Dan & Julie Albaugh along with John Lebedeus waiting for the breakfast call.

Robin Moore going to explain to Dave Blomquist that the air mattress he has will not make it through the upcoming rapids. Of course Dave has that dumb-founded look on his face & why not?

Are River Guides good looking or what? Helen and Marty Tribble, a husband and wife team who have rafted over many rivers across the states, England, South America, Alaska, and Australia.

This 1993 White Water trip was just great. The weather was excellent for both days on the river and for the overnight camping. The food was great and the water was gushing at 2800 cfs. at the Summerville Dam — that made for heart stopping rapids. Only a few fellows didn't make it through all of the rapids by staying in the raft. Don Ferrari has yet to learn how to ride the bucking raft through some rapids, but with practice he'll get it. Joel Purpur has to perfect his technique of drop kicking a football off the front of a moving raft so he doesn't fall in every time.
