Class of '96 Take their Leave, Class of 2000 Head for High School

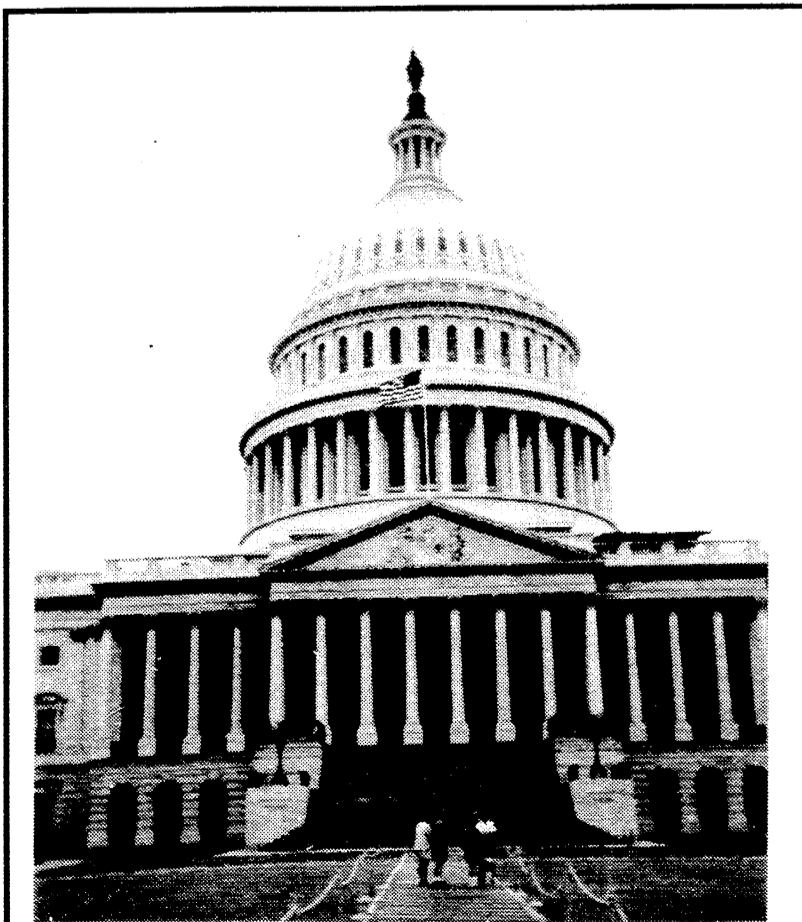

The graduating class of 1996 gave Principal John Korican a standing ovation as he expressed how he'll always remember his "last class."

Graduation is usually remembered as a sunny day on the athletic field. However, this year it didn't turn out that way. A rainy morning gave way to a beautiful afternoon, but by that time the gym had already been prepared for the ceremony.

Our graduation '96 supplement has full coverage of the Class of 1996 - their awards, their activities, and their future plans.

School Board Election to be held June 10

Three citizens are running for the two available seats on the Board of Education in the election which will be held next Monday. John Hochstetler, Marilyn Knouase, and John Ochs have all announced their candidacy for the positions. Their position statements were published in last week's issue of the Enterprise.

Remember to vote at the High School on Monday, June 10, to elect the people who will represent you when decisions are made about our schools, over the next four years.

Band Students Revel in Musical Field Trip

While in Chicago, in the presence of the SECOND tallest building in the world, the MHS band and their chaperones were stunned. There was a building taller than this?

But after the initial disappointment of the discover that the U.S. is no longer in possession of the tallest building ever (Japan is), we decided Chicago was cool. On Friday, May 24, the band students and our wonderful, generous chaperones, left Manchester for the Windy City.

After a LONG bus ride, we finally arrived. Our first stop was Andy's Jazz Club where we got to see a live jazz band play while we ate lunch.

Because of rain, we delayed our visit to the Lincoln Park Zoo and traveled straight to the Chicago Music Mart, where most of us easily could have spent all our souvenir money and then some. The Music Mall is like a mall devoted entirely to music. I mean, this place has musical instruments, music accessories, sheet music, music related gifts, and best of all, just about any CD you would ever want.

After being ripped away from the Music Mart, we traveled to Navy Pier for shopping and a 3D movie, Wings of

The End of WWII

Do You Remember V-E Day?

My son was born in January 1942. We lived in a nice house on English Road near Manchester. I was pregnant for my second child. Then my husband got drafted. What a horrible thing to happen. My life was changed forever. My husband had a really good job working for Ford Motor Company at Sharon Hollow. I thought my life was wonderful.

My daughter was born December 28, 1944 and my husband left on December 31 for Great Lakes Naval Training Camp. I must have cried gallons of tears but that did not help.

In those days, when you had a baby you had to stay in bed for 10 days and on the ninth day you were allowed to dangle your feet over the side of the bed. Then when you finally were allowed to walk, you had forgotten how. I finally went to my parents' home and moved in to stay for the duration of the War.

Gasoline was rationed. Sugar and meat were rationed. Even liquor was rationed. We all had our little ration books we took to the store whenever we went shopping. Each article cost so many stamps.

