Speaking for the people of the Manchester Area

Main Street - 1925 or 1995?

by Emory W. Garlick

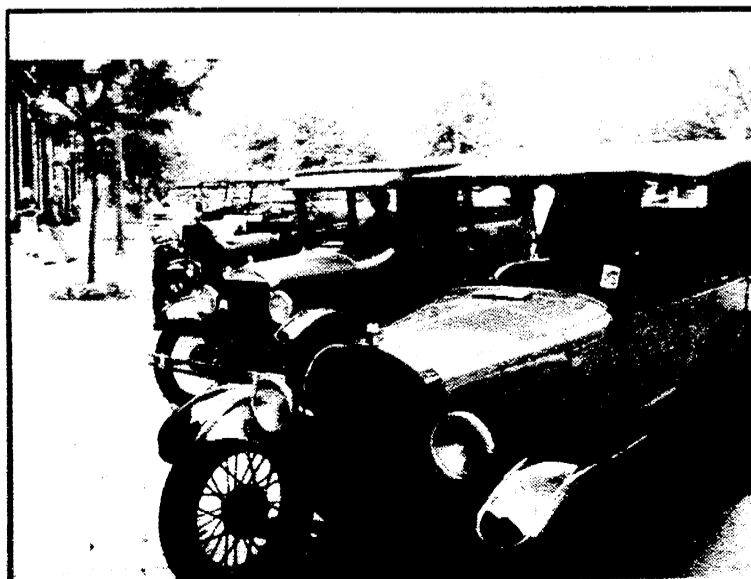

We felt like we'd stepped back in time when we walked out on Main Street last Friday. Eighty nine of Henry Ford's 15 million Model T's arrived in town on a leg of the 14th Annual Michigan Jamboree of T's. The Washtenaw Nau'Ties and Huron Valley Cranks were the hosts for this annual event which stopped in Manchester after visiting Sharon Mills Winery and the Manchester Blacksmith Shop. Members of the two clubs had lunch and displayed their vehicles in the Village. We were privileged to share lunch with Hans Jens, International President of the Model T International, his wife Mary Kay, and their lovely daughter Rebecca. Hans, Mary Kay and Rebecca were driving a beautiful Black 1912 Roadster with a Mother-In-Law seat behind the main seat. This magnificently restored T was typical of the era in that it had a brass radiator shell, headlamps, and split windscreen surround. The windscreen (windshield nowadays) has upper and lower halves so the top can be folded down. The dashboard is of wood, as are the spokes of the wheels.

White tires, yes all white, set off the beautiful black paint job, highlighted with red stripes and red leather upholstery. The Jens had their black fold-down top up to provide some shade on the road.

With the Jens was Past President Bill Barth and his wife Jean. Bill and Jean Barth originated the first Jamboree and the tales they shared were wonderful to hear. Jean told of Bill and the first T that he brought home. Apparently it was a 1926 four door sedan that was in very poor condition. Jean laughingly related

First Day of School

Senior Ryan Novess is ready to get to work, assisting in the office, during his final year at MHS.

Well, it's that dreaded time of the year again: the first day of school. Even though it was only a half-day of school, it was a reminder of the grim truth: summer is over.

At the High School, the day was spent introducing the students to their various classes and informing them of the expectations for the coming year.

This year many changes have taken place at the High School, including Mr. Korican taking over as interim principal, a new Athletic Director, new teachers, and new students. There are also other improvements such as a new gym floor and new computer software. If everything goes smoothly, the students participate, and the teachers dedicate as much of themselves as they did last year, everything should be great.

But another month of summer couldn't hurt either!

that he presented it with the comment that it was, "Jean's birthday present, AND I WAS NOT HAPPY WITH THE IDEA." Bill said his first experience with Model T's was as a kid in Wisconsin. "I helped out with winter fishing on the ice. We hauled nets out from the water under the ice with a T. The chassis was light and we were able to go just about anywhere. I fell in love with the memories and when, later in life, I was able to afford a T, I just could not get them out of my mind."

Bill has had 16 Model T's over the years. He is the foremost Model T restorer in the country. When asked about finding parts for the Model T's, he replied, "you can find parts easier for a Model T than you can for almost any 1990 car today." It's amazing, but there is such an extensive network of people that parts and cars can easily be put together with just a few phone calls.

There were about 15 million Model T's built starting with the production run in 1909. About 325 were built before 1909, according to Bill. "I had vehicle #90 of the

The Showpiece of the Jamboree - a 1909 Touring Car

1909 production run. Those first T's weren't very good and until Henry Ford got the production rolling and worked the bugs out, the first models were not very reliable." According to Jean, on over the past year. The men swap lies about their projects and trade parts or leads on vehicles."

