The winter months have been a very busy time for several MAGCS members who have either added to their families or changed employment. Let's kick things off with all of the good news:

Congratulations to Jake Vollbeer on his recent promotion to Turf Sales Manager for Burris Equipment Company. Jake had been the North side turf equipment salesman, and now fills the vacancy left by Phil Taylor after his move to Houston, Texas. He brings some impressive credentials to his new job, including a 4-year turf degree and a Masters in Business Administration.

MAGCS Board of Directors heads to Wisconsin for their March meeting.

Wednesday, March 5th was a blessed day for Brian Baker and his family as they welcomed their daughter Reagan Deborah to their world. Reagan is Brian and Dana's third child, and their first daughter, and entered their lives at 8:03 in the morning, weighing 7 lbs., 10 ozs., and 19 inches long. Happy days for the Bakers!

Reagan Deborah Baker

Another MAGCS member on the move to greener pastures is Brad Anderson, CGCS. Brad, formerly at Midlane Country Club, has accepted a position as golf course superintendent in Birmingham, Michigan. We will miss Brad's other talents as associate editor and frequent contributor to these pages, heading up the Midwest Breezes section while also recapping the education sessions at our monthly meetings. We wish Brad, Kim, and their large brood the best of luck in Michigan, and I personally wish to add my thanks to Brad for his many years of friendship.

Brad Anderson

To fill the void left by Brad Anderson's relocation, MAGCS announces that Chuck Anfield, CGCS (Heritage Bluffs Golf Course) will be the new associate editor in charge of Midwest Breezes and Education session recaps. Chuck brings quite a bit of writing talent to the table himself, having gained instant stardom (in his mind) as editor of the Chicagoland Association of Golf Course Superintendents publication Verdure. Welcome, Chuck—now get busy!

Chuck Anfield

We're not done with this "movers and shakers" theme by a long shot. Chicagoland Turf announced that Keith Krause—formerly of Reinders, Inc.—became their newest sales representative, joining the team on February 25th. Sean Hearden, former sales rep for Chicagoland, has moved on to take a position as underwriter for Chubb Insurance in Chicago. Congratulations and best wishes to both gentlemen (word used loosely of course)

Keith Krause

Jim Wyffels has resigned from his position with Billy Casper Golf and has moved back to the childhood home of he and his wife Krista in the Quad Cities. Jim has accepted the position of golf course superintendent at the new Fyre Lake National Golf Club and Marina in Sherrard, IL just south of Moline. The course is a Nicklaus design, and is being constructed by Golf Creations. Good luck to you and your family, Jim.

Bryan Stromme, former superintendent of Whisper Creek Golf Club, has been promoted to Regional Superintendent for Chicago by Billy Casper Golf. The very busy Bryan also completed his Masters in Business in February. Congratulations, Bryan!

Another MAGCS family has grown recently—Kyle Jacobson (Twin Orchard Country Club) and his wife Stephanie welcomed their first child into the world on February 20th. Adam Joseph was 7 lbs., 10 ozs., and 18 inches long, and actually caused mom and dad a lot of last-minute shopping and preparing by arriving earlier than planned. Everyone is doing great, and by now I'm sure things have settled down a bit at the Jacobson home! Congrats!

Congratulations to Stephanie and Kyle Jacobson on the birth of their first son Adam Joseph.

So what's with all these 7-pound, 10-ounce babies? Did the hospital scale get stuck?

Michael Heustis (not to be confused with Husted), former assistant superintendent at Chicago Golf Club, is the new superintendent at Chicago Highlands Club in Westchester, IL. This project is an Arthur Hills design, and is being built by Wadsworth Golf Course Construction on a 270-acre site. The 18-hole course will play to 7,400 yards, and will feature 75 feet of elevation change, offering views of the Chicago skyline to the east. Michael's new status has left his position as Class C Advisor to the MAGCS Board of Directors open, a position that will be ably filled by the appointment of Scott Verdun of Merit Club. Scott has been an active member of the Class C Committee, and will no doubt transition into this new role with nary a snag. Congratulations to both of these young fellas.

Finally—I THINK I got them all—we extend our best wishes to 2 longtime MAGCS members on their recent job changes.

Ken Shepherd, the superintendent at Prairie Bluff Golf Club in Lockport for the last 11 years has decided to make a short move—literally a 50-foot walk to his new quarters—leaving the golf course to take on the role of superintendent of parks for the Lockport Park District. Filling Kenny's size 30 shoes at Prairie Bluff is another old friend, as past MAGCS president Luke Strojny was named the new superintendent last month. We wish both of these venerated veterans the best in their new endeavors.

