Casting the Ballot

We took a quick peek at 11:45 AM Tuesday at the Manchester Township Hall. There were eleven booths open, and the wait was estimated at 1/2 hour. Traffic had been steady and heavy ever since the polls opened at 7 AM. Township Clerk Kathy Hakes reports that voters were lined up as early as 6 AM to claim their spot in line. Customers report that voting in Freedom Township was also moving smoothly.

Election Day

November 5, 1996

We know that by next week you will be tired of all the re-hashing of national and statewide election results. But some of our "Small" local issues won't be covered by those big city newspapers (or fish wrappers, as gar is fond of calling them!) We'll have complete coverage of township elections in next Thursday's edition of the Enterprise.

We'll try to keep our election day promises to you, our readers.

Timpano Shines for Centerline

- Marsha Johnson Chartrand

Once again, Manchester is represented in the "big leagues." This time it is a local horse who will put our community on the map, at the North American Horse Spectacular to be held this weekend at the Novi Expo Center. A horse called "Timpano" will be used as the demonstration horse for the riding sport known as dressage.

Owned by Dianna Cottrill of Manchester, and trained locally at Centerline Farm on Kies Road by Peggy Schleicher, Timpano is a 16.3 hand, 13 year old, purebred Trakhner gelding. Peggy and her husband Garry purchased Timpano as a three year old and Peggy has had him in training for dressage ever since. When Timpano was seven, he was purchased by Dianna Cottrill, who subsequently moved out to Manchester and left her horse in Peggy's training.

What is dressage, exactly? Peggy explained it as "gymnastics or ballet for horses." Many people have been exposed to dressage through a Disney movie about white Lippizaner stallions, or the American version of Royal Lippizan stallions which performs frequently at Joe Louis and other large arenas.

But, according to Peggy, any sound, healthy, athletic horse can do the basic dressage skills. It is only after an eight to ten year process that a skilled trainer can take the horse to the upper levels of dressage competition.

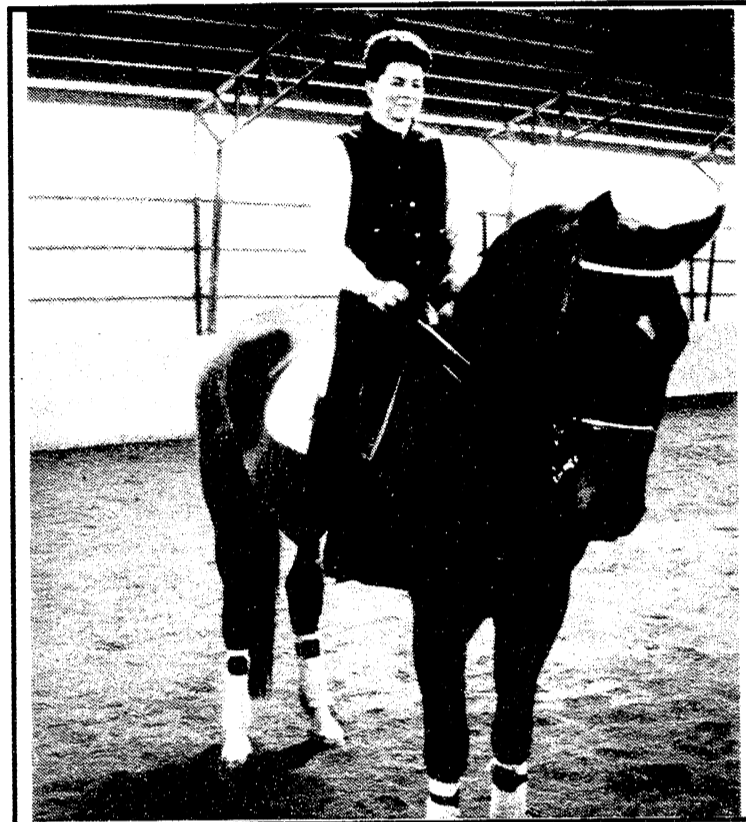

This weekend's event in Novi will not be a competition, but simply a demonstration of what a horse and his trainer can achieve. Peggy finds it "quite an honor" that her horse was chosen to participate in the exposition. Her own trainer, Roz Kinsler of Webberville, will be riding Timpano, and Roz's trainer Betsy Steiner (an international dressage competitor) will be presenting a dressage seminar twice during the weekend expo.

