Blake wins DSA

From New England to Kansas to Florida, Dick Blake has left a legacy of leadership in his wake as he sailed through his golf course management career.

On July 18, the FGCSA recognized Blake for his unselfish, lifelong devotion to the profession by presenting him with the Distinguished Service Award as he was surrounded by his Palm Beach peers at a local chapter meeting.

"I was totally surprised by the award," said Blake, "but I am extremely pleased and proud to receive it. I had a couple of the Palm Beach members call me and ask if I was planning on coming to the chapter meeting, which was a little unusual, but I

Island, New England, GCSAA and Florida superintendent associations.

Of course each presidency was preceded by years on each board of directors before moving up to the top spot.

Blake's service to his profession has given those associations much more than they can repay with a plaque, but at least he knows his sacrifices of time and energy were appreciated.

Blake's reflections on his career yield fond memories and insights that still ring true in today's work environment. Blake recalled the result of some of his early work, "When I visit New England, it is very satisfying to see the maturity of the courses I helped build and to know I have left a mark on the landscape. Just as important is to watch the growth and development of over 30 superintendents that worked with me over the years."

For those contemplating the life of a superintendent, Blake advised, "You cannot be thinned in this business. You should expect to work long, hard hours to pay your dues before becoming a head superintendent. While paying your dues, do yourself a favor and develop sound business-management and people-handling skills. Take speaking and business-writing courses.

"Communication is a critical part of the profession today."

In a telephone interview, Blake said he has been heartened the past year by a resurgence in attendance at local superintendent meetings. "We had some bumpy years where attendance had fallen off, but it seems like the demand for professionalism by employers is spurring superintendents to seek out more education to remain competitive."

Blake also recounted his move to Florida and how local superintendents like Lou Oxnevad and Paul Turcotte — whom he had met at GCSAA conferences — helped him adapt his management techniques to fit warm-season grasses.

"Those guys and others rolled out the southern hospitality to me and my wife. Their generosity and willingness to help me is a true salute to the brotherhood of superintendents everywhere," he said.

Crawford Wins President's Award

Paul Crawford's winning the FGCSA's President's Award for Lifetime Service this summer is like getting elected to the Major League Baseball Hall of Fame on your first eligible ballot.

This award was created in 1990 to honor those superintendents who served the turfgrass industry for a minimum of 20 years, which is exactly the number of years Crawford has been employed at the Palm Beach Country Club. This is a reflection of the high esteem and appreciation that his contemporaries in the Palm Beach Chapter regard him and his many contributions.

But it isn't only the Palm Beach Chapter that has recognized Crawford for his outstanding service to the golf and turf industry. In 1996, he won the FGCSA's Distinguished Service Award, a "yearly award presented to a golf course superintendent who has given his time unselfishly in promoting golf course management and unification of the Florida Golf Course Superintendent."

It seems that as soon as he became a superintendent, Crawford embraced the spirit of giving back to his peers and his chosen profession.

I first met Crawford in a hospital room in Jupiter in 1981. We were both visiting Harold Murphy, my former boss and general manager at Sugar Mill C.C., and Paul's former associate at Jupiter Hills.

While I can claim no prescience about his future dedication and service to our industry, I was aware that I had met a caring person of strong character. The next 20 years proved that my first impression was correct, as he went on to become one of the most insightful, dedicated, and productive superintendents in our state's history.

Crawford first joined the board of the Palm Beach Chapter in 1987, becoming president in 1992. He did double duty during this period, serving on the FGCSA board from 1989 until becoming president in 1993. He was instrumental in laying the groundwork for the establishment of the successful Otto Schmeisser Research Green at the UF REC in Ft. Lauderdale... and the FGCSA hiring a technician to maintain it. His business savvy helped transition The Florida Green into the financial success it enjoys today, serving as business manager of our award-winning magazine for several years following his presidency.

