it did, about Sept. 26/27.

Wes Gall spent a considerable amount of time trying to verify if a package had actually been delivered. There were other packages mis-delivered at about the same time to another location in Manchester. There was a UPS night supervisor in Monroe apprehended for selling electronic equipment during this time frame. Wes reports that school insurance paid for a replacement and that Jan Lillie took care of filing the claim. Needless to say, Wes did not let UPS deliver the next one.

Board Members I spoke with were unaware that such a theft occurred.

A.N. - Why are some invoices being paid twice, check with ZZZ. (7/27/95 question)

A.N. - I did check with the name of the person you gave me. He has been paid twice on at least three different occasions in the past two years. In each case the school's overpayment was returned. Thanks for an honest business person who also happens to be a local taxpayer. I have no way of knowing if this happened to other accounts payable.

J.S. - Why is a sidewalk being put in Wurster Park?

Dear J.S. - The Village Parks Commission decided the placement of a sidewalk south of the gazebo was appropriate and a good delineator for the park. Interestingly the original grant of land for the park was made on the original plat of the Village. Ron and Sue Fielder approached the Village and are paying one half of the cost of the sidewalk. The Village is paying for the other half.

A New Perspective on Hiroshima

It is easy for many in today's world to criticize a "foolish," "inhumane," government for bombing Hiroshima. Truthfully, it is a petrifying concept. Some may see it as an ungodly travesty; a seemingly barbaric, mindless act. But we must remember the circumstances faced in that chaotic time. War was more than an imminent danger. It was here. It was live.

Today, our world of political correctness (PC) leaves little room for the launching of nuclear bombs. Perhaps this sense of protocol has inured many of us to the feelings and circumstances felt during World War II.

I can compare neither to the drama, nor to the devastation that must have plagued the people during this trying time in America's past. I consider myself among the fortunate youth of America, never to have endured an atrocious, prolonged struggle, such as World War II.

I cannot fathom living in an age of nuclear bombs and trench warfare. Perhaps youth does have its advantage, in this day and age.

Exercise is good for extra-size. And what's good for the body is good for the soul.

You must worship, but you must also work. How? By witnessing. And witnessing isn't just something you say, it's what you are.

If you want others to see what the Lord is like, let them see His love in your life, and hear His words from your lips.

Read the Bible, watch and pray, do something for Jesus every day.

30 DAY PRAYER VIGIL FOR PEACE TO BE HELD

At 3 PM Eastern Standard Time, for two minutes per day from August 11 through September 11, Wherever You Are, please participate in the Peace Prayer Vigil for Bosnia/Herzegovina.

This prayer vigil is being initiated by Interfaith Prayer Services. The goal is to bring peace to the people of Bosnia and to all the world, through silent meditation and prayer.

From Carol Jean Wright, Unity Prayer Vigil Coordinator, and from Duke Tufty, minister of Unity Temple:

"For people of faith, prayer is not a mere symbolic event. Rather, it is a harnessing of the power of consciousness to uplift the energy and spirit of the world. Through worldwide prayer, the power of darkness which now permeates the area called Bosnia-Herzegovina can be radically dispersed through the power of light.

"The only spokesperson for this event is the voice inside each person's heart."

Wes Linenkugel Quartet = "Penultimate" Gazebo Concert

An evening of "old-time music" featuring the beautiful sound of the hammered dulcimer, at the penultimate Gazebo concert, this Thursday, August 3rd, beginning at 7:30 PM! The Wes Linenkugel Quartet!

(Psst: What does "penultimate" mean? Oh, it means "next-to-the-last!" Great word, eh? You'll find some good chances to use it!)

You only have two opportunities left this summer to enjoy a lazy summer evening on the Village Green, listening to a Gazebo concert as twilight descends.

The Wes Linenkugel Quartet are the penultimate opportunity. This group is making a return engagement on the Gazebo stage. They play fun and unique instrumentals, with Wes Linenkugel on the hammered dulcimer, the featured instrument.

The other four parts of the quartet are Lou Linenkugel (father of Wes) on guitar, Jack Lewis on bass, and Mike Gleason on the fiddle.

If you are not familiar with the hammered dulcimer, don't miss this concert! The instrument has a unique sound that is truly beautiful.

Don't forget a lawn chair or blanket—and a friend. Also the kids. Summer is winding down. Enjoy it while you can.

