

It Had To Be

With The Open returning to its Spiritual Home something extra special just had to happen at the 2005 Championship. Not surprisingly when at St Andrews there was more than just one extraordinary, memorable element. There just had to be.

Tiger Woods winning his second Open Championship, his 10th Major in total, with a consistently exceptional performance, is a distinctive image that will live in the memory for many years to come. Bar a slight wobble during his third round, the world number one never looked like losing the form or the lead that he had established from what seemed like the 1st tee on the opening day.

Jack Nicklaus, the world's greatest ever player said his goodbye to The Open. The sight of the sensational golfer, who won three Open Championships, standing on the famed Swilcan Bridge on his way to play his last ever Open hole, on the second day, was a moment when the thousands of fans who were clambering for a decent view can say I was there. Historical sporting moments like that don't occur very often in this now money driven professional world and will have been savoured by every person watching around the world. Many left the Old Course with a tear in the eye and a lump in the throat when thinking back to that enduring image.

The so close, yet so far for the perpetual bridesmaid, Colin Montgomerie, as another Major past him by sticks in the mind. We were all gripped by his meteoric rise during the weekend's action. Written off by most, Montgomerie proved the doubters wrong, but it was just his poor fortune that when he played his best Major round since 1997, Woods was in such a zone. Everybody hoped, everyone believed and one and all will remember what could have been.

For the 2005 BIGGA Open Support Team it was a memorable

Championship for so many reasons. Working at the Home of Golf, witnessing one of the most dramatic final rounds in recent Open history, walking the hallowed course inside the ropes and generally being part of the whole BIGGA team was an experience of a lifetime. The Open also had one more landmark as the Great BIGGA Bunker Competition came full circle at St Andrews, as it celebrated its 10th birthday.

Started in 1995 at the Home of Golf, the prediction competition returned to the Old Course once again to record vital bunker statistics for both the competition itself and for information requirements for the Press and Media at The Open.

All the talk before the Championship was about the lengthening of the Old Course. The question that was on everyone's lips was would the increased size of the course bring into play more of the 112 bunkers littered across the Links course? The stats, collected by the Open Support Team, highlighted emphatically that the course's extension indeed has brought those deep, feared traps into play.

In total 676 bunkers were hit by the cream of the golfing world during the entire 2005 Championship. That compares to a final figure of 448 when The Open was last at St Andrews in 2000. The 2005 figures were dramatically higher for each day of the Championship than 2004. For example, just 148 bunkers when located in the first day's play in 2000, while 252 were put to use for the corresponding day in 2005.

Tiger Woods may have lifted the Claret Jug for the second time, but he could not repeat his 2000 feat at St Andrews of evading all of the Old Course's 112 bunkers. In total the world number one was forced to escape from the sand four times.

The 14th was the golfer's major enemy during the Championship. As well as catching the most balls, 31, on Day Two, the Long Hole's bunkers were visited more than any other during the whole Open, totalling 83.

The 3rd, Cartgate (Out), was the hole with bunkers that caused the least agony to the top golfers. Its bunkers were invaded just 10 times during the four days, with the hole also being the only one not to steal any balls on a single day, that was day two. The 1st and 18th on the Old Course are absent of any bunkers.

So many historically moments, numerous special memories, frequent fun filled times all added to a wonderful Championship and a once in a lifetime experience. It just had to be.

BIGGA's Golden Nuggets

There was plenty of interesting tales that occurred throughout The Open, here are just some of the stories collected by BIGGA Open Support Team Members and staff during the four days.

Stig Persson was the lucky Open Support Team Member who went out with Jack Nicklaus on his final ever Open round. The Swedish greenkeeper was right there when Jack crossed the famous Swilcan Bridge for the last time.

"It was very special. To be that close to it all was very good indeed. You could see all the emotion of the moment and I was honoured to be out there," said Stig.

As well as staging a superb Open Championship, Old Course Head Greenkeeper, Euan Grant, and Links Superintendent, Gordon Moir, had something extra to be smug about after receiving a special gift. The pair both had the rare, newly released Scottish edition of the £5 note with Jack Nicklaus on the face. That memento became even more special when the two greenkeepers had the notes signed by the great man at a Dinner during the Championship.

