Mr. Robert Smith was appointed to the position of High School Principal with a two year contract from July 1, 1996 to June 30, 1998 at a salary of $62,200, for the 1996-97 school year, at Monday night's Regular Board meeting. The Personnel committee who recommended Smith as the candidate for the position consisted of one student, Sarah Ahrens; one community member, Anne Marie Gordon; and three staff members, John Easley, Dick Parson, and Sheryl Puro. Board President Paul Kluwe commented that he was "Very impressed" with the slate of candidates and pleased that Smith was the final candidate recommended to the board for confirmation.

Sewage Dumped on Iron Lake flood plain

Washtenaw County Health Division recently cited a 1995 Jayco travel trailer, parked on property adjacent to Iron Lake, for discharging sewage directly to the ground surface.

Washtenaw County Rules and Regulations for the Disposal of Sewage and Human Excreta, requires "No building, structure, area, or premise shall be constructed or maintained for human occupancy, use or assembly without adequate facilities for the sanitary and safe disposal of all human excreta together with all liquid and solid wastes that could hazard the public health or create objectionable nuisance conditions."

Other concerns expressed were for potential cause of sickness, filth, flies, rodents or disease by persons or domestic pets; unlawful pollution of stream; contamination of wells for inadequate isolation distance; and odor nuisance.

Every few years this problem arises around our area when travel trailers are parked on property. Lyle Moore, Manchester Township Constable, summoned the Health Department when an adjacent property owner alerted Township officials. Twin Lakes may have a similar situation.

Black Sheep to Make a Revival

Five years after it was closed by a devastating fire, the Black Sheep Tavern plans to reopen this summer. "I was hoping to open by July 4, but plans never work out quite like we want them to. I'm still planning for sometime in late July," says Kim Lee, the manager of the new Black Sheep.

Kim is retaining the name of the Black Sheep Tavern for its "historical value" and believes that it's part of the theme of the town. Being a home-town girl herself, Kim seems to have a pretty good handle on the pulse of Manchester. She did, after all, star in Manchester's very own movie, The Carrier.

The restaurant is turning out to be a family affair as her brother, B.J. Lee, is doing the plumber's contracting for the building renovation as well as another brother, Greg, who's working with B.J. All this is being overseen by Tom Ellis, the building owner, who has undertaken the massive job of restoring the entire building as "The Manchester Hotel."

A recent graduate of MSU with a degree in humanities, Kim has worked in the restaurant industry throughout her college career. In fact, she had decided to pursue management training after a six-month stint as an assistant manager at Mountain Jacks, when this opportunity arose. "Hmmm...should I go work for a giant corporation or manage my own business in my home town? It was a pretty easy decision when I put it that way," said Kim.

"We have a few furnishings that people will recognize from the old Black Sheep," notes Kim, but the new tables and chairs which have recently appeared are noticeable as you pass by. The bar from the tavern has been moved to the west half of the building, and the plaster work has been suspended around the bar so you can see the beveled brick underneath. It's an interesting look and will probably be a conversation point.

"We are carrying over a few items from the old menu, steaks and filet mignon, but will carry more healthy items on an upscale dinner menu,"