Gazebo concerts are presented by the Recreation Task Force (RTF), volunteers who plan and bring about many of the activities and events in Manchester. If you would like to know more about the RTF or be a part of it, call the Community Resource Center at 428-7722.

The rain location (just in case!) for this penultimate Gazebo concert is across the street at the Emanuel Church Hall gym!

1995 ANTLERLESS DEER HUNTING LICENSE APPLICATIONS NOW AVAILABLE

Department of Natural Resources application forms and guides for antlerless deer hunting licenses will be available in early August at more than 1,500 license dealers throughout Michigan.

In order to be entered in the computer drawing for these licenses, applications must be submitted by September 24. An antlerless deer hunting license allows a hunter to take a deer without antlers, or with antlers less than three inches in length, during the regular firearm deer hunting season, November 15-30.

"Michigan's abundant whitetail deer resource has allowed us to again provide an increased level of participation in the antlerless hunt," DNR Director Roland Harnes said. "Over the years the antlerless deer permits have allowed biologists to more finely tune deer herd management across the state."

Antlerless deer licenses not used during the regular firearm season will be valid for use in designated deer management units during the December 1-10 muzzle-loading season in the Upper Peninsula, the December 8-17 muzzle-loading season in the Lower Peninsula, or the December 1, 1995, to January 1, 1996, portion of the bow hunting season.

This year, hunters will apply for an antlerless deer hunting application through the new Retail Licensing System. A mail-in application form will no longer be used. Applicants can apply for the antlerless deer hunting license drawing at any DNR office which sells licenses or at any of the 1,500 license agents throughout the state. Individuals may also apply by telephone with a credit card at 1-800-898-MDNR, although there will be an additional charge for that service.

Individuals can apply for an antlerless deer hunting license any time after August 1, 1995, through midnight (or at the end of the business day) September 24, 1995.

This year, hunters may apply for an antlerless deer hunting license without first having to purchase a regular deer hunting license. However, they must have a regular firearm deer hunting license in their possession to hunt antlerless deer during the regular firearm or muzzle-loading season. They must have a regular archery deer hunting license in their possession to hunt antlerless deer with a bow during the December 1 to January 1 archery season.

To apply, hunters will need either a valid Michigan driver license, Michigan DNR sports card, or a Secretary of State ID card. Applicants must apply in person and may only apply once. The $3.50 non-refundable fee must be paid at the time of application.

The DNR holds a random drawing each fall to determine which applicants will be issued antlerless deer hunting licenses. By November 1, successful hunters will be mailed a back tag, allowing them to take an antlerless deer in a specific deer management unit.

A total of 295,524 antlerless deer hunting licenses will be available in 139 deer management units where deer numbers need to be stabilized or reduced. This is almost twice the 153,558 antlerless deer hunting licenses issued in 1994 in 90 deer management units. About 400,000 hunters are expected to apply for 1995 antlerless deer hunting licenses.

There are some deer management units, like 215 in southern Menominee County, where all applicants will probably be successful in the drawing. In other units, like 079 in Missaukee County, less than 1 in 10 applicants may be successful. An applicant's chance of receiving a license depends on the number of licenses available in a unit as well as the number of hunters applying. This year, the DNR has published a table in the antlerless deer hunting guide that estimates the odds of receiving a license.

MANCHESTER AREA WRESTLERS MEET OLYMPIC CHAMPION

In July, several members of the Manchester Freestyle Wrestling Club attended the Michigan Wrestling Camps held at Adrian College. The director of Michigan Wrestling Camps is 1984 Olympic Gold Medalist, Steve Fraser.

