School Contract Negotiations Continue

With school starting Monday August 26, for students, both the administration and the teachers continue to bargain.

MEA Representative and school administrator says; "Substantial progress has been made toward settling the teacher contract." When queried about specifics, we were told the calendar has been agreed upon and most language issues have been resolved - We are now down to the nitty - gritty for the financial numbers.

Most parents may not realize, by law teachers are not allowed to strike. The MEA, Michigan Education Association, has renounced that as unfair to the collective bargaining process. "The onus of fair play has been placed upon administrators and board members in their negotiations," according to a State MEA member.

Contract negotiations for all other school employees opened Monday July 22. "There appear to be some stumbling blocks," according to one employee who did not want to be identified. "One employee has not received a pay increase for two years even though his responsibility has increased," according to that source.

The Middle School Principal has been selected but announcement must await Board approval according to Superintendent Niedzwiecki. We did learn that he is currently a principal within the Washtenaw Intermediate School District.

New D.A.R.E. Instructor named

A familiar deputy to Manchester, Angie Catalano is the new D.A.R.E. instructor for Washtenaw County. Angie will be Manchester's instructor for the '96-'97 school year.

"I'm thrilled to be able to work with the kids here in Manchester - I love teaching the fourth and fifth graders," Angie stated Monday evening while she was making her rounds on Main Street patrol. "We are looking at a program for 6th, 7th & 8th graders and hope to be able to implement that in the near future. It's a very important age group to reach. Usually by the time the student reaches high school they have made decisions on alcohol and drugs, as well as gangs."

Deputy Catalano taught D.A.R.E. part time last year in Ypsilanti schools, where life is a lot tougher for many of the students. It was not unusual for a student to come to class, telling her that there was no money for food this week at home because Mom or Dad used all the family's funds to purchase 'crack.' Angie believes the cases here in Manchester will be more with disgruntled students than as severe as what she heard in the other areas she taught last year.

Angie and her husband, along with their four children, are residents of Manchester and she is happy to be able to have the opportunity to work with the students in her home town. She will also be teaching D.A.R.E. in Lincoln School district as well as other areas of Washtenaw County. Congratulations, Deputy Catalano; we welcome you back to Manchester!

Changes on Main Street, Part 2

Reading the Needs of the Community

It's been many years since a shop in Manchester carried much in the way of books, or a variety of music, especially for young people. The newest addition in the Black Sheep's renovation program, Chapters & Verses on the east side of the main level, will help fill that gap for kids of all ages, thanks to owners Siobhan Gorman and Edna Walker.

Edna and Siobhan originally worked together in a pediatric office for twelve years. And as parents themselves, they are well qualified to know what parents and their children want in books and music. And they plan to carry as much of it as they can. Edna, who has lived in Chelsea for the past 15 years, has the older family; her children are 16, 18 and 21, and will help to man the store. And, they will help to keep a focus on what the teens are reading and listening to in the process. Siobhan, a Manchester resident and the wife of Dr. Bruce Bates, has the perspective of what younger kids, and their parents, want - as the mother of three boys under 10. Both women are people-oriented, and although they have little background in retail, are "raring to give it a try!"

"Our prices will be competitive [with bookstores like Little Professor and other specialty stores] because we're dealing with a national distributor," they emphasized. "We will also provide special ordering in both music and books, with 24-48 hour availability." So even last-minute shoppers can be satisfied with just the right purchase.

Books, books and more books are tops on their list. Paperbacks, best sellers, kids' books, posters, educational puzzles, bookmarks, and possibly teaching aids are all on their initial order. During the holidays they plan to expand their lines a little further with items like calendars, book-related gifts, lights, and more. Including periodicals in the shop is a possibility for the future, as the demand rises.

Edna and Siobhan also hope to expand their business into the schools for book fairs and other events. "Promoting literacy is one of our goals," explains Siobhan.

And then there is the music...No, it won't be the Music Mart, to all you Chicago-starved band students. But, Siobhan and Edna plan to carry both CD's and tapes, in a wide variety of popular music. "Feel free to stop by with suggestions; there is so much out there," they invite. "We want to make it convenient for teens to get music, and not have to go to Ann Arbor." Edna notes that music is safe and healthy entertainment for the young people. They will have new releases lists, and once again the special orders can get you almost anything you want - and soon.

Building up their stock and selections will be dependent upon their customers letting them know what they need and want in books and in music. Suggestions are always welcomed and appreciated. Siobhan and Edna hope for a loyal customer following and will work hard to earn your business and your trust.

With computer capability to keep up with the latest changes and the most popular merchandise, the store has a great potential. Providing kids with some entertainment right here in Manchester, making it convenient (for adults as well as kids) to stay in town to shop for gifts or something for yourself, remaining competitive and up-to-date, and to be fun and have fun, are the main goals that Edna and Siobhan expressed.

You're probably wondering by now, "When will all of this great stuff be here?" Optimistically, they plan to open the beginning of August. They will be moving in this week as their lease begins on Wednesday. Their fixtures and their stock are scheduled to arrive this week as well. "We're ready," says Siobhan enthusiastically. "We've been working on this continuously since May." When the building is completed and ready for occupancy, they're ready to move in and open for business.

Once open, along with the Black Sheep Tavern, Chapters & Verses will keep later hours on Thursday and Friday nights to coincide with the restaurant's business. Having an adjoining archway will help them attract business from the Black Sheep's clientele as well. Weekend hours will be "played by ear" (spoken as true musicians!), and they hope to remain open longer hours as the holidays approach.

Both Siobhan and Edna are optimistic about their chances for success in a small town. They feel they have a terrific location on Main Street, next door to what promises to be a very busy eatery. Their enthusiasm and their willingness to serve their customers is another point in their favor. And certainly there are plenty of readers as well as music lovers in our growing community to help support their business.

Life is full of surprises...and this surprise promises to be a pleasant one. Keep watching for more changes on Main Street!

Editorial / Opinion Page

Will there be any more Out & Abouts by gar?

The answer is yes. We would not let gar off the hook that easy. Emory will continue to write editorials and Out & Abouts, as well as cover the school board when he wants to, just as he has done in the past.

"The Girls" (we don't mind the title - it keeps us young) have actually run the Enterprise for the past two and a half years with Emory floating in and out and about. We would ask him on Mondays if he were writing anything for us, either an editorial or another article and he would do as he pleased. We liked it that way - and so did he.

Of course we "Girls" would sometimes suggest a topic or article that we would like gar to write for us - he would grumble and smile at the same time. He liked writing for "The Girls" but especially for the Readers. So we need to have him around to keep things on the up and up in the paper now and then.

I believe I can speak for all of us when I say that gar has been a great inspiration. He has enlightened us with his knowledge, his sense of humor, and his integrity, which we will keep forever.

"We Thank You, gar".

As for the paper, "The Girls" will continue to run The Manchester Enterprise in the same way we have been doing for the past two and one-half years. The more things change, the more they stay the same!

gar, enjoy Taking the Time to Smell the Flowers.

Teresa M. Benedict, editor

Dear Editor,

Lyle and Linda Jacob are stepping down from their positions as advisors to the Lamb Club after several years of hard work and dedicated service. Daughters Lindsay and Lesley also put in many hours helping the Club in diverse ways - making the charts and the signs for the tent, kindly answering any and all questions, constantly tidying the area to improve its appearance to fair-goers, even when not on official "tent duty." Linda Jacob is a charter member of the Manchester Lamb Club since its inception 32 years ago. The Jacob family's contribution to the Lamb Club has been enormous, and will be greatly missed.