American Richard Matteson had his club to thank for him being part of the BIGGA Support Team for the second time. His club, Pendleton GC, held a golf day to raise money for his travel costs to St Andrews. Despite his members helping with his funds, Richard still set up the course as hard as possible in tribute to the US Open, as it was hosted on the same Sunday as the Major. Half of the money raised from the golf day was given to the Superintendent, which was in the region of $1,200.

"Entries were given two extra shots on their handicap if they were wearing anything resembling a kilt," said Richard smiling, who made the most of his St Andrews experience during the week, once he got there that is.

The 'Dam Yank', as he has now been named, left Tony Smith and Ian Holoran waiting at Darlington Train Station for five hours. The north east pair had agreed to pick up Richard on their way up to St Andrews, but delayed trains and planes resulted in the mammoth wait and the new endearing nickname for the American.

Former Board Member Ian Semple had one of those fearful moments. Like a true professional Ian got onto the first tee in plenty of time for his second round match. He enjoyed chatting with various members of his group until he realised, just before the players were to tee off, that there was a problem. He had forgotten to pick up his rake at HQ and had to race back to fetch his weapon. Information supplied by Robert Hogarth.

Maarton Lafeber's caddie had a tough final few holes on Day One. His bag strap snapped while leaving the 16th tee. He was forced to manage without the strap for the remaining three holes. Information supplied by Jimmy Richardson.

Another caddie having a bad first day was Tom Watson's. As Watson threw his ball for cleaning, on the 11th green, his right hand man stepped back and fell over backwards and rolled down the green, bag and all, with his course planner blowing in the opposite direction. Information supplied by Billy Merritt.

The 5th captured all three members of game four on the first day. Amateur Champion, Brian McElhinney, Jerry Kelly and Craig Parry all landed in the same bunker from their tee shots. McElhinney and Parry then repeated the feat on the 12th, again landing in the same trap from the tee. Information supplied by Richard Blackburn.

After raking the Road Hole bunker at the 17th, Open Support Team Member Mark Lewthwaite was asked to go back and rake one of the fairway bunkers as two ducklings had fallen into the trap. The R&A Official rescued the birds and Mark was safe to rake both the Official's and duckling's prints out of the sand. Information supplied by Mark Lewthwaite.

Sergio Garcia was in a mischievous mood before starting his second round. Knowing that Mr Starter, Ivor Robson, had been standing on the 1st tee without a toilet break all day, the Spaniard started to pour his water out of the bottle, in front of Robson, to make a satisfying and relieving splashing sound. Information supplied by Ian Semple

Talking of toilet breaks, Ian Poulter opted to pop into the bushes when nature called, while his caddy used the loo on the 8th. Information supplied by Richard Matteson.

After a long second round, Thomas Bjorn finally snapped on the 18th. He hit his tee shot out of bounds and responded by smashing one of the tee markers to pieces. Information supplied by Billy Merritt.

The 13th was definitely unlucky for Scott Drummond. After pushing his second round tee shot into a bunker, the player then reached down to grab his bottle of drink and cracked his head on the tee marker. Information supplied Richard Blackburn.

S K Ho weekend appearance at the Championship is owed as much to Open Support Team Member Paul Jenkins' eagle eye, as it is to the skill of the actual player. The Korean lost his ball in the rough on the 2nd, resulting in a mad scramble to find the golfer's ball before his allotted time of five minutes was up. Just as the Official was to call time of this search, which would ensure a two stroke penalty, Paul found the ball and Ho could go on his merry way. The Korean made the cut by two shots, a feat not possible if he had incurred the penalty. Information supplied, unsurprisingly, by Paul Jenkins.

It's a hard life for the Rules Officials. After already completing two days play, the Official in the Paul McGinley/Rod Pampling match was struggling by the 3rd hole. So tired was the Official that he decided to get out his little umbrella seat and have a deserved sit. The only problem... he did it right in the middle of the 3rd green. Information supplied by Kevin Hobbs.

Finally, always looking for a souvenir, an American spectator asked Justin Leonard for his golf ball on the 6th green on Day Three of The Open. "Sorry, but I'm still using it," was the reply from the golfer. Information supplied by Richard Holmes.