Peggy has been training for dressage competition for 20 years. She explains it as a combination of balance, feel, and sensitivity which requires as much training and skill for the rider as it does for the horse itself. "It's not something you can learn in three easy lessons," she said. In dressage competition, the rider controls the horse with subtle finesse on the saddle and sides - not a bridle. "It's pretty spectacular when you're in front of a crowd of thousands of people and they can't see what you're doing to command the horse."

She is equally proud of Timpano, in whom she retains a proprietary interest since he still lives on her farm. "He is a wonderful find," she relates. "It's sort of like finding an Olympic gymnast. Just like most people can do some level of gymnastics, most horses can do basic dressage. But some horses take to it, both physically and emotionally, better than others." Timpano is such a horse. As his trainer, Peggy believes she has the best of both worlds. She says that she and Dianna have also built a wonderful friendship around the horse.

The constant, daily training, is hard work but also "lots of fun," says Peggy. It's quite involved and time consuming but the rewards are great, as she can attest. Anyone who has an interest in learning more about the sport of dressage competition can attend this weekend's conference and demonstration. For only $6.00 for adults and $2.00 for children aged 5-12, you can see and do it all: A juried art show entitled seminars, and a presentation paddock.

"Equestrian's Eye," a Children's activity area, a science fair, feature area with a "Spotlight on Dressage" and a display by the Michigan Horse Drawn Vehicle Association, Demonstrations on the main stage and in the arena,

Peggy describes the North American Horse Spectacular as sort of like a boat or home show, only with horses. "Just about anything you would want to see about horses will be available to you there," she claimed.

Peggy really feels that having this opportunity come to her is almost like a fairy tale. "I didn't grow up with horses, but adopted this love later in life." By becoming informed about what she needs to know to become successful in these competitions, she has come to the point where she feels comfortable in the niche she has made for herself in the world of showmanship. And like the horse, a certain level of skill is required of the rider, which Peggy obviously has demonstrated. Her dream, however, is for Centerline Farm to breed quality sport horses, and she is working toward that end.

And so her "fairy tale" continues. Keep watching for the happy ending.

Out & About

- by gar

By the time this edition of the Fish Wrapper is printed and ready for distribution, or should I say "ready to wrap fish", the 1996 elections will be over, AND I'LL BE DAMN GLAD!

Don't misunderstand, the electoral process is very important to insure our democratic process of government; however, the mud slinging, derogatory and negativism campaigning leaves me cold.

Dole's attacks on Clinton's headline credit taking of governmental and business successes has very little meaning. So Clinton slept with a floozy, or maybe multiple floozies, Hillary absconded with megabucks in land deals and canned a bunch of White House employees. The voters, you and I will have made our choice in who to vote for, and I for one don't like any of the choices as presidential candidates.

One thing that stands out, that really bugs me, is campaign financing. If the big bucks contributions are for lifting sanctions against Iraq or for more liberal tobacco advertising, permitting cannons in homes, limiting freedoms or any other issue,

WHERE DOES THE LITTLE GUY STAND. HOW DOES HE OR SHE GET A VOICE?

I think something is wrong with the way we allow campaign financing and elections to be influenced by big bucks.

To the Editor:

Let me start with my disgust on your decision to print the letters last week on Proposition D & G, knowing that there would be no time to respond before voting day.

Let's talk about the offensive video shown on TV of a bear cub being shot. As a hunter, I was probably more offended than anyone else, but first of all, be aware the persons in the video were not "hunters," but poachers. It is illegal anywhere to shoot a cub, it is also illegal to shoot a female with cubs. Second, this video was made at least 20 years ago, out of state.

Hunting in the past, may have had problems, but hunters themselves have been policing poaches and addressing other issues by reporting them to the DNR. It is the hunters' goal to have a thriving and healthy wildlife to hunt and a safe environment to hunt in. Thanks to responsible hunters and the DNR working together, this goal is being achieved. Last years' hunting season was the safest in recent years and Michigan's animal population is plentiful for all to enjoy.

The ignorance of last week's letters can only lead me to believe that those persons are prejudiced against hunters. Hunters are normal people who choose to accept responsibility for wildlife. Hunters accept the reality that animals must die so we can eat, where do you think steak comes from? Is anyone that ignorant that they think the cow doesn't die or that it is treated humanely before it ends up in the store?