After four weeks, my husband called me and asked me to bring the children and come to "Family Day" at Great Lakes Naval Base. So I loaded my two children on a bus from Jackson and went for a visit. What a trip that was. I still shudder when I think of taking a two year old and a four week old baby on a bus trip. But my husband was so happy to see us. Sunday night I rode back to Jackson.

After six weeks of training, he was sent to New York City. Again he called and asked me to come visit him. He was scheduled to be shipped overseas very soon. This time I went alone and took the Greyhound bus from Ann Arbor to New York City for my first and only visit there. There was a blackout then. All the windows in all the buildings had black drapes over them, and there were no lights on at night. The "Great White Way" was black. No one went out at night unless it was necessary. We were at war with the world.

My husband had rented a hotel room close to the harbor and he could come stay with me for the four nights I was there. There were loading the Queen Mary. Then the day came! The big ship took off. Hundreds of women and children were there that day. Everyone was crying. It was so sad. Nobody knew were they were going or when they would be coming back. It was such a distressing time. I will never forget it.

I went back to the hotel and then took a Greyhound bus to Washington D. C., to see my brother Walter who was in the Navy and was stationed at Washington D. C. President Roosevelt had died and while I stayed there in Washington my brother and I watched President Roosevelt's funeral procession along with thousands of other people lining the streets. What a sad time that was. No one had any idea what would happen now.

Returning home, I went to work for my Aunt Julia Landwehr who operated a small diner on the main street in Manchester. I remember a man named Harry Burns who came to the diner every day at noon. He had an ulcer and always ordered oyster soup. We became good friends and talked about the troubled world and how much the war had changed all our lives.

My mother had gone to work nights at Ford Motor Company in Manchester. Everyone did their part for ending the war. I do not believe she had ever worked in a factory before or after.

My brother Robert was also in the Navy on the Destroyer U.S.S. Hailey somewhere in the Pacific Ocean. He had not been home for 18 months. He told me that they had rescued a Navy pilot who had been shot down by the Japanese. The pilot was on a raft and was really happy to see that American Destroyer coming to rescue him. Talk about a coincidence. The pilot was our cousin Theodore Schaible. He and Bob had a real good visit when they discovered each other on board that ship.

My husband was sent to a Naval Base at Bremerhaven Germany and stayed there until the war ended. We sent our three boxes of goodies every two weeks to our men in service. Lots of cookies and homemade candies. Shaving gear, anything from home was welcomed.

My brother Robert finally got a leave and came home for a visit. We were so glad to see him. He was at home when Victory in Europe was declared. V-E Day, May 7, 1945.

Bob and I went to Manchester that evening. Everyone was out in the streets- yelling and cheering- blowing their horns- shooting guns up in the air. Someone had put the Jukebox from the bowling alley out in the street and we all danced and danced. The main street was full of happy people. We had finally beaten the Germans. We still had to conquer the Japanese but good old Harry Truman found a way to end that war. Good for him! He had the nerve to end the war.

The movies all portray war as a glorified thing. In reality, it is a dirty vicious business that ends peoples' lives. There is nothing nice or exciting about war. I pray there will be an end someday when families will not be torn apart and their lives changed forever.

Guest Opinion

Throughout the month of May the migrant farm workers who are employed at the DuRussel's Potato Farms have been making their journey from the Southwest to Michigan for another season working in the fields planting and harvesting the beets, green onions, radishes, spinach, turnip tops, cilantro, strawberries, etc. which we in Manchester and surrounding communities and states get to enjoy all summer long at very low cost. DuRussel's employs and provides housing for about fifty families. More than 90 percent are from the Rio Grande Valley in Texas and a few from border towns of Mexico. Most were born in Texas, and are citizens.

I have been a volunteer liaison person for the Lansing Catholic Diocese in Migrant Ministry for the past ten years and have come to know the farm workers on a personal level. The farm workers come as a family unit and live and work among us from May until October every year. They are not only semi-permanent residents, but they are also semi-permanent parishioners in our parishes. They are as much a part of the community and the environment as the rest of us. Their basic needs, wants, desires and fears are no different than our own (they are very family oriented). Throughout the summer the farm workers are customers in our local stores bringing additional revenue to businesses. At the end of the year their income is taxed the same as ours.

Involvement with Migrant Ministry has enabled me to learn about the agencies that serve some of the needs of migrant families so that I can refer families. Also, most of the Manchester churches are aware of my involvement and will call me with items to donate such as bedding, towels, some furniture and other household items that are greatly appreciated by the farm workers.

The Summer Migrant Program promotes visiting farm worker families to build communication between the migrant workers and the local community and as an extension of friendship and hospitality. At the present time I am organizing visiting teams to participate in this program and would like to invite anyone interested to call me. A volunteer can be any man or woman who is willing and has the time to spend at least three to four hours one evening a week for the entire season. The person visiting the camps should be someone who is comfortable with people, compassionate, and a good listener. Persons interested in organizing sports activities with the youth and young adults at the camp are welcome. Even after a long day working they like to participate in team sports. Volley-Ball is popular and easy to start up. Call me, Joanne Fredal, at 428-8010 if you can join us.

