NGF RANGE SEMINAR IN APRIL

JUPITER, Fla. — The National Golf Foundation will conduct an educational conference in Newport Beach, Calif., for individuals interested in development opportunities that exist today for golf ranges and learning centers. The program, which is structured for maximum audience participation, is scheduled for April 17-19 at the Hyatt Newporter. For more information, contact Roger Yaffe at the Foundation at 407-744-6006.

ABERNETHY DOG AT DEBORDIEU

PAWLEY'S ISLAND, S.C. — John A. Abernethy is the new director of golf and head golf professional at DeBordieu Club, a 2,700-acre oceanfront golf community in South Carolina featuring a Pete Dye course. Abernethy comes from Lancaster (Pa.) Country Club, where he was head pro for 29 years. Abernethy has been president of the Central Pennsylvania Section of the PGA and the Lancaster County Golf Association.

SCGA BUYS RANCHO CALIFORNIA

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. — The Southern California Golf Association has bought 18-hole Rancho California Golf Club in Murrieta for $8 million. The purchase price includes additional land on which the SCGA plans to build another nine holes, clubhouse and driving range. The course, designed by Robert Trent Jones Sr., is about 20 miles south of Riverside and 50 miles north of San Diego.

CAGLE TO MANAGE TWIN OAKS

ALLEN, Texas — Roger Cagle has been named manager and superintendent of the Arnold Palmer-designed, 18-hole golf course at Twin Oaks, this city's new, 2,700-acre residential community. Cagle has been course superintendent at Eagle Watch Golf Club, Woodstock, Ga. Twin Creeks, a par-72, 7,000-yard layout, is scheduled for completion in the fall of 1994. It will be open to the public.

Western Golf adds acquisition component

By PETER BLAIS

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. — After 10 years managing courses for others, Western Golf Properties Inc. hopes to begin buying facilities this year.

"Our goal is to acquire courses over the next five years," said Western Golf President Joe Black, who founded the company 10 years ago. "We don't have a specific number in mind.

"We had intended to begin acquiring courses earlier. But the market was getting turned upside down when we first got in. We couldn't financially justify buying. A course must be able to service its debt. We're finally starting to see some good deals out there again."

Black will bring almost 40 years in the golf business and 30 years of management experience to that first acquisition.

Marketing Idea of the Month

Attacking weekdays with killer promotions

By PETER BLAIS

PALM HARBOR, Fla. — Thunder showers and empty golf courses — sure signs of summer in west Florida.

While club owners can do little about the weather, there is something they can do about the lack of play at their facilities, according to Gregg Gagliardi, general manager of Lansbrook Golf Club.

Here are a couple of ideas that increased business significantly last summer at this suburban Tampa public layout.

• Delta Airlines Terrific Thursdays. Every Thursday during July and August, a tourney atmosphere took over at Lansbrook.

Anyone paying the $28 greens fee competed in a half-dozen special events — closest to the pin, longest drive, closest drive to the center line, longest putt and other contests frequently held during tournaments.

Smaller prizes were awarded for most contests — a sleeve of balls, golf shirt, cap. The top prize was a weekend for two at a nearby beach hotel.

At the end of August, everyone who had played on a Terrific Thursday was eligible for a grand prize drawing — an all-expense-paid trip for two for the final weekend series of the year pitting the Toronto Blue Jays against the New York Yankees in Toronto.

The result? Thursday rounds increased 67 percent, up from an average of 113 in August 1992 to 189 in August 1993.

The cost? "That's the beauty of it,"

CMAA tackles voter registration in San Antonio

Three such bylaws defeated; Shulz assumes presidency

By PETER BLAIS

SAN ANTONIO, Texas — Like their brethren in the superintendents association, Club Managers Association of America (CMAA) members had a bit of a bylaw amendment flap of their own at February's annual meeting.

At issue was whether to automatically mail ballots for the election of officers, directors and bylaw amendments to all eligible voting CMAA members, whether they requested ballots or not.