Before you vegetarians write a letter to the editor in denial of your intrusion on wildlife, let me inform you that the very fields your veggies are grown in destroy natural habitat and introduce unnatural chemicals into the air, food, and water of the same animals you claim to want to protect.

You all need to wake up, grow up and get some therapy yourselves!

Due to the fact that I am proud to be a hunter and believe in what I have written, please DO sign my name. I do not fear the repercussions from cowards who sneak around in the dark of night and destroy personal property. Anyone who disagrees with me, I hope you have enough self respect to talk to me face to face about these important issues.

Sincerely,

William R. Brannock

To The Editor:

Honesty, fair play: these are values all parents want to instill in their children. A good way to do this is through team sports. A very popular sport these days is roller hockey. The kids work as a team but still have the individual recognition necessary to keep them interested. But when the league they play on at Wide World Sports Center in Ann Arbor, and their coach, head of the hockey division at Wide World Sports, allows other teams to play and win games while breaking printed regulations, then our kids are not learning about honesty and fair play. They're being taught that it's OK to break rules as long as you have a better chance at winning.

Last Sunday, during the first play-off game, a team of very good players who were undefeated in the regular season (Team A) faced a team of players who had not won any of their

To The Editor:

First of all, I request that you print my name due to the content of my message. In reading the submitted letter from the October 31st issue (with name with-held), which criticized the "people here in Manchester" with their "predictable response of personally attacking anyone who has a point of view varying from their own," if this is true of "people in Manchester" this individual also must be a resident. Know the facts, "people here in Manchester" are smart enough to know fact from fairy tales.

The animal rights activists who are writing letters to your paper are total hypocrites. They are crying for people to vote yes on Proposal D, cite trespassing as one of the reasons to vote their way, and yet it is entirely reasonable for them to deliberately trespass onto private property (at night of course, because they're cowards) and destroy political signs in a hard-working tax-payers yard. When it comes to political viewpoints, they feel that they are above the law! They are trying to get votes with flat out lies and propaganda.

A good example of their crooked ways is in showing the Proposal D commercial that shows hounds attacking a bear cub shot out of a tree. For one thing that video was filmed out of state 20 years ago! Another thing to note is that they were poachers - - killing cubs (and sows with cubs) is strictly illegal in the great state of Michigan! These animal rights activists misinform the public and are relying on ignorance and lies to pro-games that season (Team B). The outcome seemed clear. But during the first half of the game, Team A players noticed that the goalie on Team B was someone they hadn't seen during the regular season. They and their assistant coach brought this to their coach's attention. He chose to ignore the new player: said goalies were hard to come by. Team A played a very hard game but lost 6-5 in overtime. After the game, it was discovered that Team B's goalie was older than is allowed for that division (2-3 years older than any of the other kids playing) and was not even on the roster. Team B had enough players at the game to allow for one of them to suit up and play that position. There was no need for an outside player to be brought into the game.

Team A players went away from that game feeling confused and hurt that their own coach would do nothing to have the game declared a forfeit. That he would allow the other team to break the regulations only showed the kids on Team A, and Team B for that matter, that it's OK to cheat if that's what helps you win. Even after discussions with Wide World Sports, the management decided to let the game stand, therefore reinforcing in the players' minds that if you can get away with it, cheat.

It's our hope that all parents who have roller hockey players will consider signing up with another center before letting their kids play at Wide World Sports. Fair play, honesty, and hard work are values that are too important to let others take away. But these words apparently have no meaning to the management of Wide World Sports Center.

Signed,

Concerned parents for fair play in sports

mote their agenda. I feel that their motto should be "Ignorance is strength!" That is all that they have to go on.

Another incorrect segment is the business about tracking collars worn by the hounds. These collars are not used to locate bears - contrary to popular belief. There is no way for a hound to signal to its owner, via the collar, that he has a bear in sight. The purpose of the tracking collar is that of locating a dog. I consider the collars to be a form of insurance for the houndsman and his hounds. They are very helpful in locating lost or injured hounds or to round up the dogs when you are finished hunting. They can help cut down on trespassing - as you stated yourself Mr. Jackson - dogs can not read, they also can not talk. But, if you can find one that can talk on its own or via some magical collar, please let me know.

Mr. Jackson talks about hunting being immoral. It sounds like he is judging other peoples actions. How moral is that? Why does he have to impose his views and moral on others? By purchasing hunting and fishing licenses, the hunters and fishermen of this state have given their hard-earned money to support wildlife, wildlife habitat, and wildlife research - not to mention pay the salaries of the fine men and women of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources. These same hunters also help to control the population of wildlife. Any biology book or class will provide the information that with the overpopulation of any species there is more disease and starvation - due to lack of resources.

