Kristen Taddonio Wins Regional Oratorical Contest

Kristen Taddonio, a sophomore at Washtenaw Technical Middle College and the daughter of Thomas and Doris Taddonio of Manchester, was a regional winner in the Optimist Oratorical Contest. This victory qualifies Kristen to participate in the District Competition in Ann Arbor on May 22.

"Kristen was just elated," said advisor Mary Nosbisch. "She had the advantage of speaking in the afternoon. And she won it hands down."

"I felt very privileged to accompany Kristen to Saturday's contest," continued Nosbisch. "She is a talented individual. I just helped to provide the framework for her."

Nosbisch indicated that Kristen is Manchester's first Regional winner in about thirty years. "The third time must be the charm," says Kristen, referring to the fact that this is her third straight year as Manchester's winning orator. A presentation by the local Optimists Club will include the granting of a scholarship to Kristen for winning at the Regional Level. Also at stake is a $1500 scholarship from Optimist International if Kristen is named the District Winner.

Planning Commission Hearing Emotional, But No Answers Yet

The Manchester Village Planning Commission held a Public Hearing on Tuesday, April 13. The purpose of the meeting was to receive public comment on the proposed zoning changes within the village.

About 50 Village Council members, and interested citizens attended the meeting and newly elected Planning Commission Chair, Laura Sutton, handled the crowd with tact and grace. Although due to the large number wishing to speak, each was granted just three minutes of time, many were allowed to take slightly more while others gave succinct statements or asked just brief questions of the commissioners. Even so, the public participation segment of the meeting lasted well over 90 minutes.

Many impassioned pleas for the preservation of Kirk Park were heard. From youth, parents, senior citizens, and from the Kirk family, came a resounding commitment to retain the park as recreational land.

Residents affected by the proposed rezoning of homes into C-1 (Local Service) and CBD (Central Business District) were equally vehement

Garlick Appointed to School Board

The regular meeting of the Manchester Community Schools Board of Education was called to order by President Wayne Winenz. Following the pledge of allegiance, a moment of silence was observed in memory of board member Marilyn Knouase.

The agenda was approved with a few adjustments in scheduling and an addendum under personnel issues. The official meeting reports, including the March 15 minutes and the Treasurer's report, were approved.

Public participation included two students from the senior class presenting a petition to the Board regarding the locks on their lockers. The students asserted that they had been promised a refund on their deposit when the locks were returned in usable condition; however, no refunds had been issued and the students turned to the Board for action. Niedzwiecki indicated that he would be able to respond to the students' concerns. Kathy Donnellon commented on the successful 8th grade band trip to Toronto and the upcoming High School trip to Virginia Beach. She also wished to publicly acknowledge Mr. Easley's performance on disciplinary issues related to her children. Rose Grenier asked the Board several questions regarding appointments and specifically Mr. Seidl's resignation as reported at the February 15 board meeting. William Brannock questioned whether the absent seat on the Board would be filled that evening. He also asked whether it is an established Board policy to only consider past Board members as prospective candidates to fill such a position. Winenz responded that there is no policy in place Niedzwiecki informed the audience that the bylaws say that the Board can appoint a new member to the Board within twenty days. Roberts added that if the Board does not appoint a replacement in that

Save A Life - Organ Donor Awareness Month

The Silent Hero

by Scott Gindlesberger Rph
Manchester Pharmacy

Close your eyes and imagine yourself driving down a dark country road. You are starting to panic, because your spouse is deathly sick and the hospital is over 30 minutes away.

Suddenly you hear a loud bang, and your car veers to the right heading straight for a large tree. You struggle to keep the car on the road, yet bring it to a safe stop. Upon inspection, you find that the right front tire has blown out and will need to be replaced. You feel frustration and anger building up inside, as you begin to realize that you are physically not able to change the tire yourself.

Yet out of the darkness a set of headlights come to a stop behind your car. Someone gets out, and before you are really aware of what is happening your tire is changed, and you are on your way again.

It isn't until later in the hospital waiting room, when the doctor proclaims that your spouse received medical attention just in the nick of time, that you think back to the stranger who unselfishly stopped to help change your tire. Unfortunately you didn't get a name. You barely had time to even say thanks. As a matter of fact, how do you?

This is the way my family felt when my father received a heart transplant over five years ago. He had suffered with congestive heart failure for 15 years and the doctors said only a transplant would allow him to see his 55th birthday. As we look back, we see that he was only days away from the end. But out of the darkness, came a ray of light. In the midst of another families tragedy, came the hope of life for ours.

As we continue to welcome spring and the rebirth of life, we are reminded that April is Organ and Tissue Donor Awareness Month. Currently, there are 2,385 people awaiting transplants in the State of Michigan.