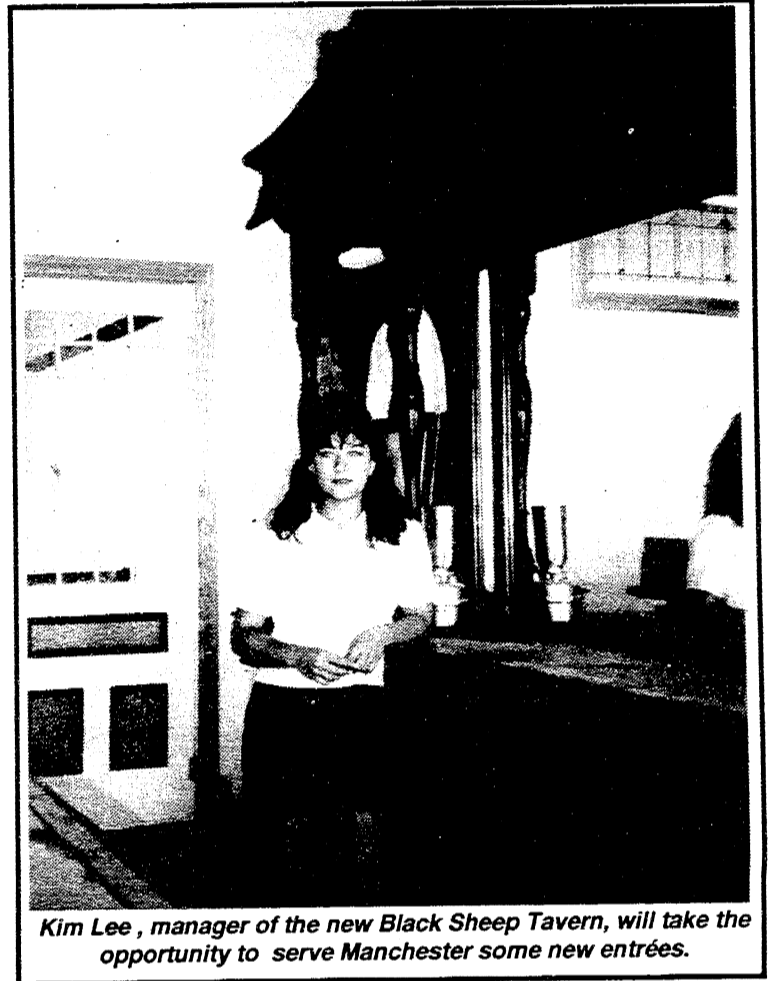

Kim comments. "A couple of fish entrées, some chicken and two vegetarian dinners will definitely be on the menu. We're also thinking about some variable specials. We will also have a competitive lunch menu with some deli-to-go items. We have a rotisserie and a flame broiler which will allow us different ways to cook familiar dishes." Work with the health department, always a concern, has begun and will continue as progress continues on the building project.

Next door, on the east side of the building, will be a book and music store, called "Chapter and Verse." Depending upon construction, and the many other variables that constitute opening either a store or a restaurant, the two businesses plan to open simultaneously and have an adjoining door.

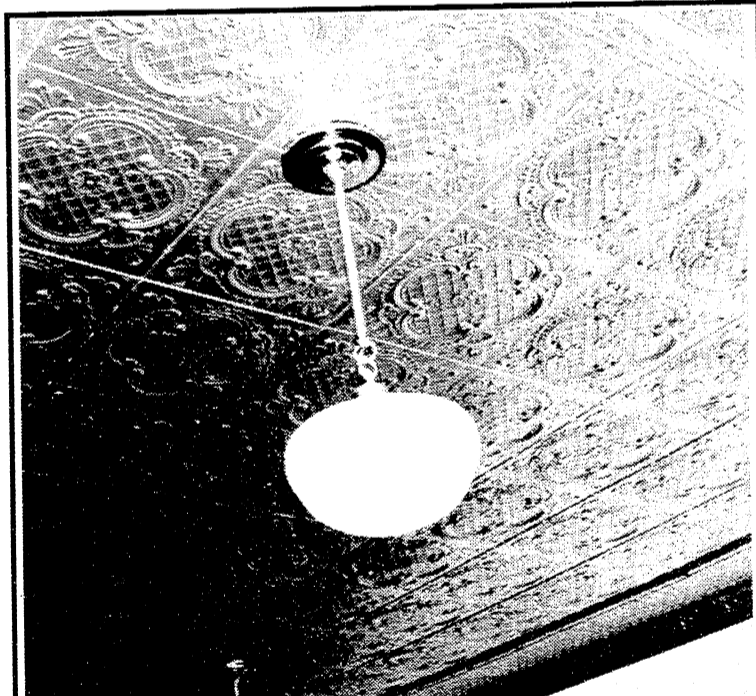

Although the plans are coming more slowly than she originally wished, "I'm learning to be patient," Kim says. "In the beginning I was really antsy. Let's get this done! When can we do this? How soon can we be open? But I'm settling down. I'm also realizing that right now is the time I can take it a little bit easy, because once we're open this will be my life." She waves her hand around the tables, the bar, and the kitchen yet to be finished. Although she claims to be "taking it easy" now, Kim is already putting in long hours to make her venture successful.