Dear Emory,

Now that summer's finally here it brings with it many outside activities such as walking, jogging, biking, and horseback riding.

Many of us who participate in these activities, including children, are grateful to those drivers who are courteous enough to momentarily decrease their rate of speed when passing us on the road.

However, there a sufficient number of motorists on these dirt roads who perhaps are not aware of the tragedy which can result when a person on a horse or bike accidentally swerves into oncoming traffic.

Myself and my family being horse enthusiasts, we often find ourselves sharing the road with motorists who fail to slow down. Horses, although beautiful in a country setting, can at times be unpredictable and can jump in front of a vehicle in the wink of an eye.

If everyone would remember to please slow down when approaching pedestrian traffic whether on foot, bike, or horseback, then we could all enjoy the beauty and safety of such a wonderful community.

Misconceptions

There is some discussion about The Manchester Enterprise not giving our scholarship to a graduate of the class of '96. Our top criteria is to give the scholarship to a student who has written for the newspaper.

The students are all made aware of the opportunity to write for the paper at the beginning of the school year and we worked with the principal, in this case John Korican, asking for students to cover school activities. This can enhance their writing abilities if they have an interest in pursuing some type of journalism or marketing career.

We did not have any students from the class of '96 who approached us. Although we feel this is a very strong class and we have commended them time and time again, we felt it best to recognize a graduate from '95 who has continued her education in marketing/finance and achieved a 4.0 average in her second semester at Western.

When I discussed this with the administration, it was a joint decision to present the scholarship at commencement instead of privately. The school administration felt Mary Lobbestael deserved the recognition. We did this with our best intentions and we stand behind our decision.

Thanks for expressing your opinions; we are glad to clarify any misconceptions.

The proceedings of the May 6, 1996 regular meeting were approved as presented on a motion by Conaway, support by Vought. Vote: Ayes-all.

The agenda was approved as amended on a motion by Ames, support by Conaway. Vote: Ayes-all.

Motion by Becktel, support by Marshall to approve the request of the Manchester Recreation Task Force to close Adrian Street between Main St. and Ockrow St. from 8:30 PM until 12:10 AM on the following dates: June 29, July 20, and August 17 for street dances. DPW will have barricades and picnic tables delivered on Fridays before the dances. Vote: Ayes-all.

Motion by Becktel, support by Ames to allow the Men's Club to have the fireworks and beer tent at Carr Park on July 3rd with a rain date of July 4th. Vote: Ayes-all.

Motion by Ames, support by Brooks to allow the Manchester Men's Club to hold a dance and beer tent at Carr Park on August 10th from 9:00 PM until 2:00 AM. Vote: Ayes-all.

SHERIFF REPORT - Marshall made a motion supported by Conaway to appoint Carlos Garcia to the C.O.P.S. position and support the recommendation of the Committee. Marshall asked if there would be yearly evaluations with a maximum of 2 years for the position. Becktel stated that there would be. Vote: Ayes-all.

VILLAGE MANAGER REVIEW - Becktel stated that he never received any input on job performance of the Village Manager as he requested, with the exception of a verbal review from prior trustee Schaffer. Motion by Becktel, support by Vought to increase the Manager's wages by 4% effective March 2, 1996. Roll Call Vote: Ayes-all.

WELLHEAD PROTECTION - Bryce Feighner and Molly Wade of the Michigan DEQ in Lansing were present to explain the wellhead protection program to Council. The program at present is voluntary but strongly recommended. Motion by Becktel, support by Ames to send the letter of the Village's intent to enter into a Wellhead Protection Program. Vote: Ayes-all.

CHLORINE - Bryce and Molly answered questions on adding chlorine to our water system. The state recommends that we do not have to worry about contamination in the future. We will have to continue the present chlorination until the filter situation is resolved, but after that it is voluntary. There have been many complaints over the taste of the water since chlorine has been added. It was recommended that those who did not like the taste in their water could let a pitcher sit and the chlorine would evaporate. The question of health concerns with chlorine was addressed. Bryce felt that as with anything there are always conflicting studies. He feels that it is beneficial to the public health to continue to chlorinate.

Enter Mahony at 9:04 PM.

Darian received his Highest Honors based on research in 2.6 billion year old volcanic deposits, which he collected in Prieska, South Africa. He co-authored, with Professor Bruce Simonson of Oberlin College, an article published in Lunar and Planetary Science Conference Journal.

Darian also received the George B. Wharton Prize, given to the top graduating senior in Geology and was named the top graduating senior in Northern Ohio by the Northern Ohio Geological Society

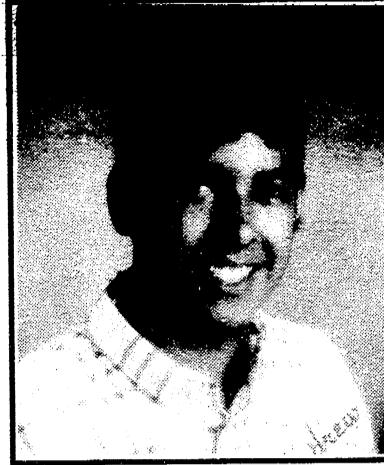

During his four years at Oberlin, Darian was elected to the Sigma Xi Scientific Society; received the Oberlin

Community Involvement Award for designing a curriculum on Wetlands for Oberlin 7th and 8th grade students; and was awarded the Metcalf Award for outstanding service to the Mudd Library at Oberlin College

In track, Darian was named Academic All-American by the North Coast Athletic Conference in his junior and senior years and named an All-Conference Athlete in his senior year. He served as captain of the Cross Country Team.