Not content to rest on these laurels, Crawford then turned his attention to both the GCSAA and the Florida Turfgrass Association. He served on the GCSAA's Chapter Relations Committee, and over a seven-year period served the FTGA with a term as a director and at various times as a member of the external affairs, events, administration operations, publications, funding and endowment, finance, and member services committees.

By 2001, Crawford decided to scale back on his level of involvement and politely declined requests to serve on boards and committees. It is a well-deserved respite, but one I'm sure will be punctuated by many instances of service to the industry.

Awards like this are won by toil and accomplishment recognized by peers in your industry, but there is a side to Paul that, in my opinion, exceeds any professional achievement. Though he is divorced like so many of us, Crawford is the rock of stability and support for his two children Chris, 16, and Kelli, 14. His children come first in Paul Crawford's life, and if you've seen them with him in Naples, the Keys, or some other setting, you realize what a great job he has done raising these two beautiful and well-behaved young adults.

Nowadays Paul can be found more frequently at his place in the Keys, usually accompanied by Chris and Kelli, kicking back and enjoying life on the water in his boat "Crawdaddy," which is also his nickname; it seems appropriate even if Paul didn't enjoy fishing and diving for lobster as much as he does.

PALM BEACH FUTURE OF GOLF

Full field sloses through delayed fund-raiser

Perseverance should be the motto of The Palm Beach Chapter GCSA. The June 2 event at The Falls CC in Lake Worth was washed out with the first heavy rain in months as the players were teeing it up on the first hole. Drought or no drought, the chance of playing in the afternoon during the summer is pot luck at best!

The rescheduled make-up date of July 14, didn't look much better. Typical afternoon showers were expected. The full field of 128 players was in attendance and ready to play. The 1 p.m. shotgun start went off without incident. The first nine holes were played with a couple of intermittent showers, but at least the tournament was going to have a team winner in this four-man scramble format and they were Mike Bonetti, Howard Hulsebosch, Ken Kniaz and Bob Harper.

After 15 holes, the skies opened up and everyone headed for the clubhouse. After everyone dried out, they sat down to enjoy a buffet dinner. Afterwards, lucky raffle ticket holders picked up over $2,000 worth of prizes. The finale was the Aventus Power Pack Auction which netted $1,400 for the event.

CENTRAL FLORIDA CROWFOOT OPEN

Silver Anniversary for Kamphaus Crowfoot Open

The Central Florida GCSA celebrated the 25th anniversary of the Larry Kamphaus Crowfoot Open Aug. 4-5 at the Grand Cypress Resort in Orlando. From its humble beginnings in 1976 as strictly a fund-raising golf tournament to its present business, golf and social format, the Kamphaus Crowfoot Open has taken its place among the must-attend events of the year.

This year's event was kicked off by the summer meeting of the Florida GCSA board of directors and the election of officers at the ensuing annual meeting.

Darren Davis welcomed Cary Lewis, CGCS to the ranks of past presidents as Lewis passed the gavel to new FGCSA President Geoff Coggan, CGCS, MG. Joining Coggan on the 2001-02 Executive Council will be Vice President David Court, CGCS and Secretary/Treasurer Greg Pheneger.

Saturday was devoted to rest, relaxation, theme park attendance with families and practice rounds for those wishing to tune up for the golf tournament on Sunday. On Saturday night, the poolside buffet reception was moved indoors to dodge persistent thunderstorms and mosquitoes.

During the reception, the Crowfoot committee honored Jack Harrell, Sr. of Harrell's Inc. as the 2001 Larry Kamphaus Award Winner. The four-year-old award commemorates former Crowfoot Open Chairman Larry Kamphaus who served 13 years in that capacity and was at Walt Disney World for 27 years until he died in 1997.

The award alternates between superintendent and commercial members of the golf course industry.

This year's golf tournament was played on the North, South and East nines of the Grand Cypress Club with 154 players teeing it up for chapter team and individual honors. Chris Cartin of Deltona Hills CC shot a 71 to capture medalist honors and a spot on the FGCSA team playing for the GCSAA Golf Championship next February. The home boys defended their Crowfoot Open team title and kept the trophy in Central Florida.