Kim appreciates the historical uniqueness of Manchester and hopes in her own way to retain some of those unique qualities. The atmosphere that turned Manchester into "Sleepy Rock" ten years ago is what sets us apart from the rest of the county. "I've brought friends here from college and Kim Lee, manager of the new Black Sheep Tavern, will take the opportunity to serve Manchester some new entrées.

Patterned tin ceiling tiles and reproduction lighting add to the atmosphere they look around and are amazed," Kim says. "You don't always realize, till you see it with someone else's eyes, what we really have here." Not many small towns are staying small towns anymore. We don't have strip malls, McDonalds, or huge developments. Manchester is staying on a small scale.

And, like Manchester, the Black Sheep will remain on a smaller scale than in the past. In its heyday in the '70's, the "Sheep" was known across the state. Main Street was busy on weekend evenings all year round and raucous sing-alongs attracted great crowds. Kim hopes to set a quieter pace but still establish a wide reputation for quality dining in the small town atmosphere.

It's great to see this beautiful old building on Main Street coming alive once again. In coming weeks, the Enterprise will feature The Manchester Hotel renovation and the opening of Chapter and Verse; all three ventures are welcome additions to our business district. Stay tuned.

Out & About

- by gar

Many persons in the community devote themselves to activities and events which benefit all of us. The Chicken Broil, Men's Club, Athletic Boosters, Band Boosters, Optimists, CRC, and various Church and Governmental organizations. To all these individuals we owe a debt of gratitude.

Our Board of Education for the Manchester Community School system and the individual Board members have by far the most onerous task. Their charge is to oversee the total education program: Finances, Policies, Resolutions, Guidelines, Technology, Hiring, Appropriations, Budgets, General Funds, Debt Funds, Building Projects, and dealing with a secretive administration, is no easy task; let alone fielding the phone calls from concerned or irate parents or employees. All this is done for five bucks a meeting.

We owe each of these individuals our thanks, even though we might not agree with their positions. This is truly the mark of a free society.

Thank you to John Hochstetler for your four-year commitment to our schools, and your uncanny ability to get to the bottom of some very contentious issues. To John Ochs, a returning board member, your past expertise has been outstanding as will the next four years of input.

Welcome to Marilyn Knouase, newly elected board member. With the backing Marilyn received she will have a great many people helping her, and she will do a good job.

Dear Editor,

On Friday the 7th of June I was involved in a very minor traffic altercation on Ann Arbor Hill. I was headed South after dropping my two oldest children at Klager for their last day of school when I was hit from behind. I was tapped really not very hard, just enough to get my attention and make my back a little sore. Thank God I was paying attention because I did not hit the car in front of me or there could have been a very big mess.

Anger being my first reaction I did something that I am not very proud of, I opened my door and yelled back to the teenager. One sentence, a question really "Are you #@ stupid or what?" Not very lady like, not really necessary. I did not want to tie up all that traffic so I asked the crossing guard to get the plate number of the car the teenager drove so I could turn it into the police.

As my car was not hurt I just wanted an apology from the child who drove the car. If he had not been playing "Bumper Cars" with the car behind him this incident would not have even occurred. He must have heard me yelling to the crossing guard because he sped past her so that she could not get his plate number.

I went up to the High School, and sure enough there was the car, and the one behind him. After jotting down both plate numbers I went to see Officer Garcia. Two of the crossing guards were there and had explained what had happened. Officer Garcia said he would talk to the child and his parents.

I waited a few days and hunted down Officer Garcia. After talking with the child and his father, this is what I found out. The child in question admitted to accidentally bumping me but because I yelled at his son, the father wanted an apology from me for my profanity. This further angered me, then I thought about it. Sat down and really thought the whole thing over. Was I hurt? Was my six year old son hurt? Is the car hurt? No to all the above. So here goes.

Mr. Craig, I wish to share with you, your son and the whole village my most sincere regrets for yelling at your son. To my son I also apologize, mommy was wrong to say that bad word and I will try very hard not to do that any more. I forgive your child for the reckless endangerment of my child and the general thoughtlessness of his actions. Please let me have the wisdom you have shown to deal with my children as well when they reach the difficult teenage years.

Sincerely,
Kendra Kuhn

Dear Emory,

Almost one year ago to the date, a letter was published about an incident at a coach pitch baseball game between the Rockies and the Cardinals written by a Cardinal's grandparent about my husband's unhappiness with this team's failure to follow the rules.

