OCTOBER 1997

Contents

All eyes on the final Final

On her debut as team captain, South West and South Wales Regional Administrator, Paula Humphries, inspired her team to a famous win in the last Hayter Challenge tournament.
A week later, though, tragic news from Ganton.. Pages 15-17

An environment for golf

A "new order" of environmental management has developed in recent years, as golf courses assume their rightful responsibility in looking after flora and fauna..... Pages 12-14

Abbeylea: Back from the brink

Abbeylea Golf Club came perilously close to being shut down because of the state of its maintenance facilities. Thanks to some tough decisions, it survived..... Pages 35-37

Rough justice for rotary mowers

Rough going is getting less rough, or so it would seem, as Hugh Tilley discovers by talking with greenkeepers across the country who use rotary mowers every day..... Pages 50-55

Regular features

News BIGGA takes steps to tighten procedures on "courtesy golf"... a big thank you to Elliott and Edna Small... new jobs and new facesPages 5, 7, 9, 10

Education Ken Richardson explains vocational qualifications and asks if a rethink is necessary on Supervisory Management Courses following a poor response in some regions. Contact Ken with your feedback.....Page 21

Around the Green More tales from grass roots level – sometimes literally – in our regular round-up of news from the regionsPages 42-49