Darian's future plans ...Through a grant from the National Geographic Society, he will be traveling to the Hamersley Basin in Western Australia and to the Transvaal Basin of South Africa this summer to continue research in volcanic deposits. Darian and other researchers from Oberlin College and California State University are working to prove that these two areas were once part of the same land mass. And then, on to graduate school.

Congratulations, Andrew!

We are so proud of you and wish you all the best at K College.

Love you,

National Award Winner United States Achievement Academy

The United States Achievement Academy announced today that Kaitlyn Marie Marvin has been named a United States National Award Winner in English for the second consecutive year.

This award is a prestigious honor very few students can ever hope to attain. In fact, the Academy recognizes less than 10% of all American high school students.

Kaitlyn Marvin who attends Lenawee Christian High School, was nominated for this national award by Teresa Mattson, her English teacher at the school.

Kaitlyn Marvin will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, which is published nationally.

"Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever before in America's history. Certainly, United States Achievement Academy winners should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement." Said Dr. George Stevens, Executive Director for the USAA.

The Academy selects USAA winners upon the exclusive recommendation of teachers, coaches, counselors and other qualified sponsors and upon the Standards of Selection set forth by the Academy. The criteria for selection are a student's academic performance, interest and aptitude, leadership qualities, responsibility, enthusiasm, motivation to learn and improve, citizenship, attitude and cooperative spirit, dependability, and recommendation from a teacher or director.

Kaitlyn Marvin was also selected to the Who's Who Among American High School students in 1996. She is an active participant at Gloria Dei Lutheran Church, Tecumseh, as a Youth Board member and Sunday School teacher, in 4-H as club president, and a volunteer with Lenawee Riding for the Handicapped, a bilingual Sunday school teacher at the Adrian Christian Center, and 1996-1997 President of her National Honor Society Chapter, track and cross country team member and President of the LCS Spanish Club.

Kaitlyn is the daughter of Greg & Kathleen Marvin, Tipton. The grandparents are Fay Marvin, Annandale, Virginia and Jackie Mitchell, Toledo, Ohio.

Summer Vacation

"Pack for success," AAA Michigan says

Because many travelers tend to over pack, the Auto Club has tips on how to "pack for perfection."

"A well-packed bag often leads to a successful vacation," says Bill Best, AAA Michigan Travel Director. "It can mean less worry and more enjoyment for the traveler."

Here are some guidelines for efficient packing:

- Start organizing several weeks before leaving. Make a list of everything you think you will need. Then, review the list for essential items, eliminating what you really do not need. Remember, laundry facilities are available at most destinations.

- Inquire whether toiletries, hair dryers and irons are available at your destination. No need to pack items that will be provided by the hotel or on the cruise ship.

- Coordinate your wardrobe around one or two color schemes, like black or navy. Bring no more than three complete outfits that you can mix and match for different functions.

- Save space by tightly rolling items that do not wrinkle such as belts, T-shirts, sleep wear and sweaters.

- Pack small rolled items, like socks or underwear, into shoes. This helps shoes keep their shape.

- Tissue paper helps fight wrinkles. Line each garment with paper, then fold it lengthwise in thirds.

- Fold clothes along permanent or "set" creases (in pant legs, shirt sleeves, etc.) whenever possible. This encourages the "fresh from the dry cleaner" look and cuts down on ironing.

- Pack the heaviest items on the bottom layer to prevent everything else from wrinkling, the most crushable items on top.

- Should you need to take hangers, the inflatable kind (available in travel stores) take up almost no space and weigh next to nothing.

- Pack essentials in a small carry-on bag. Pack tickets, your business itinerary, medicine, eyeglasses, and a change of clothing, including underwear.

- Don't carry a lot of hand luggage. Storage space on planes is scarce and it's often a long walk through the terminal, even if you don't have to pass through customs.

- Try to limit your luggage to a garment bag, a carry-on duffel, and one suitcase.

MANCHESTER AREA SENIOR CITIZENS News

by T.V. Ludwick

The small things in life are oft times the best, as in hummingbirds and children. My mom was so full of the smart things to do with both. She used to caution me to be sure to boil the sugar water that I would put in the hummingbird feeder for a few minutes to dissolve sugar and then cool. This way they wouldn't get sick from the 'homemade brew' and not be able to care for their young'un's. I also remember how she loved talking to children.

At a recent birthday party, I thought how she would have loved this young child's antic as he flew to investigate the birthday cake. His mom cautioned "Do not put your finger in the ca-k-eee!" He did, straight ahead just like a hummingbird...into the side of that frosted cake. Secretly, I imagine she really enjoyed it, just as we did. We figured he had done this before at one time. What a delight when it is not your child!