One year later, the Rockies' viewpoint has not changed; this year, however I would like to express mine about the assistant coach or scorekeeper for this team and the behavior he chose to display all for the sake of winning.

My husband is third base coach for our team and on a base hit he sent a runner from second base to home plate because the ball was in play, it was not an overthrow but had merely not yet been retrieved. This man, who was near third base keeping score, chose this time to tell my husband (in front of six and seven year olds), that he never had liked him and he disliked him even more now.

Anyone who knows my husband is well aware he can take care of himself; and I understand personalities clash. But the dislike he has is petty and is much more involved in his arrogance than any wrongdoing. He has the right to feel that he is, as the saying goes, "better than us."

By his behavior, however, at the second round Wednesday night, he showed many things - none of them proving he was anything more than a grown man who had not yet learned that it was okay to lose. A hit that earned two bases by one of our players was not applauded for being the sensational hit it was, but hindered because he decided our game ball (which we had used since game one) was now non-regulation.

Why? Because we had a chance to take the lead. At this point the discrepancies in our scores collided, and the Cardinals came to last bat because the actual score came to light: 15-14, Rockies ahead by one. This man was scorekeeper and did not stay to defend a score of 12-14, Cardinals ahead, that he had arrived at, but jumped on his Schwinn and went home to eat dinner, convinced "We cheated"?

He left the coach to a battle he thought he was man enough to start, but proved he wasn't man enough to finish.

Our children were undefeated until that Wednesday, but still remain winners in our eyes! This situation was not created because we were afraid of losing, or even brought to light because we did. But in closing I'd like to say to this man, who believes winning is everything no matter how you achieve it,

"I hope your children never have to learn the lesson that they lost by one point because an adult on the other team saw fit to bed the rules."

As for my son, he's more of an adult at seven, because he knows losing is okay too - especially when lost fairly.

Manchester Township Library

"Michigan's Oldest Township Library" Established 1838

It's Summer Reading Club Time at the Library!

When school is dismissed each year, children prepare for a summer of baseball, swimming, biking, and travel. Many children also include reading as an important and pleasant summer activity. Reading is a skill, just like swinging a baseball bat or doing the backstroke and it too requires practice. Summer reading can help students of all ability levels keep their skills sharp so that they are ready when school bells ring again in September.

If children view reading as a pleasant and relaxed activity, chances are they will be glad to read. Joining the Manchester Township Library's Summer Reading Program is one way children can discover the pleasures of reading.

Preschool and elementary aged children are invited to sign up through Saturday June 22 for "The Colorful World of Library Kids" program. Small incentive gifts will encourage participants to reach their goal of reading ten books by July 27. On August 3 those who complete the requirements may attend a party with entertainment by Dan Stevens Marionettes. Please call the Library at 428-8045 for more information.

Manchester Area Historical Society

Name That TOMB!

Just a neighborly reminder - come to the Manchester Area Historical Society's picnic this Saturday, June 22 at 10:00 AM to 2:00 PM.

As a variation from the usual social picnic we've decided to "picnic among the tombstones." The Manchester Township Cemetery is the site for this year and is located by traveling south on M-52 to US-12. Turning right at that intersection, it is on US 12 at Ely Road, which is the third right hand turn. We will be making an effort to record pertinent data off grave markers, insuring that this information will not be lost forever.

Bring a sack lunch, lawn chairs or a blanket, clipboards if possible, and bug spray - required! (Although this graveyard is charming, the bugs are a live and biting!) Howard and Lenora Parr will be providing their legendary lemonade and members of the society will spoil you with "Special Desserts."

Many of your neighbors will be there to assist in this labor, don't miss out on the fellowship. This our last meeting of the 1995-96 season; come to this one and join!

Kids Night at the Gazebo (For "kids" of all ages!)

Hear what they say about Song Sister Julie:

"...the most outstanding quality about Julie's performance is the joy and fun she projects from the stage."

"...the response was unanimous! Kids and parents all found her delightful."

"...the music was lively and new and we were all enthusiastic about her rapport with the audience and her ability to hold the attention of even the littlest listener."

"...it is such fun to watch the children get excited."

The acclamations could go on and on. Well—Song Sister Julie Austin will be here in Manchester, at the Gazebo this Thursday, June 20, beginning at 7:30 PM!!!