The young man who found himself the surprised but proud recipient of not only the Grand Champion Lamb, but also the Reserve Grand Champion lamb started his evening by winning First Place in Junior Showmanship. His two lambs placed first in each of their respective weight categories and went on from there. He is only the second member to accomplish these awards in the Lamb Club's 32 year history - the first youth to attain this recognition was Lindsay Jacob. This was Michael Fuerstnau's second year as a Lamb Club member - he will be a seventh grader at Nellie Ackerson in the fall.

No club is without debt to those persons closest to its members - the parents. Their level of involvement varies with each members' age, level of experience and needs - but the parents' support is crucial to the group and is greatly appreciated.

All in all, this was a successful year at the fair with lovely weather. The Manchester Lamb Club would like to thank the community for its support of our youth and their lambs.

Thank you,

Manchester Lamb Club

TO THE EDITOR: AN AXE TO GRIND OUTCOME

There was a lot of effort and attention dedicated to the handbills posted in April 1996 to ensure the apprehension and prosecution of the guilty individuals. However, I have not seen to date anything published regarding the results of this horrendous crime. Please feel safe to know that the perpetrators were apprehended and prosecuted for illegal posting of handbills. Their fine was $50 each. And I for one, was thankful for the absence of the garage sale signs that litter our power poles in Manchester as a result of this crime. Lately I've noticed, however, that the garage sale signs have returned.

I would like to ask why the individuals who spray paint obscenities and graffiti on our street signs or repeatedly smash our mailboxes are not pursued. This destruction to public and private property is far more offensive to me as a taxpayer than some handbills that were posted which fall under our constitutional right to freedom of speech. These "horrible" signs were meant as a statement rather than a threat to our law enforcement personnel.

In Pastor Jon King's editorial of May 9, 1996, he stated that "because a particular police officer may be guilty of wrongdoing does not mean that all police are bad." Then he states that the "persons responsible for these signs have a serious problem... so they can engage in their ungodly activity and crimes without consequence." One cannot lump all police into one category, nor can you call citizens of the United States who choose to express their opinions criminals.

Manchester is the community my family and I choose to live in. We enjoy living here and are proud of our community and neighbors. Emphasis needs to be placed on more pertinent issues. Let's concentrate on making our community a productive place to raise our children and work together to make them contributing and responsible adults for the future. I think we need to evaluate our priorities.

Manchester Township Board

PROPOSED SYNOPSIS - REGULAR MEETING

July 8, 1996

The meeting was called to order at 8:03 PM by Supervisor Mann with the following Board Members present: Treasurer Turk, Trustee Widmayer (entered at 8:12 PM), Trustee Macomber, Supervisor Mann, Clerk Hakes. Also present: Fire Chief Wiedmayer, Constable Moore, Ronald Sucharski, Gregory Dzwiewet.

Minutes from the Board's last regular meeting, a budget workshop, a public hearing for Manchester Gravel, the annual meeting and budget hearing, and the meeting adopting the budget were approved as presented. The Treasurer's report was accepted. Approval was given for payment of bills that have been paid and for outstanding bills.

Fire Department activity report for June: 2 fires, 10 medical runs, 5 personal injury, 5 miscellaneous, and 1 mutual aid, for a total of 23 runs. The Board accepted Alan Hanewald's resignation, extending its gratitude and appreciation for his generous contribution of time and energy and his dedication to the Manchester Township Fire Department.

Lyle Moore's report on complaints written for zoning and constable was accepted and presented. Clerk Hakes reported on the appointment of the election precinct inspectors for the August 6th primary election, and that the public accuracy test on the Accuvote equipment will be held Monday, July 29, 1996, at 9:00 AM.

Ronald Sucharski was present to appeal three zoning violation notices he received for trailers on his property. Decisions were tabled on two violations pending the outcome of Mr. Sucharski's applying to the Board of Appeals for a variance, and on the third violation until the Board receives proof that the trailer is old enough to be grandfathered because of its non-conforming use.

Compensation for various boards and township employees was set for the year. Attorney Bruce Laidlaw was reappointed as township attorney. A calendar of regular Board meetings was adopted. A tentative date of Saturday, July 27th, at 8:30 AM was set for the Board to inspect Manchester Gravel, which has applied for several variances of the mineral extraction ordinance. The township attorney will be directed to draft an ordinance to amend the zoning ordinance for Ron Ellison's request for rezoning, at which time the Board will consider the recommendations. The Clerk was authorized to contract for repairs to the cemetery fence. Items of correspondence required no action from the Board.

There being no further business, the meeting adjourned at 11:09 PM. A complete copy of these minutes may be obtained at the township office during regular office hours, which are Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Friday from 8:30 AM to noon.

Bridgewater Township Zoning Board of Appeals

July 10, 1996

Summary Minutes

The request by Richard Yates and Crecie Bussell for a variance from side yard setback requirements was denied. The request was for construction of a pole building located on property at 13850 Allen Road, Clinton. The variance was denied, because it did not meet the standards of the Zoning Ordinance. The Board found that there were alternate sites on the property where the building could be located and meet the requirements of the Zoning Ordinance.

"Be of good courage and he shall strengthen your heart." - Psalms 31:24.

School will start soon! I'm talking about Vacation Bible School. Please register your children for Camp Courageous at Emanuel United Church of Christ. Everyone is welcome, including more volunteers for crafting, helping with snacks, and more. VBS will run August 5-9 from 6:30-8:30 PM. Three year olds through sixth grade will hold classes; helpers can be from 7th grade and up.

Does anyone have a rowboat we could sit outside the church for a week? (It won't be used in the water!)

Our theme is based on the above verse from Psalms, and camping. Please come! It's free! And you are welcomed!

Vacation Bible School Committee consists of members of St. Mary Catholic Church, Emanuel UCC and Bethel UCC. For more information, call Mary Beth Baker at 428-8245.

One day, at the age of three, a boy lost his sight through an accident.

In those days no one thought a blind boy should go to school, but Louis Braille went.

Being unable to see, he worked hard to master the lessons he heard, and to develop a method by which the blind could read and write.

At the age of sixteen, he invented a new code expressed through punched holes. It took years, but he perfected the system, known as Braille.

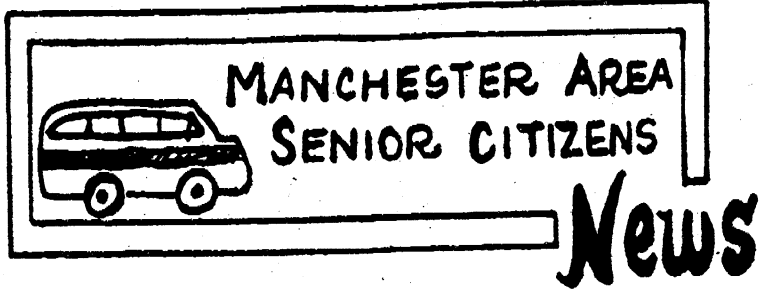

Have you had an accident? Faith in God can transform your blight into a blessing.

So don't pout, pray; and God will turn your trials into triumphs.

