

On Course Earns First Runner-up Honors in Chapter Newsletter Competition

At the annual meeting in New Orleans, GCSAA awarded On Course first runner-up honors in its chapter newsletter competition. Contributing editor John Gurke and I accepted the plaque on behalf of the MAGCS; look for our smiling faces in a future issue of NewsLine.

Hearing about the difficulties and challenges confronted by our fellow editors, John and I could not help but remark on how fortunate we are in publishing On Course. We have exemplary advertising support from our loyal vendors, a progressive and helpful Board of Directors and a creative, dedicated graphic artist; moreover (hint, hint) we receive and publish many excellent, superintendent-authored articles. In fact, contributions from our members are critical to our continued success in the future. Inasmuch as On Course is your magazine, the award is your award. So far this year, though, we have encountered a shortage of submissions from Midwest superintendents; I urge you to submit your story and photos soon! Or contact me if you need editorial guidance in bringing your great idea to fruition.

As always, John has a unique perspective, and I would be remiss if I didn't quote him as follows: "The competition was rough, and On Course held its own in this no-holds-barred fight for supremacy. Taking top honors in our category was The Reporter—the newsletter of the Iowa GCSA, and editor Robin Cook. That's On Course in your rearview mirror, Robin, and it's gaining on you!"

That's what we do.
That's all we do.