Mr. Jackson and "name withheld," if Proposal D passes, it will still be legal to hunt bear in Michigan, except hunters will have to hunt them like they do in Pennsylvania - bear drives. Pennsylvania bear hunters end up shooting cubs and sows with dlbs on these drives. They don't have the time to observe its size or if it's a sow with cubs. Something to consider is that bear drives in places with swampy conditions like the Upper Peninsula reduce the time available for hunters will need to consider if the bear is a cub, sow, or sow with cubs. By using bait, a hunter has time to observe the bear and decide if it is legal to shoot.

Houndsman can also make that decision. Most houndsmen drive the 2-track paths up north looking for bear tracks before they let their hounds loose. The size and number of tracks can give them a lot of information. Using this hunting method helps to avoid tracking cubs or a sow with cubs. Even then, not every hound will track and tree a bear. Please educate yourself on an issue before precious paper is wasted to print your misinformed letters to the fine folks in Manchester. Being a hypocrite and liar is not very admirable. So, please do not judge me, the people of Manchester, or my fellow houndsmen and we will not judge you. You should really try to spend more time in the great outdoors.

Fall Moonlight Madness
Hunt for Bargains and Family Fun

This Friday, November 8th, from 5:00 to 9:00 PM, the Chelsea Merchants Association will be sponsoring Fall Moonlight Madness. Stores will stay open late and merchants will have an assortment of sales and specials. Christmas is only a month away, so if you haven't started your shopping yet, this is the perfect opportunity. If the convenient late shopping hours and the tremendous sales are not enough to get you out shopping tomorrow, then how about some free family fun? How about a scavenger hunt?

If your kids like an adventure and they've seen a few Walt Disney movies, then bring them along and let them participate in Moonlight Madness' Scavenger Hunt. Children ages 5-13 are invited to take part in the hunt from 6:30 to 8:30. Since the hunt will be judged on the number of correct answers and not the amount of time it will take to finish the hunt, parents can take time to do their shopping while on the hunt. Transportation will be needed because the scavenger hunt will involve stores both uptown and downtown.

The hunt will start at Johnson's How-To Store at 110 N. Main Street. Participants can pick up the clue sheet at Johnson's and proceed with the hunt. The clue sheet will list the Chelsea stores that will have the clues. The hunters must visit each store, find the clue and answer it. Judging will take place at 8:30 at the Chelsea State Bank. An exciting prize will be presented to the scavenger hunter who completes the hunt with the correct answers. Bring a pencil and a good sense of adventure and brush up on your Disney movies.

A man at the bar staggered to his feet and said, "Show me an Irishman, and I'll show you a coward."

A big fellow, with his fists doubled for action, said, "I'm an Irishman."

The man slumped back in his chair and said, "I'm a coward."

But William Tyndale wasn't. Because he vowed, "Every boy should know the Scriptures," he was forced to leave England and never to return.

Working in Europe he translated the Bible into English, and he printed the first English New Testament in 1525.

But he was arrested and burned at the stake. Tyndale bravely gave his life to give us the Bible.

Would you give your life to give others the Bible?

First of all, I want to apologize for "calling" you to the wrong church for last Thursday's flu shots...then, woe is me, the wrong time was published in the paper due to me, too. Please forgive two mistakes in one month. Do you also feel that this kid has done this column long enough?

What energy those Middle School kids, parents and teachers displayed last Monday when they flew in to our backyard with rakes, blowers and smiles. Zoom, they grabbed a hug and stated they had to get on to the next senior home. How very nice that was, thank you all again. These are the good kids you don't hear enough about!

Milda Koebbe and Howard Parr have been buddies for a long, long time and the quips abound that become classics. The day of Jan's excellent sauerkraut casserole brought this exchange between the two of them (quoted not exactly word for word). "What are you taking home in the container?" asks Howard. "Something for my dog," says Milda. Return quip by Howard, "Why, I didn't know you had a German Shepherd!" I howled. My question to Milda is, "What is the name of that animal?"