They told of some Model T club members from Sweden who have come over here

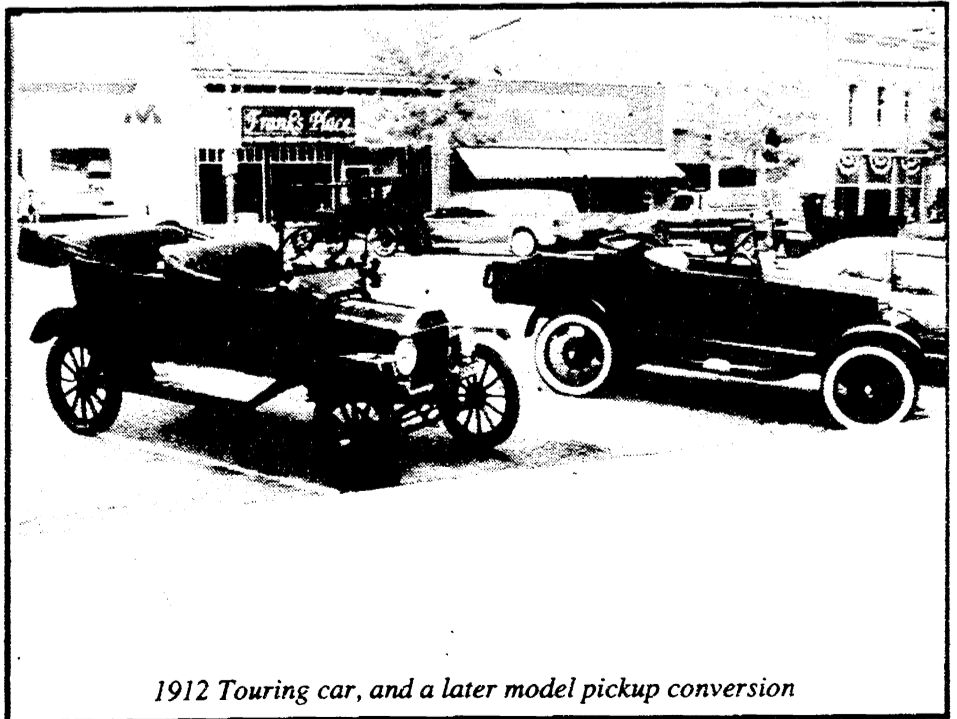

"The Model T Clubs are just like a big extended family. Each year when we get together it is hugs and kisses and talking about everything that has gone to be in the Jamborees. "They borrow a club member's car and go on the tour with us. We visited them a couple of years ago in Sweden and they loaned us a car to tour with them." Bill told of one 4500-mile jaunt going back home to Wisconsin after participating in one of the International events. Some interesting information was that right hand drive T's were built in Canada and sent overseas. Currently Bill and Jean have six T's (down from 16) with five of them running. One of them is a rare One Ton Truck model. Hans, Mary Kay and Rebecca have five T's with one running and it is a beauty.

It was a rare privilege to be entertained by the Jens and Barth families; we feel like we are part of the extended Jamboree family now, too.

Guess who got to sport about with Hans Jens?

Out & About

- by gar

School Days, School Days, Dear old golden rule days, Reading and writing and 'rithmetic, Taught to the tune of a Hickory Stick.

No, Miss Churchill, my grade school teacher, did not have a Hickory Stick but she had a hickory ruler that she freely used on the backs of our hands when we got out of line. That is one of the few memories I have of actual classes in grade school.

At our last High School Class reunion it was the gals that could remember most of the things back in school. Most of the guys couldn't remember much from grade school except the times we got into trouble. Sure we can all remember the multiplication tables and the higher numbers like $7 \times 8 = ?$ What was that anyhow? Oh yeah, 7×7 was 49 plus 7 was 56. That is still the only way I can remember that stupid multiplication.