Already this year, 48 people have been given the gift of life through organ donation. However, in that same time period, thirteen people have died while waiting for a transplant. As you can see, there is a serious shortage of available organs. Please consider signing a registry enrollment card. You, too, could change the tire and the life of someone stranded on a dark deserted stretch of road.

For more information please contact the Michigan Gift of Life organization at 1-800-482-4881 or stop by Manchester Pharmacy.

Out of the Pen

- by garlene

You may still reach garlene via e-mail at <garlene@juno.com>, or visit her web page at <http://www.angelfire.com/mil/Garlene>

She hesitates to invoke the specter of popular culture on her column, but garlene keeps hearing a song ringing through her head. It just won't stop. The mantra: "The change, change, change, will do you good." However, garlene is not sure that anyone really believes this.

What is it about the slightest hint or rumor of change that makes normally intelligent, reasonable people go stark raving mad? One should not infer from this, by the way, that garlene is exempt from such lunacy. She has noticed this dementia in herself as well as in others of whom she is inordinately fond.

garlene suspects that the nature of this illness is induced by extreme emotion invested in the topic of change. It could be a traffic light, a new bank, a change in zoning or a change in the family, which sparks the reaction.

It has been previously noted that the local response to change of any kind has been a resounding "no change." garlene ventures to suggest the radical notion that a moderate amount of change is healthy. Not change for the sake of change; not a complete overhaul; just gradual, normal, transitions from one incarnation to another.

It would not be appropriate, for instance, to have garlene change from a pig into a person. However, if she cared to change her pig-habits into some more socially acceptable ones, that would probably be considered a good thing. Nor does she suggest the change from a park into a strip mall, or from a one-horse town to an urban landscape. But change, when it is planned for and spread out over a period of time, can be welcomed instead of feared.

This welcoming of change, however, does obligate people to talk to one another rather than at cross-purposes. It requires honest, thoughtful effort on the part of all involved. A step back from the emotional involvement that we have tangled up in the potential for change, may be helpful. And it certainly is expedient for us to refrain from hysteria during these discussions.

Then maybe, in the long run, we'll find that the change is actually for the better. The change really will "do us good." Just maybe.

But we'll never know if we don't give it a chance.

The township will contract with the Washtenaw County Road Commission for two coats of brine to be applied to all local gravel roads. Jobs by Reinhart's proposal was accepted for maintenance of the township hall grounds. The board decided to pay for the spraying for the Washtenaw County gypsy moth suppression project for 1999 out of the General Fund. The proceedings of the March 15, 1999 regular meeting were approved as presented on a motion by Conaway, support by Dzengeleski. Vote: Ayes-all.

The agenda was approved as amended, on a motion by Mahony, support by Way. Vote: Ayes-all.

PUBLIC PARTICIPATION Megan Kennedy and Michelle Barker were present to ask Council for permission to use Carr Park for Day Camp, July 19th through July 22nd from 9:00 AM. until 3:00 PM. each day. Council did not have any problem with the request.

MDOT - TRAFFIC SIGNAL AT M-52 AND MAIN STREET - James Carter and Andy Hodges of MDOT were present to advise Council on the need for a traffic light at the Main Street and M-52 intersection. MDOT has determined that the intersection does warrant a traffic signal that would be a three-phase signal during peak traffic and revert to 4-way stop at other times. MDOT would require the Village to remove three parking spaces at the intersection. It was determined that a traffic signal would not solve any back-up problems at this time. An alternative route for buses would be something Council could pursue to help the situation.

Manchester Township Planning Commission Recommends Rezoning For Kerns And "Limpert" Properties

After a short period of public participation, during which some 25 people spoke out against it, the Manchester Township Planning Commission voted to recommend the application to rezone the 40-acre site on M-52 and Hogan Road from agricultural to manufacturing.

The decision was reached by requiring extension of a 300-foot buffer strip all the way from M-52 to Sooten on the south of the property, adding about an acre to the wooded area that carries a deed restriction preventing building on it.

The final vote was four to three, with Samonek, Widmayer, Garlick and Schmitt supporting and Siano, Harvey and Kolon against. Commission Chair John Schmitt said later "I don't think we could have approved the rezoning request without extending the buffered area." At one point in the meeting when a member of the audience objected to the proposed rezoning indicated the opposition was "not personally directed at the members of the Commission," Mr. Schmitt replied that "This is not a lot of fun. I'd rather be ten other places tonight."

The Washtenaw County Planning Commission will review the recommendation and provide comments. The Manchester Township Board will make the final decision.

The application of Bill Kerns to rezone property near Manchester Collision to commercial was also approved for recommendation. The rezoning had been approved several months ago, but had to be redone because the Planning Commission had not included the text of the zoning change prior to the public hearing. The County Planning Commission will also review the Kerns rezoning. A final decision will be made by the Township Board.