Thursday, November 7: Just two more yoga classes 'til February. We have enjoyed the 'chatter' and sparkle of our instructor, Donna. We invite you to come meet her and join in building up our muscles by this deceptively easy gentle exercise! It is more strenuous than calisthenics for me who has a strong back but a weak mind. You may still come in at 9:30 on Thursdays at the Manchester Methodist Church to try yoga. Then, call in your reservation for lunch of meatloaf and enjoy our November Birthday Bash for all those born this month who are 55 or older. You must get your reservation in ahead to Sandy Smith at 428-8495 between the hours of 9-10 AM. Bingo is also enjoyed at the Center following our Thursday meals.

Friday, November 8: The Saline Senior Citizens Card Party is the site for fun and the senior bus begins pickup at 6 PM for you to attend. Call Erma Alber at 428-8707.

Veteran's Day is on November 11 and we urge you to fly your flag in remembrance. When I was a kid, we attended an annual oyster supper on that date at the Legion Hall.. I remember the fun and fellowship and singing the World War I songs, ie: Over There, There's A Long, Long Trail a Winding, How You Gonna Keep 'Em Down On The Farm (After They've Seen Paree)? You're A Grand Old Flag and some you can think of. Oysters weren't $8.00 a pint, but it must have been an expense during the depression.

Tuesday, November 12: Senior Citizens Council Meeting begins at 9:30 at the Center. You are invited with your ideas. Ham (what am) who doesn't like that stuff? We have been having about 65 at our meals to sit down and takeout numbers are growing, too. We cordially invite you.

Thursday, November 14: Last yoga class for '96. Jan is serving Italian Something, would you like to guess? Not me. Come to the Center to enjoy bingo at 12:30.

Chili Cook-Off

Taking the Chill Away on a Chili Day

"We had very good chili and great hospitality," said Bob Rhees when asked how the third annual Manchester Men's Club Chili Cook-Off went. "There was a very nice turnout of tasters after the game," he added.

Over 150 people crowded the American Legion Hall to taste Manchester's best chili - offered this year by Ron Cubberly. Ron's effort was judged by a panel of six experienced chili tasters.

Eight more ambitious cooks each prepared two gallons of chili for the appreciative crowd who turned out to do the unofficial tasting. Second Place Honors went to Mike Webb and partner, and Third Place was captured by Kevin Webb.

Has anyone else noticed that all of the winners were MEN? Is there gender discrimination here? According to Rhees, "We had great chili from all our entrants, but the judges' blind tests are pretty impartial."

Keep on cookin' - and we'll see you next year at the fourth annual Chili Cook-Off.

School Support Your Schools!

Box Tops for Education

Save specially marked Big G cereal box tops and all of the schools can redeem them for 15¢ each to purchase books, videos, and other equipment for the school. Collection boxes are available at all the schools and at Manchester Market. Meijer also issues "checkout coupons" when you purchase Big G cereals there, worth a varying number of box tops.

Be True To Your School

With the busy holiday shopping season approaching, remember to save your receipts from ALL Briarwood merchants. Turn them in at the "Schoolhouse Booth" at Briarwood mall and Klager Media Center receives credit for your purchases.

Here are two important ways you can make your purchasing dollar assist our local schools!

A Day At The Game

Believe it or not, you can attend every home game of the University of Michigan football team, and never pay admission. You can even eat and drink for free! Of course, you may never see a second of play all season.

Last Saturday I had the opportunity to experience the excitement of the Michigan/MSU game. Although I never did see a "real" Wolverine or a "real" Spartan, I saw plenty of their fans decked out in their maize and blue or green and white. I got the chance to see the stadium and the football field completely empty. I suppose there was a half time show, but I was much too busy to experience that personally. I did hear lots of stomping and shouting and a neighboring radio was tuned to the play-by-play broadcast - so if I wanted to know the score I wouldn't even have to leave my post.

After seven hours, I was allowed to leave. Windburned, fingers and toes numb, covered with splashes of Pepsi and mustard and other things I don't want to think about.

What was I doing there? Working at the concession stands right outside the stadium. Why would I do such a thing? Helping to support the Band Boosters in their efforts to raise money for the MHS Band and the Middle School Bands. The money raised is given in the form of "credits" to high school students who want to go on the Band trips - and these credits are very much appreciated when said trips cost in the neighborhood of $450 per student.

In addition to supporting the band trips, $1400 of each year's profits is dedicated to scholarships to music camp, according to Becky Doyle, President of the Manchester Band Boosters. "This is what I push for," she said. "I would like to make sure that every student who wants to, has the chance to go to music camp." Personal knowledge has shown Becky that the experience is more than worthwhile in the additional confidence it gives a student in their ability to perform.