Adding to the great fun will be David Mosher who will join Julie. David brings to this evening his great talent and experience as a performer, having toured the U.S. and Canada with bluegrass bands. He plays the guitar, fiddle, mandolin, and other stringed instruments.

It will be a night of great fun and great music for young and old alike! Bring your lawn chair or a blanket. Bring a friend, too! And how about that favorite young person in your life; they might like a special invitation to come to the Gazebo concert this Thursday!

As always, the show will go on, rain or shine. (Rain location is St. Mary Parish Center on Madison Street, behind the Hop-In).

Thanks to the Recreation Task Force for organizing and sponsoring these concerts. Also to those from the community who have made donations to underwrite the performances. The support of all is welcome. Please call 428-7722 for more information.

Plastics Receives MIOSHA "Blue Award"

Manchester Plastics was awarded a Safety Award by the Michigan Department of Labor's Safety, Education and Training staff on Thursday, June 13. Karen O'Dell, the representative who works directly in training with Manchester Plastics, and "just call me A.K.", an upper management representative of the Department, were on hand to present the award to Peter Ballantyne, the General Manager of Manchester's plant.

"This award is the result of efforts by employees and a commitment by management to safety and education at Manchester Plastics," said A.K. when he spoke to the gathered employees in the break room. "It is only through continuous effort that an award like this becomes possible. You want to leave work in the same condition that you arrived that morning. By paying attention to safety considerations, you have done this for over 550 days." The Blue award is a result of reducing reportable safety incidents by over 50% over a period of time.

Karen O'Dell announced that in addition to the Blue Award, Manchester Plastics is also eligible to receive the Silver Award, which recognizes one year without reportable accidents on the job. A.K. explained that Manchester Plastics has an outstanding tradition of safety in all of their plants, and that their Williamston plant has already achieved the Gold Award, which recognizes a two-year period without accidents. "In a plant of over 100 employees, this is a remarkable achievement," he told me.

The Safe Crew on days at Manchester Plastics

Peter Ballantyne congratulated all the employees for contributing to their outstanding record of accident-free work days. Barbara McConnell, the Director of Labor Relations for Manchester Plastics, was also pleased by the award and encouraged all employees to take a short break to watch the presentation.

Manchester Plastics is back to full capacity after their temporary shut-down last year. Barb related that of the employees who were on layoff during that time, they only lost about 10-15 people. Everyone else was happy to return to work there, even if they'd found other employment in the meanwhile. "Several people were making more money but came back, because they didn't get treated as well as they did at Manchester Plastics," she remarked.

Management is also happy to have these employees return because of the excellent safety record they attained during the prior year. And they're well on their way to a Gold Award for their second consecutive year of accident-free work days.

Manchester Tool and Die Commissions Sidewalk at High School

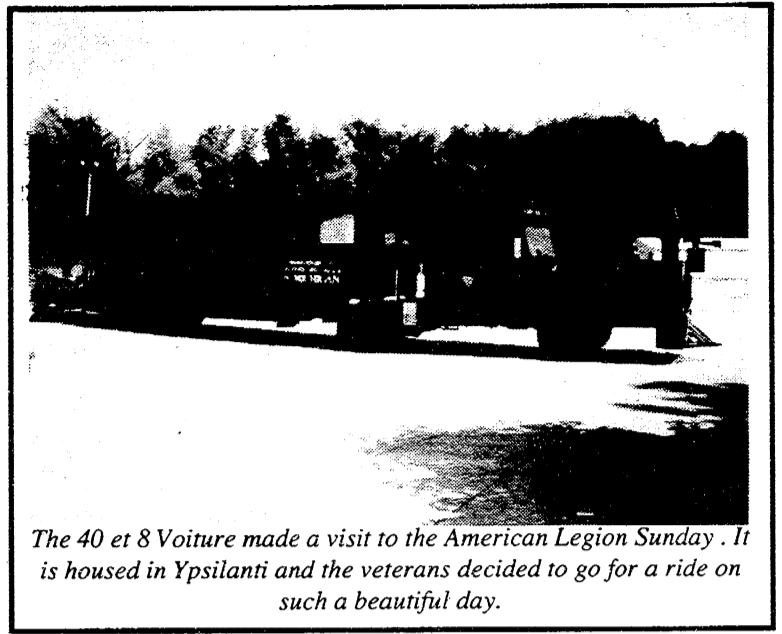

Ron Fielder checking on the job of the new sidewalk in front of the high school.

