Hills designs take shape around U.S.

Continuing its expanded work in the West, Arthur Hills and Associates reports three new projects in that region.

From its Tempe, Ariz., office the Toledo, Ohio, firm will renovate the existing course and design a further 18 holes at The Half Moon Bay Resort, just south of San Francisco; design a semi-private 18-hole city-owned course in Pueblo, Colo.; and design a course for a Japanese investment group at Covington Creek, south of Seattle, Wash.

Meanwhile, Green Ridge Country Club in Grand Rapids, Mich., has sold its present facility to a commercial developer and has engaged Hills to design two championship 18-hole courses at the new site.

The Michigan project is 10 miles east of the old course and is being built by Wadsworth Construction Co.

It includes construction of tennis courts, swimming pools and a 55,000-square-foot clubhouse.

Green Ridge is a member-owned private club, established in 1921. The present facility involved a 27-hole course, nine under development. Club completion target date is Oct. 1, 1990

Terrain involves 180 feet of elevation change, four ponds and two creeks. The clubhouse site, located at the highest point on the property, offers vista-type views of the golf course.

Hills said this is the most extensive private club built in Michigan since the 1920s.

And Kenton County Golf Course in Independence, Ky., will soon begin construction on a third 18-hole course, making the 54-hole development one of the largest municipal golf operations in the area.

The 7,026-yard course will include bentgrass fairways and double-row irrigation with strategically placed grass hollows and sand.

The 18th hole will be a signature 510-yard, par-5 with a waterfall for aestethics and a tempting second shot that is more than a 200-yard carry over water with sand behind the green.

Kenton County GC is scheduled to open in spring 1991. A $1-million clubhouse and adjoining landscape was completed in 1988.

Out West, Hills spokesman Keith Foster said, "Part of the new Half Moon Bay Resort property to be converted will be 125 acres of oceanfront land dominated by a dramatic reparian cut 40-50 feet deep and some 150 feet wide."

The Pueblo course adjoins the South Colorado State University campus.

Foster reports a lot of "interesting vegetation and tree cover" on the Covington Creek property.

Updating other Western projects:

- Harbour Pointe in Seattle: The back nine on this daily fee course has been grassed, and grading has started on the front nine.
- Salt Lake City: Shaping and irrigation contracts have been let out on this public links project for the city's Parks and Recreation Department.

- Fairfield Communities, Green Valley (south of Tucson): Planting is underway on this third course at this retirement community. Late fall opening is the hope.
- The Legacy at Green Valley (Las Vegas):This daily fee course is in the grassing state with a projected fall opening.

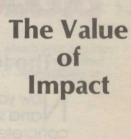

Ross course faces rebuilding in Tennessee

Extensive renovation, which is being overseen by architect Grant Wencel, has begun on city-owned Brainerd Golf Course in Chattanooga, Tenn.

The course was built in the 1920s and was partially designed by Donald Ross.

The original layout will remain intact while all greens and tees will be rebuilt.

Wencel, of Atlanta, Ga., said sand traps, mounding and five ponds will be added in an effort to improve drainage on the old course.