It threatened off and on all day, just enough clouds to keep everyone worrying a bit on Chicken Broil Day. The "Prayer Committee" was evidently working overtime when those bouts of sprinkles didn't develop into anything serious. We had the right crew on this committee this year, thanks. At 11 PM when it did rain, we were also thankful as tomatoes and cucumbers and the field corn needed that! LMBoyd says, "In New York City, back when it was still called New Amsterdam, Dutch boys played games of the hide-and-seek variety. If a player got home free, he shouted in his vernacular the word "hunky", and later, to mean "all's well," the term was stretched to "hunky dory." And, that says it all for our successful chicken broil again this year, thanks to all.

Thursday, July 25: Summer is going, but let's enjoy one more ice cream social at St. Mary's (just one more after this). How we love them and they are all a little different. Call Erma Alber at 428-8707 to secure your seat on the senior bus which begins pickup at 4:30. Then, the bus will take all who wish a ride to Pleasant Lake to Freedom Township Hall for the senior sponsored public card party. The fun begins at 7:30 and the bus will start pickup at 6, call Erma. Come one and all (ages) for a relaxing evening.

Friday, July 26: If you'd like to go along to Hidden Lake Gardens next Wednesday the 31st, you must get your reservation in to either Erma or Marion Ahrens at 428-7865.

Wednesday, July 31: Come along to Hidden Lake Gardens tour, shopping and lunch at Harold's Place.

Looking ahead: Tuesday, August 20 is the date for Diamond Jack's Detroit River Cruise/ Tour instead of August 27 as listed on the calendar. This is an American Tour Club's new 1996 motorcoach trip and is limited to the first 55 passengers. The bus will be departing from Emanuel UCC at 11 AM and return at approximately 6:15 PM.

You may contact Marion for more information or watch for information in pink flyers being distributed.

Older persons with health problems have a special resource available to them at the University of Michigan Family Practice Center in Chelsea. A team of experts from a variety of disciplines is available to provide a comprehensive health evaluation for elderly individuals who are experiencing a problem with their physical and/or psychological well-being.

This team of professionals includes physicians who have special geriatric training, a social worker, nutritionist, clinical pharmacist, and geriatric nurse practitioner. Each team member conducts an assessment of the older individual and shares their findings with the assembled team. In addition to sharing the findings with the older individual and his or her family, a summary letter including specific recommendations is provided to the individual's regular physician to aid in better management of future health concerns.

Typical reasons for seeking such an assessment include failing general health, safety concerns with recent falls; appetite or weight changes; changes in personality or memory problems; consideration of nursing home placement.

The full evaluation includes a home visit from the nurse practitioner and a half-day visit to the Family Practice Center to be seen by the pharmacist, nutritionist, social worker and physician. If desired, an evaluation by a single member of the team can be arranged (e.g. a nutrition assessment or a pharmacist review of medication use).

Any older person or concerned caregiver is welcome to inquire about an evaluation by calling Diane at 313-475-4487. The Family Practice Center participates fully with Medicare and other major insurance carriers.

Local Issues

A Return on Our Investment

I am writing this article on behalf of the many people who have profited from their association with Washtenaw Community College. More importantly, I am writing for the thousands of residents whom WCC will benefit in the future. Unfortunately, in doing this, I must talk about money; specifically, about a millage increase.

A million people have a million different ways for you to spend your money, but I suggest that the small increase in taxes proposed by the WCC Board of Trustees (just over one mill) is money well spent. If the return on this investment is not as tangible as say, an overpass over I-94, there is a substantial return for all of us, even if we personally never set foot in a classroom. How shall we quantify what we (as a community) gain when a college education becomes affordable for a substantial percentage of our high school graduates? What do we gain when we give all of our citizens a chance to move up a rung or two on the ladder of life? How many dollars add up to the hope, inspired through education, we give to one person...how about hundred people, or a thousand?

Washtenaw Community College received a millage increase ten years ago. Since then, through responsible money management, including careful cost cutting, the college has been able to not only maintain its excellent status, but expand its curriculum as well.

Our world has changed in the last ten years, and WCC can no longer "Rob Peter to pay Paul" with its finances and still provide the quality instruction it has become known wasted or misused. WCC's history of financial responsibility gives us reason to believe that our money is in capable hands, and will be used wisely.

Washtenaw Community

Washtenaw Community College provides a local facility for people to get the job training they need to "Stay Current," and upgrade their skills.

for. In particular, the requirements insisted on by employers in both vocational and technological areas demand an expansion in WCC's library and computer systems. This, along with the erection of one new building and the refurbishing of others, requires an investment too large for the college to take on itself. Our college needs our help.

The .95 millage increase for operating expenses, coupled with the approval to fund a .22 mill bond, will up the taxes on a $100,000 home about 58 bucks a year. If this increase is approved, WCC promises "not to bother us" for another ten years.

I know while paying taxes is not a favorite pastime, I, myself, am much more likely to vote for an increase if I know that the money will not be

College provides a local facility for people who already have jobs to get the training they need to "stay current," and to upgrade their job skills. It provides a place where our young adults (even those in high school) can take college classes in preparation for transferring to a four-year college. This alone can save a family thousands of dollars. Our community college enables all of us to pursue interests that intrigue us, but that we might not have been able to follow without a local and inexpensive college.

Finally, for those of us who live in small towns or rural areas, this extra money will allow WCC to expand its community outreach program. Many of this program's goals have been frustrated by the inability to afford setting up adult education or college classes in our local communities, when less than eight or ten people have requested instruction. These people have been forced to travel to WCC's campus or to a nearby town; this has stopped many from attending.

Approval of this millage increase will allow Washtenaw Community College to install the technology in our local schools that will directly link these classrooms to a single instructor. This will allow many more classes to become available off campus, giving thousands more of our citizens access to this excellent college's services.

Our Secretary of Labor,

Robert Reich, said that in the last ten to fifteen years, this nation's community colleges have "saved the day," in providing higher education for middle and lower income families. He also tells us that community colleges have become a major source for employers when seeking well trained workers.

We worry endlessly, wring our hands and complain about the mess our community and country are in. The cynicism and criminality that seem to pervade our society scare us all. Because of our apparent inability to do anything concrete about these problems, we all too often shrink from doing anything at all. We know that a well educated, gainfully employed populous is essential to a healthy society. On August 6, with your vote, you have a chance to instill a measure of hope toward the future of our community. A small contribution from each of us now may immeasurably "strengthen our hand" in the years to come.