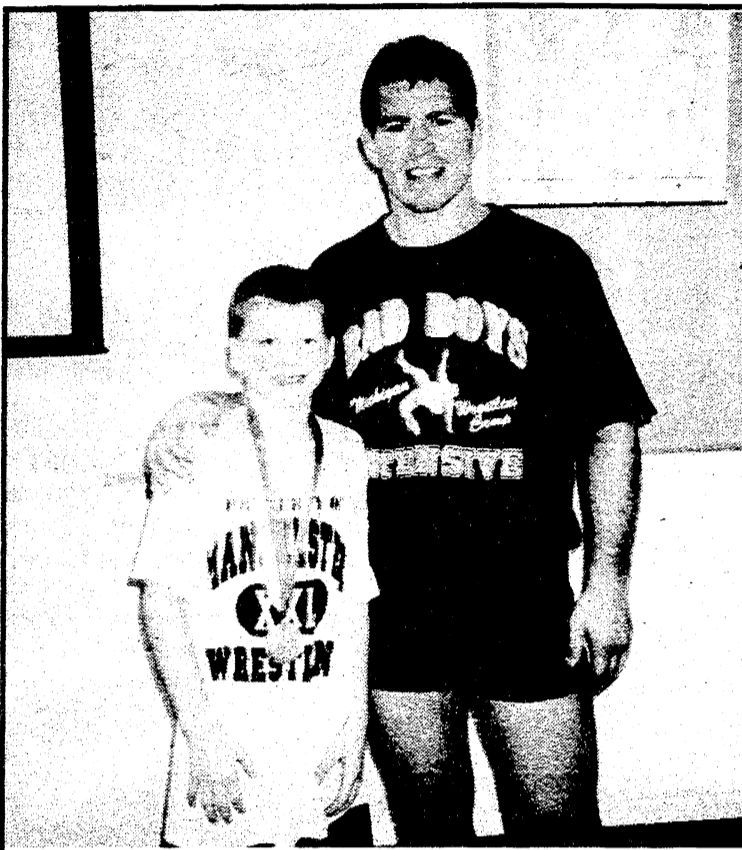

Three different types of wrestling camps were made available. "Bad Boys" Intensive Camp is just as the name implies, very intense! Ed Cruz and Jeremiah Tobias spent eight days challenging their bodies and spirits with a 15 mile run, wrestling instruction, wrestling matches, drills and exercises, and then more wrestling.

Justin Knouase and Will Slocum attended the six day "Classic" Technique Camp. This camp focuses on learning new techniques for takedowns, turns and pins, and escapes and reversals. Conditioning and training routines were also discussed.

Dan Fleck, Joshua Knouase, Noah Kuhn, and Ryan Smolinski attended the three day "Kidz" Camp. This camp was designed for wrestlers ages five through 12. Basic techniques, tactics and strategies were the main focus, but goal setting and good sportsmanship were also emphasized.

Steve Fraser is not only a "name" at the Michigan Wrestling Camps. An active participant, he is the chief instructor for all of the programs. He works personally with the wrestlers as well as having a very impressive staff, which includes Ryan Smolinski beams at the opportunity to wear Steve Fraser's Olympic Gold Medal.

David Dean, a Michigan State University Wrestling Coach and competitive wrestler currently ranked fourth in the Nation; and Vernon Hill, Eastern Michigan University wrestler; both are 1996 Olympic Team candidates. Stephen Goss, a 1984 Olympic Team Alternate. Other Eastern Michigan University wrestlers - Ramico Blackman, Shawn Geris, and Jose Vasquez have titles such as Conference Champion and All-American and tack on after their names.

Steve Fraser is very humble when speaking of his accomplishments. He describes himself as an "average Joe from Hazel Park" but wants the campers to know that they can accomplish anything they want to with determination and hard work.

At the conclusion of the camp, Steve brought out two of his wrestling medals. He showed the first medal he ever won, a small piece of metal that, through the years, had lost its pin. He also showed the last medal he ever won, the Olympic Gold Medal for Greco-Roman Wrestling (he was the first American to win the Gold in this event). He spoke with as much pride of winning that first medal as he did of the winning the Olympic Medal. He wanted everyone to know that ANY accomplishment is something of which to be proud.

After certificates were handed out, Steve gladly posed for pictures with campers. Where was his Gold Medal? Right where Steve Fraser had put it - draped around the neck of the child he was posing with.

Senior Citizens

by T.V. Ludwick

Howard Parr writes this week of his experiences 50 years ago—remember VJ-Day?

"Seems as if we just got over recalling where we were on VE-Day and now we are doing it all over again for VJ-Day, August 15, 1945. It may not have seemed so at the time, but in retrospect 1945 seems to have been a momentous year. President Roosevelt died in April and we had to get used to looking at a guy named Harry Truman. It was a shock for me out in the Pacific—he looked so wimpy and plain in his first pictures with his steel rimmed glasses. I was afraid he might not get me back home. He didn't have much time to adjust to anything the way events followed. VE-Day, May 8, 1945. The first atomic bomb exploded in the New Mexico desert on July 16, 1945. Other bombs shipped express to Tinian in the Pacific. August 6, 1945 Hiroshima, Japan was bombed, soon to be followed by Nagasaki. August 15, 1945 VJ-Day proclaimed.