Reached by telephone, Planning Commission Member Emory Garlick said he thought the decision to recommend approval of the rezoning of the Hogan Road property was made with a reasonable compromise to area residents. "A 300-foot buffer should provide much of the protection residents say they want while still allowing the rezoning that has been indicated since the General Development Plan was adopted in 1991. I don't know that we could have done it any other way." -Wanda Fish

- by Howard Parr

The Enterprise must be using larger type since I last wrote. I didn't think I wrote enough last week to have it spread out like that. Guess I'll just have to take enough time to write less this week. I'm sure you all have heard authors say, "If I had had more time, I'd have written less."

I got a bit carried away with the computer-typewriter bit, perhaps. I'm beginning to think I have to re-work my concept of how to learn new things as far as machines go. Typing was easy. I was playing piano when I went to high school, so perhaps I had a head start on controlling individual fingers. My academic course of study with all its English, Latin, Math, Science and History didn't let me take typing which had just started in the commercial courses then being introduced. But that didn't stop me.

I conned Miss Eckert, the commercial teacher, into letting me into the typing room noon hours so I could teach myself. It was the year we went to school above the Main Street stores while the new WPA (Middle) school was being built—1935-36. That year the typing room was above the Black Sheep—along with math, history, study hall and science. The science room had to be there because it was the only rented room which had running water in it.

The typing room had 30 Underwood No. 5's lined up on the typing tables. Beside each machine was the textbook used to teach typing. These books were bound different from others. The binding was at the top of its 8 1/2 by 11 pages so it would take up less table space as it lay open for use beside the typewriter. I started on the first page of lessons which taught you where certain keys were and began the practice sessions which made you memorize their positions and become better able to keep your eyes on the book while you typed. I recall they called it Touch Typing which implied that you could type even if you were blindfolded. Anyway, I started out with f-u-g space, j-u-g, space, until I learned those and then went on to the next. I kept at the succeeding lessons and finished all but the numbers before the school year ended. To this day I have to slow up when I come to numbers and hit them more slowly, one at a time, as I look at the keyboard. And that was the way-I learned to type.

I guess it is no wonder I'm having trouble with my computer. I started with the assumption that I could do pretty much the same thing and figure it out by myself. My wife said from the start that I should take a course or two but I knew better and haven't taken any yet. Of course, that was two years ago and while I still am sure I made the right decision, I am beginning to wonder if I did. Isn't this about the place to reprint the adage "I'm not always right, but I'm never wrong"? The embarrassing thing really is that some patient teenager could set me straight in a few hours of one-on-one time at the computer keyboard. Until I find one, I won't know and can go on thinking I can learn the thing all on my own. Hope the computer doesn't rust out while I'm looking.

I got another jolt when I looked at the Senior Calendar to find this week's activities. This is the last week on that calendar and if T.V. doesn't get back soon, I'll be pressed into typing the next one. How does she do it?

Thursday, April 22. No Senior meal to give Emanuel time to set up their Sauerkraut Supper. Let's all think Dutch that night and eat kraut.

Monday, April 26 the bus leaves the center for Ann Arbor shopping at K-Mart, and Westgate—groceries at Kroger.

Tuesday, April 27. Yoga at the Methodist Church at 9:30 followed by Ham dinner at Emanuel at noon. 5:30 pick up for the bus trip to the Tecumseh Travelogue in Switzerland. (Note the time change from our printed calendar—we need more time to eat dinner enroute).

Wednesday, April 28. 8:45 a.m. bus leaves Center for East Lansing and the Butterfly House Tour at NSU. We'll eat at Clara's, the converted Lansing railroad depot. Charge for the tour and bus fare.

Thursday, April 29. Noon lunch-of Pork Chops & Kraut (Sue will give us fresh kraut, I'm sure) followed by Bingo at the Center.

For bus service and trip info call Marion Ahrens at 428-7865; Food reservations as usual at the kitchen phone, 428-7630.

You may have to put up with me for another week—T.V. said for me to cover for her until she got back and that could mean a long time if they like Florida.

Editor's Note: We promise that we are not using larger type, and we informed Howard of that when he dropped off this article. (We also told him - and always tell TV - that we're happy to have their articles, whatever the size!)

Understanding the Hierarchical Structure of the Web

By now most of us are familiar with the existence of the Internet. We have all seen WWW.ABCNEWS.COM or SALES@JCPENNY.COM (addresses are for illustration only and may or may not exist).

The Internet is organized in a hierarchical structure consisting of the main domain names. In the United States the main domains are .COM (commercial), NET (network), ORG (organization), EDU (education), GOV (government), and MIL (military). Outside of the United States domains consist of two letters; for example, CA (Canada), UK (United Kingdom), and FR (France).

Think of a domain as a building where you keep information. Although not a physical structure, it exists in the hyperspace of the Internet.