"We also purchase equipment for the band. In recent years our purchases have been a keyboard and a boom box which is used by the flag corps," she added. Other ways the money is spent is in hiring guest conductors to assist at band camp, and at sectional workshops to prepare for band festivals and solo and ensemble competitions.

With a $10,000 budget, approximately $5,000 each year comes solely from the U of M games concession. Although just a handful of dedicated parents and about the same number of students attend each game to work the stands, the Boosters are reluctant to think about giving up this income. One can hardly blame them. But the thought remains that this may be the last year for working the U-M concession stands. "It's getting harder and harder to justify the commitment of time that only a few people are making," said a Band Boosters member who faithfully works every game. "And when the credit for each student is $25.00, they're barely making minimum wage."

WHAT TO ASK THE TEACHERS AT CONFERENCE TIME?

Here are fifteen questions to assist you in planning to meet your child's teacher(s) at conference time. Pick the questions that fit your child's school situation best.

1. What seems to be the cause of the grade received? For example, daily work, quizzes, tests or other?
2. Does my child have the skills and background knowledge needed to be in the class?
3. Is my child capable of more advanced work than other students in this class?
4. Does my child ask for help in class?
5. Does my child pay attention in class?
6. Is my child distracted by something in the class (students sitting near them, etc.)
7. Does my child participate in class discussions and activities?
8. Does my child turn in work on time?
9. Does my child follow directions for activities and written work?
10. What are your expectations of students in your class?
11. Do you allow time in class for homework and other assignments?
12. Will my child get written instructions for major projects?
13. How and how often do you remind students of deadlines?
14. Do you explain the system of grading you use?
15. What should my child do to improve both the amount of information learned and the grades in your class?

Remember that although only two conference times are scheduled all year, most teachers will meet with parents any time the parent requests a conference. Conferences can be awkward for both the parents and the teachers. Both of you know the students but in different environments. Work with the teacher to make a plan for your child's success.

This information was taken from a book by Diane Heacox called, Up From Underachievement.

The next P.A.S.S. meeting will be Wednesday, November 13. The topic will be "conferences". If you leave your parent-teacher conference not really knowing what to do to help your child, come and we will try to help. The meeting is at 7:30 PM in the basement of the Emanuel Church. Call 428-0738 to leave us a message.

Early last week, the Boosters learned that they had an opportunity to take on a third concession. Normally they are hard pressed to find enough workers for two booths, but a concerted effort on the part of the faithful few rounded up more than enough warm bodies (at least, they were warm in the beginning!) to operate all three stands successfully. On November 16, there will be one last home game of the season, and it looks like the third concession booth will be available again. This time the profits from this third booth will be dedicated to the Middle School Band. So Middle School parents, you can be expecting a phone call!

Recently a survey was sent to all band parents. The questions revolved around whether parents - and their students - wanted expensive band trips as part of the program. If so, what sort of fund raising efforts would be supported by parents and students alike?

Many people prefer working the game concessions simply because they don't have to sell one more thing to their neighbors, co-workers, family and friends. But it is a lot of work, for a little bit of money. It's one of those things that you dread doing. You would even be willing to suddenly come down with a case of bubonic plague in order to avoid getting up early on Saturday morning, knowing that by Saturday evening you won't have accomplished any of those honey-do chores, but you'll be twice as tired as if you had.

But when the snowflakes started falling on Saturday afternoon, those of us in the third booth (and, I suspect, the workers in the first and second booths, as well) just joined together and started serving more hot cocoa, more coffee, and delivering "service with a smile" to the 104,001 spectators who were probably just as cold as we were. We commiserated with Mr. Smith when he realized he'd lost his bet with Mr. Ball and would have to wear a Maize and Blue stocking cap on Monday. We poured ourselves another cup of something warm and kept on working.

In true Manchester fashion, everyone was working together for the students. One thing I've found is that for all of our faults, we in Manchester are great ones to come together for a cause. If you have a student in band; if you've ever had a student in band; or if you think you ever might have a student in band - why not join the Band Boosters in their efforts to support the young musicians of Manchester Community Schools? Call President Becky Doyle at 428-7193 and offer your assistance. I'll bet we could all make beautiful music together.