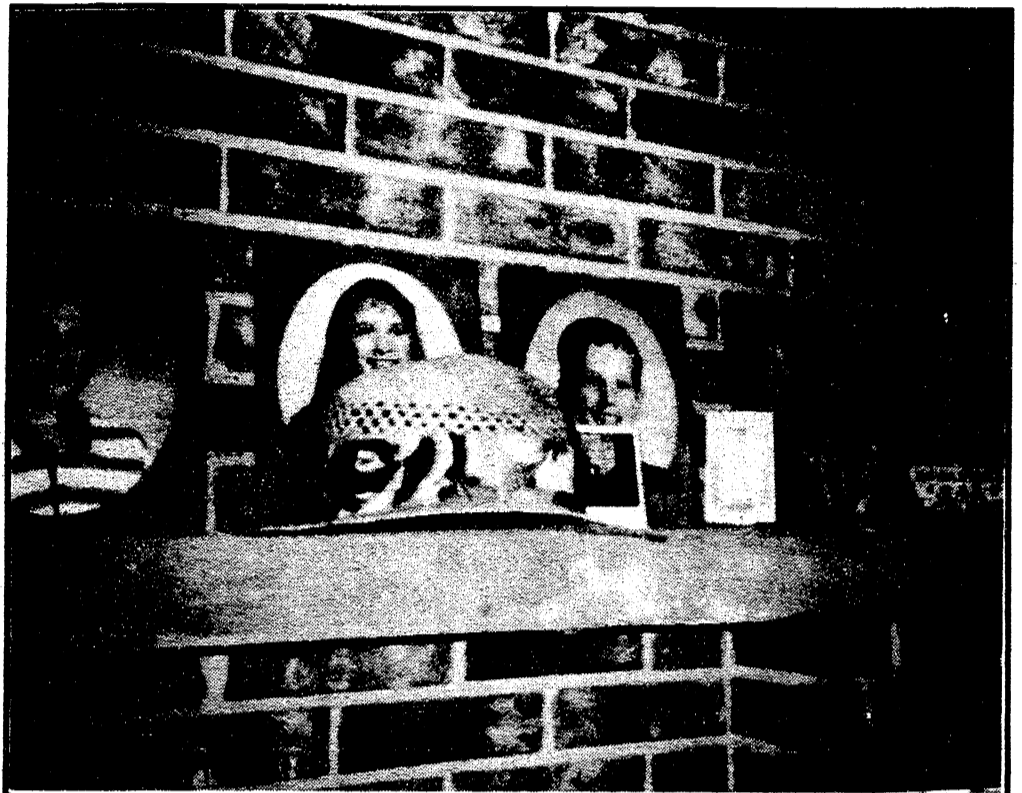

And writing, my penmanship was pitiful. Miss Churchill remarked that to Mom and guess what, gar had to practice his letters between the lines. There were three lines. Capital letters between the lines farthest apart and the other letters between the lines closest together. That wasn't good enough however; the circles had to be perfect, the i's had to have the dot above the vertical line and t's, f's and any other letter with a crossing had to be just so. Even though I can have a very legible handwriting it gets sloppy when in a hurry.

My college days taught me to print when taking a test. By printing the Prof was able to read what was written and the marks received were correspondingly higher.

Although we may not remember many of the specific things from grade school the lessons taught and learned are with us yet regardless of age. These new fangled computers, calculators and the like are pretty useless without the basic skills acquired in the lower grades. So, students, get with the school 'in or you will be as dumb as ole gar.

The further adventures of gar's hat....

This photograph taken with a hidden camera by a private detective, has proved gar's suspicions are well-founded. Come clean, Hat Thief!

Can A "Purchase Development Rights" Program Protect Farmland and Open Space?

Come and listen to the lessons learned from the implementation of a Purchase of Development Rights (PDR) Program in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania. Under a PDR program, land is permanently protected when the development rights of a parcel of land are purchased and retired from a willing landowner. The successful adoption of a county-wide program was instrumental in establishing a statewide PDR program in 1988. Since the program's inception, the county has protected over 10,000 acres and over 100 farms, preserving much of Pennsylvania's rural character in the face of intense development pressure.

The program will be held at the Washtenaw Farm Council Grounds on September 20, 1995 at 7:30 PM. Speakers will be Tom Daniels, Director of Lancaster County's Agriculture Land Preservation Board, and Jeff Fry, a farmer and participant in the Lancaster County Program. This evening is sponsored by the Washtenaw County Farm Bureau, the Washtenaw County Agriculture Lands Committee, the Washtenaw County Extension Service, MEC Michigan Integrated Food and Farming Systems and The American Farmland Trust.

Massey Ferguson Tops Tractor Market For 32nd Consecutive Year

Steve Kuebler of S-K Sales in Manchester reports industry sales results for 1994 verify that Massey Ferguson® continued its record-setting pace as the best-selling brand of tractors in the western world.