Like a building has many rooms each of the main domains consists of many minor domains; for example, JUMP SHIP.COM, UMich.EDU. Each minor domain can have subordinate domains such as CO.WASHTENAW.MI.US. A dot (.) is used to separate the subordinate domains from its superior domain. Think of this example as a building called US, which has a room called MI. In the room MI is a dresser called WASHTENAW, which has a drawer called CO. Stored in the drawer named CO is specific information.

Each minor domain, often referred to as a web site, has a hierarchical structure as well. The way we identify the structure within a minor domain is the hierarchy is on the right side of the domain name and separated by a /; such as, JUMP SHIP.COM/SUPPORT.

Every page on the Internet has a designated address. Conversely, each address is a specific page. When information is requested from the Internet the first stop, with the exception of a few technical issues, is at the main domain, such as COM. From there the request works its way down the hierarchy until reaching the specified domain. When arriving at the appropriate domain the request works its way within the domain until reaching the specified page.

Now that we understand where information is stored on the Internet its time to cover how e-mail gets from the sender to the correct receiver.

Each Internet users has an account name listed on a domain as described above. The e-mail account name is on the left side of the domain name and separated with the @ sign. An e-mail address can be user@domain.com, user.name@domain.net, or as complicated as my.name-notYours@my.domain.in-town.org.

When e-mail is sent the process starts at the top-level domain and works its way down the hierarchy as described earlier. When reaching the correct domain the search for the user account takes place. After locating the user the email message is delivered.

In the next article we will cover web browsers and how to navigate the World Wide Web.

Web Tip: Many web surfers still enter www. before they enter the address they want. If you are using current web browsers that's four wasted keystrokes. Simply type the domain name you want such as jumpship.com and press enter.

In fact, if the address you want ends in .COM you can omit the .COM, saving as many as eight keystrokes.

Planning Commission

about the changes in their neighborhoods. Sutton explained to those who questioned, that a zoning change would affect nothing unless the property was sold. Although some seemed to believe that the proposed zoning changes would force these residents from their homes in favor of commercial development, that assumption is untrue.

Other controversial changes included a parcel at the edge of the village limits along Parr Street which is proposed to be rezoned I-1 (Limited Industrial), directly adjacent to property which is currently zoned Single family residential, low density.

Mark Wagner, president of the Manchester Area Chamber of Commerce, was one of the lone voices in supporting the expansion of the Central Business District along Clinton and Duncan Streets. "We are frequently contacted by those wishing to locate their businesses in Manchester, and we must tell them there is very limited space available at this time," Wagner said. "I understand those who are opposed to these changes, but I ask that anyone who has a better idea, please come forward."

The general attitude of many at the meeting seemed to be that "if it ain't broke, don't fix it." A lot of people simply don't want to see change and are willing to admit it. Yet, the facts - demographics, the turnovers in property, and the businesses who express an interest in locating here - point to the probability that it is going to happen, regardless. Growth has happened on every side of Manchester, and we will be no exception to the rules.

The Planning Commissioners are charged with the responsibility of planning for that expected change and growth. They're residents of the Village of Manchester who care about the future of this town that they, too, call home.

After listening to the public comments, and a discussion of the issues, the Commission requested Village Manager Jeff Wallace to clarify some of the controversial topics with the planning consultant, Richard Carlisle. A decision on the rezoning map will likely be made at the next Planning Commission meeting, May 11 at 7:30 PM. Watch the Enterprise for location announcements.

time period the Intermediate School District will.

Under new business, the June school Board elections were moved to the first spot on the agenda. Roberts reported that at 5:26 PM that evening he had received a call from the school's attorney, with a recommendation that the Secretary [Roberts] recommend that nominations for open board seats were closed at 4:00 PM on Monday, April 12, 1999. Therefore, the seat vacated by Marilyn Knouase's passing should be filled by appointment to the board, to fill out the remainder of her term, which is scheduled to end on June 30, 2000. Some discussion ensued. Ochs moved for the appointment of Emory Garlick, seconded by Evans. Further discussion focused on Garlick's candidacy and no other prospective candidates for the position were considered. Roll call vote: Evans yes, Ellison yes, Roberts yes, Kluwe yes, Winzenz no, Ochs yes. Motion carried. Garlick was sworn in by Cynthia Sewell and joined the Board at the table.

Also moved to the front of the agenda was a presentation on the proposed community survey, by Ms. Janis Bridgeman of The Research Department. Ms. Bridgeman discussed the feasibility study and pointed out that this would garner a profile of the best supporter for a bond issue. She suggested 1,000 telephone interviews of 3-5 minutes, to achieve a good demographic study with the smallest possible margin of error. Parent volunteers would be used as phone callers who would call randomly sampled registered voters from 5-9 PM during a 5-day period. This would also be a lower cost option than many other survey methods. After a brief question and answer session the board thanked Ms. Bridgeman for her presentation.