Ron and Pat Fielder continue the tradition of Manchester Tool and Die and the Fielder family by providing a new sidewalk in front of the high school now under construction. John Schiabe, Masonry is the contractor of record. Ron said he and his wife, Susan, were walking one day last fall and realized that except for the area in front of the high school walkers could enjoy a hard surface from the west end of Main Street to the east end within the Village limits. They decided to finish the last gap and commissioned Schiabe to build the sidewalk.

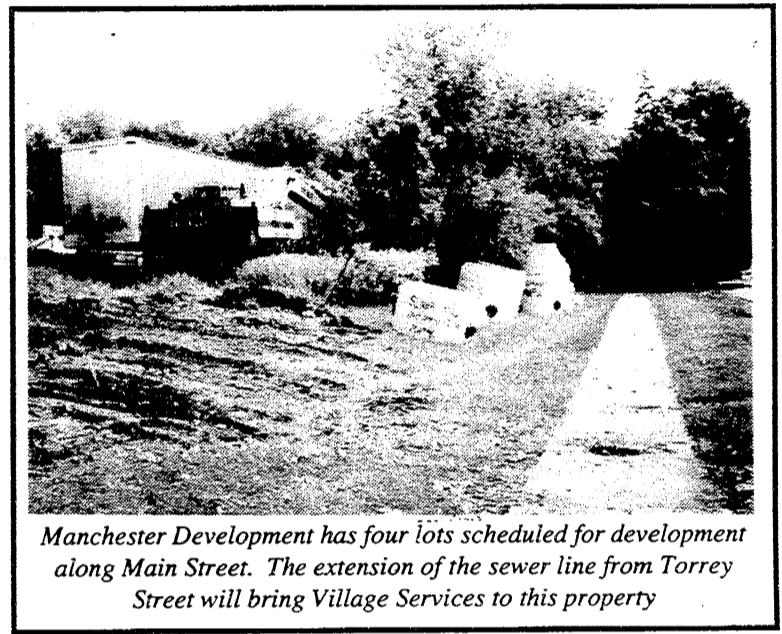

The Fielder family, starting with Clarence their father and his partners at Tool and Die, (Gene Bentschneider and Ted Stautz) were very active within the community. Clarence was Manchester Township Supervisor and active in many community activities. Ron and Pat along with the extended Fielder family continue to promote and care for Manchester.

Susan, Ron's better half, devotes many hours to the Parks Commission and her work is evident at Wurster Park and the beautiful flowers.

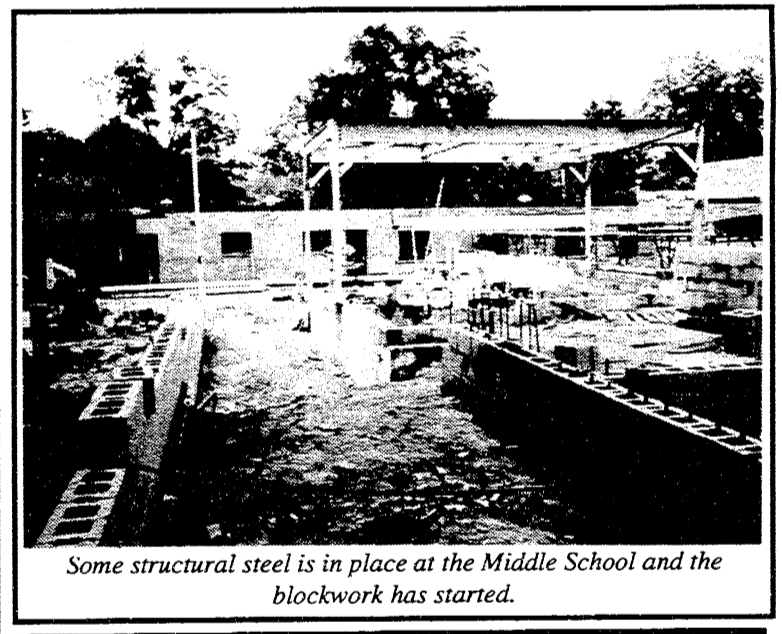

On behalf of Manchester, "Thanks to all the Fielders."