Thursday, June 6: Boo hoo, 'tis the last senior meal 'til fall, but on the brighter side, it will be a good one. All June and July senior birthday people will be honored today, so get your reservation in to Jan in Emanuel's kitchen at 428-7630 before 10:30 AM. The kitchen crew of Jan, Grandma Gillow and Minnie will treat us all to pork chops with trimmings and especially cake. This is the last scheduled meal that Minnie will be with us, except in emergencies, etc. We thank you from all seniors, you've been a delight. Seniors then go to the Center at 12:30 for bingo.

Sunday, June 9: Folks going by senior bus will leave the Center at 1 PM for the 2 o'clock presentation at the Purple Rose Theater at Chelsea. Marion Ahrens is the person to contact at 428-7865.

Tuesday, June 11: There will not be Council Meeting today—it has been postponed a week to the 18th. There will be a meeting at 9:30 at the Center to work on the July-August calendar page activities today, so come and bring your ideas.

Thursday, June 13: Those with reservations will leave the Center at 12 noon for the Bavarian Festival in Frankenmuth. You may also check with Marion if you have further questions, etc.

I could hardly believe that we'd have to cover our tender plants on May 30 to keep Jack Frost at bay. Seems that we had a similar occasion two years ago when it killed off uncovered plants for two nights at this time of year...how soon we forget. Don't we always worry more about the present? Thanks to Rubena and Ruth Goodell for this information.

And...to those folks who helped us round up the words to the Army Air Corps Song, here they are:

"Off we go, into the wild blue yonder
Climbing high, into the sun.

Here they come,
zooming to meet our thunder

At 'em boys, give her the gun.

Down we dive, spouting our flame from under

Off with one hell of a roar,

We live in fame, or go down in flame

Nothing can stop the Army Air Corps!"

Could you have remembered them? We couldn't.

Visit

Ann Arbor Hands-On Museum

Since when has science been fun? Since the first grade classes at Klager school visited the Ann Arbor Hands-On Museum. The Hands-On Museum is located in the historic fire house on the corner of Huron and Fifth Avenues in downtown Ann Arbor.

There are 250 exciting, innovative, participatory exhibits at the Museum which make science fun! Children (and the adults who accompany them!) learn by doing - by using, touching, handling, shaping, turning, lifting, pulling apart, putting together, climbing in and out, and turning off and on. The exhibits represent the best concepts of physics, mathematics, biology, physiology, botany and geology, correlated with technology, art, and history.

The best part about this is that while the kids are having a great time roaming, touching, and trying their way through the exhibit area, they are learning important principles of scientific experimentation and expression. Classes and workshops are also offered frequently which enrich and challenge their imaginations. The Ann Arbor Hands-On Museum was named the "best of the best" out of 90 places to take your kids on a "Junket of Joy" trip in Michigan by the Detroit Free Press.

In the past 13 years, over 1,250,000 people have visited the Ann Arbor Hands-On Museum. 60% of their visitors come from outside Washtenaw County. Have you ever visited the Museum? If not, this summer would be a great time to take a young person in your life - or take yourself! If you need a recommendation, just ask a first-grader. They had a wonderful time!

Museum hours are Tuesday-Friday, 10-5:30; Saturday, 10-5, and Sunday 1-5

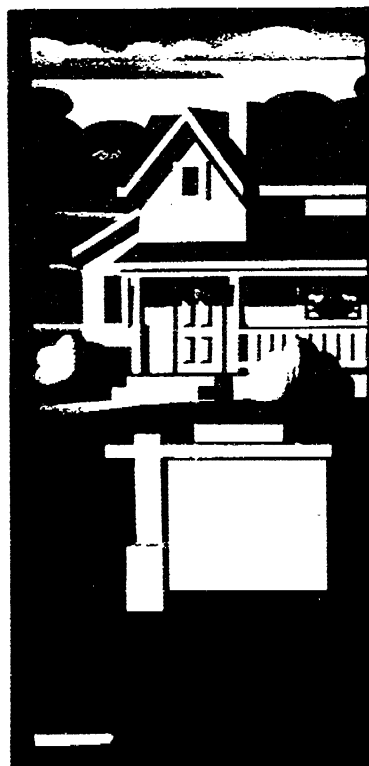

Klager Kids and more enjoyed being able to touch and feel and smell and hear the varied specimens at the Hands On Museum when they visited.

PM. The museum is closed Mondays. Admission is $2.50 for children, students and senior citizens; $4.00 for adults. Children under three are free.

There's so much to see and do and try at the Museum, the kids weren't sure what to try next!

Field Day

FUN! FUN! FUN!

