

For Maximum Emergence
And Seedling Establishment,
Ask For

APRON[®]

Treated Turfgrass Seed.

Apron Treated

Untreated

Apron, a systemic seed treatment fungicide, works on contact to control Pythium on the outer surface of turfgrass seed.

As the seed starts to germinate, Apron is systemically translocated throughout the entire growing seedling.

Since Apron systemically protects young plants from Pythium infection, you get maximum emergence and seedling establishment. This allows you more maintenance time for your green and tee establishment program.

After seedlings are established, it is recommended that you follow up with fungicide treatments of Subdue[®] to maintain Pythium control in turf.

Call your seed distributor and ask for Apron treated seed for all your professional turfgrass plantings.

Letters To The Editor

Hi Dan!

Congratulations for your award - hope you have a good summer.

Dan, "Would you send me a copy of your Florida Green magazine"? I will give it to our "super" after I read it.

Thanks!

Dear Dan:

You have turned THE FLORIDA GREEN into one of Florida's premier publications.

It is a joy to read. It is always power-packed, with fine editorial content, color and good advertising.

Long time no see! It is still my big ambition to play your club. But we have a nice home at Piper's Landing, with water out back and a large lawn with many plants to take care of. I have professional help, of course, what with my limited talents, but it occupies most of my time. Then I do some financial consulting/managing, little golf story writing, and I manage to play golf a couple time a week. Add to all this some travel and spare time doesn't pop up too often. Still...

Why not try to visit me sometime? Would like to show you our surroundings.

Bring a couple of friends or meet them here and we'll have some fun.

Meanwhile, thanks for letting me read THE FLORIDA GREEN. It helps me keep up with you and your superb organization.

Sincerely,

Roger P. Ganem
