MARKETING IDEA OF THE MONTH

Nev. firm takes resort promos to the highway

By PETER BLAIS

RENO, Nevada — A Nevada firm is taking resort promotion on the road to attract "discriminating" golfers to some of the world's premier golf destinations.

Golf Resorts Inc.'s 53-foot, custom-designed marketing vehicle made its premier appearance recently at Newport (Calif.) Beach Country Club. The event kicked off this fall's three-month, nationwide trek to demonstrate the vehicle's capabilities to resort directors.

The goal is to recruit 60 resort advertisers to be showcased during the 1995 exhibition promotional tour schedule. That schedule will take the custom-designed vehicle on a 12-month excursion to professional golf tournaments, major cities and busy golf locations.

"It's a new advertising medium aimed at a select group," said Golf Resorts representative Nancy Dillman. "It allows resorts to target golf travelers. Normally, they'd have to spend a lot of money advertising in numerous publications to reach those people."

According to company literature, the Double Eagle, as it is called, will reach more than 500,000 of golf's most-affluent vacationers.

"By delivering a message in a manner that's up close and personal to a prime target market, resorts will find the unique medium an affordable and innovative alternative to conventional sales and advertising methods," the company states.

The simulator allows visitors to play a hole on one of several widely known courses. Promoters expect this to attract many people who will either play a hole for a nominal fee or watch from the viewing area. Contributions raised from the simulator will be split between the Ameri-

KSL solidifying position as major golf resort operator

By PETER BLAIS

Like a powerful army that has gained a foothold in a new country, KSL Recreation Corp. is moving up its forces and digging in for a long occupation of the golf industry.

A week after purchasing LaQuinta Resort and Club and PGA West in Palm Springs, Calif., for $256 million last January, KSL agreed to buy The Doral Resort & Club in Miami.

Suddenly, the Kohlberg Kravis Roberts & Co. affiliate was in control of two of golf's premier properties.

Since January's invasion, KSL has moved in seasoned officers to oversee its multiple golf resort operations.

The most recent lieutenant to arrive is Virgil Robinson. The former director of agronomy at the renowned Desert Mountain Properties in Scottsdale, Ariz., assumed the same position at LaQuinta Resort and Club and PGA West on Nov. 2.

Robinson, a 28-year course management veteran, will join Dick Kopplin, a 22-year country club manager who this summer left Desert Mountain to become vice president of club opera-

Anaheim chooses to operate own courses

By PETER BLAIS

ANAHEIM, Calif. — The City Council recently rejected American Golf Corp.'s proposal to assume operation of the city's H.G. Dad Miller and Anaheim Hills municipal golf courses.

The idea had split the council down the middle, with Mayor Tom Daly and Councilmen Irv Pickler and Frank Feldhaus originally favoring the privatization plan.

Councilmen Fred Hunter and Bob Simpson opposed the plan, believing the city should retain control of the courses and protect municipal employee jobs.

It wasn't until a cost analysis performed by the firm KPMG Peat Marwick Management Consultants revealed the switch could result in minimal savings that the council decided to leave the course in the hands of municipal employees.

[A call to American Golf Corp. offices for comment was not returned.]

for the city," said Superintendent of Parks and Golf Jack Kudron. "We were able to convince them that we could make as much money as a private operation. That was a relief to Sharon Ericson, president of the 750-member Anaheim Municipal Employees Association.

"The Council rejected it because it was pointed out again and again that the courses were already making a lot of money for the city and were in great shape," she said.

"There was no public support for the plan. AGC supporters weren't showing up for meetings. There were even peti-