Wilfred Boyle, Director of Massey Ferguson Operations in North America, confirmed that 1994 is the 32nd consecutive year the company has achieved this leadership position. Sales figures show Massey Ferguson not only maintained its lead in world tractor sales but also outstripped its nearest rival by over 45%.

1994 sales figures (excluding China and the former Soviet states) show the decline in world tractor sales in recent years has been halted, giving the industry its best year since 1991. Overall, the world market for tractors in 1994 was 6% higher than in 1993, rising to a total of over 552,000 units.

Each child in attendance received a book chosen by the librarians and a "goodie bag" of gifts donated by local merchants. All that time in the library paid off handsomely for these good readers! Keep up the reading, kids. It will pay off in more ways than one.

Bridgewater Lumber Company presented a Seminar for "Do - It - Yourself" Home Builders

On August 10th, Bridgewater Lumber Company (BLC), in conjunction with Home Builders Finance, Inc. of Ann Arbor presented a seminar on construction loans for the do-it-yourself home builder. Dan Smith and Joanne Finkbeiner of BLC, presented the introduction to the seminar. They explained the services and products available from BLC.

Some of the products available are lumber/plywood, roofing, pipe, electrical supplies, hardware, insulation, windows, block to name a few.

Kitchen & bath design, estimates, home construction, new home financing, and rental tools are among their many services. BLC also has a list of contractors for building, plumbing, heating and cooling, insulation, ceramic tile, drywall, electrical, garage door installers, garage and pole barn builders, painters, gutter installers, roofers, landscapers, masonry contractors, excavators, siding contractors, finish carpenters, well drillers, interior decorators along with the many others necessary for construction of a home.

Janet E. Schwartz, Senior Vice President of Home Builders Finance, Inc., was on hand to explain construction loans for the "Do-It-Yourself" home builder. Her presentation included a lot evaluation work sheet which included a method of determining the suitability of your potential building site - both strengths and weaknesses. How to find a qualified subcontractor which included license, insurances, experience, credit standing, quality of work (both rough and finished) client - crew - trades relationships, practices, availability and references. She gave reasons why construction projects fail and also covered the builder's responsibilities.

Scheduling of work from excavation, foundation, rough to weather-tight building, exterior, interior and finishing the house. Janet provided a six page guide to the "Thirty Steps to Building Your Own Home."

This was an excellent seminar for anyone who wants to build a home. The explanations were not of a technical nature and code requirements were not discussed. A complete overview of building a house was the main thrust.

As Joanne Finkbeiner pointed out: "Building your own home is not for everyone. If you have some skills and want to reduce the cost of building your home, there are many things you can do. It all depends on your ability to learn and apply your efforts to a 'SWEAT EQUITY', in your new home." - by Emory Garlick

REUNION

On Sunday, July 9, 1995, descendants of Henry Breitenwischer and their spouses gathered for the family's sixtieth annual reunion. Around 70 people attended the event held under the big pavilion at Carr Park. Family members from as far away as Texas and Massachusetts came for this special occasion which was videoed by Caroline Breitenwischer Britten.

Although no one admitted to being the oldest person present, the youngest clearly were Ryan Scott Rogers, son of Carlene (Bohnett) and Scott Rogers of Clinton, born June 7, 1995 and Natalie Marie Horning, daughter of Jeff and Lynda Horning of Manchester, born February 11, 1995.

Minutes of the first gathering held August 11, 1935 at Hayes State Park, Wampplers Lake, were read. Benjamin Breitenwischer served as the first president.

Everyone enjoyed old family photos brought by Jeanette Schneider. A family address directory and family generation group chart were prepared for the occasion.

Having ancestors who immigrated to Freedom Township from Roedinghausen, Westfalen, Germany, the family looks forward next year to observing 150 years in America.

Hope the next 150 years in Freedom Township are Great!

MANCHESTER AREA SENIOR CITIZENS News

by T.V. Ludwick

Yesteryear's 'Twilight Zone' man Rod Serling voiced this complaint about television: "How do you put on a meaningful drama...adult, incisive, probing...when every 15 minutes it's interrupted by 12 dancing rabbits with toilet paper?" I can't remember that commercial, but I adore the 'duck' flying around the bathroom. "Quack, quack" is my vocal response to that and my partner just sighs.

Another popular TV host was present July 2 at the Far Hills Baptist Church in the Dayton, Ohio area as guest speaker who recalled senior citizens can be pretty funny, too. During his visit there, he met a woman in a wheelchair at a senior citizens home. He asked, "Do you know who I am?" The woman looked him straight in the face and replied, "No, but if you ask at the front desk, they'll tell you." 83-year-old Art Linkletter is best remembered for his funny interviews with youngsters and "Kids Say the Darndest Things" books. How in the world did he get to be 83 already? You'll probably answer by saying, "Just like the rest of us!"