Local Students Included in National Dean's List®

Eight Manchester students are among the 125,000 included in the 19th annual edition of The National Dean's List just published by Educational Communications, Inc., Lake Forest, IL.

Students are selected for this honor by their college deans, registrars or honor society advisors and must be in the upper 10% of their class. More than 2,500 colleges and universities nationwide use this publication to recognize their academically qualified students.

Local students selected include: Connard W. Baker (Washtenaw Community College); Diana M. Burden (Madonna University); Robert D. Cook (WCC); Allison F.E. Gaughan (WCC); Wanda M. Heinz (WCC); Melissa A. Preis (WCC); Ty R. Turner (Michigan State University); and Sue A. Vershum (WCC).

My name is Matthew Hintermaier. I'm a sixth grade boy and a member of the future of this great country. The United States of America. I am writing this letter because I have a few concerns and suggestions regarding your presidency.

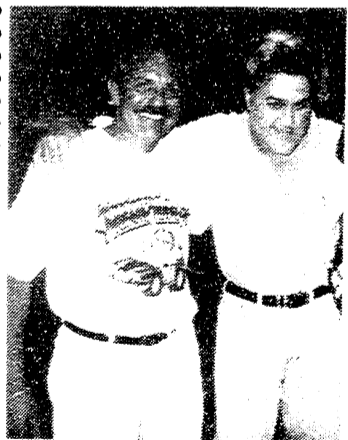

As many people feel, our taxes are too high and we don't get to keep the money we earn for fun and a good quality of life. I hope you have thought about abortion because I think it is not right for someone to say, "I don't want my baby." In the Constitution of the United States it says "No one person shall be deprived of life, liberty, or the pursuit of happiness."

Mr. Clinton, now don't get me wrong - I'm not here to saying that's what needs to be changed. I agree with you on some things like America does need more police officers on the streets and crime is on a rise. You probably know that drug smuggling is still going on and that kids have bought drugs from other people in their society. I hope you get a lot of votes in the election and that you think about what I said to you earlier in this letter. Please write back A.S.A.P.

Respectfully yours,
Matthew Hintermaier (Republican)

Matthew is a student at Nellie Ackerson Middle School and is the son of John and Jane Hintermaier. We'll keep you posted on Matt's response from the President.

Manchester Coalition for Drug Free Youth

On November 6, 7:00 PM at St. Mary's Parish Center, Dr. Brian Zink will be the featured speaker. Dr. Zink's topic will be, "The Effect of Alcohol on the Brain."

Manchester Coalition for Drug Free Youth meetings are open to anyone interested in sending a "No Tolerance" message concerning use of alcohol, tobacco and other drugs by our youth.

From data collected through the Manchester High School Alcohol and Other Drug Survey conducted February 124, 1996, 44.3% of 8th graders, 81.5% of 10th graders and 92.3% of 12th graders said they have used alcohol in their lifetime. Many students, 12.5% of 8th graders, 28% of 10th graders and 42.3% of 12th graders indicated that they drank five or more drinks in a row in the past two weeks.

Alcohol is a mind-altering drug and affects the behavior of that individual. While the problem may be best measured while students are in school, it is a problem which exists in, and must be dealt with by, the larger community as well as the school system. Schools can do some things, but there are some things only parents can do; others only law enforcement can do; and still others only community leadership can tackle.

The Manchester Coalition for Drug Free Youth is a group of parents, educators, paraprofessionals, business people and other citizens whose goal is to promote a healthy environment within our community.

American Legion and Auxiliary Host District Meeting

On Sunday, October 20, approximately 120 American Legion and Auxiliary members gathered here in Manchester for the 2nd District Meeting, hosted by Emil Jacob Post #117 and Auxiliary of Manchester.

After a brief welcoming statement by Commander George Daubner and Auxiliary President Geneva Walkowe, the meetings were called to order by Second District Committeeman Jack Sampson and Second District President Judy Gregory.

A moment of silence was observed for previous Second District Committeeman Jack Bennett, who passed away the evening before.

A variety of subjects were covered and many questions answered pertain to the course of business throughout the following 2-1/2 hours.

After the meetings concluded, the membership enjoyed a delicious sit-down dinner of swiss steak and desert hosted by the Manchester Auxiliary and served on our prized American Legion Post #117 china. Our thanks to chair person Rita Huber and her dedicated workers for a great dinner.