DISTINGUISHED ACHIEVEMENT FOR QUALITY

On the Trail of The Great Chicken

By Teresa M. Benedict

First Stop - the Great Chicken's landing site

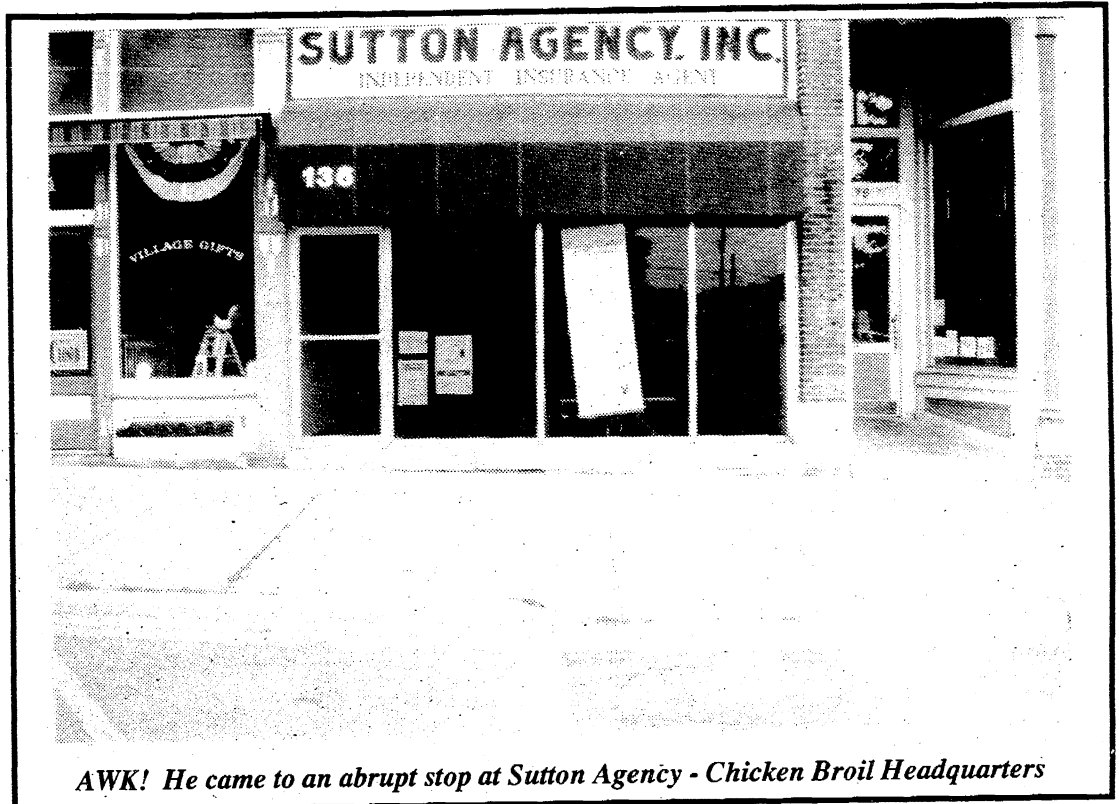

Sometime during the night of Tuesday, July 16, a Great Chicken landed on the north end of town, leaving a trail into town. He stopped at the Welcoming sign on Ann Arbor Hill long enough to read that we are the home of the famous Chicken Broil, and it was coming on Thursday.

He proceeded down Ann Arbor Hill in a nice leisurely walking fashion leaving his footprints about every twenty feet. As he approached the stop sign at the four corners he pumped his brakes quite nicely to come to a complete stop and made a right heading into town.

Across the bridge he traveled and made a stop at the main headquarters of the Chicken Broil - The Sutton Agency. Early birds in town on Wednesday reported there was chicken feed left in front of Sutton's to entice the Great Chicken. He left a proclamation to the residents of Manchester (see picture). He then proceeded to check out a few of the Main Street windows displaying various Chicken Broil paraphernalia.

According to the deputy on midnight duty, she did not realize that the Great Chicken had visited Manchester until some time after 6 AM. When the businesses were all checked on her shift, nothing had happened yet. But a resident on Ann Arbor Hill reported hearing some laughter and chatter between three and six AM.

AWK! He came to an abrupt stop at Sutton Agency - Chicken Broil Headquarters

Whoever enticed the Great Chicken to make his appearance here in Manchester, this reporter applauds you!

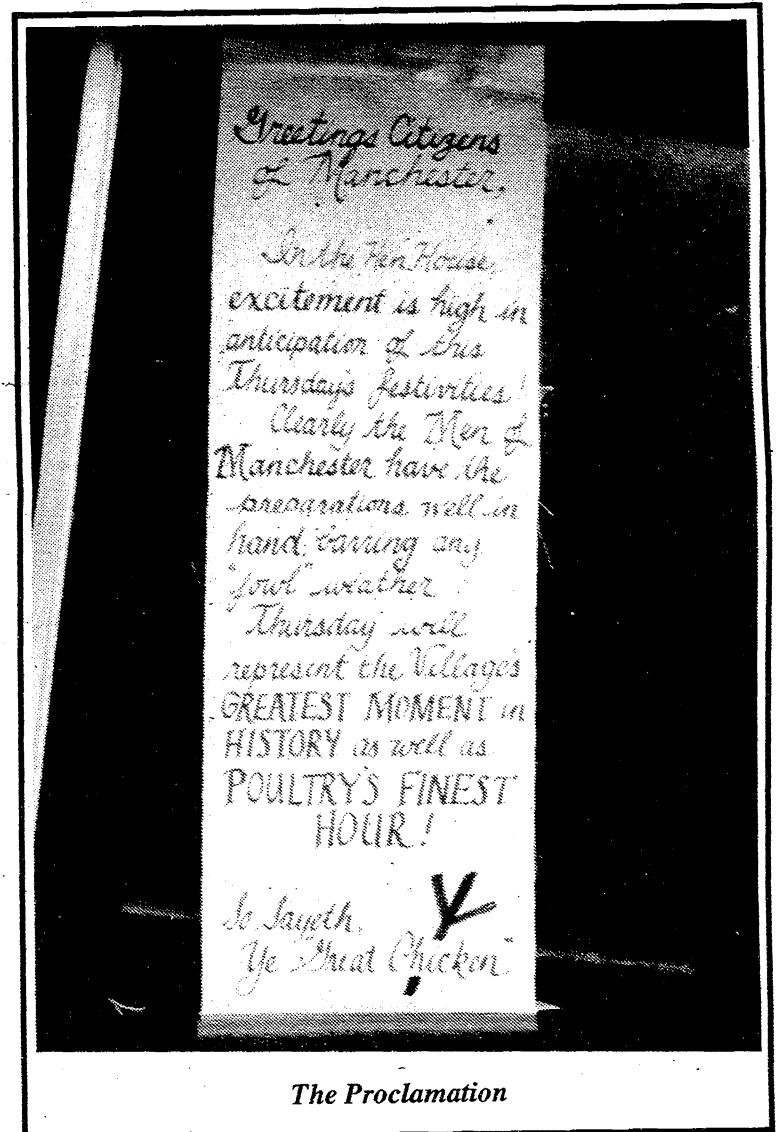

The Great Chicken brought along with him the chance of rain but did not let it rain on his parade on Thursday. Although it was raining all around us (it poured in Brooklyn mid-afternoon), the Chicken Broil made it through another year without being rained out.

And yes, the great chicken accommodated us again, just as he has for the past forty plus years, in the little white boxes for all to enjoy.

"We sold all the chickens; about 600 - 700 were sold at the end for $1 apiece" according to Bob Rhees, Co-Chair of the Chicken Broil. The lines seemed to move along quite well and the twenty plus area was much better organized this year to handle the quantities.

Once again, another successful Chicken Broil. Thanks to all who made it happen.

The Great Chicken Did, Indeed, Arrive!!

Welch eine Reise!

It was June 10th; finally the day that we had waited for so long had arrived. Fifteen hours later we would be in Germany! After a few layovers and a long, tiring plane ride, we arrived in Berlin (unfortunately minus a few suitcases!) Soon everyone was on their way "home" for the night.

