"THE FORGOTTEN MAN" (Biloxi-Gulfport, Miss. Daily Herald)

Who is the Forgotten Man? He is that individual who does an honest day's work, pays his bills, brings up two or more children, keeps up a small savings account, never asks for charity from anyone, never gets into trouble with the police, never finds fault unless a principle is involved — in short, he is the individual who keeps going on his own momentum, good times, bad times, or indifferent times.

When the hat is passed around, the Forgotten Man chips in his mite. The tax-gatherer visits him regularly and collects toll for the upkeep of the police courts, jails, workhouses, and the relief rolls none of which the Forgotten Man ever uses. He is self-supporting, self-starting, self-sufficient, and being so, he is counted in on nothing except the census.

The Forgotten Man is just the everyday, common, ordinary, plain citizen who does the best he can and makes a pretty good job of it. He is the man you can count on in times of war or in times of peace, in times of hysterical prosperity or in times of gloomy depression; in times of Republican management. He is the dependable old horse broken to harness, and he will stand without hitching.

Remember, there are millions of him, and there isn't much chance that he will go crazy even though the whole world about him does seem inclined that way. When things get too bad he will take a hand at running them himself, and you can depend upon him to do it in a sensible way.