The reasoning behind the proposed change was that more than the approximately 50 percent of eligible voters who traditionally cast ballots would do so if the process were made easier.

For the past two years, members could either vote at the annual meeting (about a third of voting-eligible members generally attend) or by requesting a written voting authorization allowing them to vote by mail if they could not attend.

The amendment would have required CMAA staff to automatically mail out ballots 60 days before the annual meeting to all eligible voters.

The board of directors did not support the three proposed bylaw amendments that would have made the automatic mailings possible. One board candidate stated during the opening business session that he publicly rejected the proposals even though it could have cost him votes.

Voting responsibly required research and commitment to the organization, he argued. Automatic mailing of ballots worked against that, he added.

Apparently the eligible voters who took part in this year's election agreed and voted

Gagliardi said. "It didn't cost us a cent."

The grand prize came courtesy of Blue Jay pitcher Mel Stottlemyre, Delta Airlines and Hilton Hotels. The weekend beach getaways were donated by the local hotels.

Stottlemyre is a friend of Gagliardi's and donated the baseball tickets.

Delta came through with the free airfare in exchange for the publicity generated by having its name included in the special promotion.

Hilton and the beach hotels provided rooms and meals in exchange for having their establishments mentioned during the promotional radio ads that ran frequently

Disabled Golfers Association taps board members

The Association of Disabled American Golfers (ADAG) has expanded its board. Appointed to one-year terms are Gary M. Robb, Robert D. Ochs, and Warren Simmons.

Robb is director of Indiana University's Center for Outdoor Education and Leadership Training, Bradford Woods and directs the National Center on Accessibility.

Ochs is senior VP and general counsel for the St. Andrews Corp., a golf course management consulting group. An attorney for 25 years, Ochs served as general counsel and senior director of communications for the GCSAA.

Simmons is immediate past president of the International Association of Golf Administrators and currently serves as the executive director of the Colorado Golf Association.

The second ADAG national tournament will be conducted again at Fox Hollow at Lakewood Golf Course in Lakewood, Colo., on Aug. 15 and 16. A full field is expected in 1994, and entries are available on a "first registered" basis. For more information, contact Fox Hollow at 303-220-0921.

down the three bylaw amendments. They also rejected a fourth that would have allowed members who originally voted by absentee ballot prior to the annual meeting to recast their ballots if they eventually attended the conference.

On the officer and election front, William Schulz of Houston Country Club was elected president and Norman Spitzig of Oak Ridge Country Club in Hopkins, Minn., vice president. Both ran unopposed.

In the race for secretary/treasurer, George Carroll of Town & Country Club in St. Paul, Minn., defeated Randall Gudanowski of Indian Trail Club in Franklin Lakes, N.J.

Newly elected to the board of directors were Dennis Ahearn of Sara Bay Country Club in Sarasota, Fla., Warren Arseneaux of Victoria (Texas) Country Club, and Henry Waddington of Piedmont Driving Club in Atlanta.

Joining them on the board will be Immediate Past President Richard Kolasa, Thomas Anderson, Gudanowski, Edward Henderson, John Jordan, W.H. "Bill" Kendall and Paul K. Skelton.

NCA publishes three self-help books for club officials

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The National Club Association has announced the release of its newest self-help publication for club officials, entitled Search, Selection and Termination: The Decision-Maker's Guide to Employment Issues.

This new handbook provides advice on pre-employment testing, interviewing techniques, reference-checking, employment contracts, employment at will, and disciplinary procedures. The guide also contains a checklist for complying with the immigration law and guidelines on how to avoid illegal interview questions. The member price is $25; nonmembers pay $40.

Two other self-help titles and one research report, covering board preparedness, OSHA compliance issues, and operations, have also been made available in an effort to serve a broader section of the private club community:

- A Board Member's Guide to Director Orientations ($25 members, $40 nonmembers)
- The Model Hazard Communications Program
- NCA's Club Operations Survey