School Board

Personnel issues: Continuing probationary status was recommended for first year teachers Kevin Brock, Brian Barnard, Adam Benschoter, Brian Chinavare, Corey Fether, Marie Kemner, Elisabeth Reumann, and Heather Stommen; second year teachers Sandra Graff, Susan Lowek, Kathryn MacKercher, Julienne Peters, and Ron Tindall; and third year teachers Mary Renner, Carrie Resh, Jared Throneberry, Carrie VanWasshova, and Connie Zimmer. On a motion by Kluwe, seconded by Ellison, these appointments were approved. Tenure was recommended for fourth year teachers Mary L. Fielder and Corinne Roberts. A motion by Kluwe supported by Ellison was approved. The contracts of William Kindt and Randi Friedman, social workers, were extended for the 1999-2000 school year.

Administrative Contract Extensions were discussed. Each administrator (building principals and Athletic Director) was recommended by the superintendent for an extension of his two-year contract through June 30, 2001. Roberts indicated that he had requested a copy of the contracts but had only received a copy of the evaluations. Niedzwiecki apologized to Roberts, noting that his request was not clear. Evans, supported by Ellison, all ayes, moved the extension of Brian Kissman's contract. Evans, supported by Ochs extended Thomas George's contract upon a motion. All ayes. At the recommendation of John Easley's contract extension, the Board moved into closed session at Mr. Easley's request, to discuss some concerns.

Upon returning to open session, the contract was extended as recommended, on a motion by Winzenz, supported by Ellison. All ayes.

Ochs made a motion to create a Board level Athletic Advisory Committee, to with the responsibility of oversight of athletic policy. Roberts and Ellison agreed to serve on that committee. Also serving on this committee will be staff and parents. Evans, supported by Ellison extended the contract of Robert Smith, high school principal on a motion. All ayes.

Eric Kemner was appointed as the Assistant Middle School Track Coach for the 1998-99 sports season.

Resignations: Karen Engley, Valerie Nordin, and Colleen Pattullo have all resigned their positions with Manchester Community Schools. The resignations of Engley and Nordin were accepted by roll call vote, ayes all. The Board accepted Ms. Patullo's resignation with regret.

School insurance bids and bids for a fiscal auditor were approved by the Board. The Board also authorized the Superintendent to seek bus bids for a 77-passenger bus.

A Resolution for the Annual School Election was passed as amended. The election will be held on Monday, June 14, 1999.

A ten-year lease agreement with the Manchester Community Fair Board was signed by the Board, for use of the Alumni Field, beginning July 1, 1999 and ending June 30, 2009. Emory Garlick was appointed as the Board's Voting Delegate for the biennial WISD board election. A proposed goal setting session that was postponed from Thursday, April 15 will be rescheduled after July 1.

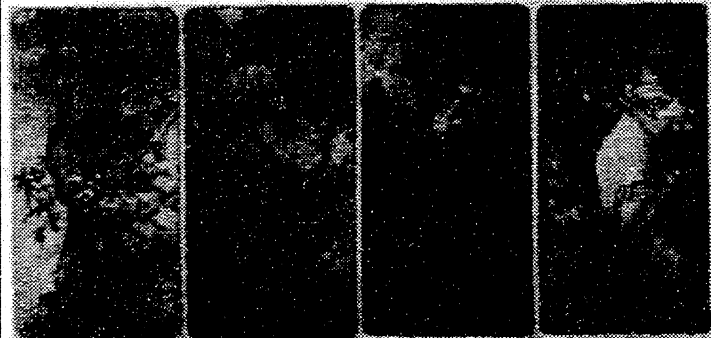

John Easley, Athletic Director, presented the Winter Athletic Report. He also updated the Board on the Athletic Training program and a newly instituted Parent/Coach communication program.

Roberts noted that the Board had not been able to budget funds for the proposed baseball/softball dugouts requested by the Athletic Boosters. However, a number of community members have made financial donations and donations of time and labor, to construct these dugouts which will be achieved after the current season is completed. Volunteers from the community are sought to assist with the construction.

Upon a motion by Evans, supported by Roberts, the meeting was adjourned at 9:25 PM.

Tobias Qualifies for Team Michigan

On March 27, Jeremiah Tobias travelled to Williamston to compete for a spot on Team Michigan, which would enable him to compete in the National Scholastic Duals. He didn't have much trouble here. His first match was an early first period pin. For his second he faced a kid who placed fifth in the state at 140 in division 3. The kid was pretty defensive; this was the reason for the close 4/0 decision for Jeremiah. In the Finals he faced Adam Hopkins from Greenville who won the State Championship in Division 2. As soon as the whistle blew, Jeremiah was all over him and pinned him in 1:46. So much for the bigger division being tougher!

In Battle Creek on April 9-11, Team Michigan faced seven different states and held their own, taking home a respectable 3rd place finish.

