

For Maximum Emergence

Ask For

APRON[®]
Treated Turfgrass Seed.

Apron Treated

Untreated

Apron, a systemic seed treatment fungicide, works on contact to control Pythium on the outer surface of turfgrass seed.

As the seed starts to germinate, Apron is systemically translocated throughout the entire growing seedling.

Since Apron systemically protects young plants from Pythium infection, you get maximum emergence and seedling establishment. This allows you more maintenance time for your green and tee establishment program.

After seedlings are established, it is recommended that you follow up with fungicide treatments of Subdue[®] to maintain Pythium control in turf.

Call your seed distributor and ask for Apron treated seed for all your professional turfgrass plantings.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Dan, Well, it's nice to be back in Florida and I hope you and your family have a great 1986.

Many, many thanks to you and the other members of the GCSAA Communications and Awards Committee for the Special Recognition Award presented in San Francisco on Thursday, January 30, 1986. It is truly a great professional honor which will be treasured always and thanks for your friendship.

I have a lot of fun writing the continuing series "Something Old — Something New" and look forward to writing it for many years to come. It's been exciting visiting other superintendents all over the country and learning new ideas about golf maintenance perfection. We are really true professionals.

Dan, again, thank you very much and am looking forward to seeing you in Florida real soon.

Have a good day.

Kindest regards,
R. Terry Buchen, CGCS
Golden Eagle Golf Club, Inc.

Dear Dan:

I would like to take this opportunity to introduce myself to you with the hope of The Florida Green highlighting our Club in one of your issues.

I have been assigned as Public Relations Director for El Conquistador Country Club here in Bradenton and aside from the fact that we have one of the best courses on the west coast of Florida, I would like to do a good job for the Club in projecting our image. I have read your magazine and I believe we have a story to tell. Just for your information, I am enclosing a copy of a press release recently issued detailing our new irrigation system. Our course has never looked better, we have a great Greens Superintendent and I think you'll find us interesting!

I would really appreciate the opportunity to talk with someone regarding the possibility of doing an interview/story and if there is anything on my end which needs to be done, please let me know.

You've got a great publication and I look forward to hearing from you soon.

Thanks!

Sincerely,
Sara J. Moniz, Public Relations Department