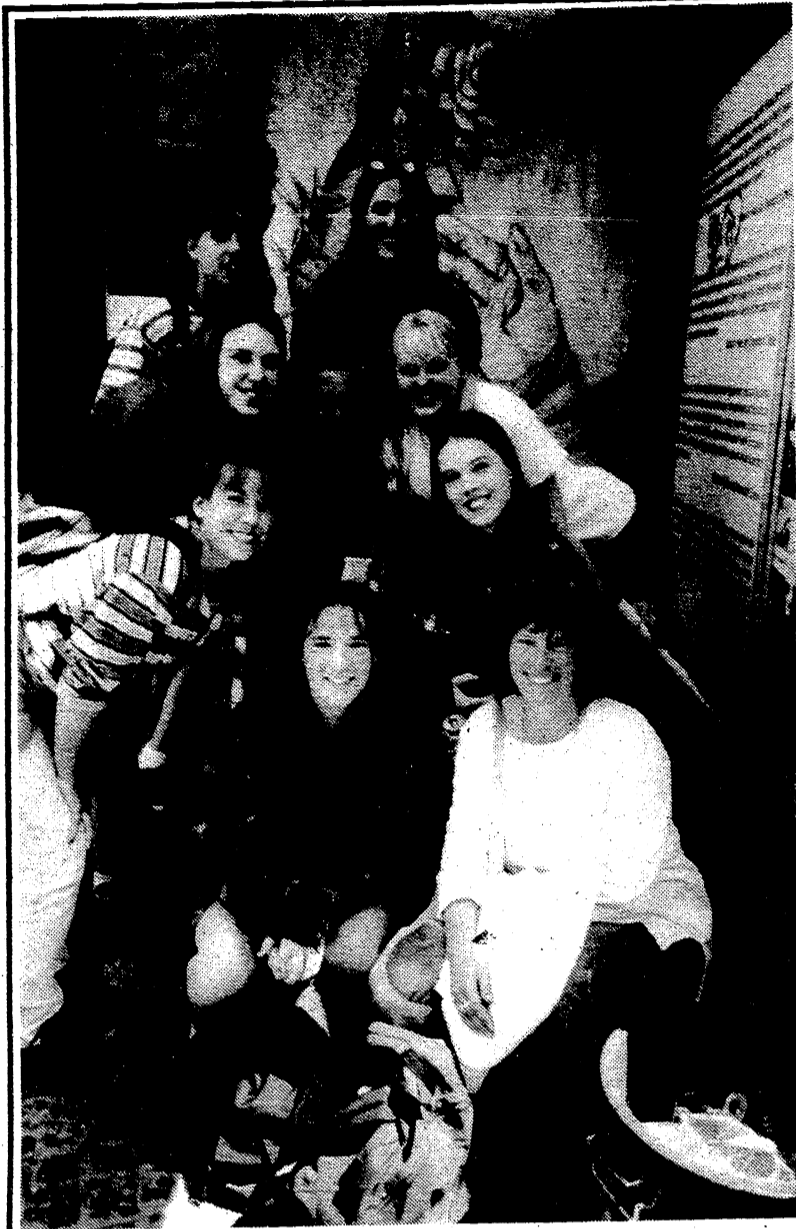

The first day, after everyone got unpacked, we went to school with our German host students. Here we shared stories about our rides home from the airport, our houses, and our families. This was an early night; everyone was tired and went to bed around 7:00 PM.

The next morning, June 12th, we met at the Preussischer lantag which was the former Prussian Parliament building and since April 1993 has been the seat of the Berlin Chamber of Deputies. After our tour, we went home to prepare for the opera. We went to see "Die Zauberflöte" (the Magic Flute) by Mozart.

We started June 13th off by going to school. After watching a historical movie about Berlin, we rode the S-Bahn to Potsdam. Here we went to Cecilienhof, where Stalin, Churchill, and Truman met to discuss the war. We then toured an old summer house called Charlottenhof. We departed with plans to meet that night the club to play cards and make new German friends.

Friday, June 14th was filled with shopping at the Ku Damm for some of us. Others went to German teenage birthday parties. The next few days were spent with our German host families. We toured important landmarks, such as the Victory Column, Brandenburg Gate, and many more. Boat rides, picnics, and meeting new friends kept us busy. Saturday night we experienced a club called Zone Club, quite unlike any American club. It was lots of fun.

Monday we went to classes with our host students. Each of us got to go to different types of classes, depending on our host student's schedule. We shared slides of our families, hobbies, work, and life in Manchester with the classes too. Because cheerleaders are rather rare in Germany, Stacey, Heather, Renee, and Suzanne did a few cheers

Tuesday we showed slides and watched movies at school. After school, some of us went to the Hard Rock Café of Berlin. Later that night some went to the club, while others went to a going away party for an Italian exchange student. Everyone was always excited to talk to us when they found out that we were the "Americans."

After the last day of classes, we went to the Haus der Kulturen der Welt (the house of the cultures of the world) where we learned about the German Bundestag and the Reichstag. That evening we went on a tour of night life in east Berlin where we saw some interesting forms of art. On the way home some of us stopped at Burger King for a late night snack and a little taste of home.

Thursday we biked a beautiful path next to the Wannsee, a large lake close to where everyone lived. After the ride, we relaxed and enjoyed the musical Linie eins.