The team went 5-2 on the weekend. Team Michigan consists of many of Michigan's top young wrestlers and several state Champs. The only criteria is that you cannot be any older than a Senior to wrestle here. Michigan's only two losses were to the teams who finished first and second: Pennsylvania and New Jersey. On the weekend, Jeremiah looked good going 6-1 with 3 pins along with three other impressive wins. His only loss was a quick disqualification for a questionable slam.

Congratulations to Jeremiah and his teammates, including Napoleon Junior Chris Moulton who won three matches also.

In closing I would like to say that this is how Jeremiah got to the level where he is; putting in the time after the season is over and driving himself to be better and to reach all of his career goals. This should be a good example for our young wrestlers who are reading this.

Coach Vlcek

IT'S CAR WASH TIME!!

May 15th is quickly approaching. It is time to prepare and gather pledges for the annual Band Booster Car Wash. This year's car wash will be held on Saturday, May 15th at Klager Elementary parking lot.

The Band Booster Car Wash is run in a particularly fun and interesting manner. Students gather pledges rather than donations. The pledges are in turn paid according to how many cars are washed. For instance, 1 cent pledged per car would be a $10.00 pledge if 1,000 cars were washed. The goal is 1,000 vehicles. Last year we reached our goal and we are certain to exceed that goal this year!

In addition, there are gift bags full of prizes and local discounts for the first 1,000 customers. Even if you are not one of the first 1,000 customers, we do appreciate your continued support.

We need lots and lots of help to pull this off. Per chance that we have not yet contacted your business we need sponsorship and additions to our gift bags. This is free advertising folks....do not miss out! If you would like to donate any of your time, or have any questions, please call Crystal Copeland at 428-7850.

Klager to Welcome Native Dancer Demonstration

Spartan Stores and Kellogg present an "Out-of-this-World" award.

In November, 1998, Spartan Stores and The Kellogg Corporation sponsored an "Out-of this World" Essay Contest. The contest was open to all third, fourth and fifth grade school children in Michigan and Toledo, Ohio. Students were to write essays about Zorg and his crew who were coming to earth to "kidnap" all of the Kellogg cereals but one, and take them back to Zeetopia with them. Prizes were to be awarded in two divisions - grade three and grades four and five combined. 1700 schools responded by submitting a total of 70,000 essays. Out of the 70,000 entries, there were eight first prize winners for each of the two divisions.

In March, North Sharon Christian School was notified that third-grader, Pamella Forner, had written a winning essay. On March 25, Pamella, her family, and most of the North Sharon Christian School students and their families attended a ceremony at the Felpausch Spartan Store in Eaton Rapids where Pamella was presented with an Academic Excellence plaque and a check for $2,500.00 for the school. Tony the Tiger was a special guest there, and all who attended enjoyed the refreshments that were served and the opportunity to have their pictures taken with Tony.

Congratulations, Pamella for writing a great essay!

COLLEGE NEWS

THOMAS J. WATSON FELLOWSHIP AWARDED TO REED STUDENT

Gabriel Weiss, a senior interdisciplinary major in studio art and Chinese literature at Reed College, has been awarded a Thomas J. Watson Fellowship for the 1999 to 2000 academic year. Gabriel Weiss, the son of Gerald Weiss and Nancy Potter-Knudsen, is a graduate of Manchester High School. He is one of 60 winners selected from 49 of America's top liberal arts colleges. Weiss will receive $22,000 to support his travel outside the United States on a wanderjahr focused on the exploration of a topic of his choice.

Weiss plans on exploring how the depiction of plum blossoms differs in the traditional Chinese painting of the Chinese Diaspora of Malaysia, the Philippines, and Australia. Spending four months in each country, he will study under Chinese painters to learn how traditional Chinese painting and the social role of the painter in Chinese communities withstand the pressures of the surrounding cultures.

After his sophomore year at Reed, Weiss spent a year in China, studying with traditional Chinese painters in Beijing and Chengdu, Sichuan. After returning to Portland, he began to study Chinese painting with a Chinese painter from Shanghai named Zifen Qian. He is currently at work on his senior thesis on the "Concept of 'Emptiness' (or Xu) in Chinese Literature and Art" and currently has a solo show of his paintings at Portland's Zeitgeist Gallery. He also studies Tai Ji, which he began learning in China, and Soaring Crane Qigong, a traditional meditation technique.

LOCAL STUDENT TEACHES FOREIGN LANGUAGE TO YOUNGER STUDENTS

Albion College student Justin L. Ebersole is participating in the Foreign Language Enrichment Series (FLES) at Albion College. Ebersole is teaching German during the spring semester to elementary students in the Albion area.

Ebersole is a senior majoring in political science and history and is a member of the Ford Institute for Public Policy. He is the son of Loring F. and Linda J. Ebersole of Manchester and a graduate of Manchester High School German.

FLES participants visit local elementary and middle schools for one hour each week teaching the basics of foreign language, such as colors, numbers, and holiday words and phrases.