The 40 et 8 Voiture made a visit to the American Legion Sunday. It is housed in Ypsilanti and the veterans decided to go for a ride on such a beautiful day.

Manchester Development has four lots scheduled for development along Main Street. The extension of the sewer line from Torrey Street will bring Village Services to this property

Some structural steel is in place at the Middle School and the blockwork has started.

Publication by Local Author Available

A new release of Elaine (Reno) Watson's TO DWELL IN THE LAND is now available at Crossroads and at Little Professor in Ann Arbor—this time in hard cover—in a book that includes two other historicals, and is called AGELESS LOVE. (Zondervan of Grand Rapids, publisher). The story in TO DWELL IN THE LAND is based on actual experiences of a German-American couple who were captured by the British at a fort in Kentucky in 1770, and then were brought as prisoners to Michigan. It first came out in paperback, in 1985, and then was published again by another company in 1994—in paperback. As a part of a series, TO DWELL IN THE LAND is the third selection in AGELESS LOVE, Volume 1.

College News

Jennifer Nosbisch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nosbisch, Torrey St., Manchester, was named to the Dean's List for the second semester of the 1995-96 school year. To be named to the Dean's List a student must have a minimum 3.5 grade point average on a 4.0 scale.

Hope College is a four-year, co-educational, liberal arts college with an enrollment of 2,919 men and women and is affiliated with the Reformed Church in America.

In November, 1992, Elaine Watson talked about this book and another historical she had written for Zondervan in 1984 called ANNA'S ROCKING CHAIR, which was based in the Manchester area in 1880. For a week or two, in 1985, ANNA'S ROCKING CHAIR was on the "best seller" list in the Ann Arbor News. Elaine graduated from Manchester High School, and she now lives in Ann Arbor. She grew up at Pleasant Lake.

MANCHESTER AREA SENIOR CITIZENS News

by T.V. Ludwick

Summer begins on June 20 and how sad to think that the days grow shorter each day 'til nearly Christmas. In the meantime, we can enjoy each day. Things like anticipating the peas that are blooming...can already taste them, and also have blossoms on the tomatoes, now there is something we are all awaiting with anticipation!

Friday, June 21: Seniors wishing to go along to the Saline Senior Citizens Card Party should call Erma Alber at 428-8707 to get your name on the list. Then, go along and enjoy. Senior bus pickup begins at 6 PM.

Monday, June 24: Marion Ahrens, our Trip Chairperson, asks that you confirm your reservation by today for the Paddock-Hubbard House Museum trip to Concord. You may call her at 428-7865.

Wednesday, June 26: Here comes another...Ice Cream Social at Emanuel UCC starting at 5 PM (no rain, hear?). Senior bus begins pickup at 4 PM for all seniors who have called Erma or signed the book to go.

Thursday, June 27: The monthly senior sponsored card party is here once again starting euchre play at 7:30 PM at Freedom Township Hall. Come one and all for a fun filled evening with light refreshments. Pickup by bus begins at 6 for the ride out to Pleasant Lake.

Isn't it pretty right now with all the shades of green? Oooh and aaahs can be heard. The July-August Trumpeter is being readied and you can watch this column for pickup information to get your copy.

Shall we not growl about the amount of rain we're having this month? Elaine Steele reports that in southern Texas those folks have nearly given up planting vegetables because it is so dry. She said onion tops lay down and won't get up again (dry, dry). It is so lush a region for growing things, it is hard to imagine (along the Red River in what is called The Valley).

And our farmers could hardly get in the fields to plant because it was too wet! 'Taint fair!

What to Save?

The end of school has come and you have probably accumulated a lot of school papers over the year and are now faced with what to save and what to throw away. Here is a suggestion of what to pick to save and how to store the material. I save material in three forms: a three ring binder with one package of five divider, a box (standard paper size and about a foot tall and a folder file.

The three ring binder will be for:

- 1) report cards,
- 2) CAT test results, MEAP results
- 3) IEP or 504 plans (and related test results)
- 4) awards of all kinds (attendance, I spy, sports, etc.)
- 5) copies of letters you send to and get from the school and a log of all telephone conversations.

Extra - get some sheet protectors and save the child's school pictures from each year in the front of the binder.