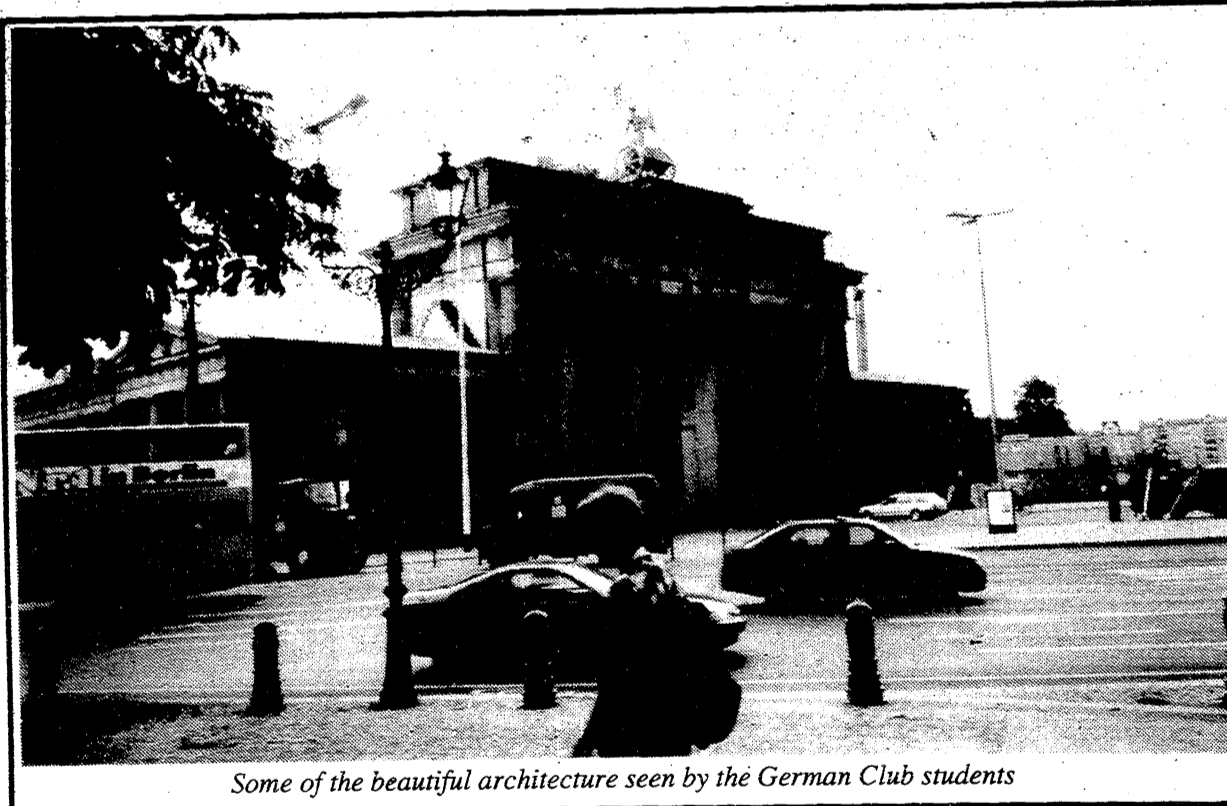

Friday, Saturday, and Sunday were spent learning about the Holocaust at the Haus Der Wannsee Konfrenz, dancing, and watching English movies with our host families. Tuesday we traveled by train to Prague, Czechoslovakia, a beautiful city famous for its crystals.

The next few days were spent shopping and touring. Our last night in Germany was spent at Frau Kraft's house. (She is a teacher and exchange coordinator from Germany.) We celebrated Marcus' birthday and our last night with our new friends.

Tuesday, July 2, we said our good-byes and then boarded our plane to go home.

As you can see, we packed a lot into three weeks. Our trip to Germany was very educational. We learned a lot about German culture and life. We all have many great memories of good times and wonderful people. We would like to thank our teacher and our parents for making this trip possible. If you have ever thought of being a part of an exchange or sending your child on an exchange, I urge you to do so. It is an experience of a lifetime, not to be passed by!

Travelin' On

Congratulations, Major League Champs!

Last weekend the Manchester 9 and 10 year old Traveling Baseball Team participated in a tournament in Michigan Center. Our team was fortunate to participate in the tournament thanks to the financial support provided by MANCHESTER TOOL AND DIE.

The Manchester Team finished with a respectable record of 1 win and 2 losses. On Friday evening, Manchester lost to Northwest by the score of 5 to 2. It was a very close game with the score tied at 2 going into the last inning. On Saturday, Manchester ousted the host team from Michigan Center by the score of 12 to 9 before losing to Hudson 13 to 3. Fine hitting performances were accomplished by the following;

- Jon Schaible 4 hits in 6 at bats
- Jordan Tallman 3 hits in 4 at bats
- Mark Trinkle 4 hits in 7 at bats
- Andrew Coutts 3 hits in 6 at bats.

It is a privilege for our youth to compete in tournaments within our surrounding area. Without the wonderful support of Manchester businesses it would be very difficult financially for our players to have that opportunity. The local businesses in our community should be very proud of the support they provide for all our youth.

We would like to again thank MANCHESTER TOOL AND DIE for the support they provided during the Michigan Center Tournament. Our Team will next play on the 26th of July in the Saline Tournament. Funds to participate for the coming tournament have been graciously provided by R.D. Kleinschmidt's, Inc.

Should you desire to watch our youth represent Manchester next weekend call Mike Mullikin, 428-1375 for game times and location. PLAY BALL !!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

The Manchester "Cubs", sponsored by Keith's barber shop, finished their regular season with an impressive 13 -1 & 1 record. Intense practice and a "never give up" attitude proved to be the magic formula to their successful season. After the final game of the season, Coach Bill Brinkman and assistant Ron Panches pose with their team, while holding cupcakes topped with a #1. From here the team enjoyed a dinner & pool party hosted by the Brinkmans.

Trip to Toronto Rewards Membership Efforts

Washtenaw County Farm Bureau membership workers Mike and Kathy Fusilier (pictured at top) and Jerry and Susan Huehl (pictured below) earned a trip to Toronto on the second annual Farm Bureau Membership Chairman's Trip June 28-29 due to their successful efforts organizing and signing up new members within their county.

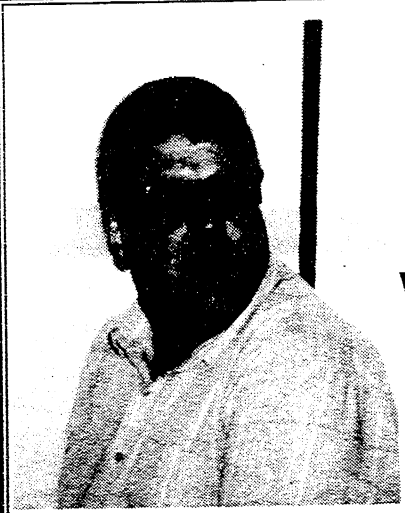

Only 24 Farm Bureau volunteers were able to secure the all-expense-paid trip, which included a glimpse of Canadian agriculture through a guided tour of a cattle breeding facility and a tour of Toronto.

"Top-notch leadership skills, dedication to the Farm Bureau organization and a commitment to membership growth in their county are all skills these outstanding leaders possess," said Doug Fleming, manager of Michigan Farm Bureau's member services department. "These individuals and the volunteers they worked with are a big reason Michigan Farm Bureau and its 69 county Farm Bureaus remain a strong, vibrant organization."

The Farm Bureau membership chairmen were also able to take in a musical during their brief stay in Toronto and share ideas about how to attract more members into Michigan Farm Bureau.

Volunteer workers in Michigan Farm Bureau's 69 county Farm Bureaus diligently work to bring new members into their county Farm Bureau. Founded in 1919, Michigan Farm Bureau is over 145,000 members strong today.

Agriculture and Us

Summer is finally here! Crops and gardens have been planted and the young are tripping out into new environments. For literally thousands of citizens of all ages preparations have begun for 4-H exhibits at county and state fairs. Others of us will drive for miles to view the exhibits and animals so carefully tended by young people and their families. We will cheer at grandstand shows. For many this entertainment view of rural America predominates as the remaining touch with our common roots. Some of us receive information and even services from County Extension Offices, and may not even realize our roots in a rural life that is frequently our common history. While many of us still have family reunions "on the farm," most of the drives are long distances in travel back "home"—a nostalgic memory.

What of those who remain on the farm? And what of those women who have, and continue to make contributions through farm life and through the agricultural businesses that have evolved since our last real contact with daily life on the farm. Today's farms merge families and businesses, and present economic challenges that exemplify those of all small and large businesses of today. Most men and women in farm life are full business partners—workers and members. Most work very hard on and off of the farm—frequently in public work. Dual incomes, on and off the farm are the only way to make ends meet. For most farming is, however, more than a business—it is a way of life.

Lorraine Garkovich, Janet L. Bokemeir, sociologists from the University of Kentucky and from Michigan State University, respectively, along with Barbara Foote, a writer who lives and works in Kentucky, authored a 1995 book entitled HARVEST OF HOPE, Family Farming/ Farming Families. They capture the realities of today's farm life and today's farm women. In a final segment on Reflections they summarize the interviews that identify a life of trade offs, constant adaptation, commitment, stewardship, self sacrifice, independence and dependence, compromises and loss of control, sense of betrayal about government programs and "strength drawn from working the land together, as husband and wife and as family, and reaping the best harvest ever."