Albion College is a private, liberal arts college located in the south central Michigan town of the same name.

The Siena Heights University Youth Symphony will present its 10th anniversary performance Monday, April 26, at 7 PM. in Francoeur Theatre in the Performing Arts Center on the Siena Heights University campus.

Under the direction of conductor Todd Barnhart, the orchestra will perform works by Brahms, Dvorak, Mozart and Saint-Saens. Founded in 1989, the Youth Symphony began with only a handful of local music students and grew to a full size orchestra within five years. Today, music students from five Michigan and Ohio counties and college students from Adrian College and Siena Heights University perform with the Youth Symphony.

Winner of the 1998-99 Solo Competition, Annie Hinkley of Manchester, will perform a violin solo. As a junior at Manchester High School, Hinkley has studied the violin for twelve years and the piano for ten years. She is a past member of the Siena Heights Youth Symphony and has attended Interlochen Fine Arts Camp and received top honors at the Michigan State Band and Orchestra Association Solo and Ensemble Festivals for four years.

Tickets for the performance are $7 and will be available at the door. Students and Adrian Dominicans will be admitted free of charge. For more information, please call Linda Deatrick, executive director of the Youth Symphony at (517) 264-7897.

Hilma Tervo's Lucky Day

Manchester resident Hilma Tervo had a memorable trip to the Kewadin Shores Casino last week. She was the winner of a diamond necklace, in addition to coming out ahead in several games at the casino that day.

When she came home, she headed to Manchester Market to purchase a scratch-off lottery ticket which won her another $50.

If you're in need of some good fortune, you may want to start following Hilma around town.

Alcohol-free is "way to go," AAA Michigan tells youths

Zip. Zero. Zilch. That's the message AAA Michigan wants young people to hear clearly as they prepare to celebrate during the upcoming prom and graduation season.

"It's a must to have fun without alcohol," says Jerry Basch, AAA Michigan Community Safety Services manager. "Michigan's zero-tolerance law prohibits minors from drinking and driving - without exception."

Zero-tolerance laws are important because they can help protect teens from crash involvement. One study showed that states with zero-tolerance laws reduced the number of single-vehicle nighttime fatal crashes involving young drivers by 16 percent, compared to a one-percent increase in such crashes in states without zero tolerance. States with a .02 or lower BAC limit were found to have greater and more significant reductions than those with higher limits.

In Michigan, the consequences are severe for having "just one drink before driving." The police will be tough on minors who have been drinking and driving. Arrested teens may:

- Lose their license for 30 to 90 days;
- Pay up to $250 in fines, and/or Perform up to 45 days of community service;
- Have 4 points added to their driving record;
- Pay as much as $4,000 in attorney fees, and Be subject to increased insurance, which can add up to three times the current auto insurance premium for for a three-year period.

"The penalties are stiff because the risk of crashes is so high," says Basch. "The risk of crash involvement for drivers 16-19 years old is four times that of older drivers nationwide."

Crash rates are high largely because of driving inexperience, he adds. For youths, driving practices such as speeding, tailgating and lack of attention lead to high-risk situations. At the same time, their lack of experience behind the wheel makes it difficult for them to recognize and respond to crash-causing situations.

To understand the progress over the years, credit zero-tolerance laws, law enforcement, family involvement, and peer pressure. Public information and education campaigns by AAA Michigan and other organizations such as Students Against Driving Drunk (SADD) also have played a key role. For example, the Auto Club partners with local school districts to conduct parent-education seminars on teen driving, using the popular AAA program "Teaching Your Teen to Drive."

Yet, in spite of these and other constructive measures, Basch remains cautious because further crash reductions will become more difficult. "We still have a considerable way to go," he says. "The annual cost of alcohol-related crashes in Michigan is $2.75 billion, but alcohol-related fatalities are going down. By all standards, drinking and driving remains a major challenge to overcome."

GIRL SCOUTS

Can You Donate a Can of Food?

Manchester Girl Scouts will be participating in the Huron Valley Girl Scout Scouting for Food Drive on Saturday, April 24th. Area Girl Scouts will be leaving a Scouting for Food collection bag at each home in the Village during the week of April 17-23.

The Girl Scouts will be returning to their area on the 24th to collect the bags of food left for pick up. Please leave your collection bag on your porch or by the front door the morning of collection.

The food collected in Manchester will be delivered to the Community Resource Center to be distributed locally. Items needed to stock the shelves at the CRC change from time to time. At this time items in a short supply include the following: juice, vegetable soup, canned dinners, paper products (paper towels, toilet paper, napkins, etc.), dish soap, and personal care items (deodorant, bar soap, tooth brushes, etc.). Items for collection are requested to be in tin cans not glass jars and non-perishable. Please no dented or rusty cans.