Ken Shepherd

Luke Strojny

New from GCSAA—Class A members can now apply for certification after only 1 year as a Class A member as opposed to the previous 3-year requirement. Contact Certification Coordinator Penny Mitchell if you are eligible and interested.

MAGCS sends its condolences to Holly and Mark Gilmour and their families on the loss of their father James last month. Memorial contributions can be made to the Audubon Society in memory of Mr. Gilmour.

GCSAA has extended its deadline for completing the Pesticide Use Survey from March 15th to April 15th (by the time you read this it has probably been extended again, but that's just me talkin'). You still might want to take the time to fill this thing out, as it gets you .50 service points on your GCSAA transcript, as well as a chance for a flat screen TV and 7 gift cards valued at $250.

What, you may be asking, is the Golf Inc. Conference '08? Well, sit right down and let me tell you. It's something none of us will attend, first off. But if you DID have April 21 through 23 open, and you can get to Miami, and your seminar budget is still being printed in black ink, this might be the deal for you. Without going into too much detail, this event combines the movers and shakers, the visionaries, and the industry mavens of our business into a 3-day extravaganza of information. Geared toward owners, developers, and other industry leaders, this 20-year-old event features something for everyone in the golf business, focusing on innovative thinking and unique vision toward the future of the golf business. To learn more about this event, go to www.golfincmagazine.com and follow the conference links.

Two recently-spotted news flashes that caught our attention: "Hustler Enters Golf Market" and "Chickity Doo Doo Offers Organic Fertilizer." Who says the future of our business is grim?

Congratulations to our Class C Committee and its successful Winter Workshop this past February 21st. The event included presentations by Bruce Williams, CGCS, past president of both MAGCS and GCSAA, and current director of golf course operations at the Los Angeles Country Club along with current GCSAA president David Downing, CGCS. Attendees gained valuable information on the hiring process from Bruce, as he shared his insight on not only getting interviewed, but the keys to performing well throughout the entire process. David Downing then presented his views on our national association, highlighting all it has to offer its members. Great job everyone!

GCSAA's president Dave Downing, CGCS addresses the Class C crowd.

The Class C committee thanks Bruce Williams, CGCS for helping them plan their future.

Yummy—the latest USGA-sponsored research into biological cutworm control has yielded a potential winner. A naturally-occurring baculovirus called AgipMNPV—basically Ebola for cutworms—has shown to be an effective cutworm killer which infects the larvae, causes disease symptoms including necrotic spots and a milky appearance followed by liquefaction of the innards, leading finally to the rupturing of the outer body covering which spreads the baculovirus to other larvae. This sounds like a case for the ASPCA.

The Illinois Turfgrass Foundation has made several announcements recently. First, there will no longer be 2 ITF Golf Days on your calendar, as it was determined that one bigger and better spring event would make better sense, especially with the large number of fall events to pick and choose from. Second, there is a new Affiliate membership class available for a yearly fee of $25.00. This class makes it affordable for facilities to have multiple employees, including golf professionals, managers, technicians, assistants, etc. join and receive the benefits of ITF membership. Finally, this year's ITF Turfgrass Field Day will be held at Midwest Golf House in Lemont on September 10th, so mark your calendars.

As of this printing, no charges had been filed yet against the Lake Villa man who landed his airplane on the golf course at Marriott's Lincolnshire Resort last month. Here's the funny thing—it wasn't an emergency landing due to a mechanical problem with the plane or the like. The reason the guy landed his ski-fitted Piper Clipper there was that his 14-year-old son, who was his passenger, was running late for a tennis lesson at a nearby club. According to Lincolnshire police detective John-Erik Anderson, tennis lessons are not considered emergencies, so a non-scheduled landing for this reason is not permitted.

On the lighter side, the following quotes were seen on Golf-dom Insider recently, recalling back over the years with "The Darndest Things That People Say." When asked in 2005 to describe how his golf game looks, Jon Jennings, CGCS of Chicago Golf Club said, "It looks like somebody who works—and not at golf." Then, in 2006 when Frank Jemsek of Cog Hill Golf & Country Club was asked why a certain event was no longer on the schedule, he answered, "We used to run an alternate-shot couples tournament. We started calling it the divorce open."