The sack races are still an all time favorite

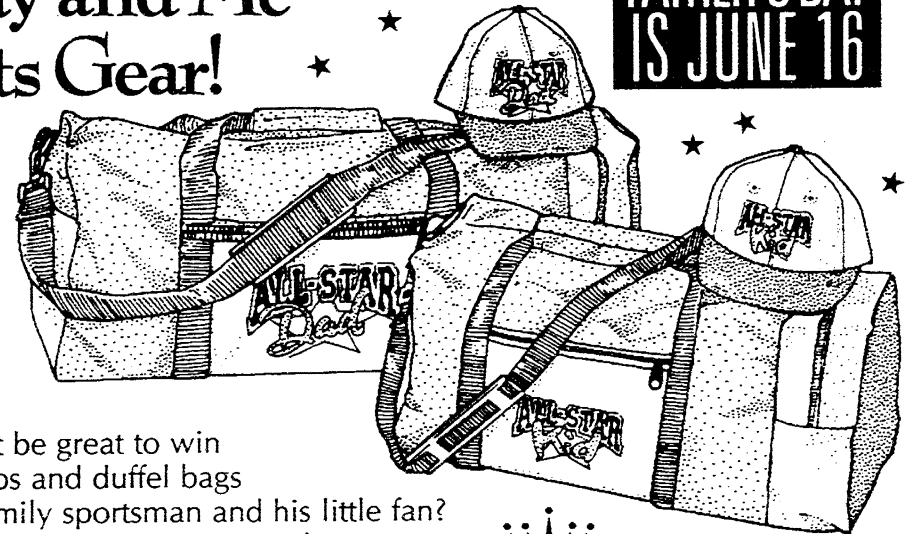

Mrs. Merrill's class forms a huddle to congratulate each other on a job well done!

As the end of the school year draws near the Klager students get out of the classrooms and have lots of FUN on Field Day each year. The weather could not have been better with the sun out and the temperatures in the 70's. This year the games were changed somewhat to excite the students who have participated in the past years and of course surprise the kindergartners. Lots of volunteers help out and get the kids even more enthusiastic about getting involved and having FUN. It's great to see the interaction between the students and teachers as well as the parents. FUN was had by everyone and most of the students rested well that night.

The Class of 2000

MHS here we come

On Friday, May 31, the eighth grade held their Commencement Dinner Dance. We started the evening off talking, taking pictures and looking at pictures taken throughout the years at Manchester Middle School. After everyone arrived, we continued with a buffet dinner catered by Dawna Stockwell, followed by cake provided by Diane Weidmayer.

After dinner, Mrs. Nosbisch, Mrs. Betzoldt, and Mr. Schick gave speeches about the many times they remember with us over the past four years. Mrs. Sahakian spoke to us on behalf of the Superintendent because Mr. Niedzwiecki wasn't able to be there. Mock elections followed, and everyone was satisfied with the results! Everyone was called forward to receive a certificate, a congratulations card, and a "Class of 2000" key chain, while the teachers made a comment about each one of us.

Then it was time to dance! The dance was great. The second set was for moms and their sons, or dads and their daughters. We tried to get the parents out on the floor after that, but not too many participated.

Everyone had a blast, thanks to the teachers and the committee who arranged and decorated for the dinner dance. The Middle School Boosters donated a lot of money to keep the cost affordable for everyone. Thanks to Mrs. Baker and Mrs. Sokol for cleaning up after us!

Thanks also to Mr. Schick and all the teachers who had to put up with us for the past four years at the Middle School. MHS, Here We Come!

Children with Difficult Traits

How do some parents make parenting look so easy? Well, parenting is big job and we can all learn how to be better parents, but the truth of the matter is NOT ALL CHILDREN ARE ALIKE. Some children have traits that make them much more difficult to parent.

Five years ago, my family meet my brother's family in Yellowstone National Park. He had two boys at the time, I had three. My youngest, who was four at the time, has many traits that make parenting difficult. My brother was appalled at my youngest son's behavior and appalled that I didn't have in him in CONTROL and even told me I needed to improve my parenting skills. Well, that December, my brother and his wife had a third son - this son has many difficult traits that changed my brother's attitudes about my parenting skills.

A couple of weeks ago, while "surfing the net", I found a page dealing with parenting children with difficult traits by Elaine Gibson. She described 8 traits and gave a 4 part process for dealing effectively with these traits in children.

The eight traits are:

- Highly active
- Distractible
- Irregular, unpredictable
- Low sensory threshold
- Negative mood
- Non-persistent
- Temperamental tantrums/fits
- Locked-in behavior

The four part process:

1. First, recognize how the trait affects the child's behavior - a definition.
2. Second, avoid the incorrect labels that demean the child and pass judgment inappropriate descriptions.
3. Third, label the true behavior for the child. Use consistent phrases so the child will understand what is happening and can relate to your expectations. Examples are given - Say This.
4. Finally, take action. Do what needs to be done in a positive manner. Remember, the child is not doing this "on purpose" - Do This.

Here is an example of how it works:

• Highly Active

Definition: very active; always into things; makes you tired; gets wild or "revved up;" loses control; hates to be confined.

Inappropriate descriptions: interrupts, wild, destructive, uncontrolled.

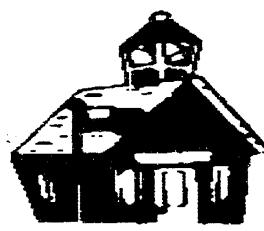

Say This: "You're overexcited." "I think you are getting too revved up." "You are beginning to lose control."