On May 21, 1996 the Michigan Women's Commission toured the Women's Historical Museum in Lansing. An exhibit on gaining the right to vote included a promotional poster from the Grange. Farmers from the West and Canada brag about giving "their" women the right to vote. They acknowledge that "a farm that is run without a woman's help isn't much of a farm." They apply the analogy to government, and they ask "How about the farmers of Michigan?" Michigan farmers responded in the affirmative. The contributions of these men and women are part of the history we celebrate in recognizing accomplishments of women in agriculture. A partnership indeed!

Anyone strolling by 58 Bagley Street in Detroit early in the morning of June 4, 1896, would have seen a strange sight: Henry Ford, ax in hand, smashing open the brick wall on his rented garage. He had just started his first gaspowered car and it was too big to fit through the door. In this centenary year of Ford's achievement, we ought to pause to remember what he did, and marvel at how it changed the world.

In 1896, Grover Cleveland was just finishing his second term as president of the United States. The automobile was such a novelty that few people other than a handful of tinkers had even set foot in one. In 1903, the year the Ford Motor Company went into business, the city of Detroit fixed a speed limit of eight miles per hour for almost a mile around city hall. Convicted speeders paid $100, which was about two months' wages for an average American worker. But the "average American worker" was not driving America's first cars. They were, as Ford observed, "a rich man's toy" or, as Woodrow Wilson claimed, a "new symbol of wealth's arrogance."

Henry Ford changed all that. He didn't invent either the auto or the mass production scheme he so brilliantly employed to churn out cars by the millions. But he did, in his own words, "build a car for the great multitude." When he built the Model T, he "put America on wheels" and made Michigan the car capital of the world.

Ford was an entrepreneur and, as are most entrepreneurs, a visionary as well. His all-American car had to be "large enough for the family." It had to be "constructed of the best materials by the best men to be hired." And it had to be "so low in price that no man making a good salary [would] be unable to own one."

When Ford cranked out his first Model Ts in 1909, he was well on his way to fulfilling his vision. Sales that year were a modest 18,000; by 1913, he almost reached 250,000; in 1920, he sold over one million Model Ts. Prices fell as fast as sales rose. The first Model Ts were barely under $1,000 each, but by 1920 Ford had cut the price to a mere $355—roughly $3,500 today. With all of their manufactured steel, vulcanized rubber, and processed plate glass, Model Ts were selling for less than 30 cents a pound—perhaps the best bargain in the industrialized world.

How could Ford repeatedly cut prices and boost quality at the same time? His ingenuity took the assembly line method of production to new heights of productivity and efficiency, but he shook the industrial world to its foundations with an amazing gamble; he doubled wages and reduced working hours. "The payment of five dollars a day for an eight-hour day was one of the finest cost-cutting moves we ever made," Ford wrote in the early 1920s. The five-dollar-a-day wage policy reduced turnover, improved morale, and brought some of the best workers to his plants in Michigan. Ford even hired thousands of handicapped but capable workers, including bedridden patients who happily screwed nuts and bolts together on mini-assembly lines in their rooms.

To Ford, the issues of minimum wages, maximum working hours, the hiring of workers, and the pace of industrial productivity should be resolved by the market, not the government. "Our help does not come from Washington, but from ourselves," he wrote. "The government is a servant and never should be anything but a servant."

Henry Ford made the best car at the lowest price and earned a billion dollars. Only when he became complacent with the Model T and refused to innovate did he fall from the top. "It is strange," he wrote in 1926, "how, just as soon as an article becomes successful, somebody starts to think that it would be more successful if only it were different. There is a tendency to keep monkeying with styles and to spoil a good thing by changing it." He purportedly once said that customers could have any color of car they wanted, so long as it was black.

That kind of thinking had made history out of the horse and buggy makers. In 1927, it would do the same to the Model T. By then, the new Chevrolet from General Motors had a water-pump cooling system, an oil gauge on the dash, a reliable ignition system, a foot accelerator, and a gas tank in the rear for safety and convenience. And, the new Chevys came in a variety of colors. The era of Ford's dominance was over.

Henry Ford didn't always get it right, but he got it right enough times to rank as one of the greatest business geniuses this country has ever produced. His century-old story is an eternal tribute to the free enterprise system—a system which allowed his talents to blossom right here in Michigan and benefit untold millions of people the world over.

Endangered!

Mention the words "endangered species" to the majority of folks and, if you get any response at all, you're apt to hear of such commanding wild creatures as bald eagles, gray wolves, mountain lions or lynx. Perhaps they'd speak of the diminutive piping plover. Maybe Mitchell's satyr butterfly depending on whether the person you're talking to is really "into" such things.

It's likely, though, that you'll never hear in response the terms shortnose cisco, bigeye chub or Northern madtom. And why should you? Although they're hardly household names, all are, in fact, endangered fish species prominent on the list of critters given special status by Michigan's Endangered Species Act.

Endangered fish? Are there such things? Yes. In fact, there are some 38 Michigan fish on the listing of our state's "special animals" as compiled by the Michigan DNR. Not all fish species are equally at risk of course. Some are, in fact, truly endangered and afforded protection under state law. Others are threatened and still others merely of special concern. Yet other fish, though, are thought to be extirpated (extinct) in Michigan. Such once numerous fish as the Arctic grayling and paddlefish are now no more than footnotes to our state's rich resource history while still others, such as the lake sturgeon and lake herring, remain on the scene but in dwindling numbers.

Realizing that fish, too, can be put at risk—whether through human exploitation of their habitats or through overfishing of their population—is enough to give one reason for pause. Knowing the situation only serves to reinforce the importance of tasks facing Michigan's fisheries and other wildlife managers in today's world.

Happy, Good Times at the Gazebo with The Raisin Pickers!

Each year since Gazebo Concerts began in the 1980s, one of the most fun and enjoyable concerts of the season has been "The Raisin Pickers."

This group began in Manchester and continues to remember its roots—even though "The Raisin Pickers" are now known throughout Michigan and indeed the Midwest and have made numerous recordings!

The four-piece group consists of Manchester-ites Carol Palms (string bass, washboard, and vocals), Mark Palms (guitar, banjo, and vocals), and Gary Reynolds (banjo, trumpet, ukulele, and vocals). The fourth Raisin Picker is Evan Price (fiddle, accordion, spoons, musical saw, pennywhistle, and vocals) who joined the band in 1995.

"The Raisin Pickers" are a "neo-acoustic string band that plays music from the 1920s jug-band era, to traditional and creative old-time swing, novelties, and their own originals.

"The Raisin Pickers" concert is sure to be memorable, filled with laughter, tears, and downright fun! Bring your lawn chair or a blanket. Bring a friend, too! And how about that favorite young person in your life?

As always, the show will go on, rain or shine. (Rain location is St. Mary Parish Center on Madison Street, behind the Hop-In). Thanks to the Recreation Task Force for organizing and sponsoring these concerts. Also to those from the community who have made donations to underwrite the performances. The support of all is welcome. Please call 428-7722 for more information.

ROAD COMMISSION BEGINS OVERLAY PROGRAM

The Washtenaw County Road Commission has recently begun its 1996 asphalt overlay program. This year the Road Commission will overlay approximately eleven miles of county roads. These roads include local Manchester roads: Clinton, from Austin to Wallace, and portions of Austin Road east of Manchester. The paving will be performed by Barrett Paving Materials.