Monday, September 4: (And how did it get to be Labor Day already?) Seniors will leave the Center at 9:30 on a shopping trip at Brooklyn. You may go along by calling Erma Alber at 428-8707 to put your name on the list. Us, at home, will maybe make potato salad and have husbands put something on the grill and pretend it is only Memorial Day. Enjoy the friends and family gatherings, and of course, fly your flag.

Here comes the food! Tuesday, September 5 is our first meal of the season at Emanuel UCC fellowship hall at 12 noon with cook Jan at the helm. Senior meals have begun again and you who are 55 or older are cordially invited to come join us in food and fun. Call in reservations ahead to Sharman at 428-8359, or to Jan at 428-7630 before 10:30 on meal days (each Tuesday and Thursday unless otherwise notified). Jan and crew will serve that delicious meat loaf and trimmings.

Thursday, September 7: At and September today, all August and September birthday-born seniors will be honored. You special folks will pay half-price while you enjoy your candles, song and special table seating allowing you to eat first. The meal features HAM and it is a favorite (I look forward to the cake that we all enjoy so much). To add to your birthday fun, come to the Center at 12:30 to play bingo.

Small thrill of the day was last week when hubby told me to look on the utility pole in the yard. Guess what? There was a small locust perched there. Could find no cast-off shell like we'd find often when we were kids at home (I looked and looked). We played with those shells like boys play with small cars and it was summertime fun.

Thanks, Emory, for the picture of Del and sunflower in the Enterprise. We've had lots of folks coming to look. Would you believe there are 200 blossoms on that one plant?

School Board Approves New Pay Increases

by Emory Garlick

At their August 21 meeting, the Manchester Community School Board approved a 2.5% wage increase for Administrators. This is in line with the 2.6% increase in State Equalized Valuation (SEV) for our area and what the teacher contract called for, according to one board member. Last year's increases were in the neighborhood of 6%.

In other financial actions, the Michigan National Bank interest rate on $850,000 State Aid Notes was approved at 4.05%. This will cost the district some $30,695.63 in Interest expense. Borrowing of funds is common in practically all school districts until local and state tax monies are collected and disbursed to the respective districts.

A Tuition rate of $207 for elementary and $404 for secondary students was approved for out-of-district enrollees. This, in addition to the full grant from the State, comprises equivalent income for the district. Chelsea School District raised their Type "A" cost of meals to the district by twenty cents. This is being passed on to the participating students. New lunch prices will be $2.⁰⁰.

Cara Weissman, band director, presented a three day schedule for May 24, 25, 26 for the Manchester High School band trip to Chicago. The cost will be covered by fund-raising and individual students. The Board approved. The Superintendent will be reviewing and correcting, past policy of counting students as absent from school when they are on a school sanctioned trip.

The Athletic Boosters Walkway Project at the Athletic complex was reviewed and the approximate 10% projected cost overrun at the Klager School Building was discussed. Alternatives are being reviewed to reduce the overrun.

Resignations were accepted from Roger Marrison, Jeff Etzel and Russell LeBlanc. John Korican was appointed as Interim High School Principal. Additional appointees included John Eisley, Director of Student Services and Athletics. Craig Vitale, Cross Country Coach. Lorie Kosinski, part time High School Math/Computer Teacher. Corinne Kastel, part time Middle School Math/Social Studies Teacher. Mary L. Fielder, Second Grade Teacher.

The Substitute Teacher daily rate was increased to $50 / day. Cynthia Sewell and Gwen Shrock were given additional responsibilities and corresponding wage increases.

MANCHESTER YOUTH BASKETBALL

WHAT: Boys and Girls youth basketball league for grades 4-6.
WHERE: Manchester High School
WHEN: Boys beginning Saturday, September 16, 1995 from 6:30pm til 9:00pm.
 Girls beginning Saturday, September 16, 1995 from 9:30am til 11:30am.
COST: $30.00 per player

The formation of a Manchester Youth Basketball League is here once again. This program is for boys and girls, grades 4th through 6th. This league will run every Saturday beginning September 16 thru Saturday December 9, 1995.

