Professional turf performers.

First-rate disease and weed control demands a professional's touch. And here are the Turf Care products that have what it takes.

Daconil 2787® The cornerstone of a professional spray program. Daconil 2787 is economical to use and the most effective, broadest-spectrum turf fungicide on the market. Controls 12 major turfgrass diseases. Available as a flowable or wettable powder formulation.

Daconil 2787® WDG. A new water-dispersible granular formulation that is virtually dust-free. Pouring and mixing are fast and easy. The 5-lb. reclosable container means better handling, storage and disposal.

Dacthal® The preemergence herbicide that consistently delivers superior broad-spectrum control of crabgrass, spurge and 22 other tough annual grasses and broadleaf weeds. Available as a flowable or wettable powder formulation.

Daconate® 6. The proven postemergent herbicide. Highly effective against pesky weeds such as crabgrass. (Sold as Bueno® 6 in western states only.)

2 Plus 2 (MCP + 2,4-D Amine). As effective as it is economical against more than 20 hard-to-kill broadleaf weeds such as clover and dandelions. Contains no dicamba.

Frigate® adjuvant. The only product specifically formulated to enhance the performance of Roundup* for control of perennial and annual weeds. For turf renovations and non-cropland use, too.

When it comes to turf care, you'll see the difference in the professional's touch.

Ten win scholarships from GCSAA

Ten college students received scholarships during February's Golf Course Superintendents Association of America International Conference and Show in Las Vegas, Nev.

Receiving awards were Keith K. Beck, North Carolina State University; Michael D. Fisher, Michigan State University; Paul G. Johnson, University of Minnesota; Darin W. Lickfeldt, Michigan State University; Douglas T. Linde, Delaware Valley College.

Jeffrey Mazzarelli, Cornell University; C. Scott McBeath, California Polytechnic State University; Christian D. Sain, North Carolina State; Jeff L. Schmidt, Iowa State University; and Kevin Selsor, Oklahoma State University.

Sydney, Australia native David Coote of Michigan State University received the International Ambassador Award.

GCSAA gave out $35,000 in scholarships this year.

The deadline for the GCSAA's Legacy Award Program is April 1. The program offers educational aid to the children and grandchildren of GCSAA members through the GCSAA Scholarship and Research Fund, Inc.

Legacy Awards range up to $5,000 for one academic year. More information is available through the Scholarship and Research office.

Controversial plan approved

A controversial golf course and residential development bordering the environmentally sensitive Apalachicola Bay in Florida's Panhandle has been approved.

The Department of Community Affairs okayed a revised plan for Green Point Golf Resort in Franklin County.

This project has been the subject of contention between the developer and the department for two years.

The new plan, the department said, will protect the oyster-rich bay.

Gov. Lawton Chiles and the Cabinet must approve a local comprehensive plan.