According to Road Commission Chair, Fred Veigel "The overlay program will meet some of our most critical road resurface needs, however, falls far short of our overall needs. Hopefully, the Governor and Legislature will approve an increase in the State Gas Tax this fall so we can continue to address the problems we are experiencing."

This year, Road Commission revenues from State gas and weight taxes have decreased almost 3 percent compared to 1995. Michigan's gas tax has not changed since 1984 and remains one of the lowest in the country.

Chelsea Sidewalk Festival Scheduled for August 2 & 3

Merchant sales, new crafters, new entertainment and a flea market are just a few of the many exciting events scheduled for the 23rd Annual Chelsea Sidewalk Festival. This year's festival is scheduled for Friday, August 2 and Saturday, August 3 in Chelsea. The Chelsea Merchants Association has finalized their plans with over 45 crafters, an assortment of music acts and clowns, flea market and trivia contest.

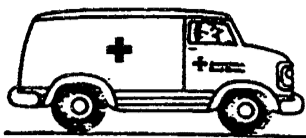

New this year is a Flea Market at the south end of town. Antique and flea marketers are welcome to rent space to sell their items. Anyone wishing to obtain a flea market booth should contact Teresa Benedict at (313)428-8173. Also new this year is the Chelsea Trivia Contests. Participants enter by answering an easy question about Chelsea. Two winners will be drawn at the close of the festival. These lucky winners will receive either nine holes of golf with a cart for two at the New Pierce Lake golf Course, donated by Wolverine Food & Spirits, or four tickets to the Purple Rose Theater, donated by the Purple Rose Theater. Ballots for the Chelsea Trivia Contest will be available at both entertainment locations during the festival.

The schedule of events reflects the theme of this year's festival, "Uptown, Downtown, and All Around the Town." Merchants will have sales on both ends of town. The crafters will be located downtown as they have in years past. The new flea market will be located on the South side. On the North end, entertainment will take place on East Middle Street, in front of the Police station. On the South end, entertainers will perform in the Shopping Mall alcove near the flag pole. "Events have been scheduled so people can get from one end of town to the other in enough time to enjoy the entertainment along with all of the sidewalk sales, crafts and flea market," comments Michael Jackson, President of the Chelsea Merchants Association. "A free shuttle bus will also be available on Saturday to transport shoppers back and forth to both ends of town."

A variety of new music acts are scheduled for this year's event along with the return of popular acts from past sidewalk festivals. Many of the bands have roots in Chelsea, including the E-Minor Band, Sea Cruisers and No Excuses. Other new acts include a String Quartet; enchanting dulcimer music from Betsy Beckerman; The Becky Moore Singers, the Jazz Company Band and festive Calliope music. Chelsea Senior Citizens are back by popular demand with the Chelsea Kitchen Band and Heather Greenleaf will be on hand to perform her mix of chart topper tunes.

Sidewalk shoppers will also be entertained by a variety of groups and familiar characters, including COLORS with Wilbur the Pig and Pokadot the Clown. When you add up all of these activities, you get a fun filled day for the whole family. See you there!

Bloodmobile Results

The community of Manchester was the host for one of the Red Cross Summer Bloodmobiles on Monday, July 15. As has been the practice, this event was held at the American Legion Hall. Our 'THANKS' for the use of their facility and to Marilyn LaRock and all of her American Legion Auxiliary members who were the volunteers.

As with any of these bloodmobiles, there must be a lot of cooperation between people for the drives to be a success. There are five of us who work on the basic organization of each bloodmobile. From this it branches out to those who do the recruiting for the churches and industries, the businesses who allow us to put up posters and the six where we put the small boxes with sign up cards.

On top of this are the volunteers who have agreed to give of their time to work the day of the drive. So you see, it takes more than one or two to JUST get things started.

The STARS of any bloodmobile though, are YOU, the donors. THANK YOU!!! Because of you, someone has gotten the extra help that was needed to promote the healing process.

We had donated 78 pints of blood, with 6 people being deferred for a variety of reasons. There are 13 of these people I would especially like to recognize. Cheryl Tronfi, a FIRST TIME donor; Robert Feldkamp and Britton Phenicie both received pins for having given 1 gallon of blood or 8 pints; 2 gallon pins went to Edward Barnard and Rose Mary Whelam; 3 gallon pins to Michael Hicks and Georgianne Volgeding; a 4 gallon pin to Angel Tomac-Barton; 5 gallon pins to Glenda Dennis and David Goodrich; 6 gallon pins to Deborah Reinhart and John Sahakian and an 8 gallon pin to Michael Scully. Congratulations to you all.

To give you just a little better perspective on how many times just these 13 people have come and given, I did some addition. It has been 369 times. Think of all the people who have been helped.

Manchester's next bloodmobile will be held at Manchester United Methodist Church on Monday, October 14. Jean Little will be the chairperson of the day. See you in October.

Etch to Protect

A 10 minute stop at your local AAA Michigan office this summer may save you days of aggravation, headaches and inconvenience.

The Auto Club has joined with the Michigan Auto Theft Prevention Authority (ATPA) in the fight to stop rising auto theft rates by offering free vehicle window etching at the Washtenaw Branch, 2650 Carpenter Road, Ann Arbor, July 26, 10 AM to 6 PM and July 27, 10 AM to 1 PM. This community service is available to everyone, weather permitting.

"AAA Michigan is pleased to be a part of this unique community relations program," says Jerry Hinton, manager of AAA Michigan's Claims Investigations Unit. "We expect the owners of more than 4,000 cars to take advantage of this opportunity."

From 1985 to 1994, Michigan auto thefts dropped 20% bucking the national trend which saw thefts nationwide soar 40% over the same period. However, in 1994, thefts statewide reached 56,669, up 6% compared with 1993. Initial reports show 1995 figures were up again.

"While the number of thefts is still below the 1984 record, AAA Michigan and the ATPA are repeating the popular etching program that proved so effective in deterring theft when Auto Club branches offered the free service in the mid-1980s," Hinton says.

The etching program consists of acid-stencilling a miniature copy of each vehicle's identification number (or VIN) into the windshield, two side windows and rear window. The process does not harm the window or detract from the vehicle's appearance.

In addition, stickers are placed in the corner of each front side window, announcing to would-be thieves that the vehicle has been protected. "Glass etching is such an effective deterrent to theft because identified glass requires costly replacement before the vehicle can be sold in the illegal marketplace," Hinton says. "VIN etching makes it difficult for chop shop operators to sell parts like window glass for use in other vehicles."

The service will be offered only in dry weather and at temperatures above 50 degrees. Owners interested in this free service must bring the state vehicle registration and provide the VIN number and license number (on the registration) and vehicle color.

There are other steps motorists can take to help prevent theft. Here are a few:

- Lock your car and pocket the key every time.
- Put packages and valuables out of sight.
- Park in well-lighted areas.
- If you park in a commercial lot or garage, leave only the ignition key.
- Install an approved anti-theft device, which may qualify for a discount on the comprehensive portion of your auto insurance.
- Participate in H.E.A.T. (Help Eliminate Auto Theft). By calling (800) 242-HEAT (4328), Michigan citizens can provide police tips that put auto thieves in jail and, in return, receive rewards up to $10,000.