Chicago Trip

Courage. Then, finally, we went to the zoo. Since it was still rainy and damp, we didn't get to see many animals, but it was still a lot of fun.

Following a long ride in heavy rush hour traffic, we checked into the hotel where we spent a grand total of 15 minutes exploring before we left for Medieval Times Dinner Theatre. If you've never been there, you're really missing out. While you are being served a medieval style dinner, six "knights" engage in medieval tournament. Unfortunately our knight didn't win, but we all had fun cheering and later, dancing at the dance.

The next day, after an interesting and educational boat cruise on the Chicago River (we counted dead fish while we waited for the boat), the entire group left for Six Flags Great America. Needless to say, this was fun, in spite of the COLD and the RAIN. That evening, some members of the group went swimming in the hotel pool.

On our last day, the Shedd Aquarium was our first stop. Here we saw a dolphin show at the world's biggest indoor Oceanarium. After seeing other exhibits, such as frogs, fish and penguins, we were on our way to North Pier for, you guessed it, more shopping (and lunch).

Our last stop in the Windy City was Medina Temple, where we saw and heard the Chicago Symphony Orchestra play the music of Tchaikovsky, including his famous 1812 Overture.

We were tired, and glad to be home, by the end. But anyway the band, (and hopefully, the chaperones) all had a great time. Thank you to Ms. Weissman, the Band Boosters, Linda the Bus Driver, and Dan the Travel Adventures Guy. We can't wait to see where we're going next year.

Honoring Other Students

This past Sunday was graduation day for many schools. We have recognized outstanding students here in Manchester, but other schools have students who have achieved great things and they should be recognized.

One of those students is Chris Matthews from Napoleon High School. He has never missed a day of school. Now when I heard this I thought it was for the four years of High School. NO! This is for his 13 years of schooling.

Chris not only attended Napoleon High but since December of 1994 has worked part time at G.E. Wackers. He has only missed one day of work.

As a student Chris was on the Honor Roll and he does plan on attending college. He continues to work at Wackers because he wants to earn the money to pay for his college tuition.

Chris is a quiet unassuming young man who has accomplished a great deal and it looks like he will accomplish even more. Our hats are off to you, Chris, on a job well done!

Andrew Coutts Achieves Perfect Attendance

Andrew has not missed any school days since he began his education here at Manchester - that's a great accomplishment. Andrew takes lots of pride in his education and will continue to strive for perfect attendance as he moves ahead to the middle school.

Congratulations, Andrew and "Good Luck."

8th Graders Take Washington D.C. by Storm

- by Angela Tyler

On May 24, the 8th Graders left the Middle School at 5:00 AM and headed for Washington D.C. During our long bus ride we stopped at 12:00 PM for lunch. Then at 4:00 PM, we arrived at Gettysburg and went to the Civil War Museum, the Electric Map, and had a battle field tour. At 7:30 PM we had dinner at the Cozy Restaurant.

We arrived at 10:00 PM in Washington D.C. At 10:30 PM all students were in their rooms.

On Friday, we had breakfast at the hotel at 7:15 AM. We then went to the White House for a photo stop at 9:00 AM. At 10:00 AM we went to the Smithsonian Institution and saw the American History Museum and the Natural History Museum.

After that we went to lunch, and then rode on the subway to Arlington Cemetery. There we saw a wreath laying ceremony. Jordan Wahl and Angela Tyler led the way and laid the wreath on the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier. Amber Reed and Brandon Baier followed behind.

At 4:00 PM we went to Ford's Theatre to see where President Lincoln was shot. Then we went to the Peterson House where President Lincoln stayed until his death.

After that some people bought T-shirts at the Hard Rock Cafe. After dinner we had an illuminated tour of six memorials and the Kennedy Center. At 9:45 we had a pizza party at the hotel and everyone went to their rooms at 11:00 PM.

On Saturday we again had breakfast at 7:15 AM. We checked-out of the hotel at 8:00 AM. We went to the U.S. Capitol and the Supreme Court at 9:00 AM. We had our group photo at 10:45 and Matt Horodeczny was the "runner."

At 11:00 AM, we went to the Air and Space Museum at the Smithsonian Institution. We ate lunch at 12:15 PM and then went to the U.S Holocaust Museum.

We departed Washington D.C. at 4:30 PM. On the way home we stopped at the Luray Caverns and had dinner. We also had a tour of the caverns.

We arrived home at 8:00 AM on Sunday. We think the best things were the Natural History Museum and the Luray Caverns. The Holocaust Museum was very sad, but we're glad we had the opportunity to go. The trip was a lot of fun and we learned a lot.

Manchester Area Historical Society

Open House at the Blacksmith Shop

The Blacksmith Shop, 324 East Main Street, will be open from 2 to 5 P.M. on Saturday, June 15. The Manchester Area Historical Society would like to issue a special invitation to alumni to stop in before the Alumni Banquet to chat; see the John B. Swainson Room; visit the forge area, which contains John Schneider's tools; and view a special display of Manchester High School memorabilia, including an 1871 diploma. The Swainson room was renovated during the past year and contains John's desk, bookcase, figurines, certificates, and medals.