Items not needed at this time include: peas, creamed corn, cranberry sauce, French cut green beans and pork & beans. If your house is missed on pick up day please call 428-9467 and arrangements can be made for pick up.

The Manchester Girl Scouts hope you will help make this a successful food drive to help our community.

A VERY BUSY TIME AHEAD FOR MANCHESTER TOWNSHIP PLANNING COMMISSION

- Wanda Fish

At the tail end of the April 15 meeting of the Manchester Township Planning Commission, members turned to a serious discussion of the need to update the Township's General Development Plan, possibly in conjunction with other Townships and the Village. The current General Development Plan was adopted in 1991.

The Enterprise talked with John Schmitt, Chair of the Commission, about a possible timetable for such an update. "I can't put a week or a month on this timing. Several members of the Commission indicate it has a very high priority, and I agree. But, how many high priority items can we handle on a growing list? We can't put our regular work, the various applications and requests we receive, on hold for the several months that would be involved. I'd like to think we could start the process in a couple of months."

The Planning Commission is addressing zoning a location for a mobile home park, and hopes to consider the portions of the zoning ordinance that deal with cellular towers. Updating the zoning ordinance for private roads is also on the list. A few months ago, the Planning Commission decided it had to meet twice monthly in an effort to deal with the many priorities.

They also touched on some of the problems that surfaced in the recent rezoning controversy in the Township - how to let prospective property purchasers know what is planned for an area. During the public hearings in the Hogan Road rezoning, many residents who bought property after 1991 said they didn't know about the General Development Plan that indicated extension of the industrial area south along M-52. "We need to review and update the GDP," Commission Member Emory Garlick said, "but we can't be sure that after we do so, people will remember to ask before making assumptions about what is planned. Should we require those who sell property to make sure people have a copy and understand the implications? That's tough."

New Management Team at United Bank & Trust

Steve Anderson, Branch Manager, and Kathy Roberts, Client Service Manager, are heading up the team at the "new" bank in town, United Bank and Trust. Staying on in the transition from Great Lakes Bank, in addition to Kathy, are Marcia Bunnely and Tina Way. In addition, new staff for the Manchester office are Robin Williams and Dana Martin.

Lobby Hours for the Manchester branch of United Bank & Trust will be Monday-Thursday 8-6:30; Friday 8:00-7:00; Saturday 8:00-1:30

MANCHESTER MANOR MAY EXPAND

According to Village Manager Jeff Wallace, the owners of Manchester Manor, a mobile home park in the north west area of the Village, have indicated they may request rezoning to mobile home park status an 11-acre parcel adjacent to the present location off Hibbard Road. The additional property was purchased from Jim Hansen, but is not a part of the landfill site.

Manchester Manor is owned and operated by Dennis Bartlett, Jeanette Bartlett, Gary Antonelli and Larry Antonelli.

Mr. Wallace said he would expect the expansion would allow for about 50 to 60 new mobile home sites. Presently, there are about 80 sites at Manchester Manor. -WF

Flowering Favorites...Part II...Magnolias

Magnolias are some of the most beautiful and showy, spring blooming trees and shrubs. These plants bloom before the leaves emerge. Their flower buds were formed last fall and have been waiting for warm days to show off their magnificent colors.

The Star Magnolia is one of the first to open. It's flowers are pure white, narrow double petals and fragrant. These star shaped flowers are 5 inches across when fully open. This magnolia grows multi-stemmed and is often left to grow as a large shrub. It can be trimmed up from the ground to form a tree. Another variety called "Rubra" has pink petals often sold as "Pink Star" Magnolia.

The Saucer Magnolia is the second to bloom. This variety has been called, "cup & saucer tree" because of the shape of the unfolding petals. Very fragrant large flowers; dark pink on the outside and light pink on the inside of the petals, this magnolia is usually grown as a tree. Again, this is done by trimming lower branches to expose the trunk. If the weather is good, the flowers will last up to two weeks for a beautiful show.

The later bloomers are the liliflora magnolias or Purple Lily Magnolias. These are much smaller in height (to 8 ft.) and are grown as a shrub. Lily magnolias have an exceptionally long blooming time with 5 inch long pointed petals. Their color is a deep purple-wine to bright magenta on the outside, and light wine to white on the inside.

This is a perfect smaller shrub to plant in a corner near the home for a great visual effect in early spring. Not commonly found in many stores, it is well worth looking for.

All magnolias do best in a slightly sheltered, sunny area. But they will also grow well in light shade. The soil should be deep and moist, preferably acid. Add, at planting, peat moss and humus mixed with the native soil to help retain moisture during dry spells and for drainage if the soil is heavy. If planted on the south side, often they will flower too soon and late frosts ruin the flowers. Buy northern grown magnolias as they seem to have hardier flower buds. Prune after blooming, in early summer, before they set next year's flower buds.

With the different blooming periods of the varieties, you can have a secession, of color for a long time in your landscape.
