

1975 M.A.G.C.S. CLINIC

The annual Turf Clinic held December 3, at Medinah C.C. was great success. All topics were well covered from start to finish.

The morning session was kicked off with Dr. Al Turgeon, who's research work is always of interest to all. The next topic was E.P.A., covered from layman and manufacturer aspects, telling us that a license is a must and the cost of pesticides will keep rising as long as the E.P.A. keeps restricting the use of the chemicals that are now doing such a fine job.

The next topics covered relationships at the clubs. From this we find that superintendents should keep the clubs informed of seminars and clinics they attend to show they are always furthering their education. Also that the superintendent, pro, and manager should constantly communicate so they can speak for one another in one's absence. To do this they should become co-workers.

The afternoon session started with our theme "Motivation". The guest speaker, Mr. Williams, brought out some interesting points for us to use to stimulate our own personnel. Following Mr. Williams, we heard several of our own superintendents tell us what to expect from our assistants, benefits superintendents receive in our area, and Bob Siebert brought us his ideas on budgets and inflation, stating that budgets should be planned around revenue. We then saw several new ideas that we might use at our clubs, and what Ken Quandt experienced this past summer with his greens. Our last speakers covered maintaining turf in Wisconsin and a step down in stature, a step up in happiness. After the banquet in the evening, John Jackman showed slides of the good and bad of the 1975 U.S. Open.

Overall, our speakers did a very fine job of researching and presenting their topics, which made our clinic the success it was.

David A. Meyer
Chairman, Education and Research

Don Johnson, Green Chairman, Medinah C.C.

THREE NEW BOOKLETS AVAILABLE FROM OSHA

The new booklets are free and cover various phases of programs and policies of OSHA. The three booklets are: "SBA Loans for OSHA Compliance," "Protection for Workers in Imminent Danger," and "How OSHA Monitors State Plans." Each booklet will be part of four series of pamphlets designed to assist employers and employees in understanding and complying with OSHA standards and regulations. Copies are available from OSHA regional offices or OSHA's Office of Publications, Room N3644, Washington, D.C. 20210.

Dr. Al Turgeon, Prof. University of Illinois.

Carl Grassl, Superintendent, Parkridge C.C.

Carl Schwartzkopf, U.S.G.A. Green Section.

FOR SALE

- 1 - Jacobsen G-10 Tractor—perfect condition, 2054 hrs. purchased new 1971 - $2,000.00
 - 1 - Flymo Commercial Mower #119, used one season - $50.00
 - 1 - Larson Model 410, 2 wheel fertilizer spreader engine driven—new engine and spinners - $225.00
- Contact Jack Hanson, Crystal Lake C.C., Crystal Lake, Ill. 60014. Phone: 815 - 459-1237