Emphasis on service and stores' activities is planned with the creation of Toro (London) Sales & Service to assist golf clubs and local authorities in London and the Home Counties solve their grasscutting problems.

The organisation has been created within Toro (U.K.) Sales & Service, a new division of Flymo Limited.

It will retail, service and repair the comprehensive range of high work-rate Toro grasscutting equipment now available in the United Kingdom.

A strong management team mainly recruited from within the Watford-based Toro (London) operation. These moves have been supported by expansion of workshop and servicing staff and facilities.

Announcing the new structure, Mr. B. C. Jennings, General Manager of Toro (U.K.) Sales & Service said there will also be continued development of the previous policy of appointing carefully-selected service dealers for field service and repair work further to complement the Watford-based operation.

John Andrew becomes Service Manager of the new London organisation, with David Berrow as Stores Controller. Tony Snaith continues as Field Service Supervisor, John Holding is appointed Sales Administration Officer, and Tim Pain becomes Service Administration Officer.