Picnic among the Tombstones

The annual Manchester Area Historical Society community picnic will not be held in its usual location this year. It has been decided to "picnic among the tombstones" in the Manchester Township Cemetery on U.S. 12 and Ely Road, the old Reynold's Corners. It is an unusual location for a sack lunch, but we have an ulterior motive. As we partake of a meal in the midst of the departed we will be recording names, births and deaths of those buried there, at the request of the Manchester Township Supervisor and MAHS member Ron Mann.

All are welcome to join us in this effort to document for the future those who have lived in the past. We will begin at 10:00 AM on Saturday, June 22. Pack a lunch, bring a blanket to sit on, and come visit with your neighbors, relatives, and may be find the gravesite of a long-since-departed loved one.

We promise the legendary lemonade courtesy of Howard and Lenora Parr, and "Special Dessert" for all who can lend a hand! You don't have to be a member - the public is welcome as always. This is the last meeting of the historical society for the 1995-96 season. Regular meetings resume in September, held on the Third Tuesday of the Month at the John Schneider Blacksmith Shop Museum, 324 E. Main St.

"Safe Homes" Update

As of this writing, the Manchester Coalition for Drug Free Youth has received back 72 pledge cards from parents of children in kindergarten through 12th grades. All but three parents answered "Yes" to having their names on the "Safe Homes" list as well as printed in the local newspaper. Nearly all have requested more information on parent's actions to stop substance abuse, and many are interested in becoming involved with the Coalition.

We are concerned that for the past week or so the responses are coming in much slower and we hope this does not indicate an end to the pledges. It is our goal to have everyone included in the Parent's Network for Safe Homes.

Follow-up calls made to many of the parents who returned the pledges were met with great enthusiasm for the Coalition and the need for an awareness in the community of the substance abuse problems. Many parents stated they plan to attend a Coalition meeting, some with the intention of joining the group and others just to educate themselves about the projects we are working on and to obtain more information. Everyone is welcome!

We want to hear opinions, ideas and concerns from all parents. If you have not received a follow-up call and you did return your pledge card, you can expect to hear from a Coalition member in the near future. In the meantime, please feel free to contact us.

One of the questions asked most from the follow-up calls was when an actual "list" of "Safe Homes" participants would be available. It is our goal to coordinate this list and have it ready to publish after the new school year begins.

This effort will take some time due to the fact that we plan to include information such as resources for substance abuse prevention, counseling, and education, as well as the names of the families in the "Safe Homes" network, and we hope to have many more names to add before publication. The names are available at this time through the Community Resource Center.

We believe this will be a valuable tool for all parents in providing a safe environment for their children and in helping parents to communicate with one another about their concerns when their children are invited to their friend's homes.

Manchester Day Camp Needs YOU

For the past eight years in May, brochures with application forms for the Manchester Day Camp have been distributed in the schools to children in grades K-6. This year, many parents have asked why they haven't received the flyers to get their children ready for day camp.

The answer is, unfortunately, there will be no Day Camp this year. The Manchester day camp which has served approximately 90 boys and girls each year, is a non profit camp, sponsored by the Manchester Girl Scouts and the Manchester Recreation Task Force. It is operated entirely by volunteers, and this year, no one volunteered to be the camp director.

The good news is that there will be a Day Camp in 1997 if one or two persons come forward to volunteer their time and energy to devote to being the director or co-Director for a camp next summer. If you would like to volunteer or suggest the name of someone who would make a good director, please contact Lucile Bruner at 428-8605

It is best that Directors or co-Directors volunteer by September or October to allow adequate time for training, planning, and organizing. Directors, with the help of other volunteers, select a theme, dates for the camp, determine activities for each of the four days of camp, and assign jobs for other volunteers. All parents are expected to help in some way: either as unit leaders, or to help with games, crafts, shopping, telephoning, etc.

The Huron Valley Girl Scout Council provides program ideas, printed materials, training and information so that our camp meets state health and safety requirements for day camps. In the eight years this camp has been operating, lots of equipment has been acquired to run the camp, such as games, craft materials, coolers and extensive first aid supplies. For the past two years, the Kiwanis have permitted us to use their food wagon to provide a wider variety of snacks.

Carr Park, with its shelters, is an outstanding location for a camp. Visitors familiar with other day camps have always been impressed with Carr Park and Manchester's excellent Day Camp program.

Won't you help this program become a reality instead of a memory? Your input and assistance is needed to make Manchester Day Camp return next year. If you can help, please call Lucile at 428-8605, or the Community Resource Center.

On behalf of the American Legion and myself, I would like to extend a warm felt thank you to the Manchester High School Band and band director, Cara Weissman. Not only for their lively participation in our Memorial Day Ceremonies, but also for the inconvenience of the inclement weather conditions that persisted at all three locations and along the parade route. Thank you also to trumpet players Kathy Doyle, Justin Turk, Dawn Shaw and Jessica Richards as they played their haunting melody on this gray, spring afternoon.

Respectfully,
George Daubner
