

The Golf Course a 'classic'

Architects profiled and world's courses listed

"The Golf Course," now in its fifth printing, has been chosen by The Classics of Golf to be one of six books it will make available to subscribers this year as among "the finest golf books that have ever been written."

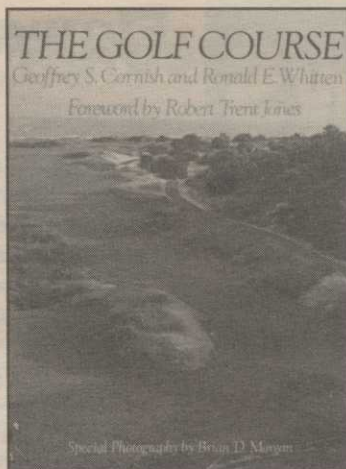

The Golf Course is said to be the widest-selling golf "coffee table" book in history.

Known as the "bible" of course superintendents and golf architects, it is written by Geoffrey Cornish and Ronald Whitten, contains the history of golf architecture.

Included are profiles of 600 architects and listings of 16,000 courses worldwide and their designers.

The handsomely illustrated (367 pages) book features special photography by Brian D. Morgan and foreword by Robert Trent Jones.

Available at many pro shops, it also is obtainable direct from W. H. Smith, 80 Distribution Blvd., Edison, N. J. 08817 at $19.92 per copy including postage.

NEW LITERATURE

Keystone walls brochure revised

KeyStone Retaining Wall Systems' revised eight-page brochure highlights product specifications and technical information.

KeyStone claims to be a modern solution to earth retainage needs for landscaping, residential, commercial and civil engineering applications. Walls can be engineered higher than 20 feet.

Offered are 8-inch standard units and 4-inch mini units. Color and face options are available.

Contact KeyStone Retaining Wall Systems, 7600 France Ave. South, Suite 110, Edina, Minn. 55435; 612-897-1040. Circle No 298

NGF spring catalog out

The Spring Edition of the National Golf Foundation's Information Center Catalog is now available.

The 16-page quarterly publication lists available market study and trend analysis reports; guides to planning, building and operating golf facilities; and a complete selection of best-selling instructional books and videos.

This edition also includes information on the NGF insurance and travel services.

Members of the NGF may buy the listed reports, books and videos at reduced prices.

Copies of the catalog are available from the NGF, 1150 South U.S. Highway One, Jupiter, Fla. 33477; 407-744-6006. Circle No 292

Agronomy list is loaded

The 1988-1989 Publications Catalog published by the American Society of Agronomy, Crop Science Society of America and Soil Science Society of America embraces a wealth of new information.

The catalog contains information on 26 books, 19 monographs, 43 special publications, eight periodicals, 12 slide sets and six other publications.

As Robert F. Barnes, executive vice president of ASA, CSSA, SSSA noted: "In every field of research, availability of new scientific literature to persons in need of the information is extremely important. One of the founding purposes of our three organizations was to make available new information on agronomy, crop science and soil science."

Offices are at 677 South Segoe Road, Madison, Wis. 53711-1086; 608-273-8080. Circle No 299

Introducing Cutless.®

A new kind of turf growth regulator that gives your course a bottom line boost:

More playability.

