Retirement—Midland

E. Benbow retired from his position as Head Greenkeeper at the Handsworth Golf Club, Birmingham, last month after 47 years with the Club, 38 of them in charge of the course. He first went to Handsworth under Walter Drewitt whose next move was to Burhill. The previous Head Greenkeeper was Wally Smithers, Hon. Secretary of the B.G.G.A. for many years. First assistant V. W. Smith now takes over.

Ben won the championship cup at the B.G.G.A. tournaments at Streetly and Brighton and was runner-up at St Annes. Asked if he had noticed any special changes in greenkeeping since he first came into it he said he "could write a book". We all hope he does and wish him many years of happy retirement.

Retirement—North-West

Charles Brassington is another stalwart Association member reaching retirement age in March. He was chairman of the North-West Section for many years and has only served on two golf courses in his working life, Heaton Moor and Crompton and Royton. He ended his service to the latter club by making two new holes and is now going to fill in his time with gardening and looking after a bowling green. We expect he will also be calling at the golf club for a chat with a past captain and green committee chairman who still takes a great interest in the club and is also called Brassington. Jim Collinge from Saddleworth has taken over as Charles' successor.

Non-retirement

When seen last month, Len Akin of the Sale Golf Club was still in harness though he might be thinking of setting a date to make a change. This is reasonable enough as Len, whose rosy cheeks proclaim excellent health, will be 80 on 2nd August this year. We must also send him another bunch of telegrams on 29th August. He will then be only two years off his Diamond Wedding Anniversary.

Monkey

A simple and inexpensive tool which ought to be more widely used is the "Monkey" pest hole borer. Costing under £3 its auger will bore holes to a considerable depth if the three foot extensions are added. Apart from holes for fencing, a quick answer to wet hollows can sometimes be produced if the holes are filled with graded rubble or stone. At Kingswood in Surrey, they bored through clay to the chalk and cured a multitude of ills.

Greenkeepers ought to know all about obstructions on their courses. This article describes what can happen and sums up the rules.

WHAT TO DO ABOUT OBSTRUCTIONS

By JOSEPH C. DEY, JR.

IT was a sad story the new golfer was telling:

"My drive was right down the middle," he said; "one of the few I hit in the fairway all day. But I found the ball nestling against a water outlet.

"Well, I tried to hit it with my No. 3 iron. Not only was it a punk shot, but I broke my club, and it was a new one."

"But why didn't you lift the ball?" his friend asked.

"Lift it? I thought you had to play the ball as it lies all the time."

That's a good, safe way to start life as a golfer—to play the ball as it lies. But there are times when the ball may be lifted and its position improved without penalty.

The average golfer is inclined to regard the Rules of Golf as being mainly prohibitions and obligations—you can't do this and you must do that. That dim view is an uninformed view.

The Rules contain a great many rights and privileges which can be appreciated only by reading the code. An important Rule in this respect is the one which the new golfer in the sad incident above could have invoked but did not—Rule 31, dealing with obstructions. This Rule is a prolific source of questions submitted to the U.S.G.A.

Artificial or Natural?

It should first be understood what is meant by the term "obstruction". Artificial things in general are obstructions (a can or a hydrant, for example). Natural things are not obstructions. Definition 20 in the Rules provides:

"An 'obstruction' is anything artificial, whether erected, placed or left on the course, except:

"(a) Objects defining out of bounds, such as walls, fences, stakes and railings;

"(b) Artificial surfaces and sides of roads and paths;

"(c) In water hazards, artificially surfaced banks or beds, including bridge supports when part of such a bank. Bridges and bridge supports which are not part of such a bank are obstructions.

"(d) Any construction declared by the Committee to be part of the course."

Thus obstructions include such things as:

pipes	water outlets	buildings
vehicles	bottles	shelters
paper	rakes	hoses

To contrast such artificial things with natural objects (which are not obstructions), Definition 17 describes loose impediments as follows:

"The term 'loose impediments' denotes natural objects not fixed or growing and not adhering to the ball, and includes stones not solidly embedded, leaves, twigs, branches and the like, dung, worms and insects and casts or heaps made by them."

In summary: An obstruction is artificial. A loose impediment is natural.

How to Treat an Obstruction

Relief from an obstruction is provided for in Rule 31.

The first section presents no problems:

"Any movable obstruction may be removed. If the ball be moved in so doing, it shall be replaced on the exact spot from which it was moved, without penalty. If it be impossible to determine the spot or to replace the ball on the exact spot from which it was moved, the ball shall, through the green or in a hazard, be dropped, or on the putting green be placed, as near as possible to the spot from which it was moved but not nearer the hole, without penalty.

"When a ball is in motion, an obstruction other than an attended flagstick and equipment of the players shall not be removed."

Suppose a rake has been left in a bunker. Your ball comes to rest against the rake. As the rake is movable, you may remove it. If your ball is moved in the process, you must place or drop it as specified.

The second section of Rule 31 deals with immovable obstructions:

“When the ball lies on or touches an immovable obstruction, or when an immovable obstruction within two club-lengths of the ball interferes with the player’s stance, stroke or backward movement of his club for the stroke in the direction in which he wishes to play, the ball may be lifted without penalty. Through the green or in a hazard, the ball shall be dropped, or on the putting green placed, within two club-lengths of that point on the outside of the obstruction nearest which the ball originally lay; it must not come to rest in, on or touching the obstruction or nearer the hole than its original position.

“The player may not measure over, through or under the obstruction.

“Interference with the line of play is not of itself interference under this Rule.

“(Ball in hazard—Rule 22-2b.)”

When the Rule Applies

In the first place, we may apply Rule 31-2 if the ball lies on or touches an immovable obstruction.

Secondly, we may also apply the Rule when all three of the following conditions exist:

1. There must be interference with the player’s stance or stroke or the backward movement of his club for the stroke.

2. The interference must come from an obstruction which is immovable.

3. The obstruction must be within two club-lengths of the ball.

If any one of these three conditions is not present, you can’t invoke this section of the Rule.

But assuming all three conditions do exist, what relief does the Rule allow? Well, you may lift the ball, without penalty. Then, everywhere except on the putting green, you drop it within two club-lengths of that point on the outside of the obstruction nearest which the ball originally lay, and it must come to rest not nearer the hole. On the putting green you place it as described above.

Note that you don’t drop it within two club-lengths of where the ball originally lay. Suppose the ball originally lay a club-length from a protective screen which interfered with your back-swing. If you were allowed to drop it within two club-lengths of where it originally lay, you might drop it a total of three club-length from the screen.

To make matters uniform and fair, the Rule requires dropping the ball within two club-lengths of that point on the outside of the screen nearest which the ball originally lay. Here is an example:

Point X is that point of the screen nearest which the ball originally lay. You are allowed to drop within two club-lengths of that point, not nearer the hole than where the ball first lay. Thus, if the straight dotted line is two club-lengths long, you may drop the ball anywhere within the territory bounded by the curved dotted line, provided the ball comes to rest not nearer the hole than its original position. You may not measure over, through or under the obstruction in determining where to drop within two club-lengths.

Out-of-Bounds Stakes Not Obstructions

Under Definition 20, stakes or similar objects used to mark out of bounds are not obstructions. Therefore, they may not be pulled up. If they interfere with a stroke or stance, there is no free relief from them.

Various means are used to define
