

great winter-ending opportunity to get the juices flowing for the coming season. "Bull Sheet" will keep you posted on future symposia, and rates the inaugural event a 10.

most of my time communicating verbally, in person, with the crew, staff and members. This daily presence with the crew has elevated worthiness and productivity. The golf staff and clubhouse staff are always on the same page. Furthermore, I can rest assured that the members feel comfortable in communicating their needs to me with respect to playing conditions and the property. Plus, once I leave the course, my staff is only a cell phone call away and I can make changes to the irrigation settings from my home computer. In many ways, technology has made my life easier.

I'm sure new devices will pop up in the near future and I will be the first to take a look at and utilize them—but only if they will make my life easier.