I missed a lot of the sequence of these events at the time from the vantage point of my tent in New Guinea. In fact, I have absolutely no recollection of what I was doing on VE-Day—it was just another duty day as we carried out orders. However, recent articles in The Ann Arbor News have put 1945 into focus for me. It is difficult for me today to visualize how fast government moved to finish that war. From July 16th until August 6th to get tested bombs half way around the world and exploded on targets. The way I see things getting done by our government now, it is hard to even consider we could make that kind of progress today.

I was in New Guinea when President Roosevelt died and remember the worldwide military formation prescribed in the various theaters of operation. At the appointed hour we stood in formation on a knoll with palm trees in the background and, silently at attention, paid him official homage. I was serving with Black troops then and remember the extra time it took the First Sergeant to get the men to "un-peg" their trousers. These troops had been overseas for 2 1/2 years and weren't used to the fine details of military inspection and formation. In an attempt to "look sharp" they had wrapped their pant legs around their legs and tucked them into the top of their socks (pegged them). Many of these white socks had been dyed a vivid yellow with the atabrine tablets which were supposed to be used to prevent the symptoms of malaria. The troops looked more like regulation soldiers after the pant legs fell freely down over the yellow socks and the upper part of their polished G.I. shoes.

When VJ-Day approached we were on board a troop ship staging up to the Philippines en route to Japan. I can still recall the shape and appearance of that Stramberg-Carlson speaker on the bulkhead as we first heard the news of the bombing of a place called Hiroshima and the probability that the war was all but over. We landed in Leyte, P.I., on August 15th. The celebration was going so strong that some of our equipment was smashed as the celebrants tried to take it off the ship. I ended up as duty officer and took three or four soldiers to first aid stations to have gunshot wounds treated. Some of the men in their exuberance and states of insobriety forgot how powerful an M-1 rifle was. Trucks with men and their rifles dashed up and down the roads shooting occasionally. The bullets went through tents, buildings, and even injured innocent bystanders.

I will always feel that the bomb saved my life. We knew then and still know that the Japanese were tough defenders of their property. The homelands would have been a nightmare for invaders. I am also mindful of current attempts to second guess what should have been done. But with so much of the documentation of those days still classified it is impossible to put all the pieces together—maybe we never can. There are those who insist we should have negotiated with the Japanese instead of dropping atomic bombs, but it is difficult for me to forget that we were "negotiating" with representatives of that same government in the White House while the bombs were falling on Pearl Harbor.

About all we can do 50 years afterward is to be thankful the war ended as soon as it did and hope we can continue to be kind conquerors. Our country can be proud of the spirit which guided relationships with all nations conquered during WWII. Few nations in history have set records like that and perhaps knowledge that this is so may in part atone for the cruelty of the atomic bombs. Anyway, I'm glad to be here."

Thanks Howard, and all the guys and gals who put your lives on hold for all of us in this greatest country of the world!

Thursday, August 10: Potluck at Carr Park today at 12 noon for all seniors. Come and bring a dish to pass, your own table service and a 'white elephant' for bingo. (We can't have rain today after the deluge the first of the month, can we?).

Sunday, August 13: This has been designated as International Left Handers' Day and I think it's about time they got their due recognition. I remember each of us switching hands for a game of bowling years ago when I got high score with a 75 with my left-hand. Hats off to all of you!

Looking ahead to Saturday, August 19: Seniors are invited to go along on a trip to Battle Creek, leaving the Center at 8:30 AM. The 19th annual international festival is being held and activities begin at 10 with a parade of flags. From 10 'til 5, there will be ethnic food booths and entertainment, German beer gardens, international market place and polka dancing and lessons. Sound like fun? You may go along by calling Erma Alber at 428-8707 to reserve your spot on the bus.

VETERANS OF THE BATTLE OF THE BULGE REUNION IN SAN ANTONIO

Veterans of World War II who served in the Battle of the Bulge, will meet in San Antonio, Texas, September 3-6, 1995.