Although it has been nearly 20 years since Post #117 has hosted a district meeting, many members from different Posts throughout the district said they hoped they would be returning to Manchester for a District Meeting in the very near future.

Three Penny Opera Features Manchester Performer

Three Penny Opera will be presented by the Tecumseh Area Players on November 8 at 8:00 PM and November 9 at 2:00 and 8:00 PM. The musical drama will be staged at the Tecumseh Civic Auditorium.

Three Penny Opera is a story of love, betrayal, close calls and narrow escapes set in Victorian London's Soho underworld. The play follows the plight of the underworld king, Macheath, better known as "Mack the Knife." Mack, played by Bart Frost of Tecumseh, is married to Polly Peachum, played by Melissa Bologna (Adrian). Mack is soon betrayed to the police by an old flame, Jenny, played by Manchester's own Diane DuRussel. Although assisted by army buddy and police commissioner Tiger Brown, played by Kim Greenfield (Clinton) and his daughter Lucy, played by Gail Ash (Tecumseh), Mack faces many difficulties in trying to avoid the gallows of Newgate prison.

Other cast members include Charlie Steffans and Marianne Drew of Clinton as Polly's parents; Dave Leonard (Adrian) as Fitch; Paul Nelson (Tecumseh) as Reverend Kimball; Carleton Cook (Tecumseh) as Smith; Mark Raby (Grass Lake) as a street singer; and Paul Chouinard (Tecumseh) as a cop. Mack's gang will include Tom Bush (Tecumseh), Joe Bennett (Hudson) and Robert Palmer (Adrian). Beth Curley (Tecumseh), Janet O'Brien (Ypsilanti), and Pam Ellis Swope (Clinton) round out the cast as bordello ladies.

The play will be directed by Bob Stoller, who will be assisted by Jean Pfister. Tickets are $7.00 for adults, $6.00 for seniors and students, and are on sale at the Auditorium box office. Tickets or further information may also be obtained by calling 517/423-6618.

Making Peace with Your Past

Most people have unresolved issues in their past which affect their day to day living - some to a greater degree than others. When you need to "Make Peace With Your Past," in order to live more fully each day, it can be helpful to seek support and guidance.

Marley Gannon Pagel, MSW, is beginning a small, therapeutic caring group in Manchester. This group is for people who have expressed a need to work through their past issues in a prayerful, God-centered way. Perhaps you feel God wants more of you, but there seem to be obstacles to your growth. "This is an opportunity to resolve past hurts and experience healing in an atmosphere of trust, honesty, confidentiality and Christian love," says Marley.

Marley is experienced in individual, family and group counseling and has an office at Masterpeace Counseling in Tecumseh as well as a private practice in Manchester. "Making an opportunity to have this offered locally is one of the main reasons that I am offering these sessions at this time," she expressed. Some of the topics to be addressed are self-esteem, shame, forgiveness, perfectionism, painful memories, and joy all under the covering of prayer.

The group will begin Thursday, November 14, from 6:30 to 8:00 PM, and run for eight weeks. The cost of the sessions is $25.00 each. The group will be limited in size, in order to offer the optimum benefit for each member. Please call for a reservation, or more information, at 428-7731.

Healthy Kids Program Provides Insurance Coverage

Many unemployed and under employed families in Washtenaw County qualify for MICH-Care Medicaid programs. The EPSDT Outreach team has been successful in getting children enrolled in the Healthy Kids Program which provides health care coverage. According to a recent HIP (Health Improvement Plan) survey which was published in the Washtenaw County Health Atlas, 10% or roughly 28,000 Washtenaw County residents have no health care coverage. You can help us help others by referring families with uninsured children.

The EPSDT (Early, Periodic, Screening, Diagnosis, and Treatment) Outreach Team has a responsibility to locate children and offer assistance to families to help them enroll in the Healthy Kids Program. The Healthy Kids Program is part of the MICH-Care Medicaid program. It helps pay for medical care for children born after June 30, 1981. The limit on family income depends on the size of your family (for example: for a family size of 3, the monthly income limit is $1,623). If the monthly income is above the income limit, help is still available. In addition, we provide a list of "Low cost or free health care services" for children and adults.

To apply for this program you may contact the EPSDT Outreach team. You will need proof of income; a social security number; to be a resident of Michigan, or have proof of your alien status if you are not a U.S. citizen. We are located at 555 Towner, Ypsilanti (Washtenaw County Public Health Department), phone number 484-7200.