The box is for samples of the student's work. The following is a suggestion for the minimum amount of material to save. Mark all the papers with the school year. Keep layering the papers in the box. Plan to have a box for elementary grades, middle school grades and high school grades. Your child will also want to save some of the work from the high school years for portfolios and writing samples needed for the proficiency exams.

From each 9 week period save a sample of the student's writing, a math sample, a test sample and an art sample. Don't save the very best sample of each, but instead what would be the average sample. The goal of this material will be to go through the work at some later time and see how the child has progressed. Also save very unique material. Sometimes this is an outstanding piece of work done by the child; sometimes it will be work that was mostly wrong.

The file is to collect material through the school year. It will be very thick by the end of the year. As you save things through the year keep in mind that items from this file will end up in the box. At the end of the school year, pick out the samples you want to save and put them in the box.

So what do you do with all the other school work that has accumulated and that you are not saving. Give some to grandparents (this can be done through the school year as well) and to aunts/uncles. They enjoy seeing how their grandchild, niece or nephew is doing. Sending art work or a book report with a thank you note for a gift adds a special touch.

P.A.S.S. is a parent/student support group. Our next two meetings will be June 26 and July 10 Wednesdays at 7 PM at the Emanuel Church basement. Call 428-0738 and leave a message.

Summer vacation is well underway. It's time to kick back and relax! But if you have an athlete at your house, summer is not the time to get out of shape.

Also athletes CANNOT even start practice without their physicals. Sports physicals (for grades 6-12) will be offered July 31, 1996. The cost is $5.00 at the time of examination. Physicals will be held at University of Michigan Chelsea Family Practice Center, 14700 East Old Highway US 12 in Chelsea. The time schedule will be:

Last Initial: Report at:

A-E	2:00 PM
F-J	2:30 PM
K-O	3:00 PM
P-T	3:30 PM
U-Z	4:00 PM

Physical forms are available at the Family Practice Center or at the High School Athletic Directors Office.

A second session for sports physicals will be held on August 8th from 6-7:30 PM at the Manchester High School Gym Locker Rooms. Dr. Anderson will be there at that time.

Of course you are always welcome to pick up a physical form at the High School Office and go to your own family physician. Just remember that the forms need to be completed before practice starts.

Have a good summer and stay in shape!

School Board Notes

105 of the State School Aid Act of 1979, as amended (SB851), which would permit a district to accept outside students from any school within the Intermediate School District. Two options were available: Opt IN or Opt OUT. After much discussion, the board decided to Opt OUT because of timing, and the fact the Governor has not signed the Senate Bill yet and may not. In essence, the school district could accept outside students, of a predetermined number, and would be compensated by the lesser of our district's student comp rate or the sending school district's comp rate.

• O'Neal Construction report was submitted of the building progress which is approximately on schedule. The School Election Results were announced: Hochstetler 184, Knouase 280, Ochs 227. Hochstetler was given a recognition award by Supt. Niedzwiecki.

• Important action was taken on budget issues at this board meeting. The record budget passed at this meeting also takes into account final adaptations to this fiscal year's budget. Based upon Total Revenues and Fund Balance the two budget years shake out as follows:

	Adopted 95-96	Anticipated 96-97
Total Revenues	$7,533,751	$7,869,422
Fund Balance	$ 692,459	$ 579,345
Total Available	$8,226,210	$8,448,767

Probable 96-97*

Expenditures of Anticipated Funds 96-97	$7,889,313
Projected Fund Equity June 30, 1997	$ 559,454

(* Editor's Note - The Probable 96-97 Budget numbers are estimated. The new Teacher contract has not been established and the Expenditure of Anticipated Funds will most likely change. An amended budget will be established during the 96-97 school year.)

Additionally, the Debt Fund Appropriations for Building purposes was Adopted based upon the 1967 Debt retirement of .22 mills and the 1995 Debt retirement of 1.68 mills

	95-96	96-97
Total Available	$407,312	$427,334
Appropriated	$296,800	$422,765
Fund Balance July 1,	$104,778	$ 99,653

Additionally the School Services Fund for the 1995-96 year revenues of $552,724, Expenditures $527,233; and the budget projections for 1996-97 - revenues of $530,042, and expenditures of $542,792, was adopted. School Services Fund includes Food Service, Athletic Activities, Employee Benefits, Outgoing Transfers and Other Transactions.
