ANAHEIM TO HOST 1981 CONFERENCE

The 1981 GCSAA International Turfgrass Conference and Show Jan. 25-30 in Anaheim, Calif. will include a joint educational meeting with the USGA Green Section, the return of the popular golf course tour and an expanded schedule of conference functions.

Because both GCSAA and USGA will be meeting at the same time in California, the two organizations have agreed to co-host one educational session, scheduled for Jan. 29 in the Anaheim Convention Center, site of most of GCSAA's conference and show activities. No theme has been determined for the joint session, although Palmer Maples Jr., CGCS, GCSAA director of education, said that it would be related to GCSAA's general conference theme, "Meeting Golf's Challenges Efficiently."

GCSAA's conference activities will begin with a pre-conference golf tournament at Industry Hills Golf Course near the conference site. Practice rounds will begin Jan. 21, with tournament play Jan. 22-23.

Several one- and two-day seminars will be offered Jan. 24-25, followed by the opening session on Monday, Jan. 26, and general sessions throughout the week. A ribbon-cutting ceremony will kick off the Turfgrass Trade Show Tuesday morning.

One of the most popular activities from past conferences has been returned to the 1981 program. A tour of the 36-hole Industrial Hills complex has been scheduled for Friday morning, Jan. 30.

Two unique social functions have been added to the 1981 conference schedule. A special "GCSAA Family Fun Day" at Disneyland Amusement Park is scheduled for Friday after the close of conference activities, and negotiations are now underway to purchase a block of tickets for a Harlem Globetrotters basketball game sometime during the conference week.

The Anaheim Convention Center, one of the largest in the country, is located within walking distance of several convention hotels as well as Disneyland. Several theme parks, museums and other tourist attractions also are close by. The combination of valuable educational opportunities, social activities, sun and fun for the entire family promises to make GCSAA's 52nd International Turfgrass Conference and Show one to remember.