This is a 12 week program focusing on introducing and developing the fundamentals necessary to succeed in the game of basketball. The first five weeks will be spent on drills designed to improve each child's skills. Players will then be divided into evenly matched teams. Beginning in week 6, teams will then be matched in 3 on 3 competition. In weeks 6-11 teams will play 2-4 league games each Saturday. Weeks 6-11 will be our regular season. In week 12, we hope to have a double elimination tournament.

The cost of this league is $30.00 per player. Each player will receive a Manchester Youth Hoops T-Shirt. All surplus money will go into a fund that will be used exclusively for boys and girls Jr. High basketball as well as boys 9th grade basketball. Ken Branch will be serving as our girls director. Steve McCalla will be serving as our boys director as well as our program coordinator. Neither Steve or Ken will be receiving compensation for their time. This program has been endorsed by the Manchester Athletic Department. I would urge you to consider allowing your child to participate in this program. Rather than answer the same questions repeatedly, I will be available 1 hour prior to the boys first practice on Saturday Sept. 16, 1995. Ken will be available to answer any questions concerning the girls program 1 hour prior to the girls first practice Saturday Sept. 16, 1995. The deadline for signing up will be Saturday Sept. 16, 1995. You may sign-up on site at the high school. This is a non-refundable program.

Checks should be made payable to: MANCHESTER ATHLETIC DEPARTMENT in the amount of $30.00. SIGN UP EARLY.

ATTENTION DEFICIT DISORDER

Attention Deficit Disorder (ADD) seems to be a popular topic these days. Formerly called hyperactivity, hyperkinesis, minimal brain damage, and minimal brain dysfunction, ADD received its current label in the late 1970's. With our children returning to school parents and teachers will become more aware of learning difficulties in certain students. Some of these children may suffer from ADD. Children normally vary in their level of activity. Some are naturally more active than others, and boys tend to be more active than girls. In general, young children are very active. These variations are not abnormal!

According to recent research, about 3% of children, more often boys than girls, are excessively active. These children are not necessarily less coordinated or less intelligent. The difference lies in how organized or purposeful the activity is and whether it can be stopped on request. Attention Deficit Disorder sufferers tend to act without regard to punishment, results, or other people's reaction's. They cannot direct their activity, nor can you or their teachers.

Children with ADD often make life difficult for themselves and everyone around them. They can produce chaos in the classroom or turn a family into a home battleground. Exasperated parents and teachers may regard them as irresponsible, lazy, and arrogant; other children often find them obnoxious and avoid them. ADD children who do not suffer from hyperactivity may be day-dreamers who appear unhappy and fail in school. This set of symptoms seems to be more common in girls. Diagnosis may be difficult. A child may be a terror in the classroom but no problem on the playground. Homework may be perfect one week and ignored the next. While activity levels may diminish with age, experts now agree that two-thirds of sufferers will have symptoms as adults.

Blame for ADD has been placed on everything from allergies to fluorescent lights. However, none of these "causes" are accepted today. Most experts agree that Attention Deficit Disorder is a brain disorder with a biological basis. Diagnosis includes medical exams, tests of vision, hearing, speech, IQ, academic achievement, and laboratory tests of impulsiveness and attention, and most importantly, interviews with parents, teachers, and the children themselves to provide a detailed history of symptoms. Treatment often includes medication and dietary control.

Parents and friends of ADD suffers, take heart! Sure, most of us push our kids to be straight A students and perfect social and family people. The truth is that there is nothing wrong with "average," and maybe society in general needs to focus more on rewarding an honest effort versus the graded outcome of the effort.

Who couldn't benefit from eliminating sugary treats and caffeine products from their diet? By setting guidelines for bed-times, TV hours, predictable mealtimes, etc, you may find more free time for yourself. Be sure to include a set time for one-on-one help with schoolwork or games - not just with the ADD child, but with each child in the family. Admit it when you are frustrated and tired out and take time for yourself before anger takes over. All these simple measures can make life with ADD more tolerable.

Perhaps the most destructive outcome of ADD is low self esteem. If each of us takes the time to compliment small as well as large achievements on a daily basis and mixes in a lot of hugs for all our children then we have given them the greatest weapon against failure- self esteem. ADD sufferers are not in control and cannot be held responsible for some of their annoying activity. It isn't easy to practice love and understanding in the face of constant unpredictability and upheaval, but if we can master this most of the time it will enhance our relationship not just with the ADD child. Some of the rewards are bound to spill over into other areas of life.

If you think your child may suffer from ADD, talk to your teachers, school counselor and family physician. Get the answers and help you need. You can write to me at the Manchester Enterprise for a list of books and support groups. Chances are your child is just a little friskier than most!