The Battle of the Bulge was the greatest battle ever fought by the United States Army. This victory hastened the end of the war in Europe by inflicting a demoralizing defeat on Hitler's troops from which they never fully recovered.

The battle was fought December 16, 1944 through January 25, 1945, in the rugged mountains and dense forests of the Ardennes in Belgium and Luxembourg where the soldiers endured unprecedented bitter cold and snow. A sparsely spread line of American troops held firm against three powerful German armies, until reinforcements arrived. They paid a heavy price of over 81,000 casualties. Over 19,000 young Americans laid down their lives in this battle. The Veterans of the Battle of the Bulge, Inc. (VBOB) will hold their annual reunion in conjunction with the VJ Day "End of the War Gala" and 50th Anniversary of the Peace Accords which will immediately precede the VBOB observance. In addition to the social activities, the Bulge veterans will place a memorial plaque in the Admiral Nimitz Park in tribute to all who fought in the Battle of the Bulge.

VBOB is an international non-profit organization, having enrolled 14,000 members since its inception in 1981. For further information write: P.O. Box 11129-P, Arlington, Virginia 22210-2129.

Money Management

MONEY CHOICES 1995: MONEY MANAGEMENT

Some Americans' financial situation reduces them to tears, but few seek help for financial woes. A third say they have enough for all they want or need.

MINNEAPOLIS — One in five Americans say their financial situation has caused them to lose control of their emotions, for example, by crying, according to a nationwide survey of 1,000 adults recently conducted for Lutheran Brotherhood.

But few people have explored credit or budget counseling for their financial situation—and fewer still have asked for help from a clergy member, psychiatrist, psychologist or therapist for their financial stress. In fact, only one out of 10 Americans has tried budget or credit counseling, and only three percent have sought professional help.

Perhaps Americans are composed about their financial situation because many are satisfied with their financial well-being. About a third of Americans (30 percent) report they have enough money for all they want or need, and three percent say they have more than enough money for all they want or need. However, nearly half of Americans (49 percent) say they have enough money only for necessities, but not for all they want. And 17 percent report they are struggling to get by.

Among survey findings:

- Of those struggling, 61% are women and 39% are men.
- Of those who say they have more than enough money, 53% earn more than $50,000.

How do Americans feel about managing their money? Most view it as a necessary chore (65%). Two out of 10 find the task considerable, while 13 percent consider managing money a burden. Those most likely to enjoy managing their money are 65 or older (28%). Money management is most likely called a burden by those earning less than $25,000 (15%) and those with children (15%).

For many Americans, money management doesn't include a lot of saving or investing. Eighty-two percent say they either save or invest some or very little money, while only 14 percent say they save or invest a substantial amount of money. Not surprisingly, those who say they invest the most earn $50,000 or more. More men than women report saving or investing a substantial amount of money, 18% versus 10%. At the same time, more women than men report saving or investing very little money, 43% versus 34%.

"The survey results show that women, especially, need to look at how much they're saving," says Cathy Kinyon, estate planning specialist for Lutheran Brotherhood. "Many older women will live alone at some point in their lives. By meeting with an expert and investing wisely, women can secure a comfortable future for themselves and their families."

Lutheran Brotherhood is represented in the Manchester area by Karen R. Bristle, LUTCF, FIC.

AN OPEN LETTER TO SHARON TOWNSHIP HOUSEHOLD RESIDENTS:

Since 1992 you have had the opportunity to recycle newspapers, aluminum, and steel cans, #1 and #2 plastic containers, brown, green, and clear glass at the expense of local government. This may have saved you up to 30% of your household waste disposal costs.

The Sharon Township Board thanks you and is happy to announce the continuation of the recycling program in cooperation with MISTER RUBBISH of Whitmore Lake and G.E. WACKERS INC. at M52 and Pleasant Lake Roads.

Now, in addition to the above items, you can recycle magazines, phone directories, corrugated cardboard, box board, office paper, and junk mail.

WATCH YOUR MAIL FOR A FREE $8.50 CERTIFICATE REDEEMABLE AT G.E. WACKERS FOR A SUPPLY OF MISTER RUBBISH RECYCLE BAGS.

Your continued participation in recycling will help save the environment for our children and future generations, use natural resources more effectively, save tax dollars, and reduce your household expenses.
